Important Guidelines About the Authenticity of the Reports and Quotations in the Tafsir of Ibn Kathir Reports from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) Reports that are attributed to the companions of Allah's Messenger are commonly used for additional explanation of the meanings of the Qur'an. As for those quotes that Ibn Kathir mentions in passing, these quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as an evidence against what is known to be authentic. Additional information in this regard is found in the Introduction of Ibn Kathir. Incomplete Chains of Narration The following is a list of common incomplete chains of narrations that Al-Hafiz Ibn Kathir often quotes. - 'Ali bin Abi Talhah (Al-Walibi) reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - ('Atiyah) Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - Ad-Dahhak from Ibn 'Abbas. - As-Suddi reported from Abu Malik and Abu Salih from Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas'ud and [or] some men among the companions. - Al-Hasan Al-Basri reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). - Qatadah reporting from or about the Prophet All narrations coming from these chains are unauthentic according to the Sciences of Hadith. Their meanings, however, may be correct as understood by authentic texts, and for this reason they are commonly referenced. Reports from the Followers of the Companions and those who Followthem The following is a list of those who did not see the Prophet 5Ss, but they report from companions of the Prophet jg, while often they themselves are quoted for Tafsir. Reports that are attributed to them are used as additional support in understanding certain issues by Ibn Kathlr. Such quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and thatstatement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as evidence against the authentic evidence. Abu Al-‘Aliyah, Said bin Jubayr, Said bin Al-Musayib, ‘Ata’ (bin Abi Rabah), ‘Ata’ Al-Khurrasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Ar-Rabl’ bin Anas, Ash-ShaTjbi, Qatadah, Mujahid, Ikrimah,’ Ad-Dahhak, ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam (Ibn Zayd) Ibn Jurayj. Other Scholars After the Companions The following are some scholars that Ibn Kathlr often quotes from. Since these scholars are not well known to the average English reader, one should beware that their own statements about the Prophet 5^, his companions, or circumstances surrounding the Qur’an’s revelation, are not to be considered as important as authentically narrated texts. Waki’, Sufyan Ath-Thawri, Muhammad bin Ishaq, Ibn ‘Atiyyah, Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn Jarir (At-Tabari).

This is the interpretation that Ibn Jarir (may Allah have mercy on him) thought was correct.

Al-Hafiz Abu Ya'la Al-Mawusili recorded that Asma' bint Abi Bakr (may Allah be pleased with her) said, "When the Ayah, iPerish the two hands of Abu Lahab and perish he!} (111:1) was revealed, the one-eyed woman Umm Jamil [the wife of Abu Lahab] came with a stone pestle in her hand, screaming, "What was sent to us is somebody blameworthy, or, we reject somebody blameworthy [Abu Musa - one of the narrators - said, it is I who am not sure what was said]; we shun his religion and disobey whatever he commands!' prevail, and whoever fights for it will be victorious. Only the Muslims of the Arabian Peninsula, which can be traversed by a rider in a few nights, knew it and accepted it, out of all mankind. We know best of what they listen to, when they listen to you. And when they take secret counsel, then the wrongdoers say: "You follow none but a bewitched man." 447. See what examples they have put forward for you. So they have gone astray, and never can they find a way. The Secret Counsel of Quraysh after hearing the Qur'an. Allah tells His Prophet about what the leaders of Quraysh discussed when they came and listened to him reciting Qur'an in secret, without their people knowing about it. They said that he was Mashur which according to the better-known view means someone affected by magic (Sif); it may also mean a man who has a lung, i.e., a mere human being, as if they were saying that if you follow Muhammad, you will only be following a human being. This second suggestion does not sound correct, because what they meant here was that he was under the influence of Sihr (magic) which made him see dreams in which he learned these words that he recited. Some of them said he was a poet, or a soothsayer, or crazy, or a sorcerer. Allah says: "See what examples they have put forward for you. So they have gone astray, and never can they find a way." meaning, they will never be guided to the truth and will never find a way to reach it. Muhammad bin Ishaq said in As-Sirah: "Muhammad bin Muslim bin Shihab Az-Zuhri told me that it happened that Abu Sufyan bin Harb, Abu Jahl bin Hisham and Al-Akhnas bin Shurayq bin 'Amr bin Wahb Ath-Thaqafi, the ally of Bani Zahrah, went out one night to listen to the m At-Jabari 17:458.

Messenger of Allah when he was praying at night in his house. Each one of them took up a position for listening, and none of them knew that the others were also there. They stayed listening to him all night until dawn came. When they left, they met up on the road, each of them blaming the others, saying to one another, 'Do not come back again, lest you give the wrong impression (i.e., that you like what you hear).' Then they went away until the second night came, when each of them came back to his place and spent the night listening. When dawn came they left, then when they met up on the road, each of them blamed the others, saying the same as they had said the previous night. Then they went away until the third night came, when each of them came back to his place and spent the night listening. When dawn came they left, then when they met up on the road, they said to one another, 'Let us not leave until we promise not to come back,' so they made a promise to that effect, and went their separate ways. In the morning, Al-Akhnas bin Shurayq took his stick and went to the house of Abu Sufyan bin Harb, where he said, Tell me, O Abu Hanzalah [i.e., Abu Sufyan], what do you think of what you have heard from Muhammad?' Abu Sufyan said, 'O Abu Thalabah [i.e., Al-Akhnas], by Allah, I have heard something I understand and I know what is meant by it, and I have heard things I do not understand and do not know what is meant by it.' Al-Akhnas said: "Me too, by the One by Whom you swore.' Then he left and went to Abu Jahl, and entered his house. He said, 'O Abu Al-Hakam [i.e., Abu Jahl], what do you think of what you have heard from Muhammad?' He said, "What did you hear?' He said, *We and Banu 'Abd Manaf competed for honor and position: they fed people so we fed people, they engaged in battle so we engaged in battle, they gave so we gave, until we were neck and neck, like race horses. Then they said, we have a Prophet among us who receives revelation from heaven. How could we compete with that? By Allah we will never believe in him.' Then Al-Akhnas got up and left him."111 y jl ij i;jr jüig^& U <14 m Ibn Hisham 1 :337

A Sunnah with which We sent Our Messengers before you and you will not find any alteration in Our Sunnah.} The Reason why these Ayat were revealed This was revealed concerning the disbelievers among the Quraysh, when they wanted to expel the Messenger of Allah ﷺ from among themselves. So Allah issued a warning to them in this Ayah, telling them that if they expelled him, they would not stay in Makkah for very long after that. And this is what happened after he migrated from them when their persecution became so intense. Only a year and a half after that, Allah brought him and them together on the battlefield of Badr, without any pre-arranged appointment, and He caused him to prevail over them and defeat them, so he killed their leaders and took their families as captives. Hence Allah said: 40:3 SS^ZX} 4A Sunnah with which We sent} meaning this is what We usually do to those who reject Our Messengers and persecute them by driving the Messenger out from among themselves - the punishment comes to them. 62 Tafsir Ibn Kathir The Command to pray Tahajjud iAnd in some parts of the night (also) offer the Salah with it as an additional prayer for you.} Here Allah commands him (the Prophet jg) to offer further prayers at night after the prescribed prayers. It was reported in Sahih Muslim from Abu Hurayrah that when the Messenger of Allah was asked which prayer is best after the prescribed prayers, he said, ajdli aThe Night prayerd ' * Allah commanded His Messenger to pray the Night prayer after offering the prescribed prayers, and the term Tahajjud refers to prayer that is offered after sleeping. A number of Haddiths report that the Messenger of Allah jg used to pray Tahajjud after he had slept. These include reports from Ibn 'Abbas, [3] 'A'ishah*41 and other Companions, may Allah be pleased with them. This has been discussed in detail in the appropriate place, praise be to Allah. Ibn Jarir said, "Most of the commentators said, This is the position to which Muhammad will be raised on the Day of Resurrection, to intercede for the people so that their Lord will relieve them of some of the hardships they are facing on that Day."2' It was reported that Hudhayfah said, "Mankind will be gathered in one arena, where they will all hear the call and will all be seen. Ibn 'Abbas said, "The position of praise and honor is the position of intercession."4 ' Ibn Abi Najih reported something 111 Ahmad 5:255. 121 At-Tabari 17:526. similar from Mujahid, and this was also the view of Al-Hasan Al-Basri. 1 ' Qatadah said, "He is the first one for whom the earth will be opened on the Day of Resurrection, and he will be the first one to intercede."2! So the scholars consider this the position of praise and glory to which Allah referred in the Ayah: It may be that your Lord will raise you to Maqam Mahmud. I, Ibn Kathir, say: the Messenger of Allah sg will have honors in the Day of Resurrection in which no one else will have a share, honors which will not be matched by anyone else. He is the first one for whom the earth will be opened and he will come forth riding to the gathering place. He will have a banner under which Adam and anyone else will gather, and he will have the Hawd (Lake) to which no one else will have more access than he. He will have the right of the Grand Intercession with Allah when He comes to judge between His creation. This will be after the people ask Adam, then Nuh, then Ibrahim, then Mfisa, then Isa to intercede, and each of them will say, "I am not able for that." Then they will come to Muhammad sg, and he will say, oLiJ u! gj uf» «/ can do that, I can do that . We will mention this in more detail shortly, If Allah wills. Part of that will be that he will intercede for some people who had been commanded to be taken to Hell, and they will be brought back. He is the first Prophet whose Ummah will be judged, and the first to take them across the Bridge over the Fire, and the first to intercede in Paradise, as was reported in Sahih MuslimJ3^ In the Hadith about the Trumpet, it says that none of the believers will enter Paradise except through his intercession. He will be the first to enter Paradise, and his Ummah will be the first nation to enter. He will intercede for the status to be 111 At-Jabari 17:527. 121 At-Tabari 17:528. ,3i Muslim 1:182.

raised for people whose deeds could not get them there. He is the one who will reach Al-Wasilah, which is the highest position in Paradise, which befits no one but him. When Allah gives permission for intercession on behalf of sinners, the angels, Prophets and believers will intercede, and he will intercede for people whose number is known only to Allah. No one will intercede like him and no one will match him in intercession . 1,1 This has been explained in comprehensive detail at the end of the Book of Sirah, in the chapter on the specific qualities. Praise be to Allah. Now with the help of Allah we will mention the Hadiths that were reported concerning Al-Maqam Al-Mahmud. Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn ‘Umar said: “On the Day of Resurrection, the people will be humbled to their knees, each nation following its Prophet and saying, ‘O so-and-so, intercede,’ ‘O so-and-so, intercede,’ until the power of intercession is given to Muhammad sg, and that will be the day when Allah raises him to a position of praise and gloiy .’21 Ibn Jarir recorded that ‘Abdullah bin ‘Umar said that the Messenger of Allah jfe said: JljJS ‘-’1” till* ill’ Aiili xijj }*!! «77ie sun will come close until the sioeat reaches halfivay up one's ears. leader of mankind on (The Day of Resurrection). Do you know why it will be so? Allah will gather the first and the last in one place, and they will hear a voice calling out, and they will all be seen. The sun will come close until their anguish and distress becomes unbearable, and some will say to others, "Do you not see how much you are suffering? Why do you not find someone to intercede for you with your Lord?" And some of the people will say to others, "How about Adam?" So they will go to Adam and say, "O Adam, you are the father of mankind, Allah created you with His Hand and breathed into you of His spirit, and commanded the angels to prostrate to you. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?" Adam will say, "My Lord is angry today in a way that He has never been angry before and He will never be this angry again. He forbade me to approach the Tree and I disobeyed Him. Myself, myself, myself [i.e., I am only concerned about myself]. Go to someone else. Go to Nuh." So they will go to Nuh and say, "O Nuh, you are the first of the Messengers sent to the people of earth, and Allah called you a grateful servant. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?" Nuh will say, "My Lord is angry today in a way that He has never been angry before and He will never be this angry again. There is a prayer that I prayed against my people. Myself, myself, myself [i.e., I am only concerned about myself]. Go to someone else. Go to Ibrahim." So they will go to Ibrahim and say, "O Ibrahim, you are the Prophet of Allah and His close Friend among the people of earth. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?" Ibrahim will say, "My Lord is angry today in a way that He has never been angry before and He will never be this angry again." And he mentioned some untruths he had told. "Myself, myself, myself [i.e., I am only concerned about myself]. Go to someone else. Go to Musa." So they will go to Musa and say, "O Musa, you are the Messenger of Allah, Allah chose you above others by selecting you to convey His Message and by speaking to you directly. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?" Musa will say, "My Lord is angry today in a way that He has never been angry before and He will never be this angry again. I killed a soul whom I had not been commanded to kill. Myself, myself, myself [i.e., I am only concerned about myself]. Go to someone else. Go to 'Isa." So they will go to 'Isa and say, 'O 'Isa, you are the Messenger of Allah and His Word which He bestowed upon Maryam and a spirit created by Him. You spoke to the people as an infant in the cradle. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?' 'Isa will say, "My Lord is angry today in a way that He has never been angry before and He will never be this angry again." And he will not mention any sin. "Myself, myself, myself [i.e., I am only concerned about myself]. Go to someone else. Go to Muhammad So they will go to Muhammad and will say, "O Muhammad, you are the Messenger of Allah and the Last of the Prophets, Allah forgave all your past and future sins. Intercede for us with your Lord, do you not see the state we are in, how bad it is?" I will stand up and come before the Throne, and will fall prostrating to my Lord, may He be glorified and exalted. Then Allah will inspire me to speak and I will speak beautiful words of praise such as no one has ever been inspired with before. It will be said, "O Muhammad, raise your head and ask, it will be granted to you. Intercede, and your intercession will be heard." So I will raise my head and say, "My Ummah, O Lord, my Ummah, O Lord, my Ummah, O Lord." It will be said, "O Muhammad, admit those who will not be brought to account from among your Ummah through the right-hand gate of Paradise. The Qur'an is a Cure and a Mercy Allah tells us that His Book, which He has revealed to His Messenger Muhammad sg, the Qur'an to which falsehood cannot come, from before it or behind it, (it is) sent down by the All-Wise, Worthy of all praise, is a cure and a mercy for the believers, meaning that it takes away whatever is in their hearts of doubt, hypocrisy, Shirk, confusion and inclination towards falsehood. The Qur'an cures all of that. It is also a mercy through which one attains faith and wisdom and seeks goodness. This is only for those who believe in it and accept it as truthful, it is a cure and a mercy only for such people. As for the disbeliever who is wronging himself by his disbelief, when he hears the Qur'an, it only makes him further from the truth and increases him in his disbelief. The problem lies with the disbeliever himself, not with the Qur'an, as Allah says: ^ tj v Ok > 3^ iSay: "It is for those who believe, a guide and a cure. And as for those who disbelieve, there is heaviness in their

When the revelation was complete, the Prophet^ said: 4And they ask you concerning the Riih (the spirit). Say: "The Riih (the spirit) is one of the things, the knowledge of which is only with my Lord..."} This context would seem to imply that this Ayah was revealed in Al-Madinah, and that it was revealed when the Jews asked him this question in Al-Madinah, although the entire Surah was revealed in Makkah. This may be answered with the suggestion that this Ayah may have been revealed to him in Al-Madinah a second time, after having previously been revealed in Makkah, or that he was divinely inspired to respond to their question with a previously-revealed Ayah, namely the Ayah in question. Ibn Jarir recorded that ‘Ikrimah said, “The People of the Book asked the Messenger of Allah jg about the Ruh, and Allah revealed:

in his fitry), for indeed he has brought it (this Qur'an) down to your heart by Allah's permission, confirming what came before it fe”m [2:97] The Ruh and the Nafs As-Suhayili mentioned the dispute among the scholars over whether the Ruh is the same as the Nafs, or something different. He stated that it is light and soft, like air, flowing through the body like water through the veins of a tree. He states that the Ruh which the angel breathes into the fetus is the Nafs, provided that it joins the body and acquires certain qualities because of it, whether good or bad. So then it is either a soul in (complete) rest and satisfaction (89:27) or inclined to evil (12:53), just as water is the life of the tree, then by mixing with it, it produces something else, so that if it mixes with grapes and the grapes are then squeezed, it becomes juice or wine. Then it is no longer called water, except in a metaphorical sense. Thus we should understand the connection between Nafs and Ruh; the Ruh is not called Nafs except when it joins the body and is affected by it. So in conclusion we may say: the Ruh is the origin and essence, and the Nafs consists of the Ruh and its connection to the body. So they are the same in one sense but not in another. This is a good explanation, and Allah knows best. 121 I say: people speak about the essence of the Ruh and its rulings, and many books have been written on this topic. One of the best of those who spoke of this was Al-Hafiz Ibn Mandah in a book which we have heard about the Ruh. y ^ Jd i isil oCijj GLi At-Tabari 17:543. There are many narrations about this. Musa was also given many other signs, such as striking the rock with his staff and water flowing from it, their being shaded with clouds, manna and quails, and other signs which were bestowed upon the Children of Israel after they had left the land of Egypt. But here Allah mentions the nine signs which were witnessed by his people in Egypt. These became evidence against them, because they stubbornly rejected them out of disbelief. So Musa said to Fira*wn: 4"Verily, you know that these signs have been sent doum by none but the Lord of the heavens and the earth. meaning, as proof and evidence of the truth of what I have brought to you. 4And I think you are indeed, O Fir'awn, doomed to destruction!} i.e., bound to be destroyed. The Tafsir of Surat Al-Kahf

(Chapter - 18) Which was revealed in Makkah. What has been mentioned about the Virtues of this Surah and the first and last ten Ayat, which provide protection from the Dajjal. Imam Ahmad recorded that Al-Bara' said: "A man recited Al-Kahf and there was an animal in the house which began acting in a nervous manner. He looked, and saw a fog or cloud overhead. He mentioned this to the Prophet ﷺ, who said: 'Keep on reciting so and so, for this is the tranquillity which descends when one reads Qur'an or because of reading Qur'an.' (I) This was also recorded in the Two Sahih. This man who recited it was Usayd bin Al-Hudayr, as we have previously mentioned in our Tafsir of Surat Al-Baqarah. Imam Ahmad recorded from Abu Ad-Darda' that the Prophet ﷺ said: 'Whoever memorizes ten Ayat from the beginning of Surat Al-Kahf will be protected from the Dajjal. This was also recorded by Muslim, Abu Dawud, An-Nasai and At-Tirmidhi. According to the version recorded by At-Tirmidhi, 'Whoever memorizes three Ayat from the beginning of Al-Kahf. (I) * Ahmad 4 :281 (2) Fath Al-Bari 6 :719 , Muslim 1 :548 (3) * Ahmad 5 :196.

He said, it is "Hasan Sahih." In his Mustadrak, Al-Hakim recorded from Abu Saïd that the Prophet ﷺ said: 'Whoever recites Siirat Al-Kahf on Friday, it will illuminate him with light from one Friday to the next. Then he said: "This Hadith has a Sahih chain, but they (Al-Bukhari and Muslim) did not record it." (I) Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Al-Bayhaqi also recorded it in his Sunan from Al-Hakim, then he narrated with his own chain that the Prophet ﷺ said: 'Whoever recites Surat Al-Kahf as it was revealed, it will be a light for him on the Day of Resurrection. In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. (I) Je Jjil •P 1a' o' 1— k j o j j l U r t j - J ' * o - d - / T ' s S I S ' j > ' 4 > i i ' i l . The Revelation of the Qur'an brings both Good News and a Warning. In the beginning of this Tafsir, we mentioned that Allah, praises His Holy Self at the beginning and end of matters, for He is the One to be praised in all circumstances, all praise and thanks be to Him, in the beginning and in the end. He praises Himself for revealing His Mighty Book to His Noble Messenger Muhammad ﷺ, which is the greatest blessing that Allah has granted the people of this earth. Through the Qur'an, He brings them out of the darkness into light. He has made it a Book that is straight, neither distorted nor confusion therein. It clearly guides to a straight path, plain and manifest, giving a warning to the disbelievers and good news to the believers. This is why Allah says: /J& iand lias not placed therein any crookedness.} meaning, there is nothing twisted or confusing about it. But He has made it balanced and straightforward as He said; i(He has made it) straight}, meaning straightforward, Oi 'jjAi dV jxIJ } ito give warning ofa severe punishmentfrom Him,} meaning, to those who oppose His Prophet jg and disbelieve in His Book, He issues a warning of severe punishment hastened in this world and postponed to the world Hereafter. iZl ifrom Him} means, from Allah. Hence Allah says: iThey utter nothing but a lie.} Reasonwhy this Surahwas revealed Muhammad bin Ishaq mentioned the reason why this Surah was revealed. He said that an old man from among the people of Egypt who came to them some forty-odd years ago told him, m At-Tabari 17:595.

723Surah 18. Al-Kahf (1-5) (Part-15) from Ikrimah that Ibn 'Abbas said: "The Quraysh sent An-Nadr bin Al-Harith and TJqbah bin Abi Milt to the Jewish rabbis in Al-Madinah, and told them: 'Ask them (the rabbis) about Muhammad, and describe him to them, and tell them what he is saying. They are the people of the first Book, and they have more knowledge of the Prophets than we do.' So they set out and when they reached Al- Madinah, they asked the Jewish rabbis about the Messenger of Allah sg. They described him to them and told them some of what he had said. They said, 'You are the people of the Tawrah and we have come to you so that you can tell us about this companion of ours.' They (the rabbis) said, 'Ask him about three things which we will tell you to ask, and if he answers them then he is a Prophet who has been sent (by Allah); if he does not, then he is saying things that are not true, in which case how you will deal with him will be up to you. Ask him about some young men in ancient times, what was their story? For theirs is a strange and wondrous tale. Ask him about a man who travelled a great deal and reached the east and the west of the earth. What was his story? And ask him about the Ruh (soul or spirit) - what is it? If he tells you about these things, then he is a Prophet, so follow him, but if he does not tell you, then he is a man who is making things up, so deal with him as you see fit.' So An-Nadr and TJqbah left and came back to the Quraysh, and said: 'O people of Quraysh, we have come to you with a decisive solution which will put an end to the problem between you and Muhammad. The Jewish rabbis told us to ask him about some matters,' and they told the Quraysh what they were. Then they came to the Messenger of Allah sg and said, 'O Muhammad, tell us,' and they asked him about the things they had been told to ask. The Messenger of Allah sg said, jUlti lit IOp «/ will tell you tomorrow about what you have asked me. but he did not say Tf Allah wills.' So they went away, and the Messenger of Allah sg stayed for fifteen days without any revelation from Allah concerning that, and Jibril, peace be upon him, did not come to him either. The people of Makkah started to doubt him, and said, 'Muhammad promised to tell us the next day, and now fifteen days have gone by and he has not told us anything in response to the questions we asked.' The Messenger of Allah sg felt sad because of the delay in revelation, and was grieved by what the people of Makkah were saying about him. Then Jibril came to him from Allah with the Surah about the companions of Al- Kahf, which also contained a rebuke for feeling sad about the idolators. The Surah also told him about the things they had asked him about, the young men and the traveler. The question about the Ruh was answered in the Ayah; */ % A * * i * A * * ' / A if 4* And they ask you concerning the Ruh (the spirit); say: "The Ruh..." *M17:85].m ^ nt iagii ai Vi // . / > * / 1 > x * " / A,, • ' • * , , IUU«li yj LJ ^ as- l I''' ^ ' ^ ^ * . • > £. Then We raised them up, that We might test which of the two parties was best at calculating the time period they tarried.} The Story of the People of Al-Kahf Here Allah tells us about the story of the people of Al-Kahf in brief and general terms, then He explains it in more detail. He says: 4Do you think} -O Muhammad - oty 4that the people of Al-Kahf and Ar-Raqim were a wonder among Our signs?} meaning, their case was not something amazing compared to Our power and ability, for the creation of the heavens and earth, the alternation of night and day and the subjugation of the sun, moon and heavenly bodies, and other mighty signs indicate the great power of Allah and show that He is able to do whatever He wills. He is not incapable of doing more amazing things than the story of the people of the Cave. Similarly, Ibn Jurayj reported Mujahid saying about, 4Do you think that the people of Al-Kahf and Ar-Raqim were a wonder among Our signs?} “Among Our signs are things that are more amazing than this.”¹¹ ! m At-Tabari 17:601.

He states that they were boys or young men, and that they were more accepting of the truth and more guided than the elders who had become stubbornly set in their ways and clung to the religion of falsehood. For the same reason, most of those who responded to Allah and His Messenger sg were young people. As for the elders of Quraysh, most of them kept to their religion and only a few of them became Muslims. So Allah tells us that the people of the cave were young men. Mujahid said, “I was informed that some of them wore some kind of earrings, then Allah guided them and inspired them to fear Him, so they recognized His Oneness, and bore witness that there is no god besides Him.”

iand We increased them in guidance.} From this and other similar Ayat, several scholars, such as Al-Bukhari and others, understood that faith may increase, that it may vary in degrees, and that it may fluctuate.¹¹¹ Allah says: iatid We increased them in guidance.} as He said elsewhere: 4 . o$} iWhile as for those who accept guidance, He increases their guidance and bestows on them their Taqwa.} [47:17] % till {JJC <<$ uS> <As for those who believe, it has increased their faith, and they rejoice.} [9:124], i...that they may grow more in faith along with their (present) faith.} [48:4] There are other Ayat indicating the same thing. It has been mentioned that they were followers of the religion of Al-Maslih Isa, 'isa bin Maryam, but Allah knows best. It seems that they lived before the time of Christianity altogether, because if they had been Christians, the Jewish rabbis would not have cared about preserving because of their differences. We have mentioned above the report from Ibn 'Abbas that the Quraysh sent a message to the Jewish rabbis in Al-Madinah to ask them for things with which they could test the Messenger of Allah sg , and they told them to ask him about these young men, and about Dhul-Qarnayn (the man who traveled much) and about the Rah. This indicates that this story was something recorded in the books of the People of the Book, and that it came before Christianity. And Allah knows best. m Fath Al-Bari 6 :426 iAnd We made their hearts firm and strong when they stood up and said: "Our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth,)> Here Allah is saying: *We gave them the patience to go against their people and their city, and to leave behind the life of luxury and ease that they had been living.' Several of the earlier and later Tafsir scholars have mentioned that they were sons of the kings and leaders of Byzantium, and that they went out one day to one of the festivals of their people. They used to gather once a year outside the city, and they would worship idols and offer sacrifices to them. They had an arrogant, tyrannical king who was called Decianus, who commanded and encouraged the people to do that. When the people went out to attend this gathering, these young men went out with their fathers and their people, and when they saw their people's actions with clear insight, they realized that the prostrations and sacrifices the people were offering to their idols should only be dedicated to Allah, Who created the heavens and the earth. Each of them started to withdraw from his people and keep aloof from them. The first one of them to move away on his own went and sat in the shade of a tree, then another came and sat with him, then another came and sat with them, then four more followed suit one by one. None of them knew the others, but they were brought together by the One Who instilled faith in their hearts. As it says in the Hadith recorded by Al-Bukhari with an incomplete chain of narrators from 'A'ishah (may Allah be pleased with her), the Messenger of Allah $\text{$g}$ said: aSouls are like recruited soldiers. Those that recognize one another will come together, and those that do not recognize one another will turn away from each another'^ Muslim also recorded this in his Sahih from the Hadith of Suhayl from his father from Abu Hurayrah from the I 1 * Muslim 4 :2031

223Surah 18. Al-KahfC13-161 (Part-15) Messenger of Allah sgJ People say that similar qualities or characteristics are what bring people together. So each of the young men was trying to conceal what he really believed from the others, out of fear of them, not knowing that they were like him. Then one of them said, "O people, you know by Allah that only one thing is making you leave your people and isolate yourselves from them, so let each one of you say what it is in his case." Another said, "As for me, by Allah I saw what my people are doing and I realized that it was false, and that the only One Who deserves to be worshipped Alone with out partner or associate is Allah Who created everything, the heavens, the earth and everything in between." Another said, "By Allah, the same thing happened to me." The others said the same, and they all agreed and became brothers in faith. They adopted a particular location as a place of worship and began worshipping Allah there, but their people found out about them and told their king about them. The king ordered them to appear before him, and asked them about their beliefs. They told him the truth and called him to Allah, as Allah says about them: Of jJ O'jV'j oy-. meaning, why do they not produce some clear evidence and genuine proof for their behavior? 4And who does more wrong than he who invents a lie against Allah. > They said: *but by saying that they are lying transgressors.' It was said that when they called their king to believe in Allah, he refused, and warned and threatened them. He commanded them to be stripped of their clothing bearing the adornments of their people, then he gave them some time to think about the situation, hoping that they would return to their former religion. This was a way that Allah showed kindness for them, because during that time they managed to escape from him and flee from persecution for the sake of their religion. This is what is prescribed in the ShaiTah during times of trial and

In such cases, it is allowed to seclude oneself from people, but this is not prescribed in any other case, because by such seclusion one loses the benefits of congregational and Friday prayers. These young men were determined to flee from their people, and Allah decreed that for them, as He says about them, 4And when you withdraw from them, and that which they worship, except Allah , $> meaning, when you depart from them and follow a different religion, opposing their worship of others besides Allah, then hi Path Al-Bdri 7:11.

So they left and fled to the cave where they sought refuge. Then their people noticed they were missing, and the king looked for them, and it was said when he could not find them that Allah concealed them from him so that he could not find any trace of them or any information about them, as Allah concealed His Prophet Muhammad jg and his Companion [Abu Bakr] As-Sidd!q, when they sought refuge in the cave of Thawr. The Quraysh idolaters came in pursuit, but they did not find him even though they passed right by him. When the Messenger of Allah $g noticed that As-Sidd!q was anxious and said, "O Messenger of Allah, if one of them looks down at the place of his feet, he will see us," he told him: iil j£\j U Jz d u» «0 Abu Bakr, what do you think of two who have Allah as their third?» And Allah said: i!0 Cjf i£ji H& yfi ^ sti y .# i! & !#£. jd 4If you help him not, for Allah did indeed help him when the disbelievers drove him out, the second of the two;

If it had faced west, nothing would have entered it at the time of sunrise, until after the sun had passed its zenith, and would have stayed until sunset. This supports what we have said, and to Allah is the praise. Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid and Qatadah said that “turning away from them” means that it would shine on them and then leave them. 11 ' Allah has told us this, and He wants us to understand it and ponder its meaning, but He did not tell us the location of this cave, i.e., in which country on earth it is, because there is no benefit for us in knowing that, and no legislative objective behind it. 239 Surah 18. Al-Kahf (23-24) (Part-15) It was said that this means, if you forget to say “If Allah wills”, then say it when you remember. This was the view of Abu Al- ‘Aliyah and Al-Hasan Al-Basri. Hushaym reported from Al- A‘mash from Mujahid that concerning a man who swears an oath, Ibn

‘Abbas said “He may say If Allah wills’ even if it is a year later.” Ibn ‘Abbas used to interpret this Ayah: 4And remember your Lord token you forget} in this way. Al-A‘mash was asked, “Did you hear this from Mujahid?” He said, “Layth bin Abi Salim told it to me.”¹² * The meaning of Ibn ‘Abbas’ view, that a person may say “If Allah wills”, even if it is a year later, is that if he forgets to say it when he makes the oath or when he speaks, and he remembers it later, even a year later, the Sunnah is that he should say it, so that he will still be following the Sunnah of saying “If Allah wills”, even if that is after breaking his oath. This was also the view of Ibn Jarir,¹³¹ but he stated that this does not make up for breaking the oath or mean that one is no longer obliged to offer expiation. The reason for Musa's conversation with the boy-servant,

Yusha' bin Nun, was that he had been told about one of the servants of Allah at the junction of the two seas, who had knowledge which Musa had not been granted, so he wanted to travel to meet him. So he said to that boy-servant of his: 41 will not give up} meaning, I will keep on traveling, 4until I reach the junction of the two seas} meaning, the place where the two seas met. 4tj£- $} 4or a Huqub passes.} meaning, even if I have to travel for a very long time. Ibn Jarir (may Allah have mercy on him) said, "Some of the scholars of the Arabic language said that Huqub means a year in the dialect of [the tribe of] Qays," * then he narrated that 'Abdullah bin 'Amr said, "Huqub means eighty years."*2 Mujahid said, "Seventy years."*3 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said that it means a lifetime.14 * Qatadah and At-Jabari 18:56. At-Jabari 18:56. * At-Tabari 18:56. * At-Tabari 18:57.

Ibn Zayd said likewise.111 Cj L j'.u Ljij \Lt} tu/ien they reacted the junction of the two seas, they forgot their fish,} He had been commanded to carry a salted fish with him, and it had been said to him, when you lose the fish, that will be a sign that you have reached the right place. So they set out and traveled until they reached the junction of the two seas, where there was a spring called 'Ayn Al-Hayat (the Spring of Life). They went to sleep there, and the fish felt the drops of that water, so it came back to life. It was in a vessel with Yusha', upon him be peace, and it jumped out of the vessel towards the sea. Yusha' woke up and the fish fell into the water and started to swim through the water, leaving a track or channel behind it. Allah said: and it took its way through the sea as in a tunnel .} meaning, like going through a tunnel on land. Ibn Jurayj said, "Ibn 'Abbas said, It left a trace as if it were a rock."121 iSo when they had passed further on,} means, past the place where they had forgotten the fish. Musa asked, "O my Lord, how can I meet him?" Allah said, "Take a fish and put it in a vessel and then set out, and where you lose the fish, you luill find him." So Musa took a fish, put it in a vessel and set out, along with his boy-servant Yiisha ‘ bin Nun, peace be upon him, till they reached a rock (on which) they both lay down their heads and slept. The fish moved vigorously in the vessel and got out of it and fell into the sea and there it took its tvay through the sea (straight) as in a tunnel. So they went on board the ship, as described in the Hadith quoted above - the crew recognized Al-Khidr and let them ride on board free of charge, as an honor to Al-Khidr. When the boat took them out to sea and they were far from the shore, Al-Khidr got up and damaged the boat, pulling out one of its planks and then patching it up again. Musa, peace be upon him, could not restrain himself from denouncing him, so he said: iHave you damaged it wherein its people will drown? } The grammatical structure of the sentence in Arabic implies that this was the consequence, not the purpose, of his action. iVerily, you have committed a thing hnr,} About 'Imr', Mujahid said: "An evil thing. The Story of Zakariyya and His Supplication for a Son The discussion about the separate letters has already preceded at the beginning of Surat Al-Baqarah. Concerning Allah's statement, %} iA reminder of the mercy of your Lord^ This means that this is a reminder of Allah's mercy upon His servant Zakariyya . 111 Yahya bin Ya'mar recited it, o.JLP “He has reminded of your Lord's mercy to His servant Zakariyya.” The word Zakariyya in the Ayah has been recited with elongation and also shortened. Both recitations are well-known. He was a great Prophet from the Prophets of the Children of Israel. In Sahih Al-Bukhari, it is recorded [that the Prophet sg said about Zakariyya] that He was a carpenter who used to eat from what he earned with his own hand through carpentry . Concerning Allah's statement, iWlwn he called his Lord [with] a call in secret.} He only made his supplication secretly because it is more beloved to Allah. This is similar to what Qatadah said concerning this Ayah, ^ .Cj . ^When he called out his Lord [with] a call in secret.} “Verily, Allah knows the pious heart and he hears the hidden voice.”131 4l 4*-> 4He said: "My Lord! Indeed my bones have grown feeble..."} m Al-Qurtubi 11 :75. Muslim 4 : 1847. We were unable to locate it with Al-Bukhari. At-Tabari 18:142.

meaning, “I have become weak and feeble in strength.” iand gray hair has Ashta'al oti my head,} means the gray hair has turned into the black hair. The intent is to inform of weakness and old age, and its external and internal traces. Concerning Allah's statement, iand I have never been unblessed in my invocation to You, O my Lord!^ This means, “I have not experienced from You except that You would respond to my supplication and that You would never refuse me in whatever I ask of You.” Concerning

His statement, And verily, I fear Mawali after me,} Mujahid, Qatadah and As-Suddi, all said, “In saying the word Mawali, he (Zakariyya) meant his succeeding relatives.”

The reason for his fear was that he was afraid that the generation that would succeed him would be a wicked generation. Thus, he asked Allah for a son who would be a Prophet after him, who would guide them with his prophethood and that which was revealed to him. In response to this I would like to point out that he was not afraid of them inheriting his wealth. For a Prophet is too great in status, and too lofty in esteem to become remorseful over his wealth in this fashion. A Prophet would not disdain to leave his wealth to his successive relatives, and thus ask to have a son who would receive his inheritance instead of them. This is one angle of argument. The second argument is that Allah did not mention that lie (Zakariyya) was wealthy. On the contrary, he was a carpenter who ate from the earnings of his own hand. This type of person usually does not have a mass of wealth. Amassing At-Tabari 18:144.

228 Tafslr Ibn Kathir wealth is not something normal for Prophets, for verily, they are the most abstentious in matters of this worldly life. The third argument is that it is confirmed in the Two Sahihs, in more than one narration, that the Messenger of Allah said, USjj La i kIjjj jI® iWe (the Prophets) do not leave behind inheritance (of wealth). Whatever we leave behind, then it is charity. In a narration recorded by At-Tirmidhi with an authentic chain of narrations, he said, f .dVi jJJS “We, Prophets do not leave behind inheritance (of wealth) .»*21 Therefore, the meaning in these Hadiths restricts the meaning of Zakariyya’s statement, 4So give me from yourself an heir. Who shall inherit me,} inheritance of prophethood. For this reason Allah said, J'» Cft iand inherit (also) the posterity of Ya'qub.} This is similar to Allah’s statement, 4And Sulayman inherited from Daioud.}[27:16] This means that he inherited prophethood from him. If this had meant wealth, he would not have been singled with it among his other brothers. There also would have been no important benefit in mentioning it if it was referring to wealth. It is already well-known and established in all of the previous laws and divinely revealed creeds, that the son inherits the wealth of his father. Therefore, if this was not referring to a specific type of inheritance, then Allah would not have mentioned it. All of this is supported and affirmed by what is 111 Fath Al-Bari 6 :227, Muslim 3 :1383 2] Tuhfat Al-Ahwardhi 5 :234

229 Surah 19. Manmm (7) (Part-16) in the authentic Hadlth: dWc Prophets do not leave behind any inheritance (of wealth). Whatever we leave behind, then it is charity. [1 ' Mujahid said concerning his statement, J' iWho shall inherit me, and inherit (also) the posterity of Ya'qub.} [19:6] “His inheritance was knowledge, and Zakariyya was one of the descendants of Ya'qub. 121 " Hushaym said, “Ismail bin Abi Khalid informed us that Abu Salih commented about the Ayah: iwho shall inherit me, and inherit (also) the posterity of Ya'qub.} “He would be a Prophet like his forefathers were Prophets.”13 Allah’s statement, iU iand make him, my Lord, one with whom You are well- pleased!} means “Make him pleasing to You (Allah) and your creation. Love him and make him beloved to your creatures, in both his religion and his character.” Jt Oi 1*1 fgf-. Art 47.* (Allah said:) “O Zakariyya!  His amazement after the acceptance of his Supplication Zakariyya was amazed when his supplication was answered and he was given the good news of a son. He became extremely overjoyed and asked how this child would be born to him, and in what manner he would come. This was particularly amazing because his wife was an old woman who was barren and had not given birth to any children in her entire life. Even Zakariyya himself had become old and advanced in years, his bones had become feeble and thin, g^nd he had no potent semen or vigor for sexual intercourse. The Answer of the Angel

The Birth ofthe Boy and His Characteristics This also implies what is not mentioned, that this promised boy was bom and he was Yahya. There is also the implication that Allah taught him the Book, the Tawrah which they used to study among themselves. The Prophets who were sent to the Jews used to rule according to the Tawrah, as did the scholars and rabbis among them. He was still young in ege when Allah gave him this knowledge. The Story ofMaryam and Al-Masih (*isa) I After Allah, the Exalted, mentioned the story of Zakariyya, and that He blessed him with a righteous, purified and blessed child even in his old age while his wife was barren, He then mentions the story of Maryam. Allah informs of His granting her a child named ‘Isa without a father being involved (in Her pregnancy). Between these two stories there is an appropriate and similar relationship. Due to their closeness in meaning, Allah mentioned them here together, as well as in Surahs Al ‘Imran and Al-Anbiya’. Allah has mentioned these stories to show His servants His ability, the might of His authority and that He has power over all things. Allah says,

And mention in the Book, Maryam She was Maryam bint Imran from the family lineage of Dawud. She was from a good and wholesome family of the Children of Israel. Allah mentioned the story of her mother's pregnancy with her in Surah Al 'Imran, and that she (Maryam's mother) dedicated her freely for the service of Allah. This meant that she dedicated the child (Maryam) to the service of the Masjid of the Sacred House (in Jerusalem). Thus, they (Zakariyya, Maryam's mother and Maryam) were similar in that aspect. So her Lord (Allah) accepted her with goodly acceptance. He made her grow in a good manner. 3:37) Thus, Maryam was raised among the Children of Israel in an honorable way. She was one of the female worshippers, well-known for her remarkable acts of worship, devotion and perseverance. She lived under the care of her brother-in-law, Zakariyya, who was a Prophet of the Children of Israel at that time. He was a great man among them, whom they would refer to in their religious matters. Zakariyya saw astonishing miracles occur from her that amazed him. 'Jk iLS Ui jtf lijy Jio CjS"

Every time Zakariyya altered the Mihrab to (visit) her, he found her supplied with sustenance. He said: "O Maryam! From where have you got this?" She said, "This is from Allah." Verily, Allah provides to whom He wills, without limit. [3:37] It has been mentioned that he would find her with winter fruit during the summer and summer fruit during the winter. This has already been explained in Surah Al 'Imran. Then, when Allah wanted to grant her His servant and Messenger, Isa, one of the five Great Messengers. 44-44 1st is she withdrew in seclusion from her family to place facing [19:16] This means that she withdrew from them and secluded herself from them. She went to the eastern side of the Sacred Masjid (in Jerusalem). It is reported from Ibn 'Abbas that he said, "Verily, I am the most knowledgeable of Allah's creation of why the Christians took the east as the direction of devotional worship. They did because of Allah's statement, 'When she withdrew in seclusion from her family to a place facing east.' Therefore, they took the birthplace of 'Isa as their direction of worship."111 Concerning Allah's statement, 4She placed a screen before them;} This means that she hid herself from them and concealed herself. Then, Allah sent Jibril to her. 41*4&4 and he appeared before her in the form of a man in all respects.} [19:17 At-Tabari 18:162. The chain for this particular narration has a deficiency in it. Ibn Kathir mentions a number of narrations about this Ayah, after which he says, "And Allah knows best."

She said: "Would that I had died before this, and had been forgotten and out of sight!" } The Conception and the Birth Allah, the Exalted, informs about Maryam that when Jibril had spoken to her about what Allah said, she accepted the decree of Allah. Many scholars of the predecessors (Salaf) have mentioned that at this point the angel (who was Jibril) blew into the opening of the garment that she was wearing. Then the breath descended until it entered into her vagina and she conceived the child by the leave of Allah.

Muhammad bin Ishaq said, "When she conceived him and filled her water jug (at a well), she returned (to her people). After this, her menstrual bleeding ceased and she experienced what the pregnant woman experiences of sickness, hunger, change of color and there was even a change in the manner of her speech. After this, no people came to visit any house like they did the house of Zakariyya. The word spread among the Children of Israel and the people were saying, 'Verily, her partner (in fornication) was Yusuf, because there was no one else in the temple with her except him.' So she hid herself from the people and placed a veil between herself and them. No one saw her and she did not see anyone else." Allah said; 4And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a date palm.} This means that her pains of labor compelled her to go to the trunk of a date-palm tree that was at the place where she had secluded herself. The scholars differed over its location. As- Suddi said, "Her place of seclusion was to the east and that was where she would pray at the Sacred House of Jerusalem. "1 ' Wahb bin Munabbih said, "She ran away and when she reached an area between Ash-Sham¹²¹ and Egypt, she was overcome by labor pains."3 ' In another narration from Wahb, he said, "This took place eight miles from the Sacred House of Jerusalem in a village that was known Bayt Al-Lahm (Bethlehem)."4 * I say, there are Hadiths above; the Isra.' For this reason most of the reciters recited this Ayah with Qawlul-Haqq (statement of truth) as the subject, referring to 'Isa himself. 'Asim and 'Abdullah bin 'Amir both recited it Qawlul-Haqq (statement of truth) referring to the story in its entirety that the people differed about. It is reported from Ibn Mas'ud that he recited it as Qalal-Haqq, which means that he (Isa) said the truth. This means that the path is correct; whoever follows it will be rightly guided and whoever opposes it will deviate and go astray. Allah's statement, «M) iThen the sects differed,) means that the opinions of the People of the Book differed concerning Isa even after the explanation of his affair and the clarification of his situation. They disagreed about his being the servant of Allah, His Messenger, and His Word that He cast upon Maryam and a spirit from Himself. So a group of them - who were the majority of the Jews (may Allah's curses be upon them) - determined that he was a child of fornication and that his speaking in his cradle was merely sorcery. Another group said that it was Allah Who was speaking (not Isa). Others said that he (Isa) was the son of Allah. Some said that he was the third part of a divine trinity with Allah. Yet, others said that he was the servant of Allah and His Messenger. This latter view is the statement of truth, which Allah guided the believers to. As-Suddi said, "Al-Hafi is Cj>ne Who is concerned with his (Ibrahim's) affair." Thus, Ibrahim sought forgiveness for his father for a very long time, even after he migrated to Ash-Sham. He continued to seek forgiveness for him even after building the Sacred Masjid (in Makkah) and after the birth of his two sons, Ismail and Ishaq. This can be seen in his statement, fX$vOX 4& iOur Lord! Forgive me and my parents, and (all) the believers on the Day when the reckoning will be established.} [14:41] From this tradition, during the beginning stages of Islam, jthe Muslims used to seek forgiveness for their relatives and their family members who were polytheists. They did this following the way of Ibrahim, the Khalil (Friend) of Allah, until Allah revealed, 111 At-Jabari 18:207.

Except the saying of Ibrahim to his father: "Verily, I will ask forgiveness (from Allah) for you, but I have no power to do anything for you before Allah.") [60:4] meaning, except for this statement, so do not follow it. Then Allah explains that Ibrahim abandoned this statement and retracted it. Allah, the Exalted, says, "And Ibrahim's invoking for his father's forgiveness was only because of a promise he had made to him. But when it became clear to him that he is an enemy of Allah, he dissociated himself from him. Verily, Ibrahim was forbearing." [9:114] Concerning Allah's statement, "And I shall turn away from you and from those whom you invoke besides Allah. And I shall call upon my Lord," This means, "And I worship my Lord alone, associating no partners with Him." See the Tafsir of Stirat At-Tawbah 9:114.

Asa (I hope) here means that which will necessarily occur and not that which is hoped for from the impossible. For verily, he (Ibrahim) is the leader of the Prophets other than Muhammad. So when he had turned away from them and from those whom they worshipped besides Allah, We gave him Ishaq and Ya'qub, and each one of them We made a Prophet. And We gave them of Our mercy, and We granted them Sidqin 'Aliyyan on the tongues. Allah gave Ibrahim Ishaq and Ya'qub. Allah, the Exalted, says that when the Friend of Allah (Ibrahim) withdrew from his father and his people for the sake of Allah, Allah gave him in exchange those who were better than them. He gave him Ishaq (Isaac) and Ya'qub (Jacob), meaning his son, Ishaq, and Ishaq's son, Ya'qub. This is Allah said in another Ayah, "And after Ishaq, of Ya'qub." [11:71] There is no difference of opinion about Ishaq being the father of Ya'qub. This is what is recorded in the Qur'an in Suran Al-Baqarah. "Were you witnesses when death approached Ya'qub?"

272 fakir Ibn Kathir he said unto his sons, "What will you worship after me?" They said, "We shall worship your God the God of your fathers, Ibrahim, Isma'il and Ishaq." [2:133] Allah only mentioned Ishaq and Ya'qub here to show that He made Prophets from among his descendants and successors in order to give him relief and happiness in his life. This is why Allah says, "And each one of them We made a Prophet [19:49] If Ya'qub had not become a Prophet in the lifetime of Ibrahim, then Allah would not have limited the promise of prophethood to him, but He would have mentioned his son Yusuf as well. For verily, Yusuf was also a Prophet, just as the Messenger of Allah said in a Hadith whose authenticity is agreed upon, when he was asked who was the best of people. He said, "The Prophet of Allah, Yusuf, the son of the Prophet of Allah Ya'qub, the son of the Prophet of Allah Ishaq, the son of the Friend of Allah Ibrahim." In another wording of this Hadith, he said, "Verily, the noble one is the son of the noble one, who is the son of the noble one, who is the son of the noble one. That is Yusuf, the son of Ya'qub, the son of Ishaq, the son of Ibrahim." Concerning Allah's statement, "And We gave them of Our mercy, and We granted Sidqin 'Aliyyan on the tongues" Fath Al-Bari 8 :212 . '2| Fath Al-Bari 6 :460 .

'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Sidqin 'Aliyyan means the good praise." As-Suddi and Malik bin Anas said the same thing. Ibn Jarir said, "Allah only said 'Aliyyan (loftiness, exalted)

He (Ismail) is the father of all of the Arabs of the Hijaz because he was true to what he promised. Ibn Jurayj said, "He did not make any promise to his Lord, except that he fulfilled it." He never obligated himself to do any act of worship with a vow, except that he fulfilled it and carried it out, giving it its full due. Some said, 5>£>} 4(he was) true to what he promised.} "This was said about him because he said to his father, 4 0} Jit 41fAllah wills you willfind me of the patient.} [37:102] So he was truthful in that." Being true to one's promise is one m At-Tabari 18 :2 1 1 of the praiseworthy characteristics, just as breaking one's promise is of the detested characteristics. Allah, the Exalted, says, يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا أَوْفُوا بِالْعُقُودِ إِنَّكَم مِّنَ الصَّادِقِينَ [61:2-3] The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, لِلْجُنَّةِ ثَلَاثٌ: إِذَا تَكَلَّمَ كَذَبَ، إِذَا وَعَدَ خَانَ، وَإِذَا أُتْرِفَ بَخِلَ «The sign of the hypocrite is three things. When he speaks, he lies; when he promises, he breaks his promise; and when he is entrusted with something, he is disloyal to his trust. Thus, if these are the characteristics of the hypocrites, then behaving contrary to these is a characteristic of the true believer. For this reason, Allah commended His servant and Messenger Ismail, for he was true to his promise. Likewise, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was true to his promise. He did not promise anyone anything, except that he fulfilled his promise to that person. He also commended Abu Al-'As bin Ar-Rabi', the husband of his daughter Zaynab, by saying, «يَا جَابِرُ إِذَا تَكَلَّمَ بَلَغَ الْحَقَّ، وَإِذَا وَعَدَ بَلَغَ الْوَعْدَ، وَإِذَا أُتْرِفَ بَلَغَ الْوَفَاءَ» «He spoke to me and he told me the truth, and he promised me and he fulfilled his promise to me.» When the Prophet ﷺ died, the Khalifah (his successor), Abu Bakr As-Siddiq said, "Whoever received any promise from the Messenger of Allah ﷺ or was owed any debt by him, then let him come to me and I will fulfill it on his behalf." So Jabir bin 'Abdullah came and related that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, «إِذَا جَاءَ الْغَنَاءُ فَخُذْهُ (to me), then I would give you such and such and such.» Al-Bukhari no.33,2682,2749 ,6095 121 FathAl-Bari 5:380.

This meant that he would fill his hands with wealth. Therefore, when the wealth of Bahrain came (to them), Abu Bakr commanded Jabir to come and fill his hands from that wealth. Then, he commanded him to do so again, until he collected five hundred Dirhams. Then, Abu Bakr gave him its double along with it. (i.e. one thousand extra Dirhams). Concerning Allah's statement, وَأَنذَرْتُكَ أَن تَكُونَ مِثْلَ هَٰؤُلَاءِ (and) he was a Messenger, (and) a Prophet.} In this is a proof of Ismail's favored status over his brother, Ishaq. Ishaq was only described as being a Prophet, but Isma'il was described with both prophethood and messengership. It is confirmed in Sahih Muslim that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, «يَا إِسْمَاعِيلُ إِنَّكَ أَهْلُ الْبَيْتِ وَأَنْتَ خَيْرُهُمْ » «Verily, Allah chose Isma'il from the sons of Ibrahim. » Then, Imam Muslim mentions the rest of the Hadith in its entirety. However, this statement proves the correctness of what we have said. Allah said. وَأَنذَرْتُكَ أَن تَكُونَ مِثْلَ هَٰؤُلَاءِ (and) he would enjoin on his family and his people the Saldh and the Zakat, and his Lord was pleased with him.} This is also a beautiful form of praise, a commendable quality, and an upright characteristic. He was commanded in this way because of his persistence in obedience of his Lord, and enjoining his family to do so. This is as Allah said to His Messenger ﷺ, وَأَنذَرْتُكَ أَن تَكُونَ مِثْلَ هَٰؤُلَاءِ (and) enjoin the Saldh on your family, and be patient with them.} [20:132] Also, Allah, the Exalted, said, وَأَنذَرْتُكَ أَن تَكُونَ مِثْلَ هَٰؤُلَاءِ 121 FathAl-Bari 4:554. 121 Muslim 4:1782.

If you do so, and they obey your command, the Fire (of Hell) will not devour them on the Day of Resurrection. It has been reported in a Hadith from Abu Hurayrah that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, «يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا أَوْفُوا بِالْعُقُودِ إِنَّكَم مِّنَ الصَّادِقِينَ » «May Allah have mercy upon a man who gets up at night to pray and he wakes his wife. The word Bukiyan at the end of the Ayah means those who are crying, and it is the plural of BakL Due to this the scholars agree that it is legislated to prostrate upon reading this Ayah, in following them and adhering to their manner of worship. >• UjaL * t jpL,i»l t ib. ijf* ^±x£- 5 s *> / ^ /// < * %y ws / / 1/ / ^ , Sfj aIjL ij^Uvu UiV 459. 77ien, f/iere /ias succeeded them a posterity who have lost the Saldh and havefollmoed lusts. ThoseWho repent Allah, the Exalted, says that the Gardens (of Paradise), which the penitent will enter, will be Gardens of ‘Adn, meaning, eternity. These are Gardens that the Most Beneficent promises His servants in the unseen. This means that these Gardens are from the unseen things that they believe in, even though they have never witnessed them. They believe in the unseen out of their strong conviction and the strength of their faith. Concerning Allah’s statement, 4&U Jit iVerily, His promise must come to pass.} This affirms the fact that this will occur, and that it is a settled matter. Allah does not break His promise, nor does He change it. This is similar to His statement, iHis promise is certainly to be accomplished.} [73:18) This means that His promise will be and there is no avoiding it. Allah’s statement here, imust come to pass.} This means that it will come to His servants who are striving towards it and they will reach it. There are those commentators who said, innst come to pass.} “This means it is coming, because everything that comes to you, you also come to it. This is as the Arabs say, ‘Fifty years came to me, and I came to fifty years.’ They both mean the same thing (I’m fifty years old).” Concerning Allah’s statement, OjICj v} iThey shall not hear therein any Laghio.} This means that in these gardens of Paradise there is no ignorant, wasteful and useless speech, like there is in this life. He said, [56:25-26] Concerning His statement, *4*And they will have therein their sustenance , morning and afternoon This means, in what is similar to mornings and evenings. This does not mean that there is a night and a day (in Paradise), but they will be living in times that alternate. They will know its lighted times from its lights and illumination. Their sweat will be the fragrance of musk and each of them will have two wives . The marrow of their shins will be visible from beneath the skin due to their beauty. They ivill not have any disputes between them, or any hatred. Their hearts will be united like the heart of one man. They will glorify Allah in the morning and evening . [1] m Ahmad 2 :316.

This is how you use to beautify and apply fragrance to your deeds in the worldly life. I was riding upon you in the entire length of your worldly life, so will you not ride upon me now?’ So the believer will therefore mount the creature. This occurred after Musa had completed the time agreed upon between he and his father-in-law that he would herd sheep. He was traveling with his family, and it has been said that he was headed for the land of Egypt, after having been away from it for more than ten years. He had his wife with him and he became lost on the way during a cold, wintry night. Therefore, he settled down, making a camp between some mountain passes and mountains that were covered with snow, sleet, dense clouds, darkness and fog. He began to try to make a fire with a kindling device he had with him, in order to produce some light, as was customary. However, it would not kindle anything and it even stopped giving off sparks. While he was in this condition, he saw a fire from the side of the mountain. It appeared to him to be a fire glowing from the right side of the mountain from where he was. Musa requested his Lord to expand his chest for his mission. For verily, He was commanding him with a great task and a weighty affair. He was sending him to the mightiest king on the face of the earth at that time. He was the most arrogant and severe of all people in his disbelief, and He had the largest army and the most powerful kingdom. He was the most tyrannical and the most obstinate of rulers. His case was such that he claimed not to know Allah at all, and that he knew of no god for his subjects other than himself. Along with this, Musa lived in his home for a period of time as a child. He stayed in Fir'awn's own room and slept on his bed. Then, after this, he killed one of their people and feared that they would retaliate by killing him in return. Thus, he fled from them and remained an outlaw during this entire time. Then, after all of this, His Lord sent him to them as a wamer calling them to worship Allah alone, without associating partners with Him. This is why he said, iO my Lord! Open for me my chest, and ease my task for me.} This means, “I cannot perform this task if You do not help me, aid me and support me.” life oi iAnd loosen the knot from my tongue, that they understand my speech.} This is referring to the lisp that he had. This lisp was a result of an incident when he was presented a date and a hot coal stone and he placed the coal on his tongue instead of the date. A detailed explanation of this story is forthcoming in the following chapters. However, he did not ask Allah to remove this affliction all together. Rather, he asked for removal of his stammering so the people would understand what he intended in his speech. He was only asking for what was necessary to deliver his message. If he had asked for the removal of his affliction in its entirety, it would have been cured for him. However, the Prophets do not ask for any more than what is required. Therefore, he was left with the remnants of this accident that took place with his tongue. Allah informed of what Fir'awn said concerning him, Glad Tidings of the acceptance of Musa's Supplication and the Reminder ofthe Previous Blessings This is a response from Allah to His Messenger, Musa, for what he requested from His Lord. It also contains a reminder of Allah's previous favors upon him. The first was inspiring his mother when she was breastfeeding him and she feared that Fir'awn and his chiefs would kill him. Musa was bom during a year in which they (Fir'awn's people) were killing all of the male children. So she placed him in a case and cast him into the river. The river carried him away and she became grieved and distressed, as Allah mentioned about her when He said, & LjJaii\j J X}! .J sijJ o o! iAnd the heart of the mother ofMusa became empty. They were killing the male children of the Israelites for fear of Musa's arrival. Therefore, with Allah having the great authority and the most perfect power, He determined that Musa would not be raised except upon Fir'awn's own bed. He would be sustained by Fir'awn's food and drink, while receiving the love of Fir'awn and his wife. This is why Allah said, 4c? ciHc 1) Jj jit, j Jje iand there, an enemy of Mine and an enemy of his shall take him. And I endued you with lovefrom Me,} This means that I made your enemy love you. Thus, they hired her to nurse him and she achieved great happiness and comfort because of him, in this life and even more so in the Hereafter. means that he has rebelled and become haughty and insolent against Allah and he has disobeyed Him. And speak to him mildly, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear (Allah).} This Ayah contains a great lesson. Even though Fir'awn was the most insolent and arrogant of people and Musa was the friend of Allah among His creation at that time, Musa was still commanded to speak to Fir'awn with mildness and softness. Therefore, their invitation to him was with gentle, soft and easy speech that is used by one who is a close friend. This is so that the message may have more effect on the souls, and so it would have deeper and more beneficial results. This is as Allah, the Exalted, says, And invite (mankind) to the way of your Lord with wisdom and fair preaching, and argue with them in a way that is better. [16:125] Concerning Allah's statement, perhaps he may accept admonition or fear (Allah).} This means that perhaps he will recant from that which he is in of misguidance and destruction, if or he will fear} meaning that he will become obedient due to fear of Allah. This means He measured out an ordained amount (of sustenance, actions, etc.) and then guided His creatures to it. He wrote the deeds, the appointed times of death and the provisions. Then, the creatures traverse upon that and they are not able to avoid it, nor are they able to abandon it. In this Ayah Musa is saying that our Lord is the One Who created the creation, measured out its ordainment and compelled the creatures to that which He wanted. o$> SCu i(Fir'awn) said: "What about the generations ofold?"} The most correct opinion concerning the meaning of this, is that when Musa informed Fir'awn that his Lord Who sent him is the One Who creates, sustains, ordains and guides, Fir'awn began to argue, using the previous generations as a proof. He was referring to those people of old who did not worship Allah.

In other words, "If the matter is as you say, then what happened to those people? They did not worship your Lord. Instead they worshipped other gods besides Him." Musa said to him, in response to this, that if they did not worship Allah, then Allah knows precisely what happened to them and He will give them just recompense for their deeds, as is written in Allah's Book (of decrees). This Book is called Al-Lawh Al- Mahfuz (The Preserved Tablet) and it is the Book of Deeds. % 4S }My Lord neither errs nor forgets .} This means that nothing eludes Him and He does not miss anything, whether it is small or great. He does not forget anything and His Most Exalted knowledge is described as encompassing everything. Blessed be He, the Exalted, the Most Holy and free of any imperfections. The knowledge that creatures have has two deficiencies. The first is that it does not completely encompass anything, and the second is that the creature is prone to forget after knowing. Therefore, Allah has declared Himself above such deficiencies. C4 £# &m« qpsz p& ^yj 4 5) [4> £>0 oi.

Magic and Their Agreement to hold a Contest Allah, the Exalted, informs of what Fir'awn said to Musa when he showed him the great proof. This great sign to Fir'awn was Musa casting down his stick which became a huge snake, and his pulling his hand out from under his arm while it was glowing white without any illness. At this, Fir'awn said, "This is magic that you have brought to us to bewitch us and conquer the people, so that they will follow you. Then you will outnumber us." Fir'awn then said, "Your plan will not work. We have magic just like yours, so do not let yourself be deceived by that what you are doing." 4^ 4so appoint a meeting between us and you,} Meaning, 'a day that we can come together said to them, 4Your appointed meeting is the day of festival,} That was the day of their celebration and their New Year's festivity. It was a holiday for them when they took vacation from their work and came together for a large gathering. This day was selected so that all of the people could witness the power of Allah to do whatever He wills. They would see the miracles of the prophets and the futility of magic to contest the supernatural prophetic powers. This is why Musa said, 4S® Zk 4and let the people never something hidden, or something for sale. This is why he did not say that the meeting should be at night, but rather, it was to be held during the bright part of the day. Ibn 'Abbas said, "The day of their festivity was the day of 'As/tCrd'."111 As-Suddi, Qatadah and Ibn Zayd said, "It was the day of their great celebration." Said bin Jubayr said, "It was the day of their great bazaar." These statements are not contradictory. I say that Allah destroyed Fir'awn and his armies on a day similar to this, just as is Every person who had any affiliation with magic at that time was summoned, and magic was very widespread and in demand at that time. This is as Allah says, 4And Fir'awn said: "Bring me every ivell-versed sorcerer."4 [10:79] Then, the day came. It was the day when all of the people gathered, which was well-known, being the day of the festival. Fir'awn was there sitting upon his throne surrounded by the elite officials of his kingdom. The subjects were all standing on his right and his left. Then, Musa came forward leaning upon his stick accompanied by his brother Harun. The magicians were standing in front of Fir'awn in rows and he was prodding them, inciting them and encouraging them to do their best on this day. They wanted to please him and he was promising them and inspiring them. They said, oJ b} pj& (3$ ^ ^ ol & ofo iWill there surely be a reward for us if we are the winners? So one of them said, "This is not the speech of a magician, but it is the speech of a Prophet." Another said, "No, he is only a magician." There are other opinions that have been mentioned about what they discussed. And Allah knows best. Allah's statement, iand they kept their talk secret.} means, they held secret counsel among themselves about this matter. 4They said: "Verily, these are two [Hadhan] magicians..." This is a way of speaking with some of the Arabs and this Ayah has been recited according to the grammar of their dialect. There are also others who recite it as, j) Which carries the same meaning, "Verily, these are two [Hadhayn] magicians." This is the popular style of language in Arabic grammar. The grammarians have extensive discussions in reply to the first recitation and its grammatical explanation, but this is not the place for such a discussion. The main point is that the magicians said among themselves, "You all know that this man and his brother (Musa and HarQn) are two knowledgeable magicians who are quite aware of the skill of magic. They want to defeat you and your people today and conquer the people, causing the masses to follow them. They want to fight against Fir'awn and his armies, and they are seeking victory over him. And their ultimate goal is to expel you from your land." Concerning Allah's statement, iand to take you away from your exemplary way.} This means, they want to expose this way (of yours) openly, which is magic.' For verily, they were considered great because of their magic. They had wealth and sustenance because of this magic. They were actually saying, "If these two (Musa and Harun) are victorious, they will destroy you and expel you from your land. In doing so, they will be the first individuals to do so, and they will be given great power of leadership without you." Concerning Allah's statement, 4'ip.&y  'i-? iSo Musa conceivedfear in himself.} This means that he feared for the people that they would be tested and deceived by their magic before he could even have a chance to throw what was in his right hand. Thus, Allah revealed to him at the right moment, to throw what was in his right hand, which was the stick. When he did so, it swallowed what they had made. It became a huge, monstrous creature with legs, a neck, a head and fangs. It went after these ropes and sticks until none of them remained, except that it was devoured and swallowed by this beast. At the same time, the magicians and all of the people were watching with their own eyes, seeing this amazing event in broad daylight. Thus, the miracle was performed and the evidence was clear. The truth prevailed and the magic was proven to be falsehood. This is why Allah said, / ' » ,/ » / I •> ^ M /• i' ' • ' /; \ XtU* \yLm0 Li)7 iThat which they have made is only a magician's trick, and the magician will never be successful, to whatever amount (of skill) he may attain.} So when the magicians saw the event and witnessed it with their own eyes, while they were knowledgeable of the various tricks and methods in the sciences of magic, they knew with conviction that what Musa had done was not magic or illusionary tricks. They recognized that it was the truth without any doubt. They knew that no one had any power to do this except for One Who says for a thing "Be," and it is. Therefore, when this happened, they fell down into prostration to Allah. They said, "We believe in the Lord of all that exists, the Lord of Musa and Hartin!" This is why Ibn 'Abbas and Ubayd bin TJmayr both said, "At the beginning of the day they were magicians and at the end of the day they were outstanding witnesses of faith." The Number of Magicians Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, "The magicians were seventy men who were magicians in the morning, but witnesses of faith by the time evening came."*21 Ibn Abi Hatim also reported that Al-Awza! said, "When the magicians fell down in prostration, Paradise was raised up before them until they were looking at it."131 It is reported from Said bin Jubayr that he said concerning Allah's statement, 4<& iSo the magicians fell dawn prostrate "They saw their places (in Paradise) made clear before them while they were in their prostration." When he saw what he saw of the magnificent miracle and the great sign, and he saw those whose help he sought accept faith in the presence of all of the people, and he was absolutely defeated, he began to behave arrogantly and cast accusations. He saved them from their enemy, Fir'awn, and He relieved their eyes by drowning him and his hosts all at one time while they watched. Allah said, 4And We drowned Fir'awn people while you ivere looking. [2:50] Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, When the Messenger of Allahm came to Al-Madinah, he found the Jews fasting the day of Ashurd '. Therefore he asked them about it and they said, This is the day that Allah gave Musa victory over Fir'awn.' Then, the Prophet said, > > > ' ,, > 1 • l * *_r, »ayyai «We have more right to Musa (than them), so fast if." Muslim also recorded this narration in his Sahih. Then, Allah made a covenant with Musa and the Children of Israel on the right side of the Mountain, after the destruction of Fir'awn. This is the Mountain upon which Allah spoke to Musa and He told Musa's people to look at it when they requested to see Allah. It is also the same Mountain upon which Musa was given the Tawrah, while at the same time the Children of Israel began worshipping the (statue of a) calf, as Allah relates in the forth coming Ayat. The manna and quails have previously been discussed in Surah Al-Baqarah and 111 Fath Al-Bari 8 :288 I2 ' Muslim 1 :795 131 See Surat Al-Baqarah (2 :57) , and Surat Al-‘Araf(7 :160)

During this time he received the Tawrah, which contained their Shari'ah (Law), this was a great honor for them. For they were a people who used to worship other than Allah. Every person with sound reason and good sense could see that what they were doing was false and foolish. This is why Allah said that he (Musa) returned to them in a state of anger and sorrow. The word for sorrow used here is Asif, which is used to emphasize to the severity of his anger. Mujahid said, "In a state of anger and sorrow means worried." Qatadah and As-Suddi said, "Asif here means in a state of sadness because of what his people had done after him."*2 »-'Jej (iS2> jli^ 4 He (Miisa) said: "O my people! of your Lord upon you by what you have done. Therefore, you have broken your promise to me.” The Children of Israel said in reply to Musa’s blame and rebuke, “We broke not our promise to you of our own will,” Meaning by our power and our choice. Then, they began making lame excuses and they told him how they got rid of that which they were carrying of Coptic jewelry that they had borrowed from them (the Egyptian Copts) when they left Egypt. Therefore they cast it, meaning that they threw it away. Thus, it became a calf that made a moaning sound that would gradually rise in pitch. This calf was an ordeal, a hindrance and test. This is why Allah said, “...that was what As-Samiri suggested.” Then he took out (of the fire) for them (a statue of) a calf which was mooing.” Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “This is your god, and the god of Musa.” “So they became religiously devoted to it (the calf) and they loved it with a love that they had never loved anything else with before.” Allah then says, “but he had forgotten.” This means that he abandoned what he was following of the religion of Islam. This is referring to As-Samiri.¹² * Allah says in refuting them and rebuking them, and also explaining to them their folly and foolishness in that which they had done, “Did they not see that it could not return them a word (for answer), and that it had no power either to harm them or to do them good?” 111 Tarikh At-Tabari 1 :422, At-Tabari 18:355. This is about the calf. ‘Do they not see that it does not respond to them when they ask it and when they speak to it?’ and that it had no power either to harm them or to do them good? Meaning in their worldly affairs and matters of the Hereafter. Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Nay, by Allah, the moaning sound of the calf was nothing but wind that would enter into its behind and come out of its mouth, thus causing it to make a sound.”¹¹¹ In a Hadith of Al-Fitun recorded from Al-Hasan Al-Basri, it is mentioned that this calf’s name was Bahmut.¹²¹ In reference to the excuse of these ignorant people, they claimed that they were merely ridding themselves of the jewelry of the Copts. In the process of doing so, they cast the jewelry (into the pit of fire) and ended up worshipping the calf. Thus, they were seeking to rid themselves of something detestable, but wound up doing something even worse. This is similar to an authentic narration reported from ‘Abdullah bin Umar. A man from Iraq asked him about the ruling of mosquitoes’ blood if it get on one’s garment. The man wanted to know if it is permissible to pray in such a garment or not. Ibn ‘Umar replied by saying, “Look at the people of Iraq. They killed the grandson of the Messenger of Allah sg, Al-Husayn, and yet they’re asking about the blood of the mosquito. because hunger is internal humiliation, while nakedness is external humiliation. 4And you (will) suffer not from thirst therein nor from the sun's heat.} These two characteristics are also opposites. Thirst is the internal heat and being parched from lack of water, while the

Do not look at the enjoyment of the wealthy, be patient in the worship of Allah. Allah, the Exalted, says to His Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ), “Do not look at what these people of luxury and their likes and peers have of nice comforts. For verily, it is only short-lived splendor and a feeble bounty, which We are using to test them with. And very few of My servants are truly thankful.” Mujahid said, “Various groups of them, ‘This means the wealthy people.’” This means, “Verily, We have given you (O Muhammad) better than that which We have given them.” This is just as Allah says in another Ayah, And We have bestowed upon you seven repeatedly recited verses, and the Grand Qur'an. Look not with your eyes ambitiously. [15:87-88] Likewise, that which Allah has stored for His Messenger (ﷺ) in the Hereafter is something extremely great. It is an unlimited reward that cannot be described. This is as Allah says, And verily, your Lord will give you so that you shall be well-pleased. [93:5] For this reason, Allah says, But the provision of your Lord is better and more lasting. In the Sahih it is recorded that Umar bin al-Khattab entered upon the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) while he was in the small room in which he had separated himself from his wives after he had vowed to stay away from them. Which was revealed in Makkah

The Virtues of Surat Al-Anbiya Al-Bukhari recorded that ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Yazid said that ‘Abdullah said, “Banu Israhil, Al-Kahf, Maryam, Ta Ha and Al-Anbiya’ - they are among the earliest and most beautiful Surahs and they are my treasure.”¹² In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. While they turn away in heedlessness 42. Comes not unto them an admonition from their Lord as a recent revelation but they listen to it while they play. 43. With their hearts occupied. Those who do wrong, conceal their private counsels, (saying): "Is this more than a human being like you? Will you submit to magic while you see it?" 44. He said: "My Lord knows what is said in the heavens and on earth. And He is the All-Hearer, the All-Knower 111 Surah Al-Isra'. 121 Fath Al-Bari, 4 :289

45. Nay, they say: "These are mixed up false dreams! Nay, he has invented it! - Nay, he is a poet! Let him then bring us an Ayah like the ones that were sent before!" 46. Not one of the toons of those which We destroyed, believed before them; will they then believe.} The Hour is at hand but People are heedless This is a warning from Allah of the approach of the Hour, and that people are heedless of it, i.e., they are not working for it or preparing for it. An-Nasab recorded that Abu Saïd reported from the Prophet (ﷺ) that he said, "The Hour will come to pass, so seek not to hasten it" (S-4) while they turn away in heedlessness, he said, "in this world" (S-4) Allah says: "The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft asunder. And if they see a sign, they turn away." [54:1,2]. Then Allah states that they do not listen to the revelation (Wahy that He sends down to His Messenger (ﷺ), which is addressed to the Quraysh and all disbelievers like them. It means, newly-revealed, but they listen to it while they play.} This is like what Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Why do you ask the People of the Book about what they mean in Al-Kubra, 6 :407

424 Tafsir Ibn Kathir have, which has been altered and distorted, and they have added things and taken things away, when your Book is the most recently revealed from Allah, and you read it pure and unadulterated?" Al-Bukhari recorded something similar to this. 'Those who do wrong, conceal their

They did not believe that he could be a Prophet because he was a human being like them, so how could he have been singled out to receive revelation, and not them? They said: iWill you submit to magic while you see it?} meaning, will you follow him and be like one who submits to magic when he knows that it is magic? Allah said in response to their fabrications and lies: 4 4^* f^~*: <X>3^ iHe said: "My Lord knoios what is said in the heavens and on earth..." } Nothing at all is hidden from the One Who knows that, and He is the One Who reveals this Qur'an which contains news of the earliest and last generations. This is a warning and a threat to them. 111 Fath Al-Bari, 13:505.

Nay, he has invented it!..." } Here Allah tells us of the stubbornness and heresy of the disbelievers, and the various things they said about the Qur'an, and how they were confused and misguided about it. Sometimes they described it as magic, and sometimes they described it as poetry, or mixed up false dreams, or a fabrication. As Allah says: 4 !VNL^ . —1»- \u LL iSee what examples they have put forward for you. He said, "Do you think that when the heavens and the earth were joined together, there was anything between them except darkness? Thus you may know that the night came before the day."111 Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn TJmar said that a man came to him and questioned him about when the heavens and earth were joined together then they were parted. He said, "Go to that old man (Shaykh) and ask him, then come and tell me what he says to you." So he went to Ibn 'Abbas and asked him. Ibn 'Abbas said: "Yes, the heavens were joined together and it did not rain, and the earth was joined together and nothing grew. When living beings were created to populate the earth, rain came forth from the heavens and vegetation came forth from the earth." The man went back to Ibn TJmar and told him what had been said. Ibn TJmar said, "Now I know that Ibn 'Abbas has been given knowledge of the Qur'an. He has spoken the truth, and this is how it was." Ibn TJmar said: "I did not like the daring attitude of Ibn 'Abbas in his Tafsir of the Qur'an, but now I know that he has been given knowledge of the Qur'an."21 Said bin Jubayr said: "The heavens and the earth were attached to one another, then when the heavens were raised up, the earth became separate from them, and this is their parting which was mentioned by Allah in His Book." The tyrant sent for Ibrahim, and asked him, "Wltat is the relationship of this woman to you?" He said, "She is my sister." The tyrant said, "Go and send her to me." So Ibrahim went to Sarah and said, "Tins tyrant asked me about you, and I told him that you are my sister, so do not let him think that J am lying. For you are indeed my sister according to the Book of Allah, and there are no Muslims on the earth apart from you and I." So Ibrdltlm brought her to him, then he stood and prayed. When she entered upon the tyrant, he

Then he reached for her desirously, but he was stricken similarly before or worse. This continued three times, and each time he said the same as he had said the first time. Then he called the closest of his guards and said, "You have not brought me a human being, you have brought me a devil! Take her out and give her Hajar. So she was taken out and given Hajar, and she went back. When Ibrahim realized that she had come back, he finished his prayer and turned around. He said, "What happened?" Then he was tested with regard to his body, and he was left alone on the edge of the city and there was no one who treated him with compassion apart from his wife, who took care of him. It was said that it reached the stage where she was in need, so she started to serve people (to earn money) for his sake. The Prophet ﷺ said: $\text{جاءني رجل فقال لي يا رسول الله ما أشد ما ابتلي من هؤلاء}$ "The people who are tested the most severely are the Prophets, then the righteous, then the next best and the next best*" According to another Hadith: "A man will be tested according to his level of religious commitment; the stronger his religious commitment, the more severe will be his test.*" The Prophet of Allah, Ayyub, upon him be peace, had the utmost patience, and he is the best example of that. Yazid bin Maysarah said: "When Allah tested Ayyub, upon him be peace, with the loss of his family, wealth and children, and he had nothing left, he started to focus upon the remembrance of Allah, and he said: 'I praise You, the Lord of lords. Yunus bin Matta, upon him be peace, was sent by Allah to the people of Nineveh, which was a town in the area of Mawsil [in northern Iraq]. He called them to Allah, but they rejected him and persisted in their disbelief. So he left them in anger, threatening them with punishment after three [days]. When they realized that he was telling the truth and that a Prophet never lies, they went out to the desert with their children and cattle and flocks. They separated the mothers from their children, then they beseeched Allah and pleaded to Him, with the camels and their young groaning, the cows and their calves mooing, and the sheep and their lambs bleating, so Allah spared them from the punishment. The Reason for Revelation

It was recorded in the Two Sahihs that Abu Dharr swore that this Ayah - °(jO iThese two opponents dispute with each other about their Lord;} was revealed concerning Hamzah and his two companions, and Utbah and his two companions, on the day of Badr when they came forward to engage in single combat. This is the wording of Al-Bukhari in his Tafsir of this Ayah) Then Al- Bukhari recorded that ‘Ali bin Abi Jalib said, “I will be the first one to kneel down before the Most Merciful so that the dispute may be settled on the Day of Resurrection.” Qays (sub-narrator) said, “Concerning them the Ayah was revealed: rjy j i iThese two opponents dispute with each other about their Lord;} He (Qays) said, “They are the ones who came forward (for single combat) on the day of Badr: ‘Ali, Hamzah and Tlbaydah vs., Shaybah bin Rabl'ah, Utbah bin Rabl'ah and Al-Walld bin ‘Utbah.” This was reported only by Al-Bukhari.¹² Ibn Abi Najlh reported that Mujahid commented on this Ayah, “Such as the disbeliever and the believer disputing about the Resurrection.” According to one report Mujahid and ‘Ata’ commented on this Ayah, “This refers to the believers and the disbelievers.” The view of Mujahid and ‘Ata’ that this refers to the disbelievers and the believers, includes all opinions, the story of Badr as well as the others. For the believers want to support the religion of Allah, while the disbelievers want to extinguish the light of faith and to defeat the truth and cause falsehood to prevail. This was the view favored by Ibn Jarir, and it is good. The Punishment of the Disbelievers <> vQ pi => cjili i then as for those who disbelieved, garments offire will be cut out for them,} meaning, pieces of fire will be prepared for them. And the Ayah: 4^- dl b^j} iand they are guided to the path ofHim Who is Worthy of all praises.} means, the straight path in this world. These interpretations do not contradict that mentioned above. The structure of this phrase is like that to be found in the Ayah: Sii ir*' iTftose who believed, and whose hearts find rest in the remembrance of Allah, verily, in the remembrance of Allah do heartsfind rest.> [13 :28] Not only are they believers, but their hearts also find rest in the remembrance of Allah. The Issue ofrenting Houses inMakkah iwhich We have made (open) to (all) men, the dweller in it and the visitorfrom the country are equal there meaning that they prevent people from reaching Al-Masjid Al- Haram, which

Allah has made equally accessible to all in Sharfah, with no differentiation between those who live there and those who live far away from it. The dweller in it and the visitor from the country are equal there, Part of this equality is that everyone has equal access to all parts of the city and can live there, as ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported from Ibn ‘Abbas concerning the Ayah: “The dweller in it and the visitor from the country are equal there,” He [Ibn ‘Abbas] said: “Both the people of Makkah and others can stay in Al-Masjid Al-Haram,”* 1 ‘The dweller in it and the visitor from the country are equal there I 1 ‘ At-Tabari 18:596.

Mujahid said, “The people of Makkah and others are equally allowed to stay there.” This was also the view of Abu Salih, ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Sabit and ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam. ‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated from Ma'mar, from Qatadah who said: “Its own people and others are equal therein.” This is the issue about which Ash-Shafil and Ishaq bin Rahwayh differed in the Masjid of Al-Khayf, when Ahmad bin Hanbal was also present. Ash-Shafil was of the opinion that the various parts of Makkah can be owned, inherited and rented, and he used as evidence the Hadith of Usamah bin Zayd who said, “I said, O Messenger of Allah, will you go and stay tomorrow in your house in Makkah?” He said, “Has ‘Aqil left us any property?” Then he said, “A disbeliever does not inherit from a Muslim and a Muslim does not inherit from a disbeliever.” This Hadith was recorded in the Two Sahibs. 1 11 He also used as evidence the report that Umar bin Al-Khattab bought a house in Makkah from Safwan bin Umayyah for four thousand Dinars, and made it into a prison. This was also the view of Tawtis and ‘Amr bin Dinar. Ishaq bin Rahwayh was of the opinion that they (houses in Makkah) could not be inherited or rented. This was the view of a number of the Salaf, and Mujahid and ‘Ata’ said likewise. Ishaq bin Rahwayh used as evidence the report recorded by Ibn Majah from ‘Alqamah bin Nadlah who said, “The Messenger of Allah jg, Abu Bakr and “Umar died, and nobody claimed any property in Makkah except the grazing animals. Whoever needed to live there would take up residence there, and whoever did not need to live there would let others take up residence there. ‘Abdur-Razzaq recorded that ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr said, “It is not allowed to sell or rent the houses of Makkah.” He also said, narrating from Ibn Jurayj: “Ata’ would not allow people to ^ Al-Bukhari no. 6764, Muslim 1614. Tjmar bin Al-Khattab sent for him about that and he said, “Listen to me, O Commander of the faithful, I am a man who engages in trade and I want to protect my back.” He said, Then you may do that.’ ” ‘Abdur-Razzaq recorded from Mujahid that ‘Umar bin Al-Khattab said, “O people of Makkah, do not put gates on your houses, and let the bedouins stay wherever they want.” * He said: Ma'mar told us, narrating from someone who heard ‘Ata’ say about the Ayah, “The dweller in it and the visitor from the country are equal there,” “They may stay wherever they want.” Ad-Daraqutni recorded a saying reported from ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr: “Whoever charges rent for the houses of Makkah, consumes fire.”*2 Imam Ahmad took a middle path, according to what his son Salih narrated from him, and he said, “They may be owned and inherited, but they should not be rented, so as to reconcile between all the proofs.” And Allah knows best. 553 Surah 22. Al-Haai (26-27) (Part-17) Ibn 'Abbas said, "This was revealed about 'Abdullah bin Unays. The Messenger of Allah jg sent him with two men, one of whom was a Muhajir and the other from among the Ansar. They began to boast about their lineages and 'Abdullah bin Unays got angry and killed the Ansari. Then he reverted from Islam (became an apostate) and fled to Makkah. Then these words were revealed concerning him: iand whoever inclines to evil actions therein or to do wrong,} meaning, whoever flees to Al-Haram to do evil actions, i.e., by leaving Islam." These reports indicate some meanings of the phrase "evil actions", but the meaning is more general than that and includes things which are more serious. Hence when the owners of the Elephant planned to destroy the House (the Ka'bah), Allah sent against them birds in flocks, iStriking them with stones of SijjilJ21 And He made them like (an empty field of) stalks (of which the corn has been eaten up by cattle).} [105:4-5], means He destroyed them and made them a lesson and a warning for everyone who intends to commit evil actions there. been established on the basis of Tawhid. and the worship of Allah Alone, with no partner or associate. Allah tells us that He showed Ibrahim the site of the 'Atiq House, i.e., He guided him to it, entrusted it to him and granted him permission to build it. Many scholars take this as evidence to support their view that Ibrahim was the first one to build the House and that it was not built before his time. It was recorded in the Two Sahihs that Abu Dharr said, "I said, 'O Messenger of Allah, which Masjid was the first to be built?' He said, "Al-Masjid Al-Haram .» I said, Then which?' Tawaf is done around the Ka'bah and prayer is offered facing its direction in the majority of cases, with a few exceptions, such as when one is uncertain of the direction of the Qiblah, during battle and when praying optional prayers while traveling. And Allah knows best. m At-Tabari 18 :604

iAnd proclaim to mankind the Hajj} meaning, 'announce the pilgrimage to mankind and call them to perform pilgrimage to this House which We have commanded you to build.' It was said that Ibrahim said: "O Lord, how can I convey this to people when my voice will not reach them?" It was said: "Call them and We will convey it." So Ibrahim stood up and said, "O mankind! Your Lord has established a House so come on pilgrimage to it." It is said that the mountains lowered themselves so that his voice would reach all the regions of the earth, and those who were still in their mothers' wombs and their fathers' loins would hear the call. The response came from everyone in the cities, deserts and countryside, and those whom Allah has decreed will make the pilgrimage, until the Day of Resurrection: "At Your service, O Allah, at Your service." This is a summary of the narrations from Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayl * and others among the Salaf. And Allah knows best. This was recorded by Ibn Jarir and by Ibn Abi Hatim at length. iThey will come to you on foot and on every lean camel,} This Ayah was used as evidence by those scholars whose view is that Hajj performed on foot by those who are able, is better than Hajj performed riding, because the phrase "on foot" is mentioned first, and because it is an indication of their keenness and resolve. Waki' narrated from Abu Al-TJmays from Abu Halhalah from Muhammad bin Ka*b that Ibn 'Abbas said, "I do not regret anything except for the fact that I wish I had performed Hajj on foot, because Allah says, 2}t} iThey will come to you on foot}. But the majority are of the view that performing Hajj while riding is better, following the example of the Messenger of Allah jg, because he performed Hajj riding, although his physical ability was sound. m At-Tabari 18:605, 606, 607. 575 Surah 22. Al-Haai (36) (Part-17) Ibn Abi Najih reported that Mujahid said, "This means, when it has fallen to the ground." * This was narrated from Ibn 'Abbas, and a similar view was narrated from Muqatil bin Hayyan. 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said, ⁱThen, when they are down on their sides,} "Meaning, when they have died."121 This is what was meant by the comment of Ibn 'Abbas and Mujahid, for it is not permitted to eat from the sacrifice when it has been slaughtered until it has died and its movements have ceased. It was reported in a Marfu' Hadith : *• • , ' "Do not rush until you are sure that the animal is dead .»13' Ath-Thawri narrated in his Jami' that 'Umar bin Al-Khattab said that, and he supported it with the Hadith of Shaddad bin 'Aws in Sahih Muslim lijj i&iJl ^ JS ji-CiS 3>l OJ« k tAJiJl Iy~—>•U "Allah has prescribed proficiency in all things. Al- 'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, Qani is the one who is content with what he is given and he stays in his house, and the Mu'tarr is the one who comes to you and rubs shoulders with you so that you will give him some meat, but he does not ask for it." * This was also the view of Mujahid and Muhammad bin Ka'b Al-Qurazi . [21 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Qdm' is the one who is too proud to ask, and Mu'tarr is the one who does ask."*31 This was also the view of Qatadah, Ibrahim An-Nakha'I and Mujahid, according to one report narrated from him . This Ayah has been quoted as evidence by those scholars who said that the sacrifice should be divided into three: a third for the one who offers the sacrifice to eat from, a third to be given as gifts to his friends, and a third to be given in charity to the poor, because Allah says: eat thereof, and feed the poor who does not ask, and the beggar who asks.} But there is no evidence in this Ayah for this view. So the Salah, which is the most important pillar of Islam after the two testimonies of faith, is obligatory, four Rak'ahs when one is settled, which are shortened to two Rak'ah when one is traveling. According to some Imams, only one Rak'ah is obligatory at times of fear, as was recorded in the HadithJ ' A person may pray while walking or riding, facing the Qiblah or otherwise. When praying optional prayers while traveling, one may face the Qiblah or not. A person is not obliged to stand during the prayer if he is sick; the sick person may pray sitting down, and if he is not able to do that then he may pray lying on his side. And there are other exemptions and dispensations which may apply to the obligatory prayers and other duties. So the Prophet said: "/ have been sent with the easy HanTfi 121 way . If there is a land that needs a lot of water for its irrigation but its fertile soil would be carried away if rain fell on it, then Allah sends water to it from another land, as in the case of Egypt, which is said to be a barren land. Allah sends the water of the Nile to it, which brings red soil from Ethiopia when it rains there. The water brings the red soil which is used to irrigate the land of Egypt, and whatever of it is deposited is used for agriculture, because the land of Egypt is infertile, and most of it is sand. if We wanted to make it go deep underground where you would not be able to reach it and you could not benefit from it, We could do so.' Refutation and Condemnation of the Idolators Allah denounces the idolators for not understanding the Qur’an or contemplating its meaning, and for turning away from it, even though they had been addressed specifically in this Book which Allah did not reveal to any Messenger more perfect and noble, and especially since no Book or wamer had come to their forefathers who had died during the Jahiliyyah. What these people, upon whom the blessing had been bestowed, should have done, was to accept it and give thanks for it, and try to understand it and act in accordance with it night and day, as was done by the wise ones among them who became Muslim and followed the Messenger jfe, may Allah be pleased with them. iHave they not pondered over the Word,} Qatadah said, “Because, by Allah, if the people had pondered the meaning and understood it properly, they would have found in the Qur’an a deterrent to disobeying Allah. scholars of Rm-ul-KalamJ ' who discussed it using the evidence of mutual resistance or counteraction. This idea states that if there were two or more creators, one would want to make a body move while the other would want to keep it immobile, and if neither of them could achieve what they wanted, then both would be incapable, but the One Whose existence is essential [i.e., Allah] cannot be incapable. It is impossible for the will of both to be fulfilled because of the conflict. This dilemma only arises when a plurality of gods is suggested, so it is impossible for there to be such a plurality, because if the will of one is fulfilled and I 1 * A term used to denote the discipline of the Muslim scholars who utilized philosophy in their teachings

Important Guidelines About the Authenticity of the Reports and Quotations in the Tafsir of Ibn Kathir Reports from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ^ Reports that are attributed to the companions of Allah's Messenger 3g are commonly used for additional explanation of the meanings of the Qur'an. As for those quotes that Ibn Kathir mentions in passing, these quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as an evidence against what is known to be authentic. Additional information in this regard is found in the Introduction of Ibn Kathir. Incomplete Chains of Narration The following is a list of common incomplete chains of narrations that Al-Hafiz Ibn Kathir often quotes. - 'Ali bin Abi Talhah (Al-Walibi) reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - ('Atiyah) Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - Ad-Dahhak from Ibn 'Abbas. - As-Suddi reported from Abu Malik and Abu Salih from Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas'ud and [or] some men among the companions. - Al-Hasan Al-Basri reporting from or about the Prophet ﷺ. - Qatadah reporting from or about the Prophet ﷺ All narrations coming from these chains are unauthentic according to the Sciences of Hadith. Their meanings, however, may be correct as understood by authentic texts, and for this reason they are commonly referenced. Reports from the Followers of the Companions and those who Follow them The following is a list of those who did not see the Prophet ﷺ

2S. but they report from companions of the Prophet while often they themselves are quoted for Tafsir. Reports that are attributed to them are used as additional support in understanding certain issues by Ibn Kathir. Such quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as evidence against the authentic evidence. Abu Al-'Aliyah, Said bin Jubayr, Said bin Al-Musayib, 'Ata' (bin Abi Rabah), 'Ata' Al-Khurrasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Ar-Rabi' bin Anas, Ash-Shahbi, Qatadah, Mujahid, Ikrimah, Ad-Dahhak, 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam (Ibn Zayd), Ibn Jurayj. Other Scholars After the Companions The following are some scholars that Ibn Kathir often quotes from. Since these scholars are not well known to the average English reader, one should beware that their own statements about the Prophet ﷺ, his companions, or circumstances surrounding the Qur'an's revelation, are not to be considered as important as authentically narrated texts. The Explanation of the Prescribed Punishment for Zina (Illicit Sex) Then Allah says: iiji~ Jij C& (>4^5 <±f}\) iThe Zdniyah and the Zdni, flog each of them with a hundred stripes.} This honorable Ayah contains the ruling on the law of retaliation for the person who commits illegal sex, and details of the punishment. Such a person will either be unmarried, meaning that he has never been married, or he will be married, meaning that he has had intercourse within the bounds of a lawful marriage, and he is free, adult and of sound mind. As for the virgin who is unwedded, the prescribed  At-Tabari 19 :89, Ad-Durr Al-Manthur 6 :124 Fath Al-Bari 8 :301 punishment is one hundred stripes, as stated in this Ayah. In addition to this he is to be banished from his homeland for one year, as was recorded in the Two Sahih from Abu Hurayrah and Zayd bin Khalid Al-Juhani in the Hadith about the two bedouins who came to the Messenger of Allah jg. One of them said, “O Messenger of Allah, this son of mine was employed by this man, and committed Zina with his wife. I paid a ransom with him on behalf of my son one hundred sheep and a slave-girl, but when I asked the people of knowledge, they said that my son should be given one hundred stripes and banished for a year, and that this man’s wife should be stoned to death.” The Messenger of Allah jg said: iwJlIp j siJjJl 4)1 L£L> ! o-Uj a |y\ ^J\ - jiXit ja ^ jU jU t JJa «Bi/ the One in Whose Hand is my soul, I will judge between you both according to the Book of Allah. Take back the slave- girl and sheep, and your son is to be given one hundred stripes and banished for one year. O Unays - he said to a man from the tribe of Aslam - go to this man's wife, and if she confesses, then stone her to death. Unays went to her and she confessed, so he stoned her to death.* 11 This indicates that if the person who is guilty of illegal sex is a virgin and unmarried, he should be banished in addition to being given one hundred stripes. But if married, meaning he has had intercourse within the bounds of lawful marriage, and he is free, adult and of sound mind, then he should be stoned to death. Imam Malik recorded that 'Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, stood up and praised and glorified Allah, then he said; "O people! Allah sent Muhammad with the truth, and revealed to him the Book. One of the things that was revealed to him was the Ayah of stoning to death, which we have recited and 111 Fath Al-Bari 5 :355 , Muslim 3 :1324

20 Tafsir Ibn Kathir understood. The Messenger of Allah ^ carried out the punishment of stoning and after him we did so, but I am afraid that as time goes by, some will say that they did not find the Ayah of stoning in the Book of Allah, and they will go astray because they abandoned one of the obligations revealed by Allah. Stoning is something that is prescribed in the Book of Allah for the person - man or woman - who commits illegal sex, if he or she is married, if decisive evidence is produced, or if pregnancy results from that, or if they confess to it."111 It was also recorded in the Two Sahls in the lengthy Hadith of Malik, from which we have quoted briefly only the portion that is relevant to the current discussion.*2 Do not feel pity for Them when carrying out the Prescribed Punishment 4? m j w •&> 4Let not pity withhold you in their case, in a punishment prescribed by Allah,} Meaning, with a ruling prescribed by Allah. So the meaning of the Ayah is: "Do not feel too sorry for them where the laws of Allah are established." This does not mean that we should not naturally feel pity when carrying out the punishment. What is prohibited here is the kind of pity that may make the judge ignore the punishment altogether. This is what is not permitted for the judge. Mujahid said, 4^ Hi j ii'jw ij} iLet not pity withhold you in their case, in a punishment prescribed by Allah,} "If the matter is taken to the ruling authority, the punishment has to be carried out and cannot be stopped." This was also narrated from Said bin Jubayr and 'Ata' bin Abi Rabah.'3 * It was recorded in a Hadith: 111 Mu'atta'2 :823 ' Path Al-B&ri 13:148, Muslim 3:1317. 131 Al-Baghawi 3:321.

«Compromise with the matter of prescribed punishment mutually sorting it out among yourselves, for once a matter where the prescribed punishment is required reaches me, I am obliged to carry it out.*111 Allah's saying: if you believe in Allah and the Last Day.} means, then do that, carry out the punishments on those who commit illegal sex, and strike them hard without causing any wound, so that he and others like him will be deterred by the terror of that. In Al-Musnad, it was recorded that one of the Companions said, "O Messenger of Allah, when I slaughter a sheep I feel pity for it." He said, •El iuiJ ilJj' »Yom be rewarded for that.^ Carry out the Prescribed Punishment in Public iAnd let a party of the believers witness their punishment.} This is more humiliating for the people who are guilty of illegal sex, if they are flogged in front of the people. This is because it is more effective as a deterrent and it conveys the sense of scandal and rebuke. Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, iAnd let a party of the believers witness their punishment.} "Publicly." £ S& ^ } oi *1 v 3^5 j i# -V) gc v Jf} i3 . The Zani marries not but a Zaniyah or a Mushrikah ; and the Zaniyah, none marries her except a Zani or a Mushrik. Abu D&wud 4 :540. Ahmad 5 :34. The wording varies slightly.

Such a thing is forbidden to the believers. Here Allah tells us that the Zani (male who is guilty of illegal sex) does not have intercourse except with a Zaniyah (female who is guilty of illegal sex) or a Mushrikah (female idolator), meaning that no one would go along with him in this action except a sinful woman who is also guilty of Zina, or a Mushrikah who does not think it is unlawful. By the same token, *1 V i and the Zaniyah, none marries her except a Zani > a sinful man who is guilty of fornication, ior a Mushrik} (a man) who does not think it is unlawful. Je Jij'i ff-j} {Such a thing is forbidden to the believers.} meaning, indulging in this, or marrying prostitutes, or marrying chaste women to immoral men. Qatadah and Muqatil bin Hayyan said: "Allah forbade the believers from marrying prostitutes."11

* This Ayah is like the Ayah (about marrying slave-girls): {they should be chaste, not committing illegal sex, nor taking boyfriends.} [4:25] And His saying: Vj ji. {desiring chastity not committing illegal sexual intercourse, nor taking them as girlfriends [5:5]. Imam Ahmad recorded that 'Abdullah bin 'Amr, may Allah be pleased with him, said that a man among the believers asked the Messenger of Allah sg for permission (to marry) a woman knowm as Umm Mahzul, who used to commit adultery, and who had stated the condition that she should spend on him. Ad-DurrAl-Manthur6 : 127

So he asked the Messenger of Allah jgg for permission, or he mentioned the matter to him. The Messenger of Allah recited to him: £M v XM 35 'C& vj& v 477te Zani marries not but a Zdniyah or a Mushrikah; and the Zaniyah, none marries her except Zani or a Mushrik. If the person who is falsely accused is a mam, the same punishment of flogging also applies. If the accuser produces evidence that what he is saying is true, then the punishment does not apply. and reject their testimony forever. They indeed are the rebellions. If the accuser cannot prove that what he is saying is true, then three rulings apply to him: (firstly) that he should be flogged with eighty stripes, (secondly) that his testimony should be rejected forever, and (thirdly) that he should be labelled as a rebellious who is not of good character, whether in the sight of Allah or of mankind. Explaining the Repentance of the One Who makes a False Accusation Then Allah says: 1 JJ- Jli'i Jou [jt jj&\ "jl^ iExcept those who repent thereafter and do righteous deeds; (for such) verily, Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. This exception refers to the second and third rulings mentioned above. The flogging has been carried out regardless of whether he repents or persists, and after that there is no further punishment, as is agreed among the scholars. If he repents, then his testimony may be accepted, and he is no longer to be regarded as a rebellious. This was the view of Said bin Al-Musayyib - the leader of the Tabi'in^ - and also a group among the Salaf.,2) Ash-Shalsi and Ad-Dahhak said, "His testimony cannot be accepted even if he does repent, unless he himself admits that he said something false, in which case his testimony may be accepted. If a husband has accused his wife but cannot come up with proof, he can swear the Li'an (the oath of condemnation) as Allah commanded. This means that he brings her before the Imam and states what he is accusing her of. The ruler then asks him to swear four times by Allah in front of four witnesses 4that he is one of those who speak the truth} in his accusation of her adultery. &£3 3LAy} 4And the fifth ; the invoking of the curse of Allah on him if he be of those wlv tell a lie.} If he says that, then she is divorced from him by the very act of this Li'an; she is forever forbidden for him and he must give her Mahr to her. The punishment for Zina should be carried out on her, and nothing can prevent the punishment except if she also swears the oath of condemnation [Li'an) and swears by Allah four times that he is one of those who lied, i.e., in what he is accusing her of; 4And the fifth; should be that the crath of Allah be upon her if he speaks the truth.}

So in her case the fifth testimony calls for the wrath of Allah to be upon her, for the one upon whom is the wrath of Allah, is the one who knows the truth yet deviates from it. Then Allah mentions His grace and kindness to His creation in that He has prescribed for them a way out of their difficulties. The Reason why the Ayah of LVan was revealed Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said: "When the Ayah jt-A Vj iuif- AjwjLi~l ^ Ani 1/iose who accuse chaste women, and produce not four witnesses, flog them with eighty stripes, and reject their testimony forever [24:4] was revealed, Sa'd bin Tjbadah, may Allah be pleased with him, - the leader of the Ansar - said, Is this how it was revealed, O Messenger of Allah?' The Messenger of Allah ^ said: Jji: U ojLi-J vl >*JU u» "O Ansar, did you hear what your leader said?» They said, 'O Messenger of Allah, do not blame him, for he is a jealous man.

By Allah, he never married a woman who was not a virgin, and he never divorced a woman but none of us would dare to marry her because he is so jealous.' Sa'd said, *By Allah, O Messenger of Allah, I know that it (the Ayah) is true and is from Allah, but I am surprised. If I found some wicked man lying down with my wife, should I not disturb him until I have brought four witnesses? By Allah, he would have finished what he was doing before I could bring them!' A little while later, Hilal bin Umayyah - one of the three whose repentance had been accepted¹¹¹ - came back from his lands at night and found a man with his wife. He saw with his own eyes and heard with his own ears, but he did not disturb him until the morning. In the morning he went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said, 'O Messenger of Allah, I came to my wife at night and found a man with her, and I saw with my own eyes and heard with my own ears.' The Messenger of Allah did not like what he had said and got very upset. The Ansar gathered around him and said, *We were being tested by what Sa'd bin Ubadah said, and now the Messenger of Allah will punish Hilal bin Umayyah and declare his testimony before people to be unacceptable.' Hilal said: 'By Allah, I hope that U! See volume four, the Tafsir of Surat At-Tawbah (9:118).

29 Surah 24. An-Nur (6 - 10) (Part-18 to be flogged for it.' So he testified for the fifth time that the curse of Allah would be upon him if he was telling a lie. Then it was said to his wife, 'Testify four times by Allah that he is telling a lie.' And when his wife reached the fifth testimony, she was told, 'Have Taqwa of Allah, for the punishment of this world is easier than the punishment of the Hereafter, and this will mean that the punishment will be inevitable for you.' She hesitated for a while, and was about to admit her guilt, then she said: 'By Allah, I will not expose my people to shame, and she swore the fifth oath that the wrath of Allah would be upon her if she was telling the truth.' Then the Messenger of Allah separated them, and decreed that her child should not be attributed to any father, nor should the child be accused, and whoever accused her or her child, they would be subject to punishment. He also decreed that [Hilal] was not obliged to house her or feed her, because they had not been separated by divorce, nor had he died and left her a widow. He said, «//she gives birth to a red-haired child (with skinny thighs) and thin legs, then he is Hilal's child, but if she gives birth to a curly-haired child with thick legs and plump buttocks, then this is what she is accused of.» She subsequently gave birth to a child who was curly-haired with thick legs and plump buttocks, and the Messenger of Allah said, «5tiwj jis3 iujS/i oWere it not for the oath that she swore, I would deal with her.» 'Ikrimah said, "The child grew up to become the governor of Egypt, and he was given his mother's name and was not attributed to any father." Abu Dawud recorded a similar but briefer report. This Hadith has corroborating reports in the books of Sahih ^{} Abu Dawud 2 :688

I got up and went to the house of Ibn Tjmar, and said, "O Abu 'Abdur-Rahman, should the couple who engaged in Li'an be separated?" He said, "Subhan Allah, the first one to ask about this was so-and-so the son of so-

If he speaks he will be speaking about something very serious, and if he keeps quiet he will be keeping quiet about something very serious.’ [The Prophet 55] kept quiet and did not answer him. Later on, he came to him and said, “What I asked you about is something with which I myself being tested with.’ Then Allah revealed the Ayat, Oyj. Then he turned to the woman, who swore four times by Allah that he was lying, and swore the fifth oath that the wrath of Allah would be upon her if he was telling the truth. Then he separated them.”111 It was also recorded by An-Nasal in his Tafslr, and by Al-Bukhari and Muslim in the Two SahlhsP I 1 * Ahmad 2:19. Al-Ifk (the Slander) The next ten Ayat were all revealed concerning ‘A’ishah, the mother of the believers, may Allah be pleased with her, when the people of slander and falsehood among the hypocrites made their accusations against her and spread lies about her. Allah became jealous on her behalf and on behalf of His Prophet sg, and revealed her innocence to protect the honor of the Messenger of Allah jg. He said: j'.C- iVerily, those who brought forth the slander are a group among you.) meaning they were not one or two, but a group. Foremost among this group was ‘Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salul, the leader of the hypocrites, who fabricated the lie and whispered it to others, until some of the Muslims started to believe it, and others thought it might be possible and began to talk about it. This is how matters remained for almost a month, until Qur’an was revealed. This is reported in Sahih Hadlths. Imam Ahmad recorded that Az-Zuhri said: Said bin Al- Musayyib, Urwah bin Az-Zubayr, ‘Alqamah bin Waqqas and Ubaydullah bin ‘Abdullah bin TJtbah bin MasUd told me about the story of ‘A’ishah, the wife of the Prophet when the people of the slander said what they said about her, and Allah declared her innocence. Each of them told something about the story, and some of them knew more details than others or had memorized more than others. I learned the stoiy from each of them, who had heard it from ‘A’ishah herself, and what one told me confirmed what the others said. They mentioned that ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, the wife of the Prophet jg, said: “When the Messenger of Allah gg wanted to go on a journey, he would cast lots among his wives, and the one whose lot was drawn would go with him.” ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said, “So he drew lots among us with regard to a campaign he was going out on, and mine was drawn, so I went out with the Messenger of Allah j§. This was after the commandment of Hijab had been revealed, so I traveled in my howdah and stayed in it when we camped. We traveled until the Messenger of Allah jg completed his campaign, then we returned. As we were approaching Al- Madinah, we paused for a while, then they announced that the journey was to be resumed. When I heard this, I walked quickly away from the army to answer the call of nature, then I came back to my howdah. Then I put my hand to my chest and noticed that a necklace of mine that was made of onyx and cornelian had broken, so I went back and looked for it, and was delayed because of that. In the meantime, the people who used to lift my howdah onto my camel came along and put it on the camel, thinking that I was inside. In those times women were more slender and not so heavy, they only ate mouthfuls of food. So the people did not think anything of the howdah being so light when they lifted it up, as I was a young woman. They set off, and I found my necklace after the army had moved on. Then I came back to the place where we had stopped, and I saw no one to call or answer. So I went to the place where I had been, thinking that the people would miss me and come back for me. While I was sitting there, I fell asleep. Safwan bin Al-Mu'attal As-Sulami Adh-Dhakwani had rested during the night behind the army. Then he set out just before daybreak and reached the place where I was in the morning, where he saw the outline of a person sleeping. He came to me and recognized me when he saw me, as he had seen me before Hijab was made obligatory for me. When he saw me and said 'Truly, to Allah we belong, and truly, to Him we shall return,' I woke up, and covered my face with my Jilbab (outer garment). By Allah, he did not speak a word to me and I did not hear him say anything except 'Truly, to Allah we belong, and truly, to Him we shall return,' until he brought his camel and made it kneel so that I could ride upon it, then he set out leading the camel until we caught up with the army at Zuhr time.

There are people who are doomed because of what happened to me, and the one who had the greater share therein was 'Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salui. When we came back to Al-Madinah, I was ill for a month, and the people were talking about what the people of the slander were saying, and I knew nothing about it. What upset me when I was ill was that I did not see the kindness I used to see on the part of the Messenger of Allah When I was ill; he would just come in and say, 'How is that lady?' That is what upset me. I did not feel that there was anything wrong until I went out after I felt better, and Umm Mistah went out with me, walking towards Al-Manasi', which is where we used to go to relieve ourselves, and we would not go out for that purpose except at night. This was before we had lavatories close to our houses; our habit was similar to that of the early Arabs in that we went out into the deserts to relieve ourselves, because we considered it troublesome and harmful to have lavatories in our houses. So I went out with Umm Mistah, who was the daughter of Abu Ruhm bin Al-Muttalib bin 'Abd Manaf, and her mother was the daughter of Sakhr bin 'Amir, the paternal aunt of Abu Bakr As-Siddiq. Her son was Mistah bin Uthathah bin 'Abbad bin Al-Muttalib. When we finished what we had to do, the daughter of Abu Ruhm Umm Mistah and I came back towards my house. Umm Mistah stumbled over her apron and said, "May Mistah be ruined!" I said to her, 'What a bad thing you have said! Are you abusing a man who was present at Badr?' She said, 'Good grief, have you not heard what he said?' I said, 'What did he say?' So she told me what the people of the slander were saying, which made me even more ill. When I returned home, the Messenger of Allah came in to me and greeted me, then he said, 'How is that lady?' I said to him, 'Will you give me permission to go to my parents?' At that time I wanted to confirm the news by hearing

"Be glad O 'A'ishah, Allah has declared your innocence. » My mother said to me, 'Get up and go to him.' I said, 'By Allah, I will not go to him and I will not give praise to anyone except Allah, may He be glorified, for He is the One Who has proven my innocence.' So Allah revealed: 'Verily, those who brought forth the slander are a group among you.}, until the ten Ayat. Allah revealed these Ayat concerning my innocence. Abu Bakr, may Allah be pleased with him, who used to spend on Mistah bin Uthathah because he was a close relative and because he was poor, said, “By Allah, I will never spend anything on him again after what he has said about ‘A’ishah.’ Then Allah revealed, ‘fit V$ jit iAnd let not those among you who are blessed with graces and wealth swear not to give to their kinsmen .} until His saying: %% ft j 3U $Do you not love that Allah should forgive you? So Abu Bakr said, ‘By Allah, certainly I love that Allah should forgive me.’ So he resumed spending on Mistah as he had spent on him before, and he said, “By Allah, I shall never stop spending on him.’ The Messenger of Allah jfe asked Zaynab bint Jahsh about my situation, and said, jioJp lit* . w "O Zaynab, what do you know and xwhat have you seen?» She said, ‘O Messenger of Allah, may Allah protect my hearing and my sight. But her sister Hamnah bint Jahsh kept on fighting on her behalf, so she was doomed along with those who were doomed.” Ibn Shihab said, “This is as much as we know about this group of people.”¹¹ It was also by Al-Bukhari and Muslim in their Sahihs from the Hadith of Az-Zuhri,¹²¹ and by Ibn Ishaq also from Az-Zuhri. ¹³¹ He also said: “Yahya bin ‘Abbad bin ‘Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr told me from his father, from ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, and ‘Abdullah bin Abi Bakr bin Muhammad bin ‘Amr bin Hazm Al- Ansari told me from ‘Amrah, from ‘A’ishah, (a report) similar to that quoted above. Or it was said that this was revealed about Abu Ayyub Khalid bin Zayd Al-Ansari and his wife, may Allah be pleased with them. Imam Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar narrated, "The wife of Abu Ayyub Khalid bin Zayd Al-Ansari, Umm AyyQb, said to him, 'O Abu AyyQb, have you heard what the people are saying about 'A'ishah?' If there had been anything suspicious about the matter, they would not have come openly in this manner in front of so many witnesses; they would have come secretly. On this basis, what the people of the slander said accusing the Mother of the believers was an utter lie, false speech and evil foolish talk, by which people who indulged in it lost out. towards His creation, despite the fact that they wrong themselves. This Ayah was revealed concerning As-Siddiq, may Allah be pleased with him, when he swore that he would not help Mistah bin Uthathah after he said what he said about 'A'ishah, as we have already seen in the Hadith. When Allah revealed the innocence of the Mother of the believers, 'A'ishah, and the believers were happy and content with the outcome of this incident, and those believers who had talked about the matter repented, and the prescribed punishment had been carried out upon those on whom it was carried out, then Allah started to soften the heart of As-Siddiq towards his relative Mistah bin Uthathah. Mistah was the cousin of As-Siddiq, the son of his maternal aunt, and he was a poor man with no wealth except whatever Abu Bakr spent on him. He was one of those who had migrated for the sake of Allah. He had invented the lies and the slander, but then Allah accepted his repentance from that and the prescribed punishment was carried out on him. As-Siddiq was known for his generosity and he did favors to his relatives and strangers alike. When this Ayah was revealed: Slit 'jfa j 0^4 $Do you not love that Allah should forgive you?}, which shows that the reward fits the action, and that "if you forgive others, you will be forgiven," then As-Siddiq said, "Of course, by Allah, we love - O our Lord - that You should forgive us." Then he resumed his spending on Mistah and said, "By Allah I will never stop spending on him." This was to counteract what he had said previously, "By Allah I will never spend on him." This proves that he deserved to be called As-Siddiq, may Allah be pleased with him and his daughter. & bh% Q% 4 \f4 sit ^ rri* % (+0J V* (k i23. 58 Tafslr Ibn Kathir Seeking Permission and the Etiquette of entering Houses This is the Islamic etiquette. Allah taught these manners (of seeking permission) to His believing servants and commanded them not to enter houses other than their own until they had asked permission, i.e., to ask for permission before entering and to give the greeting of Salam after asking. One should seek permission three times, and if permission is given, (he may enter), otherwise he should go away. It was reported in the Sahih that when Abu Musa asked TJmar three times for permission to enter and he did not give him permission, he went away. Then 'Umar said, "Did I not hear the voice of 'Abdullah bin Qays asking for permission to enter? Let him come in." So they looked for him, but found that he had gone. When he came later on, 'Umar said, "Why did you go away?" He said, "I asked for permission to enter three times, but permission was not given to me, and I heard the Prophet jg say, jmai.l» <j j |fii jtil Ijñ "If any one of you asks for permission three times and it is not given, then let him go awayj" 'Umar said, "You should certainly bring me evidence for this or I shall beat you!" So he went to a group of the Ansar and told them what *Umar said. They said, "No one will give testimony for you but the youngest of us." So Abu Said Al-Khudri went with him and told TJmar about that. TJmar said, "What kept me from learning that was my being busy in the marketplace."1 ' 1 Imam Ahmad recorded a narration stating that Anas or someone else said that the Messenger of Allah jg asked for permission to enter upon Sa'd bin TJbadah. He said: ««il kj-'/j Side- ^As-Salamit 'Alayka wa RahmatuIIah» Sa'd ssiid, "Wa 'Alaykas-Salam Wa RahmatuUdh," but the Prophet sg did not hear the returned greeting until he had m At-Tabari 19:144.

given the greeting three times and Sa'd had returned the greeting three times, but he did not let him hear him [i.e., Sa'd responded in a low voice]. So the Prophet jg went back, and Sa'd followed him and said, "O Messenger of Allah, may my father and mother be ransomed for you! You did not give any greeting but I responded to you, but I did not let you hear me. I wanted to get more of your Salams and blessings." Then he admitted him to his house and offered him some raisins. The Prophet jg ate, and when he finished, he said, jUuu ±L*j May the righteous eat your food, may the angels send blessings upon you and may those who are fasting break their fast with you.d' It should also be known that the one who is seeking permission to enter should not stand directly in front of the door; he should have the door on his right or left, because of the Hadith recorded by Abu Dawud from 'Abdullah bin Busr, who said, "When the Messenger of Allah jg came to someone's door, he would never stand directly in front of it, but to the right or left, and he would say, fSLiH vAs-Salamu 'Alaykum, As-Salamu 'AlaykumJ That was because at that time the houses had no covers or curtains over their doorways." This report was recorded by Abu Dawud only.'21 In the Two Sahihs, it is recorded that the Messenger of Allah Sg said: jXle- jIS U olLb ciJLio jij JJu ^Il>l Wyt\ ji "ft «/" a person looks into your house without your

The Group recorded that Jabir said, "I came to the Prophet jg with something that was owed by my father and knocked at the door. He said, «?ii j;» uWho is that?» I said, "I am!" He said, •til ui» «/? I?o as ifhe disliked it."111 He did not like it because this word tells you nothing about who is saying it, unless he clearly states his name or the name by which he is known, (nickname) otherwise everyone could call himself "Me", and it does not fulfill the purpose of asking permission to enter, which is to put people at their ease, as commanded in the Ayah. Al-'Awfi narrated from Ibn 'Abbas, "Putting people at ease means seeking permission to enter." This was also the view of others.121 Imam Ahmad recorded from Kaladah bin Al-Hanbal that at the time of the Conquest (of Makkah), Safwan bin Umayyah sent him with milk, a small gazelle, and small cucumbers when the Prophet jg was at the top of the valley. He said, "I entered upon the Prophet sg and I did not give the greeting of Salam nor ask for permission to enter. The Prophet sg said, (*Ul : jii «Go back and say: "As-Saldu 'Alaykum, may I enter?"» This was after Safwan had become Muslim."13, This was also recorded by Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasal. At-Tirmidhi said, "Hasan Gharib."141 Ibn Jurayj said that he heard 'Ata' bin Abi Rabah narrating that Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, said, "There are three Ayat whose rulings people neglect. Allah says, 111 FathAl-B&ri 11:37, Muslim 3 :1296, Abu Dawud 5:374, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi7 :49 1 , An-NasAl in Al-Kubni 6 :90 , Ibn Majah 2 : 1222 At-Tabari 19:146. 131 Ahmad 3:414. 141 Abu Dawud 5 :368 , Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 7 :490 , An-Nasal in Al- Kubra 6 :87

I asked him to make allowances for me but he refused and said, "Do you want to see them naked?" I said, "No." He said, "Then ask for permission to enter." I asked him again and he said, "Do you want to obey Allah?" I said, "Yes." He said, "Then ask for permission." Ibn Jurayj said, "Ibn Tawus told me that his father said, There are no women whom I hate to see naked more than those who are my Mahrams.' He was very strict on this point." Ibn Jurayj narrated that Az-Zuhri said, "I heard Huzayl bin Shurahbll Al-Awdi Al-A'ma (say that) he heard Ibn Mas*ud say, You have to seek permission to enter upon your mothers.'" Ibn Jurayj said, "I said to 'Ata': Does a man have to seek permission to enter upon his wife?' He said, 'No, it can be understood that this is not obligatory, but it is better for him to let her know that he is coming in so as not to startle her, because she may be in a state where she does not want him to see her.'" Abu JaTar bin Jarir narrated from the nephew of Zaynab - the wife of 'Abdullah bin Mas*Qd - that Zaynab, may Allah be pleased with her, said, "When 'Abdullah came back from some errand and reached the door, he would clear his throat and spit, because he did not want to come suddenly and find us in a state he disliked. Allah’s saying: iffff 1A/3 iAndforce not your slave-girls to prostitution Among the people of the Jahiliyyah, there were some who, if he had a slave-girl, he would send her out to commit Zina and would charge money for that, which he would take from her every time. When Islam came, Allah forbade the believers to do that. The reason why this Ayah was revealed, according to the reports of a number of earlier and later scholars of Tafsir, had to do with ‘Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salul. He had slave-girls whom he used to force into prostitution so that he could take their earnings and because he wanted them to have children which would enhance his status, or so he claimed. Reports narrated on this Topic In his Musnad, Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Ahmad bin ‘Amr bin ‘Abd Al-Khaliq Al-Bazzar, may Allah have mercy on him, recorded that Az-Zuhri said, “Abdullah bin Ubayy bin SalQl had a slave- girl whose name was Mu'adhah, whom he forced into prostitution. Similarly He sets forth two parables of the hypocrites at the beginning of Surat Al-Baqarah: one involving fire and the other involving water. 1 11 Similarly, in Surat Ar- Ra'd He gives two parables of the guidance and knowledge that are instilled in the heart, again involving fire and water;121 we have discussed each of them in the appropriate place and there is no need to repeat it here, praise be to Allah. others to their disbelief, thinking that they have good actions and beliefs, when this is not in fact the case. Their likeness is that of a mirage which is seen in a desert plain, looking from a distance as if it is a deep sea. The word QVah refers to a vast, flat, level area of land in which the mirage may appear. There are different kinds of mirage, one which appears after midday, and another which appears in the morning and looks like water between heaven and earth. If a person who is in need of water sees the mirage, he thinks that it is water so he heads towards it in order to drink from it, but when he reaches it, i\kl '.J4)} ihe finds it to be nothing.}; Similarly the disbeliever thinks that he is doing something good and that he has achieved some- thing, but when Allah judges him on the Day of Resurrection, and brings him to account and examines his deeds, he will find that nothing has been accepted at all, either because of a lack of sincere belief or because he did not follow the proper ways of the Shari'ah. They will say, "We used to worship TJzayr the son of Allah." It will be said to them, "You have lied. Allah has not begotten a son. What do you want?" They will say, "O Lord, we are thirsty, give us something to drink." It will be said to them, "Do you not see?" Then Hell will be shown to them as if PI At-Tabari 19:196.

and He sends down from [Min] the sky, from [Min] mountains in it of [Min] ice,} Some of the grammarians said that the first Min describes the place from which it is coming, the second specifies from which part of the sky it comes, and the third means some kind of mountains. This is based on the view of those scholars of Tafsir who say that, if* U& yfr ifrom [Min] mountains in it of [Min] ice means that there are mountains of hail in the sky from which Allah sends down ice. As for those who say that “mountains” here is used as a metaphor for clouds, they think that the second Min is also used to describe the place from which the ice is coming, and is thus interchangeable with the first. And Allah knows best. and strikes therewith whom He wills, and averts it from whom He wills.} It may be that the phrase i’ii and strikes therewith} means, with what He sends down from the sky of different kinds of rain and hail. Allah states that in this Qur'an He has revealed many clear and unambiguous rulings, words of wisdom and parables, and that He guides people of understanding, insight and intellect to ponder and understand them. He says: And Allah guides whom He wills to the Straight Path. They say: "We have believed in Allah and in the Messenger, and we obey," then a party of them turn away thereafter, such are not believers. Or do they doubt or fear lest Allah and His Messenger should wrong them in judgement. Nay, it is they themselves who are the wrongdoers. The only saying of the faithful believers, when they are called to Allah and His Messenger, to judge between them, is that they say: "We hear and we obey." And such are the successful. And whosoever obeys Allah and His Messenger, fears Allah, and has Taqwa of Him, such are the successful. The Treachery of the Hypocrites and the Attitude of the Believers Allah tells us about the characteristics of the hypocrites who show one thing while hiding another, and who say with their tongues, "We have believed in Allah and in the Messenger, and we obey," then a party of them turn away thereafter, meaning, their actions contradict their deeds, and they say that which they do not do. Allah says: such are not believers. And when they are called to Allah and His Messenger, to judge between them... means, when they are asked to follow the guidance which Allah has revealed to His Messenger, they turn away and are too arrogantly proud of themselves to follow him. This is like the Ayah

But if the ruling will go against him, he turns away and demands something that goes against the truth, and he prefers to refer for judgement to someone other than the Prophet, so that his false claims may prevail. His acceptance in the beginning was not because he believed that it was the truth, but because it happened to be in accordance with his desires. So when the truth went against what he was hoping for, he turned away from it. Allah said: Strive against them, they will turn away from you with aversion... meaning, their situation cannot be anything else, they must necessarily have a disease in their hearts, or else they have some doubts about the religion, or they are afraid that Allah and His Messenger will be unjust in their ruling against them. Concerning the Ayah: hl: \ j& 4they say : “We hear and we obey” Qatadah said: “We were told that when Tjbadah bin As- Samit, who had been present at Al-‘Aqabah and at Badr, and was one of the leaders of the Ansar, was dying, he said to his nephew Junadah bin Abi Umayyah: ‘Shall I not tell you what you must do and what is your due?’ He said, ‘Yes.’ He said: You have to listen and obey when times are easy and when they are hard, when you feel energetic and when you do not want to, and when you feel selfish. You have to train your tongue to speak the truth. Do not go against those who are in authority, unless they openly command you to commit acts of disobedience to Allah. This is what Allah did indeed do, may He be glorified and exalted, and to Him be praise and blessings. For He did not cause His Messenger jfe to die until

114 Tafstr IbtI Kathir He had given him victoiy over Makkah, Khaybar, Bahrayn, all of the Arabian Peninsula and Yemen; and he took Jizyah from the Zoroastrians of Hajar and from some of the border lands of Syria; and he exchanged gifts with Heraclius the ruler of Byzantium, the ruler of Egypt and Alexandria, the Muqawqis, the kings of Oman and An-Najashi of Abyssinia, who had become king after Ashamah, may Allah have mercy on him and grant him honor. Then when the Messenger died, his successor (Khalifah) Abu Bakr As-Siddlq took over the reins of power and united the Ummah, preventing its disintegration. He took control of the entire Arabian Peninsula, and he sent the Islamic armies to the land of Persia, under the leadership of Khalid bin Al- Walid, may Allah be pleased with him, who conquered a part of it and killed some of its people. He sent another army under the leadership of Abu TJbaydah, may Allah be pleased with him, and the other commanders who came after him in the lands of Syria. He sent a third army under the leadership of ‘Amr bin Al-‘As, may Allah be pleased with him, to Egypt. Allah enabled the army sent to Syria to conquer Busra and Damascus and their provinces the land of Hawran and its environs. Then Allah chose for Abu Bakr to honor him with Him and he died. The people of Islam were blessed that A?-Siddiq was inspired to appoint ‘Umar Al-FarQq as his successor, so he took the reins of power after him and did a perfect job. After the Prophets, the world never saw anyone like ‘Umar in excellence of conduct and perfect justice. During his time, the rest of Syria and Egypt, and most of Persia, was conquered. Kisra was defeated and utterly humiliated, and he retreated to the furthest point of his kingdom. Mighty Caesar was brought low, his rule over Syria was overthrown, and he retreated to Constantinople. Their wealth was spent for the sake of Allah, as the Messenger of Allah had foretold and promised. May Allah’s perfect peace and purest blessing be upon him. During the rule of ‘Uthman, the Islamic domains spread to the furthest points of the earth, east and west. The lands of the west were conquered as far as Cyprus and Andalusia, Kairouan’ 1 ’ I 1 * During the author’s time, this city was the capital of Tunisia.

and Sebta which adjoins the Atlantic Ocean. Towards the east, the conquests extended as far as China. Kisra was killed, his kingdom was utterly destroyed and the cities of Iraq, Khurasan and Al-Ahwaz were conquered. The Muslims killed a great number of Turks and Allah humiliated their great king Khaqan. Taxes were collected from the east and the west, and brought to the Commander of the faithful “Uthman bin ‘Affan, may Allah be pleased with him. This was a blessing brought by his recitation and study of the Qur’an, and his bringing the Ummah together to preserve and protect it. In the Sahih it was recorded that the Messenger of Allah jg said: J isjj ^ oJy ^ ,jjj 2j | «Allah showed me the earth and I looked at the east and the west. The dominion of my Ummah will reach everywhere I was shown. » (I1 And now we are enjoying that which Allah and His Messenger jg promised us, for Allah and His Messenger jg spoke the truth. We ask Allah to give us faith in Him and His Messenger, and to help us to give thanks to Him in a manner that will earn us His pleasure. 4Allah has promised those among you who believe and do righteous good deeds, that He will certainly grant them succession in the land, as He granted it to those before them, and that He will grant them the authority to practise their religion which He has chosen for them. And He will surely, give them in exchange a safe security after their fear. Ar-Rabl’ bin Anas narrated that Abu Al-‘Aliyah said, “The Prophet jg and his Companions were in Makkah for nearly ten years, calling people in secret to worship Allah Alone with no partner or associate. He caused His Prophet to prevail over the Arabian Peninsula, and then they felt safe and put down their weapons. Then Allah took His Prophet jg and they remained safe throughout the time of Abu Bakr, ‘Umar and ‘Uthman, until what happened happened, and fear again prevailed over them, so they instituted a police force and guards. They changed, so their situation changed. One of the Salaf said, “The Khilafah of Abu Bakr and Umar was true and adhered to the Book of Allah. Then he recited this Ayah.” Al-Bara bin ‘Azib said, “This Ayah was revealed when we were in a state of extreme fear.”¹²¹ This Ayah is like the Ayah: r> ' .>< . v Jr* H } iAttd remember when you were few and were reckoned weak in the land} Until His

Their victories were in accordance with their level of commitment. They caused the Word of Allah to prevail in the east and the west, and Allah supported them so much that they governed all the people and all the lands. When the people subsequently fell short in their commitment to some of the commandments, their strength and victory fell short accordingly, but it is confirmed through more than one route in the Two Sahihs that the Messenger of Allah^ said: Wfje iThere will remain a group of my Ummah adhering to the truth, and those whoforsake them or oppose them will not harm them until the Day ofResurrection . b|3) According to another report: jU} jit J>-» until the command of Allah comes to pass and they are like that ,»'4 ' According to another report: «... until they fight the DajjSiM51 111 Ahmad 5:242. And Allah is All-Hearer, All-Knoier.} The Times when Servants and Young Children should seek Permission to enter These Ayat include a discussion of how people who are closely related should seek permission to enter upon one another. What was mentioned earlier in the Surah had to do with how unrelated people should seek permission to enter upon one another. Allah commanded the believers to ensure that their servants and their children who have not yet reached puberty should seek permission at three times: the first is before the Fajr prayer, because people are asleep in their beds at that time. 4and while you put off your clothes during the afternoon,} means, at the time of rest, because a man may be in a state of undress with his wife at that time. 4and after the 'lshd ' prayer.} because this is the time for sleep. Servants and children are commanded not to enter upon household members at these times, because it is feared that a man may be in an intimate situation with his wife and so on. Allah says:

i(These) three (times) are of privacy for you ; other than these times there is no sin on you or on them If they enter at a time other than these, there is no sin on you if you let them enter, and no sin on them if they see something at a time other than these times. They have been given permission to enter suddenly, because they are those who go around in the house, i.e., to serve you etc., and as such they may be forgiven for things that others will not be forgiven. Although this Ayah is quite clear and has not been abrogated, people hardly follow it, and 'Abdullah bin 'Abbas denounced the people for that. Abu Dawud recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said: “Most of the people do not follow it, the Ayah that speaks about asking permission, but I tell my servant woman to seek permission to enter.” Abu Dawud said: ‘Ata’ also narrated that Ibn ‘Abbas commanded this. Ath-Thawri narrated that Musa bin Abi ‘A’ishah said, “I asked Ash-Shahi [about the Ayah]: H3£*ZZ ‘4 iLet your slaves and slave-girls ask your permission. He said, ‘It has not been abrogated.’ I said: ‘But the people do not do that.’ He said, ‘May Allah help them.’” [21 Then Allah says: it jZZ ‘jsZ (>£,) iAnd when the children among you come to puberty, then let them (also) ask for permission, as those senior to them (in age)} meaning: when the children who used to seek permission at the three times of privacy reach puberty, then they have to seek permission at all times, i.e., with regard to those who are non-relatives, and at times when a man may be in a state of intimacy with his wife, even if it is not one of the three times stated above. So they were afraid to eat with them lest they were unfair to them in some way. Then Allah revealed this Ayah, granting them a dispensation in this matter. Allah made the matter easier for them and said: {No sin on you whether you eat together or apart.} Qatadah said, "This was a clan of Banu Kinanah who during the Jahiliyyah thought that it was a source of shame for one of them to eat alone, to such an extent that a man might keep on driving his laden camel even though he was hungry, until he could find someone to eat and drink with him. Then Allah revealed: {No sin on you whether you eat together or apart.} So this was a dispensation from Allah, allowing people to eat either alone or with others, even though eating with others is more blessed and is better. m At-Tabari 19:224. 121 At-Tabari 19:224.

Imam Ahmad recorded from Wahshi bin Harb from his father from his grandfather that a man said to the Prophet ﷺ, "We eat but we do not feel satisfied." He said: {Perhaps you are eating separately. Eat together and mention the Name of Allah, and He will bless the food for you.} It was also recorded by Abu Dawud and Ibn Majah. 111 Ibn Majah also recorded that Salim reported from his father from 'Umar, may Allah be pleased with him, that the Messenger of Allah said: {Eat together and not separately, for the blessing is in being together.} [21] {But when you enter the houses, greet one another} Said bin Jubayr, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Qatadah and Az-Zuhri said, "This means greet one another with Salam." 13 Ibn Jurayj said: Abu Az-Zubayr said, "I heard Jabir bin 'Abdullah say, When you enter upon your family, greet them with a greeting from Allah, blessed and good." He said, I do not think it is anything but obligatory." Ibn Jurayj said: "And Ziyad said that Ibn Tawus used to say: When any one of you enters his house, let him say Salam." 4 Mujahid said: "And when you enter the Masjid, say: 'Peace be upon the Messenger of Allah'; when you enter upon your families, greet them with Salam; and when you enter a house in which there is nobody, say: 'As-Salamu 'Alayna wa 'Ala 'Ibad-Alladhi-Salihin (peace be upon us and upon the righteous servants of Allah).'" 15 This is what one is Ahmad 3 :501 , Abi Dawud 3764, Ibn Majah 3286. Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful . Asking Permission to leave when They are doing something together This is another matter of etiquette to which Allah has guided His believing servants. Just as He commanded them to seek permission when entering, He also commanded them to seek permission when leaving, especially when they are doing something together with the Messenger ﷺ, such as the Friday, 'Id, or congregational prayers, or a meeting for the purpose of consultation and so on. Allah commanded them not to leave him in these situations until they had asked his permission. If they did this, then they were of the true believers. Then Allah commanded His Messenger ﷺ to give permission when someone asked for it, if he wanted to. He said: “If you give permission to whom you will of them, and ask Allah for their forgiveness.” Abu Dawud reported that Abu Hurayrah said, “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: *‘When any of you joins a gathering, let him say Salam, and when he wants to leave, let him say Salam. The former is not more important than the latter. This was also recorded by At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasai; At-Tirmidhi said: “It is a Hasan Hadith,”*²¹ “Do not make the calling of the Messenger among you as your calling one of another. Allah knows those of you who slip away under shelter. And let those beware who oppose the Messenger’s ﷺ.” Abu Dawud 5:386. TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 7 :485 , An-Nasai in Al-Kubra 6 :100

And Allah knows best.”⁴ “Do not make the calling of the Messenger among you as your calling one of another.” {Allah knows those of you who slip away under shelter.} Muqatil bin Hayyan said, “This refers to the hypocrites who used to find it too difficult to listen to the Khutbah on Fridays, so they would hide behind some of the Companions of Ad-DurrAl-Manthur 6 :230 [2] At-Jabari 19:230. If one of them wanted to leave, he would make a gesture to the Prophet ﷺ with his finger, and the Prophet ﷺ would give permission without the man speaking. This is because if the Prophet ﷺ was giving the Khutbah and a man spoke, it would invalidate his Friday prayer.” As-Suddi said, “If they were with him for a congregational prayer, they would hide behind one another so that he could not see them.”

Come out to rest and pleasant fragrances and a Lord Who is not angry." 1 11 Other scholars said that the Ayah: iOn the Day they will see the angels - no good neios} refers to the Day of Resurrection. This was the view of Mujahid, Ad-Dahhak and others. But there is no contradiction between these two views, because on both of these days - the day of death and the Day of Resurrection - the angels will appear to the believers and disbelievers, and they will give glad tidings of divine mercy and pleasure to the believers, while they will give the disbelievers news that will bring regret and sorrow, so there will be no glad tidings for the evildoers and criminals on that Day. iAnd they (angels) will say: "Hijran Malijura."} The angels will say to the disbelievers: 'success is forbidden to you this day.' This was the view of Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Ad-Dahhak, Qatadah, 'Atiyyah Al-'Awfi, 'Ata' Al- Khurasani, Khusayf and others; it was also the view favored by Ibn Jarir. 111 Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn Jurayj said that this referred to the words of the idolaters. 121 40n the Day they will see the angels} means, they will seek refuge from the angels. Allah tells us that the deeds which these idolaters thought would bring them salvation will be of no avail to them, because they were not in accordance with the Sharpah or Laws of Allah, whether in terms of sincere intention or in terms of following the Laws set out by Allah. Every deed that is neither sincere nor in accordance with the Laws of Allah is futile, and the 111 At-Tabari 19 :256, Al-MuharrarAl-Wajtz 4 :206. 121 At-Tabari 19:254.

150. And indeed We have distributed it among them in order that they may remember the grace of Allah, but most men refuse (out of) gratitude. This is also part of His complete power and supreme authority: Allah sends the winds as heralds of glad tidings, i.e., they bring the clouds behind them. The winds are of many different types, depending on the purpose for which they are sent. Some of them form the clouds, others carry the clouds or drive them, and others come ahead of the clouds as heralds announcing their coming. Some of them come before that to stir up the earth, and some of them fertilize or "seed" the clouds to make it rain. Allah says: And We send down pure water from the sky, meaning, as a means of purifying it. Abu Sa'd said, "It was said: "O Messenger of Allah, can we perform Wudu' with the water of the well of Buda'ah? For it is a well in which rubbish and the flesh of dogs are thrown. He said: 'Water is pure and nothing makes it impure.'» This was recorded by Ash-Shafil and Ahmad, who graded it Sahih, and also by Abu Dawud and At-Tirmidhi, who graded it Hasan, and by An-Nasal. His saying: That We may give life thereby to a dead land, means, a land that waited a long time for rain. It is devoid of vegetation or anything at all. When the rain comes to it, it becomes alive and its hills are covered with all kinds of colorful flowers, as Allah says: But when We send down water to it, it is stirred to life and (1 ' Musnad Ash-Shafi'i 1 :21 , Ahmad 3 : 31 ; Abu Dawud 1 :53, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 1 :203, An-Nasal 1 :174

His saying: And We give to drink thereof many of the cattle and men that We had created. means, so that animals such as cattle can drink from it, and people who are in desperate need of water can drink from it and water their crops and fruits. This is like the Ayah: And He it is Who sends down the rain after they have despaired, (42:28) Look then at the effects of Allah's mercy, how He revives the earth after its death. (30:50) His saying: And indeed We have distributed it among them in order that they may remember means, We cause rain to fall on this land and not on that, and We cause the clouds to pass over one land and go to another, where We cause sufficient rain to fall so that its people have plenty, but not one drop falls on the first land.' There is a reason and great wisdom behind this. Ibn 'Abbas and Ibn Mas'ud, may Allah be pleased with them said: "One year does not have more rain than another, but Allah distributes the rain as He wills. Then he recited this Ayah: And indeed We have distributed it (rain or water) amongst them in order that they may remember the grace of Allah, but most men refuse (out of) ingratitude."¹ meaning, so that they may be reminded, when Allah brings

And your Lord is Ever All-Powerful to do what He wills.} The universality of the Prophet's Message, how He was supported in His Mission and Allah's Blessings to Mankind Allah says: And had We willed, We would have raised a wamer in every town. 'Calling them to Allah, but We have singled you out, O Muhammad, to be sent to all the people of earth, and We have commanded you to convey the Qur'an,' that I may therewith warn you and whomsoever it may reach (6 :19). but those of the sects that reject it, the Fire will be their promised meeting place (11 :17). that you may warn the Mother of the Towns and all around it (42 :7). 4 Say: "O mankind! He has created the two kinds of water, sweet and salty. The sweet water is like that in rivers, springs and wells, which is fresh, sweet, palatable water. This was the view of Ibn Jurayj and of Ibn Jarir, and this is the meaning without a doubt, for nowhere in creation is there a sea which is fresh and sweet. Allah has told us about reality so that His servants may realize His blessings to them and give thanks to Him. The sweet water is that which flows amidst people. Allah has portioned it out among His creatures according to their needs; rivers and springs in every land, according to what they need for themselves and their lands. ip£ m Muslim 1 :370, FathAl-Bari 1 :634. 185 Surah 25, Al-Furqan (51 - 54) (Part-19) 4and that is salty and bitter;} meaning that it is salty, bitter and not easy to swallow. This is like the seas that are known in the east and the west, the Atlantic Ocean and the Straits that lead to it, the Red Sea, the Arabian Sea, the Persian Gulf, the China Sea, the Indian Ocean, the Mediterranean Sea, the Black Sea and so on, all the seas that are stable and do not flow, but they swell and surge in the winter and when the winds are strong, and they have tides that ebb and flow. At the beginning of each month the tides ebb and flood, and when the month starts to wane they retreat until they go back to where they started. When the crescent of the following month appears, the tide begins to ebb again until the fourteenth of the month, then it decreases. Allah, may He be glorified, the One Whose power is absolute, has set these laws in motion, so all of these seas are stationary, and He has made their water salty lest the air turn putrid because of them and the whole earth turn rotten as a result, and lest the earth spoil because of the animals dying on it. Because its water is salty, its air is healthy and its dead are good (to eat), hence when the Messenger of Allah j|| was asked whether sea water can be used for Wudu', he said: «ts water is pure and its dead are lawful .» This was recorded by Malik, Ash-Shafil and Ahmad, and by the scholars of Sunan with a good [Jayyid] chain of narration. iand He has set a barrier and a complete partition between them.} meaning, between the sweet water and the saltwater. 4a barrier} means a partition, which is dry land.  Al-Muwattd' 1:22, Musnad Ash-Shafi'i 1:23, Ahmad 2:361, Abu Dawud 1 :64, TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 1 :224, An-Nasat 1 :50, Ibn Majah

Then he turned to him and said, “What makes a man wish to be present when Allah had caused him to be absent, and he does not know how he would have behaved if he had been there? By Allah, there are people who saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and Allah will throw them on their faces in Hell because they did not accept him or believe in him. Are you not grateful that Allah brought you forth from your mothers’ wombs believing in your Lord and in what your Prophet brought, and that the test went to others and not to you? Allah sent His Prophet during the most difficult time that any Prophet was ever sent, after a long period of ignorance, when the people could see no better religion than the worship of idols, and he brought the Criterion which distinguishes truth from falsehood and which would separate a father from his son. A man would realize that his father, son or brother was a disbeliever, and since Allah had opened his heart to Faith, he knew that if his relative died he would go to Hell, so he could not rest knowing that his loved one was in the Fire. two?" He said: "Our Lord is He Who gave to each thing its form and nature, then guided it aright."} (20:49-50) Those among the philosophers and others who claimed that this was a question about the nature or substance (of Allah] are mistaken. Fir'awn did not believe in the Creator in the first place, so he was in no position to ask about the nature of the Creator; he denied that the Creator existed at all, as is apparent from the meaning, even though proof and evidence had been established against him. When

Fir'awn asked him about the Lord of Al-'Alamm, Musa said: 4£&' Cj oyHii 4J ti} i(Musa) said: "The Lord of the heavens and the earth, and all that is between them..." meaning, the Creator, Sovereign and Controller of all that, their God Who has no partner or associate. He is the One Who has created all things. He knows the higher realms and the heavenly bodies that are in them, both those that are stationary and those that move and shine brightly. He knows the lower realms and what is in them; the oceans, continents, mountains, trees, animals, plants and fruits. He knows what is in between the two realms; the winds, birds, and whatever is in the air. All of them are servants to Him, submitting and humbling themselves before Him. iUbis ft 4^ iifyou seek to be convinced with certainty.} means, if you have believing hearts and clear insight. At this, Fir'awn turned to the chiefs and leaders of his state around him, and said to them - mockingly expressing his disbelief in Musa: 4S, $} i"Do you not hear?" meaning, 'are you not amazed by what this man is claiming - that you have another god other than me?' (2:258) So when Fir'awn was defeated in debate, he resorted to the use of his force and power, believing that this would be effective in dealing with Musa, peace be upon him, so he said, as Allah tells us:

There he gathered his servants, followers, administrators, and provincial leaders, and the soldiers of his kingdom. The sorcerers stood before Fir'awn, asking him to treat them well and bring them closer to him if they prevailed in this matter which he had brought them together for. They said: i"Will there surely be a reward for us if we are the winners?" He said: "Yes, and you shall then verily be of those brought near."} meaning, 'and you will be given more than what you are asking for; I will make you among those who are close to me, those who sit with me.' Here the incident is described more briefly. Musa said to them: i"Throw what you are going to throw!" So, they threw their ropes and their sticks, and said: "By the might of Fir'awn, it is we who will certainly win!"} This is what the ignorant masses say when they do something: This is by the virtue of So-and-so!' In Surat Al-A'raf Allah mentioned that they: iThey bewitched the eyes of the people, and struck terror into them, and they displayed a great magic} (7:116). And in Surah TaHa He said:

Fir'awn's supporters, who sought and hoped that they would prevail over Mtisa, were themselves defeated. At that moment they believed in Musa and prostrated to Allah, the Lord of Al-'Alamin Who sent Musa and H&rGn with the truth and an obvious miracle. Fir'awn was defeated in a manner the likes of which the world had never seen, but he remained arrogant and stubborn despite the clear evidence, may the curse of Allah and the angels and all of mankind be upon him. He resorted to arrogance and stubbornness and propagating falsehood. He began to issue threats against them, saying: pi '$p& iVerily, he is your chief who has taught you magic} (20:71).

"Verily, we really hope that our Lord will forgive us our sins, as we are the first of the believers."} Between Fir'awn and the Sorcerers His threats against them resulted only in an increase in their faith and submission to Allah, for the veil of disbelief had been lifted from their hearts and the truth became clear to them because they knew something that their people did not: that what Musa had done could not have been done by any human being unless Allah helped him, making it proof and an evidence of the truth of what he had brought from his Lord. Then Fir'awn said to them: ip 3£ $p:} iYou have believed in him before I give you leave.} meaning, *you should have asked my permission for what you did, and you did not consult with me; if I had given you permission you could have done it, and if I did not allow you, you should not have done it, for I am the ruler and the one to be obeyed.' ipfi 'p& iSurely, he indeed is your chief, who has taught you magic!}

Thus and We caused the Children of Israel to inherit them.} The Exodus of the Children of Israel from Egypt After Musa stayed in Egypt for a long time, and the proof of Allah was established against Fir'awn and his chiefs, yet they were still arrogant and stubborn, then there was nothing left for them but punishment and vengeance. So Allah commanded Musa, peace be upon him, to take the Children of Israel out of Egypt by night, and take them wherever he would be commanded. So Musa, peace be upon him, did as he was commanded by his Lord, may He be glorified, and he led them forth after they had borrowed an abundance of jewelry from the people of Fir'awn. As more than one of the scholars of Tafsir have said, they left when the moon was rising, and Mujahid, may Allah have mercy on him, said that the moon was eclipsed that night. 1 11 And Allah knows best. Mhsa asked about the grave of Yusuf (Prophet Joseph), peace be upon him, and an old woman from among the Children of Israel showed him where it was, so he took the remains with them, and it was said that they were among the things that were carried by Musa himself, may peace be upon them both. It was also said that Yusuf, peace be upon him, had left instructions in his will that if the Children of Israel ever left Egypt, they should take his remains with them.12 The following morning, when there was nobody to be found in the Israelite quarters, Fir'awn became angry and his anger intensified since Allah had decreed that he was to be destroyed. So he quickly sent his callers to all his cities, i.e., to mobilize his troops and bring them together, and he called out to them: 4Verily, these} meaning, the Children of Israel, 4i>)4 Z&fr At-Tabari 19:354. 121 At-Tabari 19:354.

Some of the Salaf read this with the meaning, "we are constantly forewarned and forearmed. And I want to destroy them to the last man, and destroy all their lands and property." So he and his troops were punished with the very things he sought to inflict upon the Children of Israel. against Shirk Here Allah tells us about His servant, Messenger and Close Friend, Ibrahim, upon him be peace, the leader of the pure monotheists. Allah commanded His Messenger Muhammad jg to recite this story to his Ummah so that they could follow this example of sincerity towards Allah, putting one's trust in Him, worshipping Him Alone with no partner or associate, and renouncing Shirk and its people. Allah granted guidance to Ibrahim before, i.e., from a very early age he had denounced his people's practice of worshipping idols with Allah, may He be exalted. iWheti he said to his father and his people: "What do you worship?" meaning: what are these statues to which you are so devoted? 4 Li jit* liuJ jlu iThey said: "We worship idols, and to them we are ever devoted." meaning: we are devoted to worshipping them and praying to them. fa: yti iHe said: "Do they hear you when you call? Or do they benefit you or do they cause harm?" They said: "(Nay) but we found our fathers doing so." They knew that their idols could not do anything, but they had seen their fathers doing this, so they made haste to follow in their footsteps. So Ibrahim said to them: <r>j 1 d J- U ^tO'r 4Do you observe that which you have been worshipping -you and your ancient fathers? Verily, they are enemies to me, save the Lord of Al-'Alamm.}

The Prophet of Allah Shu'ayb was one of them, but it does not say here, their brother Shu'ayb, because they called themselves by a name denoting their deification of Al-Aykah, which was a tree which they used to worship; it was said that it was a group of trees which were tangled, like trees in a thicket. For this reason, when Allah said that the companions of Al-Aykah denied the Messengers, He did not say, "When their brother Shu'ayb said to them." Rather, He said: fix iWhen Shu'ayb said to them} He is not described as belonging to them because of the meaning that was inherent in the name given to them even though he was their brother by blood. Refutation of the Fabrications of the Idolaters Here Allah addresses those idolaters who claimed that what was brought by the Messenger jg was not the truth but was merely something that he had made up by himself, or that it came to him in visions from the Jinn. Allah stated that His Messenger was above their claims and fabrications, and that what he had brought did indeed come from Allah, and that it was a revelation and inspiration, brought down by a noble, trustworthy and mighty angel. It did not come from the Shayatin, because they have no desire for anything like this Noble Qur'an - they descend upon those who are like them, the lying fortune-tellers. Allah says: 4Shall I inform you) meaning, shall I tell you, 4upon whom the Shayatin descend? They descend on every lying, sinful person (AthTm))

Then when the Jinn who are listening out, one above the others - and Sufyan illustrated this with a gesture, holding his hand vertically with his fingers outspread - mhen they hear this, they throw it down from one to another, until it is passed to the fortune-teller or soothsayer. something worth thinking about. The reports that have been narrated about this are all Mursal and cannot be relied on. And Allah knows best. But this exception could include the poets of the Ansar and others. It even includes those poets of the Ja.hiU.yyah who indulged in condemning Islam and its followers, then repented and turned to Allah, and gave up what they used to do and started to do righteous deeds and remember Allah much, to make up for the bad things that they had previously said, for good deeds wipe out bad deeds. So they praised Islam and its followers in order to make up for their insults, as [the poet] 'Abdullah bin Az-Zab'ari said when he became Muslim: "O Messenger of Allah, indeed my tongue will try to make up for things it said when I was bad - When I went along with the Shaytan during the years of misguidance, and whoever inclines towards his way is in a state of loss."

The point of this story is: beware, 'O you who disbelieve in Muhammad and deny the Message that he has brought from his Lord, lest the same thing that befell them befall you also.' But what is worse, is that Muhammad is nobler and greater than Musa, and his proof is stronger than that of Musa, for the signs that Allah has given him are combined with his presence and his character, in addition to the fact that previous Prophets foretold his coming and took a covenant from the people that they would follow him if they should see him, may the best of blessings and peace from his Lord be upon him. oCc If jff Jp liLi ttll 4\ AlX' "jlij dip julLij llcl. £&j}

Muhammad bin Ishaq reported from Yazid bin Ruman: “When the messengers returned with word of what Sulayman said, she said: *By Allah, I knew he was more than a king, and that we have no power to match him, and that we can gain nothing by being stubborn with him. So, she sent word to him saying: “I am coming to you with the leaders of my people to see what you will instruct us to do and what you are calling us to of your religion.” Then she issued commands that her throne, which was made of gold and inlaid with rubies, chrysolite and pearls, should be placed in the innermost of seven rooms, one within the other, and all the doors should be locked. Then she told her deputy whom she was leaving in charge, “Take care of my people and my throne, and do not let anyone approach it or see it until I come back to you.” Then she set off to meet Sulayman with twelve thousand of her commanders from the leaders of Yemen, under each of whose command were many thousands of men. They used to break silver coins.’ ”*21 They would break off pieces from them, as if they used to trade with them in terms ofnumbers [as opposed to weight], as the Arabs used to do. Imam Malik narrated from Yahya bin Said that Said bin Al- Musayyib said: “Cutting gold and silver (coins) is part of spreading corruption on earth.” What is meant is that the nature of these evil disbelievers was to spread corruption on earth by every means possible, one of which was that mentioned by these Imams. 4p\j iThey said: "Swear one to another by Allah that we shall make a secret night attack on him and his household . m At-Tabari 19:477. They said: ‘Salih claims that he will finish with us in three days, but we will finish him and his family before the three days are over.’ Salih had a place of worship in a rocky tract in a valley, where he used to pray. So they set out to go to a cave there one night, and said, When he comes to pray, we will kill him, then we will return. When we have finished him off, we will go to his family and finish them off too.’ Then Allah sent down a rock upon them from the mountains round about; they feared that it would crush them, so they ran into the cave and the rock covered the mouth of the cave while they were inside. Their people did not know where they were or what had happened to them. So Allah punished some of them here, and some of them there, and He saved Salih and the people who were with him. There was a good horse which belonged to a rich man who was also righteous. The horse just stood there, so its owner said, “What is the matter with you? Woe to you! I was only preparing you for a day such as this.’ The horse said to him: *How can you expect me not to perform badly, when you delegated my feeding to the grooms, and they mistreated me and only fed me a little?' The man said, 'I make you a promise before Allah that from this day on, only I will feed you from my own lap.' So the horse began to run, and his owner was saved, and after that he only ever fed the horse from his own lap. This story became well known among the people, and they started to come to him to hear the story from his own lips. News of this reached the king of Byzantium, and he said: 'A city where this man is, will be kept safe from harm.' He wanted to bring the man to his own city, so he sent an apostate (a man who had left Islam) who was living in his city to go to him, and when he reached him, he pretended that his intentions towards Islam and its followers were good, so the Mujahid trusted him. One day they went out walking along the shore, but the apostate made a pact with another person, a follower of the Byzantine king, to come and help him take the Mujahid prisoner. When they made their move, he lifted his gaze to the sky and said, 'O Allah! He has deceived me by swearing in Your Name, so protect me in whatever way You will.' Then two wild animals came out and seized them, and the Mujahid came back safe and sound." 3' To let one's lower garment trail along the ground. ' Ahmad 5 :64. This narration is not authentic. At the same time, he was killing their sons and letting their daughters live, to humiliate them and because he feared that there might appear among them the boy who would be the cause of his destruction and the downfall of his kingdom. So Fir'awn took precautions against that happening, by ordering that all boys born to the Children of Israel should be killed, but this precaution did not protect him against the divine decree, because when the term of Allah comes, it cannot be delayed, and for each and every matter there is a decree from Allah. males of the Children of Israel, the Copts were scared that the Children of Israel would die out, and they themselves would have to do the heavy labor that the Children of Israel used to do. So they said to Fir'awn, "If this continues, and their old men die and the young men are killed, their women will not be able to do the work that the men are doing, and we will end up having to do it." So Fir'awn issued orders that the boys should be killed one year, and left alone the following year. Harun, peace be upon him, was born in a year when the boys were not killed, and Musa was born in a year when the boys were being killed. Fir'awn had people who were entrusted with this task. There were midwives who would go around and check on the women, and if they noticed that any woman was pregnant, they would write her name down. When the time came for her to give birth, no one was allowed to attend her except for Coptic women. If the woman gave birth to a girl, they would leave her alone and go away, but if she gave birth to a boy, the killers would come in with their sharp knives and kill the child, then they would go away; may Allah curse them. When the mother of Musa became pregnant with him, she did not show any signs of pregnancy as other women did, and none of the midwives noticed. But when she gave birth to a boy, she became very distressed and did not know what to do with him. She was extremely scared for him, because she loved him very much. No one ever saw Musa, peace be upon him, but they loved him, and the blessed ones were those who loved him both as a natural feeling and because he was a Prophet. Allah says: *4And I endued you with lovefrom Me$ (20:39). After what she said, being safe from their harm, they took her to their house and brought the baby to his mother. How the Secret of this Killing became known

Allah tells us that when Musa killed that Coptic, 4^jE- 4^

he became afraid in the city meaning, of the consequences of his action, i looking about> means, turning around and watching out, waiting for the consequences of his action to befall him. He went out and about, and saw the man who sought his help the day before, fighting with another Coptic. When Musa passed by him, he called for his help again, against this other Coptic. Musa said to him: 4<iif iVerily, you are a plain misleader!} meaning, "you obviously lead people astray and are veiy evil.' Then Musa intended to attack that Coptic, but the Israelite — because of his own cowardice and weakness - thought that Musa wanted to hit him because of what he had said, so he said, in self-defence - 4° Musa! Is it your intention to kill me as you killed a man yesterday?} Nobody except him and Musa, peace be upon him, knew about it, but when the other Coptic heard this, he took the news to Fir'awn's gate and told him about it. So Fir'awn came to know of it, and he became very angry and resolved to kill Musa, so he sent people after him to bring him to him. JiJIL JL <r\ 2^ ju £> CSt £ 3w o; ctU 420. is the view of Ibn ‘Abbas and others concerning phrases such as the Ayah, {Do people think that they will be left alone because they say: "We believe," and will not be tested.} (2:143).
111 Meaning, only to see - because seeing has to do with what is there, but knowledge is broader than seeing, since it includes what is not present as well as what is. The Evil doers cannot escape from Allah Allah said: {Do people think that they will be left alone because they say: "We believe," and will not be tested.} means, those who are not believers should not think that they will escape such trials and tests, for ahead of them lies a greater and more severe punishment. Allah says: {Do people think that they will be left alone because they say: "We believe," and will not be tested.} meaning, “escape” from Us. Please note that these Ayat are usually translated with the meaning of Allah “tests” instead of “will know.” They are to be understood with that general meaning as well as the explanation above.

461 Surah 29. (5 - 8) Al-Ankabut (Part-20) Whoever does a righteous deed, the benefit of that deed will come back to him, for Allah has no need of the deeds of His servants, and even if all of them were to be as pious as the most pious man among them, that would not add to His dominion in the slightest. Allah says: {Do people think that they will be left alone because they say: "We believe," and will not be tested.} And whosoever strives, he strives only for himself. Verily, Allah stands not in need of any of the creatures. Then Allah tells us that even though He has no need of His creatures, He is kind and generous to them. He will still give to those who believe and do righteous deeds the best of rewards, which is that He will expiate for them their bad deeds, and will reward them according to the best deeds that they did. He will accept the fewest good deeds and in return for one good deed will give anything between ten rewards and seven hundred, but for every bad deed, He will give only one evil merit, or even that He may overlook and forgive. This is like the Ayah, y • S', iSurely, Allah wrongs not even the weight of a speck of dust, but if there is any good, He doubles it, and gives from Him a great reward. (4:40). 'Ad, the people of Hud, peace be upon him, used to live in the Ahqaf (curved sand-hills), near Hadramawt, in the Yemen. Thamtd, the people of Salih, lived in Al-Hijr, near Wadi Al-Qura. The Arabs used to know their dwelling place very well, and they often used to pass by it. Qariin was the owner of great wealth and had the keys to immense treasures. So, there came upon them a violent, intensely cold wind, which was very strong and carried pebbles which it threw upon them. It carried them through the air, lifting a man up to the sky and then hurling him headlong to the ground, so that his head split and he was left as a body without a head, like uprooted stems of date palms.

492 Tafslr Ibn Kathir 441 . The parable of those who seek protectors from other than Allah is that of a spider who builds a house; but indeed, the weakest of houses is the spider's house - if they but knew. 442. Verily, Allah knows what things they invoke instead of Him. He is the All-Mighty, the All-Wise.) 443. And these are the examples We give for mankind; but none will understand them except those who have knowledge (of Allah.) Likening the gods of the Idolators to the House of a Spider This is how Allah described the idolators in their reverence of gods besides Him, hoping that they would help them and provide for them, and turning to them in times of difficulties. In this regard, they were like the house of a spider, which is so weak and frail, because by clinging to these gods they were like a person who holds on to a spider's web, who does not gain any benefit from that. If they knew this, they would not take any protectors besides Allah. This is unlike the Muslim believer, whose heart is devoted to Allah, yet he still does righteous deeds and follows the Laws of Allah, for he has grasped the most trustworthy handle that will never break because it is so strong and firm. Then Allah warns those who worship others besides Him and associate others with Him that He knows what they do and the rivals they associate with Him. He will punish them for their attribution, for He is All-Wise and All-Knowing. Then He says: 4And these are the examples We give for mankind; but none will understand them except those who have knowledge.) meaning, no one understands them or ponders them except those who are possessed of deep knowledge. He mentioned Ka*b Al-Ahbar, and said: "He was one of the most truthful of those who narrated from the People of the Book, even though we found that some of what he said might be lies." I say, this means that some of what he said could be classified linguistically as lies, but he did not intend to lie, because he was narrating from manuscripts which he thought were good, but they contained fabricated material, because they did not have people who were so conscientious in memorizing the Scriptures by heart as the people of this great Ummah. 111 FathAl-Bdri8:20. 121 Al-Bukhari no . 7363

46. A promise from Allah, and Allah fails not in His promise, but most men know not.} 47. They know only the outer appearance of the life of the world, and they are heedless of the Hereafter.} Foretelling the Victory of the Romans These Ayat were revealed about the victory of Sabdr, the king of Persia, over Ash-Sham (Greater Syria), the adjoining partisan states of the Arabian Peninsula, and the outlying regions of the land of the Romans. Heraclius, the emperor of the Romans, was forced to flee to Constantinople where he was besieged for a lengthy period. Then Heraclius regained the upper hand. Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, commented on this Ayah 4 AlifLam Mim. The Romans have been defeated. In the nearest land,} He said, "They were defeated and then they were victorious." He said, "The idolators wanted the Persians to prevail over the Romans, because they were idol worshippers, and the Muslims wanted the Romans to prevail over the Persians, because they were People of the Book. This was mentioned to Abu Bakr, who mentioned it to the Messenger of Allah The Messenger of Allah SI said: tThey will certainly prevail .» Abu Bakr mentioned this to the idolators, and they said, "Set a time limit for that, and if we prevail, we will get such and such; and if you prevail, you will get such and such." So he set a limit of five years, and they (the Romans) did not prevail. Abu Bakr mentioned that to the Messenger of Allah jk and he said: «-jliJl : Jli Wj\ - l)/> Jl aPWiy do you not make it less than» (I (the narrator) think he meant less than ten]. Satd bin Jubayr said: uBid' means less than ten." Then the Romans

At-Tirmidhi said: "Hasan Gharib."*2 Another Hadith Abu isa At-Tirmidhi recorded that Niyar bin Mukram Al- Aslami said: "When the following Ayat were revealed: e?» ^ 0£ 'U : iAlifLam Mim. The Romans

The Muslims wanted the Romans to prevail over them (the Persians), because they were both people who followed a Book. Concerning this Allah said: >> r © iAnd on that day, the believers will rejoice - with the help of Allah. He helps whom He wills, and He is the All-Mighty, the Most Merciful.} The Quraysh, on the other hand, wanted the Persians to 111 Ahmad 1 :276. TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 9:51, An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 6 :426 prevail, because neither of them were people who followed a Book and neither of them believed in the Resurrection. When Allah revealed these Ayat, Abu Bakr went out proclaiming throughout Makkah: - 4 oi (j ofjVf J'J ti iAlifLam Mim. The Romans have been defeated. In the nearest land, and they, after their defeat, will be victorious. In Bid' years Some of the Quraysh said to Abu Bakr: This is (a bet) between us and you. Your companion claims that the Romans will defeat the Persians within three to nine years, so why not have a bet on that between us and you?' Abu Bakr said, *Yes.' This was before betting had been forbidden. So, Abu Bakr and the idolators made a bet, and they said to Abu Bakr: What do you think, Bid' means something between three and nine years, so let us agree on the middle.' So they agreed on six years. Then six years passed without the Romans being victorious, so the idolators took what they had bet with Abu Bakr. When the seventh year came and the Romans were finally victorious over the Persians, the Muslims rebuked Abu Bakr for agreeing on six years. He said: 'Because Allah said: "In Bid' years."' At that time, many people became Muslim." This is how it was narrated by At-Tirmidhi, then he said, "This is a Hasan Hadith ."11 Who were the Romans? iAlifLam Mim. The Romans have been defeated.} We have already discussed the separate letters which appear at the beginning of some Surahs in the beginning of our Tafsir of Surat Al-Baqarah. With regard to the Romans (Ar-Rum), they are the descendents of Al-lys bin Ishaq bin Ibrahim. They are the cousins of the Children of Israll, and are also known as Bani m TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 9 :52.

522Surah 30. Ar-Rum (1 - 7) (Part-21 Al-Asfar. They used to followed the religion of the Greeks, who were descendents of Yafith bin Nuh, the cousins of the Turks. They used to worship the seven planets, and they prayed facing the direction of the North Pole. It is they who founded Damascus and built its temple in which there is a prayer niche facing north. The Romans followed this religion until approximately three hundred years after the time of the Messiah. The king who ruled Greater Syria along with the Fertile Crescent (semicircle of fertile land from Syrian Desert to Persian Gulf) was called Caesar. The first of them to enter the Christian religion was Constantine the son of Costas, whose mother was Maryam Al-Hllaniyyah Ash-Shadqaniyyah, from the land of Harran. She had become Christian before him, and she invited him to her religion. Before that he had been a philosopher, then he followed her. It was said that this was merely an outward show of belief. Then the Christians met with him. During his time they debated with 'Abdullah bin Ariyus (Arius) and great differences arose which could not be reconciled. Then a gathering of three hundred and eighteen bishops reached an agreement, and presented their creed to Constantine. This is what they call the Great Trust, but in fact it is the Worst Betrayal. They presented to him their laws, i.e., books of rulings on what was lawful and prohibited, and other things that they needed. They changed the religion of the Messiah (peace be upon him), adding some things and taking some things away. They began praying towards the East, and changed the Sabbath (Saturday) rites to Sunday. They worshipped the cross, permitted eating of pigs, adopted innovated observances such as the festival of the cross, Mass, baptism, etc., Palm Sunday and other occasions. They appointed a pope, as their leader, and patriarchs, metropolitans, bishops, priests and deacons, and they invented monasticism. The king built churches and places of worship for them, and he founded the city which is named after him, Constantinople. It was said that during his time twelve thousand churches were built, three places of prayer in Bethlehem, and that his mother built the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. These are the ones who followed the religion of the kings. Then after them came the Jacobites, followers of Ya'qub Al-

522 Tafslr Ibn Kathir Askaf, then the Nestorians, the followers of Nestorius. There are many groups and sects among them, as the Messenger of Allah said: jt Or- f-fr'l *They split into seventy two sects. The point here is that they continued to follow Christianity. Every time one Caesar died, another succeeded him, until the last of them, Heraclius, came to power. He was a wise man, one of the most astute and intelligent of kings, who had deep insight and well-formed opinions. His was a great and glorious reign. He was opposed by Chosroes, the king of Persia and of regions such as Iraq, Khurasan, Ar-Riy and all the lands of the Persians. His name was SabQr Dhul-Aktaf, and his kingdom was greater than the kingdom of Caesar. He was the leader of the Persians and was as stubborn as the Persians who were Zoroastrian fire worshippers. How Caesar defeated Chosroes (Kisra) It was previously reported that Tkrimah said: "Chosroes sent his deputy and his army against Caesar, and they fought." It is well-known that Chosroes himself fought in the army that invaded his land, and he defeated Caesar and overwhelmed him until he had nothing left except the city of Constantinople, where Chosroes besieged him for a long time, until things became very difficult for him. He was highly venerated among the Christians, and Chosroes was not able to conquer the city because it was well fortified, and half of it faced the land while the other half faced the sea, from where supplies were able to reach them. After this had gone on for a long time, Caesar thought of a clever trick. He asked Chosroes to let him leave his city in return for money given as a peace- offering, on whatever terms he (Chosroes) wanted. Chosroes agreed to that and asked for a huge amount of wealth - gold, jewels, fabric, servant-women, servants, and much more - such that no king on earth could ever pay. Caesar went along with that and gave him the impression that he had all that he had asked for, although he thought he was crazy for asking for such a thing, because even if the two of them were to combine all of their wealth, it would not amount to even one-

523 Surah 30. Ar-Rum (1 - 7) (Part-21 tenth of that. He asked Chosroes to let him go out of the city to Ash-Sham and the other regions of his kingdom, so that he could gather that from his storehouses and places where his wealth was buried. Chosroes let him go, and when Caesar was about to leave Constantinople, he gathered his people together and told them: "I am going out on a mission I have decided to do so with some soldiers I have selected from my army; if I come back to you before one year passes, I will still be your king but if I do not come back after that, you will have the choice. Then, if you wish, you may remain loyal to me, or if you wish you may appoint someone instead of me." They replied, "You are our king for as long as you live, even if you are gone for ten years." When he left Constantinople, a cavalry detachment left with him, and Chosroes camped outside Constantinople to await his return. Caesar went straight away to the land of the Persians, where he started to kill all the men of fighting age, one by one, and he did not stop killing until he reached Al- Madain, which was the seat of power of the kingdom of Chosroes. He killed everyone in the city, and took all its treasures and wealth. He captured the women of Chosroes, shaved his son's head and made him ride on his donkey, sending with him the leaders of his people in a state of utmost humiliation. He wrote to Chosroes saying, 'This is what you asked for, so take it.' When this reached Chosroes, he was extremely distressed, to an extent known only by Allah. His anger was directed against the city of Constantinople and he renewed his siege with increased vehemence, but he was not able to besiege it for long, nor was he able to go to the ford of the river Jayhan, which was the only route through which Caesar could reach Constantinople. When Caesar heard of this, he came up with an unprecedented strategy, whereby he left his troops and goods by the ford, and went off with some of his army. He commanded them to pick up some straw and animal droppings, and to travel approximately one day upstream. Then he told them to throw those things unto the water. When they passed by Chosroes, he and his soldiers thought that the Romans had gone that way, so they rode off in pursuit of them, and the ford was no longer occupied by the Persians. Then Caesar commanded his men to get up and

524 TafsTr Ibn Kathlr jump into the river, which they did, thus escaping Chosroes and his troops, then they entered Constantinople. That was a great day for the Christians. Chosroes and his army remained in a state of confusion, not knowing what they were doing. They had not been able to conquer the land of Caesar, and their own land was devastated by the Romans, who seized their wealth, and captured their women and children. This was how the Romans defeated the Persians, and this happened nine years after the Persians defeated the Romans. This conflict between the Persians and the Romans continued until the Romans prevailed between Adhru'at (Ash-Sham) and Busrfi, according to what was stated by Ibn 'Abbas, 'Ikrimah and others. This is a place on the edge of Ash-Shfim, along the border with Al-Hijaz. Mujahid said, "That was a place in the Arabian Peninsula which is closer to the land of the Romans than to Persia." And Allah knows best. jf* t' > -Iff i v T-M on Jr Oi Af iThe decision of the matter, before and after is only with Allah before that and after that. iAnd on that day, the believers will rejoice - with the help of Allah> They will rejoice because the Romans, the companions of Caesar, the king of Ash-Sham, defeated the Persians, the companions of Chosroes, who were Zoroastrians. According to many of the scholars, such as Ibn 'Abbas, Ath-Thawri, As-Suddl and others, the victory of the Romans over the Persians happened on the same day as the battle of Badr. It was reported in the Hadith recorded by At-Tirmidhi, Ibn Jarir, Ibn Abi Hatim and Al-Bazzar that Abu Said said: "On the day of Badr, the Romans defeated the Persians, and the believers were happy and rejoiced about that. And Allah revealed the words: />/ 'if is Yet despite all that, when their Messengers came to them with clear signs, while they were enjoying their life of luxury, Allah punished them for their sins and they had no one who could protect them from Allah. Their wealth and sons could not protect them from the wrath of Allah in the slightest, and Allah was not at all unjust towards them when He sent His punishment upon them.

563 Surah 30. Ar-Rum (52 - 53) (Part-21) can make to hear only those who believe in Our Ayat, and have submitted (to Allah in Islam).) The Disbelievers are like the Dead, Deaf and Blind Allah says, 'just as you are not able to make the dead hear in their graves, or to make your words reach the deaf who cannot hear and who still turn away from you, so too you cannot guide the blind to the truth and bring them back from their misguidance.' That is a matter which rests with Allah, for by His power He can make the dead hear the voices of the living if He wills. He guides whom He wills and sends astray whom He wills, and no one but He has the power to do this. Allah says: *(4 44% v i* you can make to hear only those who believe in Our Ayat, and have submitted (to Allah in Islam).) means, those who are humble and who respond and obey. Whoever attends the prayer with us, let him perform Wudu’ properly.^ This has a Hasan chain of narration, the text itself is Hasan. It contains amazing information, that the Prophet was affected by the faulty Wudu’ of some of those whom he was leading in prayer. This indicates that the prayer of the person who is praying in the congregation is connected to the prayer of the Imam.

He connect that with mention of the doomed, those who turn away from the Qur'an and do not benefit from hearing the Words of Allah. Instead, they turn to listening to flutes and singing accompanied by musical instruments. As Ibn Mas*ad commented about the Ayah: Siff" if- J-jJ iSfLJ 4And of mankind is he who purchases Lahii Al-Hadith to mislead (men)from the path ofAllah}, he said, “This - by Allah - refers to singing.” 4f? if J-jJ if ifj} iAnd of mankind is he who purchases Lahw Al-Hadith to mislead (men)from the path ofAllah without knowledge,} Qatadah said: “By Allah, he may not spend money on it, but his purchasing it means he likes it, and the more misguided he is, the more he likes it and the more he prefers falsehood to the truth and harmful things over beneficial things.”2 It was said that what is meant by the words Si 4purchases idle talks} is buying singing servant girls. And whoever is unthankful, then verily, Allah is All-Rich, Worthy of all praise. Luqman The Salaf differed over the identity of Luqman; there are two opinions: was he a Prophet or just a righteous servant of Allah without the prophethood? The majority favored the latter view, that he was a righteous servant of Allah without being a Prophet. Sufyan Ath-Thawri said, narrating from Al-Ash'ath, from Ikrimah, from Ibn 'Abbas, "Luqman was an Ethiopian slave who was a carpenter." 'Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr said, "I said to Jabir bin 'Abdullah: What did you hear about Luqman?' He said: 'He was short with a flat nose, and came from Nubia.'"² ' Yahya bin Sa'Id Al-Ansari narrated from Sa'Id bin Al- Musayyib that "Luqman was from the black peoples of (southern) Egypt, and had thick lips. Allah gave him wisdom but withheld prophethood from him."³ Al-'Awza'i said, "Abdur-Rahman bin Harmalah told me; 'A black man came to Said bin Al-Musayyib to ask him a question, and Said bin Al-Musayyib said to him: "Do not be upset because you are black, for among the best of people were three who were black: Bilal, Mahja the freed slave of 'Umar bin Al-Khattab, and Luqman the Wise, who was a black Nubian with thick lips.'"⁴ ' Ibn Jarir recorded that Khalid Ar-Rabal said: "Luqman was an Ethiopian slave who was a carpenter. His master said to him, 'Slaughter this sheep for us,' so he slaughtered it. [His master] said: 'Bring the best two pieces from it,' so he brought out the tongue and the heart. Then time passed, as much as Allah willed, and [his master] said: 'Slaughter this sheep for us,' so he slaughtered it. [His master] said, 'Bring the worst 111 At-Tabari 10:135. Shuhah narrated from Al-Hakam, from Mujahid, "Luqman was a righteous servant, but he was not a Prophet." 12' Allah's saying: 4And indeed We bestowed upon Luqman Al-Hikmahy means, understanding, knowledge and eloquence. i*P'# isaying: "Give thanks to Allah."y means, *We commanded him to give thanks to Allah for the blessings and favors that Allah had given to him alone among his people and contemporaries.' His full name was Luqman bin 'Anqa' bin Sadun, and his son's name was Tharan, according to a saying quoted by As-Suhayli. Allah describes him in the best terms, and states that he granted him wisdom. Luqman advised his son, the closest and most beloved of all people to him, who deserved to be given the best of his knowledge. So, Luqman started by advising him to worship Allah Alone, and not to associate anything with Him. Then he warned him: 4X& !&s iVerily, joining others in worship with Allah is a great Zulm (wrong) indeed.}

579Surah 31 . Luqman (13 - 15) (Part-21) meaning, it is the greatest wrong. This is like the Ayah, •i iAnd your Lord has decreed that you worship none but Him. And tliat you be dutiful to your parents (17:23). These two things are often mentioned together in the Qur'an. Allah says here: Vj& ii-Ay Luojoyf }And We have enjoined on man (to be dutiful and good) to his parents. On this basis, Ibn 'Abbas and other Imams understood that the shortest possible period of pregnancy was six months, because Allah says elsewhere: ifeZ& iand the bearing of him, and the weaning of him is thirty months (46:15). Allah mentions how the mother brings the child up, and how she gets tired and suffers stress from staying up with the child night and day, to remind the son of her

The Command to fear Allah and remember the Day of Resurrection Here Allah warns people about the Day of Resurrection, and commands them to fear Him and remember the Day of Resurrection when a father can avail nothing for his son, which means, even if he wanted to offer himself as a sacrifice for his son, it would not be accepted from him. The same will apply in the case of a son who wants to sacrifice himself for his father - it will not be accepted from him. Then Allah reminds them once again with the words: 'Do not let this present life deceive you,' meaning, do not let your feelings of contentment with this life make you forget about the Hereafter. promises to them and arouses in them false desires, but there is no substance to them, as Allah says: 'He makes promises to them, and arouses in them false desires; and Shaytan's promises are nothing but deceptions.' (4 :120). Wahb bin Munabbih said: 'Uzayr, peace be upon him, said: "When I saw the misfortune of my people, I felt very sad and distressed, and I could not sleep, so I prayed to my Lord and fasted, and I called upon Him weeping. There came to me an angel and I said to him: Tell me, will the souls of the righteous intercede for the wrongdoers, or the fathers for their sons?" He said: 'On the Day of Resurrection all matters will be settled, and Allah's dominion will be made manifest and no exceptions will be made. No one will speak on that Day except with the permission of the Most Merciful. No father will answer for his son, or any son for his father, or any man for his brother, or any servant for his master. No one will care about anybody except himself, or feel grief or compassion for anyone except himself. Everyone will be worried only about himself. No one will be asked about anybody else. Each person will be concerned only about himself, weeping for himself and carrying his own burden. No one will carry the burden of another.' " This was recorded by Ibn Abi Hatim. 'Verily, Allah, with Him is the knowledge of the Hour, He sends down the rain, and knows that which is in the wombs. No person knows what he will earn tomorrow, and no person knows in what land he will die. Verily, Allah is All-Knower, All-Aware.' The Knower of the Unseen is Allah These are the keys of the Unseen, whose knowledge Allah alone has kept for Himself, and no one else knows them unless Allah tells him about them. The knowledge of "when the Hour will occur" is not known to any Prophet who was sent or any angel who is close to Allah.

None can reveal its time but He (7:187). Similarly, no one but Allah knows when rain will fall, but when He issues the commands, the angels who are entrusted with the task of bringing rain know about it, as do those among His creation whom He wills should know. No one but He knows what is in the wombs of what He wants to create, but when He decrees whether it is to be male or female, and whether it is to be blessed or doomed, the angels who are entrusted with that know about it, as do those among His creation whom He wills should know. No one knows what he will earn tomorrow with regard to this world or the Hereafter, and no person knows in what land he will die. in his own land or elsewhere, in some other land. No one knows this. This Ayah is like the Ayah, 'And with Him are the keys of the Unseen, none knows them but He.' (6:59) It was reported in the Sunnah that the above five things are called the Keys of the Unseen. Imam Ahmad recorded that Buraydah said that he heard the Messenger of Allah say: 'The five things which are called the Keys of the Unseen are: the knowledge of the Hour, the knowledge of what is in the wombs, the knowledge of what will befall tomorrow, the knowledge of what will befall in the future, and the knowledge of what will befall in the past.' Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, "If people conceal their good deeds, Allah will conceal for them what no eye has seen and what has never crossed the mind of man. It was recorded by Ibn Abi Hatim. Opening The Tafsir of Surat Al-Ahzab (Chapter - 33) Which was revealed in Al-Madinah. Prophet! Have Taqwa of Allah, and obey not the disbelievers and the hypocrites. Verily, Allah is Ever All-Knower, All-Wise. And follow that which is revealed to you [from your Lord. Verily, Allah is Well-Acquainted with what you do.] And put your trust in Allah, and sufficient is Allah as a Trustee. In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful.

The Command to defy the Disbelievers and Hypocrites by following the Revelation of Allah and putting One's Trust in Him. Here Allah points out something lower by referring to something higher. When He commands His servant and Messenger to do this, He is also commanding those who are lower than him, and the command is addressed to them more so. Talq bin Habib said: "Taqwa means obeying Allah in the light of the guidance of Allah and in hope of earning the reward of Allah, and refraining from disobeying Allah in the light of the guidance of Allah and fearing the punishment of Allah." i.e., obey not the disbelievers and the hypocrites. means, do not listen to what they say and do not consult them. Verily, Allah is Ever All-Knower, All-Wise means, He is more deserving of your following His commandments and obeying Him, for He knows the consequences of all things and is Wise in all that He says and does. Allah says: And follow that which is revealed to you from your Lord. meaning, of the Qur'an and Sunnah. Verily, Allah is Well-Acquainted with what you do. means, nothing at all is hidden from Him, and put your trust in Allah, i.e., in all your affairs and situations. and sufficient is Allah as a Wakil. means, sufficient is He as a Trustee for the one who puts his trust in Him and turns to Him.

Neither has Allah made for any man two hearts inside his body. Neither has He made your wives whom you declare to be like your mothers' backs, your real mothers nor has He made your adopted sons your real sons. That is but your saying with your mouths. But Allah says the truth, and He guides to the way. Call them by their fathers, that is more just with Allah. But if you know not their father's, your brothers in faith and Mawalikum (your freed servants). And there is no sin on you concerning that in which you made a mistake, except in regard to what your hearts deliberately intend. And Allah is Ever Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. Abolition of Adoption Before Allah discusses ideas and theoretical matters. He gives tangible examples: one man cannot have two hearts in his body, and a man's wife does not become his mother if he says the words of Zihar to her: "You are to me like the back of my mother." By the same token, an adopted child does not become the son of the man who adopts him and calls him his son. Allah says: ifrt J-"!- • ris li'i u iAllah has not made for any man two hearts inside his body. Neither has He made your wives whom you declare to be like your mothers' backs, your real mothers...} This is like the Ayah: iThey cannot be their mothers. None can be their mothers except those who gave them birth} (58:2). Cj} inor has He made your adopted sons your real sons.} This was revealed concerning Zayd bin Harithah, may Allah be pleased with him, the freed servant of the Prophet sg|. The Prophet j^5 had adopted him before prophethood, and he was known as Zayd bin Muhammad. Allah wanted to put an end to this naming and attribution, as He said: Cj} inor has He made your adopted sons your real sons.} This is similar to the Ayah later in this Surah: ill' dff) Oi U -ui \}) iMuhammad is not the father of any of your men, but he is the Messenger of Allah and the last (end) of the Prophets. And Allah is Ever All-Aware of everything.} (33:40). And Allah says here: iThat is but your saying with your mouths.} meaning, "your adoption of him is just words, and it does not mean that he is really your son," for he was created from the loins of another man, and a child cannot have two fathers just as a man cannot have two hearts in one body. j>:%} iBut Allah says the truth, and He guides to the way.} Said bin Jubayr said: iBut Allah says the truth,} means, justice. Qatadah said: %} iand He guides to the way} means, the straight path. Imam Ahmad said that Hasan told them that Zuhayr told them from QabUs, meaning Ibn Abi Zibyan, that his father told him: "I said to Ibn 'Abbas, TDo you know the Ayah, iAllah has not made for any man two hearts inside his body What does this mean?' He said that the Messenger of Allah jg stood up one day to pray, and he trembled. The hypocrites who were praying with him said, Do you not see that he has two hearts, one heart with you and another with them?' Then Allah revealed the words: 4 >5^ £ J '>? iAllah has not made for any man two hearts inside his body.)'*" This was also narrated by At-Tirmidhi, who said, "It is a Hasan Hadith".*21 It was also narrated by Ibn Jarir and Ibn Abi Hatim from the Hadith of Zuhayr. 131 An Adopted Child should be named after His Real Father If; Jii! fk iCall them (adopted sons) by their fathers, that is more just with Allah> This is a command which abrogates the state of affairs that existed at the beginning of Islam, when it was permitted to call adopted sons after the man who adopted them. Then Allah commanded that they should be given back the names of their real fathers, and states that this was more fair and just. Al- Bukhari (may Allah have mercy on him) narrated that 'Abdullah bin Umar said: "Zayd bin Harithah, may Allah be pleased with him, the freed servant of the Messenger of Allah 5§. was always called Zayd bin Muhammad, until (the words of the) Qur'an were revealed: & ifU iCall them (adopted sons) by (the names of) their fathers, that is more just with Allah. Ahmad 1 :267. Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 9 :58 ^ Ahmad, no. 2410 and At-Tabari 20:204. Most of the scholars of Hadith consider the chain of narrators for this text to be defective. 141 FathAl-Bari 8:377.

Sarah 33 . Al-Ahzab (4 - 5) (Part-21 As for calling a person "son" as an expression of honor and endearment, this is not what is forbidden in this Ayah, as is indicated by the report recorded by Imam Ahmad and the Sunan compilers - apart from At-Tirmidhi - from Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, who said: "We young boys of Banu 'Abd Al-Muttalib came to the Messenger of Allah sg at the Jamarat, he slapped us on the thigh and said, «0 my sons, do not stone the Jamarah until the sun has risen .*' 11 This was during the Farewell Pilgrimage in 10 AH. iCall them by their fathers .> This is concerning Zayd bin Harithah, may Allah be pleased with him. When they came upon you from above you and from below you, and when the eyes grew wild and the hearts reached to the throats, and you were harboring doubts about Allah.} The Campaign of the Confederates (Al-Ahzab) Allah tells us of the blessings and favors He bestowed upon His believing servants when He diverted their enemies and defeated them in the year when they gathered together and plotted. That was the year of Al-Khandaq, in Shawwal of the year 5 AH according to the well-known correct view. Musa bin Tjubah and others said that it was in the year 4 AH. The reason why the Confederates came was that a group of the leaders of the Jews of Banu Nadir, whom the Messenger of Allah jg had expelled from Al-Madinah to Khaybar, including Sallam bin Abu Al-Huqayq, Sailam bin Mishkam and Kinanah bin Ar-Rabr, went to Makkah where they met with the leaders of Quraysh and incited them to make war against the Prophet. They promised that they would give them help and support, and Quraysh agreed to that. Then they went to the Ghatafan tribe with the same call, and they responded too. The Quraysh came out with their company of men from various tribes and their followers, under the leadership of Abu Sufyan Sakhr bin Harb. The Ghatafan were led by Tjyaynah bin Hisn bin Badr. In all they numbered nearly ten thousand.

647 Surah 33. Al-Ahzab (9 - 10) (Part-21 When the Messenger of Allah jg heard that they had set out, he commanded the Muslims to dig a ditch (Khandaq) around Al-Madinah from the east. This was on the advice of Salman Al-Farisi, may Allah be pleased with him. So the Muslims did this, working hard, and the Messenger of Allah sg worked with them, carrying earth away and digging, in the process of which there occurred many miracles and clear signs. The idolators came and made camp to the north of Al-Madinah, near Uhud, and some of them camped on the high ground overlooking Al-Madinah, as Allah says: i'f-t Jt fS&r iWlien they came upon you from above you and from below you) The Messenger of Allah jg came out with the believers, who numbered nearly three thousand, or it was said that they numbered seven hundred. They had their backs towards (the mountain of) Sal' and were facing the enemy, and the ditch, in which there was no water, was between the two groups, preventing the cavalry and infantry from reaching them. The women and children were in the strongholds of Al-Madinah. Banu Qurayzah, who were a group among the Jews, had a fortress in the south-east of Al-Madinah, and they had made a treaty with the Prophet and were under his protection. They numbered nearly eight hundred fighters. Huyay bin Akhtab An-Nadari went to them and kept trying to persuade them until they broke the treaty and went over to the side of the Confederates against the Messenger of Allah jg. The crisis deepened and things got worse, as Allah says: yii; iThrcr, the believers were tried and shaken with a mighty shaking) [33: 11] They besieged the Prophet jg and his Companions for almost a month, but they did not reach them and there was no fighting between them, except for when 'Amr bin 'Abd Wadd Al-'Amiri, who was one of the most famous and bravest horsemen of the Jahiliyyah, came with some other horsemen, and crossed the ditch to the Muslim side. The Messenger of Allah jg called for the Muslim cavalry, and it was said that no one came forward.

648 Tafslr Ibn KathXr Then he called 'Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, who came forward and they fought in single combat until Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, killed him, and this was a sign of imminent victory. Then Allah sent an intensely cold wind with strong gusts against the Confederates, and they were left with no tents or anything else; they could not light any fires or do anything, and so they departed, disappointed and defeated, as Allah says: ^&p fi'Z \ $p#8 ip: sji 40 you who believe! This refers to the angels who shook them and cast fear and terror into their hearts. The chief of each tribe said, "O Banu so-and-so, to me!" So they gathered around him, and he said, "Let us save ourselves," when Allah cast fear and terror into their hearts. In his Sahih, Muslim recorded that Ibrahim At-Taymi said that his father said: "We were with Hudhayfah bin Al-Yaman, may Allah be pleased with him, and a man said to him: If I had met the Messenger of Allah ^ I would have fought alongside him and I would have striven my utmost.' And Allah is Ever All-Strong, All-Mighty.} Allah drovebacktheConfederatesdisappointedand lost Allah tells us how he drove the Confederates away from Al- Madlnah by sending against them a wind and troops of angels. If Allah had not made his Messenger a Mercy to the Worlds, this wind would have been more severe than the barren wind which He sent against ‘Ad, but Allah says: iAnd Allah would not punish them while you are amongst them (8 :33). So, Allah sent them a wind which dispersed them after they had gathered on the basis of their whims. They were a mixture of tribes and parties with a variety of opinions, so it was befitting that a wind should be sent against them that would scatter them and break up their gathering, driving them back disappointed and lost in their hatred and enmity. They did not achieve any worldly good such as the victory and booty that they had hoped for, nor did they achieve any good in the Hereafter, because of their sin of declaring enmity against the Messenger jg and seeking to kill him and destroy his army. Whoever wants and seriously intends to do a thing is the same as one who actually does it. 4J ojrtjii’ iii iAllah sufficedfor the believers in thefighting.} means, they did not have to fight them in order to expel them from their land, but Allah Alone sufficed them and helped His servant and granted victory to His troops. The Campaign against Banu Qurayzah We have already noted that when the Confederates came and camped outside Al-Madlnah, Banu Qurayzah broke the covenant that existed between them and the Messenger of Allah jg. This happened by the agency of Huyay bin Akhtab An-Nadari, may Allah curse him, who entered their stronghold and would not leave their leader, KaTi bin Asad, alone until he agreed to break the covenant. Among the things that he said to him was, "Woe to you! This is the opportunity for glory. The Quraysh and their company of men from various tribes, and the Ghatafan and their followers, have come to you, and they will stay here until they eliminate Muhammad and his companions." Kah said to him, "No, by Allah, this is the opportunity for humiliation. Woe to you, O Huyay, you are a bad omen. Leave us alone." But Huyay kept trying to persuade him until he agreed to his request. He laid down the condition that if the Confederates went away without doing anything, he [Huyay] would join them in their stronghold and would share their fate. When Banu Qurayzah broke their covenant and news of this reached the Messenger of Allah jg, he and the Muslims were veiy distressed by that. When Allah helped him by suppressing his enemy and driving them back disappointed and lost, having gained nothing, the Messenger of Allah 3g returned to Al-Madlnah in triumph and the people put down their weapons. While the Messenger of Allah sg was washing off the dust of battle in the house of Umm Salamah, may Allah be pleased with her, Jibril, upon him be peace, came to him wearing a turban of brocade, riding on a mule on which was a cloth of silk brocade. He said, "Have you put down your weapons, O Messenger of Allah?"

arm vein during the campaign of Al-Khandaq. The Messenger of Allah jgg had had his vein cauterized and had brought him to stay in a tent in the Masjid so that he could keep a close eye on him. One of the things that Sa'd, may Allah be pleased with him, said in his supplication was, "O Allah, if there is still anything that has to do with the war against Quraysh, then keep me alive for it, and if You decree that the war between us and them is over, then let the bleeding be renewed, but do not let me die until I get my satisfaction with regard to Banu Qurayzah." Allah answered his prayer and decreed that they would agree to be referred to him for judgement, and this was their own free choice. When this happened, the Messenger of Allah jg called him to come from Al-Madlnah to pass judgement on them. When he arrived, riding on a donkey that had been specially equipped for him to ride, some of the 'Aws began to urge him not to be too harsh, saying, "O Sa'd, they are your clients so be kind to them, trying to soften his heart." But he kept quiet and did not answer them. When they persisted in their request, he said, "Now it is time for Sa'd to make sure that no rebuke or censure will divert him from the path of Allah." Then they knew that he would not let them live. When he reached the tent where the Messenger of Allah was, the Messenger of Allah jg said: >Stand upfor your leader . » So the Muslims stood up for him, and welcomed him with honor and respect as befitted his status and so that his judgement would have more impact. When he sat down, the Messenger ofAllah said: 'These people» - and he pointed to them - 'have agreed to accept your judgement, so pass judgement on them as you wish .» Sa'd, may Allah be pleased with him, said: "My judgement will be carried out?" The Messenger of Allfih jg said: "Yes." He said, "And it will be carried out on those who are in this tent?" He said, "Yes." He said, "And on those who are on this side?" - and he pointed towards the side where the Messenger

They had terrified the Muslims and intended to kill them so as to gain earthly power, but their plans backfired; the idolators ran away and the believers were victorious while the disbelievers were losers; where they had aimed for glory, they were humiliated. They wanted to eradicate the Muslims but they were themselves eradicated. In addition to all this, they are doomed in the Hereafter, so by all accounts they are counted as losers. Allah says: $a group you killed, and a group you made captives.} Those who were killed were their warriors, and the prisoners were their children and women. The Wives of the Prophet^ are not like Other Women This Ayah is addressed to the wives of the Prophet who chose Allah and His Messenger and the Home of the Hereafter, and remained married to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Thus it was befitting that there should be rulings which applied only to them, and not to other women, in the event that any of them should commit open Fahishah. Ibn ‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, said: “This means Nushuz (rebellion) and a bad attitude.”¹¹¹ Whatever the case, this is a conditional phrase and it does not imply that what is referred to would actually happen. Allah said, addressing the wives of the Prophet ﷺ that they should fear Allah as He commanded them, and that no other woman is like them or can be their equal in virtue and status. Then Allah says: ithen be not soft in speech As-Suddi and others said, this means, do not be gentle in speech when addressing men. Ibn Jarir narrated that Safiyyah bint Shaybah said: “A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said, The Prophet went out one morning wearing a striped cloak of black camel’s hair. For the revelation did not come to the Messenger of Allah in the bed of any of his wives except hers, as he stated. Some of the scholars, may Allah have mercy on them, said: “This was because he did not many any other virgin besides her, and no man slept with her in her bed before him | J], may Allah be pleased with her.” So it was befitting that she should be singled out for this blessing and high status. But if his wives are members of his household, then this title is even more fitting for his own relatives. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Abu Jamllah said: “Al-Hasan bin ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with them both, was appointed as Khalifah when ‘Ali was killed.” He said: “While he was praying, a man leapt on*him and stabbed him with a dagger.” Husayn claimed that he heard that the one who stabbed him was a man from Banu Asad, and Al-Hasan, may Allah be pleased with him, was prostrating at the time. Allah has told us in His Book, and His Messenger jgg has told us in the Mu.tawd.tir Sunnah, that there will be no Prophet after him, so that it may be known that everyone who claims this status after him is a liar and fabricator who is misguided and is misleading others. Even if he twists meanings, comes up with false claims and uses tricks and vagaries, all of this is false and is misguidance as will be clear to those who have understanding. This is what Allah caused to happen in the case of Al-Aswad Al-‘Ansi in the Yemen and Musaylimah the Liar in Al- Yamamah, whose false miracles and nonsensical words showed everyone who was possessed of understanding that they were liars who were leading people astray; may the curse of Allah be upon them both. This is the case with every false prophet until the Day of Resurrection, until they end with Al- MasVx Ad-Dajjal (the Antichrist). Each of these liars is given by Allah signs which show the people of knowledge and the believers that his message is false - which is part of the perfect kindness of Allah towards His creation. Ibn ‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, Said bin Al-Musayyib, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, ‘Ali bin Al-Husayn Zayn-ul-‘Abidin and a group of the Salaf took this Ayah as evidence that divorce cannot occur unless it has been preceded by marriage, because Allah says. hP' lil< iWhen you marry believing women, and then divorce them The marriage contract here is followed by divorce, which indicates that the divorce cannot be valid if it comes first.111 Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “If someone were to say, ‘every woman I marry will ipso facto be divorced,’ this does not mean anything, because Allah says: ti! \cX ouH iO you who believe! The Women who are Lawful for the Prophet jg Allah says, addressing His Prophet jg that He has made lawful for him of women his wives to whom he has given the dowry, which is what is meant by "their due", which is used here, as was stated by Mujahid and others . The dowry which he gave to his wives was twelve and half 'Uqiyah (measures of gold) so they all received five hundred Dirhams except for Umm Habibah bint Abi Sufyan, to whom An-Najashi, may Allah have mercy on him, gave four hundred Dinars (on behalf of the Prophet jg) Safiyyah bint Huyay, whom he chose from among the prisoners of Khaybar, then he set her free, making her release her dowry. A similar case was that of Juwayriyah bint Al-Harith Al-Mustalaqiyyah - he paid off the contract to buy her freedom from Thabit bin Qays bin Shammas and married her. Cjbj vLf' } i and the daughters of your paternal uncles and the daughters of your paternal aunts and the daughters of your maternal uncles and the daughters of your maternal aunts This is justice which avoids going to either extreme, for the Christians do not marry a woman unless there are seven grandfathers between the man and the woman (i.e., they are very distantly related or not at all), and the Jews allow a man to marry his brother's daughter or his sister's daughter. So the pure and perfect Shari'ah came to cancel out the extremes of m At-Tabari 20 :284.

the Christians, and permitted marriage to the daughter of a paternal uncle or aunt, or the daughter of a maternal uncle or aunt, and forbade the excesses of the Jews who allowed marriage to the daughter of a brother or sister which is an abhorrent thing. J j'J oj 'Jif, i and a believing woman if she offers herself to the Prophet, and the Prophet wishes to marry her - a privilege for you only,) means, 'also lawful for you,

O Prophet, is a believing woman if she offers herself to you, to marry her without a dowry, if you wish to do so.' This Ayah includes two conditions. Imam Ahmad recorded from Sahl bin Sa'd As-Sa'idi that a woman came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ; and said, "O Messenger of Allah, verily, I offer myself to you {for marriage}." She stood there for a long time, then a man stood up and said, "O Messenger of Allah, marry her to me if you do not want to marry her." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Do you have anything that you could give to her as a dowry?" He said, "I have only this garment of mine." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "If you give her your garment, you will be left with no garment. Look for something." He said, "I do not have anything." He said: "Look for something, even if it is only an iron ring. So he looked, but he could not find anything. Then the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said to him: "Do you have [know] anything of the Qur'an?" He said, "Yes, Surah such and such and Surah and such," he named the Surahs. So, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: "Marry her to you with what you know of the Qur'an." It was also recorded by (Al-Bukhari and Muslim) from the Hadith of Malik . Ibn Abi Hatim recorded a narration from his father that 'A'ishah said: "The woman who offered herself to the Prophet was Khawlah bint Hakim ." Al-Bukhari recorded that Aishah said, "I used to feel jealous of those women who offered themselves to the Prophet and I said. Would a woman offer herself?" When Allah revealed the Ayah: "You can postpone whom you will of them, and you may receive whom you will. And whomsoever you desire of those whom you have set aside, it is no sin on you" I said, I see that your Lord hastens to confirm your desires . Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said: "The Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not have any wife who offered herself to him." This was recorded by Ibn Jarir.¹⁵ In other words, he did not accept any of those who offered themselves to him, even though they were lawful for him - a ruling which applied to him alone. The matter was left to his own choice, as Allah says: "If the Prophet wishes to marry her" meaning, if he chooses to do so. "A privilege for you only, not for the (rest of) the believers." Ahmad 5:336. Fath Al-Bari⁹ :97 , Muslim 2 :1040 [3] Al-Bayhaqi 7:55. ,4) Fath Al-Bari⁸ :385 [S] At-Tabari 20:288.

Surah 33. Al-Ahzab (50) (Part-22) Ikrimah said: "This means, it is not permissible for anyone else to marry a woman who offers herself to him; if a woman offers herself to a man, it is not permissible for him (to marry her) unless he gives her something. ¹¹ This was also the view of Mujahid, Ash-Shalji and others.^[2] In other words, if a woman offers herself to a man, when he consummates the marriage, he has to give her a dowry like that given to any other woman of her status, as the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ruled in the case of Barwa' bint Washiq when she offered herself in marriage; the Messenger of Allah ﷺ ruled that she should be given a dowry that was appropriate for a woman like her after her husband died. Death and consummation are the same with regard to the confirmation of the dowry, and the giving of a dowry appropriate to the woman's status in the case of those who offer themselves to men other than the Prophet is an established ruling. With regard to the Prophet ﷺ himself, he is not obliged to give a dowry to a woman who offers herself to him, even if he consummated the marriage, because he has the right to marry without a dowry, Wali (representative) or witnesses, as we have seen in the story of Zaynab bint Jahsh, may Allah be pleased with her. Qatadah said, concerning the Ayah: "A privilege for you only, not for the (rest of) the believers." > no woman has the right to offer herself to any man without a Wali or a dowry, except to the Prophet ﷺ. (31) Indeed We know what We have enjoined upon them about their wives and those (servants) whom their right hands possess,> Ubayy bin Ka'b, Mujahid, Al-Hasan, Qatadah and Ibn Jarir said, concerning the Ayah: Ad-DurrAl-Manthur 6 :63 1 ,2) At-Tabari 20:286, 287. At-Tabari 20:286.

724 Tajsir Ibt Kathir ilndeed We know what We have enjoined upon them about their wives} means, ‘concerning the limiting of their number to four free women, 1 11 and whatever they wish of slave-girls, and the conditions of a representative, dowery and witnesses to the marriage. This is with regard to the Ummah (the people), but We have granted an exemption in your case and have not imposed any of these obligations upon you.’ 4\L^> (JS& 4in order that there should be no difficulty on you. Important Guidelines About the Authenticity of the Reports and Quotations in the Tafsīr of Ibn Kathīr Reports from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ Reports that are attributed to the companions of Allah's Messenger are commonly used for additional explanation of the meanings of the Qur'an. As for those quotes that Ibn Kathīr mentions in passing, these quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as an evidence against what is known to be authentic. Additional information in this regard is found in the Introduction of Ibn Kathir. Incomplete Chains of Narration The following is a list of common incomplete chains of narrations that Al-Hafiz Ibn Kathir often quotes. - ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah (Al-Walibi) reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said... - (‘Atiyah) Al-‘Awfi reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said... - Ad-Dahhak from Ibn ‘Abbas. - As-Suddi reported from Abu Malik and Abu Salih from Ibn ‘Abbas, Ibn Mas‘ud and (or) some men among the companions. - Al-Hasan Al-Basri reporting from or about the Prophet ﷺ. - Qatadah reporting from or about the Prophet ﷺ. All narrations coming from these chains are unauthentic according to the Sciences of Hadith. Their meanings, however, may be correct as understood by authentic texts, and for this reason they are commonly referenced. Reports from the Followers of the Companions and those who Follow them The following is a list of those who did not see the Prophet but they report from companions of the Prophet ﷺ, while often they themselves are quoted for Tafsir. Reports that are attributed to them are used as additional support in understanding certain issues by Ibn Kathir. Such quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as evidence against the authentic evidence. Abu Al-‘Aliyah, Said bin Jubayr, Said bin Al-Musayib, ‘Ata’ (bin Abi Rabah), ‘Ata’ Al-Khurasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Ar-Rabi‘ bin Anas, Ash-Shahbi, Qatadah, Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Ad-Dahhak, ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam (Ibn Zayd), Ibn Jurayj. Other Scholars After the Companions The following are some scholars that Ibn Kathir often quotes from. Since these scholars are not well known to the average English reader, one should beware that their own statements about the Prophet ﷺ, his companions, or circumstances surrounding the Qur’an’s revelation, are not to be considered as important as authentically narrated texts. Waki‘, Sufyan Ath-Thawri, Muhammad bin Ishaq, Ibn ‘Atiyyah, Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn Jarir (At-Tabari).

(Chapter - 33) — Continued— The Prophet ﷺ has the Choice of either accepting or rejecting Women who offer Themselves to Him Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘A’ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, used to feel jealous of the women who offered themselves to the Prophet She said, “Would a woman not feel shy to offer herself without any dowry?” Then Allah revealed the Ayah, 4 Cj4 id} Ztfij 51; j£) iYou can postpone whom you will of them, and you may receive whom you will.) She said, I think that your Lord is hastening to confirm your desire. 11 We have already stated that Al-Bukhari also recorded this. This indicates that what is meant by the word: 4postpone^ is delay, and 4c£i ^ iwhom you will of them) means, ‘of those who offer themselves to you.’ ce id} x&£f) i°nd you may receive whom you will.) means, ‘whoever you wish, you may accept, and whoever you wish, you may decline, but with regard to those whom you decline, you have the choice of going back to them later on and receiving them.’ Allah says: 4'-hlr- Xi cJ o-iM Ji>) 4And whomsoever you desire of those whom you have set aside, it is no sin on you (to receive her again).) Others said that what is meant by: 4inii ttii a4 >jr/) 4You can postpone (the turn of) whom you will of them,) means, tyour wives: there is no sin on you if you stop dividing your time equally between them, and delay the turn of one of them and bring forward the turn of another as you wish, and you have intercourse with one and not another as you wish.’ This was narrated from Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, Al-Hasan,  Ahmad 6:158. 121 Fath Al-Bari 8 :385

Qatadah, Abu Razln, ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam and others. Nevertheless, the Prophet sg used to divide his time between them equally, hence a group of the scholars of Fiqh among the Shafils and others said that equal division of time was not obligatory for him jg and they used this Ayah as their evidence. Al-Bukhari recorded that ‘A’ishah said: “The Messenger of Allah jg used to ask permission of us (for changing days) after this Ayah was revealed: £Ur Vi 4You can postpone whom you will of them, and you may receive whom you will. A\i’d whomsoever you desire of those whom you have set aside, it is no sin on you.” I (the narrator) said to her: “What did you say?” She said, “I said, ‘If it were up to me, 1 would not give preference to anyone with regard to you, O Messenger of Allah!’” * 1 ’ This Hadith indicates that what is meant in this Hadith from ‘A’ishah is that it was not obligatory on him to divide his time equally between his wives. The first Hadith quoted from her implies that the Ayah was revealed concerning the women who offered themselves to him. Ibn Jarir preferred the view that the Ayah was general and applies both to the women who offered themselves to him and to the wives that he already had, and that he was given the choice whether to divide him time among them or not.’2 ’ This is a good opinion which reconciles between the Hadiths. Allah says: jaj# ithat is better that they may be comforted and not grieved, and may all be pleased with wluit you give them.} meaning, ‘if they know that,t Allah has stated that there is no sin on you with regard to dividing your time. Therefore if you divide your time between them, this will be your choice, and not a duty that is enjoined upon you, so they will feel happy because of that and will recognize your favor towards them in sharing your time equally among themand being fair to all of them.’ iAUah knows what is in your hearts.} means, ‘He knows that you are more inclined towards some ofthem than others, which you cannot avoid.’ Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘A’ishah said: “The Messenger of Allah used to divide his time between his wives fairly and treat them equally, then he said: VjXX UJ * .iuii UJ Jki lii «0 Allah, I have done as much as I can with regard to what is under my control , so do not blame me for that which is under Your control and not mine . After the words “so do not blame me for that which is under Your control and not mine,” Abu Dawud’s report adds the phrase: Jill; LLi •&> «So do not blame me for that which is under Your control and not mine.* meaning matters of the heart.12 , Its chain of narration is Sahih, and all themen in its chain are reliable. It is not lawful far you (to marry other) women after this, nor to change them far other wives even though their beauty attracts you, except those whom your right hand possesses. And Allah is Ever a Watcher over all things. The Reward of His Wives for choosing to stay with the Messenger^ More than one of the scholars, such as Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, Ad-Dahhak, Qatadah, Ibn Zayd, Ibn Jarir and others * stated that this Ayah was revealed as a reward to the wives of the Prophet expressing Allah's pleasure with them for their excellent decision in choosing Allah and His Messenger jgg and the Home of the Hereafter, when the Messenger of Allah gave them the choice, as we have stated above. When they chose the Messenger of Allah their reward was that Allah restricted him to these wives, and forbade him to marry anyone else or to change them for other wives, even if he was attracted by their beauty - apart from slave-girls and prisoners of war, with regard to whom there was no sin on him. Then Allah lifted the restriction stated in this Ayah and permitted him to marry more women,*2 * but he did not marry anyone else, so that the favor of the Messenger of Allah towards them would be clear. Imam Ahmad recorded that 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said: "The Messenger of Allah jg£ did not die until Allah permitted (marriage to other) women for him."*3 ' It was also recorded by At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasal in their Simons.*4 On the other hand, others said that what was meant by the Ayah, 4& 'ot i'Qji£ U. 4It is not lawful far you (to marry other) women after this, means, 'after the description We have given of the women who are lawful for you, those to whom you have given their dowery, At-Tabari 20:297, 299. * Ahmad 6:41 * See SuratAl-Ahzab 33 :50 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 9 :78 , An-Nasal 6 :56

Whether you reveal anything or conceal it, verily, Allah is Ever All-Knower ofeverything.} The Etiquette ofentering the Houses ofthe ProphetM and theCommand ofHijab This is the Ayah of Hijab, which includes several legislative rulings and points of etiquette. This is one of the cases where the revelation confirmed the opinion of TJmar bin Al-Khattab, may Allah be pleased with him, as it was reported in the Two Sahihs that he said: "My view coincided with that of my Lord in three things. I said, 'O Messenger of Allah, why do you not take Maqam Ibrahim as a place of prayer?' Then Allah revealed: 4fa -j& m 4And take you (people) the Maqam (place) of Ibrahim as a place ofprayer} (2:125) And I said, 'O Messenger of Allah, both righteous and immoral people enter upon your wives, so why do you not screen

And I said to the wives of the Prophet jg when they conspired against him out ofjealousy, i&t£ c# 4;^ may be if he divorced you (all) that his Lord will give him instead ofyou, wives better than you> (66:5), and this is what Allah revealed." In a report recorded by Muslim, the prisoners of Badr are mentioned, and this is a fourth matter (in which the view of TJmar coincided with that of his Lord).*21 Al-Bukhari recorded that Anas bin Malik said: "Umar bin Al-Khattab said: 'O Messenger of Allah, both righteous and immoral people enter upon you, so why not instruct the Mothers of the believers to observe Hijab?' Then Allah revealed the Ayah of Hijab. Al-Bukhari recorded that Anas bin Malik, may Allah be pleased with him, said: "When the Messenger of Allah jfe married Zaynab bint Jahsh, he invited the people to eat, then they sat talking. When he wanted to get up, they did not get up. When he saw that, he got up anyway, and some of them got up, but three people remained sitting. The Prophet wanted to go in, but these people were sitting, then they got up and went away. I came and told the Prophet that they had left, then he came and entered. I sent someone to invite people to the feast, and some people came and ate, then left. Then another group came and ate, and left. 1 invited people until there was no one left to invite. She said, ‘And upon you be peace and the mercy of Allah. How did you find your (new) wife, O Messenger of Allah? Then the Prophet jg came back, and those three people were still talking in the house. The Prophet jg was extremely shy, so he went out and headed towards ‘A’ishah’s apartment. I do not know whether I told him or someone else told him when the people had left, so he came back, and when he was standing with one foot over the threshold and the other foot outside, he placed the curtain between me and him, and the Ayah of Hijab was revealed.”*3 This was recorded only by Al-Bukhari among the authors of the Six Books, apart from An-Nasal, in Al-Yaum wal-Laulah.*4 iEnter not the Prophet's houses,} the believers were prohibited Path Al-Bari 1 1 :24 Muslim 2 :1050, An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 6 : 435. * Fath Al-Bari 8:388. Whoever asks Allah for Al-Wastlah for me, it will be permitted for me to intercede for him.” This was recorded by Muslim, Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasal.^{*21} Other occasions when we should send Salah upon the Prophet include when entering or exiting the Masjid, because of the Hadith recorded by Imam Ahmad from Fatimah, the daughter of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ who said: *“When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ entered the Masjid, he would send Salah and Salam upon Muhammad, and say, ij? ^*0 ij.y*j j' «0 Allah, forgive me my sins and open for me the gates of Your mercy» When he exited, he would send Salah and Salam upon Muhammad, and say, «0 Allah, forgive me my sins and open for me the gates of Your bounty»*^{*3} ' We should also send Salah upon him during the Funeral prayer. The Sunnah is to recite Surat Al-Fatihah following the first Takbir, to send Salah upon the Prophet ﷺ during the second Takbir, to make supplication for the deceased during the third Takbir, and in the fourth Takbir to say, “O Allah, do not deprive us of his reward, and do not test us after him.” Ash-Shafil, may Allah have mercy on him, recorded that Abu Umamah bin Sahl bin Hunayf was told by one of the Companions of the Prophet that the Sunnah in the funeral prayer is for the Imam to pronounce the Takbir, then to recite Surat Al-Fatihah silently after the first Takbir, then to send Salah upon the Prophet ﷺ then to offer sincere supplication for the deceased, but not to recite any Qur'an in any of the 111 Ahmad 2 :168. ^{*21} Muslim 1 :288, Abu Dawud 1 :359, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 1 :83, An-Nasal 2 :25. 131 Ahmad 6 :282

At-Tirmidhi recorded that Umar bin Al-Khattab said: “A

Do not treat me like a spare water container, send Salah upon me at the beginning of your supplication, at the end and in the middle. Sending Salah upon the Prophet jg is even more strongly encouraged in the Qunut supplication. Ahmad, the Sunan compilers, Ibn Khuzaymah, Ibn Hibban and Al-Hakim recorded that Al-Hasan bin 'Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, said: “The Messenger of Allah jg taught me some words to say during Al-Witr. * Musnad Ash-Shafi'ip . 210 An-Nasal 4:75. * Here the meaning is that the statement; “this is the Sunnah” coming from a Companion means that it carries the ruling of having come from the Prophet jg himself.  ‘So <yy esc$ iMusa, peace be upon him, was a shy and modest man who would never show anything of his skin because of his shyness. Some of the Children of Israel annoyed him by saying: “He only keeps himself covered because of some defect in his skin, either leprosy or scrotal hernia or some other defect.” Allah, may He be glorified, wanted to clear Musa, peace be upon him, of what they were saying. One day Musa was alone, so he took off his garment and put it on a rock, then he took a bath. When he had finished, he turned back to pick up his garment, but the rock moved away, taking his garment with it. Musa picked up his stick and chased the rock, saying, “My garment, O rock! My garment, O rock!” Until he reached a group of the Children of Israel, who saw him naked and found that he was the best of those whom Allah had created. Thus he was cleared of what they had said about him. Then the rock stood still, so he took his garment and put it on. He started hitting the rock with his stick, and by Allah, the marks of that beating were left HowMan bore theAmanah Al-‘Awfi reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Al-Amdnah means obedience. This was offered to them before it was offered to Adam, and they could not bear it. Then Allah said to Adam: I have offered the Amanah to the heavens and the earth and the mountains, and they could not bear it. Will you take it on?’ He said, ‘O Lord, what does it involve?’ He said, If you do good, you will be rewarded, and ifyou do evil, you will be punished.’ So Adam took the Amanah and bore it, and this is what is referred to in the Ayah 4x4^- ‘Al iBut man bore it. Verily, he was unjust and ignorant.}”Il] ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Al-Amdnah means Al-Fara’id (the obligatory duties). Allah offered them to the heavens and the earth and the mountains, (on the grounds that) if they fulfilled them, He would reward them; and if they failed, He would punish them. But they did not want to do that, and theywere afraid of it, not because their intentionwas sinful, but because oftheir respect for the religion ofAllah, in case they could not fulfill the obligations involved. Then Allah offered it to Adam, and he accepted it with all that it entailed. This is what is referred to in the Ayah: iBut man bore it. Verily, he was unjust and ignorant.}’ meaning, he underestimated the command of Allah.”*2 This was also the view of Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr, Ad- Dahhak, Al-Hasan Al-Basri and others that Al-Amdnah means Al-Fara’id.. * Others said that it meant obedience. Al-A*mash narrated from Abu Ad-Duha from Masrttq that Ubayy bin Ka*b said: “Part of Al-Amdnah means that woman was entrusted with her own chastity. ”*4 ' Qatadah said: “Al-Amdnah means religion, obligatoiy duties and prescribed punishments. ”*5 111 At-Tabari 20:338. [2> At-Tabari 20:337. 131 At-Tabari 20:337. At-Tabari 20:338. At-Tabari 20:339.

Malik narrated that Zayd bin Aslam said: “Al-Amanah means three things: prayer, fasting and performing Ghusl to cleanse oneself from sexual impurity.” There is no contradiction between all of these views; they are all in agreement and all refer to responsibility and the acceptance of commands and prohibitions with their attendant conditions, which is that the one who fulfills this responsibility, will be rewarded; while the one who neglects it, will be punished. Man accepted this despite the fact that he is weak, ignorant and unjust - except for those whom Allah helps, and Allah is the One Whose help we seek. One of the reports which deal with Al-Amanah is the Hadlth recorded by Imam Ahmad from Hudhayfah, may Allah be pleased with him, who said: “The Messenger of Allah jg told us two Hadiths, one of which I have seen and the other 1 am still waiting to see. He told us that Al-Amanah is deeply rooted in the heart of man, then the Qur’an was revealed and they know it from the Qur’an and from the Sunnah. Then he told us that Al-Amanah will be taken away. He said, J^Jl } \ J4 \k')\ tJi jf l uVl tp ji^JI «A man may sleep and Al-Amanah will be taken from his heart, leaving nothing but a trace like a blister left by a coal if you were to roll it over your leg - you will see it protruding but there is nothing inside. » Then he tooka pebble and rolled itover his leg, then he said: •jtwj 3-? j Uj !3l1p 1j U dli i iThen the people will start buying and selling, and hardly anyone will be paying attention to Al-Amanah, until it will be said that among the tribe of so-and-so there is a trustworthy man, and it will said of a man, ‘how strong he is, how nice and how wise,’ and there is not even a mustard seed offaith in his heart. No doubt, there came upon me a time when I did not mind dealing (bargaining) with anyone of you, for if he was a Muslim, his Islam would compel him to pay me what is due to and who obey Him. 4And Allah is Ever Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. This is end of the Tafsir of Surat Al-Ahzab. Allah's is the praise and thanks.

Opening The Tafsir of Surah Saba' (Chapter - 34) Which was revealed in Makkah In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. the Most Merciful, the Oft-Forgiving.} All Praise and the Knowledge of the Unseen belong to Allah Alone Allah tells us that all praise belongs to Him alone in this world meaning, He knows the number of raindrops that sink into the depths of the earth, and the seeds that have been sown, and the things that are hidden in it, and He knows what comes forth from that, how many they are, how they grow and what they look like. and that which descends from the heaven) means, of raindrops and provision, and what ascends into it, i.e., righteous deeds and other things. <iss> %) 4 And He is the Most Merciful, the Oft-Forgiving.) means, He is Most Merciful to His servants; He does not hasten to punish them, and He forgives the sins of those who repent to Him and put their trust in Him. jui. m V & ji ItA1 Jtij) ^4= 4 & 253 % j £ 4# t-ji; U$ 'jiA <4/J '4,'^,* >fy I>i fri yC. iffrj <3. 77iose who disbelieve say: "The Hour will not come to us." That He may recompense those who believe and do righteous good deeds. Tlwse, theirs is forgiveness and generous provision.) 45. But those who strive against Our Ayat to frustrate them - those, for them will be a severe painful torment.) 46. And those who have been given knowledge see that what is revealed to you from your Lord is the truth, and that it guides to the path of the Exalted in might, Owner of all praise.)

63 Surah 34. Saba (3 - 6) (Part-22) from Him." ' In other words, everything is encompassed by His knowledge, and nothing is hidden from Him. Even though bones may be scattered and disintegrate, He knows where they have gone and where they have dispersed, then He will bring them back just as He created them in the first place, because He has knowledge of all things. Then Allah tells us of His wisdom in re-creating bodies and bringing about the Hour, as He says: Z& Zg £ *41 \p: cJ i That He may recompense those who believe and do righteous good deeds. Those, theirs is forgiveness and generous provision. But those who strive against Our Ayat to frustrate them^ meaning, those who try to turn others away from the path of Allah and who disbelieve His Messengers, pj v>'j*4 pity i those, for them will be a severe painful torment.} This means, He will bestow His favor upon the blessed, who are the believers, and will punish the doomed, who are the disbelievers. This is another kind of wisdom, following on from the one before, which is that when those who believed in what was revealed to the Messengers see the onset of the Hour and how the righteous and the wicked will be rewarded and punished respectively, which they knew of beforehand in this world from the Books of Allah and which they are now seeing with their own eyes, they will say: i$G& S3> ilndeed, the Messengers of our Lord did come with the truth} (7:43). Such that when he glorified Allah, the firm, solid, high mountains joined him in glorifying Allah, and the free-roaming birds, who go out in the morning and come back in the evening, stopped for him, and he was able to speak all languages. In the Sahih it is recorded that the Messenger of Allah sH heard the voice of Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari, may Allah be pleased with him, reciting at night, and he stopped and listened to his recitation, then he said: "This man has been given one of the sweet melodious voices of the Prophet Dawud. So they were punished with a flood which scattered them throughout the lands around Saba’ in all directions, as we will see in detail below, if Allah wills. In Him we put our trust. The meaning of the Prophet's words, JA dI£® He was a man among the Arabs.# means that he was one of the original Arabs, who were before Ibrahim, peace be upon him, and were descendants of Sam bin Nuh (Shem, the son of Noah). According to the third view mentioned above, he descended from Ibrahim, peace be upon him, but this was not a well-known view among them. And Allah knows best. But in Sahih Al-Bukhari, it is reported that the Messenger of Allah jg passed by a group of people from (the tribe of) Aslam who were practicing archery, and he said, <• 11.13^ H J- «Shoot, O sons of Isma'il, for your father was an archer. »'2' Aslam was a tribe of the Ansar, and the Ansar - both Aws and Khazraj - were from Ghassan, from the Arabs of Yemen from Saba', who settled in Yathrib when Saba' was scattered throughout the land when Allah sent against them the flood released from the dam. A group of them also settled in Syria, and they were called Ghassan for the name of the water beside which they camped - it was said that it was in the Yemen, or that it was near Al-Mushallal, as Hassan bin Thabit, may Allah be pleased with him, said in one of his poems. The meaning of his words: "If you ask, then we are the community of the noble descendants, our lineage is Al-Azd At-Tabari no. 28782. Fath Al-Bari 6 :261 and our water is Ghassan." «He /jfld fen sons among the Arabs. n' 1 ' means that these ten were of his lineage, and that the origins of the Arab tribes of the Yemen go back to him, not that they were his sons born of his loins. There may have been two or three generations between him and some of them, or more or less, as is explained in detail in the books of genealogy.

The meaning of the words, to them from between two mountains, combined with the floods from rainfall and their valleys. Their ancient kings built a huge, strong dam and the water reached a high level between these two mountains. Then they planted trees and got the best fruits that could ever be harvested, plentiful and beautiful. A number of the Salaf, including Qatadah, mentioned that a woman could walk beneath the trees, carrying a basket or vessel - such as is used for gathering fruit - on her head. And that the fruit would fall from the trees and fill the basket without any need for her to make the effort to pick the fruit, because it was so plentiful and ripe.¹³ ' This was the dam of Ma'Hrib, a land between which and San'a' was a journey of three days. Others said that in their land there were no flies, mosquitoes or fleas, or any kind of vermin. This was because the weather was good and the people were healthy, and Allah took care of them so that they would single out and worship Him alone, as He says: At-Tabari no. 28782. 200 Tafslr Ibn Kathir follow the example of the Messengers that came before him. He tells him that no Prophet was ever sent to a township but those among its people who lived a life of luxury disbelieved in him, and the weaker people of the town followed him. The people of Nuh, peace be upon him, said to him: /< if ‘ « p»» V ^ cef} iShall we believe in you, when the weakest (of the people) follow you?} (26:110) 4nor do we see any follow you but the meanest among us and they (too) followed you without thinking} (1 1:27). But if I remain guided, it is because of the Revelation of my Lord to me . . ." means, all good comes from Allah, and in what Allah sends down of revelation and clear truth there is guidance and wisdom. So whoever goes astray, does so by himself, as 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud, may Allah be pleased with him, said when he was asked about some issue. He said, "I will say what I think, and if it is correct, then it is from Allah, and if it is wrong, then it is from me and from the Shaytān, and Allah and His Messenger have nothing to do with it."*21 Truly, He is All-Hearer, Ever Near.} means. 127 Surah 35. Fatir (9-11) (Part-22) Evidence of Life after Death Often Allah refers to the Resurrection by using the analogy of the earth coming back to life after it has died, as in the beginning of Surat Al-Hajj, where He urges His servants to draw the lesson of the former from the latter. For the earth is dead and lifeless, with nothing growing in it, then He sends to it clouds which bring water, which He sends down upon it, it is stirred (to life), and it swells and puts forth every lovely kind (of growth)} (22:5). So too, when Allah wishes to resurrect the bodies, He will send rain from beneath the Throne which will cover the whole earth, and the bodies will grow in their graves like seeds grow in the earth. It says in the Sahih: > Z + > > * / ' . * * • “Every part of the son of Adam will disintegrate apart from the coccyx, from which he was created and from him he will be made anew.*^ Allah says: li i As such (will be) the Resurrection!} According to the Hadith of Abu Razin: “I said, ‘O Messenger of Allah, how will Allah bring the dead back to life? Allah, may He be glorified.' 1 ' Righteous Deeds ascend to Allah i' 4 To Him ascend the good words,} means, words of remembrance, recitation of Qur'an, and supplications. This was the view of more than one of the Salaf. Ibn Jarir recorded that Al-Mukhariq bin Sulaym said that “Abdullah bin Mas*ud, may Allah be pleased with him, said to them, “If we tell you a Hadith, we will bring you proof of it from the Book of Allah. When the Muslim servants say, ‘Glory and praise be to Allah, there is no god worthy of worship except Allah, Allah is Most Great and blessed be Allah,’ an angel takes these words and puts them under his wing, then he ascends with them to the heaven. He does not take them past any group of angels but they seek forgiveness for the one who said them, until he brings them before Allah, may He

Whoever remembers Allah and does not perform the obligatory duties, his words will be rejected, as will his deed.”121 {but those who plot evils,} Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr and Shahr bin Hawshab said, “This refers to those who show off by their actions,”3 ' i.e., they deceive the people by giving the impression that they are obeying Allah, when in fact they are hated by Allah for showing off. Allah says: theirs will be severe torment. And the plotting of such will perish.} meaning, it will fail and vanish, for their reality is apparent from up close to those who have insight and wisdom. No one conceals a secret but Allah will cause it to become known, on his face or by a slip of the tongue, or He will cause the person to wear it like a cloak (so that everyone will see it). If it is good, then the consequences will be good, and if it is bad, then the consequences will be bad. The person who shows off cannot continue to deceive anyone but the fool, but the believers who have insight are not deceived by that; from up close, they soon discover it. So, whoever can have his footsteps recorded for the purpose of obeying Allah, let him do that. Imam Ahmad recorded that Jabir bin ‘Abdullah, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “There was an empty area around the Masjid, and Banu Salamah wanted to move to be closer to the Masjid. people sifter they killed him, it was but one Sayhah and lo! they (all) were still} Ibn Jarir said, "The former view is more correct, because the Message does not need to be brought by an army."*2 * The scholars of Tafsir said, "Allah sent Jibril, peace be upon him, to them, and he seized the pillars at the gate of their city, then he hurled one Sayhah upon them and lo! they (all) were still, to the last man among them, and no soul was left in any body." We have already referred to the reports from many of the Salaf that this city was Antioch, and that these three Messengers were messengers sent from the Messiah "Isa bin Maryam, peace be upon him, as Qatadah and others stated. This is not mentioned by any of the later scholars of Tafsir besides him, and this issue must be examined from a number of angles. (The first) is that if we take this story at face value, it indicates that these men were Messengers from Allah, may He be glorified, not from the Messiah, peace be upon him, as Allah says: iWhen We sent to them two Messengers, they denied them both; so We reinforced them with a third, and they said: "Verily, we have been sent to you as Messengers."} up to: gif% Cj ipjt# & i"Our Lord knows that we luroe been sent as Messengers to you. And Allah knows best. Moreover, if they had been messengers sent by the Messiah, why would the people have said to them, Hi} 111 At-Tabari 20:510. 121 At-Tabari 20:511.

190 Tafstr Ibn Kathir i"You are only human beings like ourselves"^(The second) is that the people of Antioch did believe in the messengers sent by the Messiah to them. Antioch was the first city to believe in the Messiah, and it is one of the four cities in which there are Christian patriarchs. These cities are: Jerusalem, because it is the city of the Messiah; Antioch, because it was the first city where all of the people believed in the Messiah; Alexandria, because it was in that city that they agreed to reform the hierarchy of patriarchs, metropolitans (archbishops), bishops, priests, deacons and monks; and Rome, because it is the city of the Emperor Constantine who supported and helped to establish their religion. When he adopted Constantinople as his city, the Patriarch of Rome moved there, as has been mentioned by several historian, such as Said bin Batrfq and others, both People of the Book and Muslims. If we accept that, then the people of Antioch were the first to believe, but Allah tells us that the people of this town rejected His Messengers and that He destroyed them with one Sayhah and lo! they (all) were still. And Allah knows best. (The third) is that the story of Antioch and the Disciples of the Messiah happened after the Tawrah had been revealed. Abu Said Al-Khudri, may Allah be pleased with him, and others among the Salaf stated that after revealing the Tawrah, Allah, may He be blessed and exalted, did not destroy an entire nation by sending a punishment upon them. Rather, He commanded the believers to fight the idolators. They mentioned this when discussing the Ayah: iAtid indeed We gave Musa - after We had destroyed the generations ofold - the Scripture (28:43). This implies that the city mentioned in the Qur'an is a city other than Antioch, as also stated by more than one of the Salaf. Or, ifwe wish to keep the same name, it is possible that it is another Antioch, not the one which is well-known, for it is not known that it (the famous Antioch) was destroyed, either during Christian times or before. And Allah knows best. && 'J iVi$.aj \j& V] Jjij ^ JUAM

This was the view of Ibn ‘Abbas and Qatadah. Allah says: iWitl they not then give thanks?} meaning, will they not then give thanks for the innumerable blessings that He has bestowed upon them. Ibn Jarir, however, understood the word Ma to mean Alladhi (i.e., a relative pronoun). In this case the meaning of the Ayah would be that they eat from the fruits provided by Allah’s bounty and from what their own hands have done, i.e., by planting the seeds and tending the plants. Ibn Jarir mentioned other possible interpretations in his Tafsir, but this is the interpretation that he favored. This interpretation also fits with the recitation of Ibn Mas‘ud: ^J J (So that they may eat of the fruit thereof- andfrom what their own hands have done.) Allah says here: 4And a sign for them is the night. We withdraw therefrom the day,) meaning, *We take it away from it, so it goes away and the night comes.' Allah says: pi i and behold, they are in darkness .) As it says in the Hadith:

>ii iii JI I Ilf* 'y» j[£}\ jzVj t ll^A y* Jill Jjt til » ilA/hen the night comes from here, and the day departs from here, and the sun has set, then the fasting person should break his fast . This is the apparent meaning of the Ayah Allah's saying: LiO'j s',J iAnd the sun runs on its fixed course for a term (appointed). That is the decree of the Almighty, the All-Knowing There are two views over the meaning of the phrase ion its fixed course for a term (appointed).} (The first view) is that it refers to its fixed course of location, which is beneath the Throne, beyond the earth in that direction. Wherever it goes, it is beneath the Throne, it and all of creation, because the Throne is the roof of creation and it is not a sphere as many astronomers claim. Rather it is a dome supported by legs or pillars, carried by the angels, and it is above the universe, above the heads of people. When the sun is at its zenith at noon, it is in its closest position to Throne, and when it runs in its fourth orbit at the opposite point to its zenith, at midnight, it is in its furthest position from the Throne. At that point it prostrates and asks for permission to rise, as mentioned in the Hadiths. Al-Bukhari recorded that Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, said, "I was with the Prophet in the Masjid at sunset, and he said: aL, 'J6 y\ ^jj3\ ijid u» "O Abu Dharr! Do you know where the sun sets?*" I said, 'Allah and His Messenger know best.' He said: FathAl-Bari4:231

197Surah 36. Yd Sin (37 - 40) (Part-23 alt goes and prostrates beneath the Throne, and that is what Alldh says : iAnd the sun runs on its fixed course for a term That is the decree of the Almighty, the All-Knowing It was also reported that Abu Dharr, may Allah be pleased with him, said, "I asked the Messenger of Allah jg about the Ayah iAnd the sun runs on its fixed course for a term.) He said: alts fixed course is beneath the Throne.s"12 (The second view) is that this refers to when the sun's appointed time comes to an end, which will be on the Day of Resurrection, when its fixed course will be abolished, it will come to a halt and it will be rolled up. This world will come to an end, and that will be the end of its appointed time. This is the fixed course of its time. Qatadah said: ion its fixed course for a term (appointed).} means, "It has an appointed time and it will not go beyond that."*31 It was also said that this means, it keeps moving in its summer orbit for a certain time, and it does not exceed that, then it moves to its winter orbit for a certain time, and it does not exceed that. This was narrated from 'Abdullah bin 'Amr, may Allah be pleased with him. Ibn Mas'ud and Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with them, recited this Ayah as: 0kJ (And the sun runs with no fixed course for a term,) meaning that it has no destination and it does not settle in one place, rather it keeps moving night and day, never slowing down or stopping, as in the Ayah: 111 Fath Al-Bari 8 :402 121 FathAl-Bari 8:402. Al-Tabari 20:517.

198 Tafsir Ibn Kathir ^OHp He has made the sun and the moon, both constantly pursuing their courses, to be of service to you} (14:33). which means, they will never slow down or stop, until the Day of Resurrection. ijffo jy iThat is the decree of the Almighty, means, which none oppose or prevent. can ithe All-Knowing Who knows every movement and every cessation of movement, Who has decreed that and Who has set it in motion following a pattern in which there are no differences or inversions, as Allah says: i(He is the) Cleaver of the daybreak. Such is the measuring of the Almighty, the All-Knowing (6:96) And this is how this Ayah ends: jrjfoi JXU iThat is the decree of the Almighty, the All-Knowing> Then Allah says: iJfC isa iAnd the moon, We have decreed for it stages, meaning, *We have caused it to run in a different orbit, from which passing of the months can be deduced, just as night and day are known from the sun.' V. i iAnd We have appointed the night and the day as two Ayat (signs). Then, We have obliterated the sign of the night while We have made the sign of the day illuminating, that you may seek bounty from your Lord, and that you may know the number of the years and the reckoning. And We have explained everything with full explanation . $ (17:12) So, He has given the sun its own light, and the moon its (reflection of) light, and has given each its own orbit. So the sun rises each day and sets at the end of the day, giving one kind of light all the time, but it moves, rising and setting at different points in the summer and winter, thus making the days and nights longer or shorter alternatively according to the season. Its authority is in the daytime, for it is the heavenly body that dominates the day. As for the moon, Allah has decreed that it should pass through different phases. At the beginning of the month, the moon appears small when it rises. It gives off little light, then on the second night its light increases and it rises to a higher position, and the higher it rises the more light it gives - even though it is reflected from the sun - until it becomes full on the fourteenth night of the month. Then it starts to wane until the end of the month, until it appears like the old dried curved date stalk. Ibn 'Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, said, "This is the original stem (which connects the bunch of dates to the tree)."111 The Arabs have a name for each set of three nights in a month, according to the phases of the moon. They call the first three nights Ghurar, the next three nights Nufab, the next three nights Tusa' (nine) - because the last of them is the ninth. The next three nights are called 'Ushar (ten) - because the first of them is the tenth. The next three nights are called Al-Bld (white) - because of the light of the moon which shines U1 At-Tabari 20 :518

200 Tafsir Ibn Kathir brightly throughout these three nights. The next three nights are called Dura', the plural of Dar'a', because on the first of them the night is dark from the moon rising late. Dar'a' refers to the black sheep, i.e., the one whose head is black; the next three nights Zulam; then Hanadis, then Da'adv, then Mihdq, because of the absence of moonlight at the beginning of the month. Abu TJBayd did not recognize the names Tusa' and 'Ushar, in the book Gharxb Al-Musannaf. ij^ iJ 1 li J.l * ! So it is not appropriate for the sun to rise at night. 4c$ inor does the night outstrip the day> means, after night has passed, it is not right for another night to come until it has been day. (It will be said to them) : "Salam (Peace!)" - a Word from the Lord, Most Merciful The Life of the People of Paradise Allah tells us that on the Day of Resurrection, when the people of Paradise have reached the arena of judgement, and have settled in the gardens of Paradise, they will be too preoccupied with their own victory and new life of eternal delights to worry about anyone else. Al-Hasan Al-Basri and Ismail bin Abi Khalid said, "They will be too busy to think about the torment which the people of Hell are suffering. Mujahid said:

Did you not then understand?”} The Isolation of the Disbelievers and Their Rebuke on the Day of Resurrection Allah tells us what the end of the disbelievers will be on the Day of Resurrection, when He commands them to get apart from the believers, i.e., to stand apart from the believers. This is like the Ayat <And the Day whereon We shall gather them all together, then We shall say to those who did set partners in worship with Us : “Stop at your place! You and your partners.” Then We shall separate them} (10:28). (And on the Day when the Hour will be established - that Day shall they be separated.) 212 Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4 (It will be said to the angels): “Assemble those who did wrong, together with their companions and what they used to worship, instead of Allah, and lead them on to the way of flaming Fire (Hell).” (37:22-23). (Did I not command you, O Children of Adam, that you should not worship Shaytan? Verily, he is a plain enemy to you.) This is a rebuke from Allah to the disbelievers among the sons of Adam, those who obey the Shaytan even though he was a plain enemy to them, and they disobeyed Ar-Rahman Who created them and granted them provision. Allah says: (And that you should worship Me. That is the straight path.) meaning, ‘I commanded you in the world to disobey the Shaytan, and I commanded you to worship Me, and this is the straight path, but you followed a different path and you followed the commands of the Shaytan.’ Allah says: (And indeed he did lead astray a great multitude of you.) meaning, a large number of people.
