The Ayah commands the Prophet ﷺ to say: Shall I inform you of the worst people on the Day of Resurrection than what you think of us? They are you, with these characteristics, those who incurred the curse of Allah were expelled from His mercy, and those who incurred His wrath and anger, after which He will never be pleased with them, those of whom He transformed into monkeys and swine,) as we mentioned in Surat Al-Baqarah (2) and as we will mention in Surat Al-A'raf (7). Sufyan Ath-Thawri narrated that Ibn Mas'ud said, "Allah's Messenger ﷺ was asked if the current monkeys and swine were those whom Allah transformed. The Reason Behind Revealing these Ayat

Said bin Jubayr, As-Suddi and others said that these Ayat were revealed concerning a delegation that An-Najashi (King of Ethiopia) sent to the Prophet jg in order to hear his words and observe his qualities. When the delegation met with the Prophet and he recited the Qur'an to them, they embraced Islam, cried and were humbled. Then they returned to An-Najashi and told him what happened. 11 ' 'Ata' bin Abi Rabah commented, "They were Ethiopians who embraced Islam when the Muslims who migrated to Ethiopia resided among them." Qatadah said, "They were some followers of the religion of Isa, son of Maryam, who when they saw Muslims and heard the Qur'an, they became Muslims without hesitation."12 ' Ibn Jarir said that these Ayat were revealed concerning some people who fit this description, whether they were from Ethiopia or otherwise. Allah said, 111 At-Tabari 10:499,500. 121 At-Tabari 10:501.

iVerily, you will find the strongest among men in enmity to the believers the Jews and those who commit Shirk,} This describes the Jews, since their disbelief is that of rebellion, defiance, opposing the truth, belittling other, people and degrading the scholars. This is why the Jews - may Allah's continued curses descend on them until the Day of Resurrection - killed many of their Prophets and tried to kill the Messenger of Allah ^ several times, as well as, performing magic spells against him and poisoning him. They also incited their likes among the polytheists against the Prophet Allah's statement, and you will find the nearest in love to the believers those who say: "We are Christians."} refers to those who call themselves Christians, who follow the religion of the Messiah and the teachings of his Injil. These people are generally more tolerant of Islam and its people, because of the mercy and kindness that their hearts acquired through part of the Messiah's religion. In another Ayah, Allah said; Vj O'j iAnd We ordained in the hearts of those who followed him, compassion, mercy, and monasticism . .> [57:27]. In their book is the saying; "He who strikes you on the right cheek, then turn the left cheek for him." And fighting was prohibited in their creed, and this is why Allah said, Ij intended by it should be clear to the reader. However, the remainder of the Ayah, which can be translated as ; 4that they invented which We did not prescribe for them.} (referring to monasticism) obviously contradicts Ibn Kathir's objective here. He himself discusses this issue shortly, as well as at the end of the Tafsir of Surat Al-Hadid., as will appear later, if Allah wills.

iThat is because among them are Qissin (priests) and Ruhban (monks), and they are not proud. This means that among them are Qissin (priests). The word Ruhban refers to one dedicated to worship. Allah said, iThat is because among them are priests and monks, and they are not proud. This describes them with knowledge, worship and humbleness, along with following the truth and fairness. 44^' Oi gfJlf JI ^ 'j 4And when they listen to what has been sent down to the Messenger, you see their eyes overflowing with tears because of the truth they have recognized> This refers to the good news that they have about the advent of Muhammad jfe, ics^Lii ^ \lj iThey say: "Our Lord! Hunting Land Game is Prohibited During Ihram Allah said, U ^if Aji ‘fQ. ibut forbidden is land game as long as you are in a state of Ihram.> Therefore, hunting land game during Ihram is not allowed, and if someone who is in the state of ihram hunts, he will have to pay expiation, along with the sin he earns if he does it intentionally. If he hunts by mistake, he will have to pay the expiation and is not allowed to eat from it, because this type of game is just like dead animals, be he a Muhrim or a non- Muhrim. If someone who is not in the state of Ihram hunts and gives the food to a Muhrim, the Muhrim is not allowed to eat from its meat if it was killed for him in particular. Thus, these symbols were just like the chief who is obeyed by his followers, and who upholds harmony and public safety. As for the Ka'bah, it includes the entire sacred boundary. Allah termed it “Haram” because He prohibited hunting its game and cutting its trees or grass. Similarly, the Ka'bah, the Sacred Month, the animals of offerings and the garlands were the landmarks of existing Arabs. These symbols were sacred during the time of Jahiliyyah and the people's affairs were guided and protected by them. If it were a female, they would cut off its ears and proclaim, This is a Bahirah (no one is allowed to milk it).""121 As-Suddi and others mentioned a similar statement.131 As for the S&'ibah, Mujahid said that it is for sheep, and mentioned a similar meaning as for Bahirah. He said that it delivers six females and then a male, female or two males, and that they then would slaughter it (the newly born sheep) and feed its meat to the men, but not to the woman.*4' camel that delivers ten females, without giving birth to a single male between them. They would then set it free and no one was allowed to ride it, cut its wool or milk it, except for a guest. Abu Rawq said, "The Sa'ibah was made as such when one goes out for some of his affairs and succeeds in whatever he intended to do. So he would designate a Sa'ibah from his property, a female camel or another type, and would set it free for the idols (in appreciation for his success). Then, whatever this camel gave birth to was set free for the idols too." As- Suddi said, "When one's affair was successful, or if he was cured from an illness, or if his wealth increased, he would set some of his wealth free for the idols. Those who would try to acquire any of the Sa'ibah property were punished in this world." As for the WasOah, 'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "It is the sheep that gives birth seven times, if she gives birth to a male or a female stillborn at its seventh delivery, the men, but not the women, would eat from it. If she gave birth to a female, or a female and a male, they would set them free, proclaiming (about the male in this case). His sister Wasalat (literally, 'connected him to being forbidden on us)." Ibn Abi Hatim recorded this statement . 111 'Abdur-Razzaq narrated that Ma'mar said that Az-Zuhri said that Said bin Al-Musayyib said that, I'M iOr a Wastlah} "It is the female camel that gives delivery to a female and then another female at its second delivery. They would call such a camel a Wasilah, proclaiming that she has Wasalat (connected) between two females without giving birth to a male between them. So they used to cut off the ears of the WasOah and let it roam free to pasture for their idols."*21 A similar explanation was reported from Imam Malik bin Anas. Muhammad bin Ishaq said, "The WasOah sheep is the ewe that gives birth to ten females in five deliveries, giving birth to two females at each delivery. This sheep would be called 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 4:1222. 'Abdur-Razzaq 1:196.

WasUah and would be set free. Whatever this sheep delivers afterwards, male or female, would be given to the men, but not the women, but if it delivers a stillborn, men and women would share it!" As for the Ham, Al-'Awfi said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "If a man's camel performs ten copulations, they would call him a Ham, 'So set him free.,'"1 * 1 Similar was reported from AbuRawq and Qatadah. 'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "The Ham is the male camel whose offspring gave birth to their own offspring; they would then proclaim, This camel has Hama (protected) its back.' Therefore, they would not carry anything on this male camel, cut his wool, prevent him from grazing wherever he likes or drinking from any pool, even if the pool did not belong to its owner."121 Ibn Wahb said, "I heard Malik saying, 'As for the Ham, it is the male camel who is assigned a certain number of copulations, and when having finished what was assigned to him, would have peacock feathers placed on him and be set free.'" Other opinions were also mentioned to explain this Ayah. There is a Hadith on this subject that Ibn Abi Hatim collected from Abu Ishaq As-Subay'i from Al-Ahwas Al- Jushami from his father Malik bin Nadlah who said, "I came to the Prophet jg wearing old clothes. So he said to me, «?JU -j. id «Do you have any property?t I said, 'Yes.' He asked, aWhat type?n I said, 'All types; camels, sheep, horses and slaves.' He said, <idi fii vu iiM «// Allah gives you wealth, then let it show on you .» He then asked, blj iiy •Do your catnels deliver calves that have full ears?* I said, "Yes, At-Tabari 11:129. and do camels give birth but to whole calves?' He said, 'Yes.' He said, 'Then do not do that, for all the wealth that Allah has given you is allowed for you.' » Then he said; 'Allah has not instituted things like Bahirah or a Sd'ibah or a Wasilah or a Ham.' As for the Bahirah, it is the animal whose ears were cut, one would not allow his wife, daughters, or any of his household to benefit from its wool, hair or milk. But, if it died, they would share it. As for the Sa'ibah, they used to set it free for their idols and announce this fact in the vicinity of the idols. As for the Wasilah, it is the sheep that gives birth to six offspring. When she delivered for the seventh time, they would cut its ears and horns, saying, "It has Wasalat (connected deliveries)," and they would not slaughter it, hit it or prevent it from drinking from any pool."11 This Hadith was narrated with the addition of the explanation of these words in it. In another narration for this Hadith from Abu Ishaq from Abu Al-Ahwas, 'Awf bin Malik used his own words (Le., he explained these words not as a part of the Hadith itself) and this is more sound. Imam Ahmad recorded this Hadith from Sufyan bin Thayyib, from Abu Az-Za'ayri 'Amr bin 'Amr, from his uncle Abu Al-Ahwas 'Awf bin Malik bin Nadlah from his father, Malik bin Nadlah.12' This narration also does not contain the explanation of Bahirah, Ham etc., that is added to the Hadith above, and Allah knows best. 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 4:1220. ' Ahmad 4 :136.

Allah's statement, 'And those who disbelieve invent lies against Allah, and most of them have no understanding.' means, Allah did not legislate these invented rituals and He does not consider them acts of obedience. Rather, it is the idolaters who made them into rituals and acts of worship that they used to draw near to Allah. But they did not and will not help them to draw near to Him, rather, these innovations will only harm them. And when it is said to them: "Come to what Allah has revealed and to the Messenger." They say; "Enough for us is that which we found our fathers following," meaning, if they are called to Allah's religion, Law and commandments and to avoiding what He prohibited, they say, The ways and practices that we found our fathers and forefathers following are good enough for us. ' Allah said, 'even though their fathers had no knowledge whatsoever...' That is, even though their fathers did not understand or recognize the truth or find its way. Therefore, who would follow their forefathers, except those who are even more ignorant and misguided than they were? O you who believe! Take care of yourselves. If you follow the right guidance, no hurt can come to you from those who are in error. The return of you all is to Allah, then He will inform you about (all) that you used to do.' One is Required to Reform Himself First Allah commands His believing servants to reform themselves and to do as many righteous deeds as possible. He also informs them that whoever reforms himself, he would not be affected by the wickedness of the wicked, whether they were his relatives or otherwise. Imam Ahmad recorded that Qays said, "Abu Bakr As-Siddiq stood up, thanked Allah and praised Him and then said, 'O people! You read this Ayah, 'O you who believe! Take care of yourselves. If you follow the right guidance, no hurt can come to you from those who are in error.' You explain it the wrong way. I heard the Messenger of Allah say, 'If the people witness evil and do not change it, then Allah is about to send His punishment to encompass them. I (Qays) also heard Abu Bakr say, 'O people! Beware of lying, for lying contradicts faith.'"111 'O people! Beware of lying, for lying contradicts faith.'"111 'O people! Beware of lying, for lying contradicts faith.'"111

He also said, 'So the angels brought the table down containing seven fish and seven pieces of bread and placed it before them. So the last group of people ate as the first group did.'"121 Ibn Jarir recorded that Ishaq bin 'Abdullah said that the table was sent down to Isa son of Maryam having seven pieces of bread and seven fish, and they ate from it as much as they wished. But when some of them stole food from it, saying, "It might not come down tomorrow," the table ascended.131 At-Tabari 11:233. 121 At-Tabari 5 :132 , Ibn Abi Hatim 4 :1246 131 At-Tabari 5:134.

If you like, I will let Al-Akhshabayn (two mountains to the north and south of Makkah) fall on them.' The Prophet £ said, No, but I hope that Allah will let them generate offspring who will worship Allah Alone, and will worship none besides Him.»{1} IM FathAl-B&ri 6 :360 , Muslim 3 : 1420

362 Tafoir Ibtt Kathir This is the wording of Muslim. Tormenting the disbelievers of Quraysh was offered to the Prophet jg, but he chose patience and asked Allah for respite for them, so that Allah might let them generate offspring who will not associate anything with Him in worship. Therefore, how can we combine the meaning of this Hadith and the honorable Ayah, " V ^ iSay: "If I had that which you are asking for impatiently (the torment), the matter would have been settled at once between you and I, but Allah knows best the wrongdoers The answer to this question is, Allah knows the best, that the Ayah states that if the punishment that they asked for was in the Prophet's hand at the time, he would have sent it on them as they asked. As for the Hadith, the disbelievers did not ask the Prophet to send the torment down on them. Rather, the angel responsible for the mountains offered him the choice to let the two mountains to the north and south of Makkah close in on the disbelievers and crush them. The Prophet did not wish that and asked for respite out of compassion for them. Only Allah Knows

Shaytan has been a rebel against the Most Beneficent (Allah). O my father! Verily! I fear lest a torment from the Most Beneficent (Allah) overtakes you, so that you become a companion of Shaytan (in the Hell- fire)." He (the father) said: "Do you reject my gods, O Ibrahim? Ifyou stop not (this), I will indeed stone you. So get awayfrom me safely before I punish you." Ibrahim said: "Peace be on you! I will ask forgiveness of my Lord for you. Verily! He is unto me, Ever Most Gracious. And I shall turn away from you and from those whom you invoke besides Allah. And I shall call on my Lord; and I hope that I shall not be unanswered in my invocation to my Lord." [19:41-48] Ibrahim continued asking for forgiveness for his father for the rest of his father's life. When his father died an idolator and Ibrahim realized this fact, he stopped asking Allah for forgiveness for him and disassociated himself from him. Allah said, "And invoking for his father's forgiveness was only because of a promise he had made to him. But when it became clear to him that he was an enemy to Allah, he dissociated himself from him. Verily Ibrahim was patient in supplication and forbearing. [9:114].

It was recorded in the Sahih that Ibrahim will meet his father Azar on the Day of Resurrection and Azar will say to him, "My son! This Day, I will not disobey you." Ibrahim will say, "O Lord! You promised me not to disgrace me on the Day they are resurrected; and what will be more disgraceful to me than cursing and dishonoring my father?" Then Allah will say, "O Ibrahim! Look behind you!" He will look and there he will see (that his father was changed into) a male hyena covered in dung, which will be caught by the legs and thrown in the (Hell) Fire." [11] Tawhid Becomes Apparent to Ibrahim Allah's statement, "Thus did I show Ibrahim the kingdom of the heavens and the earth..." [6:75], means, when he contemplated about the creation of the heaven and earth, We showed Ibrahim the proofs of Allah's Oneness over His dominion and His creation, which indicate that there is no god or Lord except Allah. Allah said in other Ayat, "Behold all that is in the heavens and the earth." [10:101], and, "See they not what is before them and what is behind them, of the heaven and the earth? If We will, We sink the earth with them, or cause a piece of the sky to fall upon them. Verily, in this is a sign for every servant who turns to Allah." [34:9] Allah said next, Path Al-Bdri 6:445. There are a number of reasons explained for this incident, among them, that Ibrahim will not feel disgraced by seeing a dung-covered hyena thrown in the Fire, and that this is the true worth of his father. When the night overcame him, he covered him with darkness, and he saw a star. He said: "This is my lord" But when it set, he said, "This is not my lord." Qatadah commented, "Ibrahim knew that his Lord is Eternal and never ceases." When he saw the moon rising up, he said: "This is my lord." But when it set, he said: "Unless my Lord guides me, I shall surely be among the misguided people." When he saw the sun rising up, he said: "This is my lord." This radiating, rising star is my lord, and this is greater than the star and the moon, and more so. But when it set, he said: "O my people! I am indeed free from all that you join as partners in worship with Allah. Verily, I have turned my face..." meaning, I have purified my religion and made my worship sincere, as At-Jabari 1:480

"towards Him Who has created the heavens and the earth," Who originated them and shaped them without precedence, Hanifan, avoiding Shirk and embracing Tawhid. This is why he said next, "and I am not of the idolaters." Prophet Ibrahim Debates with his People We should note here that, in these Ayat, Ibrahim, peace be upon him, was debating with his people, explaining to them the error of their way in worshipping idols and images. In the first case with his father, Ibrahim explained to his people their error in worshipping the idols of earth, which they made in the shape of heavenly angels, so that they intercede on their behalf with the Glorious Creator. His people thought that they are too insignificant to worship Allah directly, and this is why they turned to the worship of angels as intercessors with Allah for their provisions, gaining victory and attaining their various needs. He then explained to them the error and deviation of worshipping the seven planets, which they said were the Moon, Mercury, Venus, the Sun, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn. The brightest of these objects and the most honored to them was the Sun, the Moon then Venus. Ibrahim, may Allah's peace and blessings be on him, first proved that Venus is not worthy of being worshipped, for it is subservient to a term and course appointed that it does not defy, nor swerving right or left. Venus does not have any say in its affairs, for it is only a heavenly object that Allah created and made bright out of His wisdom. Venus rises from the east and sets in the west where it disappears from sight. This rotation is repeated the next night, and so forth. Such an object is not worthy of being a god. Ibrahim then went on to mention the Moon in the same manner in which he mentioned Venus, and then the Sun. When he proved that these three objects were not gods,

Ibrahim Receives the News of Ishaq and Ya'qub During His Old Age Allah states that after Ibrahim became old and he, and his wife, Sarah, lost hope of having children, He gave them Ishaq. The angels came to Ibrahim on their way to the people of Prophet Lut (to destroy them) and they delivered the good news of a child to Ibrahim and his wife. Ibrahim's wife was amazed at the news, $8 tc-i ^3 yz 0; 'A 47§U 5* 'A /& 4She said (in astonishment): "Woe unto me! Shall I bear a child while I am an old woman, and here is my husband, an old man? Surely, He (Allah) is All-Praiseworthy, All-Glorious."} (11:72-73) The angels also gave them the good news that Ishaq will be a

3&L Tafsir Ibn Kathir Prophet and that he will have offspring of his own. In another Ayah, Allah said; iAnd We gave him the good news of Ishaq a Prophet from the righteous.}[37:112), which perfects this good news and completes the favor. Allah said, iof Ishaq, and after him, of Ya'qub...} [11:71), meaning, this child will have another child in your lifetime, so that your eyes are comforted by him, just as your eyes will be comforted by his father. Certainly, one becomes jubilant and joyous when he becomes a grandfather, because this means that his offspring will continue to exist. It was also expected that if an elderly couple had children, due to the child's weakness, he would have no offspring. This is why Allah delivered the good news of Ishaq and of his son Ya'qub, whose name literally means 'multiplying and having offspring'. This was a reward for Ibrahim who left his people and migrated from their land so that he could worship Allah alone. Allah compensated Ibrahim with better than his people and tribe when He gave him righteous children of his own, who would follow his religion, so that his eyes would be comforted by them. In another Ayah, Allah said; iSo when he turned away from them and from those whom they worshipped besides Allah, We gave him Ishaq and Ya'qub, and each one of them We made a Prophet.} [19:49] Allah said here, iAnd We bestowed upon him Ishaq and Ya'qub, each of them We guided,} Allah said; Ji Cjlm. li-yj} iand before him. Ever since that occurred, the people of the earth were and still are the descendants of NQh. As for Ibr&hlm, Allah did not send a Prophet after him but from his descendants. Allah said in other Ayat, iAnd We ordained among his (Ibrahim's) offspring prophethood and the Book.} [29:27], iAnd indeed, We sent Nuh and Ibrahim, and placed in their offspring Prophethood and the Book.} [57:26], and. !*5»- (ifc ty (Mi i iThose were they unto whom Allah bestowed His grace from among the Prophets, of the offspring of Adam, and of those whom We carried (in the ship) with Niih, and of the offspring of Ibrahim and Isrd'il andfrom among (hose whom We guided and chose. iDawud, Sulaymdn...) from the offspring of Nuh, according to Ibn Jarir.' It is also possible that the Ayah refers to Ibrahim since it is about him that the blessings were originally mentioned here, although Lut is not from his offspring, for he was Ibrahim's nephew, the son of his brother Maran, the son of Azar. It is possible to say that Lilt was mentioned in Ibrahim's offspring as a generalization. As Allah said, iljJ ijN5 i>jX. m U ojlit iOr were you witnesses when death approached Ya'qub? When he said unto his sons, "What will you worship after me?" They said, "We shall worship your God, and the God of your fathers, Ibrahim, Isma'il, Ishaq, One God, and to Him we submit") [2:133]. Here, Ismail was mentioned among the ascendants of Ya'qub, although he was Ya'qub's uncle. Similarly Allah said, j $ S4it iSo the angels prostrated themselves, all of them together. Except Iblis - he refused to be among those to prostrate.) [15:30-31]. Allah included Iblis in His order to the angels to prostrate, and chastised him for his opposition, all because he was similar to them in that (order), so he was considered among them in general, although he was a Jinn. Iblis was created from fire while the angels were created from light. Mentioning Isa in the offspring of Ibrahim, or NQh as we stated above, is proof that the grandchildren from a man's daughter's side are included among his offspring, isa is included among Ibrahim's progeny through his mother, although Isa did not have a father. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Abu Harb bin Abi Al- Aswad said, "Al-Hajjaj sent to Yahya bin Ya'mar, saying, 1 was told that you claim that Al-Hasan and Al-Husayn are from the offspring of the Prophet did you find it in the Book ofAllah? For example, when a man leaves behind a legacy, a trust, or gift to his "offspring" then the children of his daughters are included. But if a man gives something to his "sons", or he leaves a trust behind for them, then that would be particular to his male children and their male children. Allah's statement, rri>/> hti} iAnd also some of their fathers and their progeny and their brethren,} (6:87], mentions that some of these Prophets' ascendants and descendants were also guided and chosen. The Prohibition of Insulting the False gods of the Disbelievers, So that they Do not Insult Allah Allah prohibits His Messenger and the believers from insulting the false deities of the idolaters, although there is a clear benefit in doing so. Insulting their deities will lead to a bigger evil than its benefit, for the idolaters might retaliate by insulting the God of the believers, Allah, none has the right to be worshipped but He. Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on this Ayah [6:108]; “They (disbelievers) said, ‘O Muhammad! You will stop insulting our gods, or we will insult your Lord.’ Thereafter, Allah prohibited the believers from insulting the disbelievers’ idols, lest they insult Allah wrongfully without knowledge. ‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated that Ma’mar said that Qatadah said, Muslims used to insult the idols of the disbelievers and the disbelievers would retaliate by insulting Allah wrongfully without knowledge. Allah revealed, — And insult not those whom they worship besides Allah. On this same subject - abandoning what carries benefit to avert a greater evil - it is recorded in the Sahih that the Messenger of Allah said, “Cursed is he who insults his own parents» They said, “O Allah’s Messenger! In this case, the Ayah would mean, what makes you - you idolaters - perceive that you are truthful in the vows that you swore? Therefore, in this recitation, the Ayah means, the idolaters will still not believe if the sign that they asked for came. It was also said that ‘you’ in, ‘what will make you perceive’, refers to the believers, meaning, what will make you perceive, O believers, that the idolaters will still not believe if the signs come. Allah also said, iSS& h*3 4"What prevented you (O Iblts) that you did not prostrate, when I commanded you?"} [7:12] and, 4And a ban is laid on every town (population) which We have destroyed that they shall not return (to this world again).} [21:95] These Ayat mean: What made you, O Iblls, refrain from prostrating, although I commanded you to do so, and, in the second Ayah, that village shall not return to this world again. In the Ayah above [6:109], the meaning thus becomes: What makes you perceive, O believers, who wish eagerly for the disbelievers to believe, that if the Ayat came to them they would believe? Allah said next, ffl .«as -i* p'4 {And We shall turn their hearts and their eyes away, as they refused to believe thereinfor the first time,} Al-'Awfi said that Ibn 'Abbas said about this Ayah, "When the idolaters rejected what Allah sent down, their hearts did not settle on any one thing and they turned away from every matter (of benefit)." 1 11 Mujahid said that Allah's statement, p'4 {andWe shall turn their hearts and their eyes away,} means, We prevent them from the faith, and even if every sign came to them, they will not believe, just as We prevented them from faith the first time. 'Ali bin Abi Talhah and Al-'Awfi narrated that Ibn 'Abbas said; "When they, the enemies of Allah, would cultivate the land or collect produce, they would assign a part of it to Allah and another part to the idol. They would keep the share for the idol, whether land, produce or anything else, and preserve its division to such an extent that they would collect anything that accidentally falls from the share they assigned to Allah and add it to the share of the idol. If the water that they assigned for the idol irrigated something (a section of land, for instance) that they assigned for Allah, they would add whatever this water irrigated to the idol's share! If the land or produce that they assigned for Allah was accidentally mixed with the share that they assigned for the idol, they would say that the idol is poor. Certainly, Allah is the Lord, Owner and Creator of all things and His is the dominion. All things are His property and under His supreme control, will and decree. There is no deity worthy of worship, or Lord, except Him. And even when the polytheists made this evil division, they did not preserve it, but cheated in it. We mentioned the explanation of this Ayah in Surat Al- Baqarah. This honorable Ayah contradicts the idolators' innovated prohibitions for certain kinds of wealth, relying merely on their misguided ideas, such as the Bahlrah, Sa'ibah, WasUah and Ham. Allah commanded His Messenger ﷺ to inform them that he does not find that such types of animals are prohibited in what Allah revealed to him. In this Ayah, Allah only prohibited dead animals, poured blood, the flesh of swine and what has been slaughtered for something other than Allah. Other things were not prohibited here, but rather treated as that which does not have a ruling, i.e., permissible. As for what will be placed on the Balance on the Day of Resurrection, it has been said that the deeds will be placed on it, even though they are not material objects. Allah will give these deeds physical weight on the Day of Resurrection. Al- Baghawi said that this was reported from Ibn 'Abbas. 111 It is recorded in the Sahib that Al-Baqarah (chapter 2) and Al 'Imran (chapter 3) will come on the Day of Resurrection in the shape of two clouds, or two objects that provide shade, or two lined groups of birds. 121 It is also recorded in the Sahth that the Qur'an will come to its companion (who used to recite and preserve it) in the shape of a pale-faced young man. He will ask (the young man), "Who are you?" He will reply, "I am the Qur'an, who made you stay up sleeplessly at night and caused you thirst in the day." 131 The Hadith that Al-Bara' narrated about the questioning in the grave states. IUULip tlf :J^£» if '-djQ gifa ir-*" ifW^ "A young man with fair color and good scent will come to the believer, who will ask, 'Who are you?' He will reply, 'I am your good deeds'®. The Prophet ^ mentioned the opposite in the case of the disbeliever and the hypocrite. It was also said that the Book of Records that contains the deeds will be weighed. A Hadith states that a man will be brought forth and ninety-nine scrolls containing errors and sins will be placed on one side of the balance each as long as the sight can reach. He will then be brought a card on which 111 Al-Baghawi 2:149. 121 Muslim 1 :553. 131 Ibn Majah 2:1242. 141 Ahmad 4 :287

So the card will be placed on the other side of the Balance, and as the Messenger of Allah ^ said, (UiiLji oii ; c-tiLii «Behold! The (ninety-nine) scrolls will go up, as the card becomes heavier .»(11 At-Tirmidhi recorded

A Hadith states. -Mp Oj “On the Day of Resurrection, a fat man will be brought forth, but he will not weigh with Allah equal to the wing of a mosquito». After Allah created Adam with His Hands from dried clay of altered mud and made him in the shape of a human being, He blew life into him and ordered the angels to prostrate before him, honoring Allah’s glory and magnificence. The angels all heard, obeyed and prostrated, but Iblis did not prostrate. We explained this subject in the beginning of Surat Al-Baqarah. Therefore, the Ayah (7:11) refers to Adam, although Allah used the plural in this case, because Adam is the father of all mankind. Similarly, Allah said to the Children of Israel who lived during the time of the Prophet ig, j££ tfjj ' fOi(iAnd We shaded you with clouds and sent down on you manna and the quail,}[2:57] This refers to their forefathers who lived during the time of

This meaning is sound, and Allah knows best. Iblis, may Allah curse him, said, 4/ am better than him (Adam)}, and this excuse is worse than the crime itself! Shaytan said that he did not obey Allah because he who is better cannot prostrate to he who is less. Shaytan, may Allah curse him, meant that he is better than Adam, "So how can You order me to prostrate before him?" Shaytan said that he is better than Adam because-he was created from fire while, "You created him from clay, and fire is better." The cursed one looked at the origin of creation not at the honor bestowed, that is, Allah creating Adam with His Hand and blowing life into him. Shaytan made a false comparison when confronted by Allah's command, 4"Then you fall down prostrate to /ii'm">[38:72]. Therefore, Shaytan alone contradicted the angels, because he refused to prostrate. He, thus, became 'Ablasa' from the mercy, meaning, lost hope in acquiring Allah's mercy. He committed this error, may Allah curse him, due to his false comparison. His claim that the fire is more honored than mud was also false, because mud has the qualities of wisdom, for - bearance, patience and assurance, mud is where plants grow, flourish, increase, and provide good. To the contrary, fire has the qualities of burning, recklessness and hastiness. Therefore,

Warning against the Lures of Shaytan

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 1912–2071]

Allah warns the Children of Adam against Iblis and his followers, by explaining about his ancient enmity for the father of mankind, Adam peace be upon him. Iblis plotted to have Adam expelled from Paradise, which is the dwelling of comfort, to the dwelling of hardship and fatigue (this life) and caused him to have his private part uncovered, after it had been hidden from him. This, indeed, is indicative of deep hatred (from Shaytan towards Adam and mankind). Allah said in a similar Ayah, 05-s^iiU J-L jit | iij (jjj Oi 'Cijj1 ^ iWill you then take him (Iblis) and his offspring as protectors and helpers rather than

And whoever wore a new garment, would discard it and none would wear it after him on completion of Tawaf. Those who did not have a new garment, or were not given one by Al-Hums, then they would perform Tawaf while naked. Even women would go around in Tawaf while naked, and one of them would cover her sexual organ with something and proclaim, "Today, a part or all of it will appear, but whatever appears from it I do not allow it." Women used to perform Tawaf while naked usually at night. This was a practice that the idolaters invented on their own, following only their forefathers in this regard. They falsely claimed that what their forefathers did was in fact following the order and legislation of Allah. Allah then refuted them, Allah said, iijtj tJwj ijli i And when they commit a Fdhishah, they say : "We found our fathers doing it, and Allah has commanded it for us."} Allah does not order Fahsha', but orders Justice and Sincerity Allah replied to this false claim, $Say}, O Muhammad, to those who claimed this, >3 at <, [} i "Nay, Allah never commands Fahsha'..."} meaning, the practice you indulge in is a despicable sin, and Allah does not command such a thing. i "Do you say about Allah what you know not?"} that is, do you attribute to Allah statements that you are not certain are true? He also commands sincerity in worshipping

Him, for He, Exalted He is, does not accept a good deed until it satisfies these two conditions: being correct and in conformity with His Law, and being free of Shirk.

Blessed is Allah, the Lord of all that exists!} The Universe was created in Six Days Allah states that He created the universe, the heavens and 77 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (54) (Part-8) earth and all that is in, on and between them in six days, as He has stated in several Ayat in the Qur'an. These six days are: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. On Friday, the entire creation was assembled and on that day, Adam was created. There is a difference of opinion whether these days were the same as our standard days as suddenly comes to the mind, or each day constitutes one thousand years, as reported from Mujahid , 1 ' 1 Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal, and from Ibn 'Abbas according to Ad-Dahhak's narration from him. As for Saturday, no creation took place in it since it is the seventh day of (of the week). The word 'As- Sabt' means stoppage, or break. Imam Ahmad recorded Abu Hurayrah saying: 'Allah's Messenger told me: >y jjajJt } i ^y- •«J^I tAllah created the dust on Saturday, and He created the mountains on Sunday, and

He created the trees on Monday, and He created the unpleasant things on Tuesday and He created the light on Wednesday and He spread the creatures through out it on Thursday and He created Adam after 'Asr on Friday. He was the last created during the last hour of Friday, between 'Asr and the night . Meaning of Istawa As for Allah's statement, and then He rose over (Istawa) the Throne the people had several conflicting opinions over its meaning. However, we follow the way that our righteous predecessors 111 At-Tabari 12:482. 12' Ahmad 2:327 and Muslim no. 2149 took in this regard, such as Malik, Al-Awzal, Ath-Thawri, Al- Layth bin Sa'd, Ash-Shafit, Ahmad, Ishaq bin Rahwayh and the rest of the scholars of Islam, in past and present times. Surely, we accept the apparent meaning of, Al-Istawa, without discussing its true essence, equating it (with the attributes of the creation), or altering or denying it (in any way or form). We also believe that the meaning that comes to those who equate AU4h with the creation is to be rejected, for nothing is similar to Allah, iThere is nothing like Him, and He is the All-Hearer, the All- Seer.) (42:11) Indeed, we assert and affirm what the Imams said, such as Nu'aym bin Hammad Al-Khuza'i, the teacher of Imam Al- Bukhari, who said, "Whoever likens Allah with His creation, will have committed Kufr. Whoever denies what Allah has described Himself with, will have committed Kufr. Certainly, there is no resemblance (of Allah with the creation) in what Allah and His Messenger^ have described Him with. Whoever attests to Allah's attributes that the plain Ayat and authentic Hadiths have mentioned, in the manner that suits Allah's majesty, all the while rejecting all shortcomings from Him, will have taken the path of guidance." The Day and the Night are among the Signs of Allah Allah said. ife S4' 4He brings the night as a cover over the day, seeking it rapidly,) meaning, the darkness goes away with the light, and the light goes away with the darkness. We sent Hud one of their own brethren. Muhammad bin Ishaq said that the tribe of 'Ad were the descendants of 'Ad, son of Iram, son of 'Aws, son of Sam, son of Nuh. I say, these are indeed the ancient people of 'Ad whom Allah mentioned, the children of 'Ad, son of Iram who were living in the deserts with lofty pillars or statues. Allah said, 4 (A ^ j 4Have you not seen how your Lord dealt with 'Ad (people). Of Iram like (lofty) pillars . The Land of'Ad The people of 'Ad lived in Yemen, in the area of Ahqaf, which means sand mounds. Muhammad bin Ishaq narrated that Abu At-Tufayl 'Amir bin Wathilah said that he heard 'Ali (bin Abi Talib) saying to a man from Hadramawt (in Yemen), "Have you seen a red sand mound, where there are a lot of Arak and Lote trees in the area of so-and-so in Hadramawt? Have you seen it?" He said, "Yes, O Commander of the faithful! By Allah, you described it as ifyou have seen it before." 'Ali said, 1 have not seen it, but it was described to me." The man asked, "What about it, O Commander of the faithful?" 'Ali said, "There is the grave of Had, peace be upon him, in its vicinity." 1 11 Ibn Jarir recorded this statement, which gives the benefit of indicating that 'Ad used to live in Yemen, since Prophet Hud was buried there. Prophet Hud was among the noble men and chiefs of 'Ad, for Allah chose the Messengers from among the best, most honorable families and tribes. Had's people were mighty and strong, but their hearts were mighty and hard, for they were among the most denying of Truth among the nations. Prophet Hud called 'Ad to worship Allah alone without partners, and to obey and fear Him. 96 Tafsir Ibn Kathir from Us, and We severed the roots of those who belied Our Ayat; and they were not believers. Allah mentioned severed times in the Qur'an, the way the people of 'Ad were destroyed stating that He sent a barren wind that destroyed everything it passed by. Allah said in another Ayah, وَجَاءَ مِنْ عَذَابِ اللَّهِ هَاجَاتٌ شَدِيدَةٌ لِيُصَاقَطَ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَرْضِ الَّتِي كَانَتْ تُعَذِّبُهَا عَنْ يَدِ اللَّهِ وَالْجَاثِمِينَ [69:6-8] When 'Ad rebelled and transgressed, Allah destroyed them with a strong wind that carried them, one by one, up in the air and brought each one of them down on his head, thus smashing his head and severing it from its body. This is why Allah said, وَجَاءَ مِنْ عَذَابِ اللَّهِ هَاجَاتٌ شَدِيدَةٌ لِيُصَاقَطَ فِي هَذِهِ الْأَرْضِ الَّتِي كَانَتْ تُعَذِّبُهَا عَنْ يَدِ اللَّهِ وَالْجَاثِمِينَ [69:7] Muhammad bin Ishaq said that 'Ad used to live in Yemen between Oman and Hadramawt. They also spread throughout the land and defeated various peoples, because of the strength that Allah gave them. They used to worship idols instead of Allah, and Allah sent to them Prophet Hud, peace be upon him. He was from their most common lineage and was the best among them in status. Hud commanded them to worship Allah Alone and associate none with him. He also ordered them to stop committing injustice against the people. But they rejected him and ignored his call. They said, 'Who is stronger than us?' Some of them, however, followed Hud, although they were few and had to conceal their faith. When 'Ad defied the command of Allah, rejected His Prophet, committed mischief in the earth, became arrogant and built high palaces on every high place - without real benefit to them - Hud spoke to them, saying, 97 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (70 - 72) (Part-8) وَمَا تَعْبُدُونَ إِلَّا أَنْفُسَكُمْ أَنْتُمُ الْمُتَكَبِّرُونَ "Do you build high palaces on every high place, while you do not live in them? Verily, my Lord is on the straight path (the truth)." [11:53-56]." Story of the Emissary of 'Ad Imam Ahmad recorded that Al-Harith Al-Bakri said: "I went to the Messenger of Allah to complain to him about Al-'Ala bin Al-Hadrami. When I passed by the area of Ar-Rabdhah, I found an old woman from Bani Tamim who was alone in that area. She said to me, "O servant of Allah! I need to reach the Messenger of Allah to ask him for some of my needs, will you?" At-Tabari 12:507.

I also found a black flag raised high, while Bilal was holding a sword before the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ). I asked, "What is the matter with the people?" They said, "The Prophet (ﷺ) intends to send 'Amr bin Al-'As (on a military expedition) somewhere." So I sat down. When the Prophet (ﷺ) went to his house, I asked for permission to see him, and he gave me permission. I entered and greeted him. He said, "Was there a dispute between you and Bani Tamim?" I said, "Yes. And we had been victorious over them. I passed by an old woman from Bani Tamim, who was alone, and she asked me to bring her to you, and she is at the door". So he allowed her in and I said, "O Allah's Messenger! What if you make a barrier between us and (the tribe of) Bani Tamlm, such as Ad-Dahna' (Desert)?" The old woman became angry and opposed me. So I said, "My example is the example of a sheep that carried its own destruction. I carried this woman and did not know that she was an opponent. I seek refuge with Allah and His Messenger that I become like the emissary of 'Ad.' So the Prophet jg asked me about the emissary of 'Ad, having better knowledge in it, but he liked to hear the story again. I said, "Once, 'Ad suffered from a famine and they sent an emissary [to get relief], whose name was Qayl. Qayl passed by Mu'awiyah bin Bakr and stayed with him for a month. Mu'awiyah supplied him with alcoholic drinks, and two female singers were singing for him. When a month ended, Qayl went to the mountains of Muhrah and said, 'O Allah! You know that I did not come here to cure an ill person or to ransom a prisoner. O Allah! Give 'Ad water as You used to.' So black clouds came and he was called, 'Choose which one of them you wish (to go to 'Ad)! So he pointed to one of the black clouds and he heard someone proclaiming from it. Take it, as ashes that will leave none in 'Ad.' And it has been conveyed to me that the wind sent to them was no more than what would pass through this ring of mine, but it destroyed them." Abu Wa'il said, "That is true. When a man or a woman would send an emissary, they would tell him, 'Do not be like the emissary of 'Ad (bringing disaster and utter destruction to them instead of relief).," Imam Ahmad collected this story in the Musnad At- tn Ahmad 3 :482

The Messenger of Allah ﷺ passed by the area and ruins of Thamud when he went to Tabok (in northern Arabia) during the ninth year of Hijrah. Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn Umar said, “When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to the area of Al-Hijr in Tabok with the people, he camped near the homes of Thamud, in Al-Hijr and the people brought water from the wells that Thamud used  As opposed to Al-Musta‘ribah, such as the descendants of Prophet Ismail, son of Ibrahim

Thamud asked that a Camel appear from a Stone, and it did Prophet Salih said, 4.“Indeed there has come to you a clear sign from your Lord. This she-camel of Allah is a sign unto you;”} meaning, a miracle has come to you from Allah testifying to the truth of what I came to you with. Salih’s people asked him to produce a miracle and suggested a certain solid rock that they chose, which stood lonely in the area of Hijr, and which was called Al-Katibah. They asked him to bring a pregnant camel out of that stone. Salih took their covenant and promises that if Allah answers their challenge, they would believe and follow him. When they gave him their oaths and promises to that, Salih started praying and invoked Allah (to produce that miracle). All of a sudden, the stone moved and broke apart, producing a she-camel with thick wool. It was pregnant and its fetus was visibly moving in its belly, exactly as Salih’s people asked. This is when their chief, Jundu‘ bin ‘Amr, and several who followed him believed. The rest of the noblemen of Thamud wanted to believe as well, but Dhu‘ab bin ‘Amr bin Labld, Al-Habbab, who tended their idols, and Rabbab bin Sum‘ar bin Jilhis stopped them. One of the cousins of Jundu* bin ‘Amr, whose name was Shihab bin Khalifah bin Mikhlal bin Labld bin Jawwas, was one of the leaders of Thamud, and he also wanted to accept the message. However, the chiefs whom we mentioned prevented him, and he conceded to their promptings. The camel remained in Thamud, as well as, its offspring

203 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (73 - 78) (Part-8) after she delivered it before them. The camel used to drink from its well on one day and leave the well for Thamud the next day. She did that so as to be able to move easily, because she used to drink a lot of water. She was a tremendous animal that had a strikingly beautiful appearance. When she used to pass by their cattle, the cattle would be afraid of her. When this matter continued for a long time and Thamud's rejection of Salih became intense, they intended to kill her so that they could take the water for themselves every day. It was said that all of them (the disbelievers of Thamud) conspired to kill the camel. Qatadah said that he was told that, "The designated killer of the camel approached them all, including women in their rooms and children, and found out that all of them agreed to kill her."¹¹¹ This fact is apparent from the wording of the Ayat, iThen they denied him and they killed it. So their Lord destroyed them because of their sin, and made them equal in destruction!} [91:14], and, [foiii \re? iitl' ifo iAnd YJe sent the she-camel to Tltamud as a clear sign, but they did her wrong.} [17:59] ¹¹¹ At-Tabari 12:537.

104 Tafsir Ibtt Kathir Allah said here, iSo they killed the she-camel} Therefore, these Ayat stated that the entire tribe shared in agreeing to this crime, and Allah knows best. Thamud kills the She-Camel Imam Abu Ja'far Ibn Jarir and other scholars of Tafsir said that the reason behind killing the camel was that a disbelieving old woman among them named Umm Ghanm TJnayzah, the daughter of Ghanm bin Mijlaz, had the severest enmity among Thamud towards Salih, peace be upon him. She had beautiful daughters and she was wealthy, and Dhu'ab bin 'Amr, one of the leaders of Thamud, was her husband. There was another noblewoman whose name was Saduf bint Al-Mulayya bin Dahr bin Al-Muhayya, who was of noble family, wealthy and beautiful. She was married to a Muslim man from Thamud, but she left him. These two women offered a prize for those who swore to them that they would kill the camel. Once, Saduf summoned a man called Al-Habbab and offered herself to him if he would kill the camel, but he refused. So she called a cousin of hers whose name was Musaddi* bin Mihraj bin Al-Muhayya, and he agreed. As for TJnayzah bint Ghanm, she called Qudar bin Salif bin Jundu', a short person with red-blue skin, a bastard, according to them. Qudar was not the son of his claimed father, Salif, but the son of another man called, Suhyad. However, he was born on Salif's bed (and thus named after him). TJnayzah said to Qudar, "I will give you any of my daughters you wish, if you kill the camel." Qudar bin Salif and Musaddi* bin Mihraj went along and recruited several mischievous persons from Thamud to kill the camel. Seven more from Thamud agreed, and the group became nine, as Allah described, when He said, 4And there were in the city nine men, who made mischief in the land, and would not reform These nine men were chiefs of their people, and they lured the entire tribe into agreeing to kill the camel. So they waited 105 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (73 -78) (Part-8 until the camel left the water well, where Qudar waited beside a rock on its path, while Musaddi* waited at another rock. When the camel passed by Musaddi' he shot an arrow at her and the arrow pierced her leg. At that time, TJnayzah came out and ordered her daughter, who was among the most beautiful women, to uncover her face for Qudar, encouraging Qudar to swing his sword, hitting the camel on her knee. So she fell to the ground and screamed once to warn her offspring. Qudar stabbed her in her neck and slaughtered her. Her offspring went up a high rock and screamed.(1) ‘Abdur- Razzaq recorded from Ma'mar that someone reported from Al- Hasan Al-Basari that the offspring said, “O my Lord! Where is my mother?” It was said that her offspring screamed thrice and entered a rock and vanished in it, or, they followed it and killed it together with its mother. 121 Allah knows best. When they finished the camel off and the news reached Prophet Salih, he came to them while they were gathered. When he saw the camel, he cried and proclaimed, i"Enjoy yourselves in your homes for three days."} [1 1:65) The Wicked Ones Plot to Kill Prophet Salih, But the Torment descended on Them The nine wicked persons killed the camel on a Wednesday, and that night, they conspired to kill Salih. On Thursday, the first of the three days of respite, the people woke up and their faces were pale (yellow), just as Prophet Salih had promised them. On the second day of respite, Friday, they woke up and found their faces had turned red. On the third day of the respite, Saturday, they woke up with their faces black. On Sunday, they wore the fragrance of Hanut [the perfume for enshrouding the dead before burial] and awaited Allah’s torment and revenge, we seek refuge with Allah from it. They did not know what will be done to them or how and from where the torment would come. When the sun rose, the Sayhah (loud cry) came from the sky and a severe tremor overtook them from below; the souls were captured and the bodies became lifeless, fall in an hour. 4And they lay (dead), prostrate in their homes.} They became dead and lifeless and none among them, whether young, old, male or female, escaped the torment. 1 ’ The scholars of Tafsir said that none from the offspring of Thamud remained, except Prophet Salih and those who believed in him. A disbelieving man called Abu Righal was in the Sacred Area at the time and the torment that befell his people did not touch him. When he went out of the Sacred Area one day, a stone fell from the sky and killed him. ‘Abdur- Razzaq narrated that Ma'mar said that Ismail bin Umayyah said that the Prophet j passed by the gravesite of Abu Righal and asked the Companions if they knew whose grave it was. So the people used their swords and looked for the golden branch and found it. |x| ‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated that Ma‘mar said that Az-Zuhri said that Abu Righal is the father of the tribe of Thaqif. admonishment that Salih conveyed to his people after Allah destroyed them for defying Him, rebelling against Him, refusing to accept the truth, avoiding guidance, and preferring misguidance instead. Salih said these words of admonishment and criticism to them after they perished, and they heard him (as a miracle for Prophet Salih from Allah). Similarly, it is recorded in the Two Sahihs that after the Messenger of Allah sg defeated the disbelievers in the battle of Badr, he remained in that area for three days, and then rode his camel, which was prepared for him during the latter part of the night. It this area, they did things that none of the children ofAdam or any other creatures ever did before them. They used to have sexual intercourse with males instead of females. This evil practice was not known among the Children ofAdam before, nor did it even cross their minds, so they were unfamiliar with it before the people of Sodom invented it, may Allah's curse be on them. Only his wife (from his family) did not believe, remaining on the religion of her people. She used to conspire with them against Lot and inform them of who came to visit him, using certain signals that they agreed on. This is why when Lut was commanded to leave by night with his family, he was ordered not to inform his wife or take her with him. Some said that she followed them, and when the torment struck her people, she looked back and suffered the same punishment as them. However, it appears that she did not leave the town and that Lot did not tell her that they would depart. So she remained with her people, as apparent from Allah’s statement, iexcept his wife; she was of the Ghdbirin meaning, of those who remained, or they say: of those who were destroyed, and this is the more obvious explanation. ll At-Jabari 12 :550. This Ayah means, We found most of them to be rebellious, deviating away from obedience and compliance. The covenant mentioned here is the Fitrah that Allah instilled in them while still in their fathers' loins, and taking their covenant, that He is their Lord, King, and that there is no deity worthy of worship except Him,. They affirmed this covenant and testified against themselves to this fact. However, they defied this covenant, threw it behind their backs and worshipped others besides Allah, having no proof or plea, nor support from rationality or by divine law. Surely, the pure Fitrah defies these actions, while all the honorable Messengers, from beginning to end, forbade them. The Description of that Messenger^ 4 ^}H\ oydi hjfy iThose who follow the Messenger, the Prophet who can neither read nor write whom they find written with them in the Tawrah and the Injil This is the description of the Prophet Muhammad in the Books of the Prophets. They delivered the good news of his advent to their nations and commanded them to follow him. His descriptions were still apparent in their Books, as the rabbis and the priests well know. Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Sakhr Al-'Uqayli said that a bedouin man said to him, "I brought a milk-producing camel to Al-Madlnah during the life time of Allah's Messenger. After I sold it, I said to myself, I will meet that man (Muhammad) and hear from him.' So I passed by him while he was walking between Abu Bakr and TJmar, and I followed them until they went by a Jewish man, who was reading from an open copy of the Tawrah. He was mourning a son of his who was dying and who was one of the most handsome boys. The Messenger of Allah jg asked him (the father), IJia ^ jl>J JJ* o}j*pi\ J^il «J ask you by He Wlto has sent down the Tawrah, do you not find the description of me and my advent in your Book?» He nodded his head in the negative. His son said, "Rather, yes, by He Who has sent down the Tawrah! We find the description of you and your advent in our Book. I bear witness that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah and that you are the Messenger of Allah.' The Prophet sg said (to the Companions), «Stop the Jew (the father) from (taking care of) your brother (in Islam) .» The Prophet then personally took care of the son's funeral and led the funeral prayer on him.'" This Hadith is sound and is supported by a similar Hadith in the Sahih narrated  Ahmad 5:411

179 Surah 7. Al-A'rdf (57) (Part-9) from Anas. Ibn Jarir recorded that Al-Muthanna said that 'Ata' bin Yasar said, "I met 'Abdullah bin 'Amr and asked him, Tell me about the description of Allah's Messenger jg in the Tawrah.' He said, Yes, by Allah! He is described in the Tawrah, just as he is described in the Qur'an, 40 Prophet! Verily, We have sent you as a witness, and a bearer of glad tidings, and a warner. [33:45] as a safe refuge for the unlettered ones. You are My servant and Messenger. I have called you 'Al-Mutawakkil' (who trusts in Allah), not hard or harsh.' Neither uttering foul speech in the markets nor returning evil deed with one in kind. Rather, he forgives and forgoes. Allah will not end his life until He straightens through him the crooked religion, so that they might proclaim, There is no deity worthy of worship except Allah.' He will open through him sealed hearts, deaf ears and blind eyes.'" 'Ata' then said, "I also met Ka*b and asked him the same question, and his answer did not differ from 'Abdullah's answer, even concerning one letter.",2) Al-Bukhari recorded it ' from 'Abdullah bin 'Amr. It was also recorded by Al-Bukhari [up to the word] forgoes. And he mentioned the narration of 'Abdullah bin 'Amr then he said; "It was common in the speech of our Salaf that they describe the Books of the People of the Two Scriptures as the Tawrah, as some HadUhs concur. Allah knows best."

Allah's statement, 4He commands them to do good; andforbids themfrom evil; } This is the description of the Messenger of Allah sg in previous Books. These were the true qualities of our Messenger jg, as well, for he only ordained good and forbade evil. We should mention here that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, "When you hear Allah's statement, 111 Fath Al-B&ri3 :259 At-Jabari 13:164. 131 Fath Al-Bari4 : 402

And the most important and greatest of these commands and prohibitions, is that Allah has sent the Messenger j§ to order worshipping Him Alone without partners and forbid worshipping others besides Him. This is the Message that Allah has sent all Messengers with before Muhammad m, just as Allah said, JV >•5 si ji- 4And verily, We have sent among every Utntnah a Messenger (proclaiming): "Worship Allalt, and avoid the Tdghut (false deities)">[16:36]. They were prohibitions that they invented which were only hard for themselves. He also forbids them from evil things, such as the flesh of the pig, Riba, and foods that were treated as lawful although Allah the Exalted had forbidden them. 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported this from Ibn 'Abbas. Allah's statement, 4^&$ 4He (Muhammad) releases them from their heavy burdetis, and from thefetters that were upon them.} indicates that Muhammad came with leniency and an easy religion. 205 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (175 - 177) (Part-9) said, "He is Sayfi, son of Ar-Rahib." Qatadah commented that Ka'b said, "He was a man from Al-Balqla' (a province of Jordan) who knew Allah's Greatest Name. He used to live in Bayt Al-Maqdis with the tyrants." Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "He is BaTam bin Ba'ura', a man from Yemen whom Allah had given the knowledge of His Ayat, but he abandoned them." Malik bin Dinar said, "He was one of the scholars of the Children of Israel whose supplication was acceptable. They used to seek his lead in supplication in times of difficulty. Allah's Prophet Musa sent him to the King of Madyan to call him to Allah. That king appeased him and gave him land and gifts, and he reverted from the religion of Musa and followed the king's religion." Imran bin TJaynah narrated that 'Husayn said that Imran bin Al-Harith said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "He is BaTam son of Ba'ura'." 2, Similar was said by Mujahid and 'Ikrimah 3 Therefore, it is well-known that this honorable Ayah was revealed about a man from the Children of Israel in ancient times, according to Ibn Mas'ud and several others among the Salaf. 41 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "He is a man from the city of the tyrants (Jerusalem) whose name was BaTam and who knew Allah's Greatest Name." 151 'Ali bin Abi Talhah also reported that Ibn 'Abbas that he said, "When Musa and those with him went to the city of the tyrants (Jerusalem), the cousins of BaTam and his people came to him and said, 'Musa is a strong man, and he has many soldiers. If he gains the upper hand over us, we will be destroyed. Therefore, supplicate to Allah that He prevents Musa and those with him from prevailing over us.' BaTam said, 'If I supplicate to Allah that He turns back Musa and those with him, I will lose in this life and the Hereafter.' They kept luring him until he supplicated against Musa and his people, and Allah took away what he bestowed on him (of knowledge). Hence Allah's statement, At-Tabari 13:261. At-Tabari 13:253. 206 Tahir Ibtisam Kathir 4:141 {And he threw them away; so Shaytan followed him up}''' 11] Allah said next, {And had We willed, We would surely have elevated him therewith but he clung to the earth and followed his own vain desires. Allah said, 124 {And had We willed, We would surely have elevated him therewith} from the filth of this earthly life through the Ayat that We gave him knowledge of, {but he clung to the earth}, he became interested in the adornment of this life and its delights. He indulged in the lusts of life and its joys and was deceived by it, just as life deceived others like him, without sound comprehension or a good mind. Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar narrated from Salim, from Abu An-Nadr that when Musa entered the land of Bani Canaan in the area of Ash-Sham (Greater Syria), the people of Bal'am came to him, saying, "This is Musa, son of Imran with the Children of Israel. He wants to drive us out from our land, kill us and replace us with the Children of Israel. We are your people and have no other dwelling area. You are a person whose supplication is acceptable (to Allah), so go out and supplicate to Allah against them." He said, "Woe to you! Here is Allah's Prophet (Musa) with whom the angels and believers are! How can I supplicate against them when I know from Allah what I know?" They said, "We have no other dwelling area." So they kept luring and begging him until he was tempted by the trial and went on his donkey towards Mount Husban, which was behind the Israelite military barracks. When he proceeded At-Tabari 13:260.

207 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (175 - 177) (Part-9) on the Mount for a while, the donkey sat down and refused to proceed. He got off the donkey and struck it until it stood up again and he rode it. The donkey did the same after a little while, and he struck it again until it stood up... So he proceeded and tried to supplicate against Musa and his people. However, Allah made his tongue mention his people with evil and the Children of Israel with good instead of his people, who protested, "O Bal'am! What are you doing? You are supplicating for them and against us!" He said, "It is against my will. This is a matter that Allah has decided." He then said to them, as his tongue was made to loll out of his mouth, "Now I have lost this life and the Hereafter." Allah said next, iSo his parable is the parable of a dog : ifyou drive him aivay, he pants, or ifyou leave him alone, he (still) pants.} Scholars of Tafsir have conflicting opinions regarding the meaning of this Ayah. Some scholars said that it refers to the end of Bal'am's tongue which flickered out of his mouth, as in the stoiy narrated from Ibn Ishaq, from Salim, from Abu An- Nadr.m Therefore, his example is the example of the dog, its tongue pants regardless of whether it is driven away or not. It was also said that the meaning here is a parable of this man - and his like - concerning their misguidance, persisting the wrong path and not being able to benefit from faith or comprehend what they are being called to. So his example is that of a dog which pants whether it was driven away or left alone. The person described here does not benefit from the m At-Tabari 13:265.

When Allah intended to create the creation, He knew what their work will be before they existed. He wrote all this in a Book, kept with Him, fifty thousand years before He created the heavens and earth. Muslim recorded that 'Abdullah bin 'Amr narrated that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, «Verily, Allah decided the destination and due measurement of the creation fifty thousand years before He created the heavens and earth, and His Throne was over the water. There are many Hadiths on this subject, and certainly, the matter of Al-Qadar is of utmost importance, yet this is not where we should discuss it. Allah said, 'They have hearts wherewith they understand not, and they have eyes wherewith they see not, and they have ears wherewith they hear not.' meaning, they do not benefit from these senses that Allah made for them as a means of gaining guidance. Similarly, Allah said. 'And We had assigned them the (faculties of) hearing, seeing, and hearts; but their hearing, seeing, and their hearts availed Muslim 4 :2044.

Allah also said about the hypocrites, 'They are) deaf, dumb, and blind, so they return not (to the right path)} (2: 18], and about the disbelievers, 'They are) deaf, dumb and blind. So they do not understand [2:171] However, they are not deaf, dumb or blind, except relation to the guidance. Allah said; 'Had Allah known of any good in them, He would indeed have made them listen; and even if He had made them listen, they would but have turned away with aversion (to the truth) [8:23], or" 'Verily, it is not the eyes that grow blind, but it is the hearts which are in the breasts that grow blind> [22:46], and, 'And whosoever turns away blindly from the remembrance of the Most Gracious (Allah), We appoint for him Shaytan to be an intimate companion to him. And verily, they hinder them from the path, but they think that they are guided aright! [43:36-37] Allah's statement, 'They are like cattle>, means, those who neither hear the truth, nor understand it, nor see the guidance, are just like grazing cattle that do not benefit from these senses, except for what sustains their life in this world. Allah said in a similar Ayah,

'The example of those who disbelieve is as that of one who shouts to those who hear nothing but calls and cries .) [2:171] meaning, their example, when they are called to the faith, is the example of cattle that hear only the voice of their shepherd, but cannot understand what he is saying. Allah further described them (nay even more astray), than cattle, because cattle still respond to the call of their shepherd, even though they do not understand what he is saying. As for the people described here, they are unlike cattle, which fulfill the purpose and service they were created for. The disbeliever was created to worship Allah alone in Tawhid, but he disbelieved in Allah and associated others in His worship. Therefore, those people who obey Allah are more honorable than some angels, while cattle are better than those who disbelieve in Him. So Allah said; 'They are like cattle, nay even more astray;

All this was made by He Who Alone deserves the worship and sincere religion, so that they might have faith in Him and believe in His Messenger, all the while turning to Allah's obedience, rejecting any rivals to Him, and rejecting idols. 231 Surah 7. Al-A’raf (189 - 190) (Part-9) peace be upon him, and from Adam, He created his wife, Hawwa’ and from them, people started to spread. Allah said in another Ayah, ‘‘O mankind! We have created you from a male and a female, and made you into nations and tribes, that you may know one another. Verily, the most honorable of you with Allah is that (believer) who has Taqwa (49:13), and. It is He Who created you from a single person, and from him He created his wife.’’ [4:1] In this honorable Ayah, Allah said; ‘‘And (then) He has created from him his wife, in order that he might enjoy the pleasure of living with her.’’ so that he is intimate and compassionate with her. Allah said in another Ayah, ‘‘And among His Signs is this, that He created for you wives (spouses) from among yourselves, that you may find repose in them, and He has put between you affection and mercy.’’ [30:21] Indeed, there is no intimacy between two souls like that between the spouses. This is why Allah mentioned that the sorcerer might be able with his trick to separate between a man and his wife [thus indicating the difficulty of separating them in normal circumstances]. Allah said next, ‘‘When I covered her’’ meaning had sexual intercourse with her.

‘‘And she became pregnant and she carried it about lightly’’ in reference to the first stage of pregnancy when the woman does not feel pain, for at that time, the fetus will be just a Nutfah (the mixture of the male and female discharge), then becomes an ‘Alaqah (a piece of thick coagulated blood) and then a Mudghah (a small lump of flesh). Allah said next, ‘‘and she carried it about’’, she continued the pregnancy, according to Mujahid. * It was reported that Al-Hasan, Ibrahim An-Nakha‘1 and As-Suddi said similarly. * Maymun bin Mahran reported that his father said, ‘‘She found the pregnancy unnoticeable.’’ Ayyub said, ‘‘I asked Al-Hasan about the Ayah, ‘‘and she carried it about’’ and he said, ‘‘Had you been an Arab, you would know what it means! 236 Tafsir Ibtal Katlur they are, for they hear see and have strength of their own. Allah said, 'Do they attribute as partners to Allah those who created nothing but they themselves are created?' meaning, 'Do you associate with Allah others that neither create, nor have power to create anything?' Allah said in another Ayah, 'O mankind! A similitude has been coined, so listen to it (carefully): Verily, those on whom you call besides Allah, cannot create (even) a fly, even though they combine together for the purpose. And if the fly snatches away a thing from them, they will have no power to release it from the fly. So weak are (both) the seeker and the sought. They have not estimated Allah His rightful estimate. Verily, Allah is All-Strong, Almighty [22:73-74]. Allah states that if all false gods of the disbelievers gather their strength, they would not be able to create a fly. Rather, if the fly steals anything from them, no matter how insignificant, and flew away, they would not be able to retrieve it. Therefore, if an object is this weak, how can it be worshipped and invoked for provisions and aid? This is why Allah said, 'Who created nothing but they themselves are created?' these worshipped objects themselves were created and made. Prophet Ibrahim Al-Khalil proclaimed, 'Worship you that which you (yourselves) carve? [37:95] Allah said next, 'O Allah'

237 Surah 7. Al-A'raf (191 - 198) (Part-9) 'No help can they give them' those who worship them, nor can they help themselves nor are they able to aid themselves against those who seek to harm them. For instance, Allah's Khalil, peace be upon him, broke and disgraced the idols of his people, just as Allah said he did, 'Then he turned upon them, striking (them) with his right hand,' [37:93] and, 'So he broke them to pieces, (all) except the biggest of them, that they might turn to it.' [21:58] Mu'adh bin 'Amr bin Al-Jamuh and Mu'adh bin Jabal, may Allah be pleased with both of them, were still young when they embraced Islam after the Messenger of Allah came to Al-Madinah. So they were attacking the idols of the idolaters at night, breaking, disfiguring them and using them as fuel for needy widows. They sought to give a lesson to their people to make them aware of their error. 'Amr bin Al-Jamuh, who was one of the chiefs of his people, had an idol that he used to worship and perfume. The two Mu'adhs used to go to that idol, turn it on its head and tarnish it with animal waste. When 'Amr bin Al-Jamuh would see what happened to his idol, he would clean it, perfume it and leave a sword next to it, saying, "Defend yourself." However, the two young men would repeat their actions, and he would do the same as before. Once, they took the idol, tied it to a dead dog and threw it in a well while tied to a rope! When 'Amr bin Al-Jamuh saw this, he knew that his religion was false and said, "By Allah! Had you been a god who has might, you would not end up tied to a dog on a rope!" 'Amr bin Al-Jamuh embraced Islam, and he was strong in his Islam. He was later martyred during the battle of Uhud, may Allah be pleased with him, give him pleasure, and grant him Paradise as his dwelling. Allah said, 'And if you call them to guidance, they follow you not.'

Allah says, these idols do not hear the calls of those who worship them. Therefore, the result is the same, whether calling the idols or shunning them. Ibrahim, peace be upon him, said, 'O my father! Why do you worship that which hears not, sees not and cannot avail you in anything?' [19:42] Next, Allah states that the idols were created, just as those who worship them. Rather, the people are better than the idols, because they are able to hear, see and exert harm. The idols, on the other hand, have no such powers. Allah said next, iSay: "Call your (so-called) partners (of Allah invoke the idols for aid against me and do not give me respite, even for an instant, and give it your best effort. iVerily, my protector is Allah Who has revealed the Book (the Qur'an), and He protects the righteous. Allah's support is sufficient and He will suffice for me, He is My supporter, I trust in Him and take refuge with Him. He is my protector, in this life and the Hereafter, and the protector of every righteous believer after me. Similarly, the people of Hud said, ot & 4t ^ <&> at 4" All that we say is that some of our gods have seized you with evil (madness)." Hud replied: I call Allah to witness, and bear you witness that I am free from that which you ascribe [as partners in worship, with Him (Allah)]. So plot against me, all of you, and give me no respite. I put my trust in Allah, my Lord and your Lord! There is not a moving (living) creature but He has the grasp of its forelock. 'Al-'Urf, means, righteousness." Al-Bukhari next recorded from Ibn 'Abbas that he said, "Uyaynah bin Hisn bin Hudhayfah stayed with his nephew Al-Hur bin Qays, who was among the people whom 'Umar used to have near him, for 'Umar used to like to have the reciters of the Qur'an (who memorized it) near him and would listen to their opinion, regardless of whether they were old or young men. By Allah, Umar did not do anything after he heard that Ayah being recited, and indeed, he was one who adhered to the Book of Allah, the Exalted and Most Honored.'" Al-Bukhari recorded this Hadith. Some scholars said that people are of two kinds, a good-doer, so accept his good doing and neither ask him more than he can bear nor what causes him hardship. The other kind is the one who falls in shortcomings, so enjoin righteousness on him. If he still insists on evil, becomes difficult and continues in his ignorance, then turn away from him, so that your ignoring him might avert his evilness. Allah said in other instances, . >>< \ ' * ^ t 'itf iRepel evil with that which is better. We are best-acquainted with the things they utter. And say: "My Lord! Opening The Tafsir of Surat Al-Anfal (Chapter - 8)

Which was revealed in Al-Madinah

Al-Anfal is the eighth Surah of the Quran, revealed in Al-Madinah. It consists of 75 verses and 504 words. The word count of this Surah is one thousand, six hundred and thirty-four words and its letters number five thousand, two hundred and ninety-four. In the Name of Allah the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. They ask you about Al-Anfal (the spoils of war). Say: "Al-Anfal are for Allah and the Messenger." So have Taqwa of Allah and settle all matters of difference among you, and obey Allah and His Messenger, if you are believers. Meaning of Anfal Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Al-Anfal are the spoils of war." Al-Bukhari also recorded that Said bin Jubayr said, "I said to Ibn 'Abbas, 'Surat Al-Anfat?' He said, It was revealed concerning (the battle of) Badr." Ah bin Abi Talhah reported, as Al-Bukhari recorded from Ibn 'Abbas without a chain of narration, that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Al-Anfal are the spoils of war; they were for the Messenger of Allah and the believers, and none had a share in them." Similar was said by Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, 'Ata', Ad-Dahhak, Qatadah, 'Ata' Al-Khurasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam and several others. It was also said that the Nafl (singular for Anfal) refers to the portion of the spoils of war that the commander gives to some of the fighters after dividing the bulk of the spoils. It was also said that Anfal refers to the Khumus; one-fifth of the captured goods after four-fifths are divided [between the fighters]. It was also said that the Anfal refers to the Fay', the possessions taken from the disbelievers without fighting, and the animals, servants or whatever other possessions escape from the disbelievers to Muslims. Ibn Jarir recorded that 'Ali bin Salih bin Hay said: "It has reached me that, (They ask you about Al-Anfal) is about the divisions. This refers to what the Imam gives to some squads in addition to what is divided among the rest of the soldiers."

the battle of Badr. When the two armies met, Allah defeated the enemy and some of us pursued them inflicting utter defeat and casualties. Another group of us came to the battlefield collecting the spoils of war. Another group surrounded the Messenger of Allah, so that the enemy could not attack him suddenly. When it was night and the various army groups went back to our camp, some of those who collected the spoils said, *We collected it, so none else will have a share in it.' Those who went in pursuit of the enemy said, *No, you have no more right to it than us. We kept the enemy away from the war spoils and defeated them.' Those who surrounded the Messenger of Allah 111 Ahmad 1:178. 121 Abu Dawud 3 :177, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 8:466, An-Nasal in Al- Kubra 6 :348 131 Ahmad 5 :322

The Prophet jg used to dislike the Anfal and encouraged strong fighters to give some of their share to weak Muslim fighters. At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah collected a similar narration for this Hadith, and At-Tirmidhi said, uHasan".m Allah said, olj 4l iSo have Taqwa of Allah and settle all matters of difference among you,} The Ayah commands, have Taqwa of Allah in all your affairs, settle matters of differences between you, do not wrong each other, do not dispute, and do not differ. Al-Bukhari and other scholars relied on this Ayah (8:2) and those similar, as evidence that faith increases and varies in strength from heart to heart. This is also the view of the majority of the scholars of Islam, prompting some scholars, such as Ash-Shafil, Ahmad bin Hanbal and Abu 'Ubayd to declare that this is the consensus of the Ummah, as we mentioned in the beginning of the explanation of Sahih. Al- Bukhari. All the thanks and praises are due to Allah. The Reality of Tawakkul Allah said,

}And they put their trust in their Lord.} Therefore, the believers hope in none except Allah, direct their dedication to Him alone, seek refuge with Him alone, invoke Him alone for their various needs and supplicate to Him alone. They know that whatever He wills, occurs and that whatever He does not will never occurs, that He alone is the One Who has the decision in His kingdom, without partners; none can avert the decision of Allah and He is swift in reckoning. Hence the statement of SaTd bin Jubayr, “Tawakkul of Allah is the essence of faith.” Deeds of Faithful Believers Allah said next, -t. * •« li iWho perform the Saldh and spend out of what We have provided them.} Allah describes the actions of the believers after He mentioned their faith. The acts mentioned here include all types of righteous acts, such as establishing prayer, which is Allah's right. what is obligatory or recommended. All of the servants are

Abu Sufyan was cautiously gathering information on the latest news spying on travelers he met, out of fear for the caravan, especially upon entering the area of Hijaz (Western Arabia). Some travelers told him that Muhammad had mobilized his companions for his caravan. He was anxious and hired Damdam bin 'Amr Al-Ghifari to go to Makkah and mobilize the Quraysh to protect their caravan, informing them that Muhammad jg had mobilized his Companions to intercept the caravan. Damdam bin 'Amr went in a hurry to Makkah. Meanwhile, the Messenger of Allah jg marched with his companions until he reached a valley called Dhafirān. When he left the valley, he camped and was informed that the Quraysh had marched to protect their caravan. The Messenger of Allah consulted the people for advice and conveyed the news about Quraysh to them. Abu Bakr stood up and said something good, and so did 'Umar. Al-Miqdad bin 'Amr stood up and said, 'O Allah's Messenger! March to what Allah has commanded you, for we are with you. By Allah! If you decide to take us to Birk-ul-Ghimad, we will fight along with you until you reach it.' The Messenger of Allah said good words to Al-Miqdad and invoked Allah for his benefit. The Messenger of Allah again said. t Give me your opinion, O people wanting to hear from the Ansar. This is because the majority of the people with him then were the Ansar. When the Ansar gave the Prophet Sg their pledge of obedience at Al-'Aqabah, they proclaimed, 'O Allah's Messenger! We are not bound by this pledge unless, and until, you arrive in our land. When you have arrived in our area, you are under our protection, and we shall protect you in the same manner we protect our children and wives.' The Messenger of Allah sg feared that the Ansar might think that they are not obliged to support him except from his enemies who attack Al-Madinah, not to march with him to an enemy in other areas. When the Prophet said this, Sa'd bin Mu'adh asked him, 'O Allah's Messenger! Is it us whom you meant?' The Prophet answered in the positive. Sa'd said, "We have faith and believed in you, testified that what you brought is the truth, and gave you our pledges and promises of allegiance and obedience. Therefore, march, O Allah's Messenger, for what Allah has commanded you. Verily, by He Who has sent you in Truth, if you decided to cross this sea (the Red Sea), we will follow you in it, and none among us would stay behind. We do not dislike that we meet our enemy tomorrow. Verily, we are patient in war, fierce in battle. May Allah make you witness what makes your eyes pleased with us. Therefore, march with us with the blessing of Allah.' The Messenger of Allah was pleased with what Sa'd said and was encouraged by it. [3:140-141] These are points of wisdom for which Allah has legislated performing Jihad, by the hands of the believers against the disbelievers. Allah used to destroy the previous nations that denied the Prophets, using various disasters that encompassed these rebellious nations. For instance, Allah destroyed the people of Nūh with the flood, 'Ad with the wind, Thamūd with the scream, the people of Lūṭ with an earthquake and the people of Shu'ayb by the Day of the Shadow. After Allah sent Mūsā and destroyed his enemy Fir'aun and his soldiers by drowning, He sent down the Tawrah to him in which He legislated fighting against the disbelievers, and this legislation remained in the successive Laws. Abū Jahl, for instance, was killed in battle and this was more humiliating for him than dying in his bed, or from lightning, wind, or similar afflictions. Also, Abū Lahab died from a terrible disease [that caused him to stink] and none of his relatives could bear approaching him. Allah also removed Shaytan's whisper and made the sand firm when rain fell on it, and the Muslims walked on the sand along with their animals, until they reached the enemy. Allah supported His Prophet and the believers with a thousand angels on one side, five hundred under the command of Jibril and another five hundred under the command of Mikail on another side."* 11 An even a better narration is that collected by Imam Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar, author of Al-Maghazi, may Allah have mercy upon him. Ibn Ishaq narrated that, Yazid bin Ruwman narrated to him that, Thawab bin Az-Zubayr said, "Allah sent rain down from the sky on a sandy valley. That rain made the area where the Messenger of Allah j g and his Companions camped firmer so that it did not hinder their movement. Meanwhile, the part that the Quraysh were camping on became difficult to move in." Mujahid said, "Allah sent down the rain on the believers before slumber overtook them, and the rain settled the dust, made the ground firmer, made them feel at ease and their feet firmer."*31 Allah said next, i to clean you thereby} using it after answering the call of nature or needing to wash oneself, and this involves

This is the explanation of Said bin Jubayr and As-Suddi.111 Ad-Dahhak also commented, "Whoever went ahead of his fellow Muslims to investigate the strength of the enemy and make use of it, 4or to retreat to a troop (of his own)}, meaning he leaves from here to another troop of Muslims to assist them or be assisted by them. So that is allowed for him, or even during the battle if he flees from his brigade to the commander. Or going to the grand Imam, would also fall under this permission." Umar bin Al-Khattab, may Allah be pleased with him, said about Abu Ubayd when he was fighting on the bridge in the land of the Persians, because of the many Zoroastrian soldiers, "If he retreated to me then I would be as a troop for him." Don't be confused over this Ayah, it was only about the day of Badr, and we are a troop for every Muslim." Ibn Abi Hatim [recorded] that Nafi' questioned Ibn 'Umar, "We are people who are not stationary when fighting our enemy, and we may not know where our troop is, be it that of our Imam or our army." So he replied, "The troop is Allah's Messenger jg." I said but Allah said, iwheti you meet those who disbelieve in the battlefield^ to the end of the Ayah . "Leaves him without comprehension," As-Suddi said, "Prevents one self from his own heart, so he will neither believe nor disbelieve except by His leave." There are several Hadiths that conform with the meaning of this Ayah. For instance, Imam Ahmad recorded that Anas bin Malik said, "The Prophet jg used to often say these words, @ilho c.j s^JLaa U@ «0 You Who changes the hearts, make my heart firm on Your religion .» We said, ‘O Allah’s Messenger!

289 Surah 8. Al-Anfdl (25) (Part-9) Therefore, such Fitnah will not be restricted to the sinners and evildoers. Rather, it will reach the others if the sins are not stopped and prevented. Imam Ahmad recorded that Mutarrif said, "We asked Az-Zubayr, 'O Abu 'Abdullah! What brought you here (for the battle of Al-Jamal)? You abandoned the Khalfah who was assassinated ('Uthman, may Allah be pleased with him) and then came asking for revenge for his blood?' He said, We recited at the time of the Messenger of Allah jg, and Abu Bakr, TJmar and TJthman, iAnd fear the Fittiah (affliction and trial) which affects not in particular (only) those ofyou who do wrong,} We did not think that this Ayah was about us too, until it reached us as it did.'"' 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Ayah, i&L ffc uM Y iAnd fear the Fitnah (affliction and trial) which affects not in particular (only) tlwse ofyou who do wrong,} refers to the Companions of the Prophet in particular. 121 In another narration from Ibn 'Abbas, he said, "Allah commanded the believers to stop evil from flourishing among them, so that Allah does not encompass them all in the torment (Fitnah)."131 This, indeed, is a very good explanation, prompting Mujahid to comment about Allah's statement, // >-/.V / .if {/ > _ • // » iAnd fear the Fitnah (affliction and trial) which affects not in particular (only) those ofyou who do wrong,} "Is for you too!" Several said similarly, such as Ad- Dahhak and Yazld bin Abi Habib and several others. Ibn Mas*ud said, "There is none among you but there is something that represents a Fitnah for him, for Allah said, 111 Ahmad 1 :165. 121 At-Tabari 13:474. 131 At-Tabari 13:474. 141 At-Tabari 13:475.

290 Tafoir Ibn Katlur iYour wealth and your children are only a trial (Fitnah).. .$.> (64 :15). Therefore, when you seek refuge, seek it with Allah from the Fitnah that causes misguidance." Ibn Jarir collected this Hadith. [I] The view that the warning in this Ayah addresses the Companions and all others is true, even though the speech in the Ayah was directed at the Companions. There are Hadiths that warn against Fitnah in general, thus providing the correctness of this explanation. Similarly there will be a separate book in which this subject will be discussed, Allah willing, as also is the case with the Imams, there being a number of writings about this. Of the most precise things that have been mentioned under this topic, is what was recorded by Imam Ahmad from Hudhayfah bin Al-Yaman that the Messenger of Allah said, r OSJU jJ tX «By He in Whose Hand is my soul! You will enjoin righteousness and forbid evil, or Allah will send a punishment upon you from Him; you will supplicate then to Him, but He will not answer your supplication.^ Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Ar-Riqad said, "I heard Hudhayfah saying, 'A person used to utter one word during the time of the Messenger of Allah jg and become a hypocrite on account of it. I now hear such words from one of you four times in the same sitting. Surely, you will enjoin good, forbid evil and encourage each other to do good or Allah will surround you all with torment, or make the wicked among you become your leaders. The righteous amongyou will then supplicate, but their supplication will not be accepted.'" I3 Imam Ahmad recorded that An-Nu'man bin Bashir said that the Prophet ^ gave a speech in which he said, while pointing to his ears with two of his fingers, 111 At-Tabari 13:475. 121 Ahmad 5:388. 131 Ahmad 5:390.

parable of the person abiding by Allah's order and restrictions in comparison to those who violate them, or sit idle while they are being violated, is that of those who drew lots for their seats in a boat. Some of them got seats in the lower part, which is the most rough and worst part, and the others in the upper. When the farmer needed water, they had to go up to bring water and that troubled the others, so they said, 'Let us make a hole in our share of the ship and get water, saving those who are above us from troubling them, so, if the people in the upper part let the others do what they suggested, all the people of the ship would be destroyed, but if they prevented them, both parties would be safe.'¹ This was recorded by Al-Bukhari, but not Muslim, in the Book of Partnerships and the Book of Witnesses.² It was also recorded by At-Tirmidhi through a different route of narration.³ Imam Ahmad recorded that Umm Salamah, the Prophet's wife, said, "I heard the Messenger of Allah saying, 'If sins become apparent in my Ummah, Allah will surround them with punishment from Him. you might be grateful. Reminding Muslims of their previous state of weakness and subjugation which changed into might and triumph Allah, the Exalted, reminds His believing servants of His blessings and favors on them. They were few and He made them many, weak and fearful and He provided them with strength and victory. They were meek and poor, and He granted them sustenance and livelihood. He ordered them to be grateful to Him, and they obeyed Him and implemented what He commanded. When the believers were still in Makkah they were few, practicing their religion in secret, oppressed, fearing that pagans, fire worshippers or Romans might kidnap them from the various parts of Allah's earth, for they were all enemies of the Muslims, especially since Muslims were few and weak. Later on, Allah permitted the believers to migrate to Al-Madina, where He allowed them to settle in a safe resort. Allah made the people of Al-Madina their allies, giving them refuge and support during Badr and other battles. In the year of the victory of Makkah he wrote to the Quraysh alerting them that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) intended to march towards them. Allah informed His Messenger of this, and he sent a Companion to retrieve the letter that Hatib sent, and then he summoned him. He admitted to what he did. However, it appears that this Ayah is more general, even if it was revealed about a specific incident. * Such rulings are dealt with by their indications, not the specific reasons behind revealing them, according to the majority of scholars. Betrayal includes both minor and major sins, as well those that affect others. ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on the Ayah, 111 At-Tabari 13:478. He is saying this here because he mentioned two unauthentic stories in that regard . Additionally , in the case of Hatib , the Ayah revealed was Al- Mumtahinah 60 : 1 as recorded by Al-Hakim and others

Muhammad bin Ishaq said that 'Furqan' means 'criterion between truth and falsehood'. This last explanation from Ibn Ishaq is more general than the rest that we mentioned, and it also includes the other meanings. Certainly, those who have Taqwa of Allah by obeying what He ordained and abstaining from what he forbade, will be guided to differentiate between the truth and the falsehood. This will be a triumph, safety and a way out for them from the affairs of this life, all the while acquiring happiness in the Hereafter. the types of believers, dividing them into the Muhajirin, who left their homes and estates, emigrating to give support to Allah and His Messenger to establish His religion. They gave up their wealth and themselves in this cause. There are also the Ansar, the Muslims of Al-Madlnah, who gave asylum to their Muhajirin brethren in their own homes and comforted them with their wealth. They also gave aid to Allah and His Messenger by fighting alongside the Muhajirun. Certainly they are, Rallies to one another}, for each one of them has more right to the other than anyone else. This is why Allah's Messenger jgg forged ties of brotherhood between the Muhajirin and Ansar, as Al-Bukhari recorded from Ibn 'Abbas.¹¹¹ They used to inherit from each other, having more right to inheritance than the deceased man's relatives, until Allah abrogated that practice with the fixed share for near relatives. Imam Ahmad recorded that Jarir bin 'Abdullah Al-Bajali said that the Messenger of Allah jgg said, *T7ie Muhajirun and Al-Ansdr are the supporters of each other, while the Tulaqd' of Quraysh (whom the Prophet M set free after conquering Makkah) and 'Utaqd' from Thaqif (whom the Prophet set free from captivity after the battle of Hunayn) are supporters of each other until the Day of Resurrection .» (i) Fath Al-B&ri 12:30.

He also promised them honorable provisions that are abundant, pure, everlasting and eternal; provisions that never end or run out, nor will they ever cause boredom, for they are delightful and come in great varieties. Allah then mentioned that those who follow the path of the believers in faith and performing good deeds, will be with them in the Hereafter. Just as Allah said, 4And the foremost to embrace Islam...} (9:100), until the end of the Ayah. He also said, 4fa M J iAnd those who came after them ...} (59:10). A Hadith that is in the Two Sahih, which is Mutawatir and has several authentic chains of narrations, mentions that the Messenger of Allah said,

“One will be in the company of those whom he loves. d Another Hadith states, «He who loves a people is one of them*, and in another narration, he jg said, “r*” >~D * ...will be gathered with them (on the Day of Resurrection) Inheritance is for Designated Degrees of Relatives Allah said, 4 u-?<0 4But kindred by blood are nearer to one another (regarding inheritance) in the decree ordained by Allah}, meaning, in Allah’s decision. This Ayah encompasses all relatives, not only the degrees of relatives who do not have a fixed, designated share in the inheritance, as some people claim and use this Ayah to argue. According to Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah and several others,13 this Ayah abrogated inheriting from those with whom one had ties of treaties or brotherhood, as was the case in the beginning of Islam. So it applies to all relatives, and as for those who do not inherit, then this is supported by the Hadith, . . X " » jl J A4>- .1; «Indeed Allah had allotted every right to the one who deserves it, so there may be no will for an heir.*|4 Therefore, this Ayah also includes those who have a fixed share of inheritance. Why there is no Basmalah in the Beginning of This Surah This honorable Surah (chapter 9) was one of the last Surahs to be revealed to the Messenger of Allah 3g. Al-Bukhari recorded that Al-Bara' said, "The last Ayah to be revealed was, 4jih£3i 4 iif J» <±Is>&l j^ iThey ask you for a legal verdict. Say: "Allah directs (thus) about Al-Kaldlah.'>(4: 176] while the last Surah to be revealed was Bar&'ah. „{1] The Basmalah was not mentioned in the beginning of this Surah because the Companions did not write it in the complete copy of the Qur'an (Mushaf) they collected, following the Commander of the faithful, TJthman bin 'Affan, may Allah be pleased with him. The first part of this honorable Surah was revealed to the Messenger of Allah jg when he returned from the battle of Tabok, during the Hajj season, which the Prophet j§ thought about attending. But he remembered that the idolaters would still attend that Hajj, as was usual in past years, and that they perform Tawaf around the House while naked. He disliked to associate with them and sent Abu Bakr As-Siddiq, may Allah be pleased with him, to lead Hajj that year and show the people their rituals, commanding him to inform the idolaters that they would not be allowed to participate in Hajj after that season. He commanded him to proclaim, 4jslAy$M iFreedom from (all) obligations (is declared) from Allah and His Messenger (M)---$, to the people. When Abu Bakr had left, the Messenger jj§ sent 'Ali bin Abu Talib to be the one to deliver this news to the idolaters on behalf of the Messenger jgg, for he was the Messenger's cousin. We will mention this stoiy later. Publicizing the Disavowal of the Idolaters Allah said. iFreedom from obligations from Allah and His Messenger is a declaration of freedom from all obligations from Allah and His Messenger 3g§, ijt^ i-ji oKjV' 4 Si ^-4^ Sil HI Fath Al-B&ri8 :167 . This Surah was commonly called Bara'ah.

ito those of the Mushrikin, with whom you made a treaty. So travel freely (Mushrikin) for four months (as you will) throughout the land^ [9:1-2]. This Ayah refers to idolaters who had indefinite treaties and those, whose treaties with Muslims ended in less than four months. The terms of these treaties were restricted to four months only. As for those whose term of peace ended at a specific date later (than the four months), then their treaties would end when their terms ended, no matter how long afterwards, for Allah said, in? 4So fulfill their treaty for them until the end of their term>[9:4]. So whoever had a covenant with Allah's Messenger jg then it would last until its period expired, this was reported from Muhammad bin Ka*b Al-Qurazi and others. We will also mention a Hadith on this matter. Abu Ma'shar Al-Madani said that Muhammad bin Ka*b Al- Qurazi and several others said, "The Messenger of Allah sent Abu Bakr to lead the Hajj rituals on the ninth year (of Hijrah). He also sent 'Ali bin Abi Talib with thirty or forty Ayat from Bara'ah (At-Tawbah), and he recited them to the people, giving the idolaters four months during which they freely move about in the land. He recited these Ayat on the day of 'Arafah (ninth of Dhul-Hijjah). The idolaters were given twenty more days (till the end) of Dhul-Hijjah, Muharram, Safar, Rabi' Al- Awwal and ten days from Rabi' Ath-Thani. He proclaimed to them in their camping areas, "No Mushrik will be allowed to perform Hajj after this year, nor a naked person to perform Tawaf around the House."2 ' So Allah said, £ 3#S 3&& gU £ o-M J) J* Jf) jifea1 jSi- 111 At-Tabari 14:106-102. earning them disgrace and affliction in this life and the torment of chains and barbed iron bars in the Hereafter. Al- Bukhari recorded that Abu Hurayrah said, "Abu Bakr sent me during that Hajj with those dispatched on the day of Sacrifice to declare in Mina that no Mushrik will be allowed to attend Hajj after that year, nor will a naked person be allowed to perform Tawaf." Humayd said, "The Prophet then sent 'Ali bin Abi Talib and commanded him to announce Bara'ah." Abu Hurayrah said, "Ali publicized Bara'ah with us to the gathering in Mina on the day of Sacrifice, declaring that no Mushrik shall perform Hajj after that year, nor shall a naked person perform Tawaf around the House." 1 11 Al-Bukhari also collected this Hadith the this narration of which, Abu Hurayrah said, "On the day of Nahr, Abu Bakr sent me along with other announcers to Mina to make a public announcement that 'No pagan is allowed to perform Hajj after this year, and no naked person is allowed to perform the Tawaf around the Ka'bah.' Abu Bakr was leading the people in that Hajj season, and in the year of The Farewell Hajf when the Prophet sg performed Hajj, no Mushrik performed Hajj." [2] This is the narration that Al-Bukhari recorded in the Book on Jihad. Muhammad bin Ishaq reported a narration from Abu Ja'far Muhammad bin 'Ali bin Al-Husayn who said, "When Bara'ah was revealed to Allah's Messenger jg, and he had sent Abu Bakr to oversee the Hajj rites for the people, he was asked, 'O Messenger of Allah!

When Abu Bakr saw him he said, 'Are you here as a commander or a follower.' 'Ali replied, 'A follower.' They continued on. Abu Bakr lead the people in Hajj while the Arabs were camping in their normal locations from Jahiliyyah. On the day of Sacrifice, 'Ali bin Abi Talib stood and proclaimed, 'O people! No disbeliever will be admitted into Paradise, no idolator will be permitted to perform Hajj next year, there shall be no Tawaf while naked, and whoever has a covenant with Allah's Messenger gg, then it shall be valid until its time of expiration.' So no idolator performed Hajj after that year, Tawaf around the House while naked ceased. Then they returned to Allah's Messenger jg. So this was the declaration of innocence, whoever among the idolators had no treaty, then he had a treaty of peace for one year, if he had a particular treaty, then it was valid until its date of expiration. The text of the saying of the Prophet jg is supported by a narration from Anas, recorded by At-Tirmidhi, under the Tafsir of this Surah. The remainder of the narration is supported by others. The scholars explain the mention of the Prophet's family to mean that such representation was necessary when changing a treaty.

375 Surah 9. At-Tawbah (4 - 5) (Part-10 have Taqwa.) Existing Peace Treaties remained valid until the End of Their Term This is an exception regulating the longest extent of time for those who have a general treaty - with out time mentioned - to four months. They would have four months to travel the lands in search of sanctuary for themselves wherever they wish. Those whose treaty mentioned a specific limited term, then the longest it would extend was to the point of its agreed upon termination date. Hadiths in this regard proceeded. So anyone who had a treaty with Allah's Messenger gg, it lasted until its specific termination date. However, those in this category were required to refrain from breaking the terms of the agreement with Muslims and from helping non-Muslims against Muslims. This is the type whose peace agreement with Muslims was carried out to its end. Allah encouraged honoring such peace treaties, saying. 41)1 6] 4 Surely, Allah loves those who have Taqwa} [9:4], who keep their promises. I#w* ^ ijbk %Htga lit a sj tsc yum ijwst ijs 4^ jt. 45. Abu Bakr As-Siddiq used this and other honorable Ayat as proof for fighting those who refrained from paying the Zakdh. These Ayat allowed fighting people unless, and until, they embrace Islam and implement its rulings and obligations. Allah mentioned the most important aspects of Islam here, including what is less important. Surely, the highest elements of Islam after the Two Testimonials, are the prayer, which is the right of Allah, the Exalted and Ever High, then the Zakdh, which benefits the poor and needy. These are the most honorable acts that creatures perform, and this is why Allah often mentions the prayer and Zakdh together. In the Two Sahihs, it is recorded that Ibn 'Umar said that the Messenger of Allah said, <iil j jj lii vj ^i i if i ji- JJllf ji "/ have been commanded to fight the people until they testify that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah, establish the prayer and pay the Zakdh. t 1 ' 1 This honorable Ayah (9:5) was called the Ayah of the Sword, about which Ad-Dahhak bin Muzahim said, "It abrogated every agreement of peace between the Prophet jg and any idolator, every treaty, and every term." mentioned that victoiy comes from Him, by His aid and decree, not because of their numbers or adequate supplies, whether the triumphs are few or many. On the day of Hunayn, the Muslims were proud because of their large number, which did not avail them in the least; they retreated and fled from battle. Only a few of them remained with the Messenger of Allah jg Allah then sent down His aid and support to His Messenger jg and the believers who remained with him, so that they were aware that victory is from Allah alone and through His aid, even if the victorious were few. Many a small group overcame a larger opposition by Allah's leave, and Allah is ever with those who are patient. We will explain this subject in detail below, Allah willing. The Battle of Hunayn

The battle of Hunayn occurred after the victoiy of Makkah,

in the month of Shawwal of the eighth year of Hijrah. After the Prophet m conquered Makkah and things settled, most of its people embraced Islam and he set them free. News came to the Messenger of Allah that the tribe of Hawazin were gathering their forces to fight him, under the command of Malik bin 'Awf An-Nadri, as well as, the entire tribe of Thaqif, the tribes of Banu Jusham, Banu Sa'd bin Bakr, a few people of Awza' from Banu Hilal and some people from Bani 'Amr bin 'Amir and 'Awf bin 'Amir. They brought their women, children, sheep and camels along, in addition to their armed forces and adequate supplies. The Messenger of Allah sg marched to meet them with the army that he brought to conquer Makkah, ten thousand from the Muhajirin, the Ansar and various Arab tribes. Along with them came the Tulaqa' numbering two thousand men. The Messenger $\wedge$ took them along to meet the enemy. The two armies met in Humayn, a valley between Makkah and At-Ta'if. The battle started in the early part of the morning, when the Huwazin forces, who were lying in ambush, descended on the valley when the Muslims entered. Muslims were suddenly struck by the ambush, the arrows descended on them and the swords struck them. The Huwazin commander ordered them to descend and attack the Muslims as one block, and when they did that, the Muslims retreated in haste, just as Allah described them. The Messenger of Allah $\wedge$ remained firm in 399 Surah 9. At-Tawbah (25 - 27) (Part-10) his position while riding his mule, Ash-Shahba'. He was leading his mule towards the enemy, while his uncle Al-'Abbas was holding its right-hand rope and (his cousin) Abu Sufyan bin Al-Harith bin 'Abdul-Muttalib was holding the left rope. They tried to hold the mule back so it would not run faster toward the enemy. Meanwhile, the Messenger of Allah hg was declaring his name aloud and saying, $\langle 4 \rangle$ i jp; uf «O servants of Allah! Come back to me! I am the Messenger of Allah!* He repeated these words, uf ol am the Prophet, not lying! I am the son of Abdul-Muttalib! $\wedge$ There remained between a hundred and eighty Companions with the Prophet hg . These included Abu Bakr, "Umar, Al-'Abbas, 'Ali, Al-Fadl bin 'Abbas, Abu Sufyan bin Al-Harith, Ayman the son of Umm Ayman and Usamah bin Zayd. There were many other Companions, may Allah be pleased with them. The Prophet hg commanded his uncle Al-'Abbas, whose voice was rather loud, to call at the top of his voice, "O Companions of the Samurah (tree)" referring to the Muhajirin and Ansar who gave their pledge under the tree during the pledge of Ridwan, not to run away and retreat. He also called, "O Companions of Surat Al-Baqarah." Upon hearing that, those heralded started saying, "Here we are! Here we are!" Muslims started returning in the direction of the Messenger of Allah hg . If the camel of one of them did not obey him (as the people were rushing to the other direction in flight) he would wear his shield and descend from his camel and rush to the side of the Messenger of Allah hg on foot. When a large crowd gathered around the Messenger of Allah hg , he commanded them to fight in sincerity and took a handful of sand and threw it in the faces of the disbelievers, after supplicating to Allah, t C*! 'jrf $\wedge$ •O Allah! Fulfill Your promise to me!* Then he threw that handful of sand which entered the eyes and mouth of all the disbelievers, thus distracting them from fighting, and they retreated in defeat. The Muslims pursued the enemy, killing and capturing them. The rest of the Muslim army (returning to battle gradually) rejoined their positions and found many captured disbelieving soldiers kept tied before the Messenger of Allah hg . In the Two Sahihis, it is recorded that Shu'bah said that Abu Ishaq said that Al-Bara' bin 'Azib said to a man who asked him, O Abu 'Amarah! Did you run away during Hunayn and leave the Messenger of Allah hg ?" Al-Bara' said, "But the Messenger of Allah hg did not run away. Hawazin was a tribe proficient with their arrows. When we met them we attacked their forces and they ran away in defeat. The Muslims started to worry about collecting the spoils of war and the Hawazin started shooting arrows at us, then the Muslims fled. I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ proclaiming, - while Abu Sufyan was holding the bridle of his white mule, 44¹⁴?* jit ui - j.ijs'j ^iji i;ft 0/ am the Prophet, not lying, I am the son of 'Abdul- Muttalib!¹⁴ This shows the great courage on behalf of the Prophet ﷺ in the midst of confusion, when his army ran away and left him behind. Yet, the Messenger remained on his mule, which is a slow animal, not suitable for fast battle moves or even escape. Yet, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was encouraging his mule to move forward towards the enemy announcing who he was, so that those among them who did not know who he was came to know him. May Allah's peace and blessings be on the Messenger until the Day of Resurrection. This indicates the tremendous trust in Allah and reliance upon Him, as well as, sure knowledge that He will give him victory, complete what He has sent him for and give prominence to his religion above all other religions. Allah said, ﷻ 'it jJ iThen Allah did send down His Sakinah on His Messenger>, He sent down tranquillity and reassurance to His Messenger, m Fath Al-Bari 6:81 and Muslim 3:1401. Imam Abu Ja'far bin Jarir {At-Tabari} said that Al-Qasim narrated to them, that Al-Hasan bin 'Arafah said that Al- Mutamir bin Sulayman said from 'Awf bin Abi Jamllah Al- 'Arabi who said that he heard 'Abdur-Rahman, the freed slave of Ibn Barthan saying, "A man who participated in Hunayn with the idolaters narrated to me, When we met the Messenger of Allah and his Companions on the day of Hunayn, they did not remain in battle more than the time it takes to milk a sheep! When we defeated them, we pursued them until we ended at the rider of the white mule, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ . At that time, men with white handsome faces intercepted us and said: Disgraced be the faces! Go back. So we ran away, but they followed us. That was the end for us." 11 ' Ulah said, iThen after that Allah will accept the repentance ofwhom He wills. And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.> Allah forgave the rest of Huwazin when they embraced Islam and went to the Prophet ﷺ , before he arrived at Makkah in the Ji'ranah area. This occurred twenty days after the battle of Hunayn. The Messenger gave them the choice between taking those who were prisoner or the war spoils they lost, and they chose the former. The Prophet ﷺ released six thousand prisoners to them, but divided the war spoils between the victors, such as some of the Tulaqa', so that their hearts would be inclined towards Islam. He gave each of them a hundred camels, and the same to Malik bin 'Awf An-Nasri whom he appointed chief of his people (Huwazin) as he was before. Malik bin 'Awf said a poem in which he praised the Messenger of Allah ﷺ for his generosity and extraordinary courage. 111 At-Tabari 14:186.

commands His believing servants, who are pure in religion and person, to expel the idolators who are filthy in the religious sense, from Al-Masjid Al-Haram. After the revelation of this Ayah, idolators were no longer allowed to go near the Masjid. This Ayah was revealed in the ninth year of Hijrah. The Messenger of Allah sent 'Ali in the company of Abu Bakr that year to publicize to the idolators that no Mushrik will be allowed to perform Hajj after that year, nor a naked person allowed to perform Tawaf around the House. Allah completed this decree, made it a legislative ruling, as well as, a fact of reality. 'Abdur-Razzaq recorded that Jabir bin 'Abdullah commented on the Ayah, Verily, the Mushrikin are impure. So let them not come near Al-Masjid Al-Haram after this year "Unless it was a servant or one of the people of Dhimmah." Imam Abu 'Amr Al-Awza'i said, "Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz wrote 111 'Abdur-Razzaq 2:271.

'Ata' said, "All of the Sacred Area [the Haram] is considered a Masjid, for Allah said, "So let them not come near Al-Masjid Al-Haram (at Makkah) after this year."* This Ayah indicates that idolators are impure and that the believers are pure. In the Sahth is the following, «The believer does not become impure. Allah said, if you fear poverty, Allah will enrich you, out of His bounty. Muhammad bin Ishaq commented, "The people said, 'Our markets will be closed, our commerce disrupted, and what we earned will vanish.' So Allah revealed this verse, and if you fear poverty, Allah will enrich you, out of His bounty from other resources, until, i...and feel themselves subdued. This Ayah means, 'this will be your compensation for the 111 Fath Al-Bari3:150.

Therefore, Allah compensated them for the losses they incurred because they severed ties with idolators, by the Jizyah they earned from the People of the Book." 11 Similar statements were reported from Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Qatadah and Ad-Dahhak and others. Allah said, *4Surely, Allah is All-Knowing}, in what benefits you, 4All-Wise}, in His orders and prohibitions, for He is All-Perfect in His actions and statements, All-Just in His creations and decisions, Blessed and Hallowed be He. This is why Allah compensated Muslims for their losses by the amount of Jizyah that they took from the people of Dhimmah. Therefore, they do not follow the religion of earlier Prophets because these religions came from Allah, but because these suit their desires and lusts. Therefore, their claimed faith in an earlier Prophet will not benefit them because they disbelieved in the master, the mightiest, the last and most perfect of all Prophets Hence Allah's statement, % $j~jj u &££% yjii % jit y iFight against those who believe not in Allah, nor in the Last Day, norforbid that which has been forbidden by Allah and His Messenger, and those who acknowledge not the religion of truth among the People of the Scripture,} This honorable Ayah was revealed with the order to fight the People of the Book, after the pagans were defeated, the people entered Allah's religion in large numbers, and the Arabian Peninsula was secured under the Muslims' control. Allah commanded His Messenger gg to fight the People of the Scriptures, Jews and Christians, on the ninth year of Hijrah, and he prepared his army to fight the Romans and called the people to Jihad announcing his intent and destination. The Messenger jg sent his intent to various Arab areas around Al- Madlnah to gather forces, and he collected an army of thirty thousand. Some people from Al-Madlnah and some hypocrites, in and around it, lagged behind, for that year was a year of drought and intense heat. The Messenger of Allah jg marched, heading towards Ash-Sham to fight the Romans until he reached Tabuk, where he set camp for about twenty days next to its water resources. He then prayed to Allah for a decision and went back to Al-Madlnah because it was a hard year and the people were weak, as we will mention, Allah willing. Warning against Corrupt Scholars and Misguided Worshippers As-Suddi said that the Ahbdr are Jewish rabbis, while the I1 ! Ahmad 4 :103 .

They sell the religion in return for worldly gains, using their positions and status among people to illegally devour their property. For instance, the Jews were respected by the people of Jahiliyyah and collected gifts, taxes and presents from them. When Allah sent His Messenger sg, the Jews persisted in their misguidance, disbelief and rebellion, hoping to keep their status and position. However, Allah extinguished all this and took it away from them with the light of Prophethood and instead gave them disgrace and degradation, and they incurred the anger of Allah, the Exalted. Allah said next, 4and hinder (them) from the way of Allah.} Therefore, they illegally devour people's property and hinder them from following the truth. They also confuse truth with falsehood and pretend before their ignorant followers that they call to righteousness. The true reality is that they call to the Fire and will not find any helpers on the Day of Resurrection. Torment of Those Who hoard Gold and Silver Allah said, iAnd those who hoard [Kanz] gold and silver and spend them not in the way of Allah, announce unto them a painful torment.} [9 :34). This is the third category of leaders, for people rely on their scholars, worshippers and the wealthy among them. When these categories of people become corrupt, the society in general becomes corrupt. Ibn Al-Mubarak once said, "What corrupted the religion, except kings and wicked Ahbar and Ruhban." As for Kanz, it refers to the wealth on which Zakah has not been paid, according to Malik, who narrated this from 'Abdullah bin Dinar from Ibn 'Umar. 111 Al-Bukhari recorded that Az-Zuhri said that Khalid bin Aslam said that 'Abdullah IM Al'Muwatta, 1 :256 bin 'Umar said, "This was before Zakah was ordained. When Zakah was ordained, Allah made it a cleanser for wealth."111 "Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz and Irak bin Malik said that this Ayah was abrogated by Allah's statement, y\ iTake Sadaqah (alms) from their wealthy There are many Hadiths that admonish hoarding gold and silver. We will mention here some of these Hadiths. 'Abdur-Razzaq recorded a Hadlth from 'Ali about Allah's statement, iAtid those who hoard up gold and silver... } 'Ali said that the Prophet jg said, L: waJLU U b uWoe to gold! Woe to silver .» He repeated this statement thrice, and this Hadlth was hard on the Companions of the Messenger of Allah jg, who said, "What type of wealth should we use?" Umar said, "I will find out for you," and he asked, "O Allah's Messenger! Your statement was hard for your Companions. They asked, What wealth should we use?" which you hoarded for yourselves. Now taste ofwhat you used to hoard.”} These words will be said to them as a way of admonishing, criticizing and mocking them. Allah also said; iTheti pour over his head the torment of boiling water. "Taste you (this)! Verily, you were (pretending to be) the mighty, the generous!"} [44:48-49]. There is a saying that goes, “He who covets a thing and prefers it to Allah’s obedience, will be punished with it.” Because hoarding money was better to these people than Allah’s pleasure, they were punished with it. For instance, Abu Lahab, may Allah curse him, was especially active in defying the Messenger of Allah and his wife was helping him in this regard. Therefore, on the Day of Resurrection, she will help in punishing him, for there will be a twisted rope of palm fiber on her neck. She will be gathering wood from the Fire and throwing it on him so that his torment is made harder by the hand of someone whom he used to care for in this life. Likewise, money was precious to those who hoarded it in this life. Therefore, money will produce the worst harm for them in the Hereafter, when it will be heated in the Fire of Jahannam, whose heat is quiet sufficient, and their forehead, sides and back will be branded with it. Imam Abu JaTar Ibn Jarir recorded that Thawban said that the Messenger of Allah jgused to declare, Jilij -Jyjj iloil ’} jli \’fs IjlL h) oi aLaL JljJ fj iLul ’kS’j, ^jjl ii’fs ui :jfti ?aEJ{ li -= J>S~- Lf "Whoever leaves a treasure behind (on which he did not pay the Zakdlt), then on the Day of Resurrection his wealth will be made like a bald-headed poisonous male snake with two black spots over the eyes .  collected by Shaykh ‘Alam ad-Din As- Sakhawi, entitled, Al-Mashhdr fi Asma ’ Al-Ayam wash-Shuhur, he mentioned that Muharram is so named because it is a sacred month. To me, it was so named to emphasize its sacredness. This is because the Arabs would switch it around. One year they would say it was a sacred month, the following year they would say that it was not. The author said, “...and Safar is so named because they used to leave their homes during that month for fighting and traveling. When saying ‘Safvd a place, it means to leave it... RabT Al-Awwal is called that because they used to do Irtibd’ in it, that is to maintain one’s property... and Rabi' Al-Akhir, was so named for the same reasons.

 Jumada is called that because the water would dry up (Jamud) then....They say Jumada Al-Uwla and Al- Awwal, or Jumada Al-Akhar or Al-Akhirah. Rajab comes from Tarfib, meaning to honor. Shaban because the tribes would separate and return to their homes. Ramadan was so named because of the severity of the Ramda’ - that is - the heat, and they say that the branch Ramadat when it is thirsty...And saying that it is a Name of Allah is a mistake, for there is no proof or support for that...” The Sacred Months Allah said, iof them four are sacred The Arabs used to consider these months sacred during the time of JahUiyyah, except for a group of them called Al-Basl, who held eight months of the year to be sacred as way of exaggeration in religion. The Prophet sg said, •jLOj “Three are in succession; Dhul-Qa'dah, Dhtil-Hijjah and Multarram, and (the fourth is) Rajah [of (the tribe of) Mudar which comes between Jumada (Ath-Thdni)] and Sha'bdm.

The Prophet jg said “Rajab ofMudar” to attest to the custom of Mudar, in saying that Rajab is the month that is between Jumada and ShaTaan, not as the tribe of Rabi'ah thought, that it is between ShaTaan and Shawwal, which is Ramadan in the present calendar. The four Sacred Months were made four, three in succession and one alone, so that the Hajj and 'Umrah are performed with ease. Dhul-Qa'dah, the month before the Hajj month, was made sacred because they refrained from fighting during that month. Dhul-Hijjah, the next month, was made sacred because it is the month of Hajj, during which they performed Hajj rituals. Muharram, which comes next, was made sacred so that they are able to go back to their areas in safety [after performing Hajj]. Rajab, in the middle of the lunar year, was made sacred so that those coming from the farthest areas of Arabia are able to perform 'Umrah and visit the House and then go back to their areas safely. Allah said next, "That is the right religion that is the Straight Law, requiring implementing Allah's order concerning the months that He made sacred and their true count as it was originally written by Allah. Allah said, "It is wrong not yourselves therein) during these Sacred Months, for sin in them is worse than sin in other months. Likewise, sins in the Sacred City are written multiplied, and whoever inclines to evil actions therein (in Makkah) or to do wrong, him We shall cause to taste from a painful torment [22:25]. Similarly, sin in general is worse during the Sacred Months 'Ali bin Abi Talhah narrated that Ibn 'Abbas said, Allah's statement, "Verily, the number of months with Allah...," is connected to "so wrong not yourselves therein), "In all (twelve) months. Allah then chose four out of these months and made them sacred, emphasizing their sanctity, making sinning in them greater, in addition to, multiplying rewards of righteous deeds during them." Qatadah said about Allah's statement, "so wrong not yourselves therein), "Injustice during the Sacred Months is worse and graver than injustice in other months. Verily, injustice is always wrong, but Allah makes things graver than others as He will." He also said, "Allah has chosen some of His creation above others. He chose Messengers from angels and from men. He also chose His Speech above all speech, the Masjid above other areas of the earth, Ramadan and the Sacred Months above all months, Friday above the other days and Laylatul-Qadr (The Night of Decree) above all nights. Therefore, sanctify what Allah has sanctified, for doing so is the practice of people of understanding and comprehension." in At-Tabari 14 :238

423 Surah 9. At-Tawbah (36) (Part-10) Fighting in the Sacred Months Allah said, "and fight against the idolators collectively, all of you, as they fight against you collectively.", all of them, "But know that Allah is with those who have Taqwa, and know that initiating battle during the Sacred Months is forbidden. Allah said in other Ayat, "O you who believe! Violate not the sanctity of the symbols of Allah, nor of the sacred month." (5:2), "The Sacred Month is for the Sacred Month, and for the prohibited things, there is the law of equality (Qisas). Then whoever transgresses the prohibition against you, you transgress likewise against him" [2:194], and, "Then when the Sacred Months have passed, kill the idolators..." (9:5). As for Allah's statement, "And fight against the idolators collectively as they fight against you collectively", it includes permission for the believers to fight the idolators in the Sacred Month, if the idolators initiate hostilities therein. Allah said in other Ayat,

424 Tafsir Ibtt Kathir J (ggaa&s 'Mr sai'Su j-4^1EJk^5 ;SJdsi J^iijCi -*»J^ijfJy J L*_jijll_lj ll_jtL'jjc-^k==4X^j i ^ ia, ' -I - Jv^" *»J J. >-?>/< » it |L>—A ij/Alot^T^j tjt =>,'yjf ^Ajjiipfy—3^ ' »-^52^ ^ • © iJ^5r»^J^<^^^==>J ^4Tlw Sacred Month is for the Sacred Month, and for the prohibited

As for the Messenger of Allah 36 laying siege to At-Ta'if until the Sacred Month started, it was a continuation of the battle against Hawazin and their allies from Thaqif. They started the fighting and gathered then- men for the purpose of conducting war. The Messenger of Allah 3g marched to meet them and when they took refuge in At-Ta'if, the Prophet jg laid siege to them so that they descend from their forts, but they inflicted casualties on Muslims. The siege continued for about forty days, during which a Sacred Month began, and the siege continued for several days in that month. The Messenger jg broke the siege and went back (to Makkah). So fighting that carries over into it [the Sacred Month] is not the same as initiating warfare during it, Allah knows best. %%% ifc £T <<s 4 i<£ 3&-JI 4 ifj-ii 't ii[] > i ^ pj^- !* lit pj»- U li.

437. The postponing (of a Sacred Month) is indeed an addition to disbelief: thereby the disbelievers are led astray, for they make it lawful one year and forbid it another year in order to adjust the number of months forbidden by Allah, and make such forbidden ones lawful. The evil of their deeds is made fair-seeming to them. And Allah guides not the people who disbelieve.) Admonishing the Preference of Opinion in a Religious Matter Allah admonishes the idolators for choosing their wicked opinions over Allah's Law. They changed Allah's legislation based upon their vain desires, allowing what Allah prohibited and prohibiting what Allah allowed. They thought that three consecutive sacred months were rather long for them to remain without fighting, for they were full of anger and rage. This is why before Islam they innovated a change in the Sacred Month of Muharram, delaying it to the month of Safar. Therefore, they allowed fighting in the Sacred Month and made the non-sacred month sacred, to make the Sacred Months in a year four, as Allah decided! 'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas commented on Allah's statement, 4>^=iK 4 iThe postponing (of a Sacred Month) is indeed an addition to disbelief}, "Junadah bin 'Awf bin Umayyah Al-Kinani, known as Abu Thumamah, used to attend the Hajj season every year and declare, 'Abu Thumamah is never rejected nor refuted!,' and he used to treat Safar as sacred for people one year [and un-sanctify Muharram] and treat Muharram as sacred another year [and un-sanctify Safar in that year]. This is why Allah said, 4 £2)^ 477ie postponing (of a Sacred Month) is indeed an addition to disbelief.} Allah says, They allow Muharram one year and make it sacred another year." ' Al-'Awfi narrated a similar statement from Ibn 'Abbas.¹² ' Layth bin Abi Sulaym narrated that Mujahid said, "There was a man from Bani Kinanah who would attend the Hajj season every year riding his donkey. He would proclaim, 'O people! I am never rejected, denied or refuted in what I say. We made this coming Muharram sacred, and Safar not!' The following year he would come again and declare the same words then say, *We made this coming Safar sacred and delayed Muharram (revoked its sanctity).' This is the meaning of Allah's statement, iin order to adjust the number of months forbidden by Allah), to four months. Allah says, They allow what Allah disallowed by delaying the Sacred Month." 1'3 ' The idolators used to allow Muharram one year and sanctify Safar in its place. They would continue the months of the year according to their normal count and names. The next year they would sanctify Muharram and continue the year, $afar, Rabi', until the end of the year. $They make it lawful one year and forbid it another year in order to adjust the number of months forbidden by Allah, and make such forbidden ones lawful.) Therefore, they would still sanctify four months every year, but would one year sanctify the third from the three consecutive Sacred Months, Muharram, and postpone and delay it another year to Safar. In his book of Sirah, Imam Muhammad bin Ishaq presented a very useful beneficial discussion on this matter. He said; “The first to start the practice of overlooking the sanctity of months for the Arabs, thus allowing what Allah sanctified of them and sanctifying what Allah allowed of them, was “Al- Qalammas”. He was Hudhayfah bin ‘Abd Fuqaym bin ‘Adi bin At-Tabari 14:245. ' At-Tabari 14:246. ' At-Tabari 14:246.

He was the last one of his sons (to continue this practice) before Islam. The Arabs used to gather around him when Haft finished, and he would stand and give them a speech in which he sanctifies Rajab, Dhul-Qa’dah and Dhul-Hijjah. He would defer the sanctity of Muharram to Safar one year and uphold its sanctity another year, so as to appear upholding the number (of Sacred Months) Allah made sacred. Therefore, he would allow what Allah prohibited and prohibit what Allah allowed. ,<11 Allah knows best. Ijgfl JI ZZ& ft^ 4 i >j3U H$ C IP'. 'll -£jgi\ 4 TgSt ££ qlf ^ iLiCP \j^ 438. Prophet of Allah gave something to Safwan bin Umayyah from the war spoils of Hunayn, even though he attended it while a Mushrik. Safwan said, “He kept giving me until he became the dearest person to me after he had been the most hated person to me.”²¹ Imam Ahmad recorded that Safwan bin Umayyah said, “The Messenger of Allah jg gave me (from the spoils of) Hunayn while he was the most hateful person to me. He kept giving me until he became the most beloved person to me.”³¹ Muslim and At-Tirmidhi collected this Hadith, as well.⁴¹ Some of Al-Mu’aUafatu Qulubuhum are given from alms so that they become better in Islam and their heart firmer in faith. For instance, the Prophet jg gave some of the chiefs of the Tulaqa’ a hundred camels each after the battle of Hunayn, saying, £ ^ 41^ M tU- O t}\ Y£’3 Ji. «/ give a man (from the alms) while another man is dearer to me than him, forfear that Allah might throw him on his face in the fire ofJahannam .»⁵¹ It is recorded in the Two Sahihs that Abu Said said that ‘Ali sent the Messenger of Allah jg a gold nugget still in its dirt from Yemen. The Prophet jg divided it between four men: Al- Aqra’ bin Habis, TJyaynah bin Badr, ‘Alqamah bin TJlathah and Zayd Al-Khayr, saying, “To draw their hearts closer.»⁶¹ Some people are given because Muslim 2:752. TheRiqab Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Muqatil bin Hayyan, ‘Umar bin ‘Abdul- ‘Aziz, Said bin Jubayr, An-Nakhal, Az-Zuhri and Ibn Zayd said Riqab means those slaves who make an agreement with the master to pay a certain ransom for their freedom.”¹¹¹ Similar was reported from Abu Musa Al-Ash’ari . Ibn ‘Abbas and Al-Hasan said, “It is allowed to use Zakah funds to buy the freedom of slaves,” indicating that ‘Riqab’ has more general meanings than merely giving money to slaves to buy their freedom or one’s buying a slave and freeing him on an individual basis. A Hadith states that for every limb [of the servant) freed, Allah frees a limb of the one who freed him from slavery, even a sexual organ for a sexual organ, for the reward is equitable to the deed, 'ply iAtid you will be requited nothing except Jbr what you used to do.) This type has a share in the Zakah for what suffices him to reach his destination, even if he had money there. The same is true for whoever intends to travel from his area but does not have enough money. This type also has a share in the Zakah money to suffice for his trip and back. This is proven in the Ayah as well as the following Hadith. The Muslim man conveyed what happened to the Prophet who summoned the hypocrite and asked him, 'What made you say what you said'? That man invoked curses on himself and swore by Allah that he never said that. Meanwhile, the Muslim man said, 'O Allah! Assert the truth of the truthful and expose the lies of the liar.' Allah revealed this Verse." Allah's statement, "Whoever opposes and shows hostility to Allah and His Messenger, we will certainly punish him; he will be the fire of Hell to abide therein", in a humiliating torment, "That is the extreme disgrace" (9:63), that is the greatest disgrace and the tremendous misery. 464. The hypocrites fear lest a Surah should be revealed about them, showing them what is in their hearts. Say: "(Go ahead and) mock! But certainly Allah will bring to light all that you fear." At-Tabari 14:329.

The Hypocrites fear Public Exposure of Their Secrets Mujahid said, "The hypocrites would say something to each other then declare, We wish that Allah does not expose this secret of ours," 111 There is a similar Ayah to this one, that is, Allah's statement, "And when they come to you, they greet you with a greeting wherewith Allah greets you not, and say within themselves: "Why should Allah punish us not for what we say?" Hell will be sufficient for them; they will burn therein. And worst indeed is that destination!" [58:8] Allah said in this Ayah, "Say: "(Go ahead and) mock! But certainly Allah will bring to light all that you fear He will expose and explain your reality to His Messenger through revelation. Allah said in other Ayat, "Or do those in whose hearts is a disease (of hypocrisy), think that Allah will not bring to light all their hidden ill-wills?" (47:29), until, "But surely, you will know them by the tone of their speech!" [47:30]. This is why, according to Qatadah, this Surah is called 'Al-Fadiah' (the Exposing), because it exposed the hypocrites. 121 'Abdullah bin 'Umar said, "During the battle of Tabuk, a man was sitting in a gathering and said, 'I have never seen like these reciters of ours! [Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 2385–2397]

before the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) migrated to Al-Madīnah, there was a man from Al-Khazraj called “Abu ‘Amir Ar-Rahib (the Monk).” This man embraced Christianity before Islam and read the Scriptures. During the time of Jahiliyyah, Abu 'Amir was known for being a worshipper and being a notable person among Al-Khazraj. When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ arrived at Al-Madīnah after the Hijrah, the Muslims gathered around him and the word of Islam was triumphant on the day of Badr, causing Abu 'Amir, the cursed one, to choke on his own saliva and announce his enmity to Islam. He fled from Al-Madīnah to the idolators of Quraysh in Makkah to support them in the war against the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. The Quraysh united their forces and the bedouins who joined them for the battle of Uhud, during which Allah tested the Muslims, but the good end is always for the pious and righteous people. The rebellious Abu 'Amir dug many holes in the ground between the two camps, into one of which the Messenger ﷺ fell, injuring his face and breaking one of his right lower teeth. He also sustained a head injury. Before the fighting started, Abu 'Amir approached his people among the Ansar and tried to convince them to support and agree with him. When they recognized him, they said, "May Allah never burden an eye by seeing you, O Fasiq one, O enemy of Allah!" They cursed him and he went back declaring, "By Allah! Evil has touched my people after I left." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ called Abu 'Amir to Allah and recited the Qur'an to him before his flight to Makkah, but he refused to embrace Islam and rebelled. The Messenger ﷺ invoked Allah 515 Surah 9. At-Ta'ibah (107 - 108) (Part-11 that Abu 'Amir die as an outcast in an alien land, and his invocation came true. After the battle of Uhud was finished, Abu 'Amir realized that the Messenger's call was still rising and gaining momentum, so he went to Heraclius, the emperor of Rome, asking for his aid against the Prophet ﷺ. Heraclius gave him promises and Abu 'Amir remained with him. He also wrote to several of his people in Al-Madīnah, who embraced hypocrisy, promising and insinuating to them that he will lead an army to fight the Messenger of Allah ﷺ to defeat him and his call. He ordered them to establish a stronghold where he could send his emissaries and to serve as an outpost when he joins them later on. These hypocrites built a Masjid next to the Masjid in Quba', and they finished building it before the Messenger ﷺ went to Tabuk. They went to the Messenger ﷺ inviting him to pray in their Masjid so that it would be a proof that the Messenger ﷺ approved of their Masjid. They told him that they built the Masjid for the weak and ill persons on rainy nights. However, Allah prevented His Messenger ﷺ from praying in that Masjid. He ﷺ said to them, «4>1 (j1 j IS) IfZlj JcT tjs- U|D «// we come back from our travel, Allah willing.» When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ came back from Tabuk and was approximately one or two days away from Al-Madīnah, Jibril came down to him with the news about Masjid Ad-Dirar and the disbelief and division between the believers, who were in Masjid Quba' (which was built on piety from the first day), that Masjid Ad-Dirar was meant to achieve. Therefore, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ sent some people to Masjid Ad-Dirar to bring it down before he reached Al-Madīnah. 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said about this Ayah (9:107), "They are some people of the Ansar to whom Abu 'Amir said, 'Build a Masjid and prepare whatever you can of power and weapons, for I am headed towards Caesar, emperor of Rome, to bring Roman soldiers with whom I will expel Muhammad and his companions.' When they built their Masjid, they went to the Prophet ﷺ and said to him, "We finished building our Masjid and we would like you pray in it and invoke Allah for us for His blessings." Allah revealed this verse, iNever stand you therein}, until, 4 . . . wrongdoers} "(11 Allah said next, 4they will indeed swearK those who built it, 4iP>' ! ' Vij\ o|^ that their intention is nothing but good.) by building this Masjid we sought the good and the comfort of the people. Allah replied, 4Allah bears witness that they are certainly liars for they only built it to harm Masjid Quba', and out of disbelief in Allah, and to divide the believers. They made it an outpost for those who warred against Allah and His Messenger ﷺ, such as Abu 'Amir the Fasiq who used to be called Ar- Rahib, may Allah curse him! Allah said, 4Never stand you therein}, prohibiting His Prophet and his Ummah from ever standing in it in prayer. Virtues of Masjid Quba Allah encouraged His Prophet ﷺ to pray in Masjid Quba which, from the first day, was built on Taqwa, obedience to Allah and His Messenger ﷺ, for gathering the word of the believers and as an outpost and a fort for Islam and its people. This is why Allah the Exalted said, 4Verily, the Masjid whose foundation was laid from the first day on Taqwa is more worthy that you stand therein (to pray) ! At-Tabari 14:470. Imam Ahmad recorded that one of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ led them in a Dawn (Subh) prayer in which he recited Surat Ar-Rum (chapter 30) and made mistakes in the recitation. When he finished the prayer, he said, «We sometimes make mistakes in reciting the Qur'an, there are people among you who attend the prayer with us, but do not perform Wudu' perfectly. Therefore, whoever attends the prayer with us let him make perfect Wudu' This Hadith indicates that complete purification helps in the performance of acts of worship and aids in preserving and completing them. ^ ^ 4>» f' Qy&JJ cr — -» / j 4 J'>i V fyi V 4 4109. the battle of Tabuk with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Ka*b bin

Malik said, “I did not remain behind Allah’s Messenger ﷺ in any battle that he fought except the battle of Tabuk. I failed to take part in the battle of Badr, but Allah did not admonish anyone who did not participate in it, for in fact, Allah’s Messenger ﷺ had gone out in search of the caravan of Quraysh, until Allah made the Muslims and their enemies meet without any appointment. I witnessed the night of Al-‘Aqabah pledge with Allah’s Messenger ﷺ when we pledged for Islam, and I would not exchange it for the Badr Battle, even though the Badr Battle is more popular among the people than the ‘Aqabah pledge. As for my news of this battle of Tabuk, I was never stronger or wealthier than I was when I remained behind Allah’s Messenger in that battle. By Allah, never had I two she-camels before, but I did at the time of that battle. Whenever Allah’s Messenger ﷺ wanted to go to a battle, he used to hide his intention by referring to different battles, until it was the time of that battle (of Tabuk) which Allah’s Messenger ﷺ fought in intense heat, facing a long journey, the desert, and the great number of enemy soldiers. So the Prophet ﷺ clearly announced the destination to the Muslims, so that they could prepare for their battle, and he told them about his intent. Allah’s Messenger ﷺ was accompanied by such a large number of Muslims that they could not be listed in a book by name, nor registered.” Ka*b added, “Any man who intended not to attend the battle would think that the matter would remain hidden, unless Allah revealed it through divine revelation. Allah’s Messenger fought that battle at a time when the fruits had ripened and the shade was pleasant, and I found myself inclined towards that. Allah’s Messenger ﷺ and his Companions prepared for the battle and I started to go out in order to get myself ready along with them, but I returned without doing anything. I would say to myself, ‘I can do that if I want.’ So I kept on delaying it every now and then until the people were prepared, and Allah’s Messenger and the Muslims along with him, departed. But I had not prepared anything for my departure. I said, ‘I will prepare myself (for departure) one or two days after him, and then join them.’ In the morning following their departure, I went out to get myself ready but returned having done nothing. Then again, the next morning, I went out to get ready but returned without doing anything. Such was the case with me until they hurried away and I missed the battle. Even then I intended to depart to catch up to them. I wish I had done so! But such was not the case. So, after the departure of Allah's Messenger sSg, whenever I went out and walked among the people (who remained behind), it' grieved me that I could see none around me, but one accused of hypocrisy or one of those weak menwhom Allah had excused. Allah's Messenger jg did not remember me until he reached Tabuk. So while he was sitting among the people in Tabuk, he said, •wuu 4-^ "What did Ka'b bin Malik do?" A man from Banu Salimah said, 'O Allah's Messenger! He has been stopped by his two Burdah (garments) and looking at his own flanks with pride.' Mu'adh bin Jabal said, What a bad thing you have said! By Allah! O Allah's Messenger! We know nothing about him but that which is good.' Allah's Messenger jg kept silent." Ka'b bin Malik added, "When I heard that Allah's Messenger Sg was on his way back to Al-Madlnah, I was overcome by concern and began to think of false excuses. I said to myself, •How can I escape from his anger tomorrow?' I started looking for advice from wise members of my family in this matter. When it was said that Allah's Messenger jg had approached (Al- Madlnah) all evil and false excuses abandoned my mind and I knew well that I could never come out of this problem by forging a false statement. Then I decided firmly to speak the truth. Allah's Messenger jg arrived in the morning, and whenever he returned from a journey, he used to visit the Masjid first, and offer a two Rak'ah prayer, then sit for the people. So when he had done all that (this time), those who failed to join the battle came and started offering (false) excuses and taking oaths before him. They were over eighty men. Allah's Messenger jg accepted the excuses they expressed outwardly, asked for Allah's forgiveness for them and left the secrets of their hearts for Allah to judge. Then I came to him, and when I greeted him, he smiled a smile of an angry person and then said,

"Come sSo Icamewalking until I sat before him. He said to me, dJ>ii Ji jjt iuUuB oWlflf stopped you from joining us? Had you not purchased an animal for carrying you? I answered, "Yes, O Allah's Messenger! By Allah, if I were sitting before any person from among the people of the world other than you, I would have escaped from his anger with an excuse. By Allah, I have been bestowed with the power of speaking fluently and eloquently, but by Allah, I knew well that if I tell you a lie today to seek your favor, Allah would surely make you angry with me in the near future. But if I tell you the truth, though you will get angry because of it, I hope for Allah's forgiveness. By Allah, I had never been stronger or wealthier than I was when I remained behind you.' Allah's Messenger said, .2: , • zc , • - <il I ^ Ijla Ui» «As regards to this man, he has surely told the truth. So get up until Allah decides your case. I got up, and many men of Banu Salimah followed me and said to me, *By Allah, we never witnessed you commit any sin before this! Surely, you failed to offer an excuse to Allah's Messenger sg like the others who did not join him. The invocation of Allah's Messenger to Allah to forgive you would have been sufficient for your sin.' By Allah, they continued blaming me so much that I intended to return (to the Prophet 2fe) and accuse myself of having told a lie, but I said to them, Is there anybody else who has met the same end as I have?' They replied, Yes, there are two men who have said the same thing as you have, and to both of them was given the same order as given to you.' I said, "Who are they?' They replied, 'Murarah bin Ar-Rabf Al-'Amiri and Hilal bin Umayyah Al-Waqifi.' They mentioned to me two pious men who had attended the battle of Badr and in whom there was an example for me. So I did not change my mind when they mentioned them to me. Allah's Messenger sg forbade all the Muslims from talking to us, the three aforesaid persons, out of all those who remained behind for that battle. So we kept away from the people and they changed their attitude towards us until the very land (where I 534 Tafsir Ibtt Kathir lived) appeared strange to me as if I did not know it. We remained in that condition for fifty nights. As for my two companions, they remained in their houses and kept on weeping, but I was the youngest and the firmest of them. So I would go out and attend the prayer along with the Muslims and roam the markets, but none would talk to me. I would come to Allah's Messenger jg and greet him while he was sitting in his gathering after the prayer, and I would wonder whether he even moved his lips in return of my greeting or not. Then I would offer my prayer near him and look at him carefully. When I was busy with my prayer, he would turn his face towards me, but when I turned my face to him, he would turn his face away from me. When this harsh attitude and boycott of the people continued for a long time, I walked until I scaled the wall of the garden of Abu Qatadah who was my cousin and the dearest person to me. I offered my greeting to him. By Allah, he did not return my greetings. I said, 'O Abu Qatadah! I beseech you by Allah! Do you know that I love Allah and His Messenger?' He kept quiet. I asked him again, beseeching him by Allah, but he remained silent. I asked him again in the Name of Allah and he said, 'Allah and His Messenger know better.' Thereupon my eyes flowed with tears and I returned and jumped over the wall. While I was walking in the market of Al-Madlnah, suddenly I saw that a Nabatean from Ash-Sham came to sell his grains in Al-Madlnah, saying, 'Who will lead me to Ka*b bin Malik?' The people began to point (me) out for him, until he came to me and handed me a letter from the king of Ghassan (who ruled Syria for Caesar), for I knew how to read and write. In that letter, the following was written: 'To proceed, I have been informed that your friend (the Prophet) has treated you harshly. Anyhow, Allah does not make you live in a place where you feel inferior and your right is lost. So, join us, and we will console you.' When I read it, I said to myself, 'This is also a sort of test.' I took the letter to the oven and made a fire burning it. When forty out of the fifty nights elapsed, behold! There came to me a messenger of Allah's Messenger saying 'Allah's Messenger orders you to keep away from your wife.' I said, 'Should I divorce her; or else what should I do?' He said, 'No, only keep aloof from her and do not mingle with her.'

535 Surah 9. At-Tawbah (118 - 119) (Part-11) The Prophet jg sent the same message to my two fellows. I said to my wife, 'Go to your parents and remain with them until Allah gives His verdict in this matter.'" Ka*b added, "The wife of Hilal bin Umayyah came to Allah's Messenger ^ and said, 'O Allah's Messenger! Hilal bin Umayyah is a helpless old man who has no servant to attend on him. Do you dislike that I should serve him?' He said, v' jfi "No (you can serve him), but he should not come near you [sexuallyp.' She said, *By Allah! He has no desire for anything. By Allah, he has never ceased weeping since his case began until this day of his.' On that, some of my family members said to me, 'Will you also ask Allah's Messenger to permit your wife (to serve you) as he has permitted the wife of Hilal bin Umayyah to serve him?' I said, *By Allah, I will not ask permission of Allah's Messenger ^ regarding her, for I do not know what Allah's Messenger jg would say if I asked him to permit her (to serve me) while I am a young man.' We remained in that state for ten more nights, until the period of fifty nights was completed, starting from the time when Allah's Messenger jg prohibited the people from talking to us. When I had finished the Fajr prayer on the fiftieth morning on the roof of one of our houses, while sitting in the condition in which Allah described (in the Qur'an): my veiy soul seemed straitened to me and even the earth seemed narrow to me for all its spaciousness. There I heard the voice of a man who had ascended the mountain of Sal' calling with his loudest voice, 'O Kah bin Malik! Be happy (by receiving good tidings).' I fell down in prostration before Allah, realizing that relief has come with His forgiveness for us. Allah's Messenger jg announced the acceptance of our repentance by Allah after Fajr prayer. The people went out to congratulate us. Some bearers of good news went to my two companions, a horseman came to me in haste, while a man from Banu Aslam came running and ascended the mountain and his voice was swifter than the horse. When the man whose voice I had heard, came to me conveying the good news, I took off my garments and dressed him with them; and by Allah, I owned no other than them on that day. Then I borrowed two

What Allah said does not discuss our failure to take part in the battle, but to the deferment of making a decision by the Prophet about our case, in contrast to the case of those who had taken an oath before him, and he excused them by accepting their excuses." This is an authentic Hadith collected in the Two Sahlhs (Al- Bukhari and Muslim) and as such, its authenticity is agreed upon.*2 ' This Hadith contains the explanation of this honorable Ayah in the best, most comprehensive way. Similar explanation was given by several among the Salaf. For instance, Al-A'mash narrated from Abu Sufyan, from Jabir bin 'Abdullah about Allah's statement, ityr iAnd (He didforgive also) the three who stayed behind...} "They are Ka'b bin Malik, Hilal bin Umayyah and Murarah bin Ar-Rabl', all of them from the Ansar."*3 The Order to speak the Truth Allah sent His relief from the distress and grief that struck these three men, because Muslims ignored them for fifty days and nights, until they themselves, and the earth - vast as it is - were straitened for them. As vast as the earth is, its ways and paths were closed for them, and they did not know what action to take. They were patient for Allah's sake and awaited humbly for His decree. They remained firm, until Allah sent His relief to them since they told the Messenger of Allah the truth about why they remained behind, declaring that they did not have an excuse for doing so. They were requited for this period, then Allah forgave them. Therefore, the consequence of being truthful was better for them, for they gained forgiveness. Certainly, the Leader of the faithful, TJthman bin 'Aflan, may Allah be pleased with him, acquired a tremendous share of the virtues mentioned in this honorable Ayah. He spent large amounts and tremendous wealth on this battle (Tabak). Abdullah, the son of Imam Ahmad recorded that 'Abdur-Rahman bin Khabb&b As-Sulami said; "The Messenger of Allah gave a speech in which he encouraged spending on the army of distress (for Tabuk). Allah the Exalted here explains His order to Muslims to march forth with the Messenger of Allah sg for the battle of Tabuk. We should first mention that a group of the Salaf said that marching along with the Messenger jg, when he went to battle, was at first obliged on all Muslims, because, as they say, Allah said, 4'^—: •i) iMarch forth, whether you are light or heavy> [9:41], and, 4It was not becoming of the people of Al-Madinah and the bedouins of the neighborhood...} [9:120]. However, they said, Allah abrogated this ruling (9:41 and 9:120) when He revealed this Ayah, [9:122]. However, we could say that this Ayah explains Allah's order to participate in battle on all Arab neighborhoods, that at least a group of every tribe should march for Jihad. Those who went with the Messenger sg would gain instructions and studies in the revelation that came down to him, and warn their people about that battle when they returned to them. This way, the group that went with the Prophet jg will achieve both goals [Jihad and learning the revelation from the Prophet jg]. After the Prophet 5g, a group of every tribe or neighborhood should seek religious knowledge or perform Jihad, for in this case, Jihad is required from at least a part of each Muslim community. 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported from Ibn 'Abbas about the Ayah, 4Arid it is not (proper) for the believers to go out (to fight - Jihad) all together.} "The believers should not all go to battle and leave the Prophet  g alone, 40/every troop of them, a party only should go forth in the expeditions that the Prophet sg sent. 544 Tafstr Ibn Kathir revealed parts of the Qur'an from Allah, the group who remained with the Prophet sg would have learned that revelation from him. They would say, 'Allah has revealed some parts of the Qur'an to your Prophet and we learned it.' So they learned from them what Allah revealed to His Prophet jg in their absence, while the Prophet sg sent some other men into military expeditions. Hence Allah's statement, ithat they may get instructions in religion,} so that they learn what Allah has revealed to their Prophet sg and teach the armies when they return, 4so that they may beware.} 1 ^ Mujahid said, "This Ayah was revealed about some of the Companions of the Prophet jg who went to the desert and were helped by its residents, had a good rainy year and called whomever they met to guidance. The people said to them, *We see that you left your companions and came to us.' They felt bad in themselves because of this and they all came back from the desert to the Prophet jg. Allah said, & ot 'J 40/every troop of them, a party only should goforth,} those who seek righteousness [such as to spread the call of Islam, while others remain behind], ithat they may get instructions in (Islamic) religion,} and learn what Allah has revealed, 4and that they may warn their people}, when those who went forth returned to them, , u iso that they may beware (ofevil).}"[2] At-Tabari 14:565. 121 At-Tabari 14:566.

Qatadah said about this Ayah, "It is about when the Messenger of Allah jg sent an army; Allah commanded them to go into battle, while another group remained with the Messenger of Allah sg to gain instructions in the religion. Another group returns to its own people to call them (to Allah) and warn them against Allah's punishment of those who were before them." It was also said that this verse, ^ Kb 4And it is not (proper) for the believers to go out all together.} is not about joining Jihad. They say that the Messenger of Allah invoked Allah against Mudar to try them with years of famine, and their lands were struck by famine. The various tribes among them started to come, entire tribes at a time, to Al-Madlnah, because of the hardship they faced and they would falsely claim that they are Muslims. This caused hardship for the Companions of the Messenger jg and Allah revealed to him that they are not believers. The Messenger of Allah jg sent them back to their tribes and warned their people not to repeat what they did. Hence Allah's statement, 1^ '$> tJj T •V iSSSP 'Wi soJJbAjj'j 4 cJj' l* o^j 111 At-Tabari 14:568.

why the Messenger of Allah started fighting the idolaters in the Arabian Peninsula. When he finished with them and Allah gave him control over Makkah, Al-Madīnah, At-Ta'if, Yemen, Yamamah, Hajar, Khaybar, Hadramawt and other Arab provinces, and the various Arab tribes entered Islam in large crowds, he then started fighting the People of the Scriptures. He began preparations to fight the Romans who were the closest in area to the Arabian Peninsula, and as such, had the most right to be called to Islam, especially since they were from the People of the Scriptures. The Prophet ﷺ marched until he reached Tabuk and went back because of the extreme hardship, little rain and little supplies. This battle occurred on the ninth year after his Hijrah. In the tenth year, the Messenger of Allah was busy with the Farewell Hajj. The Messenger died eighty-one days after he returned from that Hajj, Allah chose him for what He had prepared for him [in Paradise]. After his death, his executor, friend, and Khalifah, Abu Bakr As-Siddiq, may Allah be pleased with him, became the leader. At that time, the religion came under attack and would have been defeated, if it had not been for the fact that Allah gave the religion firmness through Abu Bakr, who established its basis and made its foundations firm. He brought those who strayed from the religion back to it, and made those who reverted from Islam return. He took the Zakah from the evil people who did not want to pay it, and explained the truth to those who were unaware of it. On behalf of the 547 Surah 9. At-Tawbah (123) (Part-11) Prophet ﷺ, Abu Bakr delivered what he was entrusted with. Then, he started preparing the Islamic armies to fight the Roman cross worshippers, and the Persian fire worshippers. By the blessing of his mission, Allah opened the lands for him and brought down Caesar and Kisra and those who obeyed them among the servants. Abu Bakr spent their treasures in the cause of Allah, just as the Messenger of Allah ﷺ had foretold would happen. This mission continued after Abu Bakr at the hands of the one whom Abu Bakr chose to be his successor, Al-Farooq, the Martyr of the Mihrab} 1 ^ Abu Hafs, Umar bin Al-Khattab, may Allah be pleased with him. With Umar, Allah humiliated the disbelievers, suppressed the tyrants and hypocrites, and opened the eastern and western parts of the world. The treasures of various countries were brought to Umar from near and far provinces, and he divided them according to the legitimate and accepted method. Umar then died as a martyr after he lived a praise worthy life. Then, the Companions among the Muhajirin and Ansar agreed to choose after Umar, Uthman bin Affan, Leader of the faithful and Martyr of the House, may Allah be pleased with him. During Uthman's reign, Islam wore its widest garment and Allah's unequivocal proof was established in various parts of the world over the necks of the servants. Islam appeared in the eastern and western parts of the world and Allah's Word was elevated and His religion apparent. The pure religion reached its deepest aims against Allah's enemies, and whenever Muslims overcame an Ummah, they moved to the next one, and then the next one, crushing the tyrannical evil doers. They did this in reverence to Allah's statement, «#Jf IAS '<$ #£> 40 you who believe! Fight those of the disbelievers who are close to you,} Allah said next, I 1 ' Place of worship, where a Zoroastrian disbeliever assassinated Umar while he was leading the Muslims in prayer.

548 Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4and let them find harshness in you}, meaning, let the disbelievers find harshness in you against them in battle. The complete believer is he who is kind to his believing brother, and harsh with his disbelieving enemy. Allah said in other Ayah, j&r&U $H & ik&&32$ iAllah will bring a people whom He will love and they will love Him; humble towards the believers, stem towards the disbelievers . . ^[5:54], iMuhammad is the Messenger of Allah . And those who are with him are severe against the disbelievers, and merciful among themselves .}[48:29], and, 40 Prophet! Strive hard against the disbelievers and the hypocrites, and be harsh against them.}\9:73\ Allah said, 4And know that Allah is with those who have Taqwd}, meaning, fight the disbelievers and trust in Allah knowing that Allah is with you if you fear and obey Him. This was the case in the first three blessed generations of Islam, the best members of this Ummah. Since they were firm on the religion and reached an unsurpassed level of obedience to Allah, they consistently prevailed over their enemies. During that era, victories were abundant, and enemies were ever more in a state of utter loss and degradation. However, after the turmoil began, desires and divisions became prevalent between various Muslim kings, the enemies were eager to attack the outposts of Islam and marched into its territory without much opposition. Then, the Muslim kings were too busy with their enmity for each other. The disbelievers then marched to the capital cities of the Islamic states, after gaining control over many of its areas, in addition to entire Islamic lands. Verily, ownership of all affairs is with Allah in the beginning and in the end. Whenever a just Muslim king stood up and obeyed Allah's orders, all the while trusting in Allah, Allah helped him regain control over some Muslim lands and took back from the enemy what was compatible to his obedience and support to Allah. We ask Allah to help the Muslims gain control over the forelocks of His disbeliever enemies and to raise high the word of Muslims over all lands. Allah said next, iBut as for those in whose hearts is a disease, it will add Rijs to their Rijs the Surah increases them in doubt, and brings more suspicion on top of the doubts and suspicion that they had before. Ja'far bin Abu Talib said to An-Najashi (the king of Ethiopia), and Al-Mughlrah bin Shu'bah said to the emissary of Kisra, "Allah has sent to us a Messenger from among us, whose family lineage, description, early days, truth and honesty we know.” Allah said, “Whatever would cause hardship to his Ummah or be difficult for them, then it grieves him. Similarly, there is the Hadith reported through many routes that the Prophet said, ‘I was sent with the easy Hanifiyyah [monotheism] way.’” (Ahmad 1:202 and 5:291 * Ahmad 5:266. This is a weak narration, but there are supporting witnesses for it)

An authentic Hadith mentions, ‘Verily, this religion is easy’ and its Law is all easy, lenient and perfect. It is easy for those whom Allah the Exalted makes it easy, (He is eager for you), that you gain guidance and acquire benefits in this life and the Hereafter. Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘Abdullah bin Mas’ud said that the Messenger of Allah said, ‘I have been sent with the easy religion; every matter that Allah has prohibited, He knows that some among you will breach it; but I am indeed holding you by the waist so that you do not fall in the Fire, just like butterflies and flies. Allah’s statement next, if for the believers (he is) full of pity, kind, and merciful.) [9:128], is similar to His other statement, ‘And be kind and humble to the believers who follow you. Then if they disobey you, say: “I am innocent of what you do.” And put your trust in the All-Mighty, the Most Merciful) [26:215- Allah the Exalted commanded His Messenger in this honorable Ayah, ‘But if they turn away), from the glorious, pure, perfect and encompassing Law that you - O Muhammad - brought them, (Fath Al-Bari 1:116. •2| Ahmad 1:390.

Then say: “Allah is sufficient for me. There is no God but He, Allah is sufficient for me, there is no deity worthy of worship except Him, and in Him I put my trust. Similarly, Allah said, ‘(He alone is) the Lord of the east and the west; there is no God but He. So take Him alone as a guardian.’ (73:9). Allah said next, ‘And He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne’ [9:129]. He is the King and Creator of all things, and He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne (‘Arsh), which is above all creation; all that is in and between the heavens and earths is under the Throne (‘Arsh) and subservient to Allah’s power. His knowledge encompasses all things, and His decision will certainly come to pass over all matters. He is the guardian of all things. Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said that Ubayy bin Ka’b said, “The last Ayah revealed from the Qur’an was this Ayah, ‘And He is the Lord of the Mighty Throne’ [9:128]” until the end of the Surah. It is recorded in the Sahih that Zayd bin Thabit said, “I found the last Ayah in Surah Bara’ah with Khuzaymah bin Thabit.” This is the end of Surah Bara’ah, all praise is due to Allah. (Ahmad 5:117. I2 ' Fath Al-Bari 8:195. Zayd bin Thabit, by the order of ‘Uthman bin ‘Allan, the Righteous Khalifah, compiled the Qur’an in one book from various manuscripts and from the Companions who memorized all or part of it.

the Worshipped at all times. This is why He praised Himself at the beginning and the duration of His creation. He also praised Himself in the beginning of His Book and the beginning of its revelation. So We leave those who expect not their meeting with Us, in their trespasses, wandering blindly in distraction.} Allah does not respond to the Requests for Evil like He does with the Requests for Good Allah tells us about His Forbearance and Benevolence with His servants. He does not respond to them when they pray with evil intentions against themselves, their wealth or their children during times of grief or anger. He knows that they do not truly intend evil for themselves so He doesn't respond to them. This is in reality kindness and mercy. On the other hand. He responds to them when they pray for themselves, wealth and money, with good, blessing and growth. Allah has said, iAnd were Allah to hasten for mankind the evil as He hastens for them the good then they would have been ruined.} This means that if He had responded to all of their evil requests, He would have destroyed them. However, people should avoid praying for evil as much as they can. Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar recorded in his Musnad that Jabir said, "Allah's Messenger^ said: «Do not pray against yourselves, do not pray against your children, do not pray against your wealth, for your prayer may coincide with a time of response from Allah and Allah will respond to you. The Admonition held in the Destruction of the Previous Generations Allah tells us about what happened to past generations when they belied the Messengers and the clear signs and proofs the latter brought to them. Allah then made this nation successors after them. He sent to them a Messenger to test their obedience to Him and following His Messenger. When the Messenger $g read to them from the Book of Allah and His clear evidence they said to him: "Bring a Qur'an other than this." They wanted the Prophet jg to take back this Book and bring them another book of a different style or change it to a different form. So Allah said to His Prophet jg: 4Say : "It is not for me to change it on my own accordft This means that it is not up to me to do such a thing. I am but a servant who receives commands. The proof of this was that he had not fabricated it himself and that they were incapable of refuting it, and that they should be fully aware of his truthfulness and honesty since he grew up among them, until Allah sent the Message to him. The Prophet was never criticized for anything or held in contempt. So he said.

576 Tafsir Ibn Kathir iVerily, I have stayed among you a lifetime before this. Have you then no sense?} Which meant "don't you have brains with which you may distinguish the truth from falsehood?" When Heraclius, the Roman king, asked Abu Sufyan and those who were in his company about the Prophet jg, he said: "Have you ever accused him of telling lies before his claim?" Abu Sufyan replied: "No." Abu Sufyan was then the head of the disbelievers and the leader of the idolators, but he still admitted the truth. This is a clear and irrefutable testimony since it came from the enemy. Heraclius then said: "I wondered how a person who does not tell a lie about others could ever tell a lie about Allah." Ja'far bin Abu Talib said to An-Najashi, the king of Ethiopia: "Allah has sent to us a Messenger that we know his truthfulness, ancestral lineage, and honesty. He stayed among us before the prophethood for forty years."*2 417. So who does more wrong than he who forges a lie against Allah or denies His Ayat? Surely, the criminals will never be successful'.} Allah says that no one is more wrong, unjust and arrogant than he who invented a lie against Allah, forged claims about Allah, or claimed that Allah has sent a message to him but his claim was not true. No one is more of a criminal or has committed greater wrong than such a person. Liars cannot be confused with Prophets. Anyone who claims such a thing, whether lying or telling the truth, will necessarily be supported by Allah with proofs and signs of his falsehood or truthfulness. The difference between Muhammad jg and Musaylamah the liar, was clearer to those who met both of them than the difference between forenoon and midnight when it is extremely dark. Dimam then said: "You indeed are telling the truth. By the One Who sent you with the truth I will not increase or decrease from what you have told me." This man was content with the few responses of the Prophet jg. He was convinced of the Prophet's truthfulness by the signs that he saw and witnessed. It was narrated that 'Amr bin Al-'As went to Musaylamah. 'Amr was not a Muslim at that time and he was a friend of Musaylamah. Musaylamah said: "Woe unto you 'Amr. What do the Idolators believe about Their Gods? Allah reproaches the idolators that worshipped others beside Allah, thinking that those gods would intercede for them before Allah. Allah states that these gods do not harm or benefit. They don't have any authority over anything, nor do they own anything. These gods can never do what the idolators had claimed about them. The Qur'an is the True, Inimitable Word of Allah and It is a Miracle The Qur'an has a miraculous nature that cannot be imitated. No one can produce anything similar to the Qur'an, nor ten Surahs or even one Surah like it. The eloquence, clarity, precision and grace of the Qur'an cannot be but from Allah. The great and abundant principles and meanings within the Qur'an - which are of great benefit in this world and for the Hereafter - cannot be but from Allah. There is nothing like His High Self and Attributes or like His sayings and actions. Therefore His Words are not like the words of His creatures. This is why Allah said: <jj i&AH o' O'O^ ob l*jf iAnd this Qur'an is not such as could ever be produced by other than Allah) meaning, a book like this cannot be but from Allah. Arabic poetry including Al- Mu'allaqat - the oldest complete collection of the most eloquent ancient Arabic poems - was considered to be the best in the literary arts. However Allah sent down to them something whose style none were familiar with, and no one is equal in stature to imitate. So those who believed among them, believed because of what they knew and felt in the Book, including its beauty, elegance, benefit, and fluency. They became the most knowledgeable of the Qur'an and its best in adhering to it. The same thing happened to the magicians during Fir'awn's time. They were knowledgeable of the arts of sorcery, however, when Musa performed his miracles, they knew that it must have come through someone that was supported and guided by Allah. They knew that no human could perform such acts without the permission of Allah. Similarly, isa was sent at the time of scholarly medicine and during the advancement in the treatment of patients. He healed the blind, lepers and raised the dead to life by Allah's leave. What Isa was able to do was such that no form of treatment or medicine could reproduce. He embarked, following behind them, filled with great pride and with massive armies. Allah wanted this to happen for He had a plan for them. Allah then commanded the wind and the path was dry for them.

1 4 4^* jii 4And strike a dry path for them in the sea, fearing neither to be overtaken [by Fir'awn] nor being afraid (of drowning in the sea).>(20:77) The water in between the paths appeared as windows and every tribe was able to see the other so they would not think that others were destroyed. The Children of Israel crossed the sea. When the last one crossed, Fir'awn and his soldiers had arrived at the edge of the other shore. They were one hundred thousand black horses in addition to horsemen of other colors. When Fir'awn saw the sea he was frightened. He wanted to turn back, but it was too late. Allah's decree prevailed and the prayer of Musa was answered. Jibril came on a war stallion. He passed by Fir'awn's horse. Jibril's horse whinnied at Fir'awn's and then Jibril rushed into the sea, and Fir'awn did the same behind him. Fir'awn no longer had any control over matters. He wanted to sound strong before his chiefs, so he said: "The Children of Israel do not have more right in the sea." So they rushed into the sea. Milkall was behind their army pushing them all to join. When they all were in the sea and the first of them was about to emerge on the other side, Allah, the All-Powerful, commanded the sea to strand them. The sea closed over them and none was saved. The waves took them up and down. The waves accumulated above Fir'awn and he was overwhelmed by the stupors of death. And the wrongdoers say: "You follow none but a man bewitched [25:7-8] Thus, Allah commanded His Messenger and guided him to not let these statements of theirs grieve his heart. An Explanation concerning the Miracle ofthe Qur'an Then Allah, the Exalted, explains the miracle of the Qur'an, and that no one is able to produce its like, or even bring ten chapters, or one chapter like it. The reason for this is that the Speech of the Lord of all that exists is not like the speech of the created beings, just as His attributes are not like the attributes of the creation. Nothing resembles His existence. Exalted is He, the Most Holy, and the Sublime. There is no deity worthy of worship except He and there is no true Lord other than He. Whoever wants the Worldly Life, then He will have no Share ofthe Hereafter Al-‘Awfi reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said concerning this verse, "Verily those who show off, will be given their reward for their good deeds in this life. This will be so that they are not wronged, even the amount equivalent to the size of the speck on a date-stone." Ibn ‘Abbas continued saying, "Therefore, whoever does a good deed seeking to acquire worldly gain - like fasting, prayer, or standing for prayer at night - and he does so in order to acquire worldly benefit, then Allah says, ‘Give him the reward of that which he sought in the worldly life,’ and his deed that he did is wasted because he was only seeking the life of this world. In the Hereafter he will be of the losers." A similar narration has been reported from Mujahid, Ad-Dahhak and many others. Will you not then take heed?} Rewarding the People ofFaith When Allah, the Exalted, mentioned the condition of the wretched, He also commended the people of delight (the believers). They are those who believe and work righteous deeds. Thus, their hearts believed and their limbs worked righteous deeds, both in statements and actions. This includes their performance of deeds of obedience and their abandonment of evils. In this way they are the inheritors of Gardens (of Paradise), which contain lofty rooms and seats arranged in rows. Therein they will find bunches of fruit near to them, elevated couches, fair and beautiful wives, various types of fruit, desired kinds of food and delicious drinks. They also will be allowed to see the Creator of the heavens and the earth and they will be in this state of pleasure forever. They will not die, nor will they grow old. They will not experience sickness, nor will they sleep. They will not have excrement, nor will they spit or snot. Their sweat will be the perfume of musk. The Parable of the Believers and the Disbelievers Then, Allah, the Exalted, makes a parable of the disbelievers and the believers. He says, iThe likeness of the two parties This refers to those disbelievers whom Allah first described as wretched, and then those believers whom He described with delightfulness. The first group is like one who is blind and deaf, while the second group is like he who sees and hears. Thus, the disbeliever is blind from the truth in this life and in the Hereafter. He is not guided to goodness, nor does he recognize it. He is deaf from hearing the proofs, thus he does not hear that which would benefit him. As Allah says, 4^+-^ !£• pfi iHad Allah known of any good in them, He would indeed have made them listen . $[8:23] The believer is smart, bright and clever. He sees the truth and distinguishes between the truth and falsehood. Thus, he follows the good and abandons the evil. He hears and distinguishes between the proof and scepticism. Therefore, falsehood does not overcome him. Are these two types of people alike? iWill you not then take heed? $ This statement means, “Will you not consider, so that you may distinguish between these two categories of people.” This is as Allah mentions in another verse, iLiJi > _>UJi kiLJa’t 4Not equal are the dwellers of the Fire and the dwellers of the Paradise. 50 Tafslr Ibn Kathir The Story of Nuh and His Conversation with His People Allah, the Exalted, informs about Prophet Nuh. Allah mentions that he (Nuh) said to his people, AS? yj 4!^ H have come to you as a plain wamer.} meaning, to openly warn you against facing Allah’s punishment if you continue worshipping other than Allah. They said, {fS Y) 0} 4We see you but a man like ourselves,} This means, “You are not an angel. You are only a human being, so how can revelation come to you over us? We do not see anyone following you except the lowliest people among us, like the merchants, weavers and similar people. No people of nobility, or rulers among us follow you. These people who follow you are not known for their intelligence, wit, or sharp thinking. Rather, you merely invited them (to this Islam) and they responded to your call and followed you (ignorantly).” This is the meaning of their statement, AS arf fS n <33 Sjly C,}

51Surah 11. Hud (25-27) (Part-12) inor do we see any follow you but the meanest among us and they (too) followed you without thinking. The statement, “without thinking,” means that they merely followed the first thing that came to their minds. Concerning the statement, ot££ Cj} 4And ive do not see in you any merit above us, in fact we think you are liars. In this they are saying, “We do not see that you [and your followers] have any virtuous status above us in your physical appearance, your character, your provisions, or your condition, since you accepted this (new) religion of yours.” iin fact we think you are liars.} This means, “We think you are lying about that which you are claiming for yourselves of righteousness, piety, worship and happiness in the abode of the Hereafter when you arrive there.” This was the response of the disbelievers to Nuh and his followers. This is a proof of their ignorance and their deficiency in knowledge and intelligence. For verily, the truth is not to be rejected because of the lowly status of those who follow it. Verily, the truth is correct in itself, regardless of whether its followers are of low status, or nobility. Actually, the reality concerning which there is no doubt, is that the followers of the truth are the noble ones, even though they may be poor. On the other hand, those who reject the truth are the lowly wretches, even though they may be wealthy. Thus, we see that usually the weakest of people are the ones who follow the truth, while the nobility and high-class people usually are opposed to the truth. This is as Allah says, Lay JI$ VJ j'Si ^ Uu-Ji U iAnd similarly, We sent not a wamer before you to any town (people) but the luxurious ones among them said: “We found our fathers following a cerain way and religion, and we will indeedfollow theirfootsteps.”}[43:23] When Heraclius, the emperor of Rome, asked Abu Sufyan

Sakhr bin Harb about the qualities of the Prophet jg, he said to him, “Are his followers the noble people, or the weak?” Abu Sufyan said, “They are the weakest of them.” Then Heraclius said, “They (weak ones) are the followers of the Messengers.” Concerning their statement, (ifi) iwithout thinking.) In reality this is not objectionable, or something derogatory, because the truth when it is made clear, does not leave room for second-guessing, or excessive thinking. Rather, it is mandatory that it should be followed and this is the condition of every pious, intelligent person. No one continues doubtfully pondering the truth (after it is made clear) except one who is ignorant and excessively critical. The Messengers - Allah’s peace and blessings be upon them all - only delivered what was obvious and clear. Concerning Allah’s statement, 4And we do not see in you any merit above us,) They did not see this (the virtue of accepting Islam) because they were blind from the truth. They could not see, nor could they hear. Rather, they were wavering in their skepticism. They were wandering blindly in the darknesses of their ignorance. They, in reality, were the slanderers and liars, lowly and despicable. Therefore, in the Hereafter they will be the greatest losers. (Jj Cj* C-3 oj Jbp & 2k»)28. He said: “O

This alludes to the fact that they (the disbelievers) requested Nuh to disassociate himself from the believers, because they were averse to them and felt themselves too important to sit with them. This is similar to the request of disbelievers to the seal of the Messengers sjg to disassociate himself from a group of the people who were considered weak in their social status. They wanted the Prophet jg to sit with them in a special gathering of the elite. This continued until the water gushed forth from the Tananir, which are places of fire. Therefore, water even gushed from the places where fire normally would be. This is the opinion of the majority of the Salaf (predecessors) and the scholars of the Khalaf (later generations). At this point, Allah commanded Nuh to select one pair from every kind of creature possessing a soul, and load them on the ship. Some said that this included other creatures as well, such as pairs of plants, male and female. It has also been said that the first of the birds to enter the ship was the parrot, and the last of the animals to enter was the donkey. 63 Surah 11. Hud (41-43) (Part-12) end of its journeying and its anchoring, would all be with the Name of Allah. Abu Raja' Al-Tjaridi recited it, "In the Name of Allah, Who will be the One Who moves its course, and rests its anchor." 111 Allah, the Exalted, said. And say: "My Lord! Cause me to land at a blessed landing place, for You are the Best of those who bring to land."^[23:28-29] For this reason, it is preferred to mention the Name of Allah (Bismillah) at the beginning of all affairs. The Name of Allah should be mentioned when boarding a ship, or when mounting an animal. This is as Allah, the Exalted, says, £3 40 * % 3%, <$ 4And Who has created all the pairs and has appointed for you ships and cattle on which you ride, in order that you may mount on their backs.^[43:12-13] This practice (mentioning Allah's Name) has been encouraged in the Sunnah and is considered a preferred act. A discussion concerning this is forthcoming in the explanation of Surat Az- Zukhruf (43), if Allah wills. In reference to Allah's statement, iSurely, my Lord is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful> Such statement is suitable while mentioning (His) vengeance upon the disbelievers by drowning all of them. The Story of the drowning of Nuh's Disbelieving Son Allah continues the story, saying, it#& iand Niih called out to his son,) This was the fourth son of Nuh. His name was Yam and he was a disbeliever. His father, Nuh, called him at the time of boarding the ship, that he might believe and embark with them. The End of the Flood Allah, the Exalted, informs that when the people of the earth were all drowned, except for the people on the ship, He commanded the earth to swallow its water, which had sprang from it and gathered upon it. Then He commanded the sky to cease raining. iAnd the water was made to subside This means that it (the water) began to decrease. i'N iand the decree was fulfilled> This means that all of those who disbelieved in Allah were removed from the people of the earth. Not a single one of them remained upon the earth. iAnd it (the ship) rested> This is referring to the ship and those who were in it. 'Pf ion (Mount) Judi Mujahid said, "Judi is a mountain in Al- Jazirah (Northwest Mesopotamia) where the mountains sought to tower above each other on the day of the drowning. On that day of destruction, all the mountains sought to be higher (to avoid being overcome by the water). However, this mountain (Judi) humbled itself for Allah, the Mighty and Sublime, and therefore it was not drowned. This is why Nuh's ship anchored upon it."111 Qatadah said, "The ship rested upon it (Mount Judi) for a month before they (the people) came down from it." Qatadah also said, "Allah made Nuh's ship remain on Mount Judi in the land of Al-Jazirah, as a lesson and a sign."12 ' Even the early generations of this Ummah saw it. How many ships are there that have come after it and have been destroyed and became dust? At-Tabari 15:337. 121 At-Tabari 15:338.

Surah VL Hud (45-47) (Part-12 iand it was said: "Away with the people who are wrongdoing!") means destruction and loss for them. Then the springs of the earth were closed off from the great flooding and the pouring (rain) from the sky halted. Allah, the Exalted, says, iAnd it was said: "O earth! Swallow up your water... [11:44] Thus, the water began decreasing and subsiding until the ship settled on Mount Judi. The People of the Tawrah (the Jews) claim that this occurred during the seventh month (of the year) and it lasted for seventeen nights. Then, on the first day of the tenth month, he (Nuh) saw the mountain tops. Then after forty more days, Nuh opened the small window in the roof of the ship and he sent a raven out to see what the water had done. However, the raven did not return to him Then, he sent a pigeon out but it returned to him without finding any place (land) to put its two feet down. He extended his hand out of the ship and the pigeon grabbed his hand so that Nuh could pull it back into the ship. Then, after seven more days passed, he sent the pigeon out again to investigate for him. The pigeon returned in the evening with a leaf from an olive tree in its mouth. From this, Nuh knew that the water had decreased from the face of the earth. He remained in the ship for seven more days before he sent the pigeon out again. This time the pigeon did not return to him, so he knew that the earth had appeared. Thus, a year was completed from the time that Allah sent the flood, until the time of Nuh sending the pigeon. The first day of the first month of the second year began when the face of the earth appeared and land became manifest. At-Tabari 15:353.

This is because they had caused much corruption and their disbelief was severe. For this reason, she was rewarded with the glad tidings of a son, even after her despair. Concerning Allah's statement, vy-i ?jj 4Mr iand after Ishaq, of Ya'qub.) This means that the son that she was going to have would have a son (her grandson) who would succeed him and beget many children. [2:133] From this point in this verse there is an evidence for those who say that Isma'il was the son of Ibrahim who was to be sacrificed. It could not have been Ishaq, because the glad tidings were given that he would have a son born to him named Ya'qub. The Story of the People of Madyan and the Call of Shu'ayb Allah, the Exalted, says, "We sent a Messenger to the people of Madyan.' They were a tribe of Arabs who lived between the land of the Al-Hijaz and Ash-Sham, close to the land of Ma'an. 1,1 At-Jabari 15:438. Abu Dawud no.4462, At-Tirmidhi no.1456 and Ibn Majah, no.

He also pro- hibited them from cheating in their weights and measures (for business transac- tions). 41 see you in prosperity meaning, 'in your livelihood and your provisions. And I am not a guardian over you."4 First, he (Shu'ayb) prohibited them from cheating in business by decreasing the weights whenever they gave (products) to people. He commanded them to give just measure and weight whether they were giving or receiving (in transactions). He also forbade them from causing mischief and corruption in the land. This was due to their practice of highway robbery along the roads. Abu Ja'far bin Jarir said, ip£ iThat which is left by Allah (after giving the rights of the people) is better for you,} This means what you gain from your successful business dealings in which you have given just measure, is better for you than wrongfully taking the wealth of the people." The meaning of the exception that is made here is that the condition of eternal pleasure that they will experience therein is something that is not mandatory by itself. Rather, it is something that is dependent upon the will of Allah. Unto Him belongs the favor of immortality upon them. For this reason they are inspired to glorify and praise Him, just as they are inspired to breathe. 1 11 Ad-Dahhak and Al-Hasan Al-Basri both said, “It is about the right of the disobedient people of Tawhid who were in the Fire and then brought out of it.” Then Allah finished this statement by saying, 4/ft? ia gift without an end.} This means that it will never be cut off. This has been mentioned by Mujahid, Ibn ‘Abbas, Abu Al- ‘Aliyah and others. ' This has been mentioned so that the suspicious person will not doubt after the mention of the will of Allah. Someone may think that the mention of Allah’s will here means that the pleasure of Paradise may end or change. To the contrary, it has been decreed that this pleasure will truly be forever and will never end. Likewise, Allah has clarified here that the eternal torment of the people of the Fire in Hell also is due to His will. He explains that He punishes them due to His justness and wisdom. This is why He says, ^Verily, your Lord is the doer ofwhatsoever He intends.} Similarly, Allah says, il (Uj ji? ft 4He cannot be questioned as to what He does, while they will be questioned.>[21 :23] Here, Allah soothes the hearts and affirms the intent, by His saying, 4/ft? ivLft 4a gift without an end.} It has been recorded in the Two Sahihs that the Messenger ofAllah jg said. 111 Muslim 4:2181. It should be noted that this verse was revealed before the five daily prayers were made obligatory during the night of Isr&' (the Prophet's night journey to Jerusalem). At that time there were only two obligatory prayers: a prayer before sunrise and a prayer before sunset. During the late night another prayer (Tahajjud) was also made obligatory upon the Prophet jg and his nation. Later, this obligation was abrogated for his nation and remained obligatory upon him jg. Finally, this obligation was abrogated for the Prophet jg as well, according to one opinion. Allah knows best. The Good Deeds wipe away the Evil Deeds Concerning Allah's statement, iVerily, the good deeds remove the evil deeds . This is saying that the performance of good deeds is an expiation of previous sins. This has been mentioned in a Hadith recorded by Imam Ahmad and the Sunan Compilers, that the Commander of the faithful, 'Ali bin Abi Talib, said, "Whenever I used to hear a narration from the Messenger of Allah (jg), Allah would cause me to benefit by it however He willed. If anyone informed me of any statement that he said, I would make him swear (by Allah) that the Prophet jg said it. If he swore by Allah, then I would believe him. Abu Bakr once told me - and Abu Bakr was truthful - that he heard the Messenger of Allah jg say,

«J 'jm. & J_;jJ j4ii^ u» "There is not any Muslim who commits a sin, then he makes Wudu' and prays two units of prayer, except that he will be forgiven (that sin) .»,xl In the Two Sahths it is recorded that the Commander of the faithful, TJthman bin 'Affan made Wudu' for the people (to see), just like the

Thus, Allah revealed, ' ./ /• •> 4And perform Salah, at the two ends of the day and in some hours of the night. During the course of their business, he took her into his place and did everything with her except the actual act of sexual intercourse. TJmar said, "Woe unto you! She probably was a woman whose husband is away (fighting) in the path of Allah." The man said, "Of course she was." TJmar then said, "Go to Abu Bakr and ask him about this." The man went to Abu Bakr and asked him about the matter. Abu Bakr said, "She probably was a woman whose husband is away (fighting) in the path of Allah," just as TJmar had said. And your Lord would never destroy the towns wrongfully, while their people were doers of good.} There must be a Group of People Who forbid Lewdness Allah, the Exalted, says that there should have been a group of wise people present among the past generations who called to good and forbade the evil and corruption that took place among them in the land. His statement, m Ahmad 1 :245 4 'M 'ffr except a few} This means that there were only a small number of people present among them who were of this caliber. They were those whom Allah saved at the sudden striking of His vengeance, when His anger was let loose. For this reason Allah commanded this noble Ummah (followers of Muhammad ﷺ) to always have among them those who command the good and forbid the evil. This is as Allah says, Let there arise out of you a group of people inviting to all that is good, enjoining righteousness and forbidding evil. And it is they who are the successful. [3:104] It is related in a Hadith that the Prophet ﷺ said, Verily, whenever a group of people see an evil and they do not change it, it is likely that Allah will cover them with (His) punishment. Thus, Allah says, And if only there had been among the generations before you persons having wisdom, prohibiting (others) from the transgression in the earth, - except a few of those whom We saved from among them! Concerning the statement, Those who did wrong pursued the enjoyment of good things of (this worldly) life, This means that they continued in their ways of disobedience and evils and they did not heed the protesting of those righteous people, until the torment suddenly seized them. 111 Ibn Majah 2 :1327.

And were criminals. And your Lord is not at all unjust to (His) servants. [41:46] And if your Lord had so willed, He could surely have made mankind one Ummah, but they will not cease to disagree. Except him on whom your Lord has bestowed His mercy, and for that did He create them. And the Word of your Lord has been fulfilled (His saying): "Surely, I shall fill Hell with Jinn and men all together." Allah has not made Faith universally accepted Allah, the Exalted, informs that He is able to make all of mankind one nation upon belief, or disbelief. This is just as He said,

129 Surah VL Hud (118-119) (Part-12 OfjVf 4 '(jft 4 And had your Lord willed, those on earth would have believed, all of them together. (10:99] Allah goes on to say, O' People! they will not cease to disagree. Except him on whom your Lord has bestowed His mercy,) This means that people will always differ in religions, creeds, beliefs, opinions and sects. Concerning Allah's statement, Except him on whom your Lord has bestowed His mercy,) This means that those who have received the mercy of Allah by following the Messengers are excluded from this. They are those who adhere to what they are commanded in the religion by the Messengers of Allah. That has always been their characteristic until the coming of the finality of the Prophets and Messengers (Muhammad ﷺ). Those who received Allah's mercy are those who followed him, believed in him and supported him. Therefore, they succeeded by achieving happiness in this life and the Hereafter. They are the Saved Sect mentioned in the Hadith recorded in the Musnad and Sunan collections of Hadith. The routes of transmission of this Hadith all strengthen each other (in authenticity). In these narrations the Prophet ﷺ said, Verily, the Jews split into seventy-one sects, and the Christians split into seventy-two sects, and this nation (of Muslims) will split into seventy-three sects. [2] Concerning Allah’s statement, iAnd the Word of your Lord has been fulfilled (His saying) "Surely, I shall fill Hell with Jinn and men all together."^ Allah, the Exalted, informs that He precedes everything in His preordainment and decree, by His perfect knowledge and penetrating wisdom. The result of this decree is that from those whom He has created, some deserve the Paradise and some deserve the Hell Fire. From this decree is that He will fill the Hellfire with both mankind and Jinns. His is the profound evidence and the perfect wisdom. In the Two Sahihs it is recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah said, Ulij, Jj-'X, 'i J U :&fji oJU i j0IJ jAj U ; -u i jul ofj : jil'i cJu; :-L litil fX ^l-U oJI ! jillJ JI5j i«Lil ^ ktii i >—j' uj <jjl «^ ^~4- U-4J 1 U li i UyJU i)Qj \y\c. juy. ;3 *ij JljJ j lli 1 Ui_» UJb^ s,iljypj laJ Jji : Jyd Ujii Sy»Jl Uj'j «Paradise and the Hellfire debated. Imam Ahmad recorded a narration from Jabir bin 'Abdullah that 'Umar bin Al-Khattab came to the Prophet sg with a book that he took from some of the People of the Book. Prophet YQsuf (Joseph) mentioned his dream to his father, Prophet Ya'qub (Jacob), son of Prophet Ishaq (Isaac), son of Prophet Ibrahim (Abraham), peace be upon them all. 'Abdullah bin 'Abbas stated that the dreams of Prophets are revelations from Allah.*3 ' Scholars of Tafsir explained that in Yusuf's dream the eleven stars represent his brothers, who were 111 Ahmad 3 :387 Ahmad 4:266. They would be subjugated to Yusuf's authority to such an extent that they would prostrate before him in respect, honor and appreciation. Ya'qub feared that if Yusuf narrated his vision to any of his brothers, they would envy him and conspire evil plots against him. This is why Ya'qub said to YQsuf, 4'^T 4Relate not your vision to your brothers, lest they should arrange a plot against you.} This Ayah means, "They might arrange a plot against you that causes your demise." So his Lord answered his invocation} YQsuf, peace be upon him, was immune from error by Allah's will, and He saved him from accepting the advances of the wife of the 'Aziz'. He preferred prison, rather than accept her illicit call. This indicates the best and most perfect grade in this case, for Yusuf was youthful, beautiful and full of manhood. His master's wife was calling him to herself, and she was the wife of the 'Aziz of Egypt. She was also very beautiful and wealthy, as well as having a great social rank. He refused all this and preferred prison, for he feared Allah and hoped to earn His reward. It is recorded in the Two Sahuhs that the Messenger of Allah

They wanted to pretend that Yusuf was the one who tried to seduce the 'Aziz's wife and that they punished him with imprisonment. Yusuf told them that the decision about their matter has already been taken and it shall come to pass. This is because the dream! is tied to a bird's leg, as long as it is not truthfully interpreted. If it is interpreted, then it becomes a reality. Ath-Thawri said that ‘Imarah bin Al-Qa‘qa‘ narrated that Ibrahim said that ‘Abdullah bin MasTkd said, “When they said what they said to him, and he explained their dreams to them, they replied, We did not see anything at all.’ This is when he said, 4<jC:ifrj 4j [&>} 477ius is the case judged concerning which you both did inquire.y 1 At-Tabari 16 : 108

When the king had this dream, he was astonished and fearful and sought its interpretation. [Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 2722–2763]

Yusuf became minister of Egypt and the seven years of abundance passed, then came the seven years of drought that struck all areas of Egypt. The drought also reached the area of Kana'an (Canaan), where Prophet Ya'qub, peace be upon him, and his children resided. Prophet Yusuf efficiently guarded the people's harvest and collected it, and what he collected became a great fortune for the people. This also permitted Yusuf to give gifts to the people who sought his aid from various areas who came to buy food and provisions for their families. Yusuf would not give a family man more than whatever a camel could carry, as annual provisions for them. Yusuf himself did not fill his stomach from this food, nor did the king and his aids eat except one meal a day. By doing so, the people could sustain themselves with what they had for the remainder of the seven years. Indeed, Yusuf was a mercy from Allah sent to the people of Egypt. Yusuf's brothers were among those who came to Egypt to buy food supplies, by the order of their father: They knew that the 'Aziz of Egypt was selling food to people who need it for a low price, so they took some merchandise from their land with them to exchange it for food. They were ten, because Ya'qub peace be upon him kept his son and Yusuf's brother Binyamin with him. Binyamin was the dearest of his sons to him after Yusuf. When Prophet Yusuf's brothers entered on him in his court and the center of his authority, he knew them the minute he saw them. However, they did not recognize him because they got rid of him when he was still young, and sold him to a caravan of travelers while unaware of their destination. They could not have imagined that Yusuf would end up being a minister, and this is why they did not recognize him, while he did recognize them. As-Suddi said that Yusuf started talking to his brothers and asked them, "What brought you to my land?" They said, "O, 'Aziz, we came to buy provisions." He asked them, "You might be spies." They said, "Allah forbids." He asked them, "Where are you from?" They said, "From the area of Kana'an, and our father is Allah's Prophet Ya'qub." He asked them, "Does he have other children besides you?" They said, "Yes, we were twelve brothers. Our youngest died in the desert, and he used to be the dearest to his father. His full brother is alive and his father kept him, so that his closeness compensates him for losing our youngest brother (who died)." Yusuf ordered that his brothers be honored and allowed to remain, and when he furnished them with their provisions, according to their needs and gave them what they wanted to buy, he said to them, "Bring me your brother from your father's side whom you mentioned, so that I know that you have told me the truth." He continued, "See you not that I give full measure, and that I am the best of the hosts?" encouraging them to return to him. He then threatened them, "But if you bring him not to me, there shall be no measure (of com) for you with me."

People neglect to ponder the Signs beforeThem Allah states that most people do not think about His signs and proofs of His Oneness that He created in the heavens and earth. Allah created brilliant stars and rotating heavenly objects and planets,- all made subservient. There are many plots of fertile land next to each other on earth, and gardens, solid mountains, lively oceans, with their waves smashing against each other, and spacious deserts. There are many live creatures and others that have died; and animals, plants and fruits that are similar in shape, but different in taste, scent, color and attributes. All praise is due to Allah the One and Only, Who created all types of creations, Who Alone will remain and last forever. It is He Who is unique in His Names and Attributes. Allah said next, iAnd most of them believe not in Allah except that they attribute partners unto Him.} Ibn ‘Abbas commented, “They have a part of faith, for when they are asked, Who created the heavens? Who created the earth? Who created the mountains?’ They say, ‘Allah did.’ Yet, they associate others with Him in worship.”¹¹¹ Similar is said by Mujahid, ‘Ata, ‘Ikrimah, Ash-Sha’i, Qatadah, Ad-Dahhak and ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam.¹²¹ In the Sahih, it is recorded that during the Hajj season, the idolaters used to say in their Talbiyah: “Here we rush to Your service. 'Abdullah commented that this is the recitation that you dislike. Ibn 'Abbas also commented on the Ayah, iuntil, when the Messengers gave up hope and thought that they were denied^ "When the Messengers gave up hope that their people would accept their messages, and their people thought that their Messengers had Ad-Dahhak bin Muzahim commented, "I have not seen someone who is called to knowledge and is lazy accepting the invitation, until today! If you traveled to Yemen just to get this explanation, it will still be worth it." Ibn Jarir At-Tabari narrated that Muslim bin Yasar asked Said bin Jubayr about the same Ayah and he gave the same response. Muslim stood up and embraced Said bin Jubayr, saying, "May Allah relieve a distress from you as you relieved a distress from me!" This was reported from Said bin Jubayr through various chains of narration. This is also the Tafsir that Mujahid bin Jabr and several other Salaf scholars gave for this Ayah. However, some scholars said that the Ayah, iand thought that they were denied}, is in reference to the believers who followed the Messengers, while some said it is in reference to the disbelievers among the Messengers' nation. In the latter case, the meaning becomes: 'and the disbelievers thought that the Messengers were not given a true promise of victory.' Ibn Jarir At-Tabari narrated that Tamlm bin Hadhlam said, "1 heard 'Abdullah bin MasUd comment on this Ayah, iuntil, when the Messengers gave up hope} that their people will believe in them, and their people thought when the respite was long, that the Messengers were not given a true promise."*2 (1 * At-Tabari 16:303. * At-Tabari 16:304.

He, by His leave, order and power, has elevated the heavens high above the earth, distant and far away from reach. The heaven nearest to the present world encompasses the earth from all directions, and is also high above it from eveiy direction. The distance between the first heaven and the earth is five hundred years from every direction, and its thickness is also five hundred years. The second heaven surrounds the first heaven from every direction, encompassing everything that the latter carries, with a thickness also of five hundred years and a distance between them of five hundred years. The same is also true about the third, the fourth, the fifth, the sixth and the seventh heavens. Allah said, ilt is Allah who has created seven heavens and of the earth the like thereof [65 :12 Allah said next, i..without any pillars that you can see.$ meaning, 'there are pillars, but you cannot see them,' according to Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, Al-

Hasan, Qatadah, and several other scholars.*21 Iyas bin Mu'awiyah said, "The heaven is like a dome over the earth," meaning, without pillars.*31 Similar was reported from Qatadah, and this meaning is better for this part of the Ayah,¹⁴ especially since Allah said in another Ayah, o' 4H; withholds the heaven from falling on the earth except by His permission.^[22 :65] Therefore, Allah's statement, *'' This comes from an authentic narration from Ibn Mas'ud. See Al- 'Ulu (Mukhtasir) p. 103. and Al-Majma' 1 :86. There is also a weak narration attributed to the Prophet saying the same. It was recorded by At-Tirmidhi 2:525, as well as others. i..that you can see}, affirms that there are no pillars. Rather, the heaven is elevated (above the earth) without pillars, as you see. This meaning best affirms Allah's ability and power. Al-Istawa», Rising above the Throne Allah said next, iThen, He rose above (Istawa) the Throne.} We explained the meaning of the Istawa' in Surat Al-A'raf (7:54), and stated that it should be accepted as it is without altering, equating, annulling its meaning, or attempts to explain its true nature. Allah is glorified and praised from all that they attribute to Him. Allah subjected the Sun and the Moon to rotate continuously Allah said, ' ifei '$ $He has subjected the sun and the moon, each running (its course) for a term appointed.} It was said that the sun and the moon continue their course until they cease doing so upon the commencement of the Final Hour, as Allah stated, 'J {And the sun runs on its fixed course for a term (appointed) .}[36:38] It was also said that the meaning is: until they settle under the Throne of Allah after passing the other side of the earth. So when they, and the rest of the planetary bodies reach there, they are at the furthest distance from the Throne. Because according to the correct view, which the texts prove, it is shaped like a domb, under which is all of the creation. It is not circular like the celestial bodies, because it has pillars by which it is carried. 111 This fact is clear to those who I 1 ! See Surat Gh&fir40 :7.

This meaning was collected from Ibn 'Abbas Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr, Ad-Dahhak and several others . This also covers the various colors and types of diverse areas on the earth; some red, some white, or yellow, or black, some are stony, or flat, or sandy, or thick, or thin, all made to neighbor each other while preserving their own qualities. All this indicates the existence of the Creator Who does what He wills, there is no deity or lord except Him. 'Ghayru Sinwan' means, having one stem for every tree, as is the case with most plants. From this meaning, the paternal uncle is called one's 'Sinw' of his father. There is an authentic Hadith that states that the Messenger of Allah ^ said to Umar bin Al- Khattab, Jr-f P* jtOJLz ul» 'Do you not know that man's paternal uncle is the Sinw of his father?*'™ Allah said next, 4 jfZ JZfuj j Xu jll} ^watered with the same water; yet some of them We make more excellent than others to eat.} At-Tabari 16:331-333. There are plants that are very sweet or sour, bitter or mild, fresh; some plants have a combination of these attributes, and the taste then changes and becomes another taste, by Allah's will. There is also some that are yellow in color, or red, or white, or black, or blue, and the same can be said about their flowers; and all these variances and complex diversities are watered by the same water. Surely, in this there are signs for those who have sound reasoning, and surely, all this indicates the existence of the Creator Who does what He wills and Whose power made distinctions between various things and created them as He wills. Clouds, Thunder and Lightning are Signs of Allah’s Power Allah states that He has full power over Al-Barq (lightning), which is the bright light that originates from within clouds. Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn 'Abbas once wrote to Abu Al-Jald asking about the meaning of Al-Barq, and he said that it is water. Qatadah commented on Allah’s statement, ias a fear and as a hope.} “Fear for travelers, for they feel afraid of its harm and hardship, and hope for residents, awaiting its blessing and benefit and anticipating Allah’s provisions.” Allah said next, 4And it is He Who brings up the clouds, heavy.} meaning, He originates the clouds that are heavy and close to the ground because of being laden with rain. MQs& bin Ubaydah narrated that Sa'd bin Ibrahim said, "Allah sends the rain and indeed, none has a better smile than it, nor more comforting voice. Its smile is lightning and its voice is thunder." Supplicating to Allah upon hearing Ar-Ra'd (Thunder) Imam Ahmad recorded that Salim bin 'Abdullah narrated that his father said that the Messenger of Allah used to say upon hearing the thunder and thunderbolts. «O Allah! Do not kill us with Your anger, nor destroy us with Your torment, and save us before that."21 This Hadith was recorded by At-Tirmidhi, Al-Bukhari in his book Al-Adab Al-Mufrad, An-Nasal in 'Amal Al-Yawm wal- Laylah, and Al-Hakim in Al-Mustadrak. [3] When 'Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr used to hear thunder, he would stop talking and would supplicate, "All praise is to He Whom Ar-Ra'd (thunder) glorifies and praises, and so do the angels because of His awe." He would then say, "This is a stern warning to the people of earth." Malik collected this Hadith in Al-Muwatta', and Al-Bukhari in Al-Adab Al-Mufrad.4 Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah said, 111 Ahmad 5:435. 2| Ahmad 2 :100 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 9 :412, Al-Adab Al-Mufrad 187, An-Nasal in Al- Kubra 6 :230 , Al-Hakim 4 :286 Al-Muwatta'2 :992 , Al-Bukhari in Al-Adab Al-Mufrad no. 724.

Al-Hafiz Abu Al-Qasim At-Tabarani narrated that Ibn 'Abbas said that Arbad bin Qays bin Juz' bin Julayd bin JaTar bin Kulab, and 'Amir bin At-Tufayl bin Malik came to Al-Madlneh to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and sat where he was sitting. 'Amir bin At-Tufayl said, "O Muhammad! When these two men were leaving the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, 'Amir said, "By Allah! Then we will give them the blood money." Arbad said, "I will do that," and they went back to the Messenger ﷺ. 'Amir said, "O Muhammad! Stand next to me so that I can talk to you." The Messenger stood up, and they both stood next to a wall talking to each other. Arbad wanted to grab his sword, but his hand froze when it touched the sword's handle and he could not take the sword out of its sheath. Arbad did not strike the Messenger ﷺ as 'Amir suggested, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ looked at Arbad and realized what he was doing, so he departed. When Arbad and 'Amir left the Messenger of Allah jg and arrived at Al-Harrah of Waqim area, they dismounted from their horses. However, Sa'd bin Mu'adh and Usayd bin Hudayr came out saying, "Come, O enemies of Allah! May Allah curse you." 'Amir asked, "Who is this with you, O Sa'd?" Sa'd said, "This is Usayd bin Hudayr." They fled until they reached the Riqm area, where Allah struck Arbad with a bolt of lightning and he met his demise. As for 'Amir, he went on until he reached the Kharim area, where Allah sent an open ulcer that struck him. During that night, 'Amir took refuge in a woman's house, from Banu Salul. 'Amir kept touching his open ulcer and saying, "An ulcer as big as a camel's hump, while I am at the house of a woman from Bani Salul, seeking to bring my death in her house!" He rode his horse, but he died while riding it headed to his area. {but the flood bears away the foam that mounts lip to the surface^ of the water that ran down the valleys; this is the first parable. Allah said next, {and (also) from that (ore) ivhich they heat in the fire in order to make ornaments or utensils...} This is the second parable, whereas gold and silver ore is heated with fire to make adornments with it, and iron and copper ore are heated to make pots and the like with it. Foam also rises to the surface of these ores, just as in the case with water, ithus does Allah (by parables) showforth truth andfalsehood.} when they both exist, falsehood does not remain, just as foam does not remain with the water or the gold and silver ores which are heated in fire. Rather, foam dissipates and vanishes, {'Xjur JyJ' iThen, as for the foam it passes away as scum upon the banks,} for it carries no benefit and dissipates and scatters on the banks of the valley. The foam also sticks to trees or is dissipated by wind, just as the case with the scum that rises on the surface of gold, silver, iron and copper ores; it all goes away and never returns. However, water, gold and silver remain and are used to man's benefit. This is why Allah said next, {while that which is for the good of mankind remains in the earth. Opening 43. Those who prefer the life of this world to the Hereafter, and hinder (men) from the path of Allah and seek crookedness therein - they are far astray.} Describing the Qur'an and warning Those Who defy it Previously we discussed the meaning of the separate letters that appear in the beginnings of some Surahs. 4 (This is) a Book which We have revealed unto you. Allah says, This is a Book that We have revealed to you, Muhammad. This 'Book', is the Glorious Qur'an, the most honored Book, that Allah sent down from heaven to the most honored Messenger of Allah sent to all the people of the earth, Arabs and non-Arabs alike, in order that you might lead mankind out of darkness into light} We sent you, O Muhammad, with this Book in order that you might lead mankind away from misguidance and crookedness to guidance and the right way, 'Jit S{ \ $x 4$ tij jl Jit ot fvsrjTH 4 Allah is the Wall (Protector or Guardian) of those who believe. He guides those whom He destined to be guided by the hand of His Messenger jg, whom He

on account of those who defy or betray it. When the disbelievers do this, they become engulfed in ignorance and misguidance far away from truth, and therefore, there is no hope that they will gain guidance and correctness while on this state. jij i4. And We sent not a Messenger except with the language of his people, in order that he might make (the Message) clear for them. Then Allah misleads whom He wills and guides whom He wills. This is from Allah's wisdom with His creation, every Prophet He sent to a people spoke their language and everyone of these Prophets were only sent to their people. Muhammad bin 'Abdullah, Allah's Messenger, peace and blessings be upon him, was sent to all people. It is recorded in the Two SahOis that Jabir said that the Messenger of Allah said,

Similar is said by Ad-Dahhak, Said bin Jubayr, 'Ikrimah, Mujahid and several others. 121 They stated that this parable describes the believer's deeds, good statements and good actions. The believer is just like the beneficial date tree, always having good actions ascending at all times, by day and by night. Al-Bukhari recorded that 'Abdullah bin 'Umar said, "We were with the Messenger of Allah when he asked, 'Tell me about a tree that resembles the Muslim, the leaves of which do not fall in summer or winter and gives its fruit at all times by the leave of its Lord.' Ibn Umar said, "I thought of the date palm tree, but felt shy to answer when I saw that Abu Bakr and Umar did not talk. When they did not give an answer, the Messenger of Allah said, "It is the date palm tree." When we departed, I said to Umar, "My father, by Allah! I thought that it was the date tree." He said, "Why did you not speak then?" I said, "I saw you were silent and I felt shy to say anything." Umar said, "Had you said it, it would have been more precious to me than such things (i.e., would have been very precious to me)."

Ibn Jarir reported that Ibn ‘Abbas and Anas bin Malik explained that this Ayah refers to the Day when Allah will detain the sinful Muslims in Hell along with the idolaters. And in it We have provided means of living, for you and for those whom you provide not.} The Power of Allah and His Signs in the Heavens and on Earth To those who ponder, and look repeatedly at the dazzling signs and wonders that are to be seen in the creation, Allah mentions His creation of the heavens, with their immense height, and both the fixed and moving heavenly bodies with which He has adorned it. Here, Mujahid and Qatadah said that Buruj [big stars] refers to the heavenly bodies . 1 11 (I say): This is like the Ayah : 4Blessed be He Who has placed the big stars in the heavens . [25:61] ‘Atiyah Al-‘Awfi said: “Buruj here refers to sentinel fortresses.”¹²¹ He made the “shooting stars” to guard it against the evil devils who try to listen to information conveyed at the highest heights. If any devil breaches it and advances hoping to listen, a clear “shooting star” comes to him and destroys him. He may already have passed on whatever he heard before the fire hit him, to another devil below him; the latter will then take it to his friends [among humans], as is stated in the Sahlh. Explaining this Ayah, Al-Bukhari reported from Abu Hurayrah that the Prophet sg said: c2jJ> jILUI J» yS I ill I bln 'yue JLLJL. «When Allah decrees any matter in heaven, the angels beat their wings in submission to His Word, [with a sound like] a chain [beating] on a smooth rock.” (‘Ali and other subnarrators said, “The sound reaches them.”) “When the fright leaves their (angels’) hearts, they (angels) are asked: What did your Lord say?’ They respond: “The truth. And He is the Most High, the Most Great.’ So those who hope to hear something listen, and they are standing one above the other.” Sufyan [the narrator] described them with a gesture, spreading the fingers of his right hand and holding it in such a way that the fingers were above one another. “Sometimes the flaming fire hits one of these listeners before he is able to convey what he has heard to the one who is beneath him, and he is burned up, or sometimes the fire does not hit him until he has pit on to the one beneath him, At-Tabari 17:77. Al-Baghawi 3 :45 so he brings it to the earth.” Perhaps Sufyan said: “...until it reaches the earth and he puts it into the mouth of the sorcerer or fortune-teller, so that after telling a hundred lies he gets something right, and the people say, T)id he not tell us that on such and such a day such and such would happen, and we found it to be the truth among the statements which were heard from heaven.”¹¹¹ Then Allah mentions His creation of the earth and how He spread it out, and the firm mountains, valleys, lands and sands that he has placed in it, and the plants and fruits that He causes to grow in their appropriate locations. t'y¥ yfr tall kinds of things in due proportion.> Ibn ‘Abbas said that this means with their predetermined proportions. This was also the opinion of Said bin Jubayr, ‘Ikrimah, Abu Malik, Mujahid, Al-Hakim bin ‘Utaybah, Al- Hasan bin Muhammad, Abu Salih and Qatadah . Ijj j£3 $And We have provided therein means of living, for you$ Here Allah mentions that He created the earth with different means of provisions and livelihood of all kinds. 4andfor those whom you provide not.$ Mujahid said, “This refers to the riding animals and the cattle.”¹³¹ Ibn Jarir said, “They are slaves, men and women, as well as the animals and the cattle. The meaning is that Allah, may He be exalted, is reminding them of the ways of earning provision that He has made easy for them, and of the animals that He has subjugated for them to ride and to eat, and the slaves from whom they benefit, but the provision of all of these comes from Allah alone.”¹⁴¹ 111 Fath Al-Bari8 :23 1 121 At-Tabari 17:79-81. 131 At-Tabari 17:82. 141 At-Tabari 17:82.

388 Tafslr Ibn Kathlr Reported by Ibn Jarir.¹¹¹ Benefits of the Winds 4*And We send the winds fertilizing* i.e., fertilizing the clouds so that they give rain, and fertilizing the trees so that they open their leaves and blossoms. These winds are mentioned here in the plural form because they give results, unlike the barren wind (Ar-Rih Al-’Aqim, see Adh- Dhariyat 51:41), which is mentioned in the singular and described as barren since it does not produce anything; because results can only be produced when there are two or more things. iAnd We sent the winds fertilizing. ‘Abdullah bin Mas*ud said, “The wind is sent bearing water from the sky, then it fertilizes the clouds until rain begins to generously fall, just as the milk of the pregnant camel flows generously.”¹²¹ This was also the opinion of Ibn ‘Abbas, Ibrahim An-Nakha*i and Qatadah.¹³ Ad-Dahhak said: “Allah sends it to the clouds and it gets fertilized and becomes full of water.”¹⁴¹ Tjbayd bin TJmayr Al-Laythi said: “Allah sends the wind which stirs up the earth, then Allah sends the wind which raises clouds, then Allah sends the wind which forms clouds, then Allah sends the fertilizing wind which pollinates the trees. There were some differences among the scholars over the meaning of "seven of the Mathani". Ibn Mas'ud, Ibn 'Umar, Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr, Ad-Dahhak and others said that they are the seven long (Surahs), meaning Al-Baqarah, Al- 'Imran, An-Nisa', Al-Ma'idah, Al-An'am, Al-A'raf and Yunus. There are texts to this effect reported from Ibn 'Abbas and Said bin Jubayr. Said said: "In them, Allah explains the obligations, the Hudud (legal limits), stories and rulings." Ibn 'Abbas said, "He explains the parables, stories and lessons."111 The second opinion is that they (the seven of the Mathani) are Al-Fatihah, which is composed of seven Ayat. This was reported from 'Ali, Umar, Ibn Mas'ud and Ibn 'Abbas. Ibn 'Abbas said: "The Bismillah,' is completing seven Ayah, which Allah has given exclusively to you (Muslims)."*3 * This is also the opinion of Ibrahim An-Nakha'i, 'Abdullah bin Umayr, Ibn Abi Mulaykah, Shahr bin Hawshab, Al-Hasan Al-Basri and Mujahid.*4 ' Al-Bukhari, may Allah have mercy on him, recorded two Hadlths on this topic. Al-Bukhari reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, 4‘-^~tt 4Who have made the Qur’an into parts.} “They are the People of the Book, who divided the Book into parts, believing in some of it, and rejecting some of it.”¹¹¹ Some have said that Al-Mutaqasimin refers to the Quraysh, that the Qur’an means this Qur’an [as opposed to the Scriptures of the People of the Book], and that “made it into pails referred to what ‘Ata’ said that some of them said that he (the Prophet sg) was a sorcerer, some said he was crazy, or a soothsayer. These various allegations were the parts. This Fath Al-B&ri 8 :233

420 Tafsir Ibn Kathir opinion was also reported from Ad-Dahhak and others. Muhammad bin Ishaq reported from Ibn ‘Abbas that Al- Walid bin Al-Mughlah - holding a noble position among the people - rallied a group of Quraysh behind him when Al- Mawsim (the time for pilgrims to meet in Makkah for Hajj) had come. He said to them, “O people of Quraysh! The time of Al- Mawsim has come, and delegations of Arabs will come to you during this time. They will have heard some things about this companion of yours (meaning the Prophet jg), so agree on one opinion, let there be no contradicting or denials of each other’s sayings”. They said, “And you, O Abu ‘Abd Shams, give us an opinion and we will say that.” He said, “No, you make the suggestions and I will listen.” They said, “We say he is a soothsayer.” He said, “He is not a soothsayer.” They said, “We say he is crazy.” He said, “He is not crazy.” They said, “We say he is a poet.” He said, “He is not a poet.” They said, “We say he is a sorcerer.” He said, “He is not a sorcerer.” They said, “So what should we say?” He said, “By Allah, what he says is as palatable (to the average person) as something sweet, so you cannot say anything against it without it being obviously false. Therefore the most appropriate thing you can say is that he is a sorcerer.” So they left having agreed upon that, and Allah revealed concerning them: iWho have made the Qur’an into parts> meaning, of different types, and 4So, by your Lord, We shall certainly call all of them to account. =±2 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Salim is Salim bin 'Abdullah bin 'Umar. Ibn Jarir also recorded from Salim bin 'Abdullah, jLj JLtt,} iAnd worship your Lord until the Yaqm comes to you.} He said, "Death."111 It is reported in the Sahih from Umm Al- 'Ala'- one of the women of the Ansar - that when the Messenger of Allah ^ entered upon 'Uthman bin Maz*un after he had died, Umm Al-'Ala' said, "May the mercy of Allah be upon you, Abu As-Sa'ib. My testimony over you is that Allah has honored you."The Messenger ofAllah^ said, 2>i !>i iiiji; How do you know that Allah has honored him? I said, "May my father and mother be sacrificed for you, Messenger of Allah! If not him, then who else?" He said, djliJl <1 ' Jlii y* lif «As far as he is concerned, the death has come to him, and I hopefor goodfor him .»121 This is evidence that the meaning of this Ayah, iAnd worship your Lord until the certainty comes to you.} is that acts of worship, such as prayer and the like, are obligatory on man so long as his mind is sound, so he should pray according to his best ability. It was reported in Sahih Al-Bukhari from 'Imran bin Husayn jfe that the Messenger ofAllah^ said: p 0^ ' 1-LfrUi jU jji i Uili oPray standing, and if you cannot, then sitting, and if you cannot, then on your side.*131 From this we may understand that it is a mistake to interpret Yaqui (the certainty) as Ma'rifah ("spiritual knowing") At-Jabari 17:160. FathAl-Bdri 3:137. FathAl-Bdri 2:684.

427Surah 15. Al-Hijr (94-99) (Part-14) as some of the Sufis do. According to them, when one of them attains the level of Ma'rifah, they consider him to be free of these obligations. This is disbelief, misguidance and ignorance. The Prophets - peace be upon them - and their companions, were the most knowledgeable of people about Allah, about His rights. His attributes, and the glorification that He deserves. But at the same time, they were the people who worshipped Him the most, continuing in good deeds until the time they died. Therefore, what is meant by Vdqm here is death, as we have stated above. To Allah be praise and thanks. Praise be to Allah for His guidance. It is to Him that we turn for help and it is in Him that we put our trust. He is the One Whom we ask to help us to reach the best of circumstances, for He is the Most Generous and Kind. This is the end of the Tafsir of Surat Al-Hijr. Praise be to Allah, the Lord of all that exists.

Warning about the approach of the Hour

Allah is informing about the approach of the Hour in the past tense [in Arabic] in order to confirm that it will undoubtedly come to pass. This is like the following Ayat, in which the verbs appear in the past tense in Arabic: 4SY ' * .. . i', ' iMankind's reckoning has drawn near them, while they turn away in heedlessness.^[21:1] 4The Hour has drawn near, and the moon has been cleft.} [54:1] $} 4so do not seek to hasten it.} means, what was far is now near, so do not try to rush it. As Allah said, - ^ w •* „, 4 ft9? u\j — 4And they ask you to listen the torment (for them), and had it not been for a term appointed, the torment would certainly have come to them. And surely, it will come upon them suddenly while they are unaware! They ask you to hasten on the torment. And verily! Hell, of a surety, will encompass the disbelievers (29:53-54). Ibn Abi Hatim reported from TjQbah bin 'Amir that the Messenger of Allah jg said: Jly ui JI <jl>w apIzJI xp JU jJS !>£m# t; :i« 3e: ^ tuui j u 'j» ^4Wj : >Jyd If p4M 'r- j jLl t j4AJ p < "«; <J_>V <il >1 Jt U "Wfien the Hour approaches, a black cloud resembling a shield will emerge upon front the west. It was reported in the Two Sahls that Jabir bin ‘Abdullah said: “The Messenger of Allah jg forbade us to eat the meat of domestic donkeys, but he allowed us to eat the meat of horses.”*21 Imam Ahmad and Abu Dawud reported with two chains of narration, each of which meet the conditions of Muslim, that Jabir said: “On the day of Khaybar we slaughtered horses, mules and donkeys. And if you would try to count the favors of Allah, you would never be able to count them. Truly, Allah is Forgiving, Most Merciful Signs in the Oceans, Mountains, Rivers, Roads and Stars Allah tells us how He has subjected the seas, with their waves lapping the shores, and how He blesses His servants by subjecting the seas for them so that they may travel on them, and by putting fish and whales in them, by making their flesh permissible to eat - whether they are caught alive or dead - at all times, including when people are in a state of Ihram. He has created pearls and precious jewels in the oceans, and made it easy for His servants to recover ornaments that they can wear from the ocean floor. He made the sea such that it carries the ships which plow through it. He is the One Who taught mankind to make ships, which is the inheritance of 443 Surah 16. An-Nahl (14-18) (Part-14) their forefather Nuh. He was the first one to travel by ship, he was taught how to make them, then people took this knowledge from him and passed it down from generation to generation through the centuries, so that they could travel from country to country and from place to place, bringing goods from here to there and from there to here. Hence Allah says, i And the mountains He has fixed firmly.} (79:32). i and rivers and roads} meaning He has made rivers which flow from one place to another, bringing provision for His servants. The rivers arise in one place, and bring provision to people living in another place. They flow through lands and fields and wildernesses, through mountains and hills, until they reach the land whose people they are meant to benefit. They meander across the land, left and right, north and south, east and west - rivers great and small - flowing sometimes and ceasing sometimes, flowing from their sources to the places where the water gathers, flowing rapidly or moving slowly, as decreed by Allah. There is no god besides Him and no Lord except Him. He also made roads or routes along which people travel from one land or city to another, and He even made gaps in the mountains so that there would be routes between them, as He says: 4And We placed broad highways for them to pass through.} (21:31]

437. [Even] if you desire that they be guided, then verily, Allah does not guide those whom He allowed to stray, and they will have no helpers.} The Idolaters Argument that their Shirk was Divinely decreed, and the Refutation of thin Claim Allah tells us about the idolaters delusion over their Shirk, and the excuse they claimed for it based on the idea that it is ordained by divine decree. He says: <Ji Cti X, tjtl. 'jj jVi l> lai $} Hi 4(They say:) "If Allah had so willed, neither we nor our fathers would have worshipped any but Him, nor would we have forbidden anything without (a command from) Him."} They had superstitious customs dealing with certain animals, e.g. the Bahirahl] the Sa'ibah and the WasQah and other things that they had invented and innovated by themselves, with no revealed authority. The essence of what they said was: "If Allah hated what we did, He would have stopped by punishing us, and He would not have enabled us to do it." Rejecting their confusing ideas, Allah says: 4k $&} 4Are the Messengers charged with anything but to clearly convey the Message?} meaning, the matter is not as you claim. It is not the case that Allah did not rebuke your behavior; rather, He did rebuke you, and in the strongest possible terms, and He emphatically !i| See the Tafsir of Surah Yunus nos . 59-60

461 Surah 16. An-Nahl (35-37) (Part-14) forbade you from such behavior. To every nation - that is, to every generation, to every community of people - He sent a Messenger. All of the Messengers called their people to worship Allah (Alone) as well as forbidding them from worshipping anything or anybody except for Him. lilt 'jilt' ^Worship Allah (Alone), and shun the Tdghiit (all false deities).} Allah continued sending Messengers to mankind with this Message, from the first incidence of Shirk that appeared among the Children of Adam, in the people to whom NQh was sent - the first Messenger sent by Allah to the people of this earth - until He sent the final Messenger, Muhammad jg|, whose call was addressed to both men and Jinn, in the east and in the west. All of the Messengers brought the same Message, as Allah says: 4 : ft Vi\ V % 4\ &j>% Jj i—: i"" \" 4And We did not send any Messenger before you (O Muhammad) but We revealed to him (saying): None has the right to be worshipped but I (Allah), so worship Me (alone and none else)."} (21:25) 4And ask (O Muhammad) those Messengers of Ours whom We sent before you: "Did We ever appointed to be worshipped besides the Most Gracious (Allah)?" 462 Tafsir Ibirt Kathir The legislative will of Allah is clear and cannot be taken as an excuse by them, because He had forbidden them to do that upon the tongue of His Messengers, but by His universal will [i.e., by which He allows things to occur even though they do not please Him] He allowed them to do that as it was decreed for them. So there is no argument in that for them. Allah created Hell and its people both the Shayatin (devils) and disbelievers, but He does not like His servants to disbelieve. And this point constitutes the strongest proof and the most unquestionable wisdom. Then Allah informs us that He rebuked them with punishment in this world, after the Messengers issued their warning, thus He says: O* (v4~y iSJL* a iThen among them were some whom Allah guided, and among them were some who deserved to be left to stray. Then Allah tells us about His ability to do whatever He wills, and that nothing is impossible for Him on earth or in heaven. When He wants a thing, all He has to do is say to it "Be!" and it is. The Resurrection is one such thing, when He wants it to happen, all He will have to do is issue the command once, and it will happen as He wills, as He says: •-*-«£» ^1 tj} iAnd Our commandment is but one as the twinkling of an eye} (54:50) and, <iw -Si jB?% \»» iThe creation of you all and the resurrection of you all are only as (the creation and resurrection of) a single person.} (31:28) And in this Ayah, Allah says:

(They are) those who remained patient, and put their trust in their Lord.} The Reward of the Muhajirin Allah tells us about the reward of those who migrated for His sake, seeking His pleasure, those who left their homeland behind, brothers and friends, hoping for the reward of Allah. This may have been revealed concerning those who migrated to Ethiopia, those whose persecution at the hands of their own people in Makkah was so extreme that they left them and went to Ethiopia so that they would be able to worship their Lord. Among the most prominent of these migrants were Tjthman bin 'Affan and his wife Ruqayyah, the daughter of the Messenger of Allah JaTar bin Abi Talib, the cousin of the Messenger jg, and Abu Salamah bin 'Abdul-Asad, among a group of almost eighty sincere and faithful men and women, may Allah be pleased with them. Allah promised them a great reward in this world and the next. Allah said: 4We will certainly give them good residence in this world,}

467 Surah 16. An-Nahl (43-44) (Part-14) Ibn 'Abbas, Ash-Sha'bi and Qatadah said: (this means) "Al-Madlnah." It was also said that it meant "good provision". This was the opinion of Mujahid.^{12*} There is no contradiction between these two opinions, for they left their homes and wealth, but Allah compensated them with something better in this world. Whoever gives up something for the sake of Allah, Allah compensates him with something that is better for him than that, and this is what happened. He gave them power throughout the land and caused them to rule over the people, so they became governors and rulers, and each of them became a leader of the pious. Allah tells us that His reward for the Muhajirin in the Hereafter is greater than that which He gave them in this world, as He says: & 'M> 4but indeed the reward of the Hereafter will be greater} meaning, greater than that which We have given you in this world. 4if they but knew!} means, if those who stayed behind and did not migrate with them only knew what Allah prepared for those who obeyed Him and followed His Messenger jg. Among the Behavior of the Idolators was vowing to Things that Allah had provided for Them to their gods Allah tells us about some of the heinous deeds of those who used to perform baseless worship of other gods besides Him, such as idols and statues, with no grounds for doing so. They gave their idols a share of that which Allah had provided for them, 4 .’H, L ^ ’j[j— ji 477iei/ say: "This is for Allah," according to their claim, "and this is for our partners." But the share of their "partners" is not directed to Allah, while the share of Allah is directed to their "partners"! How evil is that with which they judged (6:136) That is they assigned a share for their idols as well as Allah, but they gave preference to their gods over Him, so Allah swore by His Almighty Self to question them about these lies and fabrications. He will most certainly call them to account for it and give them the unrelenting punishment in the fire of Hell. So He says, 4By Allah, you shall certainly be questioned about (all) that you used to fabricate.}

Then Allah tells us how they used to regard the angels, who are servants of the Most Merciful, as being female, and that they considered them to be Allah's daughters, and they worshipped them with Him. In all of the above, they made very serious errors. They attributed offspring to Him when He has no offspring, then they assigned Him the kind of offspring they regarded as inferior, namely daughters, which they did not even want for themselves, as He said: Are the males for you and the females for Him? That is indeed an unfair division! (53:21-22) And Allah says here:

If He were to punish them for what they have done, there would be no living creature left on the face of the earth, i.e., He would have destroyed every animal on earth after destroying the sons of Adam. But the Lord - magnificent is His gloiy - is forbearing and He covers people's faults. He waits until the appointed time, i.e.. He does not rush to punish them. If He did, then there would be no one left. Ibn Jarir reported that Abu Salamah said: "Abu Hurayrah heard a man saying, The wrongdoer harms no one but himself.' He turned to him and said, That is not true, by Allah! Even the buzzard dies in its nest because of the sins of the wrongdoer.'" guided to make its home in the mountains, in trees and in structures erected by man. The bee’s home is a solid structure, with its hexagonal shapes and interlocking forms there is no looseness in its combs. Then Allah decrees that the bee will have permission to eat from all fruits and to follow the ways which Allah has made easy for it, wherever it wants to go in the vast spaces of the wilderness, valleys and high mountains. Then each bee comes back to its hive without swerving to the right or left, it comes straight back to its home where its offspring and honey are. It makes wax from its wings, and regurgitates honey from its mouth, and lays eggs from its rear, then the next morning it goes out to the fields again. and follow the routes of your Lord made easy (for you)) Qatadah and ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said: “This means, in an obedient way”,’21 understanding it to be a description of the route of migration. (36:72)*31 He said: “Do you not see that they move the bees’ home from one land to another, and the bees follow them?” The first opinion is clearly the more likely, as it describes the routes that the bees follow, i.e., “follow these routes as they are easy” The word translated here as “made easy” is Dhululan. This may be understood as meaning “made easy”, in which case it refers to the routes followed by the bees, or it may be understood as meaning “subjugated”, in which case it refers to the bees themselves. These two scholarly interpretations are the two opinions discussed here ,21 At-Tabari 17:249. 131 At-Tabari 17:249.

It is reported in the Two Sahdis from 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, that the Messenger of Allah used to like sweet things and honey. This is the wording of Al-Bukhari, who also reported in his Sahih from Ibn 'Abbas that the Messenger ofAllah said: p)* •'p'i - Jt uJ «Healing is to be found in three things: the cut made by the cupper, or drinking honey, or in branding withfire (cauterizing), but Ihaveforbiddenmy Urnmah to usebranding.^ 4djpCd; d# l) (j\} iThere is indeed a sign in that for people who reflect.} meaning in the fact that Allah inspires this weak little creature to travel through the vast fields and feed from every kind of fruit, then gather it for wax and honey, which are some of the best things, in this is a sign for people who think about the might and power of the bee's Creator Who causes all of this to happen. From this they learn that He is the Initiator, the All- Powerful, the All-Wise, the All-Knowing, the Most Generous, the Most Merciful. k te Z& V&pg & % * &P* >& 470. He is the One Who created them out of nothing, then He will cause them to die. But there are some of them that He allows to grow old, which is a physical weakness, as Allah says: 111 FathAl-B6ri 10 :81 , Muslim 2 :1101 121 Path Al-Bari 10:143.

Thus Al-Bukhari, when commenting on this Ayah, reported a narration from Anas bin Malik that the Messenger of Allah sg used to pray: •oLLU \j Lpv-kJl Oj "I seek refuge with You from miserliness, laziness, old age, senility, the punishment of the grave, the Fitnah of the Dajjdl and the trials of life and deathM*' Zuhayr bin Abi Sulma said, in his famous Mu'allaqah:i2] "I became exhausted from the responsibilities of life. Whoever lives for eighty years, no wonder he is tired. I saw death hitting people like a crazed camel, and whoever it hit dies, but whoever is not hit lives until he grows old." i71. And Allah honored some ofyou over others with wealth and properties. Then, those who are so honored will by no means hand over their wealth and properties to those (captives of war) whom their right hands possess, so that they may be equal with them in that. Seven Qasldahs which were masterpieces of their genre were suspended on the walls of the Ka'bah. They are known as the "Seven Mu'aUaqat".

493 Surah 16. An-Nahl (71) (Part-14) There is a Sign and a Blessing in Matters of People's Livelihood Allah explains to the idolaters the ignorance and disbelief involved in their claim that Allah has partners while also admitting that these partners are His servants. In their Talbiyah¹¹¹ for Hajj, they used to say, "Here I am, there are no partners for You except Your own partner, You own him and everything he owns." Allah says, denouncing them: You would not accept for your servant to have an equal share in your wealth, so how is it that Allah would accept His servant to be His equal in divinity and glory? As Allah says elsewhere: 'f-i »7" *>.V 4He sets forth a parable for you from yourselves : Do you have partners among those whom your right hands possess (i.e. your servant) to share as equals in the wealth We have granted you, those whom you fear as you fear each other?} (30 :28) Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas mentioned this Ayah, saying, "Allah is saying - "If they did not want their servant to have a share with them in their wealth and wives, how can My servant have a share with Me in My power?' Thus Allah says: *1' il^d} 4Do they then deny the favor of Allah According to another report, Ibn 'Abbas said: "How can they accept for Me that which they do not accept for themselves?" Jui <ja> 4Do they then deny the favor of Allah?} meaning, they assign to Allah a share of the tilth and cattle which He has created. They denied His blessings and associated others in worship with Him. Al-Hasan Al-Basri said: "Umar bin Al-Khattab wrote this letter to Abu Musa Al-Ash'ari: *Be content with your provision in this world, for the Most  The audible supplication uttered upon the commencement of the Hajj rites, "Here I am O Allah . . ." 121 At-Tabari 17:252.

494 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Merciful has honored some of His servants over others in terms of provision as a test of both. The one who has been given plenty is being tested to see if he will give thanks to Allah and fulfill the duties which are his by virtue of his wealth..." It was reported by Ibn Abi Hatim. 472. And Allah has made for you mates of your own kind, and has made for you, from your mates, sons and grandsons, and has granted you good provisions. Do they then believe in false deities and deny favor of Allah?} Among His Blessings and Signs are Mates, Children and Grandchildren Allah mentions the blessing He has bestowed upon His servant by giving them mates from among themselves, mates of their own kind. If He had given them mates of another kind, there would be no harmony, love and mercy between them. But out of His mercy He has made the Children of Adam male and female, and has made the females wives or mates for the males. Then Allah mentions that from these wives He creates children and grandchildren, one's children's children. This was the opinion of Ibn 'Abbas, 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Ad-Dahhak and Ibn Zayd J Shu"bah said, narrating from Abu Bishr from Said bin Jubayr from Ibn 'Abbas: "Children and grandchildren, who are one's children and one's children's children. Meaning that the idol is dumb and cannot speak or say anything, good or otherwise. It cannot do anything at all, no words, no action, it is dependent and is a burden on its master. 111 Al-Tabari 17:261. 121 Al-Tabari 17:261. Al-Tabari 17:263. Al-Tabari 17:263.

People are Hearing, Sight and the Heart Then Allah mentions His blessings to His servants in that He brought them from their mothers' wombs not knowing a thing, then He gives them hearing to recognize voices, sight to see visible things and hearts - meaning reason - whose seat, according to the correct view, is the heart, although it was also said that its seat is the brain. With his reason, a person can distinguish between what is harmful and what is beneficial. These abilities and senses develop gradually in man. The more he grows, the more his hearing, vision and reason increase, until they reach their peak. Allah has created these faculties in man to enable him to worship his Lord, so he uses all these organs, abilities and strengths to obey his Master. Al-Bukhari reported in his Sahih from Abu Hurayrah that the Messenger of Allah said: لما خلق الله الإنسان جعل له سمعاً وبصيرةً وقلوباً (J-Ki 1 ti 'Ji pt-i tijJl liU-i ciS t5r^ j-'') (j^t (Si*j d*U & ti>- Jt ojy U} t iljL*V ^ i(J«ii.l ij &lj. i'jljopi 2# uAllah says: "Whoever takes My friend as an enemy, has declared war on Me. Were he to ask Me for anything, I would give it to him, if he were to call on Me, I would respond, if he were to seek Me for refuge I would surely grant him it. He does not strike or walk except in obedience to Allah, seeking Allah's help in all of these things. Thus in some versions of the Hadith, narrated outside the Sahih, after the phrase "his foot with which he walks", there is added: من يمشي لله يمشي - «So through Me he hears, through Me he sees, through Me he strikes and through Me he walks . ,z| Thus Allah says: وإني آتيتكم بالبينات وأنا صافٍ بينة p2 ^3>p iAnd He gave you hearing, sight, and hearts that you might 111 Fath Al-Bari 1 1 :348 Fath Al-Bari 1 1 :352

The Ayah means: remember that Day and its terrors, and the great honor and high position that Allah has bestowed upon you. This Ayah is like the Ayah with which ‘Abdullah bin Mas“ud ended when he recited to the Messenger of Allah sg from the beginning of Surat An-Nisa’. When he reached the Ayah: ft£ iti 'H '-&*} }How (will it be) then, when We bring from each nation a witness and We bring you (O Muhammad) as a witness against these?} [4:41] the Messenger of Allah jg said to him: uEnoughj Ibn Mas'ud said: “I turned to him and saw his eyes streaming with tears.” m Fath Al-BQri 8:99.

"jj} 4And do not use Allah as an excuse in your oaths} (2:224] iThat is the expiation for oaths when you have sworn. And protect your oaths.} [5:89] meaning, do not forgo your oaths without offering the penance. There is also no conflict between this Ayah (16:91) and the Hadith reported in the Two Sahths according to which the Prophet jgl said: ^iJl c_:f VJ l<4 'js*- tjjfc jrti <_J^ -1^ V «&' jj 4llj ^l» Cj “ 5'jj oij - j «By Allah, if Allah wills, I will not swear an oath and then realize that something else is better, but I do that which is better and find a way to free myself from the oath. According to another report he said: "and I offer penance for my oath.”i I 1 ' There is no contradiction at all between all of these texts and the Ayah under discussion here, which is: FathAl-Bari 1 1 :525 , Muslim 3 :1269

518 Tafstr Ibn Kathir iand do not break the oaths after you have confirmed them} because these are the kinds of oaths that have to do with covenants and promises, not the kind that have to do with urging oneself to do something or preventing him from doing something. Therefore Mujahid said concerning this Ayah: 4&+SZ %} iand do not break the oaths after you have confirmed them “The oath here refers to oaths made during Jahiliyyahfi 1] This supports the Hadth recorded by Imam Ahmad from Jubayr bin Mut'im, who said that the Messenger of Allah jg said: ^1 iijJ 'i £UUjl J SiS •jL- U:V| ^ 'jt •sli «There is no oath in Islam, and any oath made during the Jahiliyyah is only reinforced by Islam, This was also reported by MuslimJ3 ' The meaning is that Islam does not need oaths as they were used by the people of the Jahiliyyah-, adherence to Islam is sufficient to do away with any need for what they used to customarily give oaths for. In the Two Sahihis it was reported that Anas said: “The Messenger of Allah (^) swore the treaty of allegiance between the Muhajirin (emigrants) and the Ansar (helpers) in our house.”*4 ' This means that he established brotherhood between them, and they used to inherit from one another, until Allah abrogated that. &&U SjZ iAnd do not be like the one who undoes the thread which she has spun, after it has become strong, 'Abdullah bin Kathlr and As-Suddi said: “This was a foolish woman in Makkah. Eveiytime she spun thread and made it strong, she would undo it again.”111 Mujahid, Qatadah and Ibn Zayd said: “This is like the one who breaks a covenant after confirming it.”121 This view is more correct and more apparent, whether or not there was a woman in Makkah who undid her thread after spinning it. The word Ankathan could be referring back to the word translated as “undoes”, reinforcing the meaning, or it could be the predicate of the verb “to be”, meaning, do not be Ankathan, the plural of Nakth (breach, violation), from the word Nakith (perfidious). Hence after this, Allah says: 4.by taking your oaths as a means of deception among yourselves^ meaning for the purposes of cheating and tricking one another. 0U$ Jt& & iwhen one group is more numerous than another group.} meaning, you swear an oath with some people if they are more in number than you, so that they can trust you, but when you are able to betray them you do so. Allah forbids that, by showing a case where treachery might be expected or the path of Allah, and you will suffer a terrible punishment.> Do not break Oaths for the sake of Worldly Gain Then Allah says: iAnd do not use an oath by Allah for the purchase of little value.} meaning, do not neglect an oath sworn in the Name of Allah for the sake of this world and its attractions, for they are few, and even if the son of Adam were to gain this world and all that is in it, that which is with Allah is better for him, i.e., the reward of Allah is better for the one who puts his hope in Him, believes in Him, seeks Him and fulfills his oaths in the hope of that which Allah has promised. This is why Allah says:

Allah promises that He will give them a good life in this world and that He will, reward them according to the best of their deeds in the Hereafter. The good life includes feeling tranquillity in all aspects of life. It has been reported that Ibn 'Abbas and a group (of scholars) interpreted it to mean good, lawful provisions. 2^2 Tafsir Ibn Kathir The Idolaters' Accusation that the Prophet was a Liar since some Ayat were abrogated, and the Refutation of their Claim Allah tells us of the weak minds of the idolaters, and their

When they saw that some rulings had been changed by being abrogated, they said to the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) 'Yoti are but a forger') meaning one who tells lies. But Allah is the Lord Who does whatever He wills, and rules as He wants. Atid when We change a verse (of the Qur'an) in place of another) Mujahid said: this means, "We remove one and put another in its place." The tongue of the man they refer to is foreign , while this (the Qur'an) is (in) a clear Arabic tongue.} The Idolators' Claim that the Qur'an was taught by a Human, and the Refutation oftheir Claim Allah tells us about the idolators' lies, allegations, and slander when they claimed that this Qur'an which Muhammad (ﷺ) had recited for them, was actually taught to him by a human. They referred to a foreign (i.e., non-Arab) man who lived among them as the servant ofsome of the clans ofQuraysh and who used to sell goods by As-Safa. Maybe the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) used to sit with him sometimes and talk to him a little, but he was a foreigner who did not know much Arabic, only enough simple phrases to answer questions when he had to. So in refutation oftheir claims of fabrication, Allah said: 4S4 Jlpz la, iLij <4> jjfo s±J£\}

This kind of people will never be guided to faith by the signs of Allah and the Message which He sent His Messengers in this world, and they will suffer a painful and severe punishment in the Hereafter. Then Allah informs us that His Messenger (ﷺ) is not a forger nor a liar, because the one who fabricates falsehood about Allah and His Messenger is the most evil ofcreatures. 4$ 4Verily, those who do not believe in Allah's Ayat,} Allah will not guide them, and theirs will be a painful punishment, meaning, the disbelievers and heretics who are known to the people as liars. The Messenger Muhammad (ﷺ), on the other hand, was the most honest and righteous of people, the most perfect in knowledge, deeds, faith and conviction. He was known among his people for his truthfulness and no one among them had any doubts about that - to such an extent that they always addressed him as Al- Amin (the Trustworthy)

Muhammad. Thus when Heraclius, the king of the Romans, asked Abu Sufyan about the attributes of the Messenger of Allah one of the things he said to him was.

“Did you ever accuse him of lying before he made his claim?” Abu Sufyan said, “No”. Heraclius said, “He would refrain from lying about people and then go and fabricate lies about Allah?” 4106. They will suffer severe punishment in the Hereafter, because they preferred this life to the Hereafter, and they left the faith for the sake of this world and Allah did not guide their hearts and help them to stand firm in the true religion. so that they would not benefit from them. Their faculties did not help them at all, so they are unaware of what is going to happen to them.

No doubt means, it is inevitable, and no wonder that those who are like this - 4 4 in the Hereafter, they will be the losers.) meaning, they will lose themselves and their families on the Day of Resurrection. ijliw jtij »>£s=»i f i except one who was forced while his heart is at peace with the faith) This is an exception in the case of one who utters statements of disbelief and verbally agrees with the Mushrikin because he is forced to do so by the beatings and abuse to which he is subjected, but his heart refuses to accept what he is saying, and he is, in reality, at peace with his faith in Allah and His Messenger $^g. The scholars agreed that if a person is forced into disbelief, it is permissible for him to either go along with them in the interests of self-preservation, or to refuse, as Bilal did when they were inflicting all sorts of torture on him, even placing a huge rock on his chest in the intense heat and telling him to admit others as partners with Allah. He refused, saying, “Alone, Alone.” And he said, “By Allah, if I knew any word more annoying to you than this, I would say it.” May Allah be pleased with him. Similarly, when the Liar MQsaylimah asked Habib bin Zayd Al- Ansari, “Do you bear witness that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah?” He said, “Yes.” Then Musaylimah asked, “Do you bear witness that I am the messenger of Allah?” Habib said, “I do not hear you.” Musaylimah kept cutting him, piece by piece, but he remained steadfast insisting on his words. It is better and preferable for the Muslim to remain steadfast in his religion, even if that leads to him being killed, as was mentioned by Al-Hafiz Ibn ‘Asakir in his biography of ‘Abdullah bin Hudhafah Al-Sahmi, one of the Companions. He said that he was taken prisoner by the Romans, who brought him to their king. The king said, "Become a Christian, and I will give you a share of my kingdom and my daughter in m Asad Al-Ghabah 1049.

531 Surah 16. An-Nahl (106- 109) (Part-14 marriage." 'Abdullah said: "If you were to give me all that you possess and all that Arabs possess to make me give up the religion of Muhammad jg even for an instant, I would not do it." The king said, "Then I will kill you." 'Abdullah said, "It is up to you." The king gave orders that he should be crucified, and commanded his archers to shoot near his hands and feet while ordering him to become a Christian, but he still refused. Then the king gave orders that he should be brought down, and that a big vessel made of copper be brought and heated up. Then, while 'Abdullah was watching, one of the Muslim prisoners was brought out and thrown into it, until all that was left of him was scorched bones. The king ordered him to become a Christian, but he still refused. Then he ordered that 'Abdullah be thrown into the vessel, and he was brought back to the pulley to be thrown in. 'Abdullah wept, and the king hoped that he would respond to him, so he called him, but 'Abdullah said, "I only weep because I have only one soul with which to be thrown into this vessel at this moment for the sake of Allah; I wish that I had as many souls as there are hairs on my body with which I could undergo this torture for the sake of Allah." According to some reports, the king imprisoned him and deprived him of food and drink for several days, then he sent him wine and pork, and he did not come near them. Then the king called him and asked him, "What stopped you from eating?" 'Abdullah said, "It is permissible for me (under these circumstances), but I did not want to give you the opportunity to gloat." The king said to him, "Kiss my head and I will let you go." 'Abdullah said, "And will you release all the Muslim prisoners with me?" The king said, "Yes." So 'Abdullah kissed his head and he released him and all the other Muslim prisoners he was holding. When he came back, Tjmar bin Al- Khattab said, "Every Muslim should kiss the head of 'Abdullah bin Hudhafah, and I will be the first to do so." And he stood up and kissed his head. May Allah be pleased with them both! 1 ' u dJi& t'i' / ' " \ 't Y. \ l M < » t "A •* •< f Al-Hafiz (Ibn Hajar) mentioned this story in brief in Al-Isdbah (4641) , and attributed it to Al-Bayhaqi.

The Sabbath was only prescribed for those who differed concerning it, and verily, your Lord will judge between them on the Day ofResurrection about what they differed over.$ The Prescription ofthe Sabbath for the Jews There is no doubt that for every nation, Allah prescribed one day of the week for people to gather to worship Him. For this Ummah He prescribed Friday, because it is the sixth day, on which Allah completed and perfected His creation. On this day He gathered and completed His blessings for His servants. It was said that Allah prescribed this day for the Children of Israel through His Prophet Musa, but they changed it and chose Saturday because it was the day on which the Creator did not create anything, as He had completed His creation on Friday. Allah made observance of the Sabbath obligatory for them in the laws of the Tawrah (Torah), telling them to keep the Sabbath. At the same time, He told them to follow Muhammad jg| when he was sent, and took their promises and covenant to that effect. Hence Allah says: iThe Sabbath was only prescribed Jbr those who differed concerning it,$ Mujahid said: “They observed the Sabbath (Saturday) and ignored Friday.” 1 11 Then they continued to observe Saturday until Allah sent Isa bin Maryam. It was said that he told them m At-Tabari 17:320.

to change it to Sunday, and it was also said that he did not forsake the laws of the Tawrah except for a few rulings which were abrogated, and he continued to observe the Sabbath until he was taken up (into heaven). Afterwards, the Christians at the time of Constantine were the ones who changed it to Sunday in order to be different from the Jews, and they started to pray towards the east instead of facing the Dome (i.e., Jerusalem). 574 Tafsir Ibn Kathir been so astounding; the disbelievers of the Quraysh would not have hastened to label him a liar and the group of people who had become Muslims would not have deserted the faith. The word 'Abd (servant) refers to both soul and body. Allah says: "A £$) 4took His servant for a Journey by Night) and: 4oM ^&& j*K 4And We made not the vision which we showed you but a trial for mankind) [17:60] Ibn 'Abbas said: "This is the vision that the Messenger of Allah M saw with his own eyes during the Journey by Night, and the cursed tree is the tree of Zaqqum." He mentioned how he came to him, and described an incident that showed how wise Caesar was. He sent for the Arab merchants who were in Syria and Abu Sufyan Sakhr bin Harb and his companions were brought to him. He asked them the well- known questions that were recorded by Al- Bukhari and Muslim, as we shall discuss below, and Abu Sufyan tried hard to give the impression that this was an insignificant issue. Then I told him about the night on which he was taken on the Night Journey. I said: 'O King, shall I not tell you of something from which you will know that he is lying?' He said, "What is it?" I said: 'He claims that he went out of our land, the land of Al-Haram, in one night, and came to your sanctuary in Jerusalem, then came back to us the same night, before morning came.' The Patriarch of Jerusalem was there, standing next to Caesar. The Patriarch of Jerusalem said: 'I know that night.' Caesar looked at him and said, 'How do you know about this?' He said, 'I never used to sleep at night until I closed the doors of the sanctuary. On that night I closed all the doors except for one, which I could not manage to close. I asked my workers and others who were with me to help me deal with it, but we could not move it. It was like trying to move a mountain. So I called the carpenters, and they looked at it and said: The lintel and some part of the structure has fallen onto it. We cannot move it until morning, when we will be able to see what the problem is. So I went back and left the two doors open. The next morning I went back, and saw that the stone at the corner of the sanctuary had a hole in it, and there were traces of an animal having been tethered there. I said to my companions: This door has not been closed last night except for a Prophet, who prayed last night in sanctuary. '"And he mentioned the rest of the Hadith. As for the senile man, he will say, "O Lord, Islam came and I did not understand anything." As for the one who died during the Fatrah, he will say, "O Lord, no Messenger from You came to me." Allah will accept their pledge of obedience to Him, then He will

Meanings of Amama The commentators differed over the meaning of this word. It was said that the phrase translated here as "Amama those who live luxuriously. And if you turn away from them and you are awaiting a mercy from your Lord far which you hope, then, speak unto them a soft, kind word The Command to maintain the Ties of Kinship and the Prohibition of Extravagance When Allah mentions honoring one's parents, He follows this with the command to treat one's relatives well and to maintain the ties of kinship. [25:67] Then He says, to discourage extravagance: -.Sh [21 Ahmad 2 :226 Muslim 4 :1982.

iVerily, the spendthrifts are brothers of the Shaydtin,) They have this trait in common. Ibn Mas'ud said: "This refers spending extravagantly when it is not appropriate."111 Ibn 'Abb&s said likewise . 121

Mujahid said: "If a man spends all his wealth on appropriate things, then he is not a spendthrift, but if he spends a little inappropriately, then he is a spendthrift."131 Qatadah said: "Extravagance means spending money on sin in disobeying Allah, and on wrongful and corrupt things."141 Imam Ahmad recorded that Anas bin Malik said: "A man came from Banu Tamim to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and said: 'O Messenger of Allah, I have a lot of wealth, I have a family, children, and the refinements of city life, so tell me how I should spend and what I should do.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Pay the Zakah on your wealth if any is due, for it is purification that will make you pure, maintain your ties of kinship, pay attention to the rights of beggars, neighbors and the poor.' He said: 'O Messenger of Allah, make it less for me.' He [recited]: And give to the kinsman his due, and to the Miskin (poor) and to the wayfarer. But spend not wastefully in the manner of a spendthrift The man said, 'That is enough for me, O Messenger of Allah. If I pay Zakah to your messenger, will I be absolved of that duty before Allah and His Messenger?' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: 'Yes.' Oil And if you give it to my messenger, you will have fulfilled it, and you will have the reward for it, and the sin is on the one who changes it." 111 At-Tabari 17:428. 121 At-Tabari 17:429. 131 At-Tabari 17:429. 141 At-Tabari 17:429.

611 Surah 17. Al-Isr' (29-30) (Part-15) «Yes, if you give it to my messenger, you will have fulfilled it, and you will have the reward for it, and the sin is on the one who changes it.» 11 Verily, the spendthrifts are brothers of the Shayatn, meaning, they are their brothers in extravagance, foolishness, failing to obey Allah and committing sin. Allah said: And the Shaytan is ever ungrateful to his Lord meaning, he is an ingrate, because he denied the blessings of Allah and did not obey Him, turning instead to disobedience and rebellion. And if you give it to my messenger, you will have fulfilled it, and you will have the reward for it, and the sin is on the one who changes it. And if you him away from them and you are awaiting a mercy from your Lord. If your relatives and those to whom We have commanded you to give, ask you for something, and you do not have anything, and you turn away from them because you have nothing to give, then, speak unto them a soft, kind word. meaning, with a promise. This was the opinion of Mujahid, Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Al-Hasan, Qatadah and others. 29. And let not your hand be tied (like a miser) to your neck, nor overextend it (like a spendthrift), so that you become blameworthy and in severe poverty. 111 Ahmad 3:136. Some scholars consider this Hadith authentic, although it is not confirmed that its narrator, Said bin Abi Hilal, actually heard from Anas bin Malik. At-Tabari 17:431,432

430. Truly, your Lord expands the provision for whom He wills and straitens (for whom He wills). Verily, He is Ever All-Knowing, All-Seer of His servants. Moderation in Spending Allah enjoins moderation in living. He condemns miserliness and forbids extravagance. And let not your hand be tied (like a miser) to your neck, this means, do not be miserly and stingy, never giving anything to anyone, as the Jews - may the curses of Allah be upon them - said, "Allah's Hand is tied up (i.e., He does not give and spend of His bounty)". They attributed miserliness to Him, Exalted and Sanctified be the Most Generous Bestower! nor overextend it (like a spendthrift) means, nor be extravagant in spending and giving more than you can afford, or paying more than you earn, lest you become blameworthy and find yourself in severe poverty. If you are a miser, people will blame you and condemn you, and no longer rely on you. When you spend more than you can afford, you will find yourself without anything to spend, so you will be worn out, like an animal that cannot walk, so it becomes weak and incapable. It is described as worn out, which is similar in meaning to exhausted. As Allah says: Then look again: "Can you see any rifts?" Then look again and yet again, your sight will return to you in a state of humiliation and worn out.) (67:3-4) meaning, unable to see any faults. Similarly, Ibn ‘Abbas, Al- Hasan, Qatadah, Ibn Jurayj, Ibn Zayd and others understood this Ayah as miserliness and extravagance. ' It was reported in T At-Tabari 17:434, 435.

in the Two Sahihs from the Hadith of Abu Az-Zinad from Al- A'raj that Abu Hurayrah heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say: «إن من أكل من ثمره حتى يبلغه فهو على ما بلغ» “The parable of the miser and the almsgiver is that of two persons wearing iron cloaks from their chests to their collar-bones. When the almsgiver gives in charity, the cloak becomes spacious until it covers his whole body to such an extent that it hides his fingertips and covers his tracks (obliterates his tracks - or, his sins will be forgiven). And when the miser wants to spend, it (the iron cloak) sticks and (its) every ring gets stuck to its place, and he tries to widen it, but it does not become loose.” This version was recorded by Al-Bukhari in the Book Zakat. In the Two Sahihs it is recorded that Mu'awiyah bin Abi Muzarrid narrated from Said bin Yasar that Abu Hurayrah said: “The Messenger of Allah ﷺ said: «لا يومئذ يفرح الله بعبده حتى يعطيه من ثمنه» “There is no day when a person wakes up but two angels come down from heaven. One of them says, ‘O Allah, compensate the one who gives (in charity),’ and the other one says, ‘O Allah, destroy the one who withholds.’” Muslim recorded from Abu Hurayrah that the Prophet ﷺ said: «ما يكثر من الدنيا إلا ينقص من الآخرة» “Wealth never decreases because of Sadaqah (charity). Allah never increases a servant who gives in charity except in honor, and whoever is humble for the sake of Allah, Allah will raise him.” Fath Al-Bari 3 :358 , Muslim 2 :708

Prohibition of killing Children This Ayah indicates that Allah is more compassionate towards His servants than a father to his child, because He forbids killing children just as He enjoins parents to take care of their children in matters of inheritance. The people of Jahiliyyah would not allow their daughters to inherit from them, and some would even kill their daughters lest they make them more poor. Allah forbade that and said: «ولا تقتلوا أولادكم» “And kill not your children for fear of poverty.” meaning, lest they may make you poor in the future. This is why Allah mentions the children’s provision first:

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 3155–3171]

«وعلينا أن نؤتيهم من حيث لا يحتسبون» “We shall provide for them as well as for you.” In Surat Al-An‘am, Allah says: «ولا تقتلوا أولادكم» “And kill not your children because of poverty.” [6:151] «وعلينا أن نؤتيهم من حيث لا يحتسبون» [6:151] and. «وعلينا أن نؤتيهم من حيث لا يحتسبون» means, a major sin. In Two Sahihs it is recorded that ‘Abdullah bin Mas'ad said: “I said, ‘O Messenger of Allah, which sin is the worst?’ He said, it is «أن يقتلوا أولادهم» “To appoint rivals of Allah when He has created you.” I asked, Then what?” He said, «أن يقتلوا أولادهم» “To kill your child lest he should eat with you.” I asked, Then what?” He said, «أن يقتلوا أولادهم» “To commit adultery with your neighbor's wife.” 111 Fath Al-Bari 8:13.

«ولا تقربوا إلى الفواحش» “And come not near to unlawful sex. Verily, it is Fahishah (immoral sin) and an evil way.” The Command to avoid Zina (Unlawful Sex) and Everything that leads to it Allah says, forbidding His servants to commit Zina or to approach it or to do anything that may lead to it: «ولا تقربوا إلى الفواحش» “And come not near to unlawful sex.
