Opening

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 42–44]

The Meaning of Al- Fatihah and its« Various Names This Surah is called Al-Fatihah, that is, the Opener of the Book, the Surah with which prayers are begun. It is also called, Umm Al-Kitab (the Mother of the Book), according to the majority of the scholars. In an authentic Hadith recorded by At- Tirmidhi, who graded it Sa hih , Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah said, » , , f , pi iSj <U JLq^Jl@c'j jiidi uAl-Hamdu lilldhi Rabbil-'Alamin is the Mother of the Qur'an, the Mother of the Book, and the seven repeated Ai/at of the Glorious Qur'an .» It is also called Al-Hamd and As-Salah, because the Prophet said that his Lord said,

* <JJ 1 <J15 “The prayer (i.e Al-Fatihah) is divided into two halves between Me and My servants.' When the servant says, 'All praise is due to Allah, the Lord of existence,' Allah says, 'My servant has praised Me.'n Al-Fatihah was called the Salah, because reciting it is a condition for the correctness of Salah - the prayer. Al-Fatihah was also called Ash-Shifa' (the Cure). It is also called Ar-Ruqyah (remedy), since in the Sahih, there is the narration of Abu Said telling the the story of the Companion who used Al-Fatihah as a remedy for the tribal chief who was poisoned. Later, the Messenger of Allah jg said to a Companion, t , Lfjl SjjJj “How did you know that it is a Ruqyah?^2] Al-Fatihah was revealed in Makkah as Ibn ‘Abbas, Qatadah and Abu Al-‘Aliyah stated. Allah said, 4u£<5' oi C- 1 4And indeed, We have bestowed upon you the seven Mathanty (seven repeatedly recited verses), (i.e. Surat Al-Fatihah) (15:87).*3 ' Allah knows best. HowmanyAyatdoes Al-Fatihah contain? There is no disagreement over the view that Al-Fatihah contains seven Ayat. According to the majority of the reciters of Al-Kufah, a group of the Companions, the Tdbi'in, and a number of scholars from the successive generations, the BismiUah is a separate Ayah in its beginning. We will mention this subject again soon, if Allah wills, and in Him we trust. The Number ofWords and Letters in Al-Fatihah The scholars say that Al-Fatihah consists of twenty-five words, and that it contains one hundred and thirteen letters. ^ At-Tirmidhi, TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 8 :283 . 121 Fath Al-Bari4 :529 . [31 That is, because this Ayah, which refers to Al-Fatihah, was itself revealed in Makkah

The Reason it is called UmmAl-Kitab

In the beginning of the Book of Tafsir, in his Sahth, Al- Bukhari said; “It is called Umm Al-Kitab, because the Qur’an starts with it and because the prayer is started by reciting it.”¹¹¹ It was also said that it is called Umm Al-Kitab, because it contains the meanings of the entire Qur'an. Ibn Jarir said, "The Arabs call every comprehensive matter that contains several specific areas an Umm. For instance, they call the skin that surrounds the brain, Umm Ar-Ra's. They also call the flag that gathers the ranks of the army an Umm." He also said, "Makkah was called Umm Al-Qura, (the Mother of the Villages) because it is the grandest and the leader of all villages. It was also said that the earth was made starting from Makkah."121 Further, Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah narrated about Umm Al-Qur'an that the Prophet jyg said, ^ ^3 olyll ft £*» «If is Umm Al-Qur'dn, the seven repeated (verses) and the Glorious Qur'an. Also, Abu JaTar, Muhammad bin Jarir At-Tabari recorded Abu Hurayrah saying that the Messenger of Allah said about Al-Fatihah, a/t is Umtn Al-Qur'dn, Al-Fatihah of the Book (the Opener of the Qur'an) and the seven repeated (verses).^ Virtues of Al-Fatihah Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal recorded in the Musnad that Abu Said bin Al-Mu'alla said, "I was praying when the Prophet called me, so I did not answer him until I finished the prayer. I then went to him and he said, «What prevented you from coming?» I said, 'O Messenger of Allah ! I was praying.' He said, «Didn't Allah say», Path Al-Bari 8:6. 121 At-Tabari 1 :107. 131 Ahmad 2 :448 At-Tabari 1 :107.

Also, Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah said, "The Messenger of Allah jgj went out while Ubayy bin Ka*b was praying and said, sO Ubayy!* Ubayy did not answer him. The Prophet js said, «0 Ubayy!* Ubayy prayed faster then went to the Messenger of Allah saying, 'Peace be unto you, O Messenger of Allah!' He said, «Peace be unto you. the Prophet ﷺ said, ﷺ is the seven repeated verses and the Glorious Qur'an that I was given. » At-Tirmidhi then commented that this Hadith is Hasan Sahih. There is a similar Hadith on this subject narrated from Anas bin Malik²¹ Further, 'Abdullah, the son of Imam Ahmad, recorded this Hadith from Abu Hurayrah from Ubayy bin Ka'b, and he mentioned a longer but similar wording for the above Hadith. * In addition, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasab recorded this Hadith from Abu Hurayrah from Ubayy bin Ka'b who said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said. * 1] Ahmad 2 :412 , Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 8 :283 * Al-Hakim 1:560. Also, Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn Jabir said, "I went to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ , after he had poured water (for purification) and said, 'Peace be unto you, O Messenger of Allah!' He did not answer me. So I said again, 'Peace be unto you, O Messenger of Allah!' Again, he did not answer me, so I said again, 'Peace be unto you, O Messenger of Allah!' Still he did not answer me. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ went while I was following him, until he arrived at his residence. I went to the Masjid and sat there sad and depressed. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ came out after he performed his purification and said, •Peace and Allah's mercy be unto you, peace and Allah's mercy be unto you, peace and Allah's mercy be unto you .» He then said, «0 'Abdullah bin Jabir! Should I inform you of the best Surah in the Qur'an? * I said, Yes, O Messenger of Allah!' He said, *Read, 'All praise be to Allah, the Lord of the existence,' until you finish if.n""2 ' This Hadith has a good chain of narrators. Some scholars relied on this Hadith as evidence that some Ayat and Surahs have more virtues than others. Furthermore, in the chapter about the virtues of the Qur'an, Al-Bukhari recorded that Abu Saïd Al-Khudri said, "Once, we were on a journey when a female servant came and said, The leader of this area has been poisoned and our people are away. Is there a healer among you?' Then a man whose healing expertise did not interest us stood for her, he read a Ruqyah for him, and he was healed. The chief gave him thirty sheep as a gift and some milk. When he came back to us we said to him, You know of a (new) Ruqyah, or did you do this before?' He said, 'I only used Umm Al-Kitab as Ruqyah,' We Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi8 :553 and An-Nasab in Al-Kubra 1 :318. ,2) Ahmad 4 :177 and Al-Muwatta 1 : 84.

said, 'Do not do anything further until we ask the Messenger of Allah.' When we went back to Al-Madlnah we mentioned what had happened to the Prophet The Prophet ﷺ said, "r*~IJ ^y.^i i jti »p * + / , <Sj L$ji AjjAj jlj> J & *Who told him that it is a Ruqyah? Divide (the sheep) and reserve a sharefor we.®" Also, Muslim recorded in his Sahih, and An-Nasab in his Sunan that Ibn 'Abbas said, "While Jibril (Gabriel) was with the Messenger of Allah he heard a noise from above. Jibril lifted his sight to the sky and said, This is a door in heaven being open, and it has never been opened before now.' An angel descended from that door and came to the Prophet ﷺ and said, Receive the glad tidings of two lights that you have been given, which no other Prophet before you was given: the Opening of the Book and the last (three) Ayat of Surat Al-Baqarah. You will not read a letter of them, but will gain its benefit.' " This is the wording collected by An-Nasab (Al-Kubra 5:12) and Muslim recorded similar wording (1:554). Al-Fatihah and the Prayer Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Prophet ﷺ said, «Whoever performs any prayer in which he did not read Umm Al-Qur'dti, then his prayer is incomplete .” He said it thrice. Abu Hurayrah was asked, “(When) we stand behind the Imam?” He said, “Read it to yourself, for I heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say, *liU JL U jf JJI JU D :JLS lijj t£4A JLS 4. j 4js :Jlj :i)l JU :JU lj)i i : 111 JU i jl_ i Jlj) : Jli lj(i isff : i'f Jli) tsff bjbl : Jli lili 4 jLl. he asked for.” Explaining this Hadith The last Hadith used the word Salah] ‘prayer’ in reference to reciting the Qur’an, (Al-Fatihah in this case) just as Allah said in another Ayah, iAnd offer your Salah (prayer) neither aloud nor in a low voice, but jbloiv a way betioeen.} meaning, with your recitation of the Qur’an, as the Sahih. related from Ibn ‘Abbas. 121 Also, in the last Hadith, Allah said, “I have divided the prayer between Myself and My servant into two halves, a half for Me and a half for My servant. My servant shall have what he asked for.” Allah next explained the division that involves reciting Al-Fatihah, demonstrating the importance of reciting the Qur’an during the prayer, which is one of the prayer’s greatest pillars. Hence, the word ‘prayer’ was used here although only a part of it was actually being referred to, that is, reciting the Qur’an. Similarly, the word ‘recite’ was used where prayer is meant, as demonstrated by Allah’s statement, *iAnd recite the Qur'an in the early dawn . Verily, the recitation of the Qur'an in the early dawn is ever witnessed. in reference to the Fajr prayer. The Two Sahlhs recorded that the angels of the night and the day attend this prayer.*¹³ Reciting Al-Fatihah is required in Every Rak‘ah of the Prayer All of these facts testify to the requirement that reciting the Qur’an (Al-Fatihah) in the prayer is required, and there is a consensus between the scholars on this ruling. The Hadith that we mentioned also testifies to this fact, for the Prophet said, Muslim 1 :296 , and An-Nasa’i in Al-Kubra 5:11,12. Fath Al-Bari 8 :257 ,3' Fath Al-Bari 8:251 and Muslim 1 :439.

1+-9 y' «W/ioraer performs any prayer in which he did not recite Umm Al-Qur'dn, his prayer is incomplete .»[1 Also, the Two Sahths recorded that ‘Ubadah bin As-Samit said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, «There is no prayer for ivhoeever does not recite the Opening of the Book.nW Also, the Sahih of Ibn Khuzaymah and Ibn Hibban recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, ojTjiil Lfj \% 'j 5^Li> i V 6 “The prayer during which Umm Al-Qur'dn is not recited is invalid.#• There are many other Hadiths on this subject. Therefore, reciting the Opening of the Book, during the prayer by the Imam and those praying behind him, is required in every prayer, and in every Rak'ah. The TafsirofIstVadhah (seeking Refuge) Allah said, *f t _ r - .ff * Jrj— >> } >; • . - "U iShow forgiveness, enjoin what is good, and stay away from the foolish (i.e. don't putush them). And if an evil whisper comes to you from Shaytdn (Satan), then seek refuge with Allah. Verily, He is Hearing, Knowing> (7:199-200), iRepel evil with that which is better. Allah commanded that we be lenient human enemy, so that his soft nature might make him an ally and a supporter. He also commanded that we seek refuge from the Satanic enemy, because the devil does not relent in his enmity if we treat him with kindness and leniency. The devil only seeks the destruction of the Son of Adam due to the vicious enmity and hatred he has always had towards man's father, Adam. Allah said, And We said to the Children of Adam! Let not Shaytan deceive you, as he got your parents [Adam and Hawwa' (Eve)] out of Paradise} (7:27), iSurely, Shaytan is an enemy to you, so take (treat) him as an enemy. iWill you then take him (Iblis) and his offspring as protectors and helpers rather than Me while they are enemies to you? Hence, how would he treat us after he had vowed, i"By Your might, then I will surely, mislead them all. Except Your chosen servants among them (i.e. faithful, obedient, true believers of Islamic Monotheism)."} (38:82-83) Also, Allah said, -ft ^ iSo when you [want to] recite the Qur'an, seek refuge with Allah from Shaytan, the outcast (the cursed one). Seeking Refuge before reciting the Qur'an Allah said, ^ y'- -liU —to d'J> tito^ 4So when you [want to] recite the Qur'an, seek refuge with Allah from Shaytan, the outcast (the cursed one).} meaning, before you recite the Qur'an. Similarly, Allah said, }When you intend to offer As-Salah (the prayer), wash your faces and your hands (forearms)} (5:6) meaning, before you stand in prayer, as evident by the Hadiths that we mentioned. Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Said Al-Khudri said, "When the Messenger of Allah would

The four collectors of the Sunan recorded this Hadith, which At-Tirmidhi considered the most famous Hadith on this subject. Abu Dawud and Ibn Majah recorded that Jubayr bin Mut'im said that his father said, "When the Messenger of Allah ﷺ started the prayer, he said, ii\ ouii - - \'jg ji iuil - - ^ 'fs\ iliu 4>£j ^-ji jiklji ly. it, ij-l Ji - iSc ''Allah is the Greater, truly the Greatest (thrice); all praise is due to Allah always (thrice); and all praise is due to Allah day and night (thrice). O Allah! I seek refuge with You from the cursed Satan, from his Hamz, Nafkh and NafthA" 'Amr said, "The Hamz means asphyxiation, the Nafkh means arrogance, and the Nafth means poetry. ""2) Also, Ibn Majah recorded that 'Ali bin Al-Mundhir said that Ibn Fudayl narrated that 'Ata' bin As-Sa'ib said that Abu 'Abdur-Rahman Ahmad 3:69, Abu Dawud 1:490, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 2:47, An- Nasal 2 :132 , and Ibn Majah Abu Dawud 1 :486 and Ibn Majah 1 :265.*

There are many other Hadiths about seeking refuge with Allah. One can find this subject in the books on supplication and the virtues of righteous, good deeds. Is the Isti'adhah (seeking Refuge) required? The majority of the scholars state that reciting the Isti'adhah (in the prayer and when reciting the Qur'an) is recommended and not required, and therefore, not reciting it does not constitute a sin. However, Ar-Razi recorded that 'Ata' bin Abi Rabah said that the Isti'adhah is required in the prayer and when one reads the Qur'an. In support of 'Ata's statement, Ar-Razi relied upon the apparent meaning of the Ayah, {Then seek refuge.} He said that the Ayah contains a command that requires implementation. Also, the Prophet (ﷺ) always said the Isti'adhah. In addition, the Isti'adhah wards off the evil of Satan, which is necessary, the rule is that the means needed to implement a requirement of the religion is itself also required. And when one says, "I seek refuge with Allah from the cursed devil." Then this will suffice. Virtues of the Isti'adhah The Isti'adhah cleanses the mouth from the foul speech that it has indulged in. It also purifies the mouth and prepares it to recite the speech of Allah. Further, the Isti'adhah entails seeking Allah's help and acknowledging His ability to do everything. The Isti'adhah also affirms the servant's meekness, weakness and inability to face the enemy of his inner evil, whom Allah alone. Who created this enemy, is able to repel and defeat. This enemy does not accept kindness, unlike the human enemy. There are three Ayat in the Qur'an that affirm this fact. Also, Allah said, {Verily, My servants (i.e. the true believers of Islamic Monotheism) — you have no authority over them. And sufficient is your Lord as a Guardian.} (17:65). We should state here that the believers, whom the human enemies kill, become martyrs, while those who fall victim to the inner enemy - Satan - become bandits. Further, the believers who are defeated by the apparent enemy - disbelievers - gain a reward, while those defeated by the inner enemy earn a sin and become misguided. Since Satan sees man where man cannot see him, it is befitting that the believers seek refuge from Satan with Whom Satan cannot see. The Isti'adhah is a form of drawing closer to Allah and seeking refuge with Him from the evil of every evil creature.

What does Isti'adhah mean?

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 57–58]

Isti'adhah means, "I seek refuge with Allah from the cursed Satan so that he is prevented from affecting my religious or worldly affairs, or hindering me from adhering to what I was commanded, or luring me into what I was prohibited from." Indeed, only Allah is able to prevent the evil of Satan from touching the son of Adam. This is why Allah allowed us to be lenient and kind with the human devil, so that his soft nature might cause him to refrain from the evil he is indulging in. However, Allah required us to seek refuge with Him from the evil of Satan, because he neither accepts bribes nor does kindness affect him, for he is pure evil. Thus, only He Who created Satan is able to stop his evil. This meaning is reiterated in only three Ayat in the Qur'an. Allah said in Surat Al-A'raf, {Shoio forgiveness, enjoin what is good, and turn away from the foolish (i.e. don't punish them).} (7:199) This is about dealing with human beings. He then said in the same Surah, {And if an evil whisper comes to you from Shaytan, then seek refuge with Allah. Verily, He is Hearing, Knowing (7: 200).} Allah also said in Surat Al-Mu'minun, {If - < > >• „ . . - > " ,/ / ^ >> •" t - " < ? - ;} .y I /if

Why the Devil is called Shaytan

And to guard against every rebellious devil. They cannot listen to the higher group (angels) for they are pelted from every side. Outcast, and theirs is a constant (or painful) torment. Except such as snatch away something by stealing, and they are pursued by a flaming fire of piercing brightness} (37:6-10). Further, Allah said. f in u i And indeed, We have put the big stars in the heaven and We beautified it for the beholders. And We have guarded it (near heaven) from every Shaytan Rajim (outcast Shaytdn). Except him (devil) wlv steals the hearing then he is pursued by a clear flaming fire>(15:16-18). There are several similar Ayat. It was also said that Rajim means, the person who throws or bombards things, because the devil throws doubts and evil thoughts in people's hearts. The first meaning is more popular and accurate. Bismillah is the First Ayah of Al-Fatihah The Companions started the Book of Allah with Bismillah: 4,1. In the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful.} The scholars also agree that Bismillah is a part of an Ayah in Surat An-Naml {chapter 27). They disagree over whether it is a separate Ayah before every Surah, or if it is an Ayah, or a part of an Ayah, included in every Surah where the Bismillah appears in its beginning. Ad-Daraqutni also recorded a Hadith from Abu Hurayrah from the Prophet ﷺ that supports this Hadith by Ibn Khuzaymah. Also, similar statements were attributed to 'Ali, Ibn 'Abbas and others. The opinion that Bismillah is an Ayah of every Surah, except Al-Bara'ah (chapter 9), was attributed to (the Companions) Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn 'Umar, Ibn Az-Zubayr, Abu Hurayrah and 'Ali. This opinion was also attributed to the Tabi'in: 'Ata', Tawus, Said bin Jubayr, Makhul and Az-Zuhri. This is also the view of 'Abdullah bin Al-Mubarak, Ash-Shafil, Ahmad bin Hanbal, (in one report from him) Ishaq bin Rahwayh and Abu 'Ubayd Al-Qasim bin Salam. On the other hand, Malik, Abu Hanifah and their followers said that Bismillah is not an Ayah in Al-Fatihah or any other Surah. Dawud said that it is a separate Ayah in the beginning of every Surah, not part of the Surah itself, and this opinion was also attributed to Ahmad bin Hanbal. Basmalah aloud in the Prayer As for Basmalah aloud during the prayer, those who did not agree that it is a part of Al-Fatihah, state that the Basmalah should not be aloud. The scholars who stated that Bismillah is a part of every Surah (except chapter 9) had different opinions; some of them, such as Ash-Shafil, said that one should recite Bismillah with Al-Fatihah aloud. This is also the opinion of many among the Companions, the Tabi'in and the Imams of Muslims from the Salaf and the later generations. For instance, this is the opinion of Abu Hurayrah, Ibn 'Umar, Ibn 'Abbas, Mu'awiyah, *Umar and 'Ali - according to Ibn 'Abdul-Barr and Al-Bayhaqi. Also, the Four Khalifahs - as Al-Khatib reported - were said to have held this view although the report from them is contradicted. The Tabi'in scholars who gave this Tafsir include Said bin Jubayr, 'Ikrimah, Abu Qilabah, Az-Zuhri, 'Ali bin Al-Hasan, his son Muhammad, Said bin Al-Musayyib, 'Ata', TawQs, Mujahid, Salim, Muhammad bin Kali ' Ad-Daraqutni 1 :303 and 306

Al-Qurazi, Abu Bakr bin Muhammad bin 'Amr bin Hazm, Abu Wa'il, Ibn Sirin, Muhammad bin Al-Munkadir, 'Ali bin 'Abdullah bin 'Abbas, his son Muhammad, Nafi' the freed slave of Ibn 'Umar, Zayd bin Aslam, Umar bin 'Abdul-Aziz, Al-Azraq bin Qays, Habib bin Abi Thabit, Abu Ash-Sha'tha', Makhul and 'Abdullah bin Ma'qil bin Muqarrin. Also, Al-Bayhaqi added 'Abdullah bin Safwan, and Muhammad bin Al-Hanafiyyah to this list. In addition, Ibn 'Abdul-Barr added 'Amr bin Dinar. The proof that these scholars relied on is that, since Bismillah is a part of Al-Fatihah, it should be recited aloud like the rest of Al-Fatihah. Also, An-Nasa'i recorded in his Sunan, Ibn Hibban and Ibn Khuzaymah in their Sahths and Al-Hakim in the Mustadrak, that Abu Hurayrah once performed the prayer and recited Bismilldh aloud. After he finished the prayer, he said, “Among you, I perform the prayer that is the closest to the prayer of the Messenger of Allah sg.” Ad- Daraqutni, Al-Khatlb and Al-Bayhaqi graded this Hadith Sahiff 1] Furthermore, in Sahih. Al-Bukhari it is recorded that Anas bin Malik was asked about the recitation of the Prophet He said, “His recitation was unhurried.” He then demonstrated that and recited, while lengthening the recitation of Bismilldh Ar-Rahman Ar-Rahim , ,2) Also, in the Musnad of Imam Ahmad, the Sunan of Abu Dawud, the Sahih of Ibn Hibban and the Mustadrak of Al-Hakim - it is recorded that Umm Salamah said, “The Messenger of Allah used to distinguish each Ayah during his recitation, iln the Name ofAllah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. All praise and thanks be to Allah, the Lord of all that exists, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. The Owner of the Day ofRecompense.y’ Ad-Daraqutni graded the chain of narration for this Hadith ^ An-Nasal 2:134, Ibn Khuzaymah 1:251, Ibn Hibban 3:143, Al- Hakim 1:232, Ad-Daraqutni 1:305, Al-Khatib and Al-Bayhaqi Fath Al-Bari 8 :709

Sahth^ Furthermore, Imam Abu ‘Abdullah Ash-Shafil and Al- Hakim in his Mustadrak, recorded that Mu'awiyah led the prayer in Al-Madinah and did not recite the Bismillah. The Muhajirin who were present at that prayer criticized that. When Mu'awiyah led the following prayer, he recited the Bismillah aloud. The Hadiths mentioned above provide sufficient proof for the opinion that the Bismillah is recited aloud. As for the opposing evidences and the scientific analysis of the narrations mentioned their weaknesses or otherwise it is not our desire to discuss this subject at this time. Other scholars stated that the Bismillah should not be recited aloud in the prayer, and this is the established practice of the Four Khalifahs, as well as ‘Abdullah bin Mughaffal and several scholars among the Tdbi'in and later generations. It is also the Madhhab (view) of Abu Hanifah, Ath-Thawri and Ahmad bin Hanbal. Imam Malik stated that the BismiUdh is not recited aloud or silently. This group based their view upon what Imam Muslim recorded that ‘A'ishah said that the Messenger of Allah jg used to start the prayer by reciting the Takbir (AUdhu Akbar; Allah is Greater) and then recite, »_>> A& iAU praise and thanks be to Allah, the Lord of all that exists.} (Ibn Abi Hatim 1:12). Also, the Two Sahihs recorded that Anas bin Malik said, “I prayed behind the Prophet Abu Bakr, Umar and Uthman and they used to start their prayer with, iAU praise and thanks be to Allah, the Lord ofall that exists.} Muslim added, “And they did not mention, i® P iln the Name ofAlldh, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful} l 1 ! 63Surah 1 , Al-Fatihah (Part-1) whether in the beginning or the end of the recitation.” Similar is recorded in the Sunan books from ‘Abdullah bin Mughaffal, may Allah be pleased with him.¹² These are the opinions held by the respected Imams, and their statements are similar in that they agree that the prayer of those who recite Al-Fatihah aloud or in secret is correct. All the favor is from Allah. The Virtue ofAl-Fatihah Imam Ahmad recorded in his Musnad, that a person who was riding behind the Prophet sfe said, “The Prophet’s animal tripped, so I said, ‘Cursed Shaytan.’ The Prophet sg said, JtFi ji-tU: ijUallji lil Jj;u 4jUalljl •t-jlllll jL 'j.Li; 4)i Iijj «Do not say, 'Cursed Shaytdtt/ for if you say these words, Satan becomes arrogant and says, With my strength I made him fall. The Prophet said in this narration, j*—; • J*

Also, the Basmalah is recommended before eating, for Muslim recorded in his Sahih that the Messenger of Allah jg said to Umar bin Abi Salamah while he was a child under his care, «Say Bismillah, eat with your right hand and eat from whatever is next to you Some of the scholars stated that Basmalah before eating is obligatory. The Meaning of “Allah” Allah is the Name of the Lord, the Exalted. It is said that Allah is the Greatest Name of Allah, because it is referred to when describing Allah by the various attributes. The Meaning of Ar-Rahman Ar-Rahim - the Most

Gracious, the Most Merciful Ar-Rahman and Ar-Rahim are two names derived from Ar- Rahmah (the mercy), but Rahman has more meanings that pertain to mercy than Ar-Rahim. There is a statement by Ibn Jarir that indicates that there is a consensus on this meaning. Further, Al-Qurtubi said, "The proof that these names are derived (from Ar-Rahmah), is what At-Tirmidhi recorded - and graded Sahlh from 'Abdur-Rahman bin 'Awf that he heard the Messenger of Allah jg say, O* t*"! J lii : (JUj ill JU» «Allah the Exalted said, 7 Am Ar-Rahmdn. I created the Raham (womb, i.e. family relations) and derived a name for it from My Name. Hence, ivhoeever keeps it, I will keep ties to him, and whoever severs it, I will sever ties with him He then said, "This is a text that indicates the derivation." He then said, "The Arabs denied the name Ar-Rahman, because of their ignorance about Allah and His attributes." Al-Qurtubi said, "It was said that both Ar-Rahman and Ar- Rahlm have the same meaning, such as the words Nadman 111 Fath Al-Bari 11:218, Muslim 4 :2062 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi9 :480 , and Ibn Majah 2 :1269 TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 6 :33

67Surah 1. Al-Fdtihah (Part-1) and Nadim, as Abu Ubayd has stated. Abu 'Ali Al-Farisi said, 'Ar-Rahman, which is exclusively for Allah, is a name that encompasses every type of mercy that Allah has. Ar-Rahlm is what effects the believers, for Allah said, 4And He is ever Rahim (merciful) to the believers.}' (33:43) Also, Ibn 'Abbas said - about Ar-Rahman and Ar-Rahlm, They are two soft names, one of them is softer than the other (meaning it carries more implications of mercy).' Ibn Jarir said; As-Surri bin Yahya At-Tamimi narrated to me that 'Uthman bin Zufar related that Al-'Azrami said about Ar- Rahman and Ar-Rahlm, "He is Ar-Rahman with all creation and Ar-Rahfm with the believers."2 ' Hence. Allah's statements, 4Then He rose over (Istawa) the Throne (in a manner that suits His majesty), Ar-Rahman (25:59),^ and, 4Ar-Rahman (Allah) rose over (Istawa) the (Mighty) Throne (in a manner that suits His majesty).} (20:5) Allah thus mentioned the Istawa - rising over the Throne - along with His Name Ar-Rahman, to indicate that His mercy encompasses all of His creation. Allah also said, J^=fj} 4And He is ever Rahim (merciful) to the believers}, thus encompassing the believers with His Name Ar-Rahlm. They said, "This testifies to the fact that Ar-Rahman carries a broader scope ofmeanings pertaining to the mercy of Allah with His creation in both lives. Meanwhile, Ar-Rahlm is exclusively for the believers." Yet, we should mention that there is a supplication that reads, «The Rahman and the Rahim of this life and the Hereafter» 111 TafsirAl-Qurtubi 1:105. [2] At-Tabari 1 :127.

69Surah 1. Al-Fatihalt (Part-1) (merciful)} (9:128). Allah has also described some of His creation using some of His other Names. For instance, Allah said, iVerily, We have created man from Nutfah (drops) of mixed semen (sexual discharge of man and woman), in order to try him, so We made him hearer (Sami') and seer (Basir) (76:2). In conclusion, there are several of Allah's Names that are used as names for others besides Allah. Further, some of Allah's Names are exclusive for Allah alone, such as Allah, Ar-Rahman, Al-Khaliq (the Creator), Ar-Raziq (the Sustainer), and so forth. Hence, Allah started the Tasmiyah (meaning, In the Name of Allah, Most Gracious Most Merciful') with His Name, Allah, and described Himself as Ar-Rahman, (Most Gracious) which is softer and more general than Ar-Rahm. The most honorable Names are mentioned first, just as Allah did here. A Hadith narrated by Umm Salamah stated that the recitation of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was slow and clear, letter by letter, yajji —sgfi . p *—~^}} i . . /u iln the Name of Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. Others connected the recitation of the Tasmiyah to Al-Hamd. 4l0laJhiji <_>j fu j1^S\} 42. Al-Hamd be to Allah, the Lord of all that exists.} The Meaning of Al-Hamd Abu Jafar bin Jarir said, "The meaning of 4fa 1^{\}

iAl-Hamdu Lilldh (all praise and thanks be to Allah) is: all thanks are due purely to Allah, alone, not any of the objects that are being worshipped instead of Him, nor any of His creation. These thanks are due to Allah's innumerable favors and bounties, that only He knows the amount of. Allah's bounties include creating the tools that help the creation worship Him, the physical bodies with which they are able to implement His commands, the sustenance that He provides them in this life, and the comfortable life He has granted them, without anything or anyone compelling Him to do so. Allah also warned His creation and alerted them about the means and methods with which they can earn eternal dwelling in the residence of everlasting happiness. All thanks and praise are due to Allah for these favors from beginning to end." Further, Ibn Jarir commented on the Ayah, iAl-Hamdu Lilldh}, that it means, "A praise that Allah praised Himself with, indicating to His servants that they too should praise Him, as if Allah had said, 'Say: All thanks and praise is due to Allah.' It was said that the statement, 4A11 praise and thanks be to Allah}, entails praising Allah by mentioning His most beautiful Names and most honorable Attributes. When one proclaims, 'All thanks are due to Allah,' he will be thanking Him for His favors and bounties." 12 The Difference between Praise and Thanks Hamd is more general, in that it is a statement of praise for one's characteristics, or for what he has done. Thanks are given for what was done, not merely for characteristics. The Statements of the Salaf about Al-Hamd Hafis mentioned that 'Umar said to 'Ali, "We know La ilaha illallah, Subhan Allah and Allahu Akbar. What about Al-Hamdu Lilldh?" 'Ali said, "A statement that Allah liked for At-Tabari 1:135. At-Tabari 1 :137.

When the servant says Al-Hamdu Lillah, Allah says, 'My servant has praised Me.'" Ibn Abi Hatim recorded this HadithP The Virtues of Al-Hamd Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal recorded that Al-Aswad bin Sari' said, "I said, 'O Messenger of Allah! Should I recite to you words of praise for My Lord, the Exalted, that I have collected?' He said, dLj jl LU ^Verily, your Lord likes Al-Hamd . An-Nasab also recorded this HadithP^ Furthermore, Abu Isa At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasa'i and Ibn Majah recorded that Musa bin Ibrahim bin Kathir related that Talhah bin Khirash said that Jabir bin 'Abdullah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, jLuJi i Jiii ijj V Jjiu «77ie best Dhikr (remembering Allah) is Ld ilaha illallah and the best supplication is Al-Hamdu Lillah . 73 Surah 1. Al-Fatihah (Part-1) The Meaning of Ar-Rabb, the Lord Ar-Rabb is the owner who has full authority over his property. Ar-Rabb, linguistically means, the master or the one who has the authority to lead. All of these meanings are correct for Allah. When it is alone, the word Rabb is used only for Allah. As for other than Allah, it can be used to say Rabb Ad-Dar, the master of such and such object. Further, it was reported that Ar-Rabb is Allah's Greatest Name. The Meaning of Al-'Alamin Al-'Alamin is plural for 'Alam, which encompasses everything in existence except Allah. The word Alam is itself a plural word, having no singular form. The Alamin are different creations that exist in the heavens and the earth, on land and at sea. Every generation of creation is called an Alam. Al- Farra' and Abu Tjbayd said, “Alam includes all that has a mind, the Jinns, mankind, the angels and the devils, but not the animals.” Also, Zayd bin Aslam and Abu Muhaysin said, Alam includes all that Allah has created with a soul.” Further, Qatadah said about, iThe Lord of the 'Alamin}, “Every type of creation is an Alam.” Az-Zajjaj also said, “ Alam encompasses everything that Allah created, in this life and in the Hereafter.” Al-Qurtubi commented, “This is the correct meaning, that the Alam encompasses everything that Allah created in both worlds. Similarly, Allah said, o' iFir'awn (Pharaoh) said: "And what is the Lord of the 'Alamin?" Musa (Moses) said: "The Lord of the heavens and the earth, and all that is between them, if you seek to be convinced with certainty" (26 :23-24). Why is the Creation called 'Alam? Alam is derived from Alamah, that is because it is a sign testifying to the existence of its Creator and to His Oneness.” m Al-Qurtubi 1 :139

-4 >' 43. Ar-Rahman (the Most Gracious), Ar-Rahim (the Most Merciful)}. Allah said next, 4Ar-Rahmdn (the Most Gracious), Ar-Raliim (the Most Merciful)} We explained these Names in the Basmalah. Al-Qurtubi said, “Allah has described Himself by 'Ar-Rahman, Ar-Rahim' after saying 'the Lord of the Alamin', so His statement here includes a warning, and then an encouragement. Similarly, Allah said, jVj ,if.l Gi tji li^} iDeclare (O Muhammad unto My servants, that truly, I am the Oft-Forgiving, the Most Merciful. And that My torment is indeed the most painful torment.) (15:49-50)* ” Allah said, iSurely, your Lord is swift in retribution, and certainly He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful.} (6:165) Hence, Rabb contains a warning while Ar-Rahman Ar-Rahim encourages. Further, Muslim recorded in his Sahih. that the Messenger of Allah jg said, U J*I5sj I fj i. Jjy-'l L 4)1 JCj~ li jJluj U» la.< U ^31 -dll Jup *If the believer knew what punishment Allah has, none would have hope in acquiring His Paradise, and if the disbeliever knew what mercy Allah has, none will lose hope of earning His reward.*12' s'j. 44. 75Surah 1. Al-Fatihah (Part-1 but this does not negate His sovereignty over all other things. For Allah mentioned that He is the Lord of existence, including this earthly life and the Hereafter. Allah only mentioned the Day of Recompense here because on that Day, no one except Him will be able to claim ownership of anything whatsoever. On that Day, no one will be allowed to speak without His permission. Similarly, Allah said, rA . Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas commented, “Allah says, ‘On that Day, no one owns anything that they used to own in the world.’” The Meaning ofYawmAd-Din Ibn 'Abbas said, “Yawm Ad-Din is the Day of Recompense for the creatures, meaning the Day ofJudgment. On that Day, Allah will reckon the creation for their deeds, evil for evil, good for good, except for thosewhom He pardons. In addition, several other Companions, Tabi'in and scholars of the Salaf, said similarly, for this meaning is apparent and clear from the Ayah. Allah is Al-Malik (King or Owner) Allah is the True Owner (Malik) (of everything and everyone). Allah said, 111 IbnAbi Hfitim 1:19.

J./M QX>^% 4He is Allah, beside Whom Ld ildha ilia Huwa, the King, the Holy, the One freefrom all defects> (59:23). Also, the Two Sahihs recorded Abu Hurayrah saying that the Prophet jg said, «4l V) ilJU l 4IIL JLz Jf-j <Ll r- '’The most despicable name to Allah is a person who calls himself the king of kings, while there are no owners except Am. 78 Tafsir Ibtt Kathir is described as Mu'abbadah, meaning, 'paved'. In religious terminology, 'Ibadah implies the utmost love, humility and fear. The Merit of stating the Object of the Action before the Doer of the Act, and the Merit of these Negations "You...", means, we worship You alone and none else, and rely on You alone and none else. This is the perfect form of obedience and the entire religion is implied by these two ideas. Some of the Salaf said, Al-Fatihah is the secret of the Qur'an, while these words are the secret of Al-Fatihah, JO 45. You we worship, and You we ask for help from.} The first part is a declaration of innocence from Shirk (polytheism), while the second negates having any power or strength, displaying the recognition that all affairs are controlled by Allah alone. This meaning is reiterated in various instances in the Qur'an. For instance, Allah said, / / C // y 4 So I worship Him (O Muhammad s) and put your trust in Him. We should mention that in this Ayah, the type of speech here changes from the third person to direct speech by using the Kaf in the statement Iyyaka (You). This is because after the servant praised and thanked Allah, he stands before Him,

The beginning of Surat Al-Fatihah contains Allah's praise for Himself by His most beautiful Attributes and indicates to His servants that, they too, should praise Him in the same manner. Hence, the prayer is not valid unless one recites Al-Fatihah, if he is able. The Two Sahihs recorded that Tjbadah bin As-Samit said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, <<_li£Jl iALL «Tliere is tw valid prayerfor whoever does not recite Al-Fatilah of the BooleV Also, it is recorded in Sahih Muslim that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, J if?j u-i xJxi : JU; li)i J^a;» :<iil Jli icjjJLJ' :juW Jli lil ijlj, li :Jli li^i :Jjil Jli ^>l>:Jli lip JtM*- jJblj x-j JilJ : Jli lj|3 i^Jup :ii)l Jli _>j liUx tjiti.Jli lili tJLi U fjsSij ^jj IJL : Jli . % ^k. 0 Cx/jj' Osffl\\ •Jli U Iju : Jli iAllah said, 7 80 Tafseer Ibn Kathir Allah says, 'My servant has praised Me.' When the servant says, 'The Most Gracious, the Most Merciful', Allah says, 'My servant has praised Me.' When the servant says, 'The Owner of the Day of Recompense', Allah says, 'My servant has glorified Me.' If the servant says, 'Iltijj JI-jo Jiljt^ iYoti we worship, and You we ask for help', Allah says, 'This is between Me and My servant, and My servant shall have what he asked.' If the servant says, 'Guide us to the straight path. The path of those on whom You have bestowed Your grace, not (that) of those who have earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray', Allah says, 'This is for My servant, and My servant shall have what he asked.' Tawhid Al-Uluhiyyah Ad-Dahhak narrated that Ibn 'Abbas said, 'X~^ iYou we worship' means, 'It is You whom we single out, Whom we fear and Whom we hope in, You alone, our Lord, and none else. Tawhid Ar-Rububiyyah icss } And You we ask for help from', to obey you and in all of our affairs. '*21 Further, Qatadah said that the Ayah, 'M\} 111 Muslim 1 :297. ,2) Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :19.

81 Surah 1. Al-Fatihah (Part-1) 'You we worship, and You we ask for help from' 'Contains Allah's command to us to perform sincere worship for Him and to seek His aid concerning all of our affairs.' ' Allah mentioned, 'Juju jIjJ4 'You we worship' before, '44?~ 4And You we ask for help from', because the objective here is the worship, while Allah's help is the tool to implement this objective. Certainly, one first takes care of the most important aspects and then what is less important, and Allah knows best. Allah called His Prophet^ an 'Abd Allah called His Messenger jg an 'Abd (servant) when He mentioned sending down His Book, the Prophet's involvement in inviting to Him, and when mentioning the Isra' (overnight journey from Makkah to Jerusalem and then to heaven), and these are the Prophet's most honorable missions. Also, Allah said, '4He (Allah) chose him (as an intimate friend) and guided him to a straight path) (16:121), and, 'iAnd lead them on to the zuay offlaming Fire (Hell)) (37:23). Similarly, Allah said, 'iAnd verily, you (O Muhammad sg) are indeed guiding (mankind) to the straight path) (42:52), and, '4u4l <s$ *^ jSQ) iAll praise and thanks be to Allah, Who has guided us to this) (7:43), meaning, guided us and directed us and qualified us for this end - Paradise.

The Meaning of As-Sirat Al-Mustaqim, the Straight

Path. As for the meaning of As-Sirat Al-Mustaqim, Imam Abu Ja'far

At-Tabari said, "The Ummah agreed that Sirdt Al-Mustaqim, is the clear path without branches, according to the language of the Arabs. For instance, Jarir bin 'Atiyah Al-Khatafi said in a poem, The Leader of the faithful is on a path that will remain straight even though the other paths are crooked." At-Tabari also stated that, "There are many evidences to this fact." At-Tabari then proceeded, "The Arabs use the term, Siraf in reference to every deed and statement whether righteous or wicked. Hence the Arabs would describe the honest person as being straight and the wicked person as being crooked. The straight path mentioned in the Qur'an refers to Islam. Imam Ahmad recorded in his Musnad that An-Nawwas bin Sam'an said that the Prophet jg said, [j*111 If* I 11 •Jy& frlS ia\j^ai\ toli-'j* jfo* >— _ * ' jljf Ijli y-Sj ^yry jj >cja V JI *dJ*i iy 1~^ J •ilijj 41 «— 4i • ui' .u\ti ^ 41 i»ij J.1^11 *41 4^ *i;i» > ^ijJi "Allah has set an example: a Sirdt (straight path) that is surrounded by two walls on both sides, with several open doors within the walls covered with curtains. There is a caller on the gate of the Sirat who heralds, 'O people! Stay on the path and do not deviate from it.' Meanwhile, a caller from above the path is also warning any person who wants to open any of these doors, Woe unto you! Do not open it, for if you open it you will pass through.' The straight path is Islam, the two walls are Allah's set limits, while the doors resemble what Allah has prohibited. The caller on the gate of the Sirdt is the Book of Allah, while the caller above the Sirat is Allah's admonishment in the heart of every Muslim At-Jabari 1:170. [2] Ahmad 4: 182.

85 Surah 1. Al-Fatihah (Part-1) The Faithful ask for and abide by Guidance If someone asks, "Why does the believer ask Allah for guidance during every prayer and at other times, while he is already properly guided? Has he not already acquired guidance?" The answer to these questions is that if it were not a fact that the believer needs to keep asking for guidance day and night, Allah would not have directed him to invoke Him to acquire the guidance. The servant needs Allah the Exalted every hour of his life to help him remain firm on the path of guidance and to make him even more firm and persistent on it. The servant does not have the power to benefit or harm himself, except by Allah's permission. Therefore, Allah directed the servant to invoke Him constantly, so that He provides him with His aid and with firmness and success. Indeed, the happy person is he whom Allah guides to ask of Him. This is especially the case if a person urgently needs Allah's help day or night. Allah said, IS ^ jit (jLjli i gftjj I £{)£} 43? u;& 40 you who believe! Believe in Allah, and His Messenger (Muhammad %g), and the Book (the Qur'an) which He has sent down to His Messenger, and the Scripture which He sent down to those before (him)) (4:16). Therefore, in this Ayah Allah commanded the believers to believe, and this command is not redundant since what is sought here is firmness and continuity of performing the deeds that help one remain on the path of faith. Also, Allah commanded His believing servants to proclaim, 4;£4.£iiA he k'JM Q Aj h£ £* * <£} iOur Lord! Let not our hearts deviate (from the truth) after You have guided us, and grant us mercy from You. Truly, You are the Bestower.} (3:8). Hence, iGuide us to the straight way} means, "Make us firm on the path of guidance and do not allow us to deviate from it."

V) p+sc j*. jv^Ac e-jit Cjl/jj''' 47. 77ie way 0/ those upon whom You have bestowed Your grace, not (that) of those who earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray}. We mentioned the Hadith in which the servant proclaims, iGuide us to the straight way and Allah says, "This is for My servant, and My servant shall acquire what he asks for." Allah's statement. iThe way of those upon whom You have bestowed Your grace defines the path. Those upon whom Allah has bestowed His grace' are those mentioned in Surat An-Nisa' (chapter 4), when Allah said, / .-'7 * /V * i iAnd whoever obeys Allah and the Messenger (Muhammad $&), then they will be in the company of those on whom Allah has bestowed His grace, the Prophets, the Siddiqin (the truly faithful), the martyrs, and the righteous. Allah's statement, jCc-} iNot (the way) of those who earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray } meaning guide us to the straight path, the path of those upon whom you have bestowed Your grace, that is, the people of guidance, sincerity and obedience to Allah and His Messengers. They are the people who adhere to Allah's commandments and refrain from committing what He has prohibited. But, help us to avoid the path of those whom Allah is angry with, whose intentions are corrupt, who know the truth, yet deviate from it. Also, help us avoid the path of those

87Surah 1. Al-Fdtihah (Part-1) who were led astray, who lost the true knowledge and, as a result, are wandering in misguidance, unable to find the correct path. Allah asserted that the two paths He described here are both misguided when He repeated the negation 'not'. These two paths are the paths of the Christians and Jews, a fact that the believer should beware of so that he avoids them. The path of the believers is knowledge of the truth and abiding by it. In comparison, the Jews abandoned practicing the religion, while the Christians lost the true knowledge. This is why 'anger' descended upon the Jews, while being described as "led astray" is more appropriate of the Christians. Those who know, but avoid implementing the truth, deserve the anger, unlike those who are ignorant. The Christians want to seek the true knowledge, but are unable to find it because they did not seek it from its proper resources. This is why they were led astray. We should also mention that both the Christians and the Jews have earned the anger and are led astray, but the anger is one of the attributes more particular of the Jews. Allah said about the Jews, ii' iii iThose (Jews) who incurred the curse ofAllah and His wrath (5:60). The attribute that the Christians deserve most is that of being led astray, just as Allah said about them, 4^J' £ j* <jcL=. tfeS; JJj iWho wait astray before and who misled many, and strayed (themselves)from the right path} (5:77). There are several Hadiths and reports from the Salaf on this subject. Imam Ahmad recorded that 'Adi bin Hatim said, "The horsemen of the Messenger of Allah sg seized my paternal aunt and some other people. When they brought them to the Messenger of Allah they were made to stand in line before him. My aunt said, 'O Messenger of Allah! The supporter is far away, the offspring have stopped coming and I am an old woman, unable to serve. Grant me your favor, may Allah grant you His favor.' He said, "Who is your supporter?" She said, 'Adi bin Hatim.' He said, The one who ran away from Allah and His Messenger?" She said, 'So, the Prophet jg freed me.' When the Prophet jg came back, there was a man next to him, I think that he was 'Ali, who said to her, 'Ask him for a means of transportation.' She asked the Prophet jg, and he ordered that she be given an animal." 'Adi then said, "Later on, she came to me and said, 'He (Muhammad jg) has done a favor that your father (who was a generous man) would never have done. So and-so person came to him and he granted him his favor, and so-and-so came to him and he granted him his favor.' So I went to the Prophet sg and found that some women and children were gathering with him, so close that I knew that he was not a king like Kisra (King of Persia) or Caesar. He said, ‘O ‘Adi! What made you run away, so that La ilaha illalldh is not proclaimed? Is there a deity worthy of worship except Allah? What made you run away, so that AUa.hu Akbar (AllaH is the Greater) is not proclaimed? Is there anything Greater than Allah?’ I proclaimed my Islam and I saw his face radiate with pleasure and he said: J ^ .1 i 1 c. Ljj .1^W 1 “Those who have earned the anger are the Jeivs and those who are led astray are the Christians This HacLUh was also collected by At-Tirmidhi who said that it is Hasan Gharib . (1 Also, when Zayd bin ‘Amr bin Nufayl went with some of his friends - before Islam - to Ash-Sham seeking the true religion, the Jews said to him, “You will not become a Jew unless you carry a share of the anger of Allah that we have earned.” He said, “I am seeking to escape Allah’s anger.” Also, the Christians said to him, “If you become one of us you will carry a share in Allah’s discontent.” He said, “I cannot bear it.” So he remained in his pure nature and avoided worshipping the idols and the polytheistic practices. He became neither a Jew, nor Christian. As for his companions, they became Christians because they found it more pure than Judaism. Waraqah bin Nawfal was among these people until Allah guided him by the hand of His Prophet §g, when he was sent as Prophet, and Waraqah believed in the revelation that was sent to the Prophet may Allah be pleased with him.  Ahmad 4:378, and Tuhfat At-Ahwadhi 8:289.

The Summary of Al-Fatihah The honorable Surah Al-Fatihah contains seven Ayat including the praise and thanks of Allah, glorifying Him and praising Him by mentioning His most Beautiful Names and most high Attributes. It also mentions the Hereafter, which is the Day of Resurrection, and directs Allah’s servants to ask of Him, invoking Him and declaring that all power and strength comes from Him. It also calls to the sincerity of the worship of Allah alone, singling Him out in His divinity, believing in His perfection, being free from the need o any partners, having no rivals nor equals. Al-Fatihah directs the believers to invoke Allah to guide them to the straight path, which is the true religion, and to help them remain on that path in this life, and to pass over the actual Sirat (bridge over hell that everyone must pass over) on the Day of Judgment. On that Day, the believers will be directed to the gardens of comfort in the company of the Prophets, the truthful ones, the martyrs and the righteous. Al-Fatihah also encourages performing good deeds, so that the believers will be in the company of the good-doers on the Day of Resurrection. The Surah also warns against following the paths of misguidance, so that one does not end up being gathered with those who indulge in sin, on the Day of Resurrection, including those who have earned the anger and those who were led astray. The Bounties are because of Allah, not the Deviations Allah said, iThe way of those upon whom you have bestowed Your grace>, when He mentioned His favor. On mentioning anger, Allah said, Jl iNot (that) of those who earned Your anger without mentioning the subject, although it is He Who has sent down the anger on them, just as Allah stated in another Ayah, 'if 9% Jl j $¥ 4Have you (O Muhammad jg) not seen those (hypocrites) who take as friends a people upon whom is the wrath of Allah (i.e.

90 Tafsir Ibtt Kathtr Jews)?} (58:14). Also, Allah relates the misguidance of those who indulged in it, although they were justly misguided according to Allah’s appointed destiny. For instance, Allah said, tb (J J-4 -Sj T&f-J' J+ -i-t. 4He whom Allah guides, he is the rightly-guided ; but he whom He sends astray, for him you will find no Waif (guiding friend) to lead him (to the right path)) (18:17) and, ^Whomsoever Allah sends astray, none can guide him ; and He lets them wander blindly in their transgression} (7:186). These and several other Ayat testify to the fact that Allah alone is the One Who guides and misguides, contrary to the belief of the Qadariyyah sect, who claimed that the servants choose and create their own destiny. They rely on some unclear Ayat avoiding what is clear and contradicts their desires. Theirs, is the method of the people who follow their lust, desire and wickedness. An authentic Hadith narrated, <1>1 (jo-i jjJI au aJLIj U JI pjlj lil® zWhcn you see those who follow what is not so clear in it (the Qur'an), then they are those whom Allah has mentioned (refer to 3:7). Verily, no innovator in the religion could ever rely on any authentic evidence in the Qur'an that testifies to his innovation. The Qur'an came to distinguish between truth and falsehood, and guidance and misguidance. The Qur'an does 111 FathAl-Bdri8:57.

91Surah 1. Al-Fatihah (Part-1) not contain any discrepancies or contradictions, because it is a revelation from the Most Wise, Worthy of all praise. SayingAmin It is recommended to say Amin after finishing the recitation of Al-Fatihah. Amin means, "O Allah! Accept our invocation." The evidence that saying Amin is recommended is contained in what Imams Ahmad, Abu Dawud and At-Tirmidhi recorded, that Wa'il bin Hujr said, "I heard the Messenger of Allah jg recite, 4Not (that) of those who earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray and he said 'Amin' extending it with his voice."111 Abu Dawud's narration added, "Raising his voice with it." At- Tirmidhi then commented that this Hadith is Hasan and was also narrated from 'Ali and Ibn Mas'ud121 . Also, Abu Hurayrah narrated that whenever the Messenger of Allah jg would recite, Vj o^Jjl 4Not (the way) of those who earned Your anger, nor of those who went astray>, He would say Amin until those who were behind him in the first line could hear him. 131 Abu Dawud and Ibn Majah recorded this Hadith with the addition, "Then the Masjid would shake because of (those behind the Prophet jg) reciting Amin."141 Also, Ad-Daraqutni recorded this Hadith and commented that it is Hasan. Further, Bilal nan-ated that he said, "O Messenger ofAllah! Do not finish sayingAmin before I can join you."15 ' This was recorded byAbu Dawud.'61 In addition, Abu Nasr Al-Qushayri narrated that Al-Hasan and Jafar As-Sadiq stressed the 'm' in Amin. 111 Ahmad 4:315, Abu Dawud 1 :574, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 2 :67 TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi2:67. Opening Tafsirof SuratAl-Baqarah (Chapter 2)

The Virtues of SuratAl-Baqarah In Musnad Ahmad, Sahih Muslim, At- Tirmidhi and An- Nasa'i, it is recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Prophet said, «Do not turn your houses into graves. Verily, Shaytan does not enter the house where Surat Al-Baqarah is recited.» At-Tirmidhi said, «Hasan Sahih . Also, 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, "Shaytan flees from the house where Surat Al-Baqarah is heard." This Hadith was collected by An-Nasa'i in Al-Yawm wal-Laylah , 121 and Al-Hakim recorded it in his Mustadrak, and then said that its chain of narration is authentic, although the Ahmad 2:284, Muslim 1 :539, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 8:180, An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 5:13. An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 5:13.

Two Sahihis did not collect it. [11 In his Musnad, Ad-Darimi recorded that Ibn Mas'ud said, «Shaytan departs the house where Surat Al-Baqarah is being recited, and as he leaves, he passes gas.» Ad-Darimi also recorded that Ash-Shahi said that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, «Whoever recites ten Ayat from Surat Al-Baqarah in a night, then Shaytan will not enter his house that night. (These ten Ayat are) four from the beginning, Ayat Al-Kursi (255), the following two Ayat (256-257) and the last three Ayat.» In another narration, Ibn Mas'ud said, *«Then Shaytan will not come near him or his family, nor will he be touched by anything that he dislikes. Also, if these Ayat were to be recited over a senile person, they would wake him up.»*121 Further, Sahl bin Sa'd said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, «Everything has a hump (or, high peak), and Al-Baqarah is the high peak of the Qur'an . Whoever recites Al-Baqarah at night in his house, that Shaytan will not enter that house for three nights. Whoever recites it during a day in his house, then Shaytan will not enter that house for three days .» This Hadith was collected by Abu Al-Qasim At-Tabarani, Abu Hatim Ibn Hibban in his Sahih and Ibn Mfirduwah.13' At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasa'i and Ibn Majah recorded that Abu Hurayrah said, «The Messenger of Allah sent an expedition force comprising of many men and asked each about what they memorized of the Qur'an. The Prophet came to one of the youngest men among them and asked him, What have you memorized (of the Qur'an) young man?» He said, «I memorized such and such Surahs and also Al-Baqarah.» The Prophet jg said, «You memorized Surat Al-Baqarah?» He said, «Yes.» The Prophet ﷺ said, «Then you are their commander.» One of the noted men (or chiefs) commented, «By Allah! I did not learn Surat Al-Baqarah, for fear that I would not be able to 111 Al-Hakim 2:260. 121 Ad-Darimi 2 :322 At-Tabarani 6:163 and Ibn Hibban 2 :78.

The example of whoever learns the Qur'an and then sleeps (i.e. lazy) while the Qur'an is in his memory, is the example of a bag that has musk, but is closed tight." This is the wording collected by At-Tirmidhi, who said that this Hadith is Hasan. In another narration, At-Tirmidhi recorded this same Hadith in a Mursal manner, so Allah knows best.' Also, Al-Bukhari recorded that Usayd bin Hudayr said that he was once reciting Surat Al-Baqarah while his horse was tied next to him. The horse started to make some noise. When Usayd stopped reciting, the horse stopped moving about. When he resumed reading, the horse started moving about again. When he stopped reciting, the horse stopped moving, and when he resumed reading, the horse started to move again. Meanwhile, his son Yahya was close to the horse, and he feared that the horse might step on him. When he moved his son back, he looked up to the sky and saw a cloud radiating with light that looked like lamps. In the morning, he went to the Prophet jg and told him what had happened and then said, “O Messenger of Allah! My son Yahya was close to the horse and I feared that she might step on him. When I attended to him and raised my head to the sky, I saw a cloud with lights like lamps. So I went, but I couldn’t see it.” The Prophet sg said, “Do you know what that was?” He said, “No.” The Prophet £g said, hi Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 8:186, An-Nasa’i in Al-Kubra 5:227, and Ibn Majah 1:78.

8 They were the angels, they came close hearing your voice (reciting Surat Al-Baqarah), and if you had kept reading, the people would have been able to see the angels when the morning came, and the angels would not be hidden from their eyes . »* 11 This is the narration reported by Imam Abu Ubayd Al-Qasim bin Salam in his book Fada’il Al-Qur’an. Virtues of Surat Al-Baqarah and Surat Al-Imran Imam Ahmad said that Abu Nu’aym narrated to them that Bishr bin Muhajir said that ‘Abdullah bin Buraydah narrated to him from his father, “I was sitting with the Prophet and I heard him say, 'jj UJU-i S'JLJl \ 8 Learn Surat Al-Baqarah, because in learning it there is blessing, in ignoring it there is sorrow, and the sorceresses cannot memorize itj He jg kept silent for a while and then said, fji jlJ jA> -j* L£jiS j\ jliiUJ-j*« S ay J—d (jrT ykiJl «iUJ o iji i .-iL>-Lk lit : ilLJl jJlk; JS ^ ikp •* ?;3 i'.-j y J5 jij 7 jliL>- ol.iJlj lJlijJl gf y*y ^Js- £-J>JJJ jklj • U5jJ jj-L : Jlili ?tju L™.S’ LL : 4l» t CjJI i olS l-i \jZ U ^ ^4* 1 JU-klj iy ‘Learn Surat Al-Baqarah and Al-Imran because they are two lights and they shade their people on the Day of Resurrection, just as two clouds, two spaces of shade or two lines of (flying) birds. It ivill be said (to the reader of the Qur'an), 'Read and ascend through the levels of Paradise.’ He will go on ascending as long as he recites, whether reciting slowly or quickly”¹¹¹ Ibn Majah also recorded part of this Hadith from Bishr bin Al-Muhajir, 12 and this chain of narrators is Hasan, according to the criteria of Imam Muslim. A part of this Hadith is also supported by other Hadiths. For instance, Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Umamah Al-Bahili said that he heard the Messenger of Allah ﷺ say, $\text{Jj } \backslash \% \text{ii ijyi i/tyi uu3i j* j\ jiiii lists' j\ 4jiiui. } \backslash \text{E}\backslash \text{s aali fa jet}$ ‘Read the Qur’an, because it will intercede on behalf of its people on the Day of Resurrection . Read the two lights, Al- Baqarah and Al ‘Imran, because they will come in the shape of two clouds, two shades or two lines of birds on the Day of Resurrection and will argue on behalf of their people on that Day .» The Prophet ﷺ then said, •ftkii is' , $\text{uii! oji Yj\text{,}\ \backslash \text{jY}\backslash \text{•}}$ «Read Al-Baqarah, because in having it there is blessing, and in ignoring there is a sorrow and the sorceresses cannot memorize »f.»¹³¹ m Ahmad 5:352 ^ Ibn Majah 2 :1242 131 Ahmad 5 :249

Also, Imam Muslim narrated this Hadith in the Book of Prayer Imam Ahmad narrated that An-Nawwas bin Sam‘an said that the Prophet ﷺ said, $\text{^jj jj JjLZm \jj[S yjj I aIaj yft'}$ •On the Day of Resurrection the Qur’an and its people who used to implement it will be brought forth, preceded by Surat Al-Baqarah and Al ‘Imran. An-Nawwas said, “The Prophet ﷺ set three examples for these two Surahs and I did not forget these examples ever since. He Eg said, $\text{2° h* . 4 lils' j\ i (3j cjliU? j\ ; j iL. lists'! } \text{^>U? jp i}$ ‘They will come like two clouds, two dark shades or two lines of birds arguing on behalf of their people. It was also recorded in Sahth. Muslim ' and At-Tirmidhi narrated this Hadith, which he rendered Hasan Gharib . Surat Al-Baqarah was revealed in Al-Madinah There is no disagreement over the view that Surat Al- Baqarah was revealed in its entirety in Al-Madinah. Moreover, Al-Baqarah was one of the first Surahs to be revealed in Al- Madinah, while, Allah’s statement, j' , Cj> 4. And be afraid of the Day when you shall be brought back to Allah.) (2:281) was the last Ayah to be revealed from the Qur’an. Also, the Ayat about usury were among the last Ayat to be revealed. Khalid bin Ma’dan used to call Al-Baqarah the Fustat (tent) of Muslim 1 :553 ’ Ahmad 4:183 131 Muslim 1 :554. Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 8:191

101 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) the Qur’an. Some of the scholars said that it contains a thousand news incidents, a thousand commands and a thousand prohibitions. Those who count said that the number of Al-Baqarah’s Ayat is two hundred and eighty-seven, and its words are six thousand two hundred and twenty-one words. Further, its letters are twenty-five thousand five hundred. Allah knows best. Ibn Jurayj narrated that ‘Ata’ said that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Surat Al-Baqarah was revealed in Al-Madinah.”¹¹¹ Also, Khasif said from Mujahid that ‘Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr said; “Surat Al-Baqarah was revealed in Al-Madinah.”^{12*} Several Imams and scholars of Tafsir issued similar statements, and there is no difference of opinion over this as we have stated. The Two Sahihs recorded that Ibn Mas‘ud kept the Ka’bah on his left side and Mina on his right side and threw seven pebbles (at the Jamrah) and said, “The one to whom Surat Al- Baqarah was revealed (i.e. the Prophet performed Rami (the Hajj rite of throwing pebbles) similarly.” The Two Sahihs recorded this Hadith^{S3} Further, Ibn Marduyah reported a Hadith of Shu’bah from ‘Aqil bin Talhah from Thabit bin Marthad; “The Prophet saw that his Companions were not in the first lines and he said, «rXJl Ojyl* U » “O Companions of Surat Al-Baqarah . » I Think that this incident occurred during the battle of Hunayn when the Companions retreated. Then, the Prophet ﷺ commanded Al-‘Abbas (his uncle) to yell out, OUwii Ul «0 Companions of the tree/» meaning the Companions who participated in the pledge of Ar-Ridwan (under the tree). In another narration, Al- ‘Abbas cried, “O Companions of Surat Al-BaqarahV’ encouraging them to come back, so they returned from every direction. Also, during the battle of Al-Yamamah, against the army of Musaylimah the Liar, the Companions * Ad-DurrAl-Manthur 1 :47. 121 Ibid. 131 Fath Al-B&ri3 :678 , Muslim 2 :942

first retreated because of the huge number of soldiers in Musaylimah's army. The Muhajirun and the Ansar called out for each other, saying; "O people of Surat Al-Baqarah\ " Allah then gave them victory over their enemy, may Allah be pleased with all of the companions of all the Messengers of Allah 4i— &^0p 4 i . ilti the Name ofAllah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful 41. AlifLam Mim}. The Discussion ofthe Individual Letters The individual letters in the beginning of some Surahs are among those things whose knowledge Allah has kept only for Himself. This was reported from Abu Bakr, 'Umar, 'Uthman, 'Ali and Ibn Mas'ud. It was said that these letters are the names of some of the Surahs. It was also said that they are the beginnings that Allah chose to start the Surahs of the Qur'an with. Khaslf stated that Mujahid said, "The beginnings of the Surahs, such as Qaf, Sad, Ta Sin Mim and AlifLam Ra, are just some letters of the alphabet." Some linguists also stated that they are letters of the alphabet and that Allah simply did not cite the entire alphabet of twenty-eight letters. For instance, they said, one might say, "My son recites Alif, Ba, Ta, Tha..." he means the entire alphabet although he stops before mentioning the rest of it. This opinion was mentioned by Ibn Jarir. The Letters at the Beginning ofSurahs Ifone removes the repetitive letters, then the number of letters mentioned at the beginning of the Surahs is fourteen: Alif, Lam, Mim, Sad, Ra, Kdf, Ha, Yd, 'Ayn, Ta, Sin, Ha, Qaf, Nun. So glorious is He Who made everything subtly reflect His wisdom. Moreover, the scholars said, "There is no doubt that Allah did not reveal these letters for jest and play." Some ignorant 111 Al-Majma' 6:180. 121 At-Tabari 1 :208

103Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) people said that some of the Qur'an does not mean anything, (meaning, such as these letters) thus committing a major mistake. On the contrary, these letters carry a specific meaning. Further, if we find an authentic narration leading to the Prophet sg that explains these letters, we will embrace the Prophet's statement. Otherwise, we will stop where we were made to stop and will proclaim, 4 l>i Of 'A. 4We believe in it; all of it (clear and unclear verses) isfrom our Lord» (3 :7). The scholars did not agree on one opinion or explanation regarding this subject. Therefore, whoever thinks that one scholar's opinion is correct, he is obliged to follow it, otherwise it is better to refrain from making any judgment on this matter. Allah knows best. These Letters testify to the Miraculous Qur'an The wisdom behind mentioning these letters in the beginning of the Surahs, regardless of the exact meanings of these letters, is that they testify to the miracle of the Qur'an. Indeed, the servants are unable to produce something like the Qur'an, although it is comprised of the same letters with which they speak to each other. This opinion was mentioned by Ar-Razi in his Tafsir who related it to Al-Mubarrid and several other scholars. Al-Qurtubi also related this opinion to Al-Farra' and Qutrub. Az-Zamakhshari agreed with this opinion in his book, Al-Kashshaf. In addition, the Imam and scholar Abu Al- 'Abbas Ibn Taymiyyah and our Shaykh Al-Hafiz Abu Al-Hajjaj Al-Mizzi agreed with this opinion. Al-Mizzi told me that it is also the opinion of Shaykh Al-Islam Ibn Taymiyyah. Az-Zamakhshari said that these letters, “Were not all mentioned once in the beginning of the Qur’an. Rather, they were repeated so that the challenge (against the creation) is more daring. Similarly, several stories were mentioned repeatedly in the Qur’an, and also the challenge was repeated in various areas (i.e., to produce something like the Qur’an). Sometimes, one letter at a time was mentioned, such as Sad, Nun and Qaf. Sometimes two letters were mentioned, such as

——— Tafsir Ibtt Kathir 4Ha Mutt} (44:1) Sometimes, three letters were mentioned, such as, 4f;^} iAlifLam Mim (2 :1)} and four letters, such as, 4‘AlifLdtn Mim Ra} (13:1), and iAlifLam Mini Sad} (7:1). Sometimes, five letters were mentioned, such as, 4KafHa Yd ‘Ayn Sad} (19:1), and; 4Ha Mutt. ‘Ayn Sin Qaf} (42:1-2). This is because the words that are used in speech are usually comprised of one, two, three, four, or five letters.” Every Surah that begins with these letters demonstrates the Qur’an’s miracle and magnificence, and this fact is known by those well-versed in such matters. The count of these Surahs is twenty-nine. For instance, Allah said, U t * *+ S iAlif Lam Mim} This is the Book (the Qur’an), wherein there is no doubt (2:1-2), 4*5&Q&2 *JS£4 '4 v 'if iAlifLam Mim. There are several other Ayat that testify to what we have mentioned above, and Allah knows best. i2. That is Book in which there is no Rayb, guidance for the Muttaqin}. There is no Doubt in the Qur’an The Book, is the Qur’an, and Rayb means doubt. As-Suddi said that Abu Malik and Abu Salih narrated from Ibn ‘Abbas, and Murrah Al-Hamadani narrated from Ibn Mas“ud and several other Companions of the Messenger of Allah that, i*i Cfj ^} Hn which there is no Rayb}, means about which there is no doubt. 111 Abu Ad-Darda’, Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr, Abu Malik, Nail' ‘Ata’, Abu Al-‘Aliyah, Ar-Rabl‘ bin Anas, Muqatil bin Hayyan, As-Suddi, Qatadah and Ismail bin Abi Khalid said similarly. In addition, Ibn Abi Hatim said, “I do not know of any disagreement over this explanation.”[2i The meaning of this is that the Book, the Qur’an, is without a doubt revealed from Allah. Similarly, Allah said in Surat As- Sajdah, iAlif Lam Mm}. The revelation of the Book (this Qur’an) in which there is no doubt, is from the Lord of all that exists) (32:1-2). Some scholars stated that this Ayah - 2:2 - contains a prohibition meaning, “Do not doubt the Qur’an.” Furthermore, some of the reciters of the Qur’an pause upon reading, 4there is no doubt} and they then continue; iin which there is guidance far the Muttaqin (the pious and righteous persons)}. However, it is better to pause at, ill iin which there is no doubt} because in this case, i<jj-e>} iguidance} becomes an attribute of the Qur'an and carries a better meaning than, / A ' i(SJL.t, jj) iin which there is guidance}. Guidance is granted to ThoseWho have Taqwa. Hidayah - correct guidance - is only granted to those who have Taqwa - fear of Allah. Allah said, At-Tabari 1 :228. Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :3 1 jij wi i ^ —>-l-A 4-Uj? i>* -iijJj! c£-* - 4Sfli/: It is for those who believe, a guide and a healing. And as far those ivho disbelieve, there is heaviness (deafness) in their ears, and it (the Qur'an) is blindness for them. This is a sample of the numerous Ayat indicating that the believers, in particular, benefit from the Qur'an. That is because the Qur'an is itself a form of guidance, but the guidance in it is only granted to the righteous, just as Allah said, Cj Ski j j* i-WjA fS^CC- J3 J-U)' ($k) iO mankind! There has come to you a good advice from your Lord (i.e. the Qur'an, enjoining all that is good and forbidding all that is evil), and a healing for that (disease of ignorance, doubt, hypocrisy and differences) which is in your breasts, - a guidance and a mercy (explaining lawful and unlawful things) for the believers) (10:57). Ibn 'Abbas and Ibn Mas'ud and other Companions of the Messenger of Allah jg said, iguidance for the Muttaqm (the pious and righteous persons), means, a light for those who have Taqwa. The Meaning ofAl-Muttaqin Ibn 'Abbas said about.

^guidance for the Muttaqin} that it means, "They are the believers who avoid Shirk with Allah and who work in His obedience." Ibn 'Abbas also said that Al-Muttaqin means, "Those who fear Allah's punishment, which would result if they abandoned the true guidance that they recognize and know. They also hope in Allah's mercy by believing in what He revealed." Further, Qatadah said that, iAl-Muttaqin}, are those whom Allah has described in His statement; cgjity iWho believe in the Ghayb and perform the Salah (2:3), and the following Ayat. Ibn Jarir stated that the Ayah (2:2) includes all of these meanings that the scholars have mentioned, and this is the correct view. Also, At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah narrated that 'Atiyah As-Sa'di said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, *The servant will not acquire the status of the Muttaqin until he abandons what is harmless out offear of falling into that which is harmfulV At-Tirmidhi then said "Hasan Gharib." There areTwo Types of Hidayah (Guidance) Huda here means the faith that resides in the heart, and only Allah is able to create it in the heart of the servants. Allah said, If vA} 4Verily, you (O Muhammad jfe) guide not whom you like} (28:56), 4Not upon you (Muhammad jg) is their guidance (2:272), m TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 7 :147 , and Ibn Majah 2 : 1409

109Surah 2. Huda also means to explain the truth, give direction and lead to it. Allah, the Exalted, said, d\ ^-£5 (Off} iAttd verily, you (O Muhammad sfe) are indeed guiding (mankind) to the straight path (i.e. Allah's religion of Islamic Monotheism)} (42:52), iYou are only a wamer, and to every people there is a guide} (13:7), and, itOi££$& %} }And as for Thamiid, We showed and made

Also, Allah said, iAnd shown him the two ways (good and evil).} (90:10) This is the view of the scholars who said that the two ways refer to the paths of righteousness and evil, which is also the correct explanation. And Allah knows best. Meaning of Taqwa The root meaning of Taqwa is to avoid what one dislikes. It was reported that Umar bin Al-Khattab asked Ubayy bin Ka*b about Taqwa. Ubayy said, “Have you ever walked on a path

no Tafsir Ibn Kathir that has thorns on it?” Umar said, “Yes.” Ubayy said, “What did you do then?” He said, “I rolled up my sleeves and struggled.” Ubayy said, “That is Taqwa.” 43. Those Who have faith in the Ghayb}. The Meaning of iman Abu Ja'far Ar-Razi said that Al-'Ala' bin Al-Musayyib bin Rafi' narrated from Abu Ishaq that Abu Al-Ahwas said that 'Abdullah said, “Iman is to trust.”. 1 11 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, iwho have faith means they trust.121 Also, Ma'mar said that Az- Zuhri said, “Iman is the deeds.”131 In addition, Abu Ja'far Ar- Razi said that Ar-RabT bin Anas said that, They have faith', means, they fear (Allah).,4) Ibn Jarir (At-Tabari) commented, “The preferred view is that they be described as having faith in the Unseen by the tongue, deed and creed. In this case, fear of Allah is included in the general meaning of iman, which necessitates following deeds of the tongue by implementation. Hence, Iman is a general term that includes affirming and believing in Allah, His Books and His Messengers, and realizing this affirmation through adhering to the implications of what the tongue utters and affirms.” Linguistically, in the absolute sense, Iman merely means trust, and it is used to mean that sometimes in the Qur'an, for instance, Allah the Exalted said, 4&p} it 4He trusts (yu'minu) in Allah , and trusts (yu'mittu) in the believers.} (9:61) Prophet Yusuf's brothers said to their father, At-Tabari 1 :235. Ibid. (31 Ibid. 4| Ibid.

4Buf yot/ u>i7/ never believe us even when we speak the truth> (12:17). Further, the word Iman is sometimes mentioned along with deeds, such as Allah said, 4o£i£ii \JSj ip: IM 4\} iSave those who believe (in Islamic Monotheism) and do righteous deeds (95:6). However, when iman is used in an unrestricted manner, it includes beliefs, deeds, and statements of the tongue. We should state here that Iman increases and decreases. There are many narrations and Hadlths on this subject, and we discussed them in the beginning of our explanation of Sahih Al-Bukhari, all favors are from Allah. Some scholars explained that iman means Khashyah (fear of Allah). For instance, Allah said; 4Verily, those who fear their Lord unseen (i.e. they do not see Him, nor His punishment in the Hereafter)} (67:12), and, iWho feared the Most Gracious (Allah) in the Ghayb (unseen) and brought a heart turned in repentance (to Him and absolutely free from every kind of polytheism)} (50:33). Fear is the core of Iman and knowledge, just as Allah the Exalted said, it is only those who have knowledge among His servants that fear Allah} (35:28). The Meaning of Al-Ghayb As for the meaning of Ghayb here, the Salaf have different explanations of it, all of which are correct, indicating the same '*' See the Tafstroi Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :35 general meaning. For instance, Abu Ja'far Ar-Razi quoted Ar- Rabi' bin Anas, reporting from Abu Al-'Aliyah about Allah's statement, i(Those who) have faith in the Ghayb}, “They believe in Allah, His angels, Books, Messengers, the Last Day, His Paradise, Fire and in the meeting with Him. Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn Marduwyah and Al- Hakim, in his Mustadrak,[13] recorded this Hadith. Al-Hakim commented that this Hadith is authentic and that the Two Shaykhs - Al-Bukhari and Muslim - did not collect it, although it meets their criteria. Ahmad recorded a Hadith with similar meaning from Ibn Muhayriz who said: I said to Abu Jumu’ah, “Narrate a Hadith for us that you heard from the Messenger of Allah.” He said, “Yes. I will narrate a good Hadith for you. Once we had lunch with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. Abu TJBaydah, who was with us, said, ‘O Messenger of Allah! Are people better than us? Raja’ bin Haywah was with us, so when Abu Jumu’ah finished, we went out to greet him. When he was about to leave, he said, “You have a gift and a right. The Meaning of“Spending” in thisAyah

'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, I- 'V 4And spend out of what We have provided for them means, "The Zakdh due on their wealth."5 As-Suddi said that Abu Malik and Abu Salih narrated from Ibn 'Abbas, as well as Murrah from Ibn Mas'ud and other Companions of the Messenger of Allah sg, that, iAnd spend out of what We have provided for them means, "A man's spending on his family. This was before the obligation of Zakdh was revealed."6 ' Juwaybir narrated from Ad-Dahhak, "General spending (in charity) was a means of drawing nearer to Allah, according to one's discretion and capability. Until the obligation of charity was revealed in the seven Ayat of Surat Bara'ah (chapter 9), were revealed. These abrogated the previous case."7' At-Tabari 1 :241 Ibid. ' Ibn AbiHStim 1:37. ' Ibid. At-Tabari 1 :243 6| Ibid. ' Ibid.

125Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) In many instances, Allah mentioned prayer and spending wealth together. Prayer is a right of Allah as well as a form of worshipping Him. It includes singling Him out for one's devotion, praising Him, glorifying Him, supplicating to Him, invoking Him, and it displays one's dependence upon Him. Spending is form of kindness towards creatures by giving them what will benefit them, and those people most deserving of this charity are the relatives, the wife, the servants and then the rest of the people. So all types of required charity and required spending are included in Allah's saying, iAnd spend out of ivhat we have provided for them}. The Two Sahlhs recorded that Ibn TJmar said that the Messenger of Allah said, flip liUJ bVj ib t ill i j{ jj. £ »o_Jl i »ljj|J ii'kSa}\ uIslam is built upon five (pillars): Testifying that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah, establishing the prayer, giving Zakah, fasting Ramadan and Hajj to the Housed There are many other Hadiths on this subject. The Meaning ofSalah In the Arabic language, the basic meaing of Salah is supplication. In religious terminology, Salah is used to refer to the acts of bowing and prostration, the remaining specified acts associated with it, specified at certain times, with those known conditions, and the characteristics, and requirements that are well-known about it. j {j* Uj jIJJ L } 44 . Attributes ofthe Believers The people described here (2:4) are those whom Allah described in the preceding Ayah, 4Those who have faith in the Ghayb and perfortn Satdh, and spend out ofwhat we have providedfor them .) Mujahid once stated, "Four Ayat at the beginning of Surat Al-Baqarah describe the believers, two describe the disbelievers, and thirteen describe the hypocrites."*3 * The four Ayat mentioned in this statement are general and include every believer, whether an Arab, non-Arab, or a person of a previous Scripture, whether they are Jinns or humans. All of these attributes complement each other and require the existence of the other attributes. For instance, it is not possible that one believes in the Unseen, performs the prayer and gives Zakdh without believing in what the Messenger of Allah and the previous Messengers were sent with. The same with certainty in the Hereafter, this is not correct without that, for

You have nothing until you act according to the Tawrdlt (Torah), the Injil (Gospel), and what has (now) been revealed to you from your Lord (the Qur'an)." (5:68). Also, Allah the Exalted described the believers; xi . > i • 4'>!r—J oi i The Messenger (Muhammad believes in what has been revealed to him from his Lord, and (so do) the believers. Each one believes in Allah, His Angels, His Books, and His Messengers. This is a sample of the Ayat that indicate that the true believers all believe in Allah, His Messengers and His Books. The faithful among the People of the Book, have a special significance here, since they believe in their Books and in all of the details related to that, so when such people embrace Islam and sincerely believe in the details of the religion, then they will get two rewards. As for the others, they can only believe in the previous religious teachings in a general way. For instance, the Prophet stated. Jit Iil» yOl Jjifj 01 Jjif Tabari 1 :266. 121 At-Tabari 1 :270.

hypocrites in Makkah. Rather the opposite was the situation in Makkah, since some people were forced to pretend that they were disbelievers, while their hearts concealed their faith. Afterwards, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ migrated to Al-Madinah, where the Ansar from the tribes of Aws and Khazraj resided. They used to worship idols during the pre-Islamic period of ignorance, just as the rest of the Arab idolators. Three Jewish tribes resided in Al-Madinah, Banu Qaynuqa'-allies of Al- Khazraj, Banu An-Nadlir and Banu Qurayzah-allies of the Aws. Many members of the Aws and Khazraj tribes embraced Islam. However, only a few Jews embraced Islam, such as 'Abdullah bin Salam. During the early stage in Al-Madinah, there weren't any hypocrites because the Muslims were not strong enough to be feared yet. On the contrary, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ conducted peace treaties with the Jews and several other Arab tribes around Al-Madinah. Soon after, the battle of Badr occurred and Allah gave victory to Islam and its people. ‘Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salul was a leader in Al-Madinah. He was Al-Khazraj’s chief, and during the period of Jahiliyyah he was the master of both tribes - Aws and Khazraj. They were about to appoint him their king when the Message reached Al-Madinah, and many in Al-Madinah embraced Islam. Ibn Salul’s heart was filled with hatred against Islam and its people. When the battle of Badr took place, he said, “Allah’s religion has become apparent.” So he pretended to be Muslim, along with many of those who were just like him, as well as many among the People of the Book. It was then that hypocrisy began in Al-Madinah and among the surrounding nomad tribes. As for the Emigrants, none of them were hypocrites, since they emigrated willingly (seeking the pleasure of Allah). Rather, when a Muslim would emigrate from Makkah, he would be forced to abandon all of his wealth, offspring and land; he would do so seeking Allah’s reward in the Hereafter. The Tafsir of Ayah 2:8 Muhammad bin Ishaq narrated that Ibn ‘Abbas said that, ⁴ “And of mankind, there are some who say: “We believe in Allah and the Last Day” while in fact they do not believe ^

126 Tafsir Ibt Kathir “This refers to the hypocrites among the Aws and Khazraj and those who behaved as they did.” This is how Abu Al-‘Aliyah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah and As-Suddi explained this Ayah. Allah revealed the characteristics of the hypocrites, so that the believers would not be deceived by their outer appearance, thus saving the believers from a great evil. Otherwise, the believers might think that the hypocrites were believers, when in reality they are disbelievers. To consider the sinners as righteous people is extremely dangerous, Allah said, ⁴ “And of mankind, there are some who say : “\Ne believe in Allah and the Last Day” while in fact they do not believe} meaning, they utter these false statements only with their tongues, just as Allah said, ⁴ “When the hypocrites come to you (O Muhammad M), they say: “\Ne bear witness that you are indeed the Messenger of Allah.” Allah knows that you are indeed His Messenger} (63:1). This Ayah means that the hypocrites utter these statements only when they meet you, not because they actually believe what they are saying. The hypocrites emphasize their belief in Allah and the Last Day with their words, when that is not the case in reality. Therefore, Allah stated that the hypocrites lie in their testimony of creed, when He said, ³ “And Allah bears witness that the hypocrites are indeed liars.” (63:1), and, ⁴ “\While in fact they believe not } Allah said, ¹ At-Tabari 1 :269

127 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) ¹ “They try to deceive Allah and those who believe}. The hypocrites show belief outwardly while concealing disbelief. They think that by doing this, they will mislead Allah, or that the statements they utter will help them with Allah, and this is an indication of their total ignorance. They think that such behavior will deceive Allah, just as it might deceive some of the believers. Similarly, Allah said, ¹ “On the Day when Allah will resurrect them all together; then they will swear to Him as they swear to you. And they think that they have something (to stand upon). Verily, they are liars!” (58:18). Hence, Allah refuted their way by saying, ¹ “While they only deceive themselves, and perceive (it) not!” Allah stated that the hypocrites only deceive themselves by this behavior, although they are unaware of this fact. Allah also said, ¹ “\Verily, the hypocrites try to deceive Allah, but it is He Who deceives them} (4:142). Also, Ibn Abi Hatim narrated that Ibn Jurayj commented on Allah's statement, {Verily, the hypocrites seek to deceive Allah, but it is He Who deceives them}, "The hypocrites pronounce, There is no deity worthy of worship except Allah' seeking to ensure the sanctity of their blood and money, all the while concealing disbelief." 11 Said said that Qatadah said, CjjiKj ( Uj jSji Lilli S^ji} Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :46.

As-Suddi narrated from Abu Malik and (also) from Abu Salih, from Ibn 'Abbas, and (also) Murrah Al-Hamdani from Ibn Mas'ud and other Companions that this Ayah, 4Jv 4In their hearts is a disease} means, 'doubt', and, 4^S-“ 4And Allah has increased their disease} also means 'doubt'.'2' Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Abu Al-'Aliyah, Ar-Rabl' bin Anas and Qatadah also said similarly. This statement by 'Abdur-Rahman is true, and it constitutes a punishment that is compatible to the sin, just as the earlier scholars stated. Similarly, Allah said, \ ^ iWhile as for those who accept guidance. He increases their guidance and grants them their piety} (47:17). Allah said next, 4Because they used to tell lies}. The hypocrites have two characteristics, they lie and they deny the Unseen. The scholars who stated that the Prophet knew the hypocrites of his time have only the Hadith of Hudhayfah bin Al-Yaman as evidence. In it the Prophet jg gave him the names of fourteen hypocrites during the battle of Tabuk. These hypocrites plotted to assassinate the Prophet sg during the night on a hill in that area. disobeys Allah on the earth, or commands that Allah be disobeyed, he has committed mischief on the earth. Peace on both the earth and in the heavens is ensured (and earned) through obedience (to Allah). 1,(11 Ar-Rabl' bin Anas and Qatadah said similarly 2(Types of Mischief that the Hypocrites commit Ibn Jarir said, "The hypocrites commit mischief on earth by disobeying their Lord on it and continuing in the prohibited acts. They also abandon what Allah made obligatory and doubt His religion, even though He does not accept a deed from anyone except with faith in His religion and certainty of its truth. The hypocrites also lie to the believers by saying contrary to the doubt and hesitation their hearts harbor. They give as much aid as they can, against Allah's loyal friends, and support those who deny Allah, His Books and His Messengers. This is how the hypocrites commit mischief on earth, while thinking that they are doing righteous work on earth."131 The statement by Ibn Jarir is true, taking the disbelievers as friends is one of the categories of mischief on the earth. Allah said, Jf\ ^ tUi jz Mjl iAnd those who disbelieve are allies of one another, if you do not do this (help each other), there will be turmoil and oppression on the earth, and great mischief.> (8:73), In this way Allah severed the loyalty between the believers and the disbelievers. Similarly, Allah said, Pi 40 you who believe! Do not take disbelievers as Awliyid' (protectors or helpers or friends) instead of believers. Do you (1(Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :50. Allah then said, iVerily, the hypocrites will be in the lowest depth of the Fire; no helper will you find for them) (4:145). Since the outward appearance of the hypocrite displays belief, he confuses the true believers. Hence, the deceitful behavior of the hypocrites is an act of mischief, because they deceive the believers by claiming what they do not believe in, and because they give support and loyalty to the disbelievers against the believers. If the hypocrite remains a disbeliever (rather than pretending to be Muslim), the evil that results from him would be less. Even better, if the hypocrite becomes sincere with Allah and makes the statements that he utters conform to his deeds, he will gain success. Allah said, 4And when it is said to them : "Do not make mischief on the earth," they say: ,r \Ne are only peacemakers.") meaning, "We seek to be friends with both parties, the believers and the disbelievers, and to have peace with both parties." Similarly, Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, 4And when it is said to them: "Do not make mischief on the earth," they say: "Wc are only peacemakers") means, "We seek to make amends between the believers and the People of the Book." Allah said, ^ jU$W) iVerily, they are the ones who make mischief, but they perceive not.). This Ayah means that the hypocrites' behavior, and their claim that it is for peace, is itself mischief, although in their ignorance, they do not see it to be mischief. m Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :52.

This is the same Tafsir given by Abu Al-'Aliyah and As-Suddi in his Tafsir, with a chain of narration to Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas'ud and other Companions.¹¹¹ This is also the Tafsir of Ar-Rabi' bin Anas and 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam.¹²¹ The hypocrites said, "Us and them having the same status, following the same path, while they are fools?!" This is why, according to the majority of the scholars, Allah used the term foolish to include children, when He said, 4&» -S3 ^ ajiiii lyjj }And do not give your property, which Allah has made a means of support for you, to the foolish} (4:5). Allah answered the hypocrites in all of these instances. For instance, Allah said here, £& v'> ¹¹¹ At-Tabari 1 :293. ¹²¹ At-Tabari 1 :294

They do this to misdirect, mislead and deceive the believers. The hypocrites also want to have a share of the benefits and gains that the believers might possibly acquire. Yet, 4^1 ii!> 4But when they are alone with their Shayatin}, meaning, if they are alone with their devils, such as their leaders and masters among the rabbis of the Jews, hypocrites and idolaters. Human and Jinn Devils Ibn Jarir said, "The devils of every creation are the mischievous among them. There are both human devils and Jinn devils. Allah said, 136 Tafsir Ibtî Kathir 4And so We have appointed for every Prophet enemies - Shaydtfn (devils) among mankind and Jinn, inspiring one another with adorned speech as a delusion (or by way of deception)} (6:1 12).

The Meaning of 'Mocking' Allah said, iThey say: "Truly, we are with you"}. Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Ayah means, "We are with you, £ as} iVerily, we were but mocking}, meaning, we only mock people (the believers) and deceive them."¹¹¹ Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Ayah, ic,s.^£a\} iVerily, we were but mocking}, means, "We (meaning the hypocrites) were mocking the Companions of Muhammad."¹²¹ Also, Ar-Rabi' bin Anas and Qatadah said similarly. 131 Allah's statement. 4 4 re iifrA &} iAllah mocks at them and leaves them increasing in their deviation to wander blindly} answers the hypocrites and punishes them for their behavior. Ibn Jarir commented, "Allah mentioned what He will do to them on the Day of Resurrection, when He said, 40n the Day when the hypocrites - men and women - will say to the believers: "Wait for us! Let us get something from your light!" It will be said: "Go back to your rear! Then seek a At-Jabari 1 :300. Ibid. Ibid.

137Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) light!" So a wall will be put up between them, with a gate therein. Inside it will be mercy, and outside it toill be torment.$ (57:13), and, iAnd let not the disbelievers think that Our postponing of their punishment is goodfor them. We postpone the punishment only so that they may increase in sinfulness.} (3:178)." He then said, "This, and its like, is Allah's mockery of the hypocrites and the people of Shirk." The Hypocrites suffering for their Plots Allah stated that He will punish the hypocrites for their mockery, using the same terms to describe both the deed and its punishment, although the meaning is different. Similarly, Allah said, iTie recompense for an offense is an offense equal to it; but whoever forgives and makes reconciliation, his reward is with Allah} (42:40), and, iThen whoever transgresses (the prohibition) against you, transgress likewise against him} (2:194). The first act is an act of injustice, while the second act is an act of justice. So both actions carry the same name, while being different in reality. This is how the scholars explain deceit, cunning and mocking when attributed to Allah in the Qur'an. Surely, Allah exacts revenge for certain evil acts with a punishment that is similar in nature to the act itself. We should affirm here that Allah does not do these things out of joyful play, according to the consensus of the scholars, but as a just form of punishment for certain evil acts. Meaningof'Leavesthemincreasingintheirdeviationto wander blindly Allah said, iAlldh mocks at them and leaves them increasing in their deviation to wander blindly). As-Suddi reported that Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas*ud and several other Companions of the Messenger of Allah jg said that. iand leaves them increasing^ means, He gives them respite. 111 Also, Mujahid said, "He (causes their deviation) to increase."12 Allah said; V i 4 pi $& 1 <1\ jffE) 4Do they think that by the wealth and the children with which We augment them. Ibn Jarir commented, "The correct meaning of this Ayah is "We give them increase from the view of giving them respite and leaving them in their deviation and rebellion.' Similarly, Allah said, $And We shall turn their hearts and their eyes away (from guidance), as they refused to believe in it thefirst time, and We shall leave them in their trespass to wander blindly)." (6:1 10).*31 Tughyan used in this Ayah means to transgress the limits, just as Allah said in another Ayah, jSK- £ii& 6 iVerily, when the water Taghd (rose) beyond its limits, We carried you in the ship) (69:1 1). Also, Ibn Jarir said that the term 'Amah, in the Ayah means, 'deviation'. He also said about Allah's statement, 111 At-Tabari 1:311. 121 IbnAbiyatim 1:57. 131 At-Tabari 1 ;307

4^ 4in their deviation to wander "In the misguidance and disbelief that has encompassed them, causing them to be confused and unable to find a way out of it. These are they who have purchased error with guidance, so their commerce was profitless. And they were not guided.} In his Tafsir, As-Suddi reported that Ibn

{Abbas and Ibn Mas'ud commented on; }These are they who have purchased error with guidance} saying it means, "They pursued misguidance and abandoned guidance." Mujahid said, "They believed and then disbelieved," while Qatadah said, "They preferred deviation to guidance." Qatadah's statement is similar in meaning to Allah's statement about Thamud, its® #£$ iAnd as for Thamud, We granted them guidance, but they preferred blindness to guidance} (41:17). In summary, the statements that we have mentioned from the scholars of Tafsir indicate that the hypocrites deviate from the true guidance and prefer misguidance, substituting wickedness in place of righteousness. This meaning explains Allah's statement, iis$imm& y iThese are they who have purchased error with guidance}, meaning, they exchanged guidance to buy misguidance. This meaning includes those who first believed, then later disbelieved, whom Allah described, IM Al-Tabari 1 :309.

p if * pr\ iThat is because they believed, and then disbelieved; therefore their hearts are sealed (63:3). The Ayah also includes those who preferred deviation over guidance. The hypocrites fall into several categories. This is why Allah said, iX \% 4So their commerce was profitless. And they were not guided>, meaning their trade did not succeed nor were they righteous or rightly guided throughout all this. In addition, Ibn Jarir narrated that Qatadah commented on the Ayah, rJj m&i t lifijlp ^ >3Vt 4So their commerce was profitless. And they were not guided>, "By Allah! I have seen them leaving guidance for deviation, leaving the Jama'ah (the community of the believers) for the sects, leaving safety for fear, and the Sunnah for innovation." * Ibn Abi Hatim also reported other similar statements.*2 j 3f CSS^ U ijCtf US feL'.i jSS' At-Tabari 1:316. ii&te ^ 417. Their likeness is as the likeness of one who kindled a fire; then, when it illuminated all around him, Allah removed their light and left them in darkness. (So) they could not see}. 418. They are deaf, dumb, and blind, so they return not (to the right path).} The Example of the Hypocrites Allah likened the hypocrites when they bought deviation with guidance, thus acquiring utter blindness, to the example of a person who started a fire. When the fire was lit, and illuminitated the surrounding area, the person benefited from it and felt safe. Then the fire was suddenly extinguished. Therefore, total darkness covered this person, and he became unable to see anything or find his way out of it. Further, this person could not hear or speak and became so blind that even if there were light, he would not be able to see. This is why he cannot return to the state that he was in before this happened to him. Such is the case with the hypocrites who preferred misguidance over guidance, deviation over righteousness. This parable indicates that the hypocrites first believed, then disbelieved, just as Allah stated in other parts of the Qur'an. Allah's statement, 4Allah removed their light} means, Allah removed what benefits them, and this is the light, and He left them with what harms them, that is, the darkness and smoke. Allah said, 4And left them in darkness}, that is their doubts, disbelief and hypocrisy. 4(So) they could not see} meaning, they are unable to find the correct path or find its direction. In addition, they are, 4deaf} and thus cannot hear the guidance, 4dumb} and cannot utter the words that might benefit them, iand blind in total darkness and deviation. Similarly, Allah said, iVerily, it is not the eyes that grow blind, but it is the hearts which are in the breasts that grow blind (22:46) and this why they cannot get back to the state of guidance that they were in, since they sold it for misguidance. *ijs" iX" <!)®  ^>\ 4~&Jd iat JLi jJJ |i,i j^Lfci 429. They will, therefore, walk on the Sirat (the bridge over the Fire) in the light, stopping when it is extinguished. Some people will have no light at all, these are the hypocrites whom Allah described when He said, 'j—Jj 'fjy ut •iyil 35 & £> 40/1 the Day when the hypocrites - men and women - will say to the believers : "Wait for us! Ibn Abi Hatim narrated that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :75.

commented on, i.e. Their Light will run forward before them}, "They will pass on the Sirat. according to their deeds. The light that some people have will be as big as a mountain, while the light of others will be as big as a date tree. The people who will have the least light are those whose index fingers will sometimes be lit and extinguished at other times.”¹¹ Ibn Abi Hatim also reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Every person among the people of Tawhid (Islamic Monotheism) will gain a light on the Day of Resurrection. As for the hypocrite, his light will be extinguished. When the believers witness the hypocrite’s light being extinguished, they will feel anxious. Hence, they will supplicate, iOur Lord! Keep perfect our Light for us.”¹² * Ad-Dahhak bin Muzahim said, “On the Day of Resurrection, everyone who has embraced the faith will be given a light. When they arrive at the Sirat, the light of the hypocrites will be extinguished. When the believers see this, they will feel anxious and supplicate, iOur Lord! Keep perfect our Light for us.” Types of Believers and Types of Disbelievers Consequently, there are several types of people. There are the believers whom the first four Ayat (2:2-5) in Surat Al-Baqarah describe. There are the disbelievers who were described in the next two Ayat. And there are two categories of hypocrites: the complete hypocrites who were mentioned in the parable of the fire, and the hesitant hypocrites, whose light of faith is sometimes lit and sometimes extinguished. The parable of the rain was revealed about this category, which is not as evil as the first category. 111 At-Jabari 23:3179. 121 Al-Hakim 2:495.

149 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) lamp, a sealed heart with a knot tied around its seal, a heart that is turned upside down and a wrapped heart. As for the polished heart, it is the heart of the believer and the lamp is the light of faith. The sealed heart is the heart of the disbeliever. The heart that is turned upside down is the heart of the pure hypocrite, because he had knowledge but denied it. As for the wrapped heart, it is a heart that contains belief and hypocrisy. The example of faith in this heart, is the example of the herb that is sustained by pure water. The example of hypocrisy in it, is the example of an ulcer that thrives on puss and blood. Whichever of the two substances has the upper hand, it will have the upper hand on that heart*. This Hadith has a Jayid Hasan (good) chain of narration. Allah said, if He * * >—jl iif sti iAnd if Allah willed, He would have taken away their hearing and their sight. Certainly, Allah has power over all things}. Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on Allah’s statement, ^& i*i> iAnd if Allah willed. He would have taken away their hearing and their sight}, “Because they abandoned the truth after they had knowledge in it.” & if iCertainly, Allah has power over all things}. Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Allah is able to punish or pardon His servants as He wills.”*2’ Ibn Jarir commented, “Allah only described Himself with the ability to do everything in this Ayah as a warning to the hypocrites of His control over everything, and to inform them that His ability completely encompasses them and that He is able to take away their hearing and sight.”*3’ Ibn Jarir and several other scholars of Tafsir stated that these two parables are about the same kind of hypocrite. So [1’ Ahmad 3:17. ’ Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :76 ’ At-Jabari 1 :361

the ‘or’ mentioned in, 40r like a rainstorm froth ' rky} means ‘and’, just as the Ayah, 4 < ^ g %f 4And obey neither a c>- : isbeliever among them}. Therefore, ‘or’ in the Ayah inclu.i-)ice of using either example for the hypocrites. Also, M Qv. i said that ‘or’ means, “To show compatibility of the two ch,, res, just as when one says, ‘Sit with Al-Hasai. or Ibn Sirin.’ According to the view of Az-Zamakhshari, ‘so it means each of these persons is the same as the other, so you may sit with either one of them.’ The meaning of ‘or’ thus becomes ‘either.’ Allah gave these two examples of the hypocrites, because they both perfectly describe them.” I (Ibn Kathir) say, these descriptions are related to the type of hypocrite, because there is a difit r< nee between them as we stated. For instance, Allah mentioned these types in Surat Bara'ah (chapter 9) when He repealed the statement, "And among them" three times, describing their types, characteristics, statements and deeds. So the two examples mentioned here describe two types of hypocrites whose characteristics are similar. For instance Allah gave two examples in Surat An-Nur, one for the advocates of disbelief and one for the followers of disbelief, He said, 4As for those who disbelieved, their deeds are like a mirage in a desert} (24:39), until, '}} 4Or (the state of a disbeliever) is like the darkness in a vast deep sea} (24:40). The first example is of the advocates of disbelief who have complex ignorance, while the second is about the followers who have simple ignorance. Allah knows best. &4 * j. -Si P&4 pz

He also surrounded them with blessings, both hidden and apparent. He made the earth a resting place for them, just like the bed, stable with the firm mountains. iAnd the sky as a canopy^ meaning, 'a ceiling'. Hence, Allah caused the various types of vegetation and fruits to grow as a means of sustenance for people and their cattle. Allah reiterated this bounty in various parts of the Qur'an. The meaning that is reiterated here is that Allah is the Creator, the Sustainer, the Owner and Provider of this life, all that is in and on it. Hence, He alone deserves to be worshipped, and no one and nothing is to be associated with Him. This is why Allah said next, iThen do not set up rivals unto Allah (in worship) while you know (that He alone has the right to be worshipped (2:22). Signs ofAllah's Existence Several scholars of Tafsir, like Ar-Razi and others, used these Ayat as an argument for the existence of the Creator, and it is a most worthy method of argument. Indeed, whoever ponders over the things that exist, the higher and lower creatures, their various shapes, colors, behavior, benefits and ecological roles, then he will realize the ability, wisdom, knowledge, perfection and majesty of their Creator. Once a bedouin was asked about the evidence to Allah's existence, he responded, "All praise is due to Allah! The camel's dung testifies to the existence of the camel, and the track testifies to the fact that someone was walking. A sky that holds the giant stars, a land that has fairways and a sea that has waves, does not all of this testify that the Most Kind, Most Knowledgeable exists?"¹²¹ Hence, whoever gazes at the sky in its immensity, its expanse, and the various kinds of planets in it, some of which appear stationary in the sky - whoever gazes at the seas that surround the land from all sides, and the mountains that were placed on the earth to stabilize it, so that whoever lives on land, whatever their shape and color, are able to live and thrive - whoever reads Allah's statement, يٰۤاَيُّهَا الَّذِيْنَ اٰمَنُوْا اذْكُرْ اَنَّهُٓ هُوَ الَّذِيْ خَلَقَ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضَ وَجَعَلَ لَكُمُ السَّمٰوٰتِ وَالْاَرْضَ نَافِلَتًا لَّكُمۡ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَتَّقُوْنَ Ahmad 4:130. ¹²¹ Razi 2:91.

257 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) Our servant^ meaning, Muhammad ﷺ, 4} then produce a Surah (chapter)} meaning, similar to what he brought to you. Hence, if you claim that what he was sent with did not come from Allah, then produce something similar to what he has brought to you, using the help of anyone you wish instead of Allah. However, you will not be able to succeed in this quest. Ibn 'Abbas said that, your witnesses means "Aids."¹¹¹ Also, As-Suddi reported that Abu Malik said the Ayah means, "Your partners, meaning, some other people to help you in that. Meaning then go and seek the help of your deities to support and aid you."¹²¹ Also, Mujahid said that, and call your witnesses means, "People, meaning, wise and eloquent men who will provide the testimony that you seek."³ The Challenge Allah challenged the disbelievers in various parts of the Qur'an. For instance, Allah said in Surat Al-Qasas (28:49), Wa ja'ill (ja' iSay (to them, O Muhammad : "Then bring a Book from Allah, which is a better guide than these two (the Tawrdh (Torah) and the Qur'an), that I may follow it, if you are truthful"). Also, Allah said in Surat Al-Isra' (17:88), *Stf £&A$ * && u£ ift ol £y\j +Z2 £ J} 4Say :* "If mankind and the Jinn were together to produce the like of this Qur'an, they could not produce the like thereof, even At-Tabari 1 :376. '2| Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :84 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :85

159 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) is the Tafsir of "Umar, Ibn Mas'ud, Ibn 'Abbas, Al-Hasan Al-Basri and the majority of the scholars. And he gave preference to this view and mentioned the fact that Allah has challenged the disbelievers as individuals and as groups, whether literate or illiterate, thus making the challenge truly complete. This type of challenge is more daring than simply challenging the disbelievers who might not be literate or knowledgeable. This is why Allah said, Bring you then ten forged Surahs (chapters) like it> (11:13), and, iThey could not produce the like thereof^ (17:88). Therefore, this is a general challenge to the Arab disbelievers, the most eloquent among all nations. Allah challenged the Arab disbelievers both in Makkah and Al-Madlnah several times, especially since they had tremendous hatred and enmity for the Prophet ﷺ and his religion. Yet, they were unable to succeed in answering the challenge, and this is why Allah said, But if you do it not, and you can never do it), indicating that they will never be able to answer the challenge. This is another miracle, in that, Allah clearly stated without doubt that the Qur'an will never be opposed or challenged by anything similar to it, for eternity. This is a true statement that has not been changed until the present and shall never change. How can anyone be able to produce something like the Qur'an, when the Qur'an is the Word of Allah Who created everything? How can the words of the created ever be similar to the Words of the Creator? Examples of the Miracle of the Qur'an Whoever reads through the Qur'an will realize that it contains various levels of superiority through both the apparent and hidden meanings that it mentions. Allah said, [^]j. iii 2 £i:

iAlifLam Ra. (This is) a Book, the verses whereof are perfect (in every sphere of knowledge, etc.), and then explained in detail from One (Allah), Who is Wise and well-acquainted (with all things)} (11:1) So the expressions in the Qur'an are perfect and its meanings are explained. Further, every word and meaning in the Qur'an is eloquent and cannot be surpassed. The Qur'an also mentioned the stories of the people of the past; and these accounts and stories occurred exactly as the Qur'an stated. Also, the Qur'an commanded every type of righteousness and forbade every type of evil, just as Allah stated, \iJLg c*Cj iAnd the Word of your Lord has been fulfilled in truth and in justice} (6:115). meaning, true in the stories it narrates and just in its Laws. The Qur'an is true, just and full of guidance. It does not—contain exaggerations, lies or falsehood, unlike Arabic and other types of poems that contained lies. These poems, conform with the popular statement, “The most eloquent speech is the one that contains the most lies!” Sometimes, one would find a long poem that mainly contains descriptions of women, horses or alcohol. Or, the poem might contain praise or the description of a certain person, horse, camel, war, incident, fear, lion, or other types of items and objects. Such praise or descriptions do not bring any benefit, except shed light on the poet's ability to clearly and eloquently describe such items. Yet, one will only be able to find one or two sentences in many long poems that elaborate on the main theme of the poem, while the rest of the poem contains insignificant descriptions and repetitions. As for the Qur'an, it is entirely eloquent in the most perfect manner, as those who have knowledge in such matters and understand Arabic methods of speech and expressions concur. When one reads through the stories in the Qur'an, he will find them fruitful, whether they were in extended or short forms, repeated or not. The more these stories are repeated, the more fruitful and beautiful they become. The Qur'an does not become old when one repeats reciting it, nor do the scholars ever get bored with it. When the Qur'an mentions the subject 161 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) of warning and promises, it presents truths that would make solid, firm mountains shake, so what about the comprehending, understanding hearts? When the Qur'an promises, it opens the hearts and the ears, making them eager to attain the abode of peace - Paradise - and to be the neighbors of the Throne of the Most Beneficent. For instance, on the subject of promises and encouragement, the Qur'an said, Uj »]•». j£» cit$ ^ 4No person knows what is kept hidden for them of joy as a reward for what they used to do} (32:17), and, »"/y l^t V 4(There will be) therein all that inner selves could desire, and all that eyes could delight in and you will abide therein forever} (43:71). On the subject of warning and discouragement; viC 'f-> o' } 4Do you then feel secure that He will not cause a side of the land to swallow you up} (17:68), and, O' tU-J' r ' 4f ' ; jju OyUJt \ - 4Do you feel secure that He, Who is over the heaven (Allah), will not cause the earth to sink with you, and then it should quake? Or do you feel secure that He, Who is over the heaven (Allah), will not send against you a violent whirlwind? Then you shall know how (terrible) has been My warning} (67:16-17). On the subject of threats, the Qur'an said, 4So We punished each (of them) for his sins} (29:40). Also, on the subject of soft advice, the Qur'an said, iTell Me, (even) if We do let them enjoy for years. And afterwards comes to them that (punishment) - which they had been promised. All that with which they used to enjoy shall not avail them (26:205-207). There are many other examples of the eloquence, beauty, and benefits of the Qur'an. When the Qur'an is discussing Laws, commandments and prohibitions, it commands every type of righteous, good, pleasing and beneficial act. It also forbids every type of evil, disliked and amoral act. Ibn Mas'ud and other scholars of the Salaf said, "When you hear what Allah said in the Qur'an, such as, يا أيها الذين آمنوا {O you who believe!}, then listen with full attention, for it either contains a type of righteousness that Allah is enjoining, or an evil that He is forbidding." For instance, Allah said, يا أيها الذين آمنوا أوفوا بالعقود (He (Muhammad s& commands them for Al-Ma'ruf (i.e. Islamic Monotheism and all that Islam has ordained); and forbids them from Al-Munkar (i.e. disbelief, polytheism of all kinds, and all that Islam has forbidden); he allows them as lawful At-Tayyibat (i.e. all good and lawful things), and prohibits them as unlawful Al-Khaba'ith (i.e. all evil and unlawful things), he releases them from their heavy burdens and from the fetters (bindings) that were upon them} (7:157). When the Ayat mention Resurrection and the horrors that will occur on that Day, and Paradise and the Fire and the joys and safe refuge that Allah prepared for His loyal friends, or torment and Hell for His enemies, these Ayat contain glad tidings or warnings. The Ayat then call to perform good deeds and avoid evil deeds, making the life of this world less favorable and the Hereafter more favorable. They also establish the correct methods and guide to Allah's straight path and just legislation, all the while ridding the hearts of the evil of the cursed devil.

163 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (1 - 24) (Part-1) The Qur'an is the Greatest Miracle given to the Prophet The Two Sahih records that Abu Hurayrah said that the Prophet said, لأنني أنزلني القرآن في ليلة القدر "Even/ Prophet was given a miracle, the type of which brings mankind to faith. What I was given is a revelation that Allah sent down to me. Yet, I hope that I will have the most following on the Day of Resurrection This is the wording narrated by Muslim. The Prophet stated that among the Prophets he was given a revelation, meaning, he was especially entrusted with the miraculous Qur'an that challenged mankind to produce something similar to it. As for the rest of the divinely revealed Books, they were not miraculous according to many scholars. Allah knows best. The Prophet was also aided with innumerable signs and indications that testify to the truth of his prophethood and what he was sent with, all thanks and praise is due to Allah. Meaning of 'Stones' Allah said, ثم فاعلموا أن النار أشد حرارة من حطبها (Then fear the Fire (Hell) whose fuel is men and stones, prepared for the disbelievers) (2:24). 'Fuel' is wood, or similar substances, used to start and feed a fire. Similarly, Allah said, وإن من دابة إلا نحن فاعلموا أن النار أشد حرارة من حطبها (And as for the Qodsitun (disbelievers who deviated from the right path), they shall be fuel for Hell) (72:15), and, يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا إِنَّمَا الْإِنسَانُ لِرَبِّهِمْ كَذَّابٌ (O AS. a~f~ s— oi \aj +Z=K>f Ijj t U cifi 111 Fath Al-Bari 8 :619 and Muslim 1 :134

164 Tafstr Ibn Kathir • {Certainly you (disbelievers) and that which you are worshipping now besides Allah, are (but) fuel for Hell! (Surely) you enter it. Had these (idols) been deities (gods), they would not have entered there (Hell), and all of them will abide therein} (21:98-99). The stones mentioned here are the giant, rotten, black, sulfuric stones that become the hottest when heated, may Allah save us from this evil end. It was also reported that the stones mentioned here are the idols and rivals that were worshipped instead of Allah, just as Allah said, يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا إِنَّمَا الْإِنسَانُ لِرَبِّهِمْ كَذَّابٌ (Certainly you (disbelievers) and that which you are worshipping now besides Allah, are (but) fuel for Hell!) (21:28). Allah's statement, يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا إِنَّمَا الْإِنسَانُ لِرَبِّهِمْ كَذَّابٌ It appears most obvious that it refers to the Fire that is fueled by men and stones, and it also may refer to the stones themselves. There is no contradiction between these two views, because they are dependent upon each other. 'Prepared' means, it is 'kept' and will surely touch those who disbelieve in Allah and His Messenger Ibn Ishaq narrated that Muhammad said that *Ikrimah or Said bin Jubayr said that Ibn 'Abbas said, ipreparedfar the disbelievers}, "For those who embrace the disbelief that you (disbelievers) have embraced. " * 1 ' Jahannam (Hellfire) existsnow Many of the Imams of the Sunnah used this Ayah to prove that the Fire exists now. This is because Allah said, 111 At-Tabari 1:383.

4prepared^ meaning, prepared and kept. There are many Hadiths on this subject. For instance, the Prophet jg said. "Paradise and the Fire had an argument . Also, the Prophet% said, :0="s~; ^ 'r'J 1*3 jlill "The Fire sought the permission ofher Lord. Site said, 'O my Lord! Some parts of me consumed the other parts.' And Allah allowed her two periods to exhale, one in winter and one in summer. » Also, there is a Hadith recorded from Ibn Mas*ud that the Companions heard the sound of a falling object. When they asked about it, the Messenger of Allah sfe said, «Uy<i jSfl -k* j£~“ Crt ii “This is a stone that was thrown from the top of Jahannam seventy years ago, but only now reached its bottom .» This Hadith is in Sahih Muslim. 131 There are many Hadiths that are Mutawatir (narrated by many different chains of narrations) on this subject, such as the Hadiths about the eclipse prayer, the night of /srd' etc. Allah's statements, iThen produce a Surah (chapter) of the like thereof^ (2:23), and, 4'i& 4A Surah (chapter) like ify (10:38) this includes the short and long Surahs of the Qur'an. Therefore, the challenge to creation stands with regards to both the long and short Surahs, and Muslim 4 :2186. Al-Bukhari no . 527, TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 7 :317 131 Muslim 4:2184.

This is the reason why the Qur'an was called Mathani, based on the correct opinion of the scholars. We will elaborate upon this subject later. Mathani means to mention faith and then disbelief, or vice versa. Or, Allah mentions the miserable and then the happy, or vice versa. As for mentioning similar things, it is called Tashabbuh, as we will come to know, Allah willing. Allah said, iAnd give glad tidings to those who believe and do righteous good deeds, that for them will be Gardens under which rivers flow (Paradise)^. Consequently, Allah stated that Paradise has rivers that run beneath it, meaning, underneath its trees and rooms. From Hadiths it is learned that the rivers of Paradise do not run in valleys, and that the banks of Al-Kawthar (the Prophet's lake in Paradise) are made of domes of hollow pearls, the sand of Paradise is made of scented musk while its stones are made from pearls and jewels. We ask Allah to grant Paradise to us, for verily, He is the Most Beneficent, Most Gracious. Ibn Abi Hatim reported that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah said, Jv 1 *- ...1 1 Q.>W ^jA «The rivers of Paradise spring from beneath hills, or mountains of musk . ,1! In another narration, he said, "From menstruation and pregnancies."131 Further, 'Ata', Al-Hasan, Ad-Dahhak, Abu Salih, 'Atiyah and As-Suddi were reported to have said similarly. Allah's statement, iand they will abide therein forever^ meaning ultimate happiness, for the believers will enjoy everlasting delight, safe from death and disruption of their bliss, for it never ends or ceases. So Allah revealed; 4Verily, Allah is not ashamed to set forth a parable even of a mosquito or so much more when it is bigger (or less when it is smaller) than A Parable about the Life of This World Abu Ja'far Ar-Razi reported that Ar-Rabl' bin Anas commented on this Ayah (2:26); "This is an example that Allah has given for the life of this world. The mosquito lives as long as it needs food, but when it gets fat, it dies.

This is also the example of people whom Allah mentioned in the Qur'an: when At-Tabari 1 :398. At-Tabari 1 :399.

Allah's statement, iOr so much more when it is bigger than it) Fama fawqaha means, something bigger than the mosquito, which is one of the most insignificant and tiniest of creatures. Muslim narrated that Aishah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, il & i* 2 VI ui isfo ill: -ill *No Muslim is harmed by a thorn, Fama fawqaha (or something larger), but a good deed will be written for him and an evil deed will be erased from his record .»[2] So Allah has informed us that there is no matter that is too small that is exempt from being used as an example, even if it was as insignificant as a mosquito or a spider. This covenant was reiterated in Allah’s Books and by the words of His Messengers. Ignoring this covenant constitutes breaking it. It was said that the Ayah (2:27) is about the disbelievers and the hypocrites among the People of the Book. In this case, the covenant that they broke is the pledge that Allah took from them in the Tawrah to follow Muhammad jg when he is sent as a Prophet, and to believe in him, and in what he was sent with. Breaking Allah’s covenant in this case occurred when the People of the Book rejected the Prophet after they knew the truth about him, and they hid this truth from people, even though they swore to Allah that they would do otherwise. Allah informed us that they threw the covenant behind their backs and sold it for a miserable price. It was also reported that the Ayah (2:27) refers to all disbelievers, idol worshippers and hypocrites. Allah took their pledge to believe in His Oneness, showing them the signs that testify to His Lordship. He also took a covenant from them to obey His commands and refrain from His prohibitions, 176 Tafsir Ibn Kathir knowing that His Messengers would bring proofs and miracles that none among the creation could ever produce. These miracles testified to the truth of Allah's Messengers. The covenant was broken when the disbelievers denied what was proven to them to be authentic and rejected Allah's Prophets and Books, although they knew that they were the truth. This Tafsir was reported from Muqatil bin Hayyan, and it is very good. It is also the view that Az-Zamakhshari held. Allah's statement next, And sever what Allah has ordered to be joined is in reference to keeping the relations with the relatives, as Qatadah asserted. This Ayah is similar to Allah's statement, Would you then, if you were given the authority, do mischief in the land, and sever your ties of kinship? (47:22) Ibn Jarir At-Tabari preferred this opinion. However, it has been said that the meaning of the Ayah (2:27) here is more general. Hence, everything that Allah has commanded to nurture, and the people severed, is included in its meaning.

The Meaning of 'Loss' Muqatil bin Hayyan commented on Allah's statement, it is they who are the losers "In the Hereafter."¹²¹ Similarly, Allah said, On them is the curse (i.e. they will be far away from Allah's mercy), and for them is the unhappy (evil) home (i.e. Hell) (13:25). Also, Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Every characteristic that Allah describes those other than the people of Islam - such as being losers - then it refers to disbelief. m At-Tabari 1 :416. 12* Ibn Abi Hatim 1:101 177 Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (25 -49) (Part-1) However, when they are attributed to the people of Islam, then these terms refer to sin." Ibn Jarir commented on Allah's statement, it is they who are the losers, "Losers is plural for loser, this word refers to whoever decreased his own share of Allah's mercy by disobeying Him, just as the merchant loses in his trade by sustaining capital loss. Such is the case with the hypocrite and the disbeliever who lose their share of the mercy that Allah has in store for His servants on the Day of Resurrection. And that is when the disbeliever and the hypocrite most desperately need Allah's mercy. "2 / > JxS) i] TA 428. Hmv can you disbelieve in Allah seeing that you were dead and He gave you life? Then He will give you death, then again will bring you to life (on the Day of Resurrection) and then unto Him you will return. Allah testifies to the fact that He exists and that He is the Creator and the Sustainer Who has full authority over His servants, 4How can you disbelieve in Allah?) How can anyone deny Allah's existence or worship others with Him while; 4You were dead and He gave you life) meaning, He brought them from the state of non-existence to life. Similarly, Allah said, 111 At-Tabari 1 :417. 121 Ibid.

4Were they created by nothing? Or were they themselves the creators? Or did they create the heavens and the earth? Nay, but they have no firm belief} (52:35-36) and, Has there not been over man a period of time, when he was not a thing worth mentioning? (76:1). There are many other Ayat on this subject. Ibn Jarir reported from 'Ata' that Ibn 'Abbas said that, Seeing that you were dead and He gave you life} means, “You did not exist beforehand. You were nothing until Allah created you; He will bring death to you and then bring you back to life during Resurrection.” Ibn ‘Abbas then said, “This is similar to Allah’s statement; I biil i4> |jta} iThey will say : “Our Lord! Allah said, 4And made them seven heavens and He is the Knower ofeverything^ meaning, His knowledge encompasses all His creation, just as He said in another Ayah, iShould not He Who has created know?’} (67:14). The Beginning ofthe Creation This Ayah (2:29) is explained in detail in Surat As-Sajdah where Allah said; z>j iii'i wJ ,i! jj&j jUy' j yjVi ju jjji 'r* ->•£> fey ui ^ ife bls jl WjL uii jiybj a Jli oU-j J'k ^ if Gjji zLlii (Ijj U^ .d jf j uyjj ^ yld* £r-> ^ ,.f , j* 11 '.n«^ <4S«i/ (O Muhammad jg) : "Do you verily disbelieve in Him Wlto created the earth in two Days? Then He Istawd ild the heaven when it ivas smoke, and said to it and to the earth : "Come both ofyou willingly or unwillingly." They both said: “We come willingly.” Then He finished them (as) seven heavens in two Days and He made in each heaven its affair. And We adorned the nearest (lowest) heaven with lamps (stars) to be an adornment as well as to guard (from the devils by using them as missiles against the devils). Such is the decree of the Almighty, the Knower (41:9-12).

180 Tafsir lbn Kathir These Ayat indicate that Allah started creation by creating earth, then He made heaven into seven heavens. This is how building usually starts, with the lower floors first and then the top floors, as the scholars of Tafsir reiterated, as we will come to know, Allah willing. Allah also said, 3 3Cif; Tv ,1^ . §r)\ £ UU> Ail ^ ,n UIU iiU’j jai iAre you more difficult to create or is the heaven that He constructed? He raised its height, and has perfected it. Its night He covers with darkness and its forenoon He brings out (with light). And the earth, after that, He spread it out. And brought forth therefrom its water and its pasture. And the mountains He has fixedfirmly. (To be) a provision and benefitfor you and your cattle} (79:27-33). It is said that “Then” in the Ayah (2:29) relates only to the order of reciting the information being given, it does not relate to the order that the events being mentioned took place, this was reported from lbn ‘Abbas by ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah. The Earth was created before Heaven Mujahid commented on Allah’s statement, Jfj'il 4 U p. jjfo '£} 4He it is Who createdfor you all that is on earth “Allah created the earth before heaven, and when He created the earth, smoke burst out of it. This is why Allah said, 4 <jt-> (£) fIA 2Sj?-' ^} iThen He Istawa ild (turned towards) the heaven when it was smoke.} (41:11) jj- iAnd made them seven heavens} means, one above the other, while the ‘seven earths’ means, one below the other.”*21 At-Tabari 1 :437. 121 At-Tabari 1 :436.

181 Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (25 - 49) (Part-1 This Ayah testifies to the fact that the earth was created before heaven, as Allah has indicated in the Ayat in Surat As- Sajdah. Spreading the Earth out after the Heavens were created Sahih Al-Bukhari records that when Ibn 'Abbas was questioned about this matter, he said that the earth was created before heaven, and the earth was spread out only after the creation of the heaven. 1 Several Tafsir scholars of old and recent times also said similarly, as we have elaborated on in the Tafsir of Surat An-Nazi'at (chapter 79). The result of that discussion is that the word Daha (translated above as "spread") is mentioned and explained in Allah's statement, And the earth, after that. He spread it out. And brought forth therefrom its water and its pasture. And the mountains He has fixed firmly.) (79:30-32) Therefore, Daha means that the earth's treasures were brought to its surface after finishing the job of creating Fath Al-Bari 8:417.

He (Allah) said: "I know that which you do not know."}* Adam and His Children inhabited the Earth, Generation after Generation Allah reiterated His favor on the Children of Adam when He stated that He mentioned them in the highest of heights before He created them. Allah said, And (remember) when your Lord said to the angels.} This Ayah means, "O Muhammad mention to your people what Allah said to the angels, Verily, I am going to place a Khalifah on earth}. Meaning people reproducing generation after generation, century after century, just as Allah said, And it is He Who has made you (Khalifah) generations coming after generations, replacing each other on the earth} (6:165), And makes you (Khalifah) inheritors of the earth} (27:62), Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (25 - 49) (Part-1) And if it were Our will, We would have (destroyed you (mankind all, and) made angels to replace you (Yakhlufun) on the earth} (43:60) and, after them succeeded an (evil) generation (Khalifah)} (7:169). It appears that Allah was not referring to Adam specifically as Khalifah, otherwise he would not have allowed the angels' statement, You place therein those who will make mischief therein and shed blood}. The angels meant that this type of creature usually commits the atrocities they mentioned. The angels knew of this fact, according to their understanding of human nature, for Allah stated that He would create man from clay. Or, the angels understood this fact from the word Khalifah, which also means the person who judges disputes that occur between people, forbidding them from injustice and sin, as Al-Qurtubi said. The statement the angels uttered was not a form of disputing with Allah's, nor out of envy for the Children of Adam, as some mistakenly thought. Allah has described them as those who do not precede Him in speaking, meaning that they do not ask Allah anything without His permission. When Allah informed them that He was going to create a creation on the earth, and they had knowledge that this creation would commit mischief on it, as Qatadah mentioned, they said, Will You place therein those who will make mischief therein and shed blood? This is only a question for the sake of learning about the wisdom of that, as if they said, Our Lord! What is the wisdom of creating such creatures since they will cause trouble in the earth and spill blood? ^ “If the wisdom behind this action is m At-Tabari 1 :464.

that You be worshipped, we praise and glorify You (meaning we pray to You) we never indulge in mischief, so why create other creatures?” Allah said to the angels in answer to their inquiry, 41 know that which you do not know> meaning, “I know that the benefit of creating this type of creature outweighs the harm that you mentioned, that which you have no knowledge of. I will create among them Prophets and send Messengers. I will also create among them truthful, martyrs, righteous believers, worshippers, the modest, the pious, the scholars who implement their knowledge, humble people and those who love Allah and follow His Messengers.” The Sahih recorded that when the angels ascend to Allah with the records of the servant’s deeds, Allah asks them, while having better knowledge, “How did you leave My servants?” They will say, “We came to them while they were praying and left them while they were praying.” ’ This is because the angels work in shifts with mankind, and they change shifts during the Fajr and ‘Asr prayers. The angels who descended will remain with us, while the angels who have remained with us ascend with our deeds. The Messenger of Allah jfe said, •jyj’#&1 «77ie deeds of the night are elevated to Allah before the morning, and the deeds of the morning before the night falls . »'2’ Hence, the angels’ statement, “We came to them while they were praying and left them while they were praying,” explains Allah’s statement, 4i>J& Y U 41 know that which you do not ktiozo It was said that the meaning of Allah’s statement, 4ZJ& Y U m Fath Al-Bari 13:426. ’ Muslim no. 179, MusnadAbi ’Awanah 1 :145.

The Obligation of appointing a Khalifah and some related Issues Al-Qurtubi, as well as other scholars, said that this Ayah (2:30) proves the obligation of appointing a Khalifah to pass judgements on matters of dispute between people, to aid the oppressed against the oppressor, to implement the Islamic penal code and to forbid evil. There are many other tasks that can only be fulfilled by appointing the Imam, and what is necessary in performing an obligation, is an obligation itself. We should state here that Imamah occurs by either naming a successor, as a group among Ahl As-Sunnah scholars said occurred - by the Prophet ^ - in the case of Abu Bakr, or hinting to a successor. Or, the current Khalifah names a certain person as Khalifah after him, as Abu Bakr did with ‘Umar. Or, the Khalifah might leave the matter in the hands of

This occurred after they prostrated to him. This discussion precedes that event here, only to show the importance of his position, and the absence of the angels' knowledge about creating the Khalifah when they asked about it. So Allah informed the angels that He knows what they do not know, and then He mentioned this to show them Adam's superiority over them in knowledge. Allah said, 4'+£' p; } iAnd He taught Adam all the names (of everything)}. Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas commented on the Ayah; 4^ •t'V' pi (fej} iAnd He taught Adam all the names (of everything)} "Meaning, the names that people use, such as human, animal, sky, earth, land, sea, horse, donkey, and so forth, including the names of the other species." The reason why we mentioned this Hadith here is the Prophet's statement, - >r " ol l)jjLi n J5 sUif «They will go to Adam and say, 'O Adam! You are the father of all mankind, and Allah created you with His Own Hand, ordered the angels to prostrate for you, and taught you the names of everything'*}2} This part of the Hadith testifies to the fact that Allah taught Adam the names of all creatures. This is Here the angels are praising Allah's holiness, and perfection above every kind of deficiency, affirming that no creature could ever acquire any part of Allah's knowledge, except by His permission, nor could anyone know anything except what Allah teaches them. This is why they said, 4:<^\ cS\ ^ u "}" 4"Glory is to You, we have no knowledge except what you have taught us. Verily You are the Knower, the Wise^ meaning, Allah is knowledgeable of everything, Most Wise about His creation, and He makes the wisest decisions, and He teaches and deprives whom He wills from knowledge. They also have comments other than what we have said about the meaning of Allah's statement, 4SJ& pr c; 4And I know what you reveal and what you have been concealing}. ^ Ibn Abi Hatim 1:119. <2 ' Ibid.

It is reported from Ad-Dahhak that Ibn ‘Abbas said that, 4And I know what you reveal and what you have been concealing^ means, “I know the secrets, just as I know the apparent things, such as, what Iblis concealed in his heart of arrogance and pride.” Abu Ja’far Ar-Razi narrated that Ar-Rabi‘ bin Anas said that, 4oJS4p ojij l* jXetj^ 4And I know what you reveal and what you have been concealing} means, “The apparent part of what they said was: ‘Do you create in it that which would commit mischief and shed blood?’ The hidden meaning was: “We have more knowledge and honor than any creation our Lord would create.’ But they came to know that Allah favored Adam above them regarding knowledge and honor.” 4 ri , St Gjfw (3% 1 bii >Ij} 434. And (remember) when We said to the angels: "Prostrate yourselves before Adam." And they prostrated except Iblis (Shaytan), he refused and was proud and was one of the disbelievers (disobedient to Allah).} Honoring Adam when the Angels prostrated before Him This Ayah mentions the great honor that Allah granted Adam, and Allah reminded Adam's offspring of this fact. Allah commanded the angels to prostrate before Adam, as this Ayah and many Hadiths testify, such as the Hadith about the intercession that we discussed. There is a Hadith about the supplication of Musa, “O my Lord! Show me Adam who caused us and himself to be thrown out of Paradise.” When Musa met Adam, he said to him, “Are you Adam whom Allah created with His Own Hands, blew life into and commanded the angels to prostrate before?”² 111 At-Jabari 1 :498. Abu DSwud 5:28.

194 Tafsir Ibtal Kathir Iblis was among Those ordered to prostrate before Adam, although He was not an Angel When Allah commanded the angels to prostrate before Adam, Iblis was included in this command. Although Iblis was not an angel, he was trying - and pretending - to imitate the angels' behavior and deeds, and this is why he was also included in the command to the angels to prostrate before Adam. Satan was criticized for defying that command, as we will explain with detail, Allah willing, when we mention the Tafsir of Allah's statement, & J-4<1 4Except Iblis (Satan). He was one of the Jinn; he disobeyed the command of his Lord> (18:50) Similarly, Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Before he undertook the path of sin, Iblis was with the angels and was called ‘Azazil.’ He was among the residents of the earth and was one of the most active worshippers and knowledgeable persons among the angels. This fact caused him to be arrogant. Iblis was from a genus called Jinn.” The Prostration was before Adam but the Obedience was to Allah Qatadah commented on Allah's statement, Gii iAnd (remember) when We said to the angels: "Prostrate yourselves before Adam .")> “The obedience was for Allah and the prostration was before Adam. Some said that it was a certain tree, and whoever eats from it will be relieved of the call of nature. It was also said that it was a tree from which the angels eat so that they live for eternity. Imam Abu JaTar bin Jarir said, "The correct opinion is that Allah forbade Adam and his wife from eating from a certain tree in Paradise, but they ate from it. said that it was barley, grape, or a fig tree. It is possible that it was one of those trees. Yet, this is knowledge that does not bring any benefit, just as being ignorant in its nature does no harm. Allah knows best." ' This is similar to what Ar-Razi stated in his Tafsir, and this is the correct opinion. Allah's statement, iThen the Shaytan made them slip therefrom} either refers to Paradise, and in this case, it means that Shaytan led Adam and Hawwa' away from it, as 'Asim bin Abi An-Najtid recited it.' ' It is also possible that this Ayah refers to the forbidden tree. In this case, the Ayah would mean, as Al-Hasan and Qatadah stated, "He tripped them."3 ' In this case, iThen the Shaytan made them slip therefrom} means, "Because of the tree", just as Allah said, iTitmed aside therefrom (i.e. from Muhammad jg and the Qur'an) is he who is turned aside (by the decree and preordainment ofAllah)} (51:9) meaning, the deviant person becomes turned aside - or slips - from the truth because of so and so reason. Basically, the response to this would be that the Paradise which Adam was in, was in the heavens, not on the earth, as we explained in the beginning of our book Al-Bidayah wan- Nihayah. The majority of scholars said that Shaytan was originally prohibited from entering Paradise, but there were times when he sneaked into it in secret. For instance, the Tawrah stated that Iblls hid inside the snake's mouth and entered Paradise. Some scholars said that it is possible that Shaytan led Adam and Hawwa' astray on his way out of Paradise. Some scholars said that he led Adam and Hawwa' astray when he was on earth, while they were still in heaven, as stated by Az- Zamakhshari. Al-Qurtubi mentioned several beneficial Hadiths here about snakes and the ruling on killing them. <37. Then Adam received from his Lord Words. And his Lord pardoned him (accepted his repentance). Other scholars said, "The covenant is what Allah took from them in the Tawrah, in that. Ibn ‘Abbas said that Allah’s statement, 4AndfearMe and Me alone.} means, “Fear the torment that I might exert on you, just as I did with your fathers, like the mutation, etc.”!31 This Ayah contains encouragement, followed by warning. Allah first called the Children of Israel, using encouragement, then He warned them, so that they might return to the Truth, follow the Messenger jg, heed the Qur’an’s prohibitions and commands and believe in its content. Surely, Allah guides whom He wills to the straight path. Allah said next, 4And believe in what I have sent down, confirming that which is with you (the Tawrah and the Injil)} meaning, the Qur’an that Allah sent down to Muhammad ag, the unlettered Arab Prophet, as bringer of glad tidings, a wamer and a light. The Qur’an contains the Truth from Allah and affirms what was revealed beforehand in the Tawrah and the Injil (the Gospel). Abu Al-‘Aliyah said that Allah’s statement, 4And believe in what I have sent down (this Qur'an), confirming that which is with you (the Tawrah and the Injil)} “means, ‘O People of the Book! For instance, whoever disbelieves in the Qur’an will have disbelieved in Muhammad sis, and whoever disbelieves in Muhammad will have disbelieved in the Qur’an. Allah’s statement, ft Jjfa 4thefirst to disbelieve therein} means, do not become the first among the Children of Israel to disbelieve in it, for there were people from Quraysh and the Arabs in general who rejected Muhammad sfe before the People of the Book disbelieved in him. We should state here that the Ayah is talking about the Children of Israel in specific, because the Jews in Al-Madlnah were the first among the Children of Israel to be addressed by the Qur’an. Hence, their disbelief in the Qur’an means that they were the first among the People of the Book to disbelieve in it.  Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :145. 121 Ibid. Ibid. 141 Ibid.

'Abdur-Razzdq said that Ma'mar stated that Qatadah commented on Allah's statement, iEnjoin you Al-Birr (piety and righteousness and every act of obedience to Allah) on the people and you forget (to practise it) yourselves,} "The Children of Israel used to command people to obey Allah, fear Him and perform Al-Birr. Yet, they contradicted these orders, so Allah reminded them of this fact." ' As-Suddi said similarly. Ibn Jurayj said that the Ayah iEnjoin you Al-Birr on the people "Is about the People of the Book and the hypocrites. They used to command people to pray and fast. However, they did not practice what they commanded others. Allah reminded them of this behavior. So whoever commands people to do righteousness, let him be among the first of them to implement that command."121 Also, Muhammad bin Ishaq narrated that Ibn 'Abbas said that, j} 4And you forget yourselves,} means, "You forget to practice it yourselves, iWhile you recite the Scripture (Tawrah)! Have you then no sense?} You forbid the people from rejecting the prophethood and the 111 'Abdur-Razzaq 1 :44. 121 At-Tabari 2 :8

covenant that you have mentioned with you in the Tawrah, while you yourselves have forgotten it, meaning that 'you have forgotten the covenant that I made with you that you will accept My Messenger. You have breeched My covenant, and rejected what you know is in My Book.' "*" 11 Therefore, Allah admonished the Jews for this behavior and alerted them to the wrongs that they were perpetrating against themselves by ordering righteousness, yet refraining themselves from righteousness. We should state that Allah is not criticizing the People of the Book for ordering righteousness, because enjoining good is a part of righteousness and is an obligation for the scholars. However, the scholar is himself required to heed, and adhere to, what he invites others to. For instance, Prophet Shu'ayb said, Cj i&J c -W it Z j; 3 '4 %} 41 wish not, in contradiction to you, to do that which I forbid you. I only desire reform to the best of my power. And my guidance cannot come except from Allah, in Him I trust and unto Him I repent} (11:88). Therefore, enjoining righteousness and performing righteousness are both required. Neither category is rendered not necessary by the practice of the other, according to the most correct view of the scholars among the Salaf (predecessors) and the Khalaf.'21 Imam Ahmad reported that Abu Wa'il said, "While I was riding behind Usamah, he was asked, 'Why not advise 'Uthman?' He said, *Do you think that if I advise him I should allow you to hear it? I advise him in secret, and I will not start something that I would hate to be the first to start. Muqatil bin Hayyan said that this Ayah means, "Utilize patience and the obligatory prayer in seeking the Hereafter. As for patience (here), they say that it means fasting."111 There are similar texts reported from Mujahid. Al-Qurtubi and other scholars commented, "This is why Ramadan is called the month of patience,"121 as is mentioned in the Hadith literature. It was also said that 'patience' in the Ayah means, refraining from evil, and this is why 'patience' was mentioned along with practicing acts of worship, especially and foremost, the prayer. Also, Ibn Abi Hatim narrated that 'Umar bin Al-Khattab said, "There are two types of patience: good patience when the disaster strikes, and a better patience while avoiding the prohibitions of Allah." Ibn Abi Hatim said that Al-Hasan Al-Basri was reported to have said similarly.131 Allah then said, iAnd As-Saldu (the prayer).} The prayer is one of the best means of assistance for firmly adhering to Allah's orders, just as Allah said; £2 ykiJi JET\ j) Z

The personal pronoun in the Ayah, 4'1P 4And truly, it is extremely heavy and hard^ refers to prayer, as Mujahid is reported to have said, and it was also the choice of Ibn Jarir. It is possible that the pronoun might be referring to the advice - to observe patience and the prayer - mentioned in the same Ayah. Similarly, Allah said about Qarun (Korah), Vj jj J*. 217 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (25 - 49) (Part-1) Ibn Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas commented on this Ayah, "They (Al-Khashi'in) are those who believe in what Allah has revealed." ^1 ' Allah's statement, iThey are those who are certain that they are going to meet their Lord, and that unto Him they are going to return . continues the subject that was started in the previous Ayah. Therefore, the prayer, or the advice to observe it is heavy, 4except for Al-Khashi'in. Since they are certain that they will be returned to Allah and be reckoned, it is easy for them to perform the acts of obedience and refrain from the prohibitions. Ibn Jarir commented on Allah's statement; 4Yazunnuna that they are going to meet their Lord} Ibn Jarir said; "The Arabs call certainty as well as doubt, Zann. There are similar instances in the Arabic language where a subject as well as its opposite share the same name. For instance, Allah said, i&sQy jL)' \1jf} iAnd the Mujrimiin (criminals, polytheists, sinners), shall see the Fire and Zannu (apprehend) that they have to fall therein}^18:53). He will say, "No." Allah will say, "This Day, I will forget you, just as you forgot Me." ^ If Allah wills, we will further elaborate on this subject when we explain Allah's statement, ijiiey haveforgotten Allah, so He has forgotten them (9:67). 447. 448. And fear a Day (of Judgement) when a person shall not avail another, nor will intercession be accepted from him, nor will compensation be taken from him, nor will they be helped.} After Allah reminded the Children of Israel of the favors that He has granted them, He warned them about the duration of the torment which He will punish them with on the Day of Resurrection. He said, y. $Andfear a Day} meaning, the Day of Resurrection, iWhen a person shall not avail another} meaning, on that Day, no person shall be of any help to another. Have Taqwd of your Lord (by keeping your duty to Him and avoiding all evil), and fear a Day when no father can avail aught for his son, nor a son avail aught for his father} (31:33). This indeed should serve as a great warning that both the father and the son will not be of help to each other on that Day. Neither Intercession, Ransom, or Assistance will be accepted on behalf of the Disbelievers Allah said, 221 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (25 - 49) (Part-1) in or will intercession be accepted from him} meaning, from the disbelievers. Nor a close friend (to help us)} (26:100-101). Allah's statement here (2:48) ite^Q y,} in or will compensation be taken from him} means, that Allah does not accept the disbelievers to ransom themselves. Similarly, Allah said, t$ i Vg <$ l{ } <4 iVerily, those who disbelieved, and died while they were disbelievers, the (whole) earth full of gold will not be accepted from anyone of them even if they offered it as a ransom (3:91) Ji 4i b >.» . /iS-iJ ijgjR j. d J \fjzj==> cyji iVerily, those who disbelieve, if they had all that is in the earth, and as much again therewith to ransom themselves from the torment on the Day of Resurrection, it would never be accepted of them, and theirs would be a painful torment> (5:36) iQi ii-jj V ijic jkas> j_)2 ^ff} iAnd even if he offers every ransom, it will not be accepted from him} (6:70) and, iSo this Day no ransom shall be taken from you (hypocrites), nor of those who disbelieved. Allah stated that if the people do not believe in His Messenger jg and follow what He sent him with, then when they meet Him on the Day of Resurrection, after remaining on the path of disbelief, their family lineage and/or the intercession of their masters will not help them at all. It will not be accepted of them, even if they paid the earth's fill of gold as ransom. Similarly, Allah said, \ * »-* ij-? * a*T 4Before a Day comes when there will be no bargaining, nor friendship, twr intercession} (2:254) and, 40n which there will be neither mutual bargaining nor befriending (19:31). As stated earlier on that Day, neither the relative, nor persons of authority will feel pity for the disbelievers, nor will any ransom be accepted for them. Consequently, they will receive no help from others and they will be helpless themselves. Allah said, 4<S vj %} iWhile He (Allah) grants refuge (or protection), but none grants refuge from Him} (23:88) 4So on that Day none will punish as He will punish. No repeal or ransom will be accepted for them, all courtesy towards them will have ceased, along with any helpful intercession. No type of help or cooperation will be available for them on that Day. The judgment will, on that Day, be up to the Most Great, the Most Just, against whom no intercessor or helper can ever assist. He will then award the evil deed its kind and will multiply the good deeds. This is similar to Allah's statement, IM At-Tabari 2 :36

This favor came after the cursed Pharaoh had a dream in which he saw a fire emerge from Bayt Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem), and then the fire entered the houses of the Coptics in Egypt, with the exception of the Children of Israel. Its purport was that his kingship would be toppled by a man among the Children of Israel. It was also said that some of Pharaoh's entourage said that the Children of Israel were expecting a man among them to arise who would establish a state for them. We will mention the Hadith on this subject |i| At-Tabari 2 :35

225Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (50 - 74) (Part-1) when we explain Surat Ta Ha (20), Allah willing. After the dream, Pharaoh ordered that every newborn male among the Children of Israel be killed and that the girls be left alone. He also commanded that the Children of Israel be given tasks of hard labor and assigned the most humiliating jobs. The torment here refers to killing the male infants. In Surat Ibrahim (14) this meaning is clearly mentioned, jppj ppAP> iWho were afflicting you with horrible torment, and were slaughtering your sons and letting your women live.} (14:6). We will explain this Ayah in the beginning of Surat Al-Qasas (28), Allah willing, and our reliance and trust are with Him.

The meaning of, iP-Ap*t* iwho toere afflicting you} is, “They humiliated you,” as Abu ‘Ubaydah stated. It was also said that it means, “They used to exaggerate in tormenting you” according to Al-Qurtubi. As for Allah saying, 4cpP iAP*P*U spi;} i killing your sons and sparing your women} that explains His statement, 4y'Ju!' yppA*P*i iwho were afflicting you with horrible torment} then it explains the meaning of the favor He gave them, as mentioned in His statement, i£p pA\p jAn iRemember My favor which I bestowed upon you}. 226 Tafstr Ibn Kathir slaughtering your sons and letting your women live.} (14:6) So Allah mentioned saving their children from being slaughtered in order to remind them of the many favors that He granted them. We should state here that ‘Pharaoh’ (Fir'awn) is a title that was given to every disbelieving king who ruled Egypt, whether from the ‘Amallq (Canaanites) or otherwise, just as Caesar (Qaysar) is the title of the disbelieving kings who ruled Rome and Damascus. Also, Khosrau (Kisra) is the title of the kings who ruled Persia, while Tubb'a is the title of the kings of Yemen, and the kings of Abyssinia (Ethiopia) were called Negus (An-Najashi). Allah said, $$ j. fa jj} iAnd therein was a mighty trial from your Lord.} Ibn Jarir commented that this part of the Ayah means, “Our saving your fathers from the torment that they suffered by the hand of Pharaoh, is a great blessing from your Lord.”! * We should mention that in the blessing there is a test, the same as with hardship, for Allah said, iAnd We shall make a trial of you with evil and with good} (21:35) and, fit9^5 iAnd We tried them with good (blessings) and evil (calamities) in order that they might turn (to obey Allah.)) (7:168). Allah's statement next, iAnd (remember) when We separated the sea for you and saved you and drowned Fir'awn's (Pharaoh) people while you were watching} means, ‘After We saved you from Fir'awn and you escaped with Musa; Fir'awn went out in your pursuit and We parted (il At-Tabari 2 :48

227 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (50 - 74) (Part-1) the sea for you.’ Allah mentioned this story in detail, as we will come to know, Allah willing. One of the shortest references to this story is Allah's statement, 4And saved you} meaning, “We saved you from them, drowning them while you watched, bringing relief to your hearts and humiliation to your enemy.” Fasting the Day of Ashura It was reported that the day the Children of Israel were saved from Fir'awn was called the day of ‘Ashura’. Imam Ahmad reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Messenger of Allah came to Al-Madlnah and found that the Jews were fasting the day of ‘Ashura’. He asked them, “What is this day that you fast?” They said, “This is a good day during which Allah saved the Children of Israel from their enemy, and Musa used to fast this day.” The Messenger of Allah sfe said, «J have more right to Musa than you luive.o So the Messenger of Allah jfe fasted that day and ordered that it be fasted. 231 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (50 - 74) (Part-1) The Best among the Children of Israel ask to see Allah; their subsequent Death and Resurrection Allah said, ‘Remember My favor on you for resurrecting you after you were seized with lightning when you asked to see Me directly, which neither you nor anyone else can bear or attain.’ This was said by Ibn Jurayj. Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Ayah iAnd (remember) when you said: "O Miisa ! We shall never believe in you until we see Allah plainly/> means, “Publicly”, 111 “So that we gaze at Allah.”¹²¹ Also, Tirmidhi bin Ruwaym said that Allah’s statement, iWhile you were looking means, “Some of them were struck with lightning while others were watching.”¹³¹ Allah resurrected those, and struck the others with lightning. As-Suddi commented on, iBut you were seized with a bolt of lightning saying; “They died, and Musa stood up crying and supplicating to Allah, ‘O Lord! What should I say to the Children of Israel when I go back to them after You destroyed the best of them, it is ill for me and my people. If it had been Your will, You could have destroyed them and me before; would You destroy us for the deeds of the foolish ones among us?’ Allah revealed to Musa that these seventy men were among those who worshipped the calf. Afterwards, Allah brought them back to life one man at a time, while the rest of them were watching how Allah was bringing them back to life. That is why Allah’s said, iThen We raised you up after your death, so that you might be grateful.} At-Tabari 2 :81 ¹²¹ Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :170. ¹³¹ Ibn Abi Hatim 1:172.

gratefully W Ar-Rabi‘ bin Anas said, “Death was their punishment, and they were resurrected after they died so they could finish out their lives.” Qatadah said similarly.[^] ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam commented on this Ayah, “Musa returned from meeting with his Lord carrying the Tablets on which He wrote the Tawrah. He found that they had worshipped the calf in his absence. Consequently, he commanded them to kill themselves, and they complied, and Allah forgave them. He said to them, These Tablets have Allah’s Book, containing what He commanded you and what He forbade for you.’ They said, ‘Should we believe this statement because you said it? By Allah, we will not believe until we see Allah in the open, until He shows us Himself and says: This is My Book, therefore, adhere to it. Why does He not talk to us as He talked to you, O, Musa?’” Then he (‘Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd) recited Allah’s statement, JS&& iWe shall never believe in you until we see Allah plainly> and said, “So Allah’s wrath fell upon them, a thunderbolt struck them, and they all died. Then Allah brought them back to life after He killed them.” Then he (‘Abdur-Rahman) recited Allah’s statement, iThen We raised you up after your death, so that you might be grateful}, and said, “Musa said to them, Take the Book of Allah.’ They said, ‘No.’ He said, “What is the matter with you?’ They said, The problem is that we died and came back to life.’ He said, Take the Book of Allah.’ They said, ‘No.’ So Allah sent some angels who made the mountain topple over them.”¹³¹ This shows that the Children of Israel were required to fulfill the commandments after they were brought back to life. However, Al-Mawardi said that there are two opinions about this matter. The first opinion is that since the Children of Israel were required to fulfill the commandments after they were brought back to life, so they did not have to fulfill the commandments. The second opinion states that they were required to adhere to the commandments, so that no responsible adult is free of such responsibilities. Al-Qurtubi said that this is what is correct, because, he said, although the Children of Israel witnessed these tremendous calamities and incidents, that did not mean that they were not responsible for fulfilling the commandments any more. Rather they are responsible for that, and this is clear. Allah knows best. (i u oi [fX* cSjtill) cP! Uj [di\ V?&3 i57. The Shade, the Manna and the Quail After Allah mentioned the calamities that He saved the Children of Israel from, He mentioned the favors that He granted them, saying, iAnd We shaded you with clouds}. This Ayah mentions the white clouds that provided shade for the Children of Israel, protecting them from the sun's heat during their years of wandering. In the Hadith about the trials, An-Nasa'i recorded Ibn 'Abbas saying, "Allah shaded the Children of Israel with clouds during the years of wandering." Ibn Abi Hatim said, "Narrations similar to that of Ibn 'Abbas were reported from Ibn Tjmar, Ar- Rabl bin Anas, Abu Mijlaz, Ad-Dahhak, and As-Suddi."121 Al- Hasan and Qatadah said that, iAnd We shaded you with clouds} "This happened when they were in the desert and the clouds shielded them from the An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 6 :405 Ibn Abi Ratim 1 :174.

Also, Qatadah said, "The manna, which was whiter than milk and sweeter than honey, used to rain down on the Children of Israel, just as the snow falls, from dawn until sunrise. One of them would collect enough for that particular day, for if it remained more than that, it would spoil. On the sixth day, Friday, one would collect enough for the sixth and the seventh day, which was the Sabbath during which one would not leave home to seek his livelihood, or for anything else. All this occurred in the wilderness."131 The type of manna that we know provides sufficient food when eaten alone, because it is nutritious and sweet. When manna is mixed with water, it becomes a sweet drink. It also changes composition when mixed with other types of food. However, this is not the only type. The evidence to this fact is that Al-Bukhari narrated, that Said bin Zayd said that the Messenger of Allah^ said, ^3 -P It fcsto uKam'ah (truffles) is a type of manna, and its liquid is a remedy for the eyes ."141 This Hadith was also collected by Imam Ahmad. 151 The group of Hadith compilers, with the exception of Abu Dawud, also collected it, and At-Tirmidhi graded it Hasan SahihJ61 At- Tirmidhi recorded Abu Hurayrah saying that the Messenger of Ibn Abi Hatim 1:174, At-Tabari 2:91. 131 Ibn Abi Hatim 1:176. 141 Path Al-Bari 8:14. 151 Ahmad 1:187. 161 Fath Al-Bari 8:14, Muslim 3:1619, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 6:235, An- Nasa'i in Al-Kubra 4 : 370 , and Ibn Majaih 2 : 1 143

The Virtue of Muhammad's Companions over the Companions of all Other Prophets Here it is important to point out the virtue of Muhammad’s Companions over the companions of the other Prophets. This includes firmness in the religion, patience and the lack of arrogance, may Allah be pleased with them. Although the Companions accompanied the Prophet jg in his travels and battles, such as during the battle of Tabuk, in intense heat and hardship, they did not ask for a miracle, though this was easy for the Prophet^ by Allah’s leave. And when the Companions became hungry, they merely asked the Prophet jg - to invoke Allah - for an increase in the amount of food. They collected whatever food they had and brought it to the Prophet sg, and he asked Allah to bless it, told each of them to take some food, and they filled every pot they had. Also, when they needed rain, the Prophet jg asked Allah to send down rain, and a rain cloud came. They drank, gave water to their camels and filled their water skins. When they looked around, they found that the cloud had only rained on their camp. This is the best example of those who were willing to accept Allah’s decision and follow the Messenger of Allah sg. They were also commanded to fight the disbelieving ‘Amallq (Canaanites) dwelling in the holy land at that time. But they did not want to fight, because they were weak and exhausted. Allah punished them by causing them to become lost, and to continue wandering, as Allah has stated in Surat Al-Ma'idah (5). The correct opinion about the meaning of, ‘the holy land’ mentioned here is that it was Bayt Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem), as As-Suddi, Ar-Rabl’ bin Anas, 1 Qatadah and Abu Muslim Al-Asfahani, as well as others have stated. After the years of wandering ended forty years later, in the company of Yuwsha* (Joshua) bin Nun, Allah allowed the Children of Israel to conquer the holy land on the eve of a Friday. On that day, the sun was kept from setting for a little more time, until victory was achieved. When the Children of Israel conquered the holy land, they were commanded to enter its gate while, 4prostrating^ in appreciation to Allah for making them victorious, triumphant, returning them to their land and saving them from being lost and wandering. Al-‘Awfi said that Ibn ‘Abbas said that, iattd enter the gate Sujjadan} means, “While bowing”. 11 ' Ibn Jarir reported Ibn ‘Abbas saying, iand enter the gate in prostration} means, “Through a small door while bowing.” Al-Hakim narrated it, and Ibn Abi Hatim added, “And they went through the door backwards!” Al-Hasan Al- Basri said that they were ordered to prostrate on their faces when they entered the city, but Ar-Razi discounted this explanation. It was also said that the Sujud mentioned here means, ‘submissiveness’, for actually entering while prostrating is not possible. Khaslf said that “Ikrimah said that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “The door mentioned here was facing the Qiblah.” Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, As-Suddi, Qatadah and Ad-Dahhak said that the door is the door of Hittah in Ilyla’, which is Jerusalem. Ar-Razi also reported that some of them said that it was a door in the direction of the Qiblah”. Each tribe was, therefore, designated a certain spring, and they used to drink from their springs. They never had to travel from their area, they would find the same bounty in the same manner they had in the first area."111 This narration is part of the long Hadith that An-Nasa'i, Ibn Jarir and Ibn Abi Hatim recorded about the trials. This story is similar to the story in Surat Al-'Araf (Chapter 7) although the latter was revealed in Makkah. In Surat Al- A'raf, Allah used the third person when He mentioned the Children of Israel to the Prophet gg and narrated what He favored them with. In this Surat Al-Baqarah, which was revealed in Al-Madlnah, Allah directed His Speech at the Children of Israel. Further, Allah said in Surat Al-A'raf, 'j~* liiif il* ' - 'y'ti) HI At-Tabari 2:120.

Al-Hasan Al-Basri said about the Children of Israel, "They were bored and impatient with the type of food they were provided. They also remembered the life they used to live, when their diet consisted of lentils, onions, garlic and herbs." They said, 40 Musa ! We cannot endure one kind offood. So invoke your Lordfor us to lentils, onions and herbs, which are all known types of foods. As for the Fum, Ibn Mas'ud read it, Thum (garlic). Also, Ibn Abi Hatim narrated that Al-Hasan said about the Ayah, 4Its Fum}, "Ibn 'Abbas said that Fum means, garlic." He also said that the expression, 'Fumu-lanna' means, 'bake for us', according to the languages of old. Ibn Jarir commented, "If this is true, then 'Fum' is one of the words whose pronunciation were altered, the letter 'fa' was replaced by the letter 'tha', since they are similar in sound."*2 * And Allah knows best. Others said that Fum is wheat, the kind used for bread. Al-Bukhari said, "Some of them said that Fum includes all grains or seeds that are eaten." Allah's statement, 4% > 24 4He said, "Would you exchange that which is better for that which is lower?"} criticized the Jews for asking for inferior foods, although they were living an easy life, eating tasty, beneficial and pure food. Therefore, the meaning of Musa's statement to the Children of Israel becomes, "What you are asking for is easy, for it is available in abundance in any city that you might enter. So since what you asked for is available in all of the villages and cities, I will not ask Allah to provide us with it, especially when it is an inferior type of food." (2:61) Covering the Jews in Humiliation and Misery Allah said, 4^^::i!, iljsi > ^ iAnd they were covered with humiliation and misery). This Ayah indicates that the Children of Israel were plagued with humiliation, and that this will continue, meaning that it will never cease. They will continue to suffer humiliation at the hands of all who interact with them, along with the disgrace that they feel inwardly. Al-Hasan commented, "Allah humiliated them, and they shall have no protector. Allah put them under the feet of the Muslims, who appeared at a time when the MajQs (Zoroastrians) were taking the Jizyah (tax) from the Jews." 1 11 Also, Abu Al-'Aliyah, Ar-Rabl' bin Anas and As-Suddi said that 'misery' used in the Ayah means, 'poverty'. 'Atiyah Al-'Awfi said that 'misery' means, 'paying the tilth (tax). In addition, Ad-Dahhak commented on Allah's statement, Ibn Abi H&tim 1:195, 196. 121 Ibn Abi H&tim 1 :196. Similarly, Allah said, iVerily, I intend to let you draw my sin on yourself as well as yours} (Al-Ma'idah 5:29) meaning, 'You will end up carrying my, and your, mistakes instead of me'.

Thus, the meaning of the Ayah becomes. They went back carrying Allah's anger; Allah's wrath descended on them; they deserved Allah's anger.' Allah's anger that descended on the Children of Israel was a part of the humiliation they earned, because of their defiance of the truth, disbelief in Allah's Ayat and belittling the carriers of Allah's Law i.e. the Prophets and their following. The Children of Israel rejected the Messengers and even killed them. Surely, there is no form of disbelief worse than disbelieving in Allah's Ayat and murdering the Prophets of Allah. Why the Jews were called ‘Yahud’

The Jews are the followers of Prophet Musa, who used to refer to the Tawrah for judgment. Yahud is a word that means, ‘repenting’, just as Musa said, Certainly we have Hudna to You> meaning, we repent to You. This indicates that they were first called Yahud, because they repented and, because they were kind to each other. It was also said that they were called Yahud in reference to Yahuda (Judah) the eldest son of Prophet Ya'qub. Abu ‘Amr bin Al-‘Ala’ said that they were called Yahud, because they swayed when they read the Tawrah.

Why the Christians were called ‘Nasara’

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 249–261]

When “Isa was sent, the Children of Israel were required to follow and obey him. The followers of Isa and his companions are called An-Nasdra, because they gave aid and support to each other. They are also called Ansar (helpers), as ‘Isa said, -iJli jii 4"Who will be my helpers in Allah's cause?" Al-Haivariyyun said : "We are the helpers ofAllah.">(61:14) It was said that they were called ‘Nasara’, because they inhabited a land called An-Nasirah (Nazareth), as Qatadah, Ibn

250 Tafstr Ibn Kathir Jurayj and Ibn ‘Abbas were reported to have said , 11 Allah knows best. Nasara is certainly plural for Nasran. When Allah sent Muhammad as the Last and Final Prophet and Messenger to all of the Children of Adam, mankind was required to believe in him, obey him and refrain from what he prohibited them; those who do this are true believers. The Ummah of Muhammad was called ‘Mu’minin’ (believers), because of the depth of their faith and certainty, and because they believe in all of the previous Prophets and matters of the Unseen. The Sabi’un or Sabians There is a difference of opinion over the identity of the Sabians. Sufyan Ath-Thawri said that Layth bin Abu Sulaym said that Mujahid said that, “The Sabians are between the Majus, the Jews and the Christians. They do not have a specific religion.”*21 Similar is reported from Ibn Abi Najlh .*31 Similar statements were attributed to ‘Ata’ and Said bin Jubayr.*41 They (others) say that the Sabians are a sect among the People of the Book who used to read the Zabur (Psalms), others say that they are a people who worshipped the angels or the stars. It appears that the closest opinion to the truth, and Allah knows best, is Mujahid’s statement and those who agree with him like Wahb bin Munabbih, that the Sabians are neither Jews nor Christians nor MajOs nor polytheists. Rather, they did not have a specific religion that they followed and enforced, because they remained living according to their Fitrah (instinctual nature). This is why the idolators used .to call whoever embraced Islam a ‘Sabi’, meaning, that he abandoned all religions that existed on the earth. Some scholars stated that the Sabians are those who never received a message by any

Prophet. And Allah knows best. pi jJ> C \g% pZK Z \jSL 'jld pi G& pi jJa Jdli Sjli liij'i a oi i it 111 Ar-Razi 3 :97 *21 At-Tabari 2 :146 * Ibid. *41 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :199-200.

There is another report from Ibn 'Abbas saying; The Tur is a type of mountain that vegetation grows on, if no vegetation grows on it, it is not called Tur.' 253Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (50 - 74) (Part-1) The Jews breach the Sanctity ofthe Sabbath Allah said, iAnd indeed you knew}. This Ayah means, O Jews! Remember that Allah sent His torment on the village that disobeyed Him and broke their pledge and their covenant to observe the sanctity of the Sabbath. They began using deceitful means to avoid honoring the Sabbath by placing nets, ropes and artificial pools of water for the purpose of fishing before the Sabbath. When the fish came in abundance on Saturday as usual, they were caught in the ropes and nets for the rest of Saturday. During the night, the Jews collected the fish after the Sabbath ended. When they did that, Allah changed them from humans into monkeys, the animals having the form closest to humans. Their evil deeds and deceit appeared lawful on the surface, but they were in reality wicked. This is why their punishment was compatible with their crime. This story is explained in detail in Surat Al-A'raf, where Allah said (7:163), And ask them (O Muhammad about the town that was by the sea; when they transgressed in the matter of the Sabbath (i.e. Saturday): when their fish came to them openly on the Sabbath day, and did not come to them on the day they had no Sabbath. Thus We made a trial of them, for they used to rebel (disobey Allah).} (7: 163) In his Tafsir, Al-'Awfi reported from Ibn 'Abbas that he said, And We said to them: "Be you monkeys, despised and rejected" means, "Allah changed their bodies into those of monkeys and swines. The young people turned into monkeys while the old people turned into swine." * Shayban An-Nahwi reported that hi Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :210

254 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Qatadah commented on. We said to them: "Be you monkeys, despised and rejected", "These people were turned into howling monkeys with tails, after being men and women."¹¹¹ The Monkeys and Swine that exist now are not the Descendants of Those that were transformed Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Those who violated the sanctity of the Sabbath were turned into monkeys, then they perished without offspring." ¹² Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Allah turned them into monkeys because of their sins. They only lived on the earth for three days, for no transformed person ever lives more than three days. They did not eat, drink or have offspring. Allah transformed their shapes into monkeys, and He does what He wills, with whom He wills and He changes the shape of whomever He wills. On the other hand, Allah created the monkeys, swines and the rest of the creation in the six days (of creation) that He mentioned in His Book."³ Allah's statement, So We made this punishment an example means, Allah made the people of this village, who violated the sanctity of the Sabbath, an example via the way they were punished. Similarly, Allah said about Pharaoh, So Allah, seized him with punishing example for his last and first transgression (79:25). Allah's statement, Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :209 ¹²¹ Ibid. ¹³¹ At-Jabari 2:167.

This Ayah means, "The torment and punishment that this village suffered was a result of indulging in Allah's prohibitions and their deceit. Hence, those who have Taqwa should be aware of their evil behavior, so that what occurred to this village does not befall them as well." Remember how I blessed you with miracle of the cow that was the means for discovering the identity of the murderer, when the murdered man was brought back to life.' Ibn Abi Hatim recorded T Baydah As-Salmani saying, "There was a man from among the Children of Israel who was impotent. He had substantial wealth, and only a nephew who would inherit from him. So his nephew killed him and moved his body at night, placing it at the doorstep of a certain man. The next morning, the nephew cried out for revenge, and the people took up their weapons and almost fought each other. The wise men among them said, 'Why would you kill each other, while the Messenger of Allah is still among you?' So they went to Musa and mentioned the matter to him and Musa said, or, o5P JVi tj. "Had they not disputed, it would have been sufficient for them to slaughter any cow. However, they disputed, and the matter was made more difficult for them, until they ended up looking for the specific cow that they were later ordered to slaughter. They found the designated cow with a man, only who owned that cow. He said, "By Allah! I will only sell it for its skin's fill of gold.' So they paid the cow's fill of its skin in gold, slaughtered it and touched the dead man with a part of it. He stood up, and they asked him, 'Who killed you?' He said, 'That man,' and pointed to his nephew. He died again, and his nephew was not allowed to inherit him. Thereafter, whoever committed murder for the purpose of gaining inheritance was not allowed to inherit." Ibn Jarir reported something similar to that. Allah in Ibn Abi Ratim 1:114.

Also, Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Ayah, 4d^J^i 'j Cj llyi iSo they slaughtered it though they were near to not doing it} means, "They did not want to slaughter it." This means that even after all the questions and answers about the cow's description, the Jews were still reluctant to slaughter the cow. This part of the Qur'an criticized the Jews for their behavior, because their only goal was to be stubborn, and this is why they nearly did not slaughter the cow. Also, 'Ubaydah, Mujahid, Wahb bin Munabbih, Abu Al-'Aliyah and 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said, "The Jews bought the cow with a large amount of money."²¹ There is a difference of opinion over this. Otherwise, Allah would have made it clear for us. Instead, Allah made this matter vague, so this is why we should leave it vague. Allah’s statement, iTltus Allah brings the dead to life^ means, “They struck him with it, and he came back to life.” This Ayah demonstrates Allah’s ability in bringing the dead back to life. Allah made this incident proof against the Jews that the Resurrection shall occur, and ended their disputing and stubbornness over the dead person. Allah mentioned His bringing the dead back to life in five instances in Surat Al-Baqarah. First Allah said, 4j ?¥ 4Then We raised you up after your death}- He then mentioned the story about the cow. Allah also mentioned the story of those who escaped death in their land, while they were numbering in 111 At-Tabari 2 :225 At-Tabari 2:225. 131 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :229

the thousands. He also mentioned the story of the Prophet who passed by a village that was destroyed, the story of Abraham and the four birds, and the land that comes back to life after it has died. All these incidents and stories alert us to the fact that bodies shall again become whole, after they were rotten. The proof of Resurrection is also reiterated in Allah’s statement, eft L»j £ ft ftftj ft % n a* Hf, Jt 9^ 4:$&i£dS $3 kJfl 4And a sign for them is the dead land We give it life, and We bring forth from it grains, so that they eat thereof. However, Ar-Razi, Al-Qurtubi and other Imams said that there is no need for this explanation, because Allah creates this characteristic - humbleness - in stones. For instance, Allah said, iTruly, We did offer Al-Amnah (the trust) to the heavens and the earth, and the mountains, but they declined to bear it and were afraid of it (i.e. afraid of Allah's torment)} (33:72), 4ti iThe seven heavens and the earth and all that is therein, glorify Him (17:44), iAnd the stars and the trees both prostrate themselves (to Allah)} (55:6), 4Have they not observed things that Allah has created: (how) their shadows incline} (16:48), iThey both said: “We come willingly.”} (41:11), iHad We sent down this Qur’an on a mountain} (59:21), and. m Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :233

The scholars of the Arabic language disagreed over the meaning of Allah’s statement, [^] j' {jvf} 4And became as stones or even worse in hardness after agreeing that ‘or’ here is not being used to reflect doubt. Some scholars said that ‘or’ here means, ‘and’. Some other scholars said that this Ayah means their hearts are only of two types, as hard as stone or harder than stone. Further, Ibn Jarir commented that this Tafsir means that some of their hearts are as hard as stone and some hearts are harder than stone.¹¹¹ Ibn Jarir said that he favored this last Tafsir, although the others are plausible. I - Ibn Kathir - say that the last Tafsir is similar to Allah's statement, their likeness is as the likeness of one who kindled a fire (2:17), and then His statement, Or like a rainstorm from the sky (2:19). It is also similar to Allah's statement, As for those who disbelieved, their deeds are like a mirage in a desert (24:39), and then His statement, At-Jabari 2 :236.

267 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (75 - 100) (Part-1) Or (the state of a disbeliever) is like the darkness in a vast deep sea (24:40). $Who know not the Booty meaning, are they not aware of what is in it.' Ummi was one of the descriptions of the Prophet because he was unlettered. For instance, Allah said, 4Neither did you (O Muhammad read any book before it (this Qur'an) nor did you write any book (whatsoever) with your right hand. 283 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (75 - 100) (Part-1) The Terms of the Covenant and their Breach of It Allah criticized the Jews who lived in Al-Madlneh during the time of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ. They used to suffer, because of the armed conflicts between the tribes of Al-Madlneh, Aws and Khazraj. Before Islam, the Aws and Khazraj worshipped idols, and many battles took place between them. There were three Jewish tribes in Al-Madlneh at that time, Banu Qaynuqa and Banu An-Nadlr, the allies of the Khazraj, and Banu Qurayzah, who used to be the allies of the Aws. When war erupted between Aws and Khazraj, their Jewish allies would assist them. The Jew would kill his Arab enemy, and sometimes they also killed Jews who were the allies of the other Arab tribe, although the Jews were prohibited from killing each other according to clear religious texts in their Books. They would also drive each other from their homes and loot whatever furniture and money they could. When the war ended, the victorious Jews would release the prisoners from the defeated party, according to the rulings of the Tawrah. This is why Allah said, {Then do you believe in a part of the Scripture and reject the rest?} Allah said, {And (remember) when We took your covenant (saying) : Shed not the blood of your (people), nor turn out your own people from their dwellings.} meaning, “Do not kill each other, nor expel one another from their homes, nor participate in fighting against them.” Allah mentioned the word ‘your own’ here, just as He said in another Ayah. {So turn in repentance to your Creator and kill yourselves, that will be better for you with your Creator (2:54) because the followers of one religion are just like one soul. Also, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said,

284 Tafstr Ibn Kathir Jj 1 1j L yU* J ^pljLJ jyafr «C. “The example of the believers in their kindness, mercy and sympathy to each other is the example of one body, when an organ of it falls ill, the rest of the body rushes to its aid in fever and sleeplessness.^ Allah’s statement, {Then, (this) you ratified and (to this) you bore witness.} means, “You testified that you know of the covenant and that you were witnesses to it.” jXj \uufi byffe-j Si’p, ^1\ iAfter this, it is you who kill one another and drive out a party of you from their homes}. Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar reported that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on the Ayah, {After this, it is you who kill one another and drive out a party of you from their homes} “Allah mentioned what they were doing, and that in the Tawrah He had prohibited them from shedding each other’s blood, and required them to free their prisoners. Now they were divided into two camps in Al-Madlneh, Banu Qaynuqa*, who were the allies of the Khazraj, and An-Nadir and Qurayzah, who were the allies of the Aws. When fighting erupted between Aws and Khazraj, Banu Qaynuqa* would fight along with the Khazraj, while Banu An-Nadir and Qurayzah would fight along with the Aws. Each Jewish camp would fight against their Jewish brethren from the other camp. They would shed each other’s blood, although they had the Tawrah with them, and they knew their rights and dues. Meanwhile, the Aws and Khazraj were polytheists who worshipped idols. They did not know about Paradise, the Fire, Resurrection, Divine Books the lawful and prohibited. When the war would end, the Jews would ransom their prisoners and implement 111 Muslim 4:1999. 121 Ibn Abi H&tim 1 :261

the Tawrah. Consequently, Banu Qaynuqa' would ransom their prisoners who were captured by the Aws, while Banu An-Nadir and Qurayzah would ransom their prisoners who were captured by the Khazraj. They would also ask for blood money. During these wars, they would kill whomever (Jews or Arabs) they could, while helping the polytheists against their brethren. Therefore, Allah reminded them of this when He said, 'Then do you believe in a part of the Scripture and reject the rest?' ^ This Ayah means, 'Do you ransom them according to the rulings of the Tawrah, yet kill them while the Tawrah forbade you from killing them and from expelling them from their homes? The Tawrah also commanded that you should not aid the polytheists and those who associate with Allah in the worship against your brethren. You do all this to acquire the life of this world.' revealing these Ayat.” These noble Ayat criticized the Jews for implementing the Tawrah sometimes and defying it at other times, although they believed in the Tawrah and knew what they were doing was wrong. This is why they should not be trusted to preserve or convey the Tawrah. Further, they should not be believed when it comes to the description of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, his coming, his expulsion from his land, and his Hijrah, and the rest of the information that the previous Prophets informed them about him, all of which they hid. The Jews, may they suffer the curse of Allah, hid all of these facts among themselves, and this is why Allah said, 'Then what is the recompense of those who do so among you, except disgrace in the life of this world', because they defied Allah's Law and commandments, 44>'i*R$ d! ilia' '{£>} iAnd on the Day of Resurrection tthey shall be consigned to the most grievous torment} as punishment for defying the Book of Allah 287Surah 2. Al-Bagarah (75 - 100) (Part-1 4 Verily, We did reveal the Tawrah (to Musa), therein was guidance and light, by which the Prophets, who submitted themselves to Allah's will, judged for the jews. And the rabbis and the priests (too judged for the Jews by the Tawrah after those Prophets), for to them was entrusted the protection of Allah's Book, and they were witnesses thereto} (5:44). This is why Allah said here, iAnd Qaffayna him with Messengers}. As-Suddi said that Abu Malik said that Qaffayna. means, “Succeeded” , while others said, “Followed”. Both meanings are plausible, since Allah said, l£J (Cj ?) iThen We sent Our Messengers in succession} (23:44). Thereafter, Allah sent the last Prophet among the Children of Israel, Isa the son of Mary, who was sent with some laws that differed with some in the Tawrah. This is why Allah also sent miracles to support ‘Isa. These included bringing the dead back to life, forming the shape of birds from clay and blowing into them, afterwhich they became living birds by Allah’s leave, healing the sick and foretelling the Unseen, as Ibn ‘Abbas stated. 121 Allah also aided him with Rah Al-Qudus, and that refers to Jibril. All of these signs testified to the truthfulness of ‘Isa and what he was sent with. Yet, the Children of Israel became more defiant and envious of him and did not want to differ with even one part of the Tawrah, as Allah said about Isa, (J-i- JJS 0-?%) iAnd to make lawful to you part ofwhat was forbidden to you, and I have come to you with a proof from your Lord} (3:50). All of this occurred because the Prophets used to 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :268. 121 Ibid.

The Prophets also upheld the rulings of the Tawrah that the Jews had changed, and this is why it was difficult for them to believe in these Prophets. So they claimed that they are Allah's sons and loved ones and said, "Only those who are Christian or Jews shall enter Paradise." Therefore, they were called to invoke Allah to destroy the lying group, be it them or the Muslims. When the Jews declined, every one was sure of their wrong, for had they been sure of their claims, then they would have accepted the proposal. Their lies were thus exposed after they declined the offer to invoke the curse. Similarly, the Messenger of Allah jfe called a delegation of Najran's Christians to curse after he refuted them in a debate in which they demonstrated stubbornness and defiance. When the Christians heard this challenge, some of them said to each other, "By Allah! If you do such with this Prophet, none of you will have an eye that blinks." This is when they resorted to peace and gave the Jizyah (tax) in disgrace. The Prophet jg accepted the Jizyah from them and sent Abu 'Ubaydah bin Al-Jarrah with them as a trustee. 303 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (75 - 100) (Part-1) and prolong his deviation." We will mention this subject later, Allah willing. The Mubalahah (invocation to Allah to destroy the liars) was called a 'wish' here, because every just person wishes that Allah destroy the unjust opponent who is debating with him, especially when the just person has a clear, apparent proof for the truth he is calling to. Also, the Mubalahah involves invoking Allah for death of the unjust group, because to disbelievers, life is the biggest prize, especially when they know the evil destination they will meet after death. Disbelievers wish They could live longer This is why Allah said next, iBut they will never long for it because of what their hands have sent before them (i.e.what they have done). 311 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (101 - 124) (Part-1) Proofs of Muhammad's Prophethood Imam Abu Ja'far bin Jarir said that Allah's statement, g W i And indeed We have sent down to you manifest Ayafy means, "We have sent to you, O Muhammad, clear signs that testify to your prophethood." These Ayat are contained in the Book of Allah (Qur'an) which narrates the secrets of the knowledge that the Jews possess, which they hid, and the stories of their earlier generations. The Book of Allah also mentions the texts in the Books of the Jews that are known to only the rabbis and scholars, and the sections where they altered and distorted the rulings of the Tawrah. Since Allah mentioned all of this in His Book revealed to His Prophet Muhammad jg, then this fact alone should be enough evidence for those who are truthful with themselves and who wish to avoid bringing themselves to destruction due to envy and transgression. Further human instinct testifies to the truth that Muhammad sg was sent with and the clear signs that he brought which he did not learn or acquire from mankind. Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said that, 4^ . p.i W i And indeed We have sent down to you manifest Aydfy means, "You recite and convey this Book to them day and night, although you are an Ummi (unlettered) who never read a book. The Jews break Their Covenants When the Messenger of Allah sg was sent and Allah reminded the Jews of the covenant that they had with Him, especially concerning Muhammad jg, Malik bin As-Sayf said, "By Allah! Jews gave up on using the Torah, and took to the Book of Asaf,¹³ and the magic of Harut and Marut, which indeed did not conform to the Qur'an. Hence Allah's statement, 'As if they did not know!'.⁴¹ Also, Qatadah said that Allah's statement, 'As if they did not know' means, "They knew the truth but abandoned it, hid it and denied the fact that they even had it."⁵ At-Tabari 2 :400 > Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :295. ^ Lisan Al-Arab lists Asaf as the name of the Book revealed to the Prophet Sulayman, peace be upon him. would convey this news to the soothsayers, and the soothsayers would in turn convey the news to the people. The people would believe what the soothsayers told them as being true. When the soothsayers trusted the devils, the devils started to lie to them and added other words to the true news that they heard, to the extent of adding seventy false words to each true word. The people recorded these words in some books. Soon after, the Children of Israel said that the Jinns know matters of the Unseen. When Solomon was sent as a Prophet, he collected these books in a box and buried it under his throne; any devil that dared get near the box was burned. Solomon said, 'I will not hear of anyone who says that the devils know the Unseen, but I will cut off his head.' When Solomon died and the scholars who knew the truth about Solomon perished, there came another generation. To them, the devil materialized in the shape of a human and said to some of the Children of Israel, 'Should I lead you to a treasure that you will never be able to use up?' They said. "Yes.' He said, 'Dig under this throne,' and he went with them and showed them Solomon's throne. They said to him, 'Come closer.' He said, 'No. I will wait for you here, and if you do not find the treasure then kill me.' They dug and found the buried books, and Satan said to them, 'Solomon only controlled the humans, devils and birds with this magic.' Thereafter, the news that Solomon was a sorcerer spread among the people, and the Children of Israel adopted these books. When Muhammad came, they disputed with him relying on these books. Hence Allah's statement, 'Laili Uj»

And from these (angels) people learn that by which they cause separation between man and his wife}. There is a difference of opinion regarding this story. It was said that this Ayah denies that anything was sent down to the two angels, as Al-Qurtubi stated and then referred to the Ayah, iSulayman did not disbelieve} saying, "The negation applies in both cases. Allah then said, '4cfe=dl)' Jc Jjli tj iBut the Shayatin (devils) disbelieved, teaching men magic and such things fluff came down at Babylon to the two angels}. However, neither did Solomon disbelieve nor did Allah send magic with the two angels. The devils, on the other hand, disbelieved and taught magic to the people of the Babylon of Harut and Marut.” Ibn Janr continued; “If someone asks about explaining this Ayah in this manner, we say that, vilii& iThey followed what the Sltaydtiti (devils) gave out (falsely) in the lifetime of Sulaymdn means, magic. Solomon neither disbelieved nor did Allah send magic with the two angels. However, the devils disbelieved and taught magic to the people in the Babylon of Harut and Marut, meaning Gabriel and Michael, for Jewish sorcerers claimed that Allah sent magic by the words of Gabriel and Michael to Solomon, son of David. Allah denied this false claim and stated to His Prophet Muhammad jg that Gabriel and Michael were not sent with magic. Allah also exonerated Solomon from practicing magic, which the devils taught to the people of Babylon by the hands of two men, Harut and Marut. Hence, Harut and Marut were two ordinary men (not angels or Gabriel or Michael).”¹²¹ These were the words of At-Tabari, and this explanation is not plausible. Many among the Salaf, said that Harut and Marut were angels who came down from heaven to earth and did what they did as the Ayah stated. To conform this opinion with the fact that the angels are immune from error, we say that Allah had eternal knowledge what these angels would do, just as He At-Tabari 2:419. ¹²¹ Ibid.

And they prostrated except Ibls (Satan), he refused^ (20 :116) and so forth. However, what Harut and Marut did was less evil than what Ibls, may Allah curse him, did. Al-Qurtubi reported this opinion from 'Ali, Ibn Mas'ud, Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn 'Umar, Ka*b Al-Ahbar, As-Suddi and Al-Kalbi. Learning Magic is Kufr Allah said, ^ Vi ilii (ft Cii Vyj aJ iBut neither of these two (angels) taught anyone (such things) till they had said, "We are for trial, so disbelieve not (by learning this magic from us).} Abu Ja'far Ar-Razi said that Ar-Rabi' bin Anas said that Qays bin 'Abbad said that Ibn 'Abbas said, “When someone came to the angels to learn magic, they would discourage him and say to him, *We are only a test, so do not fall into disbelief.’ They had knowledge of what is good and evil and what constitutes belief or disbelief, and they thus knew that magic is a form of disbelief. When the person who came to learn magic still insisted on learning it, they commanded him to go to such and such place, where if he went, Satan would meet him and teach him magic. When this man would learn magic, the light (of faith) would depart him, and he would see it shining (and flying away) in the sky. He would then proclaim, “O my sorrow! Woe unto me! What should I do?.”*2 ' Al-Hasan Al-Basri said that this Ayah means, “The angels were sent with magic, so that the people whom Allah willed would be tried and tested. Allah made them promise that they would not teach anyone until first proclaiming, We are a test  Al-Qurtubi 2 :51 ' Ibn AbiHfitim 1:312.

Surah 2, Al-Baqarah (101 - 124) (Part-1) 317 for you, do not fall into disbelief.' ”1 ' It was recorded by Ibn Abi Hatim. Also, Qatadah said, “Allah took their covenant to not teach anyone magic until they said, We are a test. Therefore, do not fall in disbelief.”121 Also, As-Suddi said, “When a man would come to the two angels they would advise him, ‘Do not fall into disbelief. We are a test.’ When the man would ignore their advice, they would say, ‘Go to that pile of ashes and urinate on it.’ When he would urinate on the ashes, a light, meaning the light of faith, would depart from him and would shine until it entered heaven. Then something black that appeared to be smoke would descend and enter his ears and the rest of his body, and this is Allah’s anger. When he told the angels what happened, they would teach him magic. So Allah’s statement, iBut neither of these two (angels) taught anyone (such things) till they had said, "We are for trial, so disbelieve not (by learning this magic from us) ,^3 Sunayd said that Hajjaj said that Ibn Jurayj commented on this Ayah (2:102), “No one dares practice magic except a disbeliever. As for the Fitnah, it involves trials and freedom of choice.”14 ' The scholars who stated that learning magic is disbelief relied on this Ayah for evidence. They also mentioned the Hadlth that Abu Bakr Al-Bazzar recorded from ‘Abdullah, which states, 1Whoever came to a soothsayer or a sorcerer and believed in what he said, will have disbelieved in what Allah revealed to Muhammad This Hadith has an authentic chain of narration and there are other Haddths which support it. 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 1:310 At-Jabari 2 :443 At-Tabari 2:443. 141 Ibid. ,S| KashafAl-Astar 2 :443

327Siirah 2. Al-Bacjarah (101 - 124) (Part-1) Wall (protector or guardian) nor any helper Allah directed His servants to the fact that He alone is the Owner of His creatures and that He does with them as He wills. Indeed, His is the supreme authority and all creation is His, and just as He created them as He wills, He brings happiness to whom He wills, misery to whom He wills, health to whom He wills and ailment to whom He wills. He also brings success to whom He wills and failure to whom He wills. He judges between His servants as He wills, allows what He wills and disallows what He wills. He decides what He wills, there is no opponent for His judgment, and no one can question Him about what He does, while they shall be questioned. He tests His servants and their obedience to His Messengers by the Naskh. He commands a matter containing a benefit which He knows of, and then He out of His wisdom, prohibits it. Hence, perfect obedience is realized by adhering to His commands, following His Messengers, believing in what ever they convey, implementing their commands and avoiding what they prohibit. The statements of Allah here contain tremendous benefit, prove that the Jews are disbelievers and refute their claim that Naskh does not occur, may Allah curse the Jews. In ignorance and arrogance they claimed that the sound mind stipulates that Naskh does not occur. Some of them falsely claimed that there are divine texts that dismiss the possibility that Naskh occurred. Imam Abu JaTar bin Jarir said, "The Ayah means, 'Do you not know, O Muhammad, that I alone own the heavens and the earth and that I decide whatever I will in them? I forbid whatever I will, change and repeal whatever I will of My previous rulings, whenever I will. I also uphold whatever I will.'" Ibn Jarir then said, "Although Allah directed His statement indicating His greatness towards His Prophet zg,, He also rejected the lies of the Jews who denied that the rulings of the Torah could undergo Naskh. The Jews also denied the prophethood of Jesus and Muhammad, because of their dislike for what they brought from Allah, such as changing some rulings of the Torah, as Allah commanded. Allah thus proclaimed to the Jews that He owns the heavens and earth

328 Tafsir Ibtt Kathir and also all authority in them. Further, the subjects in Allah's kingdom are His creation, and they are required to hear and obey His commands and prohibitions. Allah has full authority to command the creation as He wills, forbidding them from what He wills, abrogate what He wills, uphold what He wills, and decide whatever commandments and prohibitions He wills.”¹¹¹ Ibn Kathir) say that the Jews’ dismissal of the occurrence of the Naskh is only a case of their disbelief and rebellion. The sound mind does not deny that there could be a Naskh in Allah’s commandments, for He decides what He wills, just as He does what He wills. Further, Naskh occurred in previous Books and Law. For instance, Allah allowed Adam to marry his daughters to his sons and then later forbade this practice. Allah also allowed Nuh to eat from all kinds of animals after they left the ark, then prohibited eating some types of foods. Further, marrying two sisters to one man was allowed for Israel and his children, but Allah prohibited this practice later in the Torah. Allah commanded Abraham to slaughter his son, then repealed that command before it was implemented. Also, Allah commanded the Children of Israel to kill those who worshipped the calf and then repealed that command, so that the Children of Israel were not all exterminated. There are many other instances that the Jews admit have occurred, yet they ignore them. Also, it is a well-known fact that their Books foretold about Muhammad ﷺ and contained the command to follow him. These texts, in their Books, indicate that the Jews were required to follow the Prophet Muhammad ﷺ and that no good deed would be accepted from them, unless it conformed to Muhammad’s Law. The Prophet ﷺ brought another Book, - the Qur’an -, which is the last revelation from Allah. s X4 at i3~' (S 3 Oil 4108. This Ayah means, “If you ask about a matter after it is revealed, it shall be duly explained to you. Therefore, do not ask about matters that have not occurred yet, for they might become prohibited, due to your questions.” This is why the Sahah narrated. “The greatest criminal among the Muslims is the one who asks if a thing is prohibited, which is not prohibited, and it becomes prohibited because of his asking about it.” This is why when the Messenger of Allah was asked about a husband who finds another man with his wife; if he exposes the adultery, he will be exposing a major incident; if he is quiet about it, he will be quiet about a major matter. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ did not like such questions. Later on, Allah revealed the ruling of Mul&’anah [Refer to Nur 24:6-9 in the Qur’an). The Two Sahih recorded that Al-Mughirah bin Shu’bah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ “Forbade saying, ‘It was said’ and ‘He said,’ and wasting money and asking many questions.”¹¹ Muslim recorded that the Prophet ﷺ said, IM Fath Al-Bari 3 :398 , and Muslim 3 : 134 1

Therefore, when I command you with a matter, adhere to it as much as you can, and when I forbid from something, avoid it.» The Prophet ﷺ only said this after he told the Companions that Allah has ordered them to perform Hajj. A man asked, “Every year, O Messenger of Allah?” The Prophet ﷺ did not answer him, but he repeated his question three times. Then the Prophet ﷺ said, 'J&~. Therefore, Allah said here, *ji j *jS=»jli Ji.j ffefj j s-Vi -"j" 3"$ i*The Masjids of Allah shall be maintained only by those who believe in Allah and the Last Day; perform the Saldh, and give the Zakdh and fear none but Allah}. Therefore, if those believers who follow the virtues mentioned in the Ayah were prevented from attending the Masjid, then what cause for destruction is worse than this? Maintaining the Masjids not only means beautifying them, but it involves remembering Allah, establishing His Shari'ah in the Masjids and purifying them from the filth of Shirk. The Good News that Islam shall prevail Allah said next, VI ZJLZ c? (3 u JiJf\} it was not fitting that such should themselves enter them (Allah's Masjids) except in fear}. This Ayah means, "Do not allow them - the disbelievers - to enter the Masjids, except to satisfy the terms of an armistice or a treaty." When the Messenger of Allah ^ conquered Makkah in 9 H, he commanded that someone announce at Mina, "After the current year, no idolaters shall perform Hajj, and no naked persons shall perform Tawaf around the House, except for those who have a treaty. In this case, the treaty will be carried to the end of its term." This Ayah supports the Ayah, m Path Al-Bari 3 : 565

It was also said that this Ayah (2:114) carries the good news for the Muslims from Allah that He will allow them to take over Al-Masjid Al-Haram and all the Masjids and disgrace the idolators. Soon after, the Ayah indicated, no idolator shall enter the House, except out of fear of being seized or killed, unless he embraces Islam. Allah fulfilled this promise and later decreed that idolators not be allowed to enter Al-Masjid Al-Haram. The Messenger of Allah sg stated that no two religions should remain in the Arabian Peninsula, and the Jews and Christians should be expelled from it, all praise is due to Allah. All of these rulings ensure maintaining the honor of Al- Masjid Al-Haram and purifying the area where Allah sent His Messenger iH to warn and bring good news to all of mankind, may Allah's peace and blessings be on him. This Ayah also described the disgrace that the disbelievers earn in this life, and that the punishment comes in a form comparable to the deed. Just as they prevented the believers from entering Al-Masjid Al-Haram, they were prevented from entering it in turn. Just as they expelled the believers from Makkah, they were in turn expelled from Makkah, i\y i>»Sf j i*and they will have a great torment in the Hereafter} because they breached the sanctity of the House and brought filth to it by erecting idols all around it, invoking other than Allah and performing Tawaf around it while naked, etc. Here it is worth mentioning the Hadith about seeking refuge from disgrace in this life and the torment of the Hereafter. Messenger of Allah ﷺ and his Companions, who were driven out of Makkah and had to depart from the area of Al-Masjid Al-Haram. In Makkah, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ used to pray in the direction of Bayt Al-Maqdis, while the Ka'bah was between him and the Qiblah. When the Messenger ﷺ migrated to Al-Madinah, he faced Bayt Al-Maqdis for sixteen or seventeen months, and then Allah directed him to face Al-Ka'bah in prayer. This is why Allah said, ^{^ ^} 4And to Allah belong the east and the west, so wherever you turn (yourselves or your faces) there is the Face of Allah (and He is High above, over His Throne)). 'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "The first part of the Qur'an that was abrogated was about the Qiblah. means, obedient. Mujahid also said, “The obedience of the disbeliever occurs when his shadow prostrates, while he hates that.” Mujahid’s statement, which Ibn Jarir preferred, combines all the meanings, and that is that Qunut means obedience and submission to Allah. There are two categories of Qunut legislated and destined, for Allah said, }And unto Allah (alone) falls in prostration whoever is in the heavens and the earth, willingly or unwillingly, and so do their shadows in the mornings and in the (late) afternoons} (13:15). The Meaning ofBadV Allah said, 4The Badf (Originator) of the heavens and the earth.} which means, He created them when nothing resembling them existed. Mujahid and As-Suddi said that this is the linguistic meaning, for all new matters are called Bid'ah. There are two types of Bid'ah, religious, as mentioned in the Hadith: JSj le-Xi jJbLl JS *...every innovation is a Bid'ah and every Bid'ah is heresy. And there is a linguistic Bid'ah, such as the statement of the Leader of the faithful Umar bin Al-Khattab when he gathered the Muslims to pray the Tarawih prayer in congregation (which was also an earlier practice of the Prophet jg) and said, “What a good Bid'ah this is.” Ibn Jarir said, “Thus the meaning of the Ayat (2:116-117) becomes, ‘Allah is far more glorious than to have had a son, m Ibn AbiHStim 1:348. Allah stated that He created the heavens and earth out of nothing and without precedent. Likewise, He created Jesus, the Messiah, with His power and without a father.” This explanation from Ibn Janr, may Allah have mercy upon him, is very good and correct. There are many other Ayat that testify to the disbelief of the Arab idolators, their transgression, stubbornness, and that they asked unnecessary questions out of disbelief and arrogance. The statements of the Arab idolators followed the statements of the nations of the People of the Two Scriptures and other religions before them. Allah said, iThe People of the Scripture (Jews) ask you to cause a book to descend upon them from heaven. Indeed, they asked Musa (Moses) for even greater than that, when they said : "Show us

Allah accepted his supplication, but told him that there will be unjust people among his offspring and they will not benefit from Allah's promise. Thus, they will neither become Imams nor be imitated (for they will not be righteous). The proof that Ibrahim's supplication to Allah was accepted is that Allah said in Surat Al-'Ankabut (29:27), Fath Al-Bari 10:347 and Muslim 1 :222. ^ Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :360.

Therefore, the souls are eager, but never bored, to conduct short visits to the House, even every year. This is because Allah accepted the supplication of His Khalil, Ibrahim, when he asked Allah to make the hearts of people eager to visit the House. Ibrahim said (14:40), iOur Lord! Ibrahim stood on the stone, while Ismail was handing him the stones (constructing the Ka'bah)." ^ As-Suddi said, "The Maqam of Ibrahim is a stone which Ismail's wife put under Ibrahim's feet when washing his head ." 121 Al-Qurtubi mentioned this, but he considered it unauthentic, although others gave it preference, Ar-Razi reported it in his Tafsir from Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Qatadah, and Ar-Rabl' bin Anas . Ibn Abi Hatim reported that Jabir, describing the Hajj (pilgrimage) of the Prophet jg said, "When the Prophet jfe performed Tawaf Umar asked him, Is this the Maqam of our father?' He said, 'Yes.' Umar said, 'Should we take it a place of prayer?' So Allah revealed, Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :371 At-Tabari 3:35. t3 ' Ar-Razi 4 :45

375 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (101 - 124) (Part-1) Hadith that Muslim recorded in Sahih. Al-Bukhari recorded that 'Amr bin Dinar said that he heard Ibn 'Umar say, "The Messenger of Allah jg performed Tawaf around the House seven times and then prayed two Rak'ahs behind the Afagdm." *21 All these texts indicate that the Maqdm is the stone that Ibrahim was standing on while building the House. As the House's walls became higher, Ismail brought his father a stone, so that he could stand on it, while Ismail handed him the stones. Ibrahim would place the stones on the wall, and whenever he finished one side, he would move to the next side, to complete the building all around. Ibrahim kept repeating this until he finished building the House, as we will describe when we explain the story of Ibrahim and Ismail and how they built the House, as narrated from Ibn 'Abbas and collected by Al-Bukhari. Ibrahim's footprints were still visible in the stone, and the Arabs knew this fact during the time of JahiUyyah. This is why Abu Talib said in his poem known as 'Al-Lamiyyah', "And Ibrahim's footprint with his bare feet on the stone is still visible." The Muslims also saw Ibrahim's footprints on the stone, as Anas bin Malik said, "I saw the Maqdm with the print of Ibrahim's toes and feet still visible in it, but the footprints dissipated because of the people rubbing the stone with their hands." Earlier, the Maqdm was placed close to the Ka'bah's wall. In the present time, the Maqdm is placed next to Al-Hijr on the right side of those entering through the door. When Ibrahim finished building the House, he placed the stone next to the wall of Al-Ka'bah. Or, when the House was finished being built, Ibrahim just left the stone where it was last standing, and he was commanded to pray next to the stone when he finished the Tawdf (circumambulating). It is understandable that the Maqdm of Ibrahim would stand where the building of the House ended. The Leader of the faithful "Umar bin Al-Khattab, one of the Four Rightly Guided Caliphs whom we were commanded to emulate, moved the stone away 111 Muslim 2:920. ,2) Fath Al-B&ri 3 :586

from the Ka'bah's wall during his reign. 'Umar is one of the two men, whom the Messenger of Allah described when he said, «Imitate the two men who will come after me: Abu Bakr and 'Umar.» [1] 'Umar was also the person whom the Qur'an agreed with regarding praying next to Maqam of Ibrahim. This is why none

among the Companions rejected it when he moved it. 'Abdur-Razzaq reported from Ibn Jurayj from 'Ata', "Umar bin Al-Khattab moved the Maqam back." Also, 'Abdur-Razzaq narrated that Mujahid said that Umar was the first person who moved the Maqam back to where it is now standing." Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr, Ahmad bin 'Ali bin Al-Husayn Al-Bayhaqi recorded 'A'ishah saying, "During the time of the Messenger of Allah and Abu Bakr, the Maqam was right next to the House. Umar moved the Maqam during his reign." This Hadith has an authentic chain of narration. If anybody argues that fighting in it is permissible on the basis that Allah's Messenger fought in Makkah, say to him, 'Allah allowed His Messenger and did not allow you.' Allah allowed me only for a few hours on that day (of the Conquest), and today its sanctity is valid as it was before. So, those who are present should inform those xoho are absent (concerning this fact). Abu Shurayh was asked, What did 'Amr reply?' He said, ('Amr said) 'O Abu Shurayh! I know better than you about this, the Sacred House does not give protection to a sinner, a murderer or a thief.' This Hadith was collected by Al-Bukhari and Muslim.¹¹¹ After this, there is no contradiction between the Hadlths that stated that Allah made Makkah a sanctuary when He created the heavens and earth and the Hadiths that Ibrahim made it a sanctuary, since Ibrahim conveyed Allah's decree that Makkah is a sanctuary, before he built the House. Similarly, the Messenger of Allah jg was written as the Final Prophet when Adam was still clay. Yet, Ibrahim said, iOur Lord! Send amongst them a Messenger of their own (2:129). Allah accepted Ibrahim's supplication, although He had full knowledge beforehand that it will occur by His decree. To further elaborate on this subject, we should mention the Hadith about what the Messenger of Allah jg said when he was asked, "O Messenger of Allah! Tell us about how your prophethood started." He said, £>-^ jJ iy-il 111 Fath Al-Bari 4 :50, and Muslim 2 :987.

388 Tafeir Ibn KatHir afraid that these good deeds might not be accepted of them. There is an authentic Hadith narrated by 'A'ishah on this subject, which we will mention later, Allah willing. Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Prophet Ibrahim took Ismail and his mother and went away with them until he reached the area of the House, where he left them next to a tree above Zamzam in the upper area of the Masjid. During that time, Ismail's mother was still nursing him. Makkah was then uninhabited, and there was no water source in it. Ibrahim left them there with a bag containing some dates and a water-skin containing water. Ibrahim then started to leave, and Ismail's mother followed him and said, 'O Ibrahim! To whom are you leaving us in this barren valley that is not inhabited?' She repeated the question several times and Ibrahim did not reply. She asked, Has Allah commanded you to do this?' He said, "Yes.' She said, 1 am satisfied that Allah will never abandon us.' Ibrahim left, and when he was far enough away where they could not see him, close to Thaniyyah, he faced the House, raised his hands and supplicated, 6'i£ Jt oiCJ ti\ TZj} 40 our Lord! I have made some ofmy offspring to dwell in an uncultivable valley by Your Sacred House (the Ka'bah at Makkah)} until, iGive thanks} (14:37). Ismail's mother then returned to her place, started drinking water from the water-skin and nursing Ismail. When the water was used up, she and her son became thirsty. She looked at him, and he was suffering from thirst; she left, because she disliked seeing his face in that condition. She found the nearest mountian to where she was, As-Safa, ascended it and looked, in vain, hoping to see somebody. When she came down to the valley, she raised her garment and ran, just as a tired person runs, until she reached the Al- Marwah mountain. In vain, she looked to see if there was someone there. She ran to and fro (between the two mountains) seven times.” Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Messenger

389 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (125 - 149) (Part-1) of Allah jg said, “This is why the people make the trip between As-Safa and Al-Marwah (during Hajj and Umrah).” “When she reached Al-Marwah, she heard a voice and said, ‘Shush,’ to herself. She tried to hear the voice again and when she did, she said, ‘I have heard you. Do you have relief?’ She found the angel digging with his heel (or his wing) where Zamzam now exists, and the water gushed out. Ismail’s mother was astonished and started digging, using her hand to transfer water to the water-skin.” Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Prophet jg then said, “May Allah grant His mercy to the mother of Ismail, had she left the water, (flow naturally without her intervention), it would have been flowing on the surface of the earth.” “Ismail’s mother started drinking the water and her milk increased for her child. The angel (Gabriel) said to her, ‘Do not fear abandonment. There shall be a House for Allah built here by this boy and his father. Allah does not abandon His people.’ During that time, the area of the House was raised above ground level and the floods used to reach its right and left sides. Afterwards some people of the tribe of Jurhum, passing through Kada’, made camp at the bottom of the valley. They saw some birds, they were astonished, and said, ‘Birds can only be found at a place where there is water. We did not notice before that this valley had water.’ They sent a scout or two who searched the area, found the water, and returned to inform them about it. Then they all went to Ismail’s mother, next to the water, and said, ‘O Mother of Ismail! Will you allow us to be with you (or dwell with you)?’ She said, “Yes. But you will have no exclusive right to the water here.’ They said, “We agree.” Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Prophet sg said, “At that time, Ismail’s mother liked to have human company.” “And thus they stayed there and sent for their relatives to join them. Later on, her boy reached the age of puberty and married a lady from them, for Ismail learned Arabic from them, and they liked the way he was raised. Ismail’s mother died after that. Then an idea occurred to Abraham to visit his dependents. So he left (to Makkah). When he arrived, he did not find Ismail, so he asked his wife about him. She said, *He has

390 Tafsir Urn Kathir gone out hunting.’ When he asked her about their living conditions, she complained to him that they live in misery and poverty. Abraham said (to her), When your husband comes, convey my greeting and tell him to change the threshold of his gate.’ When Ismail came, he sensed that they had a visitor and asked his wife, ‘Did we have a visitor?’ She said, “Yes. An old man came to visit us and asked me about you, and I told him where you were. He also asked about our condition, and I told him that we live in hardship and poverty.’ Ismail said, ‘Did he ask you to do anything?’ She said, ‘Yes. He asked me to convey his greeting and that you should change the threshold of your gate.’ Ismail said to her, He was my father and you are the threshold, so go to your family (i.e. you are divorced).’ So he divorced her and married another woman. Again Ibrahim thought of visiting his dependents whom he had left (at Makkah). Ibrahim came to Ismail’s house, but did not find Ismail and asked his wife, Where is Ismail?’ Ismail’s wife replied, He has gone out hunting.’ He asked her about their condition, and she said that they have a good life and praised Allah. Ibrahim asked, What is your food and what is your drink?’ She replied, ‘Our food is meat and our drink is water.’ He said, ‘O Allah! Bless their meat and their drink.’” The Prophet (Muhammad jfe) said, “They did not have crops then, otherwise Ibrahim would have invoked Allah to bless that too. Those who do not live in Makkah cannot bear eating a diet only containing meat and water.” “Ibrahim said, When Ismail comes back, convey my greeting to him and ask him to keep the threshold of his gate.' When Ismail came back, he asked, 'Has anyone visited us.' She said, 'Yes. A good looking old man,' and she praised Ibrahim, 'And he asked me about our livelihood and I told him that we live in good conditions.' He asked, 'Did he ask you to convey any message?' She said, 'Yes. He conveyed his greeting to you and said that you should keep the threshold of your gate.' Ismail said, 'That was my father, and you are the threshold; he commanded me to keep you.' Ibrahim then came back visiting and found Ismail behind the Zamzam well, next to a tree, mending his arrows. When he saw Ibrahim, he stood up and they greeted each other, just as 391 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (125 - 149) (Part-1) the father and son greet each other. Ibrahim said, 'O Ismail, Your Lord has ordered me to do something.' He said, 'Obey your Lord.' He asked Ismail, 'Will you help me?' He said, 'Yes, I will help you.' Ibrahim said, 'Allah has commanded me to build a house for Him there,' and he pointed to an area that was above ground level. So, both of them rose and started to raise the foundations of the House. Abraham started building (the Ka'bah), while Ismail continued handing him the stones. Both of them were saying, 'O our Lord ! Accept (this service) from us, Verily, You are the Hearing, the Knowing.' (2.127).” Hence, they were building the House, part by part, going around it and saying, 'O our Lord! Accept (this service) from us. Verily, You are the Hearer, the Knower.' The Messenger of Allah was sent as Prophet In his Sirah, Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar said, “When the Messenger of Allah reached thirty-five years of age, the Quraysh gathered to rebuild the Ka'bah, this included covering it with a roof. However, they were weary of demolishing it. During that time, the Ka'bah was barely above a man's shoulder, so they wanted to raise its height and build a ceiling on top. Some people had stolen the Ka'bah's treasure beforehand, which used to be in a well in the middle of the Ka'bah. The treasure was later found with a man called, Duwayk, a freed servant of Bani Mulayh bin 'Amr, from the tribe of Khuza'ah. The Quraysh cut off his hand as punishment. Some people claimed that those who actually stole the treasure left it with Duwayk. Afterwards, the sea brought a ship that belonged to a Roman merchant to the shores of Jeddah, where it washed-up. So they collected the ship's wood to use it for the Ka'bah's ceiling; a Coptic carpenter in Makkah prepared what they needed for the job. When they decided to begin the demolition process to rebuild 111 Fath Al-Bari 6:456.

392 Tafstr Ibn Katlir the House, Abu Wahb bin 'Amr bin 'A'idh bin 'Abd bin Imran bin Makhzum took a stone from the Ka'bah, the stone slipped from his hand and went back to where it had been. He said, 'O people of Quraysh! Do not spend on rebuilding the House, except from what was earned from pure sources. No money earned from a prostitute, usury or injustice should be included.’” Ibn Ishaq commented here that the people also attribute these words to Al-Walid bin Al-Mughirah bin 'Abdullah bin 'Amr bin Makhzum. Ibn Ishaq continued, “The Quraysh began to organize their efforts to rebuild the Ka'bah, each subtribe taking the responsibility of rebuilding a designated part of it. However, they were still weary about bringing down the Ka'bah. Al-Walid bin Al-Mughirah said, 'I will start to bring it down.' He held an ax and stood by the Ka'bah and said, 'O Allah! No harm is meant. O Allah! We only seek to do a good service.' He then started to chop the House's stones. The people waited that night and said, 'We will wait and see. If something strikes him, we will not bring it down and instead rebuild it the way it was. If nothing happens to him, then Allah will have agreed to what we are doing.' The next morning, Al-Walid went to work on the Ka'bah, and the people started bringing the Ka'bah down with him. When they reached the foundations that Ibrahim built, they uncovered green stones that were above each other, just like a pile of spears.” Ibn Ishaq then said that some people told him, “A man from Quraysh, who was helping rebuild the Ka'bah, placed the shovel between two of these stones to pull them up; when one of the stones was moved, all of Makkah shook, so they did not dig up these stones.”¹² The Dispute regarding Who should place the Black Stone in Its Place Ibn Ishaq said, “The tribes of Quraysh collected stones to rebuild the House, each tribe collecting on their own. They started rebuilding it, until the rebuilding of the Ka'bah reached the point where the Black Stone was to be placed in  Ibn Hisham 1 :204. * Ibn Hisham 1 :207

393 Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (125 - 149) (Part-1) its designated site. A dispute erupted between the various tribes of Quraysh, each seeking the honor of placing the Black Stone for their own tribe. The dispute almost led to violence between the leaders of Quraysh in the area of the Sacred House. Banu ‘Abd Ad-Dar and Banu ‘Adi bin Ka'b bin Lu'ay, gave their mutual pledge to fight until death. However, five or four days later, Abu Umayyah bin Al-Mughlah bin ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr bin Makhzum, the oldest man from Quraysh then intervened at the right moment. Abu Umayyah suggested that Quraysh should appoint the first man to enter the House from its entrance to be a mediator between them. They agreed. The Messenger - Muhammad sg - was the first person to enter the House. When the various leaders of Quraysh realized who the first one was, they all proclaimed, This is Al-Amin (the Honest one). We all accept him; This is Muhammad.’ When the Prophet sg reached the area where the leaders were gathering and they informed him about their dispute, he asked them to bring a garment and place it on the ground. He placed the Black Stone on it. He then requested that each of the leaders of Quraysh hold the garment from one side and all participate in lifting the Black Stone, moving it to its designated area. Next, the Prophet jg carried the Black Stone by himself and placed it in its designated position and built around it. The Quraysh used to call the Messenger of Allah ‘Al-Amin’ even before the revelation came to him.” Ibn Az-Zubayr rebuilds Al-Ka'bah the way the Prophet wished Ibn Ishaq said, “During the time of the Prophet 3g, the Ka'bah was eighteen cubits high and was covered with Egyptian linen, and they with a striped garment. Al-Hajjaj bin Yusuf was the first person to cover it with silk.” ’ The Ka'bah remained the same way the Quraysh rebuilt it, until it was burned during the reign of ‘Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr, after the year 60 H, at the end of the reign of Yazid bin Mu'awiyah. During that time, Ibn Az-Zubayr was besieged at Makkah. When it was burned, Ibn Az-Zubayr brought the Ka'bah down and built it upon the foundations of Ibrahim, including the Hijr m Ibn Hisham 1 :21 1 in it. He also made an eastern door and a western door in the Ka'bah and placed them on ground level. He had heard his aunt ‘A'ishah, the Mother of the believers, narrate that the Messenger of Allah jg had wished that. The Ka'bah remained like this throughout his reign, until Al-Hajjaj killed Ibn Az-Zubayr and then rebuilt it the way it was before, by the order of ‘Abdul-Malik bin Marwan. Muslim recorded that ‘Ata’ said, “The House was burnt during the reign of Yazid bin Mu'awiyah, when the people of Ash-Sham raided Makkah. Ibn Az-Zubayr did not touch the House until the people came for Hajj, for he wanted to incite them against the people of Ash-Sham. He said to them, ‘O people! Advise me regarding the Ka'bah, should we bring it down and rebuild it, or just repair the damage it sustained?’ Ibn ‘Abbas said, I have an opinion about this. You should rebuild the House the way it was when the people became Muslims. You should leave the stones that existed when the people became Muslims and when the Prophet jg was sent.’ Ibn Az-Zubayr said, If the house of one of them gets burned, he will not be satisfied, until he rebuilds it. How about Allah's House? I will invoke my Lord for three days and will then implement what I decide.' When the three days had passed, he decided to bring the Ka'bah down. The people hesitated to bring it down, fearing that the first person to climb on the House would be struck down. A man went on top of the House and threw some stones down, and when the people saw that no harm touched him, they started doing the same. They brought the House down to ground level. Ibn Az-Zubayr surrounded the site with curtains hanging from pillars, so that the House would be covered, until the building was erect. Ibn Az-Zubayr then said, 'I heard 'A'ishah say that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, 'It is better for the people to bring the House down than to see it destroyed. If it was not for the fact that the people have recently abandoned disbelief, and that I do not have enough money to spend on it, I would have included in the House five cubits from Al-Hijr and would have made a door for it that people could enter from, and another door that they could exit from. Ibn Az-Zubayr said, 'I can spend on this job, and I do not fear the people.' So he added five cubits from the Hijr, which looked like a rear part for the House that people could clearly see. He then built the House and made it eighteen cubits high. He thought that the House was still short and added ten cubits in the front and built two doors in it, one as an entrance and another as an exit. When Ibn Az-Zubayr was killed, Al-Hajjaj wrote to 'Abdul- Malik bin Marwan asking him about the House and told him that Ibn Az-Zubayr made a rear section for the House. 'Abdul- Malik wrote back, 'We do not agree with Ibn Az-Zubayr's actions. As for the Ka'bah's height, leave it as it is. As for what he added from the Hijr, bring it down, and build the House as it was before and close the door.' Therefore, Al-Hajjaj brought down the House and rebuilt it as it was." * In his Sunan, An-Nasa'i collected the Hadith of the Prophet narrated from 'A'ishah, not the whole story, The correct Sunnah conformed to Ibn Az-Zubayr's actions, because this was what the Prophet wished he could do, but feared that the hearts of the people who recently became Muslim could not bear rebuilding the House. This Sunnah was not clear to 'Abdul-Malik bin Marwan. Hence, when 'Abdul- Malik realized that 'A'ishah had narrated the Hadith of the Messenger of Allah[^] on this subject, he said, "I wish we had left it as Ibn Az-Zubayr had made it." Muslim recorded that 'Ubaydullah bin 'Ubayd said that Al-Harith bin 'Abdullah came to 'Abdul-Malik bin Marwan during his reign. 'Abdul- Malik said, 'I did not think that Abu Khubayb (Ibn Az-Zubayr) heard from 'A'ishah what he said he heard from her.' Al-Harith said, 'Yes he did. I heard the Hadith from her.' 'Abdul-Malik said, 'You heard her say what?' He said, 'She said that the Messenger of Allah said, ijSjj i* jLfijLf*- ljsf u Muslim 2:970. 121 An-Nasa'i 5:218.

If your people afterwards think about rebuilding it, let me show you what they left out of it.’ He showed her around seven cubits.’ One of the narrators of the Hadith, Al-Walid bin ‘Ata’, added that the Prophet said, ‘If I had wanted, I would have made two doors for the House on ground level, one eastern and one western. Do you know why your people raised its door above ground level?’ She said, ‘No.’ He said, ‘To allow only those whom they wanted to enter it. When a man whom they did not wish to enter the House climbed to the level of the door, they would push him down.’ ‘Abdul-Malik then said, ‘You heard ‘A’ishah say this Hadith?’ He said, ‘Yes.’ ‘Abdul-Malik said, ‘I wish I left it as it was.’! This accepted supplication, from Ibrahim, conformed with Allah's appointed destiny that Muhammad be sent as a Messenger among the Ummiyyin and to all non-Arabs, among the Jinns and mankind. Hence, Ibrahim was the first person to mention the Prophet S§ to the people. Ever since, Muhammad jfe was known to the people, until the last Prophet was sent among the Children of Israel, Jesus the son of Mary, who mentioned Muhammad m, by name. Jesus addressed the Children of Israel saying, 41 am the Messenger of Allah tinto you, confirming what is before me in the Tawrah, and giving glad tidings of a Messenger to come after me, ivhose name shall be Ahmad^ (61 :6) This is why the Prophet sfe said , "The supplication of my father Ibrahim and the glad tidings broughtforth by Jesus the son of Mary, »(11 The Prophet% said. The light mentioned in the Hadith appeared in Ash-Sham (Greater Syria), testifying to what will later occur when the Prophet's religion will be firmly established in Ash-Sham area. This is why by the end of time, Ash-Sham will be a refuge for Islam and its people. Also, Jesus the son of Mary will descend in Ash-Sham, next to the eastern white minaret in Damascus. Or, the Ayah might be referring to Ibrahim's words, 41 have submitted myself (as a Muslim) to the Lord of the 'Alamitt (mankind, Jinn and all that exists)}. This means that these Prophets loved these words so much that they preserved them until the time of death and advised their children to adhere to them after them. Allah then criticized them in the claim that Ibrahim, the Prophets who came after him and the Asbat were following their religion, whether Judaism or Christianity. Allah said, f pk 4 Say, "Do you know better or does Allah?") meaning, Allah has the best knowledge and He stated that they were neither Jews, nor Christians. Similarly, Allah said in the Ayah, Ibrahim was neither a Jew nor a Christian, but he was a true Muslim Hanifa (to worship none but Allah alone) and he was the follower of Al-Mushrikun (3:67) and the following Ayat. Allah also said, 4And who is more unjust than he who conceals the testimony he has from Allah? (2:140). Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, "They used to recite the Book of Allah He sent to them that stated that the true religion is Islam and that Muhammad is the Messenger of Allah. Their Book also stated that Ibrahim, Ismail, Ishaq, Ya'qub and the tribes were neither Jews, nor Christians. They testified to these facts, yet hid them from the people. Allah's statement, ii' iAnd Allah is not unaware of what you do$, is a threat and a warning that His knowledge encompasses every one's deeds, and He shall award each accordingly. Allah then said, Is it that was a nation who has passed away meaning, existed before you, i) that they shall receive the reward of what they earned, and you of what you earn. $ meaning, they bear their deeds while you bear yours, iAnd you will not be asked of what they used to do) meaning, the fact that you are their relatives will not suffice, unless you imitate their good deeds. Further, do not be deceived by the fact that you are their descendants, unless you imitate them in obeying Allah's orders and following His Messengers who were sent as warners and bearers of good news. Indeed, whoever disbelieves in even one Prophet, will have disbelieved in all the Messengers, especially if one disbelieves in the master and Final Messenger from Allah, the Lord of the worlds, to all mankind and the Jinns. Surely, We shall turn you to a Qiblah (prayer direction) that shall please you, so turn your face in the direction of Al-Masjid Al-Haram (at Makkah). (2:144) A man from among the Muslims then said, "We wish we could know about those among us who died before the Qiblah was changed (i.e., towards Makkah) and also about our own prayers, that we had performed towards Bayt Al-Maqdis." Allah then revealed: 4And Allah would never make your faith (prayers) to be lost. (2:143) The fools among the people, meaning the People of the Scripture (Jews and Christians), said, "What made them change the former Qiblah that they used to face?" Allah then revealed: 4The fools (idolators, hypocrites, and Jews) among the people will say... until the end of the Ayah.]] ‘Ali bin Abu Talhah related that Ibn ‘Abbas said: When Allah’s Messenger jg migrated to Al-Madlnah, Allah commanded him to face Bayt Al-Maqdis (Jerusalem). The Jews were delighted then. Allah’s Messenger jfe faced Jerusalem for over ten months. However, he liked (to offer prayer in the direction of) Prophet Ibrahim’s Qiblah (the Ka’bah in Makkah) and used to supplicate to Allah and kept looking up to the sky (awaiting Allah’s command in this regard). Allah then revealed: 4&&& 4turn yourfaces (in prayer) in that direction meaning, its direction. The Jews did not like this change and said, “What made them change the Qiblah that they used to face (meaning Jerusalem)?” Allah revealed: Al-Qurtubi 3:133.

iSay (O Muhammad : "To Allah belong both, east and the west. He guides whom He wills to the straight way There are several other Ahadith on this subject. In summary, Allah’s Messenger sg was commanded to face Bayt Al-Maqdis (during the prayer) and he used to offer prayer towards it in Makkah between the two comers (of Ka’bah), so that the Ka’bah would be between him and Bayt Al-Maqdis8. When the Prophet jg migrated to Al-Madinah, this practice was no longer possible; then Allah commanded him to offer prayer towards Bayt Al-Maqdis, as Ibn Abbas and the majority of the scholars have stated. Al-Bukhari reported in his Sahih that the news (of the change of Qiblah) was conveyed to some of the Ansar while they were performing the ‘Asr (Afternoon) prayer towards Bayt Al-Maqdis, upon hearing that, they immediately changed their direction and faced the Ka’bah . It is reported in the Sahihayn (Al-Bukhari & Muslim) that Ibn ‘Umar narrated: While the people were in Quba’ (Mosque) performing the Fajr (Dawn) prayer, a man came and said, “A (part of the) Qur’an was revealed tonight to Allah’s Messenger jg and he was commanded to face the Ka’bah. Therefore, face the Ka’bah. They were facing Ash-Sham, so they turned towards the Ka’bahP These Hadiths prove that the Nasikh (a Text that abrogates a previous Text) only applies after one acquires knowledge of it, even if the Nasikh had already been revealed and announced. This is why the Companions mentioned above were not commanded to repeat the previous ‘Asr, Maghrib and ‘Isha’ prayers (although they had prayed them towards Jerusalem after Allah had changed the Qiblah). Allah knows best. When the change of Qiblah (to Ka’bah in Makkah) occurred, those inflicted with hypocrisy and mistrust, and the disbelieving Jews, both were led astray from the right guidance and fell into confusion. They said: 9?&*& u> 111 At-Tabari 3:138. I2 ' Al-Bukhari no. 399. These people were from the tribe of Banu Salamah Fath Al-B&ri 8 :24 , and Muslim 1 :375

421Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (125 - 149) (Part-2) iWhat has turned them (Muslims) from their Qiblah to which they used toface in prayer. ^ They asked, “What is the matter with these people (Muslims) who one time face this direction (Jerusalem), and then face that direction (Makkah)?” Allah answered their questions when He stated: iSay (O Muliammad jg); "To Allah belong both, east and the west meaning, the command, the decision and the authority are for Allah Alone. Hence: 4 ...so wherever you turn (yourselves or your faces) there is the Face of Allah (and He is High above, over His Throne).} (2:115), and: 4?*^ J ie jf l$ j \jy o' 'Jf Jj’4 4 It is not Al-Birr (piety, righteousness) that you turn your faces towards east and (or) west (in prayers); but Al-Birr is the one who believes in Allah.} (2:177) This statement means, the best act is to adhere to Allah’s commands. Hence, wherever He commands us to face, we should face. Also, since obedience requires implementing Allah’s commands, if He commands us every day to face different places, we are His servants and under His disposal, and we face whatever He orders us to face. Certainly, Allah’s care and kindness towards His servant and Messenger,

Muhammad sg, and certainly, his Ummah (Muslim nation) is profoundly great. Allah has guided them to the Qiblah of (Prophet) Ibrahim - Allah's Khalil (intimate friend). He has commanded them to face the Ka'bah, the most honorable house (of worship) on the face of the earth, which was built by Ibrahim Al-Khalil in the Name of Allah, the One without a partner. This is why Allah said afterwards:

iSay (O Muhammad tg) : "To Allah belong both, east and the west. He guides whom He wills to the straight way ") Imam Ahmad reported that 'A'ishah (the Prophet's wife) said that Allah's Messenger tg said about the People of the Scripture (Jews and Christians): U>- l5J}S l_JUj t#J ill Ulil l iiliJl 14^ Ijbi "They do not envy us for a matter more than they envy us for Jumu'ah (Friday) to which Allah has guided us and from which they were led astray; for the (true) Qiblah to which Allah has directed us and from which they were led astray ; and for our saying 'Amin' behind the Imam (leader of the prayer) .»•• The Virtues of Muhammad's Nation Allah said: *<K£ u£j liip&r4m i*Thus We have made you [true Muslims], a Wasat (just) (and the best) nation, that you be witnesses over mankind and the Messenger (Muhammad tg) be a witness over you.) Allah stated that He has changed our Qiblah to the Qiblah of Ibrahim and chose it for us so that He makes us the best nation ever. Hence, we will be the witnesses over the nations on the Day of Resurrection, for all of them will then agree concerning our virtue. The word Wasat in the Ayah means the best and the most honored. Therefore, saying that (the Prophet's tribe) Quraysh is in the Wasat regarding Arab tribes and their areas, means the best. Similarly, saying that Allah's Messenger was in the Wasat of his people, means he was from the best subtribe. Also, 'Asr, the prayer that is described as Wusfa' (a variation of the word Wasat), means the best prayer, as the authentic collections of Ahadith reported. Since Allah made this Ummah (Muslim nation) the Wasaf, He has endowed her with the most complete legislation, the best m Ahmad 6 :134.

It is they who believe that Allah does what He wills, decides what He wills, commands His servants with what He wills, abrogates any of His commands that He wills, and that He has the perfect wisdom and the unequivocal proof in all this. (The attitude of the believers in this respect is) unlike those who have a disease in their hearts, to whom whenever a matter occurs, it causes doubts, just as this same matter adds faith and certainty to the believers. Similarly, Allah said: I <<3 & kj Ztj plaS jjj J di pT ,!> 4 }And whenever there comes down a Surah (chapter from the Qur'an), some of them (hypocrites) say: "Which ofyou has had his faith increased by it?" Some scholars stated that the Early Migrants

Al-Bukhari reported in the explanation of the Ayah (2:143) that Ibn Umar narrated: While the people were performing the Fajr (Dawn) prayer in the Quba' Mosque, a man came and said, "Qur'an was revealed to the Prophet and he was ordered to face the Ka'bah. The First Abrogation in the Qur'an was about the Qiblah 'Ali bin Abu Talhah related that Ibn 'Abbas narrated: The first abrogated part in the Qur'an was about the Qiblah. When Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) migrated to Al-Madinah, the majority of its people were Jews, and Allah commanded him to face Bayt Al-Maqdis. The Jews were delighted then. Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) faced it for ten and some months, but he liked to face the Qiblah of Ibrahim (Ka'bah in Makkah). This ruling concerning the Qiblah is also the opinion of Abu Al-'Aliyah, Mujahid, Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Qatadah, Ar-Rabi' bin Anas and others.'2' Allah's Statement: 4 And wheresoever you people are, turn your faces (in prayer) in that direction $ is a command from Allah to face the Ka'bah from wherever one is on the earth: the east, west, north or south. The exception is of the voluntary prayer {Nafl) while one is traveling, for one is allowed to offer it in any direction his body is facing, while his heart is intending the Ka'bah. Also, when the battle is raging, one is allowed to offer prayer, however he is able. Also, included are those who are not sure of the direction and offer prayer in the wrong direction, thinking that it is the direction of the Qiblah, because Allah does not burden a soul beyond what it can bear. The Jews had Knowledge that the (Muslim) Qiblah would later be changed Allah stated that: "" Al-Mustadrak 2 :269 Ibn Abi Hatim 1:107-109.

The Jews read in their Books their Prophets' description of Allah's Messenger and his Ummah, and that Allah has endowed and honored him with the complete and honorable legislation. In another instance, Allah said:

Allah's statement: 4 . . .nor are you going to follow their Qiblah $>, indicates the vigor with which Allah's Messenger jg implements what Allah commanded him. Allah's statement also indicates that as much as the Jews adhere to their opinions and desires, the Prophet sg adheres by Allah's commands, obeying Him and following what pleases Him, and that he would never adhere to their desires in any case. Hence, praying towards Bayt Al-Maqdis was not because it was the Qiblah of the Jews, but because Allah had commanded it. Why was changing the Qiblah mentioned thrice?

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 436–447]

This is a third command from Allah to face Al-Masjid Al- Haram (the Sacred Mosque) from every part of the world (during prayer). It was said that Allah mentioned this ruling again here because it is connected to whatever is before and whatever is after it. Hence, Allah first said: y^ / •/ // # J ^ # t ^ v i Verily, We have seen the turning of your (Muhammad's) face to wards the heaven. Surely, We shall turn you to a Qiblah (prayer direction) that shall please you) (2:144), until: (lie. Jiytf Uj p-fcd OylLd wACii iCertainly, the people who were given the Scripture (i.e., feius and the Christians) knozv well that, that (your turning towards the direction of the Ka'bah at Makkah in prayers) is the truth from their Lord. And Allah is not unaware of what they do.) (2:144) Allah mentioned in these Ayat His fulfillment of the Prophet’s wish and ordered him to face the Qiblah that he liked and is pleased with. In the second command, Allah said: tit eUj ^ A A-* e.- jti) / ">«*•£ . •'S’ iAnd from wheresoever you start forth (for prayers), turn your face in the direction of Al-Masid Al-Haram that is indeed the truth from your Lord. And Allah is not unaware of what you do.) Therefore, Allah states here that changing the Qiblah is also the truth from Him, thus upgrading the subject more than in the first Ayah, in which Allah agreed to what His Prophet had wished for. Thus Allah states that this is also the truth from Him that He likes and is pleased with. In the third command, Allah refutes the Jewish assertion that the Prophet M faced their Qiblah, as they knew in their Books that the Prophet gg will later on be commanded to face the Qiblah of Ibrahim, the Ka'bah. The Arab disbelievers had no more argument concerning the Prophet's Qiblah after Allah commanded the Prophet gg to face the Qiblah of Ibrahim, which is more respected and honored, rather than the Qiblah of the Jews. The Arabs used to honor the Ka'bah and liked the fact that the Messenger gs was commanded to face it. The Wisdom behind abrogating the Previous Qiblah Allah said: $...so that men may have no argument against you ^ Therefore, the People of the Book knew from the description of the Muslim Ummah that they would be ordered to face the Ka'bah. If the Muslims did not fit this description, the Jews would have used this fact against the Muslims. If the Muslims had remained on the Qiblah of Bayt Al-Maqdis, which was also the Qiblah of the Jews, this fact could have been used as the basis of argument by the Jews against other people. Allah's Statement: irk iAi 4 . . .except those of them that are wrongdoers, indicates the Mushrikin (polytheists) of Quraysh. The reasoning of these unjust persons was the unsound statement: "This man (Muhammad) claims that he follows the religion of Ibrahim! Hence, if his facing Bayt Al-Maqdis was a part of the religion of Ibrahim, why did he change it?" The answer to this question is that Allah has chosen His Prophet gg to face Bayt Al-Maqdis first for certain wisdom, and he obeyed Allah regarding this command. Then, Allah changed the Qiblah to the Qiblah of Ibrahim, which is the Ka'bah, and he also obeyed Allah in this command. He, obeys Allah in all cases and never engages in the defiance of Allah even for an instant, and his Ummah imitates him in this.

Allah said: 4...so fear them not, but fear Me!} meaning: 'Do not fear the doubts that the unjust, stubborn persons raise and fear Me Alone.' Indeed, Allah Alone deserves to be feared. Allah said: 4&&& } 4...so that I may complete My blessings on you.} This Ayah relates to Allah's statement: j£& jjUjj, •h,} .so that men may have no argument against you}, meaning: I will perfect My bounty on you by legislating for you to face the Ka'bah, so that the (Islamic) Shari'ah (law) is complete in every respect. Therefore remember Me (by praying, glorifying). I will remember you, and be grateful to Me (for My countless favors on you) and never be ungrateful to Me.}

Muhammad's Prophecy is a Great Bounty from Allah Allah reminds His believing servants with what He has endowed them with by sending Muhammad as a Messenger to them, reciting to them Allah's clear Ayat and purifying and cleansing them from the worst types of behavior, the ills of the souls and the acts of JdhUiyyah (pre-Islamic era). The Messenger 3§ also takes them away from the darkness (of disbelief) to the light (of faith) and teaches them the Book, the Qur'an, and the Hikmah (i.e., the wisdom), which is his Sunnah. He also teaches them what they knew not. During the time of JdhUiyyah, they used to utter foolish statements. Later on, and with the blessing of the Prophet's Message and the goodness of his prophecy, they were elevated to the status of the Awliya' (loyal friends of Allah) and the rank of the scholars. Hence, they acquired the deepest knowledge among the people, the most pious hearts, and the most truthful tongues. Allah said: 'aM i j >' * f. ->i Scuiifi .U ill ilIndeed, Allah conferred a great favor on the believers when He sent among them a Messenger (Muhammad from among themselves, reciting unto them His verses (the Qur'an), and purifying them (from sins).} (3:164) Allah also criticized those who did not give this bounty its due consideration, when He said: 4 r J,* $ illi ijlje j) J fi\} iHave you not seen those who have changed the favors of Allah into disbelief (by denying Prophet Muhammad and his Message of Islam), and caused their people to dwell in the house of destruction?} (14:28) Ibn 'Abbas commented, "Allah's favor means Muhammad."*11 Therefore, Allah has commanded the believers to affirm this favor and to appreciate it by thanking and remembering Him: ^Therefore, remember Me. And say not of those who are killed in the way of Allah, "They are dead." Nay, they are living, but you perceive (it) not.} The Virtue of Patience and Prayer After Allah commanded that He be appreciated, He ordained patience and prayer. It is a fact that the servant is either enjoying a bounty that he should be thankful for, or suffering a calamity that he should meet with patience. A Hadith states: 015 yojj oiio oi : *J 'js- N) *tAt» ^ t-j 'fj- ois oLii olj d oAmazing is the believer, for whatever Allah decrees for him, it is better for him! If he is tested with a bounty, he is grateful for it and this is better for him; and if he is afflicted with a hardship, he is patient with it and this is better for him. Allah has stated that the best tools to help ease the effects of the afflictions are patience and prayer. Earlier we mentioned Allah's statement: i? -*1^ 4And seek help in patience and As-Saldh (the prayer) and tndy, it is extremely heavy and hard except for Al-Khdshi'in [i.e., the true believers in Allah]} (2:45) There are several types of Sabr— patience: one for avoiding the prohibitions and sins, one for acts of worship and obedience. The second type carries more rewards than the first I 1 * Ahmad 4 :438. > Muslim 4:2292.

443 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (150 - 174) (Part-2) type. There is a third type of patience required in the face of the afflictions and hardships, which is mandatory, like repentance. 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said, “Sabr has two parts: patience for the sake of Allah concerning what He is pleased with (i.e., acts of worship and obedience), even if it is hard on the heart and the body, and patience when avoiding what He dislikes, even if it is desired. Those who acquire these qualities will be among the patient persons whom Allah shall greet (when they meet Him in the Hereafter; refer to Surat Al- Ahzab 33:44), Allah willing.”¹¹¹ The Life enjoyed by Martyrs Allah's statement: 4“^ j* kyl y' Ssf* 4 CA iAnd say not of those who are killed in the way of Allah, "They are dead.” Nay, they are living indicates that the martyrs are alive and receiving their sustenance. during Afflictions There are several Ahadith that mention the rewards of admitting that the return is to Allah by saying: #21 fyj k fy) i"Truly, to Allah we belong and truly, to Him we shall return.'y when afflictions strike. Imam Ahmad reported that 'Urwah said that he asked 'A'ishah about what Allah stated: Verily, As-Safa and Al-Marwah (two mountains in Makkah) are of the symbols of Allah. So it is not a sin on him who performs Hajj or 'Umrah (pilgrimage) of the House (the Ka'bah at Makkah) to perform the going (Tawaf) between them (As-Safa and Al-Marwah). “By Allah! It is not a sin if someone did not perform Tawaf around them.” 'A'ishah said, “Worst is that which you said, O my nephew! If this is the meaning of it, it should have read, It is not a sin if one did not perform Tawaf around them.” Ahmad 4:27. Muslim 2:633. The names of the two small mountains that the pilgrims walk and run between during the rites of 'Umrah.

Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (150 - 174) (Part-2 is not a sin if one did not perform Tawaf around them.' Rather, the Ayah was revealed regarding the Ansar, who before Islam, used to assume Ihlal (or Ihram for Hajj) in the area of Mushallal for their idol Manat that they used to worship, Those who assumed Ihlal for Manat, used to hesitate to perform Tawaf (going) between Mounts As-Safa and Al-Marwah. So they (during the Islamic era) asked Allah's Messenger about it, saying, 'O Messenger of Allah! During the time of Jahiliyyah, we used to hesitate to perform Tawaf between As-Safa and Al-Marwah.' Allah then revealed: Verily, As-Safa and Al-Marwah are of the symbols of Allah. So it is not a sin on him who performs Hajj or 'Umrah of the House to perform the going (Tawaf) between them.’ 'A'ishah then said, “ Allah's Messenger has made it the Sunnah to perform Tawaf between them (As-Safa and Al-Marwah), and thus, no one should abandon performing Tawaf between them.” This Hadith is reported in the Sahihayn. In another narration, Imam Az-Zuhri reported that 'Urwah said: Later on 'Urwah told Abu Bakr bin 'Abdur-Rahman bin Al-Harith bin Hisham (of 'A'ishah's statement) and he said, “I have not heard of such information. However, I heard learned men saying that all the people, except those whom 'A'ishah mentioned, said, 'Our Tawaf between these two hills is a practice of Jahiliyyah.' Some others among the Ansar said, “We were commanded to perform Tawaf of the Ka'bah, but not between As-Safa and Al-Marwah.' So Allah revealed: Verily, As-Safa and Al-Marwah are of the symbols of Allah. Abu Bakr bin 'Abdur-Rahman then said, “It seems that this verse was revealed concerning the two groups.” Al-Bukhari collected a similar narration by Anas. Ash-Shahi said, “Isaf (an idol) was on As-Safa while Na'ilah  Ahmad 6:144. Path Al-Bari 3 :581 , and Muslim 2 :929

(an idol) was on Al-Marwah, and they used to touch (or kiss) them. After Islam came, they were hesitant about performing Tawaf between them. Thereafter, the Ayah (2:158 above) was revealed.” The Wisdom behind legislating Tawaf between As-Safa and Al-Marwah Muslim recorded a long Hadith in his Sahih from Jabir, in which Allah's Messenger finished the Tawaf around the House, and then went back to the Rukn (pillar, i.e., the Black Stone) and kissed it. He then went out from the door near As-Safa while reciting: Verily, As-Safa and Al-Marwah are of the symbols of Allah.) The Prophet then said, «I start with what Allah has commanded me to start with [meaning start the Tawaf with the Sa'i (i.e., fast walking) from the As-Safdp. In another narration of An-Nasa'i, the Prophet sg said, «Start with what Allah has started with (i.e., As-SafaJ.® Imam Ahmad reported that Hablbah bint Abu Tajrah said, "I saw Allah's Messenger jg performing Tawaf between As-Safa and Al-Marwah, while the people were in front of him and he was behind them walking in Sa'L I saw his garment twisted around his knees because of the fast walking in Sa'i (he was performing) and he was reciting: 'JcU CSS il oPerform Sa'i, for Allah has prescribed Sa'i on i/oi/ This Hadith was used as a proof for the fact that Sa'i is a Rukn)3] of Hajj. 451Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (150 - 374) (Part-2) Damm. 1' 1 Allah has stated that Tawaf between As-Safa and Al-Marwah is among the symbols of Allah, meaning, among the acts that Allah legislated during the Hajj for Prophet Ibrahim. Earlier we mentioned the Hadlth by Ibn 'Abbas that the origin of Tawaf comes from the Tawaf of Hajar (Prophet Ibrahim's wife), between As-Safa and Al-Marwah seeking water for her son (Isma'il) Ibrahim had left them in Makkah, where there was no habitation for her. When Hajar feared that her son would die, she stood up and begged Allah for His help and kept going back and forth in that blessed area between As- Safa and Al-Marwah. She was humble, fearful, frightened and meek before Allah. Allah answered her prayers, relieved her of her loneliness, ended her dilemma and made the well of Zamzam bring forth its water for her, which is: OaJij . -"As «A tasty (or nutritional)food and a remedyfor the illness .» Therefore, whoever performs Sa't between As-Safa and Al- Marwah should remember his meekness, humbleness and need for Allah to guide his heart, lead his affairs to success and forgive his sins. He should also want Allah to eliminate his shortcomings and errors and to guide him to the straight path. He should ask Allah to keep him firm on this path until he meets death, and to change his situation from that of sin and errors to that of perfection and being forgiven, — the same providence which was provided to Hajar. Allah then states: fcp&& 4And whoever does good voluntarily. $ It was said that the Ayah describes performing Tawaf more than seven times, it was also said that it refers to voluntary 'Umrah or Hajj. It was also said that it means volunteering to do good works in general, as Ar-Razi has stated. The third opinion was attributed to Al-Hasan Al-Basri.^ Allah knows best. The Eternal Curse for Those Who hide Religious Commandments These Ayat sternly warn against those who hide the clear signs that the Messengers were sent with which guide to the correct path and beneficial guidance for the hearts, after Allah 453 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (150 - 174) (Part-2) has made such aspects clear for His servants through the Books that He revealed to His Messengers. Abu Al-'Aliyah said that these Ayat, “were revealed about the People of the Scripture who hid the description of Muhammad jg. ”* 1 Allah then states that everything curses such people for this evil act. Certainly, just as everything asks for forgiveness for the scholar, even the fish in the sea and the bird in the air, then those who hide knowledge are cursed by Allah and by the cursers. A Hadith in the Musnad, narrated through several chains of narrators, that strengthens the overall judgment of the Hadith, states that Abu Hurayrah narrated that Allah’s Messenger jg said: IrJ pi* If Jr- "Whoever was asked about knowledge that one has, but lie hid it, then a bridle made of fire will be tied around his mouth on the Day of Resurrection It is also recorded by Al-Bukhari that Abu Hurayrah said, “If it was not for an Ayah in Allah’s Book, I would not have narrated a Hadith for anyone: iVerily, those who conceal the clear proofs, evidences and the guidance, which We have sent down,}’ [3] Mujahid said, “When the earth is struck by drought, the animals say, This is because of the sinners among the Children of Adam. May Allah curse the sinners among the Children of Adam.”*4 Abu Al-’Aliyah, Ar-Rabl‘ bin Anas and Qatadah said that iand cursed by the cursers} means that the angels and the believers will curse them.’5’ ’ Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :170. 121 Ahmad 2:495. 131 Fath Al-Bari 1 :258. •4| Ibn Abi Hatim 1:175. ' Ibn Abi Hatim 1:174.

Moreover, a Hadith states that everything, including the fish in the sea, asks for forgiveness for the scholars. The Ayah (2:159 above) states that those who hide the knowledge will be cursed, (in this life and) on the Day of Resurrection, by Allah, the angels, all humanity, and those who curse (including the animals) each in its own distinct way. Allah knows best. From this punishment, Allah excluded all who repent to Him: ijtf ^Except those who repent and do righteous deeds, and openly declare (the truth which they concealed). This Ayah refers to those who regret what they have been doing and correct their behavior and, thus, explain to the people what they have been hiding. 4.Art)' 4$' tits ¥ iThese, I will accept their repentance. And I am the One Wlw accepts repentance, the Most Merciful. $ This Ayah also indicates that those who used to call to innovation, or even disbelief, and repent to Allah, then Allah will forgive them. Allah afterwards states that those who disbelieve in Him and remain in this state until they die, then: iit is they on whom is the curse of Allah and of the angels and of mankind, combined. They will abide therein (under the curse in Hell). Therefore, they will suffer the eternal curse until the Day of Resurrection and after that in the fire of Jahannam, where, itheir punishment ivill neither be lightened Hence, the torment will not be decreased for them, i>ior will they be reprieved. ^ The torment will not be changed or tempered for even an hour. Rather, it is continuous and eternal. We seek refuge with Allah from this evil end. Cursing the Disbelievers is allowed There is no disagreement that it is lawful to curse the disbelievers. ‘Umar bin Al-Khattab and the Imams after him used to curse the disbelievers in their Qunut (a type of supplication) during the prayer and otherwise. As for cursing a specific disbeliever, some scholars stated that it is not allowed to curse him, because we do not know how Allah will make his end. Others said that it is allowed to curse individual disbelievers. For proof, they mention the story about the man who was brought to be punished repeatedly for drinking (alcohol), a man said, “May Allah curse him! He is being brought repeatedly (to be flogged for drinking).” Allah’s Messenger jg said: “Do not curse him, for he loves Allah and His Messengers. 111 This Hadith indicates that it is allowed to curse those who do not love Allah and His Messenger sg. It was also recorded by Muslim and At- Tirmidhi 121 After Allah mentioned how He has blessed His creatures by providing them with provisions, and after commanding them to eat from the pure things that He has provided them, He then stated that He has not prohibited anything for them, except dead animals. Dead animals are those that die before being slaughtered; whether they die by strangling, a violent blow, a headlong fall, the goring of horns or by being partly eaten by a wild animal. Dead animals of the sea are excluded from this ruling, as is explained later, Allah willing, as Allah said: 4Lawful to you is (the pursuit of) watergame and its use far food) (5:96), and because of the Hadith about the whale recorded in the SahihP The Musnad, Al-Muwatta’ and the Sunan recorded the Prophet saying about the sea: «i=U jJlj JjLi > 111 Ahmad 3:328. Issue: According to Ash-Shafil and other scholars, milk and eggs that are inside dead unslaughtered animals are not pure, because they are part of the dead animal. In one narration from him, Malik said that they are pure themselves, but become impure because of their location. Similarly, there is a difference of opinion over the cheeses (made with the milk) of dead animals. The popular view of the scholars is that it is impure, although they mentioned the fact that the Companions ate from the cheeses made by the Magians (fire worshippers). Hence, Al-Qurtubi commented: “Since only a small part of the dead animal is mixed with it, then it is permissible, because a minute amount of impurity does not matter if it is mixed with a large amount of liquid.”,3) Ibn Majah reported that Salman said that Allah’s Messenger was asked about butter, cheese and fur. He said: >f <ci- L“j U ^ -ui J^~l Li J’iUJln Mi. U, tThe allowed is what Allah has allowed in His Book and the prohibited is what Allah has prohibited in His Book. 472 Tafsir Ibn Kathir slaughtered or not, and this includes its fat, either because it is implied, or because the term Lahm includes that, or by analogy. Similarly prohibited are offerings to other than Allah, that is what was slaughtered in a name other than His, be it for monuments, idols, divination, or the other practices of the time of Jahiliyyah. Al-Qurtubi mentioned that 'A'ishah was asked about what non-Muslims slaughter for their feasts and then offer some of it as gifts for Muslims. She said, "Do not eat from what has been slaughtered for that day, (or feast) but eat from their vegetables." The Prohibited is Allowed in Cases of Emergency Then Allah permitted eating these things when needed for survival or when there are no permissible types of food available. Allah said: iBut if one is forced by necessity without willful disobedience nor transgressing due limits meaning, without transgression or overstepping the limits, i...then there is no sin on him.)> meaning, if one eats such items, for, *»' iTruly, Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. Mujahid said, "If one is forced by necessity without willful disobedience nor transgressing the set limits. For example, if he didn't, then he would have to resort to highway robbery, rising against the rulers, or some other kinds of disobedience to Allah, then the permission applies to him. If one does so transgressing the limits, or continually, or out of disobedience to Allah, then the permission does not apply to him even if he is in dire need." The same was reported from Said bin Jubayr. Said and Muqatil bin Hayyan are reported to have said that without willful disobedience means, "Without believing that it 1,1 Al-Qurtubi 2:224.

473 Surah 2. Qatadah said: 4without willful disobedience^ "Without transgressing by eating from the dead animals, that is when the lawful is available."2' Issue: When one in dire straits finds both— dead animals, and foods belong to other people which he could get without risking the loss of his hands or causing harm, then it is not allowed for him to eat the dead animals. Ibn Majah reported that 'Abbad bin Shurahbil Al-Ghubari said, "One year we suffered from famine. I came to Al-Madlneh and entered a garden. I took some grain that I cleaned, and ate, then I left some of it in my garment. The owner of the garden came, roughed me up and took possession of my garment. I then went to Allah's Messenger and told him what had happened. He said to the man: «Yom have not fed him when he was hungry - or he said starving - nor have you taught him if he was ignorant . The Prophet jg commanded him to return 'Abbad's garment to him, and to offer him a Wasq (around 180 kilograms) - or a half Wasq - of food'3' This has a sufficiently strong chain of narrators and there are many other witnessing narrations to support it, such as the Hadith that 'Amr bin Shu'ayb narrated from his father that his grandfather said: Allah's Messenger jg was asked about the hanging clusters of dates. He said: 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :236. 121 At-Tabari 3:324. '3| Ibn Majah 2:770.

Criticizing the Jews for concealingwhat Allah revealed Allah said: t t{ } iVerily, those who conceal what Allah has sent down of the Book.} Meaning the Jews who concealed their Book's descriptions of Muhammad sg, all of which testify to his truth as a Messenger and a Prophet. They concealed this information so that they would not lose authority and the position that they had with the Arabs, where they would bring them gifts, and honor them. The cursed Jews feared that if they announced what they know about Muhammad jg, then the people would abandon them and follow him. So they hid the truth so that they may retain the little that they were getting, and they sold their souls for this little profit. They preferred the little that they gained over guidance and following the truth, believing in the Messenger jg and having faith in what Allah was sent him with. Therefore, they have profited failure and loss in this life and the Hereafter. As for this world, Allah made the truth about His Messenger jg known anyway, by the clear signs and the unequivocal proofs. Thereafter, those whom the Jews feared would follow the Prophet jg, believed in him and followed him anyway, and so they became his supporters against them. Thus, the Jews earned anger on top of the wrath that they already had earned before, and Allah criticized them again many times in His Book. For instance, Allah said in this Ayah (2:174 above): Q . A J. jjr iVerily, those who conceal what Allah has sent down of the Book, and purchase a small gain therewith (ofworldly things).} meaning, the joys and delights of this earthly life. Allah said: ^ ijift u 3J$} i-. they eat into their bellies nothing but fire.} meaning, whatever they eat in return for hiding the truth, will turn into a raging fire in their stomachs on the Day of Resurrection. Similarly, Allah said:

They thus deserve Allah's anger, so Allah will not look at them or purify them, meaning that He will not praise them but will cause them to taste a severe torment. Then, Allah said about them: US)'& bM {Those are they who have purclwsed errorfor guidance.} Hence, they opposed the guidance, that is, not announcing the Prophet's description they find in their Books, the news about his prophecy and the good news of his coming which the previous Prophets proclaimed, as well as following and believing in him. Instead, they preferred misguidance by denying him , rejecting him and concealing his descriptions that were mentioned in their Books. Allah said: { . . .and torment at the price offorgiveness,} meaning, they preferred torment over forgiveness due to the I 1 ' Sahih Al-Bukhtui no . 5634, and Muslim no. 2065.

Such are the people of the truth and they are Al-Muttaqun (the pious).} Al-Birr (Piety, Righteousness) This Ayah contains many great wisdoms, encompassing rulings and correct beliefs. As for the explanation of this Ayah, Allah first commanded the believers to face Bayt Al-Maqdis, and then to face the Ka'bah during the prayer. This change was difficult for some of the People of the Book, and even for some Muslims. Then Allah sent revelation which clarified the wisdom behind this command, that is, obedience to Allah, adhering to His commands, facing wherever He commands facing, and implementing whatever He legislates, that is the objective. This is Birr, Taqwa and complete faith. Facing the east or the west does not necessitate righteousness or obedience, unless it is legislated by Allah. This is why Allah said:

,>' o jj' !$> Ar^ 1 ' &i bb> o' </f is not Birr that you h/m your faces towards east and (or) west (in prayers); but Birr is the one who believes in Allah and the Last Day,} Similarly, Allah said about the sacrifices: 4It is neither their meat nor their blood that reaches Allah, but it is the pietyfrom you that reaches Him.} (22:37) Abu Al-'Aliyah said, "The Jews used to face the west for their Qiblah, while the Christians used to face the east for their Qiblah. The reason behind this statement is that (the Jewish tribe of)

Banu An-Nadlr invaded Qurayzah (another Jewish tribe) during the time of JahUiyyah (before Islam) and defeated them. Hence, (they made it a law that) when a person from Nadir kills a person from Quraizah, he is not killed in retaliation, but only pays a hundred IVasq of dates. However, when a person from Quraizah kills a Nadir man, he would be killed for him. If Nadir wanted (to forfeit the execution of the murderer and instead require him) to pay a ransom, the Quraizah man pays two hundred Wasq of dates [double the amount Nadir pays in Diyah (blood money)]. So Allah commanded that justice be observed regarding the penal code, and that the path of the misguided and mischievous persons be avoided, who in disbelief and transgression, defy and alter what Allah has commanded them. Allah said: # ys fcii 4 ^ 4Al-Qisds (the Law of equality in punishment) is prescribed for you in case of murder: the free for the free, the slave for the slave, and thefemalefor thefemale.} Allah's statement: ivii £35 iff» 4the free for the free, the slave for the slave, and the female for thefemale.} was abrogated by the statement {life for life) (5:45). However, the majority of scholars agree that the Muslim is not killed for a disbeliever whom he kills. Al- Bukhari reported that 'Ali narrated that Allah's Messenger sgj; said: (J—4 ifek y iThe Muslim is not killed for the disbeliever (whom he kills),a'21 No opinion that opposes this ruling could stand correct, nor is there an authentic Hadith to contradict it. However, Abu I 1 * A camel load, sixty Sa', approximately 165 liters. ^ SahOi Al-Bukharino . 111.

Hanifah thought that the Muslim could be killed for a disbeliever, following the general meaning of the Ayah (5:45) in Surat Al-Ma'idah (chapter 5 in the Qur'an). The Four Imams (Abu Hanifah, Malik, Shafil and Ahmad) and the majority of scholars stated that the group is killed for one person whom they murder. 'Umar said, about a boy who was killed by seven men, "If all the residents of San'a' (capital of Yemen today) collaborated on killing him, I would kill them all." No opposing opinion was known by the Companions during that time which constitutes a near Ijma' (consensus). There is an opinion attributed to Imam Ahmad that a group of people is not killed for one person whom they kill, and that only one person is killed for one person. Ibn Al-Mundhir also attributed this opinion to Mu'adh, Ibn Az-Zubayr, 'Abdul-Malik bin Marwan, Az-Zuhri, Ibn Sirin and Habib bin Abu Thabit. Allah's statement: iBut if the killer is forgiven by the brother (or the relatives) of the killed (against blood money), then it should be sought in a good manner, and paid to him respectfully refers to accepting blood money (by the relatives of the victim in return for pardoning the killer) in cases of intentional murder. This opinion is attributed to Abu Al-'Aliyah, Abu Sha'tha', Mujahid, Sa'Id bin Jubayr, 'Ata' Al-Hasan, 11 Qatadah12 ' and Muqatil bin Hayyan.131 Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said: 4 it} tie iBut if the killer is forgiven by the brother (or the relatives) of the killed (against blood moneyfo means the killer is pardoned by his brother (i.e., the relative of the victim) and accepting the Diyah after capital punishment becomes due (against the killer), this is the 'Afw (pardon mentioned in the Ayah).”141 Allah's statement: 111 Ibn Abi flatim 1 : 278-279. At-Tabari 3 :368. Ibn AbiHatim 1:279. * Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :280.

4 ...then it should be sought in a good manner,} means, when the relative agrees to take the blood money, he should collect his rightful dues with kindness: di 4 and paid to him respectfully.} means, the killer should accept the terms of settlement without causing further harm or resisting the payment. Allah's statement: 4This is an alleviation and a mercy from your Lord.} means the legislation that allows you to accept the blood money for intentional murder is an alleviation and a mercy from your Lord. It lightens what was required from those who were before you, either applying capital punishment or forgiving. Sa'id bin Mansur reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, The Children of Israel were required to apply the Law of equality in murder cases and were not allowed to offer pardons (in return for blood money). Allah said to this Ummah (the Muslim nation): && £2i«# JSK 4 4The Law of equality in punishment is prescribed for you in case of murder : the free for the free, the servant for the servant, and the female for the female. But if the killer is forgiven by the brother (or the relatives) of the killed (against blood money),} Hence, 'pardoning' or 'forgiving' means accepting blood money in intentional murder cases."111 Ibn Hibban also recorded this in his Sahib.'21 Qatadah said: 4^ 111 Sunan Sa'id bin Mansur 2 :652 121 Ibn Hibban 7 :601 iThis is an alleviation from your Lord^ Allah had mercy on this Ummah by giving them the Diah which was not allowed for any nation before it. The People of the Torah (Jews) were allowed to either apply the penal code (for murder, i.e., execution) or to pardon the killer, but they were not allowed to take blood money. The People of the Injil (the Gospel - the Christians) were required to pardon (the killer, but no Diah was legislated). This Ummah (Muslims) is allowed to apply the penal code (execution) or to pardon and accept the blood money." Similar was reported from Said bin Jubayr, Muqatil bin Hayyan and Ar-Rabi' bin Anas. Allah's statement: 4.*-^ Jjo i!(jCii j, 4S0 after this lohever transgresses the limits, he shall have a painful torment.} means, those who kill in retaliation after taking the Diah or accepting it, they will suffer a painful and severe torment from Allah. The same was reported from Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, 'Ata' 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Ar-Rabi' bin Anas, As-Suddi and Muqatil bin Hayyan.*2' The Benefits and Wisdom of the Law of Equality Allah's statement: 4And there is life for you in Al-Qisas legislating the Law of equality, i.e., killing the murderer, carries great benefits for you. This way, the sanctity of life will be preserved because the killer will refrain from killing, as he will be certain that if he kills, he would be killed. Hence life will be preserved. In previous Books, there is a statement that killing stops further killing! This meaning came in much clearer and eloquent terms in the Qur'an: iw- 4P& [1! Certainly, Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful Including Parents and Relatives in the Will was later abrogated This Ayah contains the command to include parents and relatives in the will, which was obligatory, according to the most correct view, before the Ayah about inheritance was revealed. When the Ayah of inheritance was revealed, this Ayah was abrogated, so fixed shares of the inheritance for deserving recipients were legislated by Allah. Therefore, deserving inheritors take their fixed inheritance without the need to be included in the will or to be reminded of the favor of the inherited person. For this reason we see the Hadith narrated in the Sunan and other books that ‘Amr bin Kharijah said: I heard Allah’s Messenger 5^ saying in a speech: t ajo- J?. It is better for you to leave your inheritors wealthy than to leave them poor, begging from others." Or, the testator might include his daughter's son in the legacy to increase his daughter's share in the inheritance, and so forth. Such errors might occur out of the kindness of the heart without thinking about the consequences of these actions, or by sinful intention. In such cases, the executive of the will and testament is allowed to correct the errors and to replace the unjust items in the will with a better solution, so that both the Islamic law and what the dead person had wished for are respected and observed. This act would not constitute an alteration in the will and this is why Allah mentioned it specifically, so that it is excluded from the prohibition (that prohibits altering the will and testament) mentioned in the m At-Tabari 3:397. 121 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :310-31 1 495 Surah 2. Al-Baarah (175 - 200) (Part-2) far you if only you know fa The Order to Fast In an address to the believers of this Ummah, Allah ordered them to fast, that is, to abstain from food, drink and sexual activity with the intention of doing so sincerely for Allah the Exalted alone. This is because fasting purifies the souls and cleanses them from the evil that might mix with them and their ill behavior. Allah mentioned that He has ordained fasting for Muslims just as He ordained it for those before them, they being an example for them in that, so they should vigorously perform this obligation more obediently than the previous nations. Similarly, Allah said: z 4 j&p; ft & ft! y; -fafa QZ fcfa j' 'yJJI 4 To each among you, We have prescribed a law and a clear way. If Allah had willed, He would have made you one nation, but that (He) may test you in what He has given you; so compete in good deeds fa (5:48) Allah said in this Ayah: 40 you who believe! Fasting is prescribed for you as it was prescribed for those before you, that you may have Taqwd) fa since the fast cleanses the body and narrows the paths of Shaytan. 497 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (175 - 200) (Part-2) (for every day).} “It means “those who find it difficult (to fast).’ Formerly, those who wished, fasted and those who wished, did not but fed a poor person instead.” Allah then said: iBut whoever does good of his own accord meaning whoever fed an extra poor person, u'j fi iit is better for him. And that you fast is better for you} Later the Ayah: 'jEi\ feL <So whoever of you sights (the crescent on the first night of) the month (of Ramadan, i.e., is present at his home), he must observe Sawm (fasting) that month} (2:185) was revealed and this abrogated the previous Ayah (2:184). The Fidyah (Expiation) for breaking the Fast is for the Old and the Ailing Al-Bukhari reported that ‘Ata heard Ibn ‘Abbas recite: <5 /kjjLlu 4 And as for those who can fast with difficulty, (e.g., an old man), they have (a choice either to fast or) to feed a Miskin (poor person) (for every day).} Ibn ‘Abbas then commented, “(This Ayah) was not abrogated, it is for the old man and the old woman who are able to fast with difficulty, but choose instead to feed a poor person for every day (they do not fast).”² Others reported that Said bin Jubayr mentioned this from Ibn ‘Abbas. So the abrogation here applies to the healthy person, who is not traveling and who has to fast, as Allah said: *4*I^i* 111 Fath Al-Bari 8 :28 121 Fath Al-Bari 8:28.

498 Tafsir Ibn Kathir 4 So whoever of you sights (the crescent on the first night of) the month (of Ramadan, i.e., is present at his home), he must observe Sawm (fasting) that month> (2:185) As for the old man (and woman) who cannot fast, he is allowed to abstain from fasting and does not have to fast another day instead, because he is not likely to improve and be able to fast other days. So he is required to pay a Fidyah for every day missed. This is the opinion of Ibn ‘Abbas and several others among the Salaf who read the Ayah: 4 And as for those who can fast with difficulty, (e.g., an old man)} to mean those who find it difficult to fast’ * as Ibn Mas‘ud stated. This is also the opinion of Al-Bukhari who said, “As for the old man (person) who cannot fast, (he should do like) Anas who, for one or two years after he became old fed some bread and meat to a poor person for each day he did not fast.”² This point, which Al-Bukhari attributed to Anas without a chain of narrators, was collected with a continuous chain of narrators by Abu Ya'la Mawsuli in his Musnad, that Ayyub bin Abu Tamimah said; "Anas could no longer fast. So he made a plate of Thand (broth, bread and meat) and invited thirty poor persons and fed them."*3 * The same ruling applies for the pregnant and breast-feeding women if they fear for themselves or their children or fetuses. In this case, they pay the Fidyah and do not have to fast other days in place of the days that they missed. J ££ "Ij J* CTJ jJClj Xji c: # *4^j; -;ij: ^ lj, %^ £=» a 4185. guidance for the hearts of those who believe in it and adhere to its commands. Allah said: 4and clear proofs meaning, as clear and unambiguous signs and unequivocal proof for those who understand them. These proofs testily to the truth of the Qur'an, its guidance, the opposite of misguidance, and how it guides to the straight path, the opposite of the wrong path, and the distinction between the truth and falsehood, and the permissible and the prohibited. The Obligation ofFastingRamadan Allah said: jflii fen 4So whoever ofyou sights (the crescent on the first night of) the month (of Ramadan, i.e., is present at his home), he must observe Sawm (fasting) that month.)> This Ayah requires the healthy persons who witness the beginning of the month, while residing in their land, to fast the month. This Ayah abrogated the Ayah that allows a choice of fasting or paying the Fidyah. When Allah ordered fasting, He again mentioned the permission for the ill person and the traveler to break the fast and to fast other days instead as compensation. Allah said: 4...and whoever is ill or on a journey, the same number [of days which one did not observe Sawm (fasting) must be made up]from other days.} This Ayah indicates that ill persons who are unable to fast or fear harm by fasting, and the traveler, are all allowed to break the fast. When one does not fast in this case, he is obliged to fast other days instead. Allah said: 4S—^ j^=»J -irij lit 4Alldh intends for you ease, and He does not want to make things difficultfor you 501 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (175 - 200) (Part-2) This Ayah indicates that Allah allowed such persons, out of His mercy and to make matters easy for them, to break the fast when they are ill or traveling, while the fast is still obligatory on the healthy persons who are not traveling. Several Rulings concerning the Fast The authentic Sunnah states that Allah's Messenger ﷺ traveled during the month of Ramadan for the battle for Makkah. The Prophet ﷺ marched until he reached the area of Kadid and then broke his fast and ordered those who were with him to do likewise. This was recorded in the Two Sahibs.¹¹¹ Breaking the fast mentioned in this Hadith was not required, for the Companions used to go out with Allah's Messenger ﷺ during the month of Ramadan, then, some of them would fast while some of them would not fast and neither category would criticize the others. If the command mentioned in the Hadith required breaking the fast, the Prophet ﷺ would have criticized those who fasted. Allah's Messenger himself sometimes fasted while traveling. For instance, it is reported in the Two Sahibs that Abu Ad-Darda' said, "We once went with Allah's Messenger ﷺ during Ramadan while the heat was intense. One of us would place his hand on his head because of the intense heat. Only Allah's Messenger and 'Abdullah bin Rawahah were fasting at that time."²¹ We should state that observing the permission to break the fast while traveling is better, as Allah's Messenger said about fasting while traveling: «Those who did not fast have done good, and there is no harm for those who fasted»³¹ In another Hadith, the Prophet ﷺ said: «Ho/d to Allah's permission that He has granted you."¹⁴¹ Fath Al-Bari 3:213, Muslim 2 :784 121 Fath Al-Bari 4 :2 15 , and Muslim 2 :790 131 Muslim 2:790. 141 Muslim 2:786.

Some scholars say that the two actions are the same, as 'A'ishah narrated that Hamzah bin 'Amr Al-Aslami said, "O Messenger of Allah! I fast a lot, should I fast while traveling?"

The Prophet said: Hi jp ijUiuHi jl» Fast if you wish or do not fast if you wish. This Hadith is in the Two Sahibs. It was reported that if the fast becomes difficult (while traveling), then breaking the fast is better. Jabir said that Allah's Messenger saw a man who was being shaded (by other people while traveling). The Prophet ﷺ asked about him and he was told that man was fasting. The Prophet said: .«>DIJ fCJl 'J\ >3» «It is not a part of Birr (piety) to fast while traveling .# This was recorded by Al-Bukhari and Muslim.¹²¹ As for those who ignore the Sunnah and believe in their hearts that breaking the fast while traveling is disliked, they are required to break the fast and are not allowed to fast. As for making up for missed fasting days, it is not required to be consecutive. One may do so consecutively or not consecutively. There are ample proofs to this fact. We should mention that fasting consecutive days is only required exclusively during Ramadan. After the month of Ramadan, what is required then is to merely make up for missed days.

Muslim recorded that the Prophet said: j\ pii i Jij _Lj j' ^ ^ Jiji 7 Jyuj : Jj laj ijil Opj Zf-Ci 'J 4- "The supplication of the servant will be accepted as long as he does not supplicate for what includes sin, or cutting the relations of the womb, and as long as he does not become hasty.* He was asked, "O Messenger of Allah! How does one become hasty?" He said, «He says, 'I supplicated and supplicated, but I do not see that my supplication is being accepted from me.' He thus loses interest and abandons supplicating (to Allah). Three Persons Whose Supplication will not be rejected In the Musnad of Imam Ahmad and the Sunans of At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasai and Ibn Majah it is recorded that Abu Hurayrah narrated that Allah's Messenger said: ;y-'ij Ji- j fiWi -. Thus does Allah make clear His Ayat to mankind that they may acquire Taqwd.} Eating, Drinking and Sexual Intercourse are allowed during the Nights of Ramadan These Ayat contain a relief from Allah for the Muslims by ending the practice that was observed in the early years of Islam. At that time, Muslims were allowed to eat, drink and have sexual intercourse only until the 'Isha.' (Night) prayer, unless one sleeps before the Isha prayer. Those who slept before 'Isha' or offered the 'Isha' prayer, were not allowed to drink, eat or sexual intercourse until the next night. The Muslims found that to be difficult for them. The Ayat used the word Rafath ' to indicate sexual intercourse, according to Ibn 'Abbas, 'Ata' and Mujahid. Similar Tafsir was offered by Said bin Jubayr, Tawus, Salim bin 'Abdullah, 'Amr bin Dinar, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Az-Zuhri, Ad-Dahhak, Ibrahim An-Nakhal, As-Suddi, 'Ata' Al-

It is recorded in the Two Sahihs that Anas bin Malik narrated that Zayd bin Thabit said, "We had Suhur with Allah's Messenger jg and then went on to pray." Anas asked, "How much time was there between the Adhan (call to prayer) and the Suhur?" He said, "The time that fifty Ayat take (to recite)." Imam Ahmad recorded Abu Dharr saying that Allah's Messenger jg said: I \jiJyfi' U ^l>u *My Ummah ivill always retain goodness as long as they hasten in breaking the fast and delay the Suhiir.^2] There are several Hadlths that narrate that the Prophet jEr, called Suhur "the blessed meal." There are narrations from several of the Salaf that they allowed the Suhur to be eaten later until close to Fajr. This is reported from Abu Bakr, 'Umar, 'Ali, Ibn Mas'fld, Hudhayfah, Abu Hurayrah, Ibn 'Umar, Ibn 'Abbas and Zayd bin Thabit. It is also reported from many of the Tabi'in, such as Muhammad bin 'Ali bin Husayn, Abu Mijlaz, Ibrahim An- Nakhal, Abu Ad-Duha, Abu Wa'il and other companions of Ibn Mas'ud. This is also the opinion of 'Ata', Al-Hasan, Hakam bin TJyainah, Mujahid, 'Urwah bin Az-Zubayr, Abu Sha*tha' Jabir bin Zayd, Al- A'mash and Ma'mar bin Rashid. We have mentioned the chains of narrations for their statements in our (Ibn Kathlr's) book about Siyam (Fasting), and all praise is due to Allah. It is also recorded in the Two Sahihs that Al-Qasim said that 'A'ishah narrated that Allah's Messenger jg said: r>- ljl£> iJ~L ^ S/ t <77ie Adhan pronounced by Bilal should not stop you from taking Suhur, for he pronounces the Adhan at night. Imam Ahmad reported that Qays bin Talq quoted from his father that Allah's Messenger jg said: "Dawn is not the (ascending) gloio of white light of the horizon. Rather, it is the red (radiating) light. Abu Dawud and At-Tirmidhi also recorded this Hadlth, but their wording is: & \jX> «Eat and drink and do not be rushed by the ascending (white) light. Eat and drink until the redness (of the dawn) appears Ibn Jarir (At-Tabari) recorded that Samurah bin Jundub narrated that Allah's Messenger said: li* Vj J% jlil p&fu V" "Do not be stopped by Bilal's Adhan or the (ascending) whiteness, until it spreads.*^ Muslim also recorded this Hadith) S] There is no Harm in beginning the Fast while Junub (a state of major ritual impurity) Issue: Among the benefits of allowing sexual activity, eating and drinking until dawn for those who are fasting, is that it is allowed to start the fast while Junub (in the state of impurity after sexual discharge), and there is no harm in this case if one takes a bath any time in the morning after waking up, and completes the fast. This is the opinion of the Four Imams and the majority of the scholars. Al-Bukhari and Muslim recorded that ‘A’ishah and Umm Salamah said that Allah’s ﷻ Fath Al-Bari 4 :162 , and Muslim 2 :768 Ahmad 4:23. Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 3 :389 141 At-Tabari 3:517. Muslim 2:769.

“The people will retain goodness as long as they hasten in breaking the fast” 1 ﷻ Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah narrated that the Prophet ﷺ said: 8Allah the Exalted said, ‘The dearest among My servants to Me are those who hasten in breaking the fast the most’»|2 At-Tirmidhi recorded this Hadith and said that this Hadith is Hasan Gharib. Prohibition of Uninterrupted Fasting (Wisdl) There are several authentic Hadiths that prohibit Al-Wisdl, which means continuing the fast through the night to the next night, without eating. Imam Ahmad recorded Abu Hurayrah saying that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said: o*’ JI {ML J^U —iJ “Do not practice Al-Wisdl in fasting .» So, they said to him, “But you practice Al-Wisdl, O Allah’s Messenger!” The Prophet ﷺ replied, “ «/ am not like you, I am given food and drink during my sleep by my Lord. So, when the people refused to stop Al-Wisdl, the Prophet ﷺ fasted two days and two nights (along with those who practiced Wisdl) and then they saw the crescent moon (of the month of Shawwal). The Prophet ﷺ said to them (angrily): J^i ‘fo *If the crescent had not appeared, I would have made you fast for a longer period.» That was as a punishment for them (when they refused to stop practicing Al-Wisdl).*4 ' This Hadith is also recorded in the Sahihayn. Fath Al-Bari 4 : 234 and Muslim 2 :771 Ahmad 2:237. [31 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 3:386. Ahmad 2 :281 , Fath Al-Bari 4 : 238 , and Muslim 2 :774

519 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (175 - 200) (Part-2 iAttd do not have sexual relations with them (your wives) while you are in I'tikdf in the Masjids meaning, ‘Do not touch your wives as long as you are in I'tikdf, whether you were in the mosque or outside of it’.” ' It is also the opinion of Mujahid, Qatadah and several other scholars, that the Muslims used to have sexual intercourse with the wife while in I'tikdf if they departed the mosque until the Ayah was revealed.121 Ibn Abu Hatim commented, “It was reported that Ibn Mas'ud, Muhammad bin Ka*b, Mujahid, ‘Ata’ Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Ad-Dahhak, As-Suddi, Ar-Rabl* bin Anas and Muqatil said that the Ayah means, ‘Do not touch the wife while in I'tikdf’”13' What Ibn Abu Hatim reported from these people is the agreed upon practice among the scholars. Those who are in I'tikdf are not allowed to have sexual intercourse as long as they are still in I'tikdf in the mosque. If one has to leave the mosque to attend to a need, such as to relieve the call of nature or to eat, he is not allowed to kiss or embrace his wife or to busy himself with other than his I'tikdf He is not even allowed to visit ailing persons, but he can merely ask about their condition while passing by. I'tikdf has several other rulings that are explained in the books (of Fiqh), and we have mentioned several of these rulings at the end of our book on Siyam (Fasting), all praise is due to Allah. Furthermore, the scholars of Fiqh used to follow their explanation of the rules for fasting with the explanation of the rules for I'tikdf, as this is the way these acts of worship were mentioned in the Qur'an. By mentioning I'tikdf after fasting, Allah draws attention to practicing I'tikdf during the month of the fast, especially the last part of the month. The Sunnah of Allah’s Messenger is that he used to perform I'tikdf during the last ten nights of the month of Ramadan until he died. Afterwards, the Prophet’s wives used to perform I'tikdf as the Two Sahihs recorded from ‘A’ishah the Mother of the believers.141 IM At-Tabari 3 :541 121 At-Tabari 3:541. 131 Ibn Abi Hatim 1 :385-387. It is reported in the Two Sahihs that Safiyyah, the daughter of Huyal, went to Allah's Messenger ﷺ to visit him in the mosque while he was in I'tikaf. She had a talk with him for a while, then she got up in order to return home. The Prophet ﷺ accompanied her back home, as it was night. Her house was at Usamah bin Zayd's house on the edge of Al-Madlnah. While they were walking, two Ansari men met them and passed by them in a hurry, for they were shy to bother the Prophet ﷺ while he was walking with his wife. He told them: J? I\jJ i USU-'-j "Do not run away! She is (my wife) Safiyyah bint Huyai.v Both of them said, "All praise is due to Allah, (How dare we think of any evil) O Allah's Messenger!" The Prophet ﷺ said (to them): *: JIS j\ Shaytan reaches everywhere in the human body, that the blood reaches. I was afraid lest Shaytan might suggest an evil thought in your minds .o' 11 Imam Ash-Shafit commented, "Allah's Messenger ﷺ sought to teach his Ummah to instantly eliminate any evil thought, so that they do not fall into the prohibited. They (the two Ansari men) had more fear of Allah than to think evil of the Prophet ﷺ. Allah knows best." The Ayah (2:187) prohibits sexual intercourse and anything like kissing or embracing that might lead to it during I'tikaf. As for having the wife helping the husband, it is allowed. It is reported in the Two Sahllis that 'A'ishah said, "Allah's Messenger ﷺ would bring his head near me (in her room) and I would comb his hair, while I was on my menses. He would enter the room only to attend to what a man needs. |2' Allah's statement: Fath Al-Bari4 :326 and Muslim 4:1712. FathAl-Bari4 :320 and Muslim 1 :244

'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said similarly, then he said that this was later abrogated by the Ayah: , 4 then kill them wherever you find them} (9:5). However, this statement is not plausible, because Allah's statement: . . _ u - a \} 4 . . . those who fight you} applies only to fighting the enemies who are engaged in fighting Islam and its people. So the Ayah means, 'Fight those who fight you', just as Allah said (in another Ayah): 4 . . and fight against the Mushrikin collectively as they fight against you collectively> ' (9:36) This is why Allah said later in the Ayah: . . # > • (- • > \ 4 And kill them wherever you find them, and turn them out from where they have turned you out.} meaning, Your energy should be spent on fighting them, just as their energy is spent on fighting you, and on expelling them from the areas from which they have expelled you, as a law of equality in punishment.'

Allaih revealed Surat Al-Fath (chapter 48 in the Qur'an) then, and allowed the Muslims to slaughter any Hady (animals for sacrifice) they had. They had seventy camels with them for that purpose. They were also permitted to shave their heads and end their Ihram. When the Prophet jg commanded them to shave their heads and end the state of Ihram, they did not obey him, as they were awaiting that order to be abrogated. When they saw that the Prophet jg went out after shaving his head, they imitated him. Some of them did not shave, but only shortened their hair. This is why

544 Tafsir Ibn Katlir as Ibn Jarir has erroneously claimed. When the Prophet^Jg and his Companions were prevented from entering the Sacred House during the Al-Hudaybiyyah year by the polytheists from Quraysh, they shaved their heads and sacrificed their Hady outside the Haram (Sacred) area. In normal circumstances, and when one can safely reach the House, he is not allowed to shave his head until: 4 ...and do not shave your heads until the Hady reaches the place of sacrifice.4 and then he ends the rituals of Hajj or ‘Umrah, or both if he had assumed Ihram for both. It is recorded in the Two Sahihs that Hafsa said, “O Allah’s Messenger! He should also fast seven days when he gets back home."1 ' 1 Abu Ishaq reported from Wabarrah from Ibn 'Umar who said, "One fasts one day before the day of Tarwiyah, the day of Tarwiyah (eighth day of Dhul-Hijjah) and then 'Arafah day (the ninth day of the month of Dhul-Hijjah). 'A'ishah and Ibn 'Umar said, "Fasting the days of Tashriq was only allowed for those who did not find the Hady" as Al- Bukhari has reported. Sufyan related that Ja'far bin Muhammad narrated that his father said that 'Ali said, "Whoever did not fast the three days during the Hajj, should fast them during the days of Tashriq." This is also the position taken by TBayd bin TMayr Al-Laythi, Ikrimah, Al-Hasan Al- Basri and TJrwah bin Az- Zubayr, referring to the general meaning of Allah's statement: 4[^] 4$ 1 . . .fast three days during the Hajj . Allah said: .and seven days after his return .} There are two opinions regarding the meaning of this Ayah. First, it means "when you return to the camping areas'. The second, upon going back home. 'Abdur-Razzaq reported that Salim narrated that he heard Ibn 'Umar saying: "i...but if he cannot (afford it), he should fast three days during the Hajj and seven days after his return,} means when he goes back to his family. ",31 The same opinion was reported from Said bin Jubayr, Abu Al-'Aliyah, Mujahid, 'Ata', 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Imam Az-Zuhri and Ar- At-Tabari 4 :98-99 121 Muslim 2:800. ,3 I Tafsir 'Abdur-Razzaq 1 :76.

552 Tflfebr Ibn Kathir statement that Hajj occurs during known, specific months, which indicates that Hajj is not allowed before that, just as the prayer has a fixed time (before which one's prayer is not accepted). This is especially the case when it is Ibn ‘Abbas who issued this statement, as he is the Tarjuman (translator, interpreter, explainer) of the Qur’an. There is a Hadith about this subject too. Ibn Marduwyah related that Jabir narrated that the Prophet jg said: Jt V) fj>y oi aNo one should assume Ihram for Hajj, but during the months ofHajj.*™ The chain of narrators for this Hadith is reasonable. Ash- Shafit and Al-Bayhaqi recorded this Hadith from Ibn Jurayj who related that Abu Az-Zubayr said that he heard Jabir bin ‘Abdullah being asked, “Does one assume Ihram for Hajj before the months of the Hajp” He said, “No.”*41 This narration is more reliable than the narration that we mentioned from the Prophet jg. In short, this statement is the opinion of the Companion, supported by Ibn ‘Abbas’ statement that it is a part of the Sunnah not to assume Ihram for Hajj before the Al-Umm 2 :132 . This narration for which Al-Bukhari did not mention the chain of narrators, was collected by a continuous chain of narrators that Ibn Jarir rendered authentic, leading to Ibn Umar, who said: 4The Hajj (pilgrimage) is (in) the well-known (lunar year) months.} “which are Shawwal, Dhul-Qa‘dah and the (first) ten days of Dhul-Hijjah.”121 Its chain is SahOi. Al-Hakim also recorded it in his Mustadrak, and he said, “It meets the criteria of the Two Shaykhs.”13 ’ This statement is also reported from Umar,

This opinion was preferred by Ibn Jarir who said, “It is a common practice to call two months and a part of the third month as ‘months’. This is similar to the Arab’s saying, ‘I visited such and such person this year or this day.’ He only visited him during a part of the year and a part of the day. Ibn Jarir reported that Abu Umaymah said that when Ibn Umar was asked about conducting trade during the Hajj, he recited the Ayah: {There is no sin on you if you seek the bounty of your Lord (during pilgrimage by trading).} This Hadith is related to Ibn 'Umar with a strong chain of narrators. This Hadith is also related to the Prophet ﷺ, as Ahmad reported that Abu Umamah At-Taymi said, "I asked Ibn Umar, 'We buy (and sell during the Hajj), so do we still have a valid Hajj?' He said, 'Do you not perform Tawaf around the House, stand at 'Arafat, throw the pebbles and shave your heads?' I said, 'Yes.' Ibn Umar said, 'A man came to the Prophet ﷺ and asked him about what you asked me, and the Prophet did not answer him until Jibril came down with this Ayah: {There is no sin on you if you seek the bounty of your Lord (during pilgrimage by trading).} The Prophet ﷺ summoned the man and said: "You are pilgrims." Ibn Jarir narrated that Abu Salih said to Umar, "O Leader of the faithful! Did you conduct trade transactions during the Hajj?" He said, "Was their livelihood except during Hajj?" Hence, those who have stood at 'Arafat before dawn will have performed (the rituals of the Hajj). The days of Mina are three, and there is no sin for those who move on after two days, or for those who stay. The time to stand on 'Arafat starts from noon on the day of 'Arafat until dawn the next day, which is the day of the Sacrifice (the tenth day of Dhul-Hijjah). The Prophet ﷺ stood at 'Arafat during the Farewell Hajj, after he had offered the Zuhr (noon) prayer, until sunset. He said, "Learn your rituals from me." 121 In this Hadith (i.e., in the previous paragraph) he said, "Whoever stood at 'Arafat before dawn, will have performed (the rituals of Hajj)." Tirmidhi bin

This Hadith was collected by Imam Ahmad and the compilers of the Sunan, and At-Tirmidhi graded it Sahib. ' It was reported that the mount was called 'Arafat because, as 'Abdur- Razzaq reported that 'Ali bin Abu Talib said, "Allah sent Jibril to Prophet Ibrahim and he performed Hajj for him (to teach him its rituals). When Ibrahim reached 'Arafat he said, I have 'Araftu (I know this place).' He had come to that area before. Thereafter, it was called 'Arafat.'"2 ' Ibn Al-Mubarak said that 'Ata' said, "It was called 'Arafat because Jibril used to teach Ibrahim the rituals of Hajj. Ibrahim would say, I have 'Araftu, I have 'Araftu.' It was thereafter called 'Arafat." Similar statements were attributed to Ibn 'Abbas'3 ' , Ibn Tjmar and Abu Mijlaz.'4 ' Allah knows best. 'Arafat is also called Al-Mash'ar Al-Haram, Al-Mash'ar Al- Aqsa and Ilal, while the mount that is in the middle of 'Arafat is called Jabal Ar-Rahmah (Mount of Mercy). The Time to leave 'Arafat and Al-Muzdalifah Ibn Abu Hatim reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "During the time of JahUyyah, the people used to stand at 'Arafat. When the sun would be on top of the mountains, just as the turban is on top of a man's head, they would move on. Allah's Messenger jg delayed moving from 'Arafat until sunset."5 ' Ibn Marduwyah related this Hadith and added, "He then stood at Al-Muzdalifah and offered the Fajr (Dawn) prayer at an early time. When the light of dawn broke, he moved on." This Hadith has a Hasan chain of narrators. The long Hadith that Jabir bin 'Abdullah narrated, which Muslim collected, stated, "The Prophet jg kept standing there (meaning at 'Arafat) until sunset, when the yeUow light had somewhat gone and the disc of the sun had disappeared. There, he led the Maghrib (Evening) and 'Isha' (Night) prayers with one Adhan and two Iqamah (which announces the imminent start of the acts of the prayer) and did not glorify Allah in between them (i.e., he did not perform voluntary Rak'ah). Allah's Messenger jg then laid down till dawn and offered the Fajr (Dawn) prayer with Adhan and Iqamah, when the morning light was clear. He again mounted Al-Qaswa', and when he came to Al-Mash'ar Al-Haram, he faced towards Qiblah, supplicated to Allah, glorifying Him and saying, La ilaha illalldh, and he continued standing until the daylight was very clear. He then went quickly before the sun rose. It is reported in the Two Sahihs that Usamah bin Zayd was asked, "How was the Prophet's pace when he moved?" He said, "Slow, unless he found space, then he would go a little faster."2' Al-Mash'ar Al-Haram 'Abdur-Razzaq reported that Ibn 'Umar said that all of Al- Muzdalifah is Al-Mash'ar Al-Haram.13 ' It was reported that Ibn "Umar was asked about Allah's statement: i* at 4...remember

When Islam came, Allah commanded His Prophet ^ to stand at ‘Arafat and then proceed from there. Hence Allah’s statement: iJ-dit 4 . . .from the place whence all the people depart. This was also said by Ibn ‘Abbas, Mujahid, ‘Ata’, Qatadah and As-Suddi and others.131 Ibn Jarir chose this opinion and said that there is Ijma‘ (a consensus among the scholars) for it. Imam Ahmad reported that Jubayr bin Mut‘im said, “My camel was lost and I went out in search of it on the day of ‘Arafah, and I saw the Prophet |g standing in ‘Arafat. I said to myself, *By Allah he is from the Hums. The good of this life concerns every material request of well-being, spacious dwelling, pleasing mates, sufficient provision, beneficial knowledge, good profession or deeds, comfortable means of transportation and good praise, all of which the scholars of Tafsir have mentioned regarding this subject. All of these are but a part of the good that is sought in this life.

Mujahid, Ar-Rabl' bin Anas and several others, and it is correct. Ibn Jarir related that Al-Qurazi said that Nawf Al-Bikali, who used to read (previous Divine) Books said, "I find the description of some members of this Ummah in the previously revealed Books of Allah: they (hypocrites) are people who use the religion to gain material benefit. Their tongues are sweeter than honey, but their hearts are more bitter than Sabir (a bitter plant, aloe). They show the people the appearance of sheep while their hearts hide the viciousness of wolves. Allah said, They dare challenge Me, but they are deceived by Me. I swear by Myself that I will send a Fitnah (trial, calamity) on them that will make the wise man bewildered.' I contemplated about these statements and found them in the Qur'an describing the hypocrites: iAtid of mankind there is he whose speech may please you (O Muhammad j&), in this worldly life, and he calls Allah to witness as to that which is in his heart,^ This statement by Al-Qurazi is Hasan Sahih. Allah said: 4 . . .and he calls Allah to witness as to that which is in his heart,} This Ayah indicates that such people pretend to be Muslims, but defy Allah by the disbelief and hypocrisy that their hearts conceal. Similarly Allah said: Si J.Q1 Si iThey may hide (their crimes) from men, but they cannot hide (them)from Allah.} (4:108) This Tafsir was reported from Ibn 'Abbas*2 * by Ibn Ishaq. It was also said that the Ayah means that when such people announce their Islam, they swear by Allah that what is in their hearts is the same of what their tongues are 111 At-Tabari 4:232. 121 At-Tabari 4:230.

577Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (201 - 224) (Part-2) pronouncing. This is also a correct meaning for the Ayah that was chosen by 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam. It is also the choice of Ibn Jarir who related it to Ibn 'Abbas and Mujahid. Allah knows best. Allah said: jit iYet he is the most Aladd of the opponents.} (2:204) The Ayah used the word Aladd here, which literally means 'wicked' (here it means ‘quarrelsome’). A variation of the word Ludda was also used in another Ayah: ﴿3 So that you (Muhammad) warn with it (the Qur'an) a Ludda people.﴾ (19:97) Hence, a hypocrite lies, alters the truth when he quarrels and does not care for the truth. Rather, he deviates from the truth, deceives and becomes most quarrelsome. It is reported in Sahih that Allah's Messenger said: لئلا تتكلموا بغير ما علمتم ولا تأكلوا مما لم يذكر لكم من الرزق ولا تأكلوا مما لم يذكر لكم من الرزق ولا تأكلوا مما لم يذكر لكم من الرزق (lilj t jji- juU- lijj iCjYS •tAi- IS) jSiLjI SSl «77ie signs of a hypocrite are three : Whenever he speaks, he tells a lie. And when he turns away (from you O Muhammad), he struggles in the land to make mischief therein and to destroy the crops and the cattle, and Allah likes not mischief. ^ This Ayah indicates that such persons are deviant in the tongue, evil in the deeds, their words are fabricated, their belief is wicked and their works are immoral. The Ayah used the (Arabic word) Sa'a (literally. Tries' or 'intends'). This word was also used to describe Pharaoh: فإذا فرغنا من هذه الآية، قال يا موسى إنما أنا بشر مثلكم، ولكني آتيتك بالبينات وأنا آتيتك بالبرهان if# a» pijj L»1 JUi rr 4 - ^5^A 4 AThen he turned his back, Yas'a (striving hard against Allah) Then he gathered his people and cried aloud saying, 'I am your lord, most high.' So Allah, seized him with a punishing example for his last and first transgression. Verily, in this is an instructive admonition for whosoever fears Allah. (79:22-26) [Sa'a was also used in the Ayah]: *4^ S' J' ot 'H <0 you who believe (Muslims)! When the call is proclaimed for the Salah (prayer) on the day of Friday (Jumu'ah prayer), As'aiu come to the remembrance of Allah.﴾ (62:9) This Ayah means, '(when the call to the Friday prayer is announced) intend and then proceed to attend the Friday prayer.' We should mention that hastening to the mosque is condemned by the Sunnah (as this is another meaning for the word Sa'a): *Ujjlj jUib UjJt ISLsjj iii» iWhen you come to attend the prayer, do not come in a Sa't (haste). Rather, come to it while walking at ease and in peace (or grace). |1 ' The hypocrite has no motive in this life but to cause mischief and to destroy the crops and the offspring, including what the animals produce and what the people depend on for their livelihood. Mujahid said, "If the hypocrite strives for mischief in Muslim 1 :420

579 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (201 - 224) (Part-2) in the land, Allah prevents the rain from falling and thus the crops and the offspring perish.” The Ayah continues: *it 44 v &f} i...and Allah likes not mischief. that is, Allah does not like those who possess these characteristics, or those who act like this. Rejecting Advice is Characteristic of the Hypocrites Allah said: iAnd when it is said to him, "Fear Allah", he is led by arrogance to (more) crime.﴾ This Ayah indicates that when the hypocrite, who deviates in his speech and deeds, is advised and commanded to fear Allah, refrain from his evil deeds and adhere to the truth, he refuses and becomes angry and outraged, as he is used to doing evil. This Ayah is similar to what Allah said: » *. ,yrj 4 it &T # <& iAnd when Our clear verses are recited to them, you will notice a denial on the faces of the disbelievers! They are nearly ready to attack with violence those who recite Our verses to them. Say: "Shall I tell you of something worse than that? The Fire (of Hell) which Allah has promised to those who disbelieved, and it is indeed that destination!﴾ (22:72) This is why in this Ayah, Allah said: *JliJj <So enough for him is Hell, and worst indeed is that place to rest} meaning, the Fire is enough punishment for the hypocrite. The Sincere Believer prefers pleasing Allah Allah said:

{And of mankind is he who would sell himself, seeking the pleasure of Allah.} After Allah described the evil characteristics of the hypocrites, He mentioned the good qualities of the believers. Allah said: ﴿وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ يَبْتِغِي الْوَسِيلَةَ إِلَى اللَّهِ بِمَا كَانُوا يَفْعَلُونَ﴾ (2:177) {And of mankind is he who would sell himself, seeking the pleasure of Allah.} Ibn ‘Abbas, Anas, Said bin Musayyib, Abu ‘Uthman An-Nahdi, ‘Ikrimah and several other scholars said that this Ayah was revealed about Suhayb bin Sinan Ar-Rumi. When Suhayb became a Muslim in Makkah and intended to migrate (to Al-Madinah), the people (Quraysh) prevented him from migrating with his money. They said that if he forfeits his property, he is free to migrate. He abandoned his money and preferred to migrate, and Allah revealed this Ayah about him. ‘Umar bin al-Khattab and several other Companions met Suhayb close to the outskirts of Al-Madinah at Al-Harrah (flat lands with black stones). They said to him, “The trade has indeed been successful.” He answered them, “You too, may Allah never allow your trade to fail. What is the matter?” ‘Umar told him that Allah has revealed this Ayah (2:207) about him. It was also reported that Allah’s Messenger ﷺ said, “The trade has been successful, O Suhayb!” 1 ^

The meaning of the Ayah (2:207) includes every Mujahid in the way of Allah. Allah said in another Ayah: ﴿وَاللَّهُ يَشْتَرِي مِنْ الْمُحْسِنِينَ﴾ (9:11) {Verily, Allah has purchased of the believers their lives and their properties for (the price) that theirs shall be the Paradise. Umar bin al-Khattab and Abu Hurayrah refuted them and recited this Ayah: ﴿وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ يَبْتِغِي الْوَسِيلَةَ إِلَى اللَّهِ بِمَا كَانُوا يَفْعَلُونَ﴾ (2:177) {And of mankind is he who would sell himself, seeking the pleasure of Allah. Entering Islam in its entirety is obligated Allah commands His servants who believe in Him and have faith in His Messenger to implement all of Islam’s legislation and law, to adhere to all of its commandments, as much as they can, and to refrain from all of its prohibitions. ‘Al-‘Awfi said that Ibn ‘Abbas said, and also Mujahid, Tawtis, Ad-Dahhak, ‘Ikrimah, Qatadah, As-Suddi and Ibn Zayd said that Allah’s statement: ﴿وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ يَبْتِغِي الْوَسِيلَةَ إِلَى اللَّهِ بِمَا كَانُوا يَفْعَلُونَ﴾ (2:177) means Islam. 111 Allah’s statement: ﴿وَمِنْهُمْ مَنْ يَبْتِغِي الْوَسِيلَةَ إِلَى اللَّهِ بِمَا كَانُوا يَفْعَلُونَ﴾ (2:177) means, in its entirety. The Punishment for changing Allah's Favor and mocking the Believers Allah mentioned that the Children of Israel, were witnesses to many clear signs that attest to the truth of Moses regarding what he was sent with for them. They witnessed his hand (when it became lit with light), his parting the sea, his striking the rock (and water flowed from the rock), the clouds that shaded them during the intense heat, the manna and the quails, and so forth. These signs attested to the existence of the Creator and the truth of Moses by whose hand these signs appeared. Instead, they ridicule the believers who ignore this life and who spend whatever they earn on what pleases their Lord. The believers spend seeking Allah's Face, and this is why they have gained the ultimate happiness and the best share on the Day of the Return. Therefore, they will be exalted above the disbelievers at the Gathering Place, when they are gathered, during the resurrection and in their final destination. The believers will reside in the highest grades in the utmost highs, while the disbelievers will reside in the lowest of lows (in the Fire). This is why Allah said: iAnd Allah gives to whom He wills without limit.} This Ayah indicates that Allah gives sustenance to whomever He wills of His servants without count or limit in this and the Hereafter. When ‘Abdullah read the instructions, he recited Istitjd [saying, Truly I to Allah we belong and truly, to Him we shall return’; and refer to (2:156)] and said, “I hear and obey Allah and His Messenger.” He then told his companions the story and read the instructions to them, and two men went back while the rest remained. The Prophet sent eight people with him, all from among the Muhajirun and none from the Ansar. He also gave him some written instructions and ordered him not to read them until he marched for two days. ‘Abdullah should then read the instructions and march to implement them, but should not force any of those who were with him to accompany him. The companions of ‘Abdullah bin Jahsh were all from the Muhajirun, from the tribe of Banu ‘Abd Shams bin ‘Abd Manaf, there was Abu Hudhayfah bin TJtbah bin Rabi’ah bin ‘Abd Shams bin ‘Abd Manaf. From their allies, there was ‘Abdullah bin Jahsh, who was the commander of the army unit, and TJkkashah bin Mihsan from the tribe of Banu Asad bin Khuzaymah. From the tribe of Banu Nawfal bin ‘Abd Manaf, there was TJtbah bin Ghazwan bin Jabir, one of their allies. From the tribe of Banu Zuhrah bin Kilab, there was Sa’d bin Abu Waqqas. From Banu KaTa, there were their allies: ‘Adi bin ‘Amr bin Ar-RabPah not from the tribe of Ibn Wa’il; Wfiqid bin ‘Abdullah bin ‘Abd Manaf bin ‘Ann bin Thalabah bin Yarbu’ from Banu Tamlm; and Khalid bin Bukair from the tribe of Banu Sa’d bin Layth, Suhayl bin Bayda’ from Banu Al-Harith bin Fihir was also among them. When ‘Abdullah bin Jahsh marched for two days, he opened and read the I 1 * Ibn Abi H§tim 2 :628.

600 Tafsir Ibtî Kathir (Prophet’s) instructions, “When you read these instructions, march until you set camp at Nakhlah between Makkah and At-Ta’if. There, watch the movements of the caravan of Quraysh and collect news about them for us.” When ‘Abdullah bin Jahsh read the document, he said, “I hear and obey.” He then said to his companions, “Allah’s Messenger % has commanded me to march forth to Nakhlah to watch the movements of the caravan of Quraysh and to inform him about their news. He has prohibited me from forcing any of you (to go with me). So, those who seek martyrdom, they should march with me. Those who dislike the idea of martyrdom, let them turn back. Surely, I will implement the command of Allah’s Messenger s&.” He and his companions continued without any of them turning back. ‘Abdullah entered the Hijaz area (western Arabia) until he reached an area called Buhran, close to Furu’. There, Sa’d bin Abu Waqqas and ‘Utbah bin Ghazwan lost the camel that they were riding in turns, and they went back to search for it while ‘Abdullah bin Jahsh and the rest of his companions continued until they reached Nakhlah. Then, a caravan belonging to the Quraysh passed by carrying raisins, food stuff and some trade items for the Quraysh. ‘Amr bin Hadrami, whose name was ‘Abdullah bin ‘Abbad, was in the caravan, as well as Uthman bin ‘Abdullah bin Al-Mughirah and his brother Nawfal bin ‘Abdullah from the tribe of Makhzum, and Al-Hakam bin Kaysan, a freed slave of Hisham bin Al-Mughirah. When they saw the Companions they were frightened, but when they saw Ukkashah bin Mihsan their fears subsided, since his head was shaved. They said, “These people seek the ‘Umrah, so there is no need to fear them.” The Companions conferred among themselves. That day was the last day in the (sacred) month of Rajab. They said to each other, “By Allah! If you let them pass, they will soon enter the Sacred Area and take refuge in it from you. If you kill them, you will kill them during the Sacred Month.” They at first hesitated and did not like to attack them. They then began encouraging themselves and decided to kill whomever they could among the disbelievers and to confiscate whatever they had. Hence, Waqid bin ‘Abdullah At-Tamlmi shot an arrow at ‘Amr bin Al-Hadrami and killed him. Uthman bin ‘Abdullah

601 Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (201 - 224) (Part-2) and Al-Hakam bin Kaysan gave themselves up, while Nawfal bin 'Abdullah was able to outrun them in flight. Later on, 'Abdullah bin Jahsh and his companions went back to Allah's Messenger jg in Al-Madinah with the caravan and the two prisoners. Ibn Ishaq went on: I was told that some members of the family of 'Abdullah bin Jahsh said that 'Abdullah said to his companions: "Allah's Messenger jg will have one-fifth of what we have confiscated." This occurred before Allah required one- fifth for His Messenger from the war booty. So, 'Abdullah designated one-fifth of the caravan for Allah's Messenger jg and divided the rest among his companions. Ibn Ishaq also stated that at first, when the Sariyah came back to Allah's Messenger he said to them: JIL ja\ Li® "J have not commanded you to conduct warfare during the Sacred Month. He left the caravan and the two prisoners alone and did not take any share of the war booty. When Allah's Messenger % did that, the soldiers from the attack were concerned and felt that they were destroyed, and their Muslim brethren criticized them for what they did. The Quraysh said that Muhammad jg and his Companions violated the sanctity of the Sacred Month and shed blood, confiscated property and took prisoners during it. Those who refuted them among the Muslims who remained in Makkah replied that the Muslims had done that during the month of Shalsan (which is not a sacred month). Meanwhile, the Jews were pleased about what happened to Allah's Messenger fg. They said, ' Amr bin Hadrami was killed by Waqid bin 'Abdullah: 'Amr, means the war has started, Hadrami means the war has come, as for Waqid (bin 'Abdullah): the war has raged (using some of the literal meanings of these names to support their fortune- telling!)." But, Allah made all that turn against them. The people continued talking about this matter, then Allah revealed to His Messenger sg: ip\ tejM ^ c!>i5&&

As for 'Uthman bin 'Abdullah, he went back to Makkah and died there as a disbeliever. Ibn Ishaq went on: When 'Abdullah bin Jahsh and his companions were relieved from their depressing thoughts after the Qur'an was revealed about this subject, they sought the reward of the fighters (in Allah's way). They said, "O Messenger of Allah! We wish that this incident be considered a battle for us, so that we gain the rewards of the Mujahidin." Allah knows best. Abu Ja'far bin Jarir (At-Tabari) said, after mentioning that there is Ijma' that marrying women from the People of the Scripture is allowed, "TJmar disliked this practice so that the Muslims do not refrain from marrying Muslim women, or for similar reasons." ' An authentic chain of narrators stated that Shaqlq said: Once Hudhayfah married a Jewish woman and TJmar wrote to him, "Divorce her." He wrote back, "Do you claim that she is not allowed for me so that I divorce her?" He said, "No. But, I fear that you might marry the whores from among them." Ibn Jarir related that Zayd bin Wahb said that TJmar bin Khattab said, "The Muslim man marries the Christian woman, but the Christian man does not marry the Muslim woman." The Jews said this and that, should we have sex with our women (meaning, during the menstruation period)?" The face of Allah's Messenger changed color, until the Companions thought that he was angry with them. They left. 616 Tafsir IbtI Kathfr Muslim also reported this Hadlth. Allah said: 4 'Alili 4 .. .therefore, keep envayfrom women during menses meaning, avoid the sexual organ. The Prophet said: •0S&I VI^ 'js iDo anything you wish except having sexual intercourse .s' This is why most of the scholars said that it is allowed to fondle the wife, except for having sexual intercourse (when she is having her menses). Abu Dawud reported that Ilcrimah related to one of the Prophet's wives that she said that whenever the Prophet wanted to fondle (one of his wives) during her menses, he would cover her sexual organ with something.²¹ Abu JaTar bin Jarir related that Masruq went to 'A'ishah and greeted her, and 'A'ishah greeted him in return. Masruq said, "I wish to ask you about a matter, but I am shy." She replied, "I am your mother and you are my son." He said, "What can the man enjoy of his wife when she is having her menses?" She said, "Everything except her sexual organ."¹³ This is also the opinion of Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid, Al-Hasan and 'Ikrimah. One is allowed to sleep next to his wife and to eat with her (when she is having her menses). 'A'ishah said, "Allah's Messenger used to ask me to wash his hair while I was having the menses. He would lay on my lap and read the Qur'an while I was having the period."⁴ It is also reported in the Sahlh that 'A'ishah said, "While having the menses, I used to eat from a piece of meat and give it to the Prophet who would eat from the same place I ate from. I used to have sips of a drink and would then give the cup to the Prophet who would place his mouth where I placed my mouth."⁵ It is also reported in the Two Sahihs that Maymunah bint Muslim 1 :246. ' Abu Dawud 1 : 286. 131 At-Tabari 4:378. 141 Fath Al-Bari 1 :479 ' Muslim 1 :245.

617 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (201 - 224) (Part-2) Al-Harith Al-Hilaliyah said, "Whenever the Prophet wanted to fondle any of his wives during the periods (menses), he used to ask her to wear an Zzar (a sheet covering the lower-half of the body)." These are the wordings collected by Al-Bukhari. Similar was reported from 'A'ishah.^{*21} In addition, Imam Ahmad, Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah reported that 'Abdullah bin Sa'd Al-Ansari asked Allah's Messenger sfe, "What am I allowed of my wife while she is having her menses?" He said, "What is above the Izar (a sheet covering the lower-half of the body)." ¹³¹ Hence, Allah's statement: 4...and go not in unto them till they are purified. explains His statement: 4...therefore, keep away from women during menses> Allah prohibited having sexual intercourse with the wife during menstruation, indicating that sexual intercourse is allowed otherwise. Allah's statement: 4And when they have purified themselves, then go in unto them as Allah has ordained for you indicates that men should have sexual intercourse with their wives after they take a bath. The scholars agree that the woman is obliged to take a bath, or to perform Tayammum with sand, if she is unable to use water, before she is allowed to have sexual intercourse with her husband, after the monthly period ends. Ibn 'Abbas said: "4till they are purified^ means from blood, and, ¹¹¹ Path Al-Bari 1 :483 .Muslim 1 :243. ^ Fath Al-Bari 1 :480.Muslim 1 :242. We should mention that (when this Ayah 2:228 was revealed), the ruling that made the divorce thrice and specified when the husband is ineligible to take his divorced wife back, had not been revealed yet. Previously, the man used to divorce his wife and then take her back even if he had divorced her a hundred separate times. Thereafter, Allah revealed the following Ayah (2:229) that made the divorce only thrice. So there was now a reversible divorce and an irreversible final divorce. The Rights the Spouses have over Each Other Allah said: iAnd they (women) have rights (over their husbands as regards living expenses) similar (to those of their husbands) over them (as regards obedience and respect) to what is reasonable, This Ayah indicates that the wife has certain rights on her husband, just as he has certain rights on her, and each is obliged to give the other spouse his due rights. Then if you fear that they would not be able to keep the limits ordained by Allah, then there is no sin on either of them if she gives back (the Mahr or a part of it). These are the limits of Allah, which He makes plain for the people who have knowledge. Divorce is Thrice This honorable Ayah abrogated the previous practice in the beginning of Islam, when the man had the right to take back his divorced wife even if he had divorced her a hundred times, as long as she was still in her 'Iddah (waiting period). This situation was harmful for the wife, and this is why Allah made the divorce thrice, where the husband is allowed to take back his wife after the first and the second divorce (as long as she is still in her 'Iddah). The divorce becomes irrevocable after the third divorce, as Allah said: 4230 The divorce is twice, after that, either you retain her on reasonable terms or release her with kindness. In his Sunan, Abu Dawud reported in Chapter: "Taking the Wife back after the third (Divorce) is an abrogated practice," that Ibn 'Abbas commented on the Ayah. iAttd divorced women shall wait (as regards their marriage) for three menstrual periods, and it is not licenftl for them to conceal

Al-Qadi Al-Mawardi added that the majority of the scholars of the Tabi’in also held this view. Al-Hafiz Abu TJmar bin ‘Abdul-Barr said that this is also the opinion of the majority of the scholars of the Athar (i.e., the Hadith and the statements of the Salaf). In addition, Abu Muhammad bin ‘Atiyah said that this is the Tafsir (of the Middle prayer) of the majority of scholars. Al-Hafiz Abu Muhammad ‘Abdul-Mu’min bin Khalaf Ad-Dumyati stated in his book on the Middle prayer that it is the ‘Asr prayer and mentioned that this is the Tafsir of ‘Umar, ‘Ali, Ibn Mas‘ud, Abu Ayyub, ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr, Samurah bin Jundub, Abu Hurayrah, Abu Said, Hafsah, Umm Habibah, Umm Salamah, Ibn ‘Abbas and ‘A’ishah. The Prohibition of speaking during the Prayer

Allah said: And stand before Allah with obedience. meaning, with humbleness and humility before Him (i.e., during the prayer). This command indicates that it is not allowed to speak during the prayer, as speaking contradicts the nature of the prayer. This is why the Prophet ﷺ refused to answer Ibn Mas'ud when he greeted him while he was praying and said afterwards: «The prayer makes one sufficiently f?st/»³¹ (i.e., by the various actions of the body, tongue and heart involved during the prayer.) Muslim reported that the Prophet said to Mu'awiyah bin Hakam As-Sulami when he spoke during the prayer: Err-~^ i tfj 'j t^Lkl ejtft oj «jiil 'jSij “The ordinary speech people indulge in is not appropriate during the prayer. Then when this Ayah was revealed: k\ iAnd stand before Allah with obedience.} we were ordered to refrain from speaking.”^{12*} The Group*³ (i.e., the Hadith collections), except Ibn Majah, reported this Hadith. The Fear Prayer Allah said: 0j>- o' iAnd ifyou fear (an enemy), (perform Saldh) on foot or riding. He mentioned the situation where the person might not be able to perform the prayer perfectly, during battle and combat. Allah said: iAnd ifyou fear (an enemy), perform Saldh on foot or riding.} meaning, pray in the appropriate manner under these circumstances, whether on foot or riding and whether facing the Qiblah or otherwise. Imam Malik reported that Nafi' related that Ibn TJmar used to describe the Fear prayer when he was asked about it and would then add, “If there is intense fear, pray on foot, riding, facing the Qiblah and otherwise.” Nafi' commented, “I think that he related that to the Prophet #,.”⁴ 111 Muslim 1:381. * Ahmad 4:368. * Fath Al-Bari 3:88, Muslilm 1 :383, Abu Dawud 1 :583, Tuhfat Al- Ahwadhi8 : 330 , An-Nasal 3:18. * Al-Muwatta' 1:184.

673Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (223 - 252) (Part-2) Al-Bukhari and Muslim reported the HadithP^ Muslim, Abu Dawud, An-Nasal, ibn Majah and Ibn Jarir reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, “Allah has ordained the prayer by the words of your Prophet four (Rak'ah) while residing, two oh while traveling and one Rak'ah during times of fear.”¹ This is also the view of Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Qatadah, Ad-Dahhak, and others . In addition, Al-Bukhari has entitled a Chapter: ‘Prayer while confronting the Forts and facing the Enemy’. Al-Awzal said, “If the victory seems near and the Muslims are unable to perform the prayer (in the normal manner), they should pray by nodding each by himself. If they are unable to nod, they should delay the prayer until fighting is finished. When they feel safe, they should pray two Rak'ah. If they are unable, they should then pray one Rak'ah that includes two prostrations. If they are unable, then Takbir alone does not suffice, so they should delay the prayer until they are safe.” This is the same view that Makhul held. Anas bin Malik said, “I participated in the attack on the fort of Tatar, when the light of dawn started to become clear. Suddenly, the fighting raged and the Muslims were unable to pray until the fight of day spread. We then prayed (the Dawn prayer) with Abu MUsa and we became victorious. I would not have been pleased if I were to gain in the life of this world and whatever is in it instead of that prayer.”¹ This is the wording of Al-Bukhari. Prayer during the Times of Peace is performed normally Allah said: iArui when you are in safety, then remember Allah (pray)) meaning, ‘Perform the prayer as I have commanded you by completing its bowing, prostration, standing, sitting, Ayah (2:240) was abrogated The majority of the scholars said that this Ayah (2:240) was abrogated by the Ayah (2:234), what Allah said: 4 . . .they (the ivives) shall wait (as regards their marriage) far four months and ten days.) (2:234) For instance, Al-Bukhari reported that Ibn Az-Zubayr said: I said to TJthman bin ‘Affan: jjjyy iAnd those ofyou who die and leave wives behind them) was abrogated by the other Ayah (2:234). Therefore, why did you collect it (meaning, in the Qur’an)?” He said, “O mynephew! I shall not change any part of the Qur’an from its place.” The question that Ibn Az-Zubayr asked TJthman means: If the ruling of the Ayah (2:240) was abrogated to four months (the 'Iddah of the widow, and refer to 2:234), then what is the wisdom behind including it in the Qur’an, although its ruling has been abrogated? If the Ayah (2:240) remains (in the Qur’an) after the Ayah that abrogated it (2:234), this mightimply that its ruling is still valid.’ TJthman, the Leader of the faithful, answered him by stating that this is a matter of the revelation, which mentioned these Ayat in this order. Therefore, I shall leave the Ayah where I found it in the Qur’an.’ Ibn Abu Hatim reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said about what Allah said: iAnd those of you who die and leave behind wives should bequeath far their wives a year's maintenance (and residence) without turning them out,) “The widow used to reside, and have her provisions provided m Fath Al-Bari 8:48.

used to be the ‘Iddah, and the widow had to remain with her (deceased) husband’s family (during that period, i.e., four months and ten days). Then, Allah revealed: I*!-’-’”! -£ 4And those of you who die and leave behind wives should bequeath for their wives a year's maintenance (and residence) without turning them out, but if they (wives) leave, there is no sin on you for that which they do of themselves, provided it is honorable (e.g., lawful marriage). So, Allah made the rest of the year, which is seven months and twenty days, as a will and testament for her. Consequently, if she wants, she could use her right in this will and remain in the residence (for the rest of the year). Or, if she wants, she could leave the (deceased husband’s) house after the four months and ten days have passed. This is the meaning ofwhat Allah said: i...without turning them out, but if they (wives) leave, there is no sin on you.}

Therefore, the required term of 'Iddah is still unchanged (refer to 2:234). 'Ata' quoted Ibn 'Abbas, "This Ayah (2:240) has abrogated (the requirement that) the widow spends the 'Iddah with his (i.e., her deceased husband's) family. So, she spends her 'Iddah wherever she wants. This is the meaning of what Allah said: 4^4 iwithout turning them out,}." 'Ata' also said: "If she wants, she spends the 'Iddah with his family and resides there according to the will (meaning the rest of the year). If she wants, she is allowed to leave, for Allah said: LLj ithere is no sin on you for that which they do of themselves,}."

'Ata' then said: "Then (the Ayah on) the inheritance (refer to 4:12) came and abrogated the residence. Hence, the widow spends her 'Iddah wherever she wants and does not have the right to residence any more." The statement of 'Ata' and those who held the view that the Ayah (2:240) was abrogated by the Ayah on the inheritance (4:12), is only valid for more than the four months and ten days (required in 2:234). However, if they mean that the four months and ten days are not required from the deceased husband's estate, then this opinion is the subject of disagreement among the scholars. As proof, they said that the widow is required to remain in her (deceased) husband's house (for four months and ten days) according to what Malik reported from Zaynab bint Ka*b bin TJjah. She said that Fari'ah bint Malik bin Sinan, the sister of Abu Said Al-Khudri, told her that she came to Allah's Messenger^ asking him to return to her family's residence with Banu Khudrah. Her husband had pursued some of his servants who ran away, but when he reached the area of Al-Qadum, they killed him. She said, "So I asked Allah's Messenger jg if I should stay with my family in Banu Khudrah, for my (deceased) husband did not leave me a residence that he owns or Nafaqah (maintenance). Allah's Messenger jg answered in the positive. While I was in the room, Allah's Messenger jg summoned me or had someone summon me and said: ., , zWIat did you say? I repeated the story to him about my (deceased) husband. He said: «ijjA 4.GS3I^ JU 4^J "Stay at your home until the term reaches its end. So I remained through the 'Iddah term for four months and ten days in my (deceased husband's) house. Thereafter, Uthman bin 'Allan sent for me during his reign and asked me about this matter and I told him what happened. He made a judgment to the same effect. "21 This Hadlth was also collected 111 Al-Bukhari 4531,5344. 121 Al-Muwatta' 2:591.

679 Surah 2. Al-Baqarah (225 - 252) (Part-2) by Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasal and Ibn Majah.m At- Tirmidhi said, "Hasan Sahih". TheNecessityoftheMut'ah (Gift) attheTime ofDivorce Allah said: iAndfor divorced women, maintenance (should be provided) on reasonable (scale). This is a duty on Al-Muttaqin (the pious) .} 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said that when Allah's statement: i...a gift of reasonable amount is a duty on the doers ofgood} (2:236) was revealed, a man said, "If I want, I will be excellent and if I do not, I will not." Thereafter, Allah revealed this Ayah: iAndfor divorced women, maintenance (should be provided) on reasonable (scale). This is a duty on Al-Muttaqin (the pious). The scholars who ruled that the Mut'ah (reasonable gift) at the time of divorce is required for eveiy divorced woman, whether she had a bridal-money appointed for her or not, and whether the marriage was consummated or not, relied on this Ayah (2:241) when they issued their ruling. In his Tafsir, Waki' bin Jarrah said that Ibn 'Abbas commented. iDid you (O Muhammad not think of those who went forth from their homes in thousands, fearing death?) that they were four thousand persons who escaped the plague (that broke out in their land). They said, "We should go to a land that is free of death!" When they reached a certain area, Allah said to them: i'Ve."} and they all died. Afterwards, one of the Prophets passed by them and supplicated to Allah to resurrect them and Allah brought them back to life. So, Allah stated: 4y>pi' Ojli L/& j) J-« f&} iDid you (O Muhammad not think of those who went forth from their homes in the thousands, fearing death?) Furthermore, several scholars among the Salaf said that these people were the residents of a city during the time of the Children of Israel. The weather in their land did not suit them and an epidemic broke out. They fled their land fearing death and took refuge in the wilderness. They later arrived at a fertile valley and they filled what is between its two sides. Then Allah sent two angels to them, one from the lower side and the other from the upper side of the valley. The angels screamed once and all the people died instantly, just as the death of one man. They were later moved to a different place, where walls and graves were built around them. They all perished, and their bodies rotted and disintegrated. Long afterwards, one of the Prophets of the Children of Israel, whose name was Hizql (Ezekiel), passed by them and asked Allah to bring them back to life by his hand. Allah accepted his supplication and commanded him to say, "O rotted bones, Allah commands you to come together." The bones of every body were brought together. Allah then commanded him to

682 Tafstr Ibn Kathir say, "O bones, Allah commands you to be covered with flesh, nerves and skin." That also happened while Hizql was watching. Allah then commanded him to say, "O souls, Allah commands you to return, each to the body that it used to inhabit." They all came back to life, looked around and proclaimed, "All praise is due to You (O Allah!) and there is no deity worthy of worship except You." Allah brought them back to life after they had perished long ago. We should state that bringing these people back to life is a clear proof that physical resurrection shall occur on the Day of Resurrection. appointed over Them Mujahid said that the Prophet (mentioned in the Ayah 2:246 above) is Shamwil (Samuel). ' Wahb bin Munabbih said: The Children of Israel remained on the straight path for a period of time after Moses. They then innovated in the religion and some of them even worshipped the idols. Yet, there were always Prophets sent among them who would command them to work righteous deeds, refrain from doing evil and who would rule them according to the commands of the Torah. When they (Israelites) committed the evil that they committed, Allah caused their enemies to overwhelm them, and many fatalities fell among them as a consequence. Their enemies also captured a great number of them, and took over large areas of their land. Earlier, anyone who would fight the Israelites would lose, because they had the Torah and the Tdhiit,'2 ' which they inherited generation after generation ever since the time of Moses, who spoke to Allah directly. Yet, the Israelites kept indulging in misguidance until some king took the Tabut from them during a battle. That king also took possession of the Torah, and only a few of the Israelites who memorized it remained. The prophethood halted among their various tribes and only a pregnant woman remained of the offspring of Lavi (Levi), in whom the prophethood still appeared. Her husband had been killed, so the Israelites kept her in a house so that Allah may give her a boy, who would be their Prophet. The woman also kept invoking Allah to grant her a boy. Allah heard her pleas and gave her a boy whom she At-Tabari 5:293. 'The ark of the Covenant.'

As that boy grew, Allah raised him to be a righteous person. When he reached the age of prophethood, Allah revealed to him and commanded him to call (his people) to Him and to His TawhicL (Oneness). Shamwll called the Children of Israel (to Allah) and they asked him to appoint a king over them so that they could fight their enemies under his command. The kingship had also ended among them. Their Prophet said to them, "What if Allah appoints a king over you, would you fulfill your vow to fight under his command?" irr - :•* SA r- 4They said, "Why should we not fight in Allah's way while toe have been driven out of our homes and our children?"} meaning, 'After our land had been confiscated and our children had been taken from us?' But, Talut was not a descendant of the house of kings among them, which was exclusively in the offspring of Yahudha (Judah). This is why they said: «££ JiJ'i i) 3$ iHow can he be a king over us) meaning, how can he be the king for us. iwhen we are fitter than him for the kingdom, and he has not been given enough wealth?) Their Prophet answered them: C. 4jll 0^ iVerily, Allah has chosen him above you) meaning, ‘Allah chose Talut from amongst you while having better knowledge about him.’ Their Prophet stated, “I did not choose Talut to be your king on my own. This is also the meaning given by Ibn ‘Abbas, as Al- ‘Awfi narrated.  ‘Abdur-Razzaq 1:98.

ShamTin (Simeon) and obeyed Talut” The Prophet then said: At-Tabari 5:331. At-Tabari 5:331,332. At-Tabari 5:333. At-Tabari 5 :335

But those who ktmv with certainty that they were going to meet Allah, said: "Hoiv often has a small group overcome a mighty host by Allah's leave?" And Allah is with As-Sdbirin (the patient).}

Allah states that TalQt, the king of the Children of Israel, marched forth with his soldiers and the Israelites who obeyed him. His army was of eighty thousand then, according to As- Suddi, ' but Allah knows best. Talut said: iif -^>1$ iVerily, Allah will try you meaning, He will test you with a river, which flowed between Jordan and Palestine, i.e., the Shari'ah river, according to Ibn ‘Abbas and others., 2) He continued. iSo whoever drinks thereof, he is not of me;} meaning, shall not accompany me today, 4i^s. if^ ^ iand whoever tastes it not, he is of me, except him who takes (thereof) in the hollow ofhis hand meaning, there is no harm in this case. Only those who believed crossed the river with him.”131 Al-Bukhari also reported this . This is why Allah said: Li; o Z5& 'J ijd . At-Tabari 5:339. [21 At-Tabari 5:340. Al-Bacjarah (225 - 252) (Part-2) iSo when he had crossed it (the river), he and those who believed with him, they said: "We have no power this day against Jdliit (Goliath) and his hosts."} This Ayah indicates that the Israelites (who remained with Saul) thought that they were few in the face of their enemy who were many then. So, their knowledgeable scholars strengthened their resolve by stating that Allah’s promise is true and that triumph comes from Allah Alone, not from the large numbers or the adequacy of the supplies. They said to them: i"How often has a small group overcome a mighty host by Allah's leave?"And Allah is with As-Sabirin (the patient).} \L& y>\ ».j» jiiij !&}& <3ll Vjlj ttlj jLU&J iif ^ .— -l' wtlij Jc J—Si JJ , m 1 4#<££3® St)^^ isjs 4250. Then, iand Ddwud killed Jalut} Israelite accounts claimed that (Prophet) David killed Goliath with a slingshot that he had, which he launched at Goliath causing his death. TalCit promised that whoever killed Jalut, would marry his daughter and would share his kingship and authority. He kept his promise. Later, the kingship was transferred to Prophet Dawud in addition to being granted Prophethood by Allah. Similarly, Allah said: JiGlt $ iFor had it not been that Allah checks one set of people by means of another, monasteries, churches, synagogues, and Masjids, wherein the Name of Allah is mentioned much, would surely, have been pulled down.} (22:40) Allah then said: & J—i jj Sit iBut Allah is full of bounty to the 'Alamitt (mankind, Jinn and all that exists)} meaning, by His mercy and favor He fixes some of them by some others. Important Guidelines About the Authenticity of the Reports and Quotations in the Tafsir of Ibn Kathir Reports from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) Reports that are attributed to the companions of Allah's Messenger are commonly used for additional explanation of the meanings of the Qur'an. As for those quotes that Ibn Kathir mentions in passing, these quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as an evidence against what is known to be authentic. Additional information in this regard is found in the Introduction of Ibn Kathir. Incomplete Chains of Narration The following is a list of common incomplete chains of narrations that Al-Hafiz Ibn Kathir often quotes. - 'Ali bin Abi Talhah (Al-Walibi) reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - ('Atiyah) Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - Ad-Dahhak from Ibn 'Abbas. - As-Suddi reported from Abu Malik and Abu Salih from Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas'ud and (or) some men among the companions. - Al-Hasan Al-Basri reporting from or about the Prophet aS- - Az-Zuhri [Muhammad bin Shihab] reporting from or about the Prophet - 'Urwah bin Az-Zubayr reporting from or about the Prophet sg. - 'Ikrimah reporting from or about the Prophet jt. - Qatadah reporting from or about the Prophet 53. All narrations coming from these chains are unauthentic according to the Sciences of Hadith. Their meanings, however, may be correct as understood by authentic texts, and for this reason they are commonly referenced.

Reports from the Followers of the Companions and those who Follow them The following is a list of those who did not see the Prophet ﷺ, but they report from companions of the Prophet ﷺ, while often they themselves are quoted for Tafsir. Reports that are attributed to them are used as additional support in understanding certain issues by Ibn Kathir. Such quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as evidence against the authentic evidence. Abu Al-'Aliyah, Said bin Jubayr, Said bin Al-Musayib, 'Ata' (bin Abi Rabah), 'Ata' Al-Khurrasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Ar-Rabi' bin Anas, Ash-Shabbi, Qatadah, Mujahid, Ikrimah, Ad-Dahhak, 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam (Ibn Zayd), Ibn Jurayj. Other Scholars After the Companions The following are some scholars that Ibn Kathir often quotes from. Since these scholars are not well known to the average English reader, one should beware that their own statements about the Prophet ﷺ, his companions, or circumstances surrounding the Qur'an's revelation, are not to be considered as important as authentically narrated texts. The Hadith indicates that it is not up to creation to decide which Prophet is better, for this is Allah's decision. The creation is only required to submit to, obey and believe in Allah's decision. Allah's statement, 'We gave 'Isa, the son of Maryam, clear signs' refers to the proofs and unequivocal evidences that testify to the truth that 'Isa delivered to the Children of Israel, thus testifying that he was Allah's servant and His Messenger to them. Allah's statement, iNeither slumber nor sleep overtakes Him} means, no shortcoming, unawareness or ignorance ever touches Allah. Rather, He is aware of, and controls what every soul earns, has perfect watch over everything, nothing escapes His knowledge, and no secret matter is secret to Him. Among His perfect attributes, is the fact that He is never effected by slumber or sleep. Therefore, Allah's statement, iNeitlier slumber overtakes Him} indicates that no unawareness due to slumber ever overtakes Allah. Allah said afterwards, inor sleep}, which is stronger than slumber. Lord is neverforgetful (19:64). 7. Allah's statement, 'And they will never compass anything of His Knowledge except that which He wills', asserts the fact that no one attains any part of Allah's knowledge except what Allah conveys and allows. This part of the Ayah indicates that no one ever acquires knowledge of Allah and in His Attributes, except what He conveys to them. For instance, Allah said, 'But they will never compass anything of His knowledge (20 :110). 8. Allah said, 'His Kursi extends over the heavens and the earth.' Wald' narrated in his Tafsir that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Kursi is the footstool, and no one is able to give due consideration to (Allah's) Throne." Al-Hakim recorded this Hadith in his Mustadrafo2] from Ibn 'Abbas, who did not relate it to the Prophet jg. Al-Hakim said, "It is Sahlh according to the criteria At-Tabarani 12:39. 121 Al-Hakim 2 :282 of the Two Sahihs, and they (Al-Bukhari and Muslim) did not record it." In addition, Ad-Dahhak said that Ibn 'Abbas said, "If the seven heavens and the seven earths were flattened and laid side by side, they would add up to the size of a ring in a desert, compared to the Kursi." 9. Allah said, 'And He feels no fatigue in guarding and preserving them' meaning, it does not burden or cause Him fatigue to protect the heavens and earth and all that is in between them. Rather, this is an easy matter for Him. Further, Allah sustains everything, has perfect watch over everything, nothing ever escapes His knowledge and no matter is ever a secret to Him. All matters are insignificant, modest and humble before Him. He is the Most Rich, worthy of all praise. He does what He wills, and no one can ask Him about what He does, while they will be asked. He has supreme power over all things and perfect alertness concerning everything. He is the Most High, the Greatest, there is no deity worthy of worship except Him, and no Lord other than Him. 10. Allah's statement, 'And He is the Most High, the Most Great' is similar to His statement, 'the Most Great, the Most High' (13:9). These and similar Aydt and authentic Hadiths about Allah's Attributes must be treated the way the Salaf (righteous ancestors) treated them by accepting their apparent meanings without equating them (with the attributes of the creation) or altering their apparent meanings. ft ill ^$$$ fjfii .-'l-^ 111 Ibn Abi HStim 3:981.

Therefore, there is no need to force anyone to embrace Islam. Rather, whoever Allah directs to Islam, opens his heart for it and enlightens his mind, will embrace Islam with certainty. Whoever Allah blinds his heart and seals his hearing and sight, then he will not benefit from being forced to embrace Islam." It was reported that the Ansar were the reason behind revealing this Ayah, although its indication is general in meaning. Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said (that before Islam), “When (an Ansar) woman would not bear children who would live, she would vow that if she gives birth to a child who remains alive, she would raise him as a Jew. When Banu An-Nadlr (the Jewish tribe) were evacuated [from Al-Madlnah], some of the children of the Ansar were being raised among them, and the Ansar said, “We will not abandon our children.’ Allah revealed, 4’jii £ j5 jj’ 4 ‘i) iThere is no compulsion in religion. Verily, the right path has become distinct from the zorong path.)”¹¹¹ Abu Dawud and An-Nasa’i¹¹² ‘ also recorded this Hadlth. As for the Hadith that Imam Ahmad recorded, in which Anas said that the Messenger of Allah sg said to a man, At-Tabari 5:407. Abu Dawud 3 :132 , An-Nasal in Al-Kubra 6 :304

«"Embrace Islam." The man said, "I dislike it." The Prophet ss said, "Even if you dislike if." First, this is an authentic Hadith, with only three narrators between Imam Ahmad and the Prophet ig. However, it is not relevant to the subject under discussion, for the Prophet sg did not force that man to become Muslim. The Prophet sg merely invited this man to become Muslim, and he replied that he does not find himself eager to become Muslim. The Prophet jg said to the man that even though he dislikes embracing Islam, he should still embrace it, “for Allah will grant you sincerity and true intent.’ Tawhid is the Most Trustworthy Handhold Allah’s statement, iWhoever disbelieves in Tdghut and believes in Allah, then he has grasped the most trustworthy handhold that will never break. And Allah is All-Hearer, All-Knmoer is in reference to, “Whoever shuns the rivals of Allah, the idols, and those that Shaytan calls to be worshipped besides Allah, whoever believes in Allah’s Oneness, worships Him alone and testifies that there is no deity worthy of worship except Him, then i&jif 4then he has grasped the most trustworthy handhold.} Therefore, this person will have acquired firmness [in the religion] and proceeded on the correct way and the straight path. Abu Al-Qasim Al-Baghawi recorded that ‘Umar said, “Jibt means magic, and Tdghut means Shaytan. Verily, courage and cowardice are two instincts that appear in men, the courageous fights for those whom he does not know and the coward runs away from defending his own mother. Man’s honor resides with his religion and his status is based upon m Ahmad 3 :181 his character, even if he was Persian or Nabatian.”^{1 11} 'Umar’s statement that Taghut is Shaytan is very sound, for this meaning includes every type of evil that the ignorant people of Jdhiliyyah (pre Islamic era of ignorace) fell into, such as worshipping idols, referring to them for judgement, and invoking them for victory. Allah’s statement, i‘\X (Cm i 4then he has grasped the most trustworthy handhold that will never break> means, “He will have hold of the true religion with the strongest grasp.” Allah equated this adherence to the firm handhold that never breaks because it is built solid and because its handle is firmly connected. This is why Allah said here, 4then he has grasped the most trustworthy handhold that will never break. Mujahid said, “The most trustworthy handhold is Iman (faith). ”*²¹ As-Suddi said that it refers to Islam. [3] Imam Ahmad recorded that Qays bin ‘Abbad said, “I was in the Masjid when a man whose face showed signs of humbleness came and prayed two Rak'ahs that were modest in length. The people said. This is a man from among the people of Paradise.’ When he left, I followed him until he entered his house, and I entered it after him and spoke with him. When he felt at ease, I said to him, When you entered the Masjid, the people said such and such things.’ He said, ‘All praise is due to Allah! No one should say what he has no knowledge of. Verily, Allah delivers His believing servants from the darkness of disbelief, doubt and hesitation, to the light of the plain, clear, explained, easy and unequivocal truth. He also stated that Shaytan is the supporter of the disbelievers who beautifies the paths of ignorance and misguidance that they follow, thus causing them to deviate from the true path into disbelief and wickedness. iThose arc the dwellers of the Fire, and they will abide therein forever This is why Allah mentioned the light in the singular while mentioned the darkness in the plural, because truth is one, while disbelief comes as several types, all of which are false! What made Nimrod commit this transgression, utter disbelief and arrant rebellion was his tyranny and the fact that he ruled for a long time. This is why the Ayah continued, idES\ & iji; $} 4Because Allah had given him the kingdom.} It appears that Nimrod asked Ibrahim to produce proof that Allah exists. Ibrahim replied, df} iMy Lord is He Wlw gives life and causes death} meaning, “The proof of Allah’s existence is the creations that exist after they were nothing and perish after they had existed. This is how I bring life and death.”*11 However, it appears that since Nimrod did not deny the existence of a Creator, his statement did not mean what Qatadah said it meant. Therefore, if you were god, as you claimed,^ bringing life and death, then bring the sun from the west.” Since the king was aware of his weakness, inadequacy and that he was not able to reply to Ibrahim’s request, he was idle, silent and unable to comment. Therefore, the proof was established against him. Allfih said, iAnd Allah guides not the people, who are wrongdoers meaning, Allah deprives the unjust people of any valid proof or argument. Furthermore, their false proof and arguments are annulled by their Lord, and they have earned His anger and will suffer severe torment. The meaning that we provided is better than the meaning that some philosophers offered, claiming that Ibrahim used the second argument because it was clearer than the first one. Rather, our explanation asserts that Ibrahim refuted both claims of Nimrod, all praise is due to Allah. As-Suddi stated that the debate between Ibrahim and Nimrod occurred after Ibrahim was thrown in the fire, for Ibrahim did not meet the king before that day.

This is the explanation of Ibn ‘Abbas, Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Abu Malik, Abu Al-Aswad Ad-Dlli, Wahb bin Munabbih, Al-Hasan and As-SuddiJ Therefore, Ibrahim caught four birds, slaughtered them, removed the feathers, tore the birds to pieces and mixed the pieces together. He then placed parts of these mixed pieces on four or seven hills. Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Ibrahim kept the heads of these birds in his hand. Next, Allah commanded Ibrahim to call the birds to him, and he did as Allah commanded him. Ibrahim witnessed the feathers, blood and flesh of these birds fly to each other, and the parts flew each to their bodies, until every bird came back to life and came walking at a fast pace towards Ibrahim, so that the example that Ibrahim was witnessing would become more impressive. Each bird came to collect its head from Ibrahim’s hand, and if he gave the bird another head the bird refused to accept it. Thus does Allah make clear His Aydt to you that you may give thought.} The Example of Evil Deeds Nullifying Good Deeds Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn 'Abbas and Ubayd bin Umayr said that Umar bin Al-Khattab asked the Companions of the Messenger of Allah, "According to your opinion, about whom was this Ayah revealed, Ji |d J iJ} 4Would any of you wish to have a garden with date palms and vines...?}." They said, "Allah knows best." 'Umar became angry and said, "Say we know or we do not know." Ibn Abbas said, "O Leader of the Faithful! I have an opinion about it." Umar said, "O my nephew! Say your opinion and do not belittle yourself." Ibn 'Abbas said, "This is an example set for a deed." Umar said, "What type of deed?" Ibn 'Abbas said, "For a wealthy man who works in Allah's pleasure and then Allah sends Shaytan to him, and he works in disobedience, until he annuls his good works." This HadUh suffices as an explanation for the Ayah, for it explains the example it sets by a person who does good first and then follows it with evil, may Allah save us from this end. So, this man annulled his previous good works with his latter evil works. When he desperately needed the deeds of the former type, there were none. This is why Allah said, 4^1 Z^} 4while he is stricken with old age, and his children are weak (not able to look after themselves), then it is struck with a whirlwind} with heavy wind, m Fath Al-Bari 8 :49

This is the condition of the disbeliever on the Day of Resurrection when he returns to Allah, for he will not have any good deeds to provide an excuse - or refuge - for him, just as the man in the parable had no strength to replant the garden. The disbeliever will not find anything to resort to for help, just as the offspring of the man in the parable did not provide him with help. So he will be deprived of his reward when he most needs it, just as the man in the parable was deprived of Allah's garden when he most needed it, when he became old and his offspring weak."111 In his Mustadrak, Al-Hakim recorded that the Messenger of Allah used to say in his supplication, jilj «0 Allah! Allah's statement, “Whereas Allah has permitted trading and forbidden Riba” might be a continuation of the answer to the disbelievers' claim, who uttered it, although they knew that Allah decided that ruling on trade is different from that of Riba. Indeed, Allah is the Most Knowledgeable, Most Wise, Whose decision is never resisted. Allah is never asked about what He does, while they will be asked. He is knowledgeable of the true reality of all things and the benefits they Muhaqalah, which refers to trading produce not yet harvested, with crops already harvested, was also prohibited. These were prohibited to eradicate the possibility that Riba might be involved, for the quality and equity of such items are only known sifter they become dry. The subject of Riba is a difficult subject for many scholars. We should mention that the Leader of the Faithful, Umar bin Al-Khattab, said, “I wished that the Messenger of Allah sg had made three matters clearer for us, so that we could refer to his decision: the grandfather (regarding inheriting from his grandchildren), the Kalalah (those who leave neither descendants nor ascendants as heirs) and some types of Riba.’^ Umar was refering to the types of transactions where it is not clear whether they involve Riba or not. The Shari'ah supports the rule that for any matter that is unlawful, then the means to it are also unlafwful, because whatever results in the unlawful is unlawful, in the same way that whenever an obligation will not be complete except with something, then that something is itselfan obligation. The Two Sahihs recorded that An-Nu'man bin Bashir said that he heard the Messenger of Allah jg say, I t Jiii olj cjln j. ^ J, ly’J ‘S-f iii-ii br- uBoth lawful and unlawful things are evident, but in between than there are matters that are not clear. And whoever indulges in these unclear matters, he will have fallen into the prohibitions, just like a shepherd who grazes (his animals) near a private pasture, at any moment he is liable to enter it.” The Sunan records that Al-Hasan bin ‘Ali said that he heard the Messenger of Allah sﷺ say, Fath Al-Bari 10 :48 , Muslim 4 :2322 121 Fath Al-Bari 1 : 153 , Muslim 3:1219.

Allah's statement, 4s> c &&d %} iAnd the witnesses should not refuse when they are called means, when people are called to be witnesses, they should agree, as Qatadah and Ar-Rabl' bin Anas stated. Similarly, Allah said, LE=* LisS d Yj} iLet not the scribe refuse to write as Allah has taught him, so let him write.} Some say that this Ayah indicates that agreeing to become a witness is Fard Kifayah (required on at least a part of the Muslim Ummah). However, the majority of the scholars say that the Ayah, 4d £ 4 iesiifd i;} iAnd the witnesses should not refuse when they are called} is referring to testifying to what the witnesses actually witnessed,' thus befitting their description of being witnesses'. Therefore, when the witness is called to testify to what he witnessed, he is required to give testimony, unless this obligation was already fulfilled, in which case such testimony becomes Fard Kifayah. Mujahid and Abu Mijlaz said, "If you Eire csilled to be a witness, then you have the choice to agree. If you witnessed and were called to testify, then come fonvEU-d."21 It was reported that Ibn 'Abbas and Al- At-Tabari 6:68. 121 Ibn Abi Hatim 3:1181, At-Tabari 6:71.

Hasan Al-Basri said that the obligation includes both cases, agreeing to be a witness and testifying to what one witnessed. Allah's statement, 4You should not become weary to write it (your contract), whether it be small or large, for its fixed term} perfects this direction from Allah by commanding that the debt be written, whether the amount is large or small. Allah said, 4You should not become weary} meaning, do not be discouraged against writing transactions and their terms, whether the amount involved is large or small. Allah's statement, pis jif x* J£ifpt} 4that is more just with Allah; more solid as evidence, and more convenient to prevent doubts among yourselves} means, writing transactions that will be fulfilled at a later date is more just with Allah meaning better and more convenient in order to preserve the terms of the contract. Therefore, recording such agreements helps the witnesses, when they see their handwriting - or signatures - later on and thus remember what they witnessed, for it is possible that the witnesses might forget what they witnessed. 4And more convenient to prevent doubts among yourselves} meaning, this helps repel any doubt. Since if you need to refer to the contract that you wrote and the doubt will end. Allah's statement, kZ/jA ul 4save when it is a present trade which you carry out on the spot among yourselves, then there is no sin on you if you do not write it down} indicates that if the transaction will be fulfilled immediately, then there is no harm if it is not recorded.

91Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (Part-3) As for requiring witnesses to be present in trading transactions, Allah said, iBut take witnesses whenever you make a commercial contract. However, this command was abrogated by, iPkS jJ}f ;£S {Then if one of you entrusts the other, let the one who is entrusted discharge his trust (faithfully).} Or, it could be that having witnesses in such cases is only recommended and not obligatory, as evident from the Hadith that Khuzaymah bin Thabit Al-Ansari narrated which Imam Ahmad collected. Umarah bin Khuzaymah Al-Ansari said that his uncle, who was among the Prophet's Companions, told him that the Prophet jg was making a deal for a horse with a bedouin man. The Prophet 2§ asked the bedouin to follow him so that he could pay him the price of the horse. The Prophet jg went ahead of the bedouin. The bedouin met several men who tried to buy his horse, not knowing if the Prophet jg was actually determined to buy it. Some people offered more money for the horse than the Prophet sg had. The bedouin man said to the Prophet jg, "Ifyou want to buy this horse, then buy it or I will sell it to someone else." When he heard the bedouin man's words, the Prophet fg stood up and said, "Have I not bought that horse from you?" The bedouin said, "By Allah! I have not sold it to you." The Prophet jg said, "Rather, I did buy it from you." The people gathered around the Prophet jg and the Bedouin while they were disputing, and the bedouin said, "Bring forth a witness who testifies that I sold you the horse." Meanwhile, the Muslims who came said to the bedouin, "Woe to you! The Prophet only says the truth." When Khuzaymah bin Thabit came and heard the dispute between the Prophet sg and the bedouin who was saying, “Bring forth a witness who testifies that I sold you the horse,” Khuzaymah said, “I bear witness that you sold him the horse.” The Prophet ^{sg} said to Khuzaymah, “What is the basis of your testimony?” Khuzaymah said, “That I entrusted you, O Messenger of Allah!” Therefore, the Messenger ^{jg} made Khuzaymah’s testimony

The rest of the six also recorded similar wording for this Hadith.'2 ' The Two Sahihs recorded this Hadith using various chains of narration,13 ' and Imam Ahmad also recorded it.' 4' Muslim recorded that 'Abdullah said, "When the Messenger of Allah 3g§ went on the Isra journey, he ascended to the Sidrat Al-Muntaha 's ' in the sixth heaven, where whatever ascends from the earth ends at, and whatever descends from above it ends at. iWheti that covered the lote tree which did cover it!} [53:16] meaning, a mat made of gold. The Messenger of Allah jg was then given three things: the five prayers, the last Ayat in Surat Al-Baqarah and forgiveness for whoever did not associate anything or anyone with Allah from his Ifmmah."6' Earlier we mentioned the Hadith regarding the virtues of Surat Al-Fatihah from Ibn 'Abbas which stated, "While the Messenger of Allah jg was with Jibril, he heard a noise from above. The Tafsir ofthe Last Two Ayat of SuratAl-Baqarah Allah said, it . > i - '\ s'-aV— j & iEach one believes in Allah, His Angels, His Books, and His Messengers. (They say,) "We make no distinction between one another of His Messengers . "$> Therefore, each of the believers believes that Allah is the One and Only and the Sustainer, there is no deity worthy of worship except Him and there is no Lord except Him. The believers also believe in all Allah’s Prophets and Messengers, in the Books that were revealed from heaven to the Messengers and Prophets, who are indeed the servants of Allah. Further, the believers do not differentiate between any of the Prophets, such as, believing in some of them and rejecting others. Rather, all of Allah’s Prophets and Messengers are, to the believers, truthful, righteous, and they were each guided to the path of righteousness, even when some of them bring what abrogates the Law of some others by Allah’s leave. Later on, the Law of Muhammad, the Final Prophet and Messenger from Allah, abrogated all the laws of the Prophets before him. So the Last Hour will commence while Muhammad’s Law remains the only valid Law, and all the while a group of his Ummah will always be on the path of truth, apparent and dominant. Allah’s statement, 4 Lutlj LILL iAnd they say, "I've hear, and we obey"} means, we heard Your statement, O our Lord, comprehended and implemented it, and adhered to its implications. 4(We seek) Your forgiveness, our Lord^ contains a plea and Muslim 1 :554, An-Nasa’i in Al-Kubra 5:12.

103 Surah 2 . Al-Baqarah (Part-3) supplication for Allah's forgiveness, mercy and kindness. Allah's statement, 4^j -fy C_i 'it v} iAllah burdens not a person beyond his scope} means, Allah does not ask a soul what is beyond its ability. This only demonstrates Allah's kindness, compassion and generosity towards His creation. This Ayah is the Ayah that abrogated the Ayah that worried the Companions, that is, Allah's statement, 4 •A-3 A "4 U 'jjI; 4And ivltether you disclose what is in yourselves or conceal it, Allah zoill call you to accountfor it.} This indicates that although Allah will question His servants and judge them, He will only punish for what one is able to protect himself from. As for what one cannot protect himself from, such as what one says to himself - or passing thoughts - they will not be punished for that. We should state here that to dislike the evil thoughts that cross one's mind is a part of faith. Allah said next, 4iZ% £<^} 4He gets reioardfor that ivltich he has earned} of good, 4 £ ty&j} 4And he is punished for that which he has earned} of evil, that is, concerning the acts that one is responsible for. We mentioned before that Allah answered these pleas, "I shall," in one narration and, "I did," in another narration. ^Yow are our Mawld^ meaning. You are our supporter and helper, our trust is

Further, Ibn Jarir recorded that Abu Ishaq said that whenever Mu'adh would finish reciting this Surah, iAnd give us victory over the disbelieving people}, he would say "Amin." m At-Tabari 6 : 146

Opening The Tafsir of Surah Al 'Imran (Chapter 3) Surah Al 'Imran was revealed in Al-Madinah, as evident by the fact that the first eighty-three Ayat in it relate to the delegation from Najran that arrived in Al-Madinah on the ninth year of Hijrah (632 CE). We will elaborate on this subject when we explain the Ayah about the Mubahalah [3:61] in this Surah, Allah willing. We should also state that we mentioned the virtues of Surah Al 'Imran along with the virtues of Surat Al-Baqara in the beginning of the Tafsir of Surat Al-Baqarah. g. c# 0 gJi 1SEii Jig £ I ill j* iJj V at MJ oUyi' ifii Ji irt .i f . » ' > { ' » < ® "?! > • < 5' JJ • !> V'- </n t/ie Name o/Allah, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful} 41. Alif-Lam-Mim .} 42. Allah! None has the right to be worshipped but He, the Truly, those who disbelieve in the Ayat of Allah, for them there is a severe torment; and Allah is All-Mighty, All-Able of Retribution .} We mentioned the Hadith in the Tafsir of Ayat Al-Kursi [2:255] that mentions that Allah's Greatest Name is contained in these two Ayat, tfii *}[H 4Alldlt! None has the right to be worshipped but He, the Ever Living, the One Wlw sustains and protects all that exists and, 4 . (iP V <i! ; 4Alif-Ldm-Mim . Allah! None has the right to be worshipped but He, the Ever Living, the One Wlto sustains and protects all that exists.} We also explained the Tafsir of, 4^} 4Alif-Lam-Mim} in the beginning of Surat Al-Baqarah, and the meaning of, 'fi Vt, "V 4Alldh! La ilaha ilia Huwa, Al-Hayyul-Qayyum in the Tafsir of Ayat Al-Kursi. Allah's statement, 4&& C&J' %} 4It is He Who has sent down the Book to you with truth,} means, revealed the Qur'an to you, O Muhammad, in truth, meaning there is no doubt or suspicion that it is revealed from Allah. Verily, Allah revealed the Qur'an with His knowledge, and the angels testify to this fact, Allah is sufficient as a Witness. Allah's statement, ^Aj 4Confirming what came before it)> means, from the previous divinely revealed Books, sent to the servants and Prophets of Allah. These Books testify to the truth of the Qur'an, and the Qur'an also testifies to the truth these Books contained, including the news and glad tidings of Muhammad's prophethood and the revelation of the Glorious Qur'an. Allah said, 4And He sent down the Tawrah> to Musa (Musa) son of Imran, 4And the Injil$, to Isa, son of Mary, 4& Jit ^Aforetime} meaning, before the Qur'an was revealed, 4As a guidance to mankind> in their time. it&sm 4And He sent down the criterion£ which is the distinction between misguidance, falsehood and deviation on one hand, and guidance, truth and piety on the other hand. This is because of the indications, signs, plain evidences and clear proofs that it contains, and because of its explanations, clarifications, etc. Allah's statement, 'Truly, those who disbelieve in the Ayat of Allah' means they denied, refused and unjustly rejected them, 'For them there is a severe torment' on the Day of Resurrection, no Tafsir Ibtī Katlur 'And Allah is All-Mighty meaning, His grandeur is invincible and His sovereignty is infinite. 'All-Able of Retribution' from those who reject His Ayat and defy His honorable Messengers and great Prophets. 'Nothing is hidden from Allah, in the earth or in the heaven.' A6. He it is Who shapes you in the wombs as He wills. None has the right to be worshipped but He, the Almighty, the All-Wise.' Allah states that He has perfect knowledge in the heavens and earth and that nothing in them is hidden from His watch. 'He it is Who shapes you in the wombs as He wills.' meaning, He creates you in the wombs as He wills, whether male or female, handsome or otherwise, happy or miserable. 'None has the right to be worshipped but He), the Almighty, the All-Wise.' meaning, He is the Creator and thus is the only deity worthy of worship, without partners, and His is the perfect might, wisdom and decision. This Ayah refers to the fact that Isa, son of Mary, is a created servant, just as Allah created the rest of mankind. Allah created 'Isa in the womb (of his mother) and shaped him as He willed. Therefore, how could Isa be divine, as the Christians, may Allah's curses descend on them, claim? 'Isa was created in the womb and his creation changed from stage to stage, just as Allah said, 'He creates you in the wombs of your mothers, creation after creation in three veils of darkness.' [39:6]. 'It is He Who has sent down to you the Book. In it are verses that are entirely clear, they are the foundations of the Book; and others not entirely clear. So as for those in whose hearts there is a deviation (from the truth) they follow (only) that which is not entirely clear thereof, seeking Al-Fitnah, and seeking its Ta'wil, but none knows its Ta'wil except Allah. And those who are firmly grounded in knowledge say: "We believe in it; all of it is from our Lord." And none receive admonition except men of understanding.' (They say): "Our Lord! Let not our hearts deviate (from the truth) after You have guided us, and grant us mercy from You. Truly, You are the Bestower."} 49. "Our Lord! Verily, it is You Who will gather mankind together on the Day about which there is no doubt. Verily, Allah never breaks His Promise."} The Mutashabihat and Muhkam Ayat Allah states that in the Qur'an, there are Ayat that are Muhkam, entirely clear and plain, and these are the foundations of the Book which are plain for everyone. And there are Ayat in the Qur'an that are Mutashabihat not entirely clear for many, or some people. So those who refer to the Muhkam Ayat to understand the Mutashabihat Ayat, will have acquired the correct guidance, and vice versa. This is why Allah said, 'They are the foundations of the Book', meaning, they are the basis of the Qur'an, and should be referred to for clarification, when warranted,

And others not entirely clear as they have several meanings, some that agree with the Muhkam and some that carry other literal indications, although these meaning might not be desired. The Muhkam are the Ayat that explain the abrogating rulings, the allowed, prohibited, laws, limits, obligations and rulings that should be believed in and implemented. As for the Mutashabihat

Ayat they include the abrogated Ayat, parables, oaths, and what should be believed in, but not implemented. Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar commented on, cSX. iL} ihi it are verses that are entirely clear} as “Containing proof of the Lord, immunity for the servants and a refutation of opponents and of falsehood. They cannot be changed or altered from what they were meant for.” He also said, “As for the unclear Ayat, they can (but must not) be altered and changed, and this is a test from Allah to the servants, just as He tested them with the allowed and prohibited things. So these Aydt must not be altered to imply a false meaning or be distorted from the truth.” Therefore, Allah said, iSo asfor those in whose hearts there is a deviation} meaning, those who are misguided and deviate from truth to falsehood, 4-lii U ithey follow that which is not entirely clear thereof} meaning, they refer to the Mutashdbih, because they are able to alter its meanings to conform with their false interpretation since the wordings of the Mutashabihat encompass such a wide area of meanings. As for the Muhkam Aydt, they cannot be altered because they are clear and, thus, constitute unequivocal proof against the misguided people. This is why Allah said, filial &#} ^seeking Al-Fitnah} meaning, they seek to misguide their following by pretending to prove their innovation by relying on the Qur’an - the Mutashabih of it - but, this is proof against and not for them. For instance, Christians might claim that [Isa is divine because] the Qur’an states that he is Ruhullah and His Word, which He gave to Mary, all the while ignoring Allah’s statements, 4& C2S&% ji 4He [‘Isa) was not more than a servant. We granted Our favor to him.} [43:59], and, iVerily, the likeness of ‘Isa before Allah is the likeness of Adam. He created him from dust, then (He) said to him: "Be!" and he was.} [3:59]. There are other Ayat that clearly assert that Isa is but one of Allah’s creatures and that he is the servant and Messenger of Allah, among other Messengers. Allah’s statement, 4 ifeilj} 4And seeking for its Ta’wil,} to alter them as they desire. Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘A’ishah said, “The Messenger of Allah jg recited, 411 is He Who has sent down to you the Book. In it are verses that are entirely clear, they are the foundations of the Book; and others not entirely clear,}, until, 4Men ofunderstanding} and he said, vWlwn you see those who argue in it (using the Mutashdbihdt) then they are those whom Allah meant. Therefore, beware of f/iem.i” 1 ’ Al-Bukhari recorded a similar Hadith in the Tafstr of this Ahmad 6:48.

Ayah [3:7], as did Muslim in the book of Qadar (the Divine Will) in his Sahih, and Abu Dawud in the Sunnah section of his Sunan, from ‘A’ishah; “The Messenger of Allah recited this Ayah, / f •f, \ , f, »  -*/ X // / » Jt V ^ dLlc. OnlyAllahKnowstheTrue Ta*wU(Interpretation) ofthe Mutashabihat Allah said, 4%% 4at- pu Cj} 4But none knows its Ta’ioil except Allah. Similarly, as preceded in what has been reported from Ibn ‘Abbas, “Tafsir is of four types: Tafsir that the Arabs know in their language; Tafsir that no one is excused of being ignorant of; Tafsir that the scholars know; and Tafsir that only Allah knows.”*2 * Scholars of Qur’an recitation have different opinions about pausing at Allah’s Name in this Ayah. This stop was reported from ‘A’ishah, ‘Urwah, Abu Ash- Sha’tha’ and Abu Nahlk. Some pause after reciting, 4 ^ Fath Al-Bari 8 :57 , Muslim 4 :2053 , Abu Dawud 5 :6 (21 At-Tabari 1:75. The Messenger of Allah jfe supplicated for the benefit of Ibn 'Abbas, « ill*-} J iiif «0 Allah! Bestow on him knowledge in the religion and teach him the Ta'ivil (interpretation) Ta'wil has two meanings in the Qur'an, the true reality of things, and what they will turn out to be. On the Day (Day of Resurrection) it's Ta'wil is finally fidfilled.}(7:53) refers to the true reality of Resurrection that they were told about. If this is the meaning desired in the Ayah above [3:7], then pausing after reciting Allah's Name is warranted, because only Allah knows the true reality of things. In this case, Allah's statement, iAnd those who are firmly grounded in knowledge is connected to His statement, 4->, &' 4^4 iSay: 'We believe in it"} If the word Ta'wil means the second At-Tabari 6:203. Editor's note; This report is not authentic, and its meaning contradicts the authentic narration from him that he recited the Ayah; "None knows its interpretation except Allah, and the firmly grounded [yaqul] say." This is recorded by At-Tabari 6 :203, and its chain of narrators meets the criteria of Al-Bukhari. Fath Al-Bari 1 :205 [21

This is because the scholars have general knowledge in, and understand what they were addressed with, even though they do not have knowledge of the true reality of things. Therefore, Allah's statement, 4- &*' '&} isay: "We believe in it"} describes the conduct of the scholars. Similarly, Allah said, liS Jiy fcj} AAnd your Lord comes, and the angels, in roivs.} [89:22] means, your Lord will come, and the angels will come in rows. ' This is the same Tafsir of 'Ikrimah, Mujahid, Abu Malik, Ad-Dahhak, and others. Other scholars said that the Ayah means, "Like the practice, conduct, likeness of the people of Fir'awn."*21

These meanings are all plausible, for the Da'b means practice, behavior, tradition and habit. The Ayah indicates that the disbelievers will not benefit from their wealth or offspring. Rather, they will perish and be punished. This is the same end the people of Fir'aun and the previous nations met, those who rejected the Messengers, the Ayat, and proofs of Allah that they were sent with. Allah's statement, iThey saw them with their own eyes twice their number } means, the idolators thought that the Muslims were twice as many as they were, for Allah made this illusion a factor in the victory that Islam had over them. It was said that the meaning of Allah's statement, iThey saw them with their own eyes twice their number} is that the Muslims saw twice as many idolators as they were, yet Allah gave them victory over the disbelievers. 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, "When we looked at the disbelievers' forces, we found that they were twice as many as we were. When we looked at them again, we thought they did not have one man more than we had. So Allah's statement. iAnd (remember) when you met, He showed them to you as few in your eyes and He made you appear as few in their eyes.} [8:44]" When the two camps saw each other, the Muslims thought that the idolators were twice as many as they were, so that they would trust in Allah and seek His help. The idolators thought that the believers were twice as many as they were, so that they would feel fear, horror, fright and despair. When the two camps stood in lines and met in battle, Allah made each camp look smaller in the eyes of the other camp, so that they would be encouraged to fight each other, so that Allah might accomplish a matter already ordained.} [8:42] m At-Tabari 6 :234

124 Tafsir Ibn Kathir The True Value of This Earthly Life Allah mentions the delights that He put in this life for people, such as women and children, and He started with women, because (he test with them is more tempting. For instance, the SahO'i recorded that the Messenger sg said, (Jt>- ^Jlaj y to® «/ did not leave behind me a test more tempting to men than women. n* 1 When one enjoys women for the purpose of having children and preserving his chastity, then he is encouraged to do so. A Hadtth states, «Marry the Wadud (kind) and Waliid (fertile) woman, for I ivill compare your numbers to the rest of the nations on the Day of ResurrectionV The desire of wealth sometimes results out of arrogance, and the desire to dominate the weak and control the poor, and this conduct is prohibited. Sometimes, the want for more money is for the purpose of spending it on acts of worship, being kind to the family, the relatives, and spending on various acts of righteousness and obedience; this behavior is praised and encouraged in the religion. Scholars of Tafsir have conflicting opinions about the amount of the Qintar, all of which indicate that the Qintar is a large amount of money, as Ad-Dahhak and other scholars said. Abu Hurayrah said "The Qintar is twelve thousand Uwqiyah, each Uwqiyah is better than what is between the heavens and earth." [This was recorded by Ibn Jarir]. The desire to have horses can be one of three types. Sometimes, owners of horses collect them to be used in the cause of Allah, and when warranted, they use their horses in battle. This type of owner shall be rewarded for this good action. Another type collects horses to boast, and out of enmity to the people of Islam, and this type earns a burden for his behavior. Another type collects horses to fulfill their needs and to collect their offspring, and they do not forget Allah's right due on their horses. This is why in this case, these horses provide a shield of sufficiency for their owner, as evident by a Hadith that we will mention, Allah willing, when we explain Allah's statement. iAnd make ready against them all you can of power, including steeds of war.} [8:60]. even the weight of an atom, or what is smaller than that in the earth, seas and mountains, escapes His observation. Indeed, 4And Allah is able to do all things.} and His ability encompasses everything. This Ayah alerts Allah's servants that they should fear Him enough to not commit what He prohibits and dislikes, for He has perfect knowledge in all they do and is able to punish them promptly. And He gives respite to some of them, then He punishes them, and He is Swift and Mighty in taking account. This is why Allah said afterwards. For instance, Allah chose Adam, created him with His Hand and blew life into him. Allah commanded the angels to prostrate before Adam, taught him the names of everything and allowed him to dwell in Paradise, but then sent him down from it out of His wisdom. Allah chose Nuh and made him the first Messenger to the people of the earth, when the people worshipped idols and associated others with Allah in worship. Allah avenged the way Nuh was treated, for he kept calling his people day and night, in public and in secret, for a very long time. However, his calling them only made them shun him more, and this is when Nuh supplicated against them. So Allah caused them to drown, and none among them was saved, except those who followed the religion that Allah sent to Nuh. They also recorded that Anas bin Malik brought his newborn brother to the Messenger of Allah sg who chewed a piece of date and put it in the child's mouth and called him 'Abdullah.*2 Other new born infants were also given names on the day they were born. Qatadah narrated that Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, that Samurah bin Jundub said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, fJi "Every newborn boy held in security by his 'Aqiqah, until his seventh day, a sacrifice is offered on his behalf, he is given a name, and the hair on his head is shaved.» This Hadith was collected by Ahmad and the collectors of the Sunan,*3 * and was graded Sahih by At-Tirmidhi. We should mention that another narration for this Hadith contained the wording, "and blood is offered on his behalf," which is more famous and established than the former narration, and Allah knows best. Allah states that the good news brought to Maryam about ‘Isa was even better because Allah would teach him, 4the Book and Al-Hikmah}. It appears that the ‘Book’ the Ayah mentioned here refers to writing. We explained the meaning of Al-Hikmah in the Tafsir of Surat Al-Baqarah. 4the Taivrdh and the Injil}. The Tawrah is the Book that Allah sent down to Musa, son of ‘Imran, while the Injil is what Allah sent down to isa, son of Maryam, peace be upon them, and ‘Isa memorized both Books. Allah’s statement, Zip d'. 4And will make him a Messenger to the Children of Israel} means, that Allah will send ‘Isa as a Messenger to the Children of Israel, proclaiming to them, > ..S 41 have come to you with a sign from your Lord, I design for you out of clay, a figure like that of a bird, and breathe into it, and it becomes a bird by Allah's leave}.

These are the miracles that ‘Isa performed; he used to make the shape of a bird from clay and blow into it, and it became a bird by Allah’s leave. Allah made this a miracle for Isa to testify that He had sent him. i \s}j} iAnd I heal him who is Akmah^ meaning, ‘a person who was born blind,’ which perfects this miracle and makes the challenge more daring. iAnd the leper} which is a known disease, / f ,-S \ Up LfJ? iAnd I bring the dead to life by Allah's leave}. Many scholars stated that Allah sent every Prophet with a miracle suitable to his time. For instance, in the time of Musa, magic was the trade of the time, and magicians held a high position. So Allah sent Musa with a miracle that captured the eyes and bewildered every magician. When the magicians realized that Musa's miracle came from the Almighty, Most Great, they embraced Islam and became pious believers. As for Isa, he was sent during a time when medicine and knowledge in physics were advancing. Isa brought them the types of miracles that could not be performed, except by one sent by Allah. How can any physician bring life to clay, cure blindness and leprosy and bring back to life those entrapped in the grave? Muhammad jg was sent during the time of eloquent people and proficient poets. He brought them a Book from Allah; if mankind and the Jinn tried to imitate ten chapters, or even one chapter of it, they will utterly fail in this task, even if they tried to do it by collective cooperation. This is because the Qur'an is the Word of Allah and is nothing like that of the creatures. iso zvrite us down among those who bear witness} "Meaning among the Ummah of Muhammad."111 This Hadith has a good chain of narration. The Jews Plot to Kill 'Isa Allah states that the Children of Israel tried to kill Isa by conspiring to defame him and crucify him. They complained about him to the king who was a disbeliever. They claimed that 'Isa was a man who misguided people, discouraged them from obeying the king, caused division, and separated between man and his own son. They also said other lies about 'Isa, which they will cany on their necks, including accusing him of being an illegitimate son. The king became furious and sent his men to capture 'Isa to torture and crucify him. When they surrounded "Isa's home and he thought that they would surely capture him, Allah saved him from them, raising him up from the house to heaven. Allah put the image of Isa on a man who was in the house; when the unjust people went in the house while it was still dark, they thought that he was Isa. They captured that man, humiliated and crucified him. They also placed thorns on his head . However, Allah deceived these people. He saved and raised His Prophet from them, leaving them in disarray in the darkness of their transgression, thinking that they had successfully achieved their goal. Allah made their hearts hard, and defiant of the truth, disgracing them in such disgrace that it will remain with them until the Day of Resurrection. This is why Allah said, iff <i'j ii' iAnd they plotted, and Allah planned too. This will occur when 'Isa comes back to this world before the Day of Resurrection, as we will explain. By that time, all the People of the Book will believe in Isa, for he will annul the Jizyatf2 ^ and he will only accept Islam from people. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Al-Hasan said that Allah's statement, }I ivill take you} is in reference to sleep, for Allah raised 'Isa while he was asleep. 131 Altering the Religion of 'Isa Allah said, 111 Fath Al-Bari 11:134. ^ A tax levied on non-Muslims living under Muslim control {3} Ibn Abi Hatim 2 :296

iAnd purify [save] you from those who disbelieve} by raising you to heaven, #^ Si I#r Sir ij> iji? Sir / wifl make those who follow you superior to those who disbelieve , till the Day of Resurrection This is what happened. When Allah raised 'Isa to heaven, his followers divided into sects and groups. Some of them believed in what Allah sent Isa as, a servant of Allah, His Messenger, and the son of His female-servant. However, some of them went to the extreme over 'Isa, believing that he was the son of Allah. Some of them said that *Isa was Allah Himself, while others said that he was one of a Trinity. Allah mentioned these false creeds in the Qur'an and refuted them. The Christians remained like this until the third century CE, when a Greek king called, Constantine, became a Christian for the purpose of destroying Christianity. Constantine was either a philosopher, or he was just plain ignorant. Constantine changed the religion of isa by adding to it and deleting from it. He established the rituals of Christianity and the so-called Great Trust, which is in fact the Great Treachery. He also allowed them to eat the meat of swine, changed the direction of the prayer that Isa established to the east, built churches for Isa, and added ten days to the fast as compensation for a sin that he committed, as claimed. So the religion of Isa became the religion of Constantine, who built more than twelve thousand churches, temples and monasteries for the Christians as well as the city that bears his name, Constantinople (Istanbul). Throughout this time, the Christians had the upper hand and dominated the Jews. Allah aided them against the Jews because they used to be closer to the truth than the Jews, even though both groups were and still are disbelievers, may Allah's curse descend on them. When Allah sent Muhammad Us, those who believed in him also believed in Allah, His Angels, Books and Messengers in the correct manner. So they were the true followers of every Prophet who came to earth. They believed in the unlettered Prophet sg, the Final Messenger and the master of all mankind, who called them to believe in the truth in its entirety. This is why they had more right to every Prophet than his own nation, especially those who claim to follow their Prophet's way and religion, yet change and alter his religion. Furthermore, Allah abrogated all the laws that were sent down to the Prophets with the Law He sent Muhammad jg with, which consists of the true religion that shall never change or be altered until the commencement of the Last Hour. Muhammad's religion shall always be dominant and victorious over all other religions. This is why Allah allowed Muslims to conquer the eastern and western parts of the world and the kingdoms of the earth. Furthermore, all countries submitted to them; they demolished Kisra (king of Persia) and destroyed the Czar, ridding them of their treasures and spending these treasures for Allah's sake. All this occurred just as their Prophet jg told them it would, when he conveyed Allah's statement, Ljr=> j .Li i \JEC cyft iif J ^ £ t; ; p. £$ >&> p oj dUp iAlldh has promised those among you who believe and do righteous good deeds, that He will certainly grant them succession in the land, as He granted it to those before them, and that He will grant them the authority to practice their religion luhich He has chosen for them. And He will surely give them in exchange a safe security after their fear (provided) they worship Me and do not associate anything with Me.$ [24:55). Therefore, Muslims are the true believers in 'Isa. The Muslims then acquired Ash-Sham from the Christians, causing them to evacuate to Asia Minor, to their fortified city in Constantinople. The Muslims will be above them until the Day of Resurrection. Indeed, he, Muhammad sfe, who is truthful and who received the true news, has conveyed to Muslims that they will conquer Constantinople in the future, and seize its treasures.  This occured after ibn Kathlr's time.

If the claim is made that 'Isa is Allah's son because he was created without a father, then the same claim befits Adam even more. However, since such a claim regarding Adam is obviously false, then making the same claim about 'Isa is even more false. Furthermore, by mentioning these facts, Allah emphasizes His ability, by creating Adam without a male or female, Hawa' from a male without a female, and Isa from a mother without a father, compared to His creating the rest of creation from male and female. This is why Allah said in Surah Maryam,

The reason for the call to Mubahalah and the revelation of the Ayat from the beginning of this Surah until here, is that a delegation from the Christians of Najran (in Yemen) came to Al-Madinah to argue about Isa, claiming that he was divine and the son of Allah. Allah sent down the beginning of this Surah until here, to refute their claims, as Imam Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar and other scholars stated. Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar said in his famous Sirah, "The delegation of Christians from Najran came to the Messenger of Allah The delegation consisted of sixty horsemen, including fourteen of their chiefs who make decisions. These men were Al-'Aqib, also known as 'Abdul- Masfh, As-Sayyid, also known as Al-Ayham, Abu Harithah bin 'Alqamah, of (the family of] Bakr bin Wa'il and Uways bin Al- Harith. They also included, Zayd, Qays, Yazld, Nablh, Khuwaylid, 'Amr, Khalid, 'Abdullah and Yuhannas. Three of these men were chiefs of this delegation, Al-'Aqib, their leader and to whom they referred for advice and decision; As-Sayyid, their scholar and leader in journeys and social gatherings; and Abu Harithah bin 'Alqamah, their patriarch, priest and religious leader. Abu Harithah was an Arab man from (the family of) Bakr bin Wa'il, but when he embraced Christianity, the Romans and their kings honored him and built churches for him (or in his honor). They also supported him financially and gave him servants, because they knew how firm his faith in their religion was." Abu Harithah knew the description of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ from what he read in earlier divine Books. However, his otherwise ignorance led him to insist on remaining a Christian, because he was honored and had a high position with the Christians. Ibn Ishaq said, "Muhammad bin Ja'far bin Az-Zubayr said that, The (Najran) delegation came to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in Al-Madīnah, entered his Masjid wearing robes and garments, after the Prophet ﷺ had prayed the 'Asr prayer. They accompanied a caravan of camels led by Bani Al-Harith bin Kah. The Companions of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ who saw them said that they never saw a delegation like them after that... Then Abu Harithah bin 'Alqamah and Al-'Aqib 'Abdul-Masih or As-Sayyid Al-Ayham spoke to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, and they were Christians like the king (Roman King). However, they disagreed about Isa; some of them said, 'He is Allah,' while some said, 'He is the son of Allah,' and some others said, 'He is one of a trinity.' Allah is far from what they attribute to Him." Indeed, these are the creeds of the Christians. They claim that Isa is God, since he brought the dead back to life, healed blindness, leprosy and various illnesses, told about matters of the future, created the shape of birds and blew life into them, bringing them to life. However, all these miracles occurred by 111 Ibn Hisham 2:222.

178 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Allah's leave, so that Isa would be a sign from Allah for people. They also claim that Isa is the son of Allah, since he did not have a father and he spoke when he was in the cradle, a miracle which had not occurred by any among the Children of Adam before him, so they claim. They also claim that Isa is one of a trinity, because Allah would say, *We did, command, create and demand.' They said, 'If Allah were one, he would have said, I did, command, create and decide.' This is why they claim that Isa and Allah are one (Trinity). Allah is far from what they attribute to Him, and we should mention that the Qur'an refuted all these false Christian claims. Ibn Ishaq continued, "When these Aydt came to the Messenger from Allah ﷺ, thus judging between him and the People of the Book, Allah also commanded the Prophet ﷺ to call them to the Mubalahah if they still refused the truth. The Prophet ﷺ called them to the Mubalahah. They said, 'O Abu Al-Qasim! Let us think about this matter and get back to you with our decision to what we want to do.' They left the Prophet ﷺ and conferred with Al-'Aqib, to whom they referred to for advice. They said to him, 'O 'Abdul-Masih! What is your advice?' He said, 'By Allah, O Christian fellows! You know that Muhammad is a Messenger and that he brought you the final word regarding your fellow (Isa). You also know that no Prophet conducted Mubalahah with any people, and the old persons among them remained safe and the young people grew up. Indeed, it will be the end of you if you do it. If you have already decided that you will remain in your religion and your creed regarding your fellow (Isa), then conduct a treaty with the man (Muhammad) and go back to your land.' They came to the Prophet ﷺ and said, 'O Abu Al-Qasim! We decided that we cannot do Mubalahah with you and that you remain on your religion, while we remain on our religion. However, send with us a man from your Companions whom you are pleased with to judge between us regarding our monetary disputes, for you are acceptable to us in this regard.'" Al-

Then, if they turn away, say: "Bear witness that we are Muslims."y Muhammad bin Ishaq and other scholars said that the beginning of Surah Al 'Imran, and more than eighty verses thereafter; were revealed about the delegation of Najran. Az- Zuhri stated that the people of Najran were the first people to pay the Jizyah (tax money paid to the Muslim State). However, there is no disagreement that the Ayah that ordained the Jizyah [9:29] was revealed after the Fath (conquering Makkah, and therefore, after the delegation of Najran came to Al- Madīnah). So, how can this Ayah [3:64] be contained in the Prophet's letter to Heraclius before the victory of Makkah, and how can we harmonize between the statements of Muhammad bin Ishaq and Az-Zuhri? The answer is that the delegation of Najran came before Al-Hudaybiyyah (before the victory of Makkah), and what they paid was in lieu of the Mubalahah, not as Jizyah. The Ayah about the Jizyah was later revealed, and its ruling supported what occurred with the Najran people. In support of this opinion, we should mention that in another instance, the ruling on dividing the booty into one - fifth (for the Prophet ṣ) and four-fifths (for the fighters) agreed with the practice of 'Abdullah bin Jahsh during the raid that he led before Badr. An Ayah later on upheld the way 'Abdullah divided the booty. Therefore, it is possible that the Prophet ṣ wrote this statement (Say, "O People of the Scripture...") in his letter to Heraclius before the Ayah was revealed. Later on, the Qur'an agreed with the Prophet's statement, word by word. It is also a fact that the Qur'an was revealed in agreement with what 'Umar said regarding the captured disbelievers at Badr, the Hijab (Muslim woman code of dress), refraining from performing prayer for the hypocrites, and regarding his statements: 4And take you the Maqdm (place) of Ibrahim as a place of prayer.} [2:125], and, x/ \ Cs^r ilt may be if he divorced you (all) that his Lord will give him instead of you, wives better than you.} [66:5]. % pe pQ 2Z& uj-l: cjS* f 'J7> d V Cfifj iff ly-f' i/fd oi^ t*J 4 kij <*> 465. He said, 'I ask you by He Who sent down the Tawrah to Musa, do you not know that Isra'il once became very ill? J Ji} ibefore the Tawrah ivas revealed} [3:93], means, Israel forbade that for himself before the Tawrah was revealed. There are two objectives behind revealing this segment of the Ayah. First, he forbade himself the most delightful things for Allah's sake. This practice was allowed during his period of Law, and is, thus, suitable that it is mentioned after Allah's statement, X' 4 A0*4 j} ABy no means shall you attain Al-Birr, unless you spend of Ahmad 1 :287.

that which you love (3:92). What we are allowed in our Law is to spend in Allah's obedience from what we like and covet [but not to prohibit what Allah has allowed]. Allah said in other Ayat, iAnd gives his wealth, in spite of lovefor it,) [2:177], and; 4'V- J* Jj^j) iAnd they givefood, in spite of their lovefor it,) [76:8]. The second reason is that after Allah refuted the false Christian beliefs and allegations about Isa and his mother. Allah started refuting the Jews here, may Allah curse them, by stating that the abrogation of the Law, that they denied occurs, already occurred in their Law. For instance, Allah has stated in their Book, the Tawrah, that when Nuh departed from the ark, Allah allowed him to eat the meat of all types of animals. Afterwards, Israll forbade the meat and milk of camels for himself, and his children imitated this practice after him. The Tawrah later on prohibited this type of food, and added several more types of prohibitions. Allah allowed Adam to marry his daughters to his sons, and this practice was later forbidden. The Law of Ibrahim allowed the man to take female servants as companions along with his wife, as Ibrahim did when he took Hajar, while he was married to Sarah. Later on, the Tawrah prohibited this practice. It was previously allowed to take two sisters as wives at the same time, as Ya'qub married two sisters at the same time. Later on, this practice was prohibited in the Tawrah. All these examples are in the Tawrah and constitute a Naskh (abrogation) of the Law. Therefore, let the Jews consider what Allah legislated for Isa and if such legislation falls under the category of abrogation or not. Why do they not then follow Isa in this regard? Rather, the Jews defied and rebelled against Isa and against the correct religion that Allah sent Muhammad SS with. This is why Allah said, iAll food was lawful to the Children of Israel, except what Isrd'tl made unlawful for himself before the Tawrdh was revealed} [3:93] meaning, before the Tawrah was revealed, all types of foods were allowed, except what Isratl prohibited for himself. Allah then said, Cl }Say: "Bring here the Tawrdh and recite it, if you are truthful."}, for the Tawrah affirms what we are stating here. Allah said next, iThen after that, whosoever shall invent a lie against Allah, then these it is that are the wrongdoers.} [3:94], in reference to those who lie about Allah and claim that He made the Sabbath and the Tawrah eternal. They are those who claim that Allah did not send another Prophet calling to Allah with the proofs and evidences, although evidence indicates that abrogation, as we have described, occurred before in the Tawrah, ithen these it is that are the wrongdoers.} Allah then said, t $} iSay, "Allah has spoken the truth;" } [3:95] meaning, O Muhammad, say that Allah has said the truth in what He conveyed and legislated in the Qur'an, ^follow the religion ofIbrahim the Hanif, and he was not of the idolators."} [3:95]. Therefore, follow the religion of Ibrahim that Allah legislated in the Qur'an. Indeed, this is the truth, there is no doubt in it, and the perfect way, and no Prophet has brought a more complete, clear, plain and perfect way than he did. Allah said in other Ayat, S- £ Cj u O. 4* J?>> J! 4; ^ j*^ 4>:*C^ 4Say ; "Truly, my Lord has guided me to a straight path, a right religion, the religion of Ibrahim, the Hanif, and he was not of the idolaters."} [6:161] and, * Sf Cj %§ o\ te\ p} iThen, We have sent the revelation to you (saying): ",Follow the religion of Ibrahim, the Hanif, and he was not of the idolaters .} 116:123]. fLU C Kt if 1.,caJijJ t jW* 'y~±'. 0]^ 'Ly.^ cJj' gp pjilil' Jefki tyi*^ fa-* jLfJil cfi is? 496. This Ayah established the obligation of performing Hajj. There are many Hadiths that mention it as one of the pillars and fundamentals of Islam, and this is agreed upon by the Muslims. According to texts and the consensus of the scholars, it is only obligatory for the adult Muslim to perform it once during his lifetime. Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jfcr once gave a speech in which he said, "O people! Hajj has been enjoined on you, therefore, perform Hajj . A man asked, "Is it every year, O Allah's Messenger?" The Prophet remained silent until the man repeated the question three times and he then said, dj jUi : cii -fo Had I said yes, it would have become an obligation and you would not have been able to fulfill it.* He said next, dil* ILli y U jc- bjj U Ka lyd jjpw lilj Leave me as I leave you, those before you were destroyed because of their many questions and disputing with their Prophets. Meaning of 'Afford* in the Ayah There are severed categories of "the ability to under take the journey". There is the physical ability of the person himself and the ability that is related to other things as mentioned in the books of jurisprudence. Abu Isa At-Tirmidhi recorded that Ibn Tlmar said, "A man stood up and asked the Messenger of Allah sg, 'O Messenger of Allah! Who is the pilgrim?' He said, 'He who has untidy hair and clothes.' Another man asked, 'Which Hajj is better, O Messenger of Allah?' He said, The noisy Ahmad 2 :508 , Muslim 2:975.

He said, 'Having provision and a means of transportation.'" 111 This is the narration that Ibn Majah collected. 121 Al-Hakim narrated that Anas said that the Messenger of Allah was asked about Allah's statement, ifor those who are able to undertake the journey (3:97] "What does 'able to undertake the journey' mean?" The Prophet sg answered, "Having sufficient provision and a means of transportation." Al-Hakim stated that this Hadith's chain of narration is authentic, following the guidelines of Muslim in his Sahih, but the Two Sahihs did not collect it. 3 ^ Ahmad recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, £Jl Sij\ s' *Whoever intends to perforin Hajj, let him rush to perform if."*41 Abu Dawud also collected this Hadith , The One who Denies the Necessity of Hajj Becomes a Disbeliever Allah said, iU £%# *4X& i...and whoever disbelieves, then Allah stands not in need of any of the 'Alamin [3:97]. Ibn 'Abbas, Mujahid and several others commented on this Ayah, "Whoever denies the necessity of Hajj becomes disbeliever, and Allah is far Richer than to need him." They learned this from the previous Prophets and honorable Messengers, may Allah's peace and blessings be on them all. They all brought the glad tidings and the good news of the coming of the unlettered, Arab, Hashimi Prophet from Makkah, the master of the Children of Adam, the Final Prophet and the Messenger of the Lord of heavens and earth. Allah has warned the People of the Book against this behavior, stating that He is Witness over what they do, indicating their defiance of the knowledge conveyed to them by the Prophets. They rejected, denied and refused the very Messenger whom they were ordered to convey the glad tidings about his coming. Allah states that He is never unaware of what they do, and He will hold them responsible for their actions, nr Al-Hilyah 9 :252

The objective of this Ayah is that there should be a segment of this Muslim Ummah fulfilling this task, even though it is also an obligation on every member of this Ummah, each according to his ability. Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, i <JIL> .'.j i jvl ^ J*^~" Jb J «Whoever among you witnesses an evil, let him change it with his hand. This is a well-known Hadith about which At-Tirmidhi said,“Hasan”, and which is also narrated from Mu’adh bin Jabal and Abu Said. The Ummah of Muhammad achieved this virtue because of its Prophet, Muhammad, peace be upon him, the most regarded of Allah’s creation and the most honored Messenger with Allah. Allah sent Muhammad jg with the perfect and complete Law that was never given to any Prophet or Messenger before him. In Muhammad’s Law, few deeds take the place of the many deeds that other nations performed. For instance, Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘Ali bin Abi Talib said, Fath Al-Bari 8 :72 Ibn Abi Hatim 2 :472 , 473 Aljmad 5 :3 TuhfatAl-Ahwadhi 8 :352 * Ibn Majah 2 :1433.

Another Hadith that Establishes the Virtues of the Ummah of Muhammad (ﷺ) in this Life and the Hereafter. Imam Ahmad recorded that Jabir said, "I heard the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) saying, 'One-fourth of the residents of Paradise on the Day of Resurrection.' We said, 'Allahu Akbar'. He then said, 'One-third of the people.' We said, 'Allahu Akbar'. He then said, 'One-half.' 1*1 Imam Ahmad recorded the same Hadith with another chain of narration, 121 and this Hadith meets the criteria of Muslim in his Sahih. In the Two Sahih, it is recorded that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, "The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said to us, 'Does it please you that you will be one-fourth of the people of Paradise?' We said, 'Allahu Akbar!' He added, 'Does it please you that you will be one-third of the people of Paradise?' We said, 'Allahu Akbar!' He said, 'One-half of the people of Paradise, yes.' 31 Another Hadith Imam Ahmad recorded that Buraydah said that the Prophet said, 'The last of the nations to be judged is the Ummah of Muhammad (ﷺ)'. 111 Ahmad 3:346. 121 Ahmad 3:383 Fath Al-Bari 1:385, Muslim 1:200.

"The people of Paradise are one hundred and twenty rows, this Ummah takes up eighty of them." 1 Imam Ahmad also collected this Hadith through another chain of narration. 121 At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah 3 also collected this Hadith, and At-Tirmidhi said, 'This Hadith is Hasan'. 4] 'Abdur-Razzaq recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Prophet (ﷺ) said, 'The last of the nations to be judged is the Ummah of Muhammad (ﷺ)'. 1 pXJAJ JA ULj ^jA y 1 tjji - xi. Xu ^jLJalJj t j 1XP . *_J llj Allt t<i «I've (Muslims) are the last to come, but the foremost on the Day of Resurrection, and the first people to enter Paradise, although the former nations were given the Scriptures before us and we after them. Allah gave us the guidance of truth that they have been disputing about. This (Friday) is the Day that they have been disputing about, and all the other people are behind us in this matter: the Jews' (day of congregation is) tomorrow (Saturday) and the Christians' is the day after tomorrow (Sunday). Al-Bukhari 5 and Muslim 16 collected this Hadith. Muslim recorded Abu Hurayrah saying that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, 'The last of the nations to be judged is the Ummah of Muhammad (ﷺ)'. 3 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 7:256 Ibn Majah 2:134. Al-Bukhari no. 896, 3486 and 3487. Muslim no. 855. 7 Muslim no. 855

These and other Hadiths conform to the meaning of the Ayah, cf <L>sifa oi>t iil 'ji- ^Lt) iYou are the best of peoples ever raised up for mankind; you enjoin Al-Ma'ruf (all that Islam has ordained) and forbid Al-Munkar (all that Islam has forbidden), and you believe in Allah). Therefore, whoever among this Ummah acquires these qualities, will have a share in this praise. Qatadah said, "We were told that Umar bin Al-Khattab recited this Ayah [3:110] during a Hajj that he performed, when he saw that the people were rushing. He then said, 'Whoever likes to be among this [praised] Ummah, let him fulfill the condition that Allah set in this Ayah.' Ibn Jarir recorded this. Those from this Ummah who do not acquire these qualities will be just like the People of the Scriptures whom Allah criticized, when He said, 'They did not forbid one another from the Munkar which they committed...' [5:79]. This is the reason why, after Allah praised the Muslim Ummah with the qualities that He mentioned, He criticized the People of the Scriptures and chastised them, saying, 'And had the People of the Scripture (Jews and Christians) believed) [3:110], in what was sent down to Muhammad (ﷺ). It would have been better for them; among them are some who have faith, but most of them are Fdsiqiin

(rebellious).) Therefore only a few of them believe in Allah and in what was sent down to you and to them. The majority of them follow deviation, disbelief, sin and rebellion. (i| At-Tabari 7 :102

Before that, the Jews in Al-Madlnah, the tribes of Qaynuqa', Nadir and Qurayzah, were also humiliated by Allah. Such was the case with the Christians in the area of Ash-Sham later on, when the Companions defeated them in many battles and took over the leadership of Ash-Sham forever. The Prohibition of Taking Advisors From Among the Disbelievers Allah forbids His believing servants from taking the hypocrites as advisors, so that the hypocrites do not have the opportunity to expose the secrets of the believers and their plans against their enemies. The hypocrites try their very best to confuse, oppose and harm the believers any way they can, and by using any wicked, evil means at their disposal. They wish the very worst and difficult conditions for the believers. Allah said, oi ^ 4Take not as (your) Bitanah those other than your own [3 :118], in reference to taking followers of other religions as consultants and advisors, for advisors of a certain person have access to his most secret affairs. And Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful .} The Support of the Angels The scholars of Tafsir differ over whether the promise contained in these Ayat referred to the battle of Badr or Uhud. The FirstView There are two opinions about this, one of them saying that Allah's statement, Jja3 4(Remember) when you said to the believers^ [3: 124], is related to His statement, ii' 4And Allah has already made you victorious at Badr} [3:123]. This was reported from Al-Hasan Al-Basri, 'Amr Ash-ShaToi, Ar-Rabl' bin Anas and several others, ' Ibn Jarir also agreed  Ibn Abi Hatim no. 519-521 with this opinion. 'Abbad bin MansQr said that Al-Hasan said that Allah's statement, 4^x3' 'Jt && <$3S o'^3 i'> 4(Remember) when you said to the believers, "Is it not enough for you that your Lord should help you with three thousand angels?"} [3:124], is about the battle of Badr;' ' Ibn Abi Hatim also recorded this statement. Ibn Abi Hatim then reported that 'Amr Ash-Shaloi said, "On

The news of the defeat of the idolators [at Badr] reached Kurz and he did not reinforce them, and thus, Allah did not reinforce the Muslims with the five (thousands of angels)."} |2 ' As for Ar-RabT bin Anas, he said, "Allah supported the Muslims with one thousand (angels), then the number reached three thousand, then five thousand." ' If one asks, according to this opinion, how can we combine between this Ayah and Allah's statement about Badr, i(Remember) when you sought help of your Lord and He ansioered you (saying): "I will help you with a thousand angels, each behind the other (following one another) in succession."} [8:9], until, iiSfLU«^} At-Jabari 7:174. ' Ibn Abi Hatim 2 :520. 131 At-Tabari 7 :178.

4 Verily! Allah is All-Mighty, All-Wise}? We say that the one thousand mentioned here does not contradict the three thousand mentioned in the above Ayah [3:124], The word "in succession" means they follow each other and thus indicates that thousands more will follow them. The two Ayat above [8:9 and 3:124] are similar in meaning and it appears that they both were about the battle of Badr, because the angels did fight in the battle of Badr, as the evidence indicates. Allah knows best. Allah's statement, 4's^j o\ 4But ifyou hold on to patience and have Taqwd,} [3:125) means, if you observe patience while fighting the enemy, all the while fearing Me and obeying My command. Al-Hasan, Qatadah, Ar-Rabl' and As-Suddi said that Allah's statement, ui ffijb iand they will come rushing> means, they (angels) will rush to you instantaneously. 111 Al-‘Awfi said that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Ayah means, “All at once”. It is also said that it means, before their anger subsides (against the disbelievers).¹²¹ The SecondView The second opinion stipulates that the promise mentioned here [concerning the angels participating in battle] is related to Allah’s statement, 4J&S) 5ojiK Up Oi 10 4And (remember) when you left your household in the morning to post the believers at their stationsfor the battle} of Uhud. However, we should add, the angels did not come to the aid of Muslims at Uhud, because Allah made it conditional, 4’^ 4^ 4But ifyou hold on to patience and have Taqwa} [3:125]. 111 Ibn Abi Hatim 2 :523,524. AMabari 7:182.

The Muslims were not patient at Uhud. Rather, they ran away and, consequently, did not receive the support of even one angel. Allah’s statement, iyour Lord will help you with five thousand angels having marks}, of distinction. Allah said, iAnd march forth iti the way (which leads to) forgiveness from your lord, and for Paradise as wide as the heavens and the earth, preparedfor the Muttaqin (the pious)} [3:133]. Just as the Fire was prepared for the disbelievers. It was reported that the meaning of Allah’s statement. ias wide as the heavens and the earth} draws the attention to the spaciousness of Paradise. For instance, Allah said in another Ayah, while describing the couches of Paradise, ilined with silk brocade} (55:54], so what about their outer covering? It was also said that Paradise is as wide as its length, because it is a dome under the Throne. The width and length of a dome or a circle are the same in distance. iRace with one another in hastening towards forgiveness from your Lord (Allah), and Paradise the width whereof is as the ividth of the heaven and the Earth} [57:21]. Al-Bazzar recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that a man came to the Messenger of Allah and asked him, about Allah's statement, {Paradise as wide as the heavens and the Earth} [3:133]; "Where is the Fire then?" The Prophet ﷺ said, "When the night comes, it overtakes everything, so where is the day? The man said, "Where Allah wants it to be." The Prophet ﷺ said, tfeje. !>jS5 j&I Jlj j «Similarly , the Fire is where Allah wants it to be.® 11 ' This Hadith has two possible meanings. First, when we do not see the night during the day, this does not mean that the day is not somewhere else, even though we cannot see it. Such is the case with Hell-fire, for it is where Allah wants it to be. The second meaning is that when the day overcomes this part of the world, the night overtakes the other part. Such is the case with Paradise, for it is in the utmost heights above the heavens and under the Throne. The width of Paradise is, as Allah stated, {whereof is as the width of the heaven and the Earth} [57:21]. The Fire, on the other hand, is in the lowest of lows. Therefore, Paradise being as wide as the heavens and Earth does not contradict the fact that the Fire exists wherever Allah wills it to be. Allah said, while describing the people of Paradise, m KashfAl-Astar3 :43

You will find some of your killed men mutilated, but I did not urge my men to do so, yet I do not feel sorry for their deed.”’ Only Al-Bukhari collected this Hadith using this chain of narration.’ Muhammad bin Ishaq said that, ‘Abdullah bin Az-Zubayr narrated that Az-Zubayr bin Al-‘Awwam said, “By Allah! I saw the female servants and female companions of Hind (Abu Sufyan’s wife) when they uncovered their legs and gave flight. At that time, there was no big or small effort separating us from capturing them. However, the archers went down the mount when the enemy gave flight from the battlefield, seeking to collect the booty. They uncovered our back lines to the horsemen of the disbelievers, who took the chance and attacked us from behind. Then a person shouted, ‘Muhammad has been killed.’ So we pulled back, and the disbelievers followed us, after we had killed those who carried their flag, and none of them dared to come close the flag, until then.”’ (1 > Fath Al-Bari 7 :405

Muhammad bin Ishaq said next, “The flag of the disbelievers was left on the ground until ‘Amrah bint ‘Alqamah Al- Harithiyyah picked it up and gave it to the Quraysh who held it.” Allah said, iThen He made you flee from them, that He might test you} [3:152]. Al-Bukhari recorded that Anas bin Malik said, “My uncle Anas bin An-Nadr was absent from the battle of Badr. He said, I was absent from the first battle the Prophet jfe fought (against the pagans). Where are you! Paradise! I am smelling its aroma coming from before (Mount) Uhud,’ and he went forth, fought and was killed. We found more than eighty stab wounds, sword blows or arrow holes on his body, which was mutilated so badly that none except his sister could recognize him, and she could only do so by his fingers or by a mole.” This is the narration reported by Al-Bukhari, Muslim also collected a similar narration from Thabit from Anas.¹²¹ The Defeat that the Muslims Suffered During the Battle

In this case, slumber is a favor and carries meanings of calmness and safety. For instance, Allah said in Surat Al-Anfal about the battle of Badr, 4(Remember) luhen He covered you with a slumber as a securityfrom Him^ [8 : 11]. A1-Bukhari recorded that Anas said that, Abu Talhah said, "I was among

For instance, before the battle of Badr, the Prophet ^ asked his Companions for if Muslims should intercept the caravan (led by Abu Sufyan). They said, "O Messenger of Allah! If you wish to cross the sea, we would follow you in it, and if you march forth to Barkul-Ghimad we would march with you. We would never say what the Children of Israel said to Musa, 'So go, you and your Lord, and fight you two, we are sitting right here.' Rather, we say march forth and we shall march forth with you; and before you, and to your right and left shall we fight.” The Prophet ﷺ also asked them for their opinion about where they should set up camp at Badr. Al-Mundhir bin ‘Amr suggested to camp close to the enemy, for he wished to acquire martyrdom. Concerning the battle of Uhud, the Messenger ﷺ asked the Companions if they should fortify themselves in Al-Madinah or go out to meet the enemy, and the majority of them requested that they go out to meet the enemy, and he did. He also took their advice on the day of Khandaq (the Trench) about conducting a peace treaty with some of the tribes of Al-Ahzab (the Confederates), in return for giving them one-third of the fruits of Al-Madinah. However, Sa’d bin Tjbadah and Sa’d bin Mu’adh rejected this offer and the Prophet ﷺ went ahead with their advice. The Prophet ﷺ also asked them if they should attack the idolaters on the Day of Hudaibiyyah, and Abu Bakr disagreed, saying, “We did not come here to fight anyone. Rather, we came to perform Umrah.” The Prophet ﷺ agreed. On the day of Ifk, (i.e. the false accusation), the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said to them, “O Muslims! Give me your advice about some men who falsely accused my wife (‘A’ishah). By Allah! I never knew of any evil to come from my wife. And they accused whom? They accused her from whom I only knew righteous conduct, by Allah!” The Prophet ﷺ asked ‘Ali and Usamah about divorcing ‘A’ishah. In summary, the Prophet ﷺ used to take his Companions’ advice for battles and other important events.

The Reason and Wisdom Behind the Defeat at Uhud

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 1011–1062]

Allah said, When a single disaster smites you, in reference to when the Muslims suffered seventy fatalities during the battle of Uhud, although you smote (your enemies) with one twice as great, during Badr, when the Muslims killed seventy Mushriks and captured seventy others, you say: "From where does this come to us?" why did this defeat happen to us? It is from yourselves."} Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that "Umar bin Al-Khattab said, "When Uhud occurred, a year after Badr, Muslims were punished for taking ransom from the disbelievers at Badr [in return for releasing the Mushriks whom they captured in that battle]. Thus, they suffered the loss of seventy fatalities and the Companions of the Messenger of Allah gave flight and abandoned him. The Messenger suffered a broken tooth, the helmet was smashed on his head and blood flowed onto his face. Allah then revealed, When a single disaster smites you, although you smote (your enemies) with one twice as great, you say: "From where does this come to us?" Say, "It is from yourselves". because you took the ransom." Furthermore, Muhammad bin Ishaq, Ibn Jurayj, Ar-Rab' bin Anas and As-Suddi said that the Ayah, It is from yourselves means, because you, the archers, disobeyed the Messenger's command to not abandon your positions. And Allah has power over all things. and He does what He wills and decides what He wills, and there is none who can resist His decision. Allah then said, And what you suffered on the day the two armies met, was by the leave of Allah, for when you ran away from your enemy, who killed many of you and injured many others, all this occurred by Allah's will

They said: "Had we known that fighting will take place, we would certainly have followed you.") [3:167], This refers to the Companions of 'Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salul who went back (to Al-Madinah) with him before the battle. Some believers followed them and encouraged them to come back and fight, saying, or defend, so that the number of Muslims increases, as Ibn 'Abbas, 'Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Ad-Dahhak, Abu Salih, Al-Hasan and As-Suddi stated. Al-Hasan bin Salih said that this part of the Ayah means, help by supplicating for us, while others said it means, man the posts. However, they refused, saying, "Had we known that fighting will take place, we would certainly have followed you." meaning, according to Mujahid, if we knew that you would fight today, we would join you, but we think you will not fight. Allah said, They were that day, nearer to disbelief than to faith, This Ayah indicates that a person passes through various stages, sometimes being closer to Kufr and sometimes closer to faith, as evident by, rri

Ahmad and Ibn Jarir collected this Hadith, which has a good chain of narration. It appears that the martyrs are of different types, some of them wander in Paradise, and some remain close to this river by the door of Paradise. It is also possible that the river is where all the souls of the martyrs convene and where they are provided with their provision day and night, and Allah knows best. Imam Ahmad narrated a Hadith that contains good news for every believer that his soul will be wandering in Paradise, as well, eating from its fruits, enjoying its delights and happiness and tasting the honor that Allah has prepared in it for him. This Hadith has a unique, authentic chain of narration that includes three of the Four Imams. Imam Ahmad narrated this Hadith from Muhammad bin Idris Ash-Shafi‘I who narrated it from Malik bin Anas Al-Asbuhi, from Az-Zuhri, from ‘Abdur- Rahman bin Ka‘b bin Malik that his father said that the Messenger of Allah sg| said, uj ^Jt ^11 «The soul of the believer becomes a bird that feeds on the trees of Paradise, until Allah sends him back to his body when He resurrects. This Hadith states that the souls of the believers are in the shape of a bird in Paradise. As for the souls of martyrs, they are inside green birds, like the stars to the rest of the believing souls. We ask Allah the Most Generous that He makes us firm on the faith. Allah's statement, *Uj i*They rejoice in what Allah has bestowed upon them indicates that the martyrs who were killed in Allah's cause are alive with Allah, delighted because of the bounty and happiness they are enjoying. They are also awaiting their brethren, who will die in Allah's cause after them, for they will be meeting them soon. These martyrs do not have fear about Ahmad 1 :266 [at-Tabari 7 :387 131 Ahmad 3 :455

The Two Sahih records from Anas, the story of the seventy Ansar Companions who were murdered at Bir Ma'unah in one night. In this Hadith, Anas reported that the Prophet jg; used to supplicate to Allah in Qunut in prayer against those who killed them. Anas said, "A part of the Qur'an was revealed about them, but was later abrogated, 'Convey to our people that we met Allah and He was pleased with us and made us pleased.'" [11 Allah said next, *i*They rejoice in a grace and a bounty from Allah, and that Allah will not waste the reward of the believers [3 :171]. Muhammad bin Ishaq commented, "They were delighted and pleased because of Allah's promise that was fulfilled for them, and for the tremendous rewards they earned." 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said, "This Ayah encompasses all the believers, martyrs and otherwise. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that 'Ikrimah said, "When the idolaters returned [towards Makkah] after Uhud, they said, 'You neither killed Muhammad nor collected female captives. Woe to you for what you did. Let us go back.' When the Messenger of Allah heard this news, he mobilized the Muslim forces, and they marched until they reached Hamra Al-Asad. In another statement, Allah said, iWhatsoever is on it (the earth) will perish. And the Face of your Lord full of majesty and Itonor will remain forever} [55:26,27]. Therefore, Allah Alone is the Ever-Living Who never dies, while the Jinn, mankind and angels, including those who carry Allah's Throne, shall die. The Irresistible One and Only, will alone remain for ever and ever, remaining Last, as He was the First. This Ayah comforts all creation, since every soul that exists on the earth shall die. When the term of this life comes to an end and the sons of Adam no longer have any new generations, and thus this world ends, Allah will command that the Day of Resurrection commence. Allah will then recompense the creation for their deeds, whether minor or major, many or few, big or small. Surely, Allah will not deal unjustly with anyone, even the weight of an atom, and this is why He said, iAnd only on the Day of Resurrection shall you be paid your wages in full [3:185]. recognized Islam. Allah gave them a double reward, for the faith that they had before Muhammad ﷺ, and for believing in Muhammad ﷺ (after he was sent as Prophet).” Ibn Abi Hatim recorded both of these statements. The Two Sahihs record that Abu Musa said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “Three persons will acquire a double reward. He mentioned among them, the Jew, the Christian, and the Magian. A person from among the People of the Book who believed in his Prophet and in me. Allah’s statement, ‘They do not sell the verses of Allah for a small price’, means, they do not hide the knowledge that they have, as the cursed ones among them have done. Rather, they share the knowledge without a price, and this is why Allah said, ‘for them is a reward with their Lord, surely, Allah is Swift in account.’” Mujahid commented on the verse, ‘(Surely, Allah is) swift in account’, “He is swift in reckoning,” as Ibn Abi Hatim and others have recorded from him. The Command for Patience and Ribat Allah said, “O you who believe! Endure and be more patient, and remember that [3:200]. Al-Hasan Al-Basri said, “The believers are commanded to be like Fath Al-Bari 6 : 169 , Muslim 1 : 134 patient in the religion that Allah chose for them, Islam. They are not allowed to abandon it in times of comfort or hardship, ease or calamity, until they die as Muslims. They are also commanded to endure against their enemies, those who hid the truth about their religion.” 1,1 Similar explanation given by several other scholars among the Salaf. As for Murabatah, it is to endure in acts of worship and perseverance. It also means to await prayer after prayer, as Ibn ‘Abbas, Sahl bin Hanf and Muhammad bin Ka’b Al-Qurazi stated. Ibn Abi Hatim collected a Hadith that was also collected by Muslim and An-Nasai from Abu Hurayrah that the Prophet ﷺ said, “Should I tell you about actions with which Allah forgives sins and raises the grade? Performing perfect ablution in unfavorable conditions, the many steps one takes to the Masjid, and awaiting prayer after the prayer, for this is the Ribat, this is the Ribat, this is the Ribat.” 21 They also say that the Murabatah in the above Ayah refers to battles against the enemy, and manning Muslim outposts to protect them from enemy incursions inside Muslim territory. There are several Hadiths that encourage Murabatah and mention its rewards. Al-Bukhari recorded that Sahl bin Sa’d As-Saldi said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “A Day of Ribat in the cause of Allah is better than this life and all that is in it.” Muslim recorded that Salman Al-Farisi said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, “The Ribat is better than the world and all that is in it.” Muslim 1 : 219, An-Nasai 1 : 89. The Command to have Taqwa, a Reminder about Creation, and Being Kind to Relatives Allah commands His creatures to have Tciqwa of Him by worshipping Him Alone without partners. He also reminds to them of His ability, in that He created them all from a single person, Adam, peace be unto him. i And from him He created his wife) Hawwa’ (Eve), who was created from Adam’s left rib, from his back while he was sleeping. Allah’s statement, i through Whom you demand your mutual (rights)}, is in reference to when some people say, “I ask you by Allah, and then by the relation of the Rahim (the womb, i.e. my relationship to you)”, according to Ibrahim, Mujahid and Al- Hasan.*2 Ad-Dahhak said; “Fear Allah Whom you invoke when you conduct transactions and contracts.” 131 “And revere the womb by not cutting the relations of the womb, but keep and honor them, as Ibn ‘Abbas, Ikrimah, Mujahid, Al-Hasan, Ad-

In smother Ayah, Allah said; 4-^&$& iAnd Allah is Witness over all things.} [58:6]. An authentic Hadith states, 2lt JupU «Worship Allah as ifyou see Him, for even though you cannot see Him, He sees you.® This part of the Ayah encourages having a sense of certainty that Allah is always watching, in a complete and perfect manner. Allah mentioned that He has created mankind from a single father and a single mother, so that they feel compassion for each other and are kind to the weaker among them. In his SahSh, Muslim recorded that Jarir bin 'Abdullah Al-Bajali said that a delegation from Mudar came to the Messenger of Allah gj, and he saw their state, wearing striped woolen clothes due to poverty. 4And if you fear that you shall not be able to deal justly with the orphan girls, then marry (other) women of your choice, two} Allah commands, when one of you is the caretaker of a female orphan and he fears that he might not give her a dowry that is suitable for women of her status, he should marry other women, who are plenty as Allah has not restricted him. Al-Bukhan recorded that ‘A’ishah said, “A man was taking care of a female orphan and he married her, although he did not desire to marry her. That girl’s money was mixed with his, and he was keeping her portion from her. Afterwards, this Ayah was revealed about his case; if you fear that you shall not be able to deal justly}”¹¹ ‘ Al-Bukhari recorded that OJrwah bin Az-Zubayr said that he asked ‘A’ishah about the meaning of the statement of Allah, if you fear that you shall not be able to deal justly with the orphan girls.} She said, “O my nephew! This is about the orphan girl who lives with her guardian and shares his property. Her wealth and beauty may tempt him to marry her without giving her an adequate dowry which might have been given by another suitor. So, such guardians were forbidden to marry such orphan girls unless they treated them justly and gave them the most suitable dowry; otherwise they were ordered to marry woman besides them.” ‘A’ishah further said, “After that verse, the people again asked the Messenger of Allah jg (about marriage with orphan girls), so Allah revealed the Ayah, 4m a&&& iThey ask your instruction concerning the women..} [4:127).” She said, “Allah’s statement in this Ayah, m Fath Al-Bari 8 :87 .

374 Tahir Ibn Kathir iyet whom you desire to marry^ [4:127) refers to the guardian who does not desire to marry an orphan girl under his supervision because she is neither wealthy nor beautiful. The guardians were forbidden to marry their orphan girls possessing property and beauty without being just to them, as they generally refrain from marrying them (when they are neither beautiful nor wealthy).”
111 The Permission to Marry Four Women Allah’s statement, 4two or three, or four}, means, marry as many women as you like, other than the orphan girls, two, three or four. We should mention that Allah’s statement in (mother Ayah, 4Who made the angels messengers with wings, - two or three orfour} [35:1], does not mean that other angels do not have more than four wings, as there are proofs that some angels do have more wings. Yet, men are prohibited from marrying more than four wives, as the Ayah decrees, since the Ayah specifies what men are allowed of wives, as Ibn ‘Abbas and the majority of scholars stated. If it were allowed for them to have more than four wives, the Ayah would have mentioned it. Imam Ahmad recorded that Salim said that his father said that Ghllan bin Salamah Ath-Thaqafi had ten wives when he became Muslim, and the Prophet sg said to him, “Choose any four of them (and divorce the rest).” During the reign of Umar, Ghllan divorced his remaining wives and divided his money between his children. When TJmar heard news of this, he said to Ghllan, “I think that the devil has conveyed to your heart the news of your imminent death, from what the devil hears during his eavesdropping. It may as well be that you will not remain alive but for a little longer. By Allah! You will take back your wives and your money, or I will take possession of this all and will order that your grave be stoned as is the case with the 111 FathAl-BtSri 8:87.

grave of Abu Righal (from ThamQd, who was saved from their fate because he was in the Sacred Area. But, when he left it, he was tormented like they were).” Ash-Shafil, At-Tirmidhi, Ibn Majah, Ad-Daraqutni and Al-Bayhaqi collected this Hadith up to the Prophet’s statement, “Choose any four of them.” Only Ahmad collected the full version of this Hadith. Therefore, had it been allowed for men to marry more than four women at the same time, the Prophet would have allowed Ghllan to keep more than four of his wives since they all embraced Islam with him. When the Prophet commanded him to keep just four of them and divorce the rest, this indicated that men are not allowed to keep more than four wives at a time under any circumstances. If this is the case concerning those who already had more than four wives upon embracing Islam, then this ruling applies even more so to marrying more than four. Marrying Only One Wife When One Fears He Might not Do Justice to His Wives Allah’s statement, “If you fear that you will not be able to deal justly (with them), then only one or what your right hands possess.” The Ayah commands, if you fear that you will not be able to do justice between your wives by marrying more than one, then marry only one wife, or satisfy yourself with only female captives, for it is not obligatory to treat them equally, rather it is recommended. So if one does so, that is good, and if not, there is no harm on him. In another Ayah, Allah said, “You will never be able to do perfect justice between wives even if it is your ardent desire” [4:129]. Allah said, “1 * Ahmad 2:14, Al-Umm 5:49, At-Tirmidhi no.1128, Ibn Majah no.1953, Ad-Daraqutni 3 :271 Al-Bayhaqi 7 :182.

“That is nearer to prevent you from Ta’iilu}, meaning, from doing injustice. Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn Marduwyah and Abu Hatim Ibn Hibban, in his Sahih, recorded that ‘A’ishah said that, the Prophet said that the Ayah, “4”)Lyu Vi yjl “That is nearer to prevent you from Ta’iilu}, means, from doing injustice.” However, Ibn Abi Hatim said that his father said that this Hadith to the Prophet is a mistake, for it should be attributed to ‘A’ishah not the Prophet. Ibn Abi Hatim reported from Ibn ‘Abbas, ‘A’ishah, Mujahid, ‘Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Abu Malik, Abu Razin, An-Nakhal, Ash-Sha’bi, Ad-Dahhak, ‘Ata’ Al-Khurasani, Qatadah, As-Suddi and Muqatil bin Hayyan that Ta’ulu means to deviate [from justice].”2 ‘ Giving the Dowry is Obligatory ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported Ibn ‘Abbas saying, “Nihlah, in Allah’s statement, “And give to the women (whom you marry) their Saduqat Nihlah” refers to the dowry.”3 Muhammad bin Ishaq narrated from Az-Zuhri that Tirmidhi said that ‘A’ishah said that ‘Nihlah’ means ‘obligatory’. Muqatil, Qatadah and Ibn Jurayj said, “Nihlah’ means ‘obligatory’ Ibn Jurayj added: ‘specified.’”4 ‘ Ibn Zayd said, “In Arabic, Nihlah, refers to what is necessary. So Allah is commanding: Do not marry unless you give your wife something that is her right. No person after the Prophet is allowed to marry a woman except with the required dowry, nor by giving false promises about the dowry [intended].”5 ‘ Therefore, the man is required” Ibn Hibban 6:134. 121 At-Tabari 7:549-551. ,3’ At-Tabari 7 :553 4) At-Tabari 7 :553 [S] At-Tabari 7:553.

Holding the Property of the Unwise in Escrow Allah prohibited giving the unwise the freedom to do as they wish with wealth, which Allah has made as a means of support for people. This ruling sometimes applies because of being young, as young people are incapable of making wise decisions. It also applies in cases of insanity, erratic behavior and having a weak intellect or religious practice. It applies in cases of bankruptcy, when the debtors ask that the property of a bankrupt person is put in escrow, when his debts cannot be paid off with his money. Ad-Dahhak reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that Allah’s statement.

Necessity of Surrendering the Inheritance According to the Portions that Allah Ordained Said bin Jubayr and Qatadah said, “The idolaters used to give adult men a share of inheritance and deprive women and children of it. iAnd when are present at the time of division}, refers to divisions of inheritance. So, when poor relatives, who are ineligible for inheritance, orphans, and the poor attend the division of the inheritance, which is sometimes substantial, their hearts will feel eager to have a share, seeing each eligible person assuming his share; while they are desperate, yet are not given anything. Allah the Most Kind, Most Compassionate, commands that they should have a share in the inheritance as an act of kindness, charity, compassion and mercy for them. So his final work will be his best, and he thus enters Paradise. Abu Hurayrah said, "Read, if you will, these are the limits (set by) Allah until, a disgraceful torment)." 111 In the chapter on injustice in the will, Abu Dawud recorded 111 Ahmad 2:278.

Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "A man or a woman might perform actions in obedience to Allah for sixty years. Yet, when they are near death, they leave an unfair will and thus acquire the Fire." Abu Hurayrah then recited the Ayah, "And after payment of legacies he (or she) may have bequeathed or debts, so that no loss is caused, until the great success." 11 This was also recorded by At-Tirmidhi 121 and Ibn Majah, 13' and At-Tirmidhi said, "Hasan Ghanb". 111 Abu Dawud 3:288. 12 Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 6 :304 ' Ibn Majah 2 :902.

Surely, Allah is Ever the One Who accepts repentance, (and He is) Most Merciful. The Adulteress is Confined in her House; A Command Later Abrogated At the beginning of Islam, the ruling was that if a woman commits adultery as stipulated by sufficient proof, she was confined to her home, without leave, until she died. Allah said, "And those of your women who commit illegal sexual intercourse, take the evidence of four witnesses from among you against them; and if they testify, confine them (i.e. women) to houses until death comes to them or Allah ordains for them some (other) way." 'Some other way' mentioned here is the abrogation of this ruling that came later. Ibn 'Abbas said, "The early ruling was confinement, until Allah sent down Surat An-Nur (chapter 24) which abrogated that ruling with the ruling of flogging (for fornication) or stoning to death (for adultery)." Similar was reported from 'Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Al-Hasan, 'Ata' Al-Khurasani, Abu Salih, Qatadah, Zayd bin Aslam and Ad-Dahhak, and this is a matter that is agreed upon. Imam Ahmad recorded that Tjbadah bin As-Samit said, "When the revelation descended upon the Messenger of Allah it would affect him and his face would show signs of strain.

One day, Allah sent down a revelation to him, and when the Messenger ﷺ was relieved of its strain, he said, "Allah has made some other way for them. The married gets a hundred lashes and stoning to death, while the unmarried gets a hundred lashes then banishment for a year, n" Muslim and the collectors of the Sunan recorded that Tjbadah bin As-Samit said that the Prophet ﷺ said, "Take from me, take from me. We mentioned the meaning of Qintar in the Tafsir of Surah Al 'Imran. This Ayah is clear in its indication that the dowry could be substantial. TJmar bin Al-Khattab used to discourage giving a large dowry, but later on changed his view. Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Al-'Ajfa' As-Sulami said that he heard TJmar bin Al-Khattab saying, "Do not exaggerate with the dowry ofwomen, had this practice been an honor in this world or a part of Taqwa, then the Prophet is, would have had more right to practice it than you. Had paying more for a dowry been a part of Taqwa or an honor, you would not have led them in this practice. Therefore, I do not want to hear about a man who pays more than four hundred Dirhams for a dowry.’ He then went down the Minbar, but a woman from Quraysh said to him, ‘O Leader of the Faithful! You prohibited people from paying more than four hundred Dirhams in a dowry for women?’ He said, ‘Yes.’ She said, ‘Have you not heard what Allah sent down in the Qur’an?’ He said, “Which part of it?’ She said, ‘Have you not heard Allah’s statement, 4}LliS iAntl you have given one of them a Qintdr}?’ He said, ‘O Allah! Allah prohibits marrying the women whom the father married, in honor and respect to the fathers, not allowing their children to have sexual relations with their wives after they die. A woman becomes ineligible for the son of her husband as soon as the marriage contract is conducted, and there is a consensus on this ruling. Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “During the time of Jahiliyyah, the people used to prohibit what Allah prohibits (concerning marriage), except marrying the stepmother and taking two sisters as rival wives. Allah sent down, And marry not women whom your fathers married, and two sisters in wedlock at the same time [4:23].” 111 Similar was reported from ‘Ata’ and Qatadah. Therefore, the practice that the Ayah mentions is prohibited for this Ummah, being disgraced as an awful sin, Indeed it was shameful and Maqtan, and an evil way. Allah said in other Ayat, Come not near to Al-Fawdhish (shameful acts) whether committed openly or secretly [6:151], and, And come not near to unlawful sex. Verily, it is a Fdliishah and an evil way. [17:32] In this Ayah (4:22), Allah added, and Maqtan, meaning, offensive. It is a sin itself and causes the son to hate his father after he marries his wife. It is usual 111 At-Tabari 8:132. 121 At-Tabari 8 :132-134.

that whoever marries a woman dislikes those who married her before him. This is one reason why the Mothers of the Faithful were not allowed for anyone in marriage after the Messenger. They are indeed the Mothers of the Faithful since they married the Messenger, who is like the father to the believers. Rather, the Prophet’s right is far greater than the right of a father, and his love comes before each person loving himself, may Allah’s peace and blessings be on him. ‘Ata’ bin Abi Rabah said that the Ayah, and Maqtan, means, Allah will hate him, it is an evil way, for those who take this way. Therefore, those who commit this practice will have committed an act of reversion from the religion and deserve capital punishment and confiscation of their property, which will be given to the Muslim Treasury. Imam Ahmad and the collectors of Sunan recorded that Al-Bara’ bin ‘Azib said that his uncle Abu Burdah was sent by the Messenger of Allah to a man who married his stepmother to execute him and confiscate his money. 111 -jjt u£ 5-fj 4 4$ It UftM3^ 3 4> efj[JiiH. jS C 'Jj 423. As for the wife’s daughter, she becomes prohibited for her stepfather when he has sexual relations with her mother, after the marriage contract is ratified. If the man divorces the mother before having sexual relations with her, he is allowed to marry her daughter. So Allah said; يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا لَا تَنْكِحُوا مَا كَانُوا آبَاءَكُمْ بِأَسْنَانِكُمْ وَلَوْلَا فَضْلُ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ فَكُنْتُمْ آبَاءَهُمْ عَادَةً مِّنَ الدُّنْيَا وَاللَّهُ عَظِيمٌ 4Your stepdaughters under your guardianship, born of your wives unto whom you have gone in - but there is no sin on you if you have not gone in unto them,} to marry the stepdaughter. It means that these two Aydt encompass these types of women, whether the marriage was consummated or not, and there is a consensus on this ruling. A Doubt and Rebuttal Why is the wife of one's son from suckling prohibited for him for marriage - that is, if she is no longer married to his son from suckling - as the majority of scholars state, although they are not related by blood? The answer is the Prophet's statement, «Suckling prohibits what blood relations prohibit. n 1 The Prohibition of Taking Two Sisters as Rival Wives Allah said, 3 C -ft ^ & } hi Muslim 2 :1072.

They all stated that taking two sisters as rival wives is prohibited, and that whoever embraces Islam while married to two sisters at the same time is given the choice to keep one of them and divorce the other. If you fear a breach between the two, appoint (two) arbitrators, one from his family and the other from her’s; if they both wish for peace, Allah will cause their reconciliation . Indeed Allah is Ever All-Knower, Well-Acquainted with all things Appointing Two Arbitrators When the Possibility of Estrangement Between Husband and Wife Occurs Allah first mentioned the case of rebellion on the part of the wife. He then mentioned the case of estrangement and alienation between the two spouses. Allah said. a; tSS-j [f, IjLuU CjJl tg ilf you fear a breach between the two, appoint (two) arbitrators, one from his family>. The Fuqaha’ (scholars of Fiqh) say that when estrangement occurs between the husband and wife, the judge refers them to a trusted person who examines their case in order to stop any wrongs committed between them. If the matter continues or worsens, the judge sends a trustworthy person from the woman’s family and a trustworthy person from the man’s family to meet with them and examine their case to determine whether it is best for them to part or to remain together. Allah gives preference to staying together, and this is why Allah said. if they both wish for peace, Allah will cause their reconciliation ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Allah commands that a righteous man from the husband’s side of the family and the wife’s side of the family are appointed, so that they find out who among the spouses is in the wrong. If the man is in the wrong, they prevent him from his wife, and he pays some restitution. If the wife is in the wrong, she remains with her husband, and he does not pay any restitution. If the arbitrators decide that the marriage should remain intact or be dissolved, then their decision is upheld. If they decide that the marriage remains intact, but one of the spouses disagrees while the other agrees, and one of them dies, then the one who agreed inherits from the other, while the spouse who did not agree does not inherit from the spouse who agreed.” This was collected by Ibn Abi Hatim and Ibn Jarir. Shaykh Abu TJmar bin ‘Abdul-Barr said, “The scholars agree that when the two arbitrators disagree, then the opinion that dissolves the marriage will not be adopted. They also agree that the decision of the arbitrators is binding, even if the two spouses did not appoint them as agents. This is the case if it is decided that they should stay together, but they disagree whether it is binding or not when they decide for separation.” Then he mentioned that the majority holds the view that the decision is still binding, even if they did not appoint them to make any decision. v 4^~^’ •si j’i’j 436. Another Reason Ibn Abi Hatim narrated that ‘Ali bin Abi Talib said, “Abdur- Rahman bin ‘Awf made some food to which he invited us and served some alcohol to drink. When we became intoxicated, and the time for prayer came, they asked someone to lead us in prayer. He recited ‘Say, ‘O disbelievers! I do not worship that which you worship, but we worship that which you worship [refer to the correct wording of the Surah: 109].” Allah then revealed, U csj& ijSjJu y <0 you who believe! When a person is drunk, he makes obvious mistakes in the recitation and will not be able to be humble during the prayer. Yet, the Messenger of Allah sg commanded that all the small doors that open into the Masjid be closed, except Abu Bakr’s door. Some of the Sunan compilers recorded the Prophet jg saying that only ‘Ali’s door should remain open, but this is an error, what is in the Sahih is what is correct. In his Sahih, Muslim recorded that 'A'ishah said, "The Messenger of Allah said to me, «Bring me the garment from the Masjid.» I said, 'I am having my period.' He said, "Your period is not in your 'umra." 131 Muslim also collected a similar narration from Abu Hurayrah. 141 This Hadith indicates that the woman is allowed to pass through the Masjid during menses or post-natal bleeding, and Allah knows best. ^ At-Tabari 8 :384. Some scholars said that any type of illness warrants Tayammum, because of the general indications of the Ayah. As for travelling on a journey, it is known, regardless of its length. Allah then said, u pi S3 ft} ior comes from the Gha'it}. The Gha'it is, literally, the flat land ,1 and this part of the Ayah refers to the minor impurity. The Prophet jg said, 'Perform Tayammum with clean earth and that will be sufficient for you.'3 The linguistic meaning of Tayammum is to intend, as Arabs say, "May Allah Tayammamaka (direct at you) His care." 'Clean earth' means dust. Allah’s statement, rubbing your faces and hands (Tayammum)} indicates that Tayammum is a substitute for normal ablution, not that it involves cleaning the parts that normal ablution does. Therefore, it is sufficient in Tayammum to just wipe the face and hands, as the consensus concurs. The face and hands are wiped with one strike on the sand in this case, as Imam Ahmad recorded that ‘Abdur-Rahman bin Abza said that a man came to Tjmar and asked him, “I am Junub, but there is no water.” ‘Umar said, “Then, do not pray.” ‘Ammar said, “Do you not remember, O Leader of the Faithful! This Ayah sanctifies the position of the prayer, it being too sacred than to be performed in a defecient manner, like in a state of drunkenness, until one becomes aware of what he is saying, or sexually impure, until he bathes (GhusQ, or after answering the call of nature, until he performs ablution. There are exceptions when one is ill or when there is no water. Al-Bukhari recorded that ‘A’ishah said, “We set out with Allah’s Messenger sg on one of his journeys until we reached Al-Bayda’ or Dhat-ul-Jaysh, where a necklace of mine was broken (and lost). Allah’s Messenger jg stayed there to search for it, and so did the people along with him. There was no water source or any water with them at that place, so the people went to Abu Bakr As-Siddlq and said, ‘Don’t you see what ‘A’ishah has done! She has made Allah’s Messenger and the people stay where there is no source of water and they have no water with them.’ Abu Bakr came while Allah’s Messenger jg was sleeping with his head on my thigh. He said to me, "You have detained Allah’s Messenger and the people where there is no source of water and they have no water with them.’ So he admonished me and said what Allah wished him to say and hit me on my flank with his hand. Nothing prevented me from moving (because of pain) but the position of Allah’s Messenger on my thigh. Allah’s Messenger jg got up when dawn broke and there was no water. So Allah revealed the verses of Tayammum, and they all performed Tayammum. Usayd bin Hudayr said, ‘O the family of Abu Bakr! This is not the first blessing of yours.’ Then the camel on which 1 was riding was moved from its place and the necklace was found beneath it.” ’ Al-Bukhari and Muslim recorded this Hadith.’2| J s 'jpJ sj' Ji j jyfy cA ji&i' oySi Si $3 ii'j (*^ 'j£-

It was reported that the reason behind revealing this Ayah was that a man from the Ansar and a Jew had a dispute, and the Jew said, "Let us refer to Muhammad to judge between us." However, the Muslim man said, "Let us refer to Kah bin Al- Ashraf (a Jew) to judge between us." It was also reported that the Ayah was revealed about some hypocrites who pretended to be Muslims, yet they sought to refer to the judgment of Jahiliyyah. Other reasons were also reported behind the revelation of the Ayah. However, the Ayah has a general meaning, as it chastises all those who refrain from referring to the Qur'an and Sunnah for judgment and prefer the judgment of whatever they chose of falsehood, which befits the description of Taghut here. This is why Allah said, 4and they wish to go for judgment to the Taghut until the end of the Ayah. Allah's statement, 4tum away from you with aversion judgment to the benefit of whoever among them had the right. The person who lost the dispute said, "I which the Messenger of Allah jg issued." The person who lost the dispute still rejected the decision and said, "Let us go to TJmar bin Al- Khattab." When they went to TJmar, the person who won the dispute said, "We took our dispute to the Prophet jg and he decided in my favor, but this man refused to submit to the decision." TJmar bin Al-Khattab asked the second man and he concurred. 'Umar went to his house and emerged from it holding aloft his sword. He struck the head of the man who rejected the

The Reason Behind Revealing this Honorable Ayah

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 1205–1223]

Ibn Jarir recorded that Said bin Jubayr said, “An Ansari man came to the Messenger of Allah sg while feeling sad. The Prophet said to him, Why do I see you sad?’ He said, ‘O Allah’s Prophet! I was contemplating about something.’ The Prophet sg said, What is it?’ The Ansari said, We come to you day and night, looking at your face and sitting by you. Tomorrow, you will be raised with the Prophets, and we will not be able to see you.’ The Prophet jg did not say anything, but later Jibril came down to him with this Ayah, Si*| !' Si i*'" Syi' iAnd whoever obeys Allah and the Messenger then they will be in the company of those on whom Allah has bestowed His grace, of the Prophets}, and the Prophet sent the good news to the Ansari man.”*4 ' This Hadith was narrated in Mursal form*5 ' from Masruq, Ikrimah, ‘Amir Ash-Shalji, Qatadah and Ar-Rabx‘ bin Anas. This is the version with the best chain of narrators. Abu Bakr bin Marduwyah recorded it with a different chain from ‘A’ishah, 111 Fath Al-Bari 8 : 103 121 Muslim 4:1893 131 Muslim 4:1894 At-Tabari 8 :534 * The chain of narration is missing the name ofthe Companion

Greater news than this is in the authentic Hadith collected in the Sahih and Musnad compilations, in Mutawatir form, narrated by several Companions that the Messenger of Allah was asked about the person who loves a people, but his status is not close to theirs. The Messenger said, i'fS It “One is with those whom he loves . |2) Anas commented, “Muslims were never happier than with this Hadith.” In another narration, Anas said, “I love the Messenger of Allah, Abu Bakr and TJmar, and I hope that Allah will resurrect me with them, even though I did not perform actions similar to theirs.”131 Allah said, ^ jJiit iSuch is the bounty from Allah) meaning, from Allah by His mercy, for it is He who made them suitable for this, not their good deeds. iand Allah is sufficient as All-Knower), He knows those who deserve guidance and success. o-j jjj . ji oU 'jyLiti Ijji. $2$ $ i! £ fit ^ 1 ft $ di3 'j> f*4" ^ .yyj *i' <>*j Sr’J' «i' 4 ^ 4 0 4^ jif 4^ 4 472. It could mean ; "sold the life of this world for the sake of the Hereafter", or; "purchased the life of this world at the expense of the Hereafter." So it is either an order for those of conviction to fight, or an order to those whose hearts waver in faith, who are quoted in the previous Ayah, to fight with sincerity, not for worldly matters. Most of the commentators see it as the first example. [2] At-Jabari 8 :537

Refraining from Joining Jihad is a Sign of Hypocrites Allah said, iThere is certainly among you he who would linger behind.} Mujahid and others said that this Ayah was revealed about the hypocrites.'2 Muqatil bin Hayyan said that, ^linger behind means, stays behind and does not join Jihad. It is also possible that this person himself lingers behind, while luring others away from joining Jihad. For instance, 'Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salul, may Allah curse him, used to linger behind and lure other people to do the same and refrain from joining Jihad, as Ibn Jurayj and Ibn Jarir stated. This is why Allah said about the hypocrite, that when he lingers behind from Jihad, then: }If a misfortune befalls you} death, martyrdom, or - by Allah's wisdom - being defeated by the enemy, 4V M2& * k&^ 3 ti} ihe says, "Indeed Allah has favored me that I was not present among them."} meaning, since I did not join them in battle. Whatever of good reaches you, is from Allah, but whatever of evil befalls you, is from yourself. And We have sent you as a Messenger to mankind, and Allah is sufficient as a Witness.} The Wish that the Order for Jihad be Delayed In the beginning of Islam, Muslims in Makkah were commanded to perform the prayer and pay some charity, so as to comfort the poor among them. They were also commanded to be forgiving and forbearing with the idolators and to observe patience with them at the time. However, they were eager and anticipating the time when they would be allowed to fight, so that they could punish their enemies. The situation at that time did not permit armed conflict for many reasons. For instance, Muslims were few at the time, compared to then- numerous enemies. The Muslims' city was a sacred one and the most honored area on the earth, and this is why the command to fight was not revealed in Makkah. Later on when the Muslims controlled a town of their own, Al-Madinah, and had strength, power and support, Jihad was then legislated. Yet, when the command to fight was revealed, just as Muslims wished, some of them became weary and were very fearful of facing the idolators in battle. They say: "Our Lord! Why have You ordained for us fighting? Would that You had granted us respite for a short period?" meaning, we wish that Jihad was delayed until a later time, because it means bloodshed, orphans and widows. In a similar Ayah, Allah said, "Those who believe say: 'Why is not a Surah sent down (for us)? But when a decisive is sent down, and fighting is mentioned Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said that 'Abdur-Rahman bin 'Awf and several of his companions came to the Prophet ﷺ while in Makkah and said, "O Allah's Prophet! We were mighty when we were pagans, but when we embraced the faith, we became weak." The Prophet said, "I was commanded to pardon the people, so do not fight them." When Allah transferred the Prophet ﷺ to Al-Madinah, He commanded him to fight (the idolators), but they (some Muslims) held back. So, Allah revealed the Ayah; "Have you not seen those who were told to hold back their hands? This Hadith was collected by An-Nasa'i and Al-Hakim. Allah's statement, "Short is the enjoyment of this world. The Hereafter is (far) better for him who fears Allah, means, the destination of the one who with Taqwa is better for him than this life. 521 Surah 4. An-Nisa' (Part-5) Allah's statement that all things are from Him means, everything occurs by the decision and decree of Allah, and His decision shall come to pass for both the righteous and the wicked, the faithful and the disbelievers. Allah then said while addressing His Messenger ﷺ, but referring to mankind in general. "Whatever of good reaches you, is from Allah" meaning, of Allah's bounty, favor, kindness and mercy. "But whatever of evil befalls you, is from yourself.", meaning because of you and due to your actions. Similarly, Allah said, "And whatever of misfortune befalls you, it is because of what your hands have earned. And He pardons much." As-Suddi, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Ibn Jurayj and Ibn Zayd said that, "from yourself" means,

Allah states that there are no inconsistencies, contradictions, conflicting statements or discrepancies in the Qur'an, because it is a revelation from the Most-Wise, Worthy of all praise. Therefore, the Qur'an is the truth coming from the Truth, Allah. This is why Allah said in another Ayah, 4Do they not then think deeply in the Qur'an, or are their hearts locked up (from understanding it)?} Allah then said, 4^ Jf- -Pi Cri O Sf 4Had it been from other than Allah,} meaning, had it been fraudulent and made up, as the ignorant idolators and . hypocrites assert in their hearts, {>%$} 4they would surely, have found therein contradictions}, discrepancies and inconsistencies, 4(jifo=o) 4in abundance}. However, this Qur'an is free of shortcomings, and therefore, it is from Allah. Similarly, Allah describes those who are firmly grounded in knowledge, 4 *4# 4We believe in it, all of it is from our Lord.>(3:7) meaning, the Muhkam sections (entirely clear) and the

Mutashabih sections (not entirely clear) of the Qur'an are all true. So they understand the not entirely clear from the clear, and thus gain guidance. As for those in whose heart is the disease of hypocrisy, they understand the Muhkam from the Mutashabih; thus only gaining misguidance. Allah praised those who have knowledge and criticized the wicked. Imam Ahmad recorded that 'Amr bin Shu'ayb said that his father said that his grandfather said, "I and my brother were present in a gathering, which is more precious to me than red camels. My brother and I came and found that some of the leaders of the Companions of the Messenger of Allah jg were sitting close to a door of his. Therefore, the better Salam is recommended, while returning it equally is an obligation. Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Raja’ Al-‘Utaridi said that Imran bin Husayn said that a man came to the Messenger of Allah and said, “As-Salamu ‘Alaykum”. The Prophet returned the greeting, and after the man sat down he said, “Ten.” Another man came and said, “As-Salamu ‘Alaykum wa RahmatuUdh, O Allah’s Messenger.” The Prophet jg returned the greeting, and after the man sat down he said, “Twenty.” Then another man came and said, “As-Salamu ‘Alaykum wa Rahmatullah wa Barakatuh.” The Prophet returned the greeting, and after the man sat down he said, “Thirty.”111 This is the narration recorded by Abu Dawud. At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasa’i and Al-Bazzar also recorded it. At-Tirmidhi said, “Hasan Gharib”. There are several other Hadiths on this subject from Abu Said, ‘Ali, and Sahl bin Hanif.’21 When the Muslim is greeted with the full form of Salam, he is obliged to return the greeting equally. As for Ahl Adh-Dhimmah the Salam should not be initiated nor should the greeting be added to when returning their greeting. Rather, as recorded in the Two Sahih their greeting is returned to them equally. Ibn Umar narrated that the Messenger of Allah sg said, : jii istdU fun jjZ^ fidU fJL. «When the Jews greet you, one of them would say, 'As-Sdmu ‘Alayka (death be unto you).' Therefore, say, Wa ‘Alayka (and the same to you).» * Ahmad 4:439 I2 ' Abu Dawud 5 :379 , Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 7 :463 , KashfAl-Astar2 :418 Non-Muslims under Muslim control 141 Fath Al-B&ri 12 :293 and Muslim 4 :1706

In his Sahih, Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, “Do not initiate greeting the Jews and Christians with the Saldm, and when you pass by them on a road, force them to its narrowest pathM Abu Dawud recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah Censuring the Companions for Disagreeing over the Hypocriteswho Returned to Al-Madinah BeforeUhud Allah criticizes the believers for disagreeing over the hypocrites. There are conflicting opinions over the reason behind revealing this Ayah. Imam Ahmad recorded that Zayd bin Thabit said that Messenger of Allah jg marched towards Uhud. However, some people who accompanied him went back to Al-Madinah, and the Companions of the Messenger of Allah #3 divided into two groups concerning them, one saying they should be killed and the other objecting. Allah sent down, iThen what is the matter ivith you that you are divided into tivo parties about the hypocrites?} The Messenger of Allah said, She (Al-Madinah) is Taybah, and she expels filth, just as the billozv expels rust from iron.^ l] The Two Sahihs also recorded this Hadith. [2] Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Ayah was revealed about some people in Makkah who said they embraced Islam, yet they gave their support to the idolators. One time, theses people went out of Makkah to fulfill some needs and said to each other, "If we meet the Companions of Muhammad, there will be no harm for us from their side." When the believers got news that these people went out of Makkah, some of them said, "Let us march to these cowards and kill them, because they support your enemy against you." However, another group from the believers said, "Glory be to Allah! Do you kill a people who say as you have said, just because they did not perform Hijrah or leave their land? Is it allowed to shed their blood and confiscate their money in this case?" So they divided to two groups, while the Messenger jg was with them, and did not prohibit either group from Ahmad 5:184 Fath Al-Bari4:115 and Muslim 2 :1007

This is the saying of As-Suddi, Ibn Zayd and Ibn Jarir. 121 In his Sahih, Al-Bukhari recorded the story of the treaty of Al-Hudaybiyyah, where it was mentioned that whoever liked to have peace with Quraysh and conduct a pact with them, then they were allowed. Those who liked to have peace with Muhammad and his Companions and enter a pact with them were allowed.13 ' It was reported that Ibn 'Abbas said that this Ayah was later abrogated by Allah's statement, y •> >\ iThen when the Sacred Months have passed, kill the idolators wherever you find them}141 Allah said, ior those who approach you with their breasts restraining referring to another type of people covered by the exclusion from fighting. others said that it was revealed about 'Ayyash bin Abi RabTah, Abu Jahl's half brother, from his mother's side, Asma' bint Makhrabah. 'Ayyash killed a man called Al-Harith bin Yazid Al- 'Amiri, out of revenge for torturing him and his brother because of their Islam. That man later embraced Islam and performed Hijrah, but 'Ayyash did not know this fact. On the Day of the Makkan conquest, 'Ayyash saw that man and thought that he was still a disbeliever, so he attacked and killed him. Later, Allah sent down this AyahJ2 ' 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam said that this Ayah was revealed about Abu Ad-Darda' because he killed a man after he embraced the faith, just as Abu Ad-Darda' held the sword above him. When this matter was conveyed to the Messenger of Allah jg, Abu Ad-Darda' said, "He only said that to avert death." The Prophet said to him, «4-li je- C-iLi ^ Fath. Al-Bari 12 :209 and Muslim 3 :1302 At-Tabari 9 :32

Have you opened his heart? The basis for this story is in the Sahih, but it is not about Abu Ad-Darda'. Allah said, and whoever kills a believer by mistake, he must set free a believing slave and submit compensation (blood money) to the deceased's family} thus, ordaining two requirements for murder by mistake. The first requirement is the Kaffarah (fine) for the great sin that has been committed, even if it was a mistake. The Kaffarah is to free a Muslim slave, not a non-Muslim slave. Imam Ahmad recorded that a man from the Ansar said that he brought a slave and said, "O Messenger of Allah! I have to free a believing slave, so if you see that this slave is a believer, I will free her." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ asked her, "Do you testify that there is no deity worthy of worship except Allah?" She said, "Yes." He asked her, "Do you testify that I am the Messenger of Allah?" She said, "Yes." He asked, "Do you believe in Resurrection after death?" She said, "Yes."

The Prophet ﷺ said, "Whoever frees a believing slave, Allah will forgive him." This is an authentic chain of narration, and not knowing the name of the Ansari Companion does not lessen its authenticity. Allah's statement, At-Jabari 9:34 121 Ahmad 3:451 and submit compensation (blood money) to the deceased's family is the second obligation which involves the killer and the family of the deceased, who will receive blood money as compensation for their loss. The compensation is only obligatory for the one who possesses one of five; as Imam Ahmad, and the Sunan compilers recorded from Ibn Mas'ud. He said; "Allah's Messenger determined that the Diyah (blood money) for unintentional murder is twenty camels which entered their fourth year, twenty camels which entered their fifth year, twenty camels which entered their second year, and twenty camels which entered their third year." This is the wording of An-Nasal. This Diyah is required from the elders of the killer's tribe, not from his own money. In the Two Sahih, it is recorded that Abu Hurayrah said, "Two women from Hudhayl quarreled and one of them threw a stone at the other and killed her and her unborn fetus. They disputed before the Messenger of Allah ﷺ and he decided that the Diyah of the fetus should be to free a male or a female slave. He also decided that the Diyah of the deceased is required from the elders of the killer's tribe." This Hadith indicates that in the case of what appears to be intentional murder, the Diyah is the same as that for killing by virtual mistake. The former type requires three types of Diyah, just like intentional murder, because it is somewhat similar to intentional murder. Al-Bukhari recorded in his Sahih that 'Abdullah bin Umar said, "The Messenger of Allah sent Khalid bin Al-Walid to Banu Jadhimah and he called them to Islam, but they did not know how to say, 'We became Muslims.' They started saying, 'Saba'na, Saba'na (we became Sabians). Khalid started killing them, and when this news was conveyed to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ, he raised his hands and said, 'O Allah! I declare my innocence before You of what Khalid did.' An-Nasal no. 4799, Ahmad 1:384, Abu Dawud no. 4545, At-Tirmidhi no. 1386, and Ibn Majah no. 363 121 Fath Al-Bari 12:263 and Muslim 3:1309

it - Sc. iiil ^ iji *2?> 4to seek repentance from Allah. And Allah is Ever All- Knowing, All-Wise .} means, this is how the one who kills by mistake can repent, he fasts two consecutive months if he does not find a slave to free. Warning Against Intentional Murder

After Allah mentioned the ruling of unintentional murder, He mentioned the ruling for intentional murder. Allah said, —ty j— 4And whoever kills a believer intentionally,} This Ayah carries a stern warning and promise for those who commit so grave a sin that it is mentioned along with Shirk in several Ayat of Allah’s Book. For instance, in Surat Al- Furqan, Allah said, % ill p$ tfZ % >r. & 4And those who invoke not any other god along with Allah, nor kill such person as Allah has forbidden, except for just cause}. Allah said, 4Say : "Come, I will recite what your Lord has prohibited you from: Join not anything in worship with Him.} [6:151]. There are many Ayat and Hadiths that prohibit murder. In the Two Sahihs, it is recorded that Ibn Mas’ud said that the Messenger of Allah sg said, iBlood offenses are the first disputes to be judged between the people on the Day ofResurrection .» 111 Path Al-Bari 1 1 :402 and Muslim 3 :1304

In a Hadith that Abu Dawud recorded, ‘Ubadah bin As-Samit states that the Messenger of Allah jg said, us wjUsi liu us p u liii jiji “The believer will remain unburdened in righteousness as long as he does not shed prohibited blood. When he sheds forbidden blood, he will become burdened.»[51 Another Hadith, states, j>-j <«i jit ciji j\jfo “The destruction of this earthly life is less significant before Allah than killing a Muslim man (or woman) .”[2 ' Will the Repentance of those who Commit Intentional Murder, be Accepted? Ibn ‘Abbas held the view that the repentance of one who intentionally murders a believer, will not be accepted. Al- Bukhari recorded that Ibn Jubayr said, “The people of knowledge of Al-Kufah differed on this subject, I traveled to Ibn ‘Abbas to ask him about it. He said, This Ayah, y >\T'r • 4 , rr 4And whoever kills a believer intentionally, his recompense is Hell> was the last revealed [on this subject] and nothing abrogated it.” ’ Muslim ' and An-Nasa'i *S| also recorded it. However, the majority of scholars of the earlier and later generations said that the killer’s repentance can be accepted. If he repents, and goes back to Allah humbly, submissively, and performing righteous deeds, then Allah will change his evil deeds into good deeds and compensate the deceased for his loss by rewarding him for his suffering. Allah said, Abu Dawud no. 4270, Jami'Al-Masanid was-Sunan 7 : 143 Tuhfat Al-Ahwardhi 4 :652 Path Al-Bdri 8 :106 Muslim 4:2318 ISI An-Nasa'i in Al-Kubra 6 :326

}And those who invoke not any other god along with Allah}, until, 4Except those who repent and believe, and do righteous deeds}. The Ayah we just mentioned should not be considered abrogated or only applicable to the disbelievers [who become Muslim], for this contradicts the general, encompassing indications of the Ayah and requires evidence to support it. Allah knows best. Allah said, 4?i' ij~j Oi i>l»—* V I iSay: "O My servants who have transgressed against themselves! Despair not of the mercy ofAllah}. This Ayah is general, covering all types of sins, including Kufr, Shirk, doubt, hypocrisy, murder, sin, and so forth. Therefore, everyone who repents sincerely from any of these errors, then Allah will forgive him. Allah said, a c *X& d #5 -t& l\} 4 Verily, Allah forgives not that partners should be set up with Him (in worship), but Heforgives except that (anything else) to whom He wills}. This Ayah is general and includes eveiy sin except Shirk, and it has been mentioned in this Surah, both after this Ayah and before it, in order to encourage hope in Allah, and Allah knows best. It is confirmed in the Two Sahihs, that an Israeli killed one hundred people then he asked a scholar, “Is it possible for me to repent?” So he replied, “What is there that would prevent you from repentance?” So he told him to go to another land where Allah was worshipped. He began to emigrate to it but died on the way, and the angel of mercy was the one to take him. ' Although this Hadith is about an Israeli, it is even more suitable for the Muslim community that their repentance be accepted. Indeed, Allah relieved Muslims (i) Fath Al-Bari 6 :59 1 and Muslim 4 :2 1 18 from the burdens and restrictions that were placed on the Jews, and He sent our Prophet ﷺ with the easy Hanifiyyah way (Islamic Monotheism). As for the honorable Ayah, — o*if 4And whoever kills a believer intentionally}, Abu Hurayrah and several among the Salaf said that this is his punishment, if Allah decides to punish him. And this is the case with every threat that is issued for every sin. For instance, there could be good deeds that this person has done that would prevent him from being punished for that, and Allah knows best. Even if the murderer inevitably enters the Fire - as Ibn ‘Abbas stated because his repentance was not accepted, or he did not have good deeds to save him, he will not remain there for eternity, but only for a long time. There are Mutawatir Hadiths stating that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, 9^4 1 'j*. v3 tAA ij “Whoever has the least speck of faith in his heart shall ultimately depart the Fire, s' 1 ' 0 -A >j\> % jt j k ££ A Ayclf \it.ji SJJ & 'if if J4 tk pl^= 494. The Prohibition of Residing Among the Disbelievers

While Able to Emigrate Al-Bukhari recorded that Muhammad bin ‘Abdur-Rahman, Abu Al-Aswad, said, “The people of Al-Madinah were forced to prepare an army (to fight against the people of Ash-Sham during the Khilafah of Abdullah bin Az-Zubayir at Makkah), and I was enlisted in it. Then I met ‘Ikrimah, the freed slave of Ibn ‘Abbas, and informed him (about it), and he forbade me strongly from doing so (i.e., to enlist in that army), and then he said to me, Ibn ‘Abbas told me that some Muslims used to go out with the idolators increasing the size of their army against the Messenger of Allah jfe. emigration is for Allah and His Messenger. And whoever emigrated for worldly benefits or for a woman to marry, his emigration is for what he emigrated for. »,1J This Hadith is general, it applies to Hijrah as well as every other deed. In the Two Sahihs, it is recorded that a man killed ninety-nine people and completed the number one hundred when he killed a worshipper. He then asked a scholar if he has a chance to repent. The scholar said, “What prevents you from repentance?” The scholar told the killer to emigrate from his land to another land where Allah is worshipped. When he left his land and started on the migration to the other land, death overtook him on the way. The angels of mercy and the angels of torment disputed about the man, whereas the former said that he went out in repentance, while the latter said that he did not arrive at his destination. They were commanded to measure the distance between the two lands and to whichever land he is closer to, he will be considered part of that land. Allah commanded that the righteous land to move closer and the land of evil to move farther. The angels found that he died closer to the land that he intended to emigrate to by a hand-span, and thus the angels of mercy captured his soul. In another narration, when death came to that man, he moved his chest towards the righteous village that he emigrated to.² i:k.<4&# \tfr kgs k rtf 4101. Verily, Allah has prepared a humiliating torment for the disbelievers.} The Description of The Fear Prayer The Fear prayer has different forms, for the enemy is sometimes in the direction of the Qiblah and sometimes in another direction. The Fear prayer consists sometimes of four Rak'ahs, three Rak'ahs, as for Maghrib, and sometimes two Rak'ah like Fajr and prayer during travel. The Fear prayer is sometimes prayed in congregation, but when the battle is raging, congregational prayer may not be possible. In this case, they pray each by himself, facing the Qiblah or otherwise, riding or on foot. In this situation, they are allowed to walk and fight, all the while performing the acts of the prayer. Some scholars said that in the latter case, they pray only one Rak'ah, for Ibn 'Abbas narrated, “By the words of your Prophet si, Allah has ordained the prayer of four Rak'ah while residing, two Rak'ah during travel, and one Rak'ah during fear.” Muslim, Abu Dawud, An-Nasa'i and Ibn Majah recorded it. 111 This is also the view of Ahmad bin Hanbal. Al-Mundhiri said, “This is the saying of 'Ata', Jabir, Al-Hasan, Mujahid, Al- Hakam, Qatadah and Hammad; and Tawus and Ad-Dahhak also preferred it.” Abu 'Asim Al-'Abadi mentioned that Muhammad bin Nasr Al-Marwazi said the Fajr prayer also becomes one Rak'ah during fear. This is also the opinion of Ibn Hazm. Ishaq bin Rahwayh said, “When a battle is raging, one Rak'ah during which you nod your head is sufficient for you. If you are unable, then one prostration is sufficient, because the prostration is remembrance of Allah.”

The Reason behind Revealing this Ayah

[Tafsir Ibn Kathir (Abridged), Darussalam English Edition, PDF pp. 1263–1292]

Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu 'Ayyash Az-Zuraqi said, "We were with the Messenger of Allah ﷺ in the area of Tjfsan (a 111 Muslim: 687, Abu Dawud: 1247, An-Nasal 3 : 169 and Ibn Majah:

well known place near Makkah), when the idolators met us under the command of Khalid bin Al-Walid, and they were between us and the Qiblah. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ led us in Zuhrah prayer, and the idolators said, 'They were busy with something during which we had a chance to attack them.' They then said, 'Next, there will come a prayer ('Asr) that is dearer to them than their children and themselves.' However, Jibril came down with these Ayat between the prayers of Zuhrah and 'Asr, ji+J o-jti vLJT iWhen you (O Messenger Muhammad ﷺ) are among them, and lead them in Saldh (prayer)}. When the time for prayer came, the Messenger of Allah ﷺ commanded Muslims to hold their weapons and he made us stand in two lines behind him. When he bowed, we all bowed behind him. When he raised his head, we all raised our heads. The Prophet ﷺ then prostrated with the line that was behind him while the rest stood in guard. When they finished with the prostration and stood up, the rest sat and performed prostration, while those who performed it stood up in guard after the two lines exchanged position. The Prophet ﷺ then bowed and they all bowed after him, then raised their heads after he raised his head. Then the Prophet ﷺ performed prostration with the line that was behind him, while the rest stood in guard. When those who made prostration sat, the rest prostrated. The Prophet ﷺ then performed the Taslim and ended the prayer. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed this prayer twice, once in Tjfsan and once in the land of Banu Sulaym."111 This is the narration recorded by Abu Dawud and An-Nasa'i, * and it has an authentic chain of narration and many other texts to support it. Al-Bukhari recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Once the Prophet ﷺ led the Fear prayer and the people stood behind him. He said Allahu-Akbar and the people said the same. He bowed and some of them bowed. Then he prostrated and they also prostrated. Then he stood for the second Rak'ah and those who 111 Ahmad 4:59-60 '2| Abu Dawud 2 :28 and An-Nasal 3 :176-177

569 Surah 4. An-Nisr' (Part-5) had prayed the first Rak'ah left and guarded their brothers. The second party joined him and performed bowing and prostration with him. All the people were in prayer, but they were guarding one another during the prayer."111 Imam Ahmad recorded that Jabir bin 'Abdullah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ led them in the Fear prayer. A group of them stood before him and a group behind him. The Prophet ﷺ led those who were behind him with one Rak'ah and two prostrations. They then moved to the position of those who did not pray, while the others stood in their place, and the Messenger of Allah ﷺ performed one Rak'ah and two prostrations and then said the Salam. Therefore, the Prophet ﷺ prayed two Rak'ah while they prayed one . An-Nasa'i recorded this Hadith, while Muslim collected other wordings for it. Collectors of the Sahih, Sunan and Musnad collections recorded this in a Hadith from Jabir. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Salim said that his father said, iWhen you (O Messenger Muhammad ﷺ) are among them, and lead them in Saldh (prayer)} refers to the Fear prayer. The Messenger of Allah ﷺ led one group and prayed one Rak'ah, while the second group faced the enemy. Then the second group that faced the enemy came and Allah's Messenger ﷺ led them, praying one Rak'ah, and then said the Salam. Each of the two groups then stood up and prayed one more Rak'ah each (while the other group stood in guard). "•3| The Group collected this Hadith with Ma'mar in its chain of narrators. This Hadith also has many other chains of narration from several Companions, and Al-Hafiz Abu Bakr Ibn Marduyah collected these various narrations, as did Ibn Jarir. As for the command to hold the weapons during the Fear prayer, a group of scholars said that it is obligatory according to the Ayah. What testifies to this is that Allah said; 111 Fath At-Bari 2 :502 ^ Ahmad 3 :298 , An-Nasal 3 : 174 and Muslim : 840 Ad-DurrAl-Manthur2 :375

'>- it will not be in accordance with your desires, nor those of the People of the Scripture, whosoever works evil, will have the recompense thereof} .",1) This Ayah indicates that the religion is not accepted on account of wishful thinking or mere hopes. Rather, the accepted religion relies on what resides in the heart and which is made truthful through actions. It is not true that when one utters a claim to something, he attains it merely on account of his claim. It is not true that every person who claims to be on the truth is considered as such, merely on account of his words, until his claim gains merit with proof from Allah. Hence Allah's statement, '> it will not be in accordance with your desires, nor those of the People of the Scripture, whosoever works evil, will have the recompense thereof}, meaning safety will not be acquired by you or them just by wishful thinking. Rather, the key is in obeying Allah and following what He has legislated through the words of His honorable Messengers. This is why Allah said afterwards, iwhosoever works evil, will have the recompense thereof, > Similarly, Allah said, »J> A JI_M v tjA fc*- jUu J^j} iSo whosoever does good equal to the weight of an atom, shall see it. Allah then said, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {And whoever does righteous good deeds, male or female, and is a believer}. Allah mentions the recompense for evil actions and that He will surely inflict its punishment on the servant, either in this life, which is better for him, or in the Hereafter, we seek refuge with Allah from this end. We also beg Allah for our well-being in this life and the Hereafter and for His forgiveness, mercy and pardon. Allah then mentions His kindness, generosity and mercy in accepting the good deeds from His servants, whether male or female, with the condition that they embrace the faith. He also stated that He will admit the believers into Paradise and will not withhold any of their righteous deeds, even the weight of a Naqir - speck on the back of a date-stone. Earlier, we discussed the FatH - the scaly thread in the long slit of a date-stone, and both of these, along with the Qitmir - the thin membrane over the date-stone were mentioned in the Qur’an. Allah then said, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {And who can be better in religion than one who submits his face to Allah.} meaning, performs the good actions in sincerity for his Lord with faith and awaiting the reward with Allah, and he is a Muhsin} following the correct guidance that Allah legislated in the religion of truth which He sent His Messenger with. These are the two conditions, in the absence of which no deed will be accepted from anyone; sincerity and correctness. The work is sincere when it is performed for Allah alone and it becomes correct when it conforms to the Shar’ah. So, the m At-Tabari 9 :239

deed becomes outwardly correct with following the Sunnah and inwardly correct with sincerity. When any deed lacks either of these two conditions, the deed becomes null and void. For instance, when one lacks the pillar of sincerity in his work, he becomes a hypocrite who shows off for people. Whoever does not follow the Shari’ah, he becomes an ignorant, wicked person. When one combines both pillars, his actions will be the deeds of the faithful believers whose best deeds are accepted from them and their errors erased. Consequently, Allah said, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {And follows the religion of Ibrahim the Hanif (Monotheist).} referring to Muhammad and his following, until the Day of Resurrection. Allah said, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {Verily, among mankind who have the best claim to Ibrahim are those who followed him, and this Prophet}, and, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {Then, We have sent the Revelation to you (saying): "Follow the religion of Ibrahim the Hanif (Monotheist) and he was not of the Mushrikin}. The Hanif, intentionally and with knowledge, avoids Shirk, he goes attentively to the truth, allowing no one to hinder him or stop him from it. Ibrahim is Allah’s Khalil Allah’s statement, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {And Allah did take Ibrahim as a Khalil (an intimate friend)!} encourages following Ibrahim Al-Khalil, because he was and still is an Imam whose conduct is followed and imitated. Indeed, Ibrahim reached the ultimate closeness to Allah that the servants seek, for he attained the grade of Khalil, which is the highest grade of love. He acquired all this due to his obedience to His Lord, just as Allah has described him, Leftist {And of Ibrahim, the one who fulfilled}, {And (remember) when the Lord of Ibrahim tried him with (certain) commands, which he fulfilled}, and, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {Verily, Ibrahim was an Ummah, obedient to Allah, a Hanif, and he was not one of the Mushrikin}. Al-Bukhari recorded that ‘Amr bin Maymun said that when Mu’adh came back from Yemen, he led them in the Fajr prayer and recited, وَمَنْ يَفْعَلْ ذَلِكَ يَنْتَظِرْ لِقَاءِ رَبِّهِ {And Allah did take Ibrahim as a Khalil!} One of the men present commented, “Surely, the eye of Ibrahim’s mother has been comforted.”* 11 Ibrahim was called Allah’s Khalil due to his Lord’s great love towards him, on account of the acts of obedience he performed that Allah loves and prefers. We should mention here that in the Two Sahls, it is recorded that Abu Sa’id Al-Khudri said that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ gave them his last speech, he said, *«O people! If I were to take a Khalil from the people of the earth, I would have taken Abu Bakr bin Abi Quhdjhah as my Khalil. 597Surah 4. An-Nisa (Part-5) forbidden to marry their orphan girls possessing property and beauty without being just to them, as they generally refrain from marrying them (when they are neither beautiful nor wealthy). ”• 11 The basis of this is recorded in Two Sahihs. Consequently, when a man is the caretaker of a female orphan, he might like to marry her himself. In this case, Allah commands him to give her a suitable dowry that other women of her status get. If he does not want to do that, then let him marry other women, for Allah has made this matter easy for Muslims. Sometimes, the caretaker does not desire to marry the orphan under his care, because she is not attractive to his eye. In this case, Allah forbids the caretaker from preventing the female orphan from marrying another man for fear that her husband would share in the money that is mutually shared between the caretaker and the girl. ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “During the time of Jahiliyyah, the caretaker of a female orphan would cover her with his rope, and when he did that, no man would marry her. If she was beautiful and he desired to marry her, he married her and took control of her wealth. If she was not beautiful, he did not allow her to marry until she died, and when she died he inherited her money. Allah prohibited and outlawed this practice.”² He also said about Allah’s statement, and the children who are weak and oppressed that during the time of Jahiliyyah, they used to deny young children and females a share of inheritance. So Allah’s statement, you give not what they deserve thus prohibiting this practice and designating a fixed share for each, Fath Al-Bari 9 :6 and Muslim 4:2313 At-Tabari 9 : 264

In the first case, when the wife fears that her husband is steering away from her or deserting her, she is allowed to forfeit all or part of her rights, such as provisions, clothing, dwelling, and so forth, and the husband is allowed to accept such concessions from her. Hence, there is no harm if she offers such concessions, and if her husband accepts them. For instance, the Prophet jfe kept Sawdah bint Zam'ah as his wife after she offered to forfeit her day for ‘A’ishah. By keeping her among his wives, his Ummah may follow this kind of settlement. "Whoever wants to be heard of, Allah will make him heard of, and whoever wants to be seen, Allah will show him." *111 Allah's statement, (And when they stand up for Salath, they stand with laziness}. This is the characteristic of the hypocrites with the most honored, best and righteous act of worship, the prayer. When they stand for prayer, they stand in laziness because they neither truly intend to perform it nor do they believe in it, have humility in it, or understand it. This is the description of their outward attitude! As for their hearts, Allah said, (The intention of men) meaning, they do not have sincerity when worshipping Allah. Rather, they show off to people so that they gain closeness to them. They are often absent from the prayers that they can hide away from, such as the 'Isha' prayer and the Dawn prayer that are prayed in darkness. In the Two Sahih, it is recorded that the Messenger of Allah said, (The heaviest prayers on the hypocrites are the 'Isha' and Dawn prayers. If they know their rewards, they will attend them even if they have to crawl. I was about to order someone to pronounce the Adhan for the prayer, then order someone to lead the prayer for the people, that order some men to collect fire-wood (fuel) ; then I would burn the houses around men who did not attend the (compulsory congregational) prayer.]2] In another narration, the Prophet (ﷺ) said, (Whoever does not attend the (compulsory congregational) prayer, I will burn his house around him.) 111 Fath Al-Bari 11:343 121 Fath Al-Bari 2 :53 and Muslim 1 :451

(By Him, in Whose Hand my soul is, if anyone of them had known that he would get a bone covered with good meat or two (small) pieces of meat between two ribs, he would have turned up for the prayer, and had it not been that the houses have women and children in them, I would burn their homes around them. Allah's statement, (And they do not remember Allah but little) means, during the prayer they do not feel humbleness or pay attention to what they are reciting. Rather, during their prayer, they are inattentive, jesting and avoid the good that they are meant to receive from prayer. Imam Malik reported that Al-'Ala' bin 'Abdur-Rahman said that Anas bin Malik said that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, (This is the prayer of the hypocrite, this is the prayer of the hypocrite, this is the prayer of the hypocrite. He sits watching the sun until when it goes down between the two horns of the devil, he stands up pecks out four Rak'ahs (for 'Asr) without remembering Allah during them except little.)2] Muslim, At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasa'i also recorded it. means that the hypocrites are swaying between faith and disbelief. So they are neither with believers inwardly or outwardly nor with disbelievers inwardly or outwardly. Rather, they are with the believers outwardly and with the disbelievers inwardly. Some of them would suffer fits of doubt, leaning towards these sometimes and towards those sometimes, (Whenever it flashes for them, they walk Mujahid said; {(They are) staying between this and that, belonging neither to these “The Companions of Muhammad jfc;, Jt^ {nor to those}: the Jews.” Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn Umar said that the Prophet jte, said, aThe example of the hypocrite is the example of the sheep wandering between two herds, sometimes she goes to one of them, and sometimes the other, confused over whom she should followv.» [1] Muslim also recorded it. 12’ This is why Allah said afterwards, Ji J*j} {and he whom Allah sends astray, you will not find for him a way.} meaning, whomever He leads astray from the guidance, ’A If J>} {For him you will find no Wali (guiding friend) to lead him (to 111 At-Tabari 9 :333 Muslim 4:2146

Important Guidelines About the Authenticity of the Reports and Quotations in the Tafsir of Ibn Kathir Reports from the Companions of the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) that are attributed to the companions of Allah's Messenger (ﷺ) are commonly used for additional explanation of the meanings of the Qur'an. As for those quotes that Ibn Kathir mentions in passing, these quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as an evidence against what is known to be authentic. Additional information in this regard is found in the Introduction of Ibn Kathir. Incomplete Chains of Narration The following is a list of common incomplete chains of narrations that Al-Hafiz Ibn Kathir often quotes. - 'Ali bin Abi Talhah (Al-Walibi) reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - ('Atiyah) Al-'Awfi reported that Ibn 'Abbas said... - Ad-Dahhak from Ibn 'Abbas. - As-Suddi reported from Abu Malik and Abu Salih from Ibn 'Abbas, Ibn Mas'ud and (or) some men among the companions. - Al-Hasan Al-Basri reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). - Az-Zuhri [Muhammad bin Shihab] reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). - 'Urwah bin Az-Zubayr reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). - 'Ikrimah reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). - Qatadah reporting from or about the Prophet (ﷺ). All narrations coming from these chains are unauthentic according to the Sciences of Hadith. Their meanings, however, may be correct as understood by authentic texts, and for this reason they are commonly referenced.

Reports from the Followers of the Companions and those who Follow them The following is a list of those who did not see the Prophet (ﷺ), but they report from companions of the Prophet (ﷺ), while often they themselves are quoted for Tafsir. Reports that are attributed to them are used as additional support in understanding certain issues by Ibn Kathir. Such quotes may, or may not be authentically attributed to them. Wherever it is mentioned that one of them said something, and that statement contradicts other clearly authentic texts, then such statements can not be held as evidence against the authentic evidence. Abu Al-'Aliyah, Said bin Jubayr, Said bin Al-Musayib, 'Ata' (bin Abi Rabah), 'Ata' Al-Khurrasani, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Ar-Rab' bin Anas, Ash-Sha'tibi, Qatadah, Mujahid, 'Ikrimah, Ad-Dahhak, 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam (Ibn Zayd), Ibn Jurayj. Other Scholars After the Companions The following are some scholars that Ibn Kathir often quotes from. Since these scholars are not well known to the average English reader, one should beware that their own statements about the Prophet (ﷺ), his companions, or circumstances surrounding the Qur'an's revelation, are not to be considered as important as authentically narrated texts. Wak'at, Sufyan Ath-Thawri, Muhammad bin Ishaq, Ibn 'Atiyah, Ibn Abi Hatim, Ibn Jarir (At-Tabari).

And those who believe in Allah and His Messengers and make no distinction between any of them (Messengers), We shall give them their rewards; and Allah is Ever Forgiving, Most Merciful .} Believing in Some Prophets and Rejecting Others is Pure Kufr Allah threatens those who disbelieve in Him and in His Messengers, such as the Jews and Christians, who differentiate between Allah and His Messengers regarding faith. They believe in some Prophets and reject others, following their desires, lusts and the practices of their forefathers. They do not follow any proof for such distinction, because there is no such proof. Rather, they follow their lusts and prejudices. I 1 * Muslim 4 :2001 .

The Jews, may Allah curse them, believe in the Prophets, except 'Isa and Muhammad, peace be upon them. The Christians believe in the Prophets but reject their Final and Seal, and the most honored among the prophets, Muhammad, peace be upon him. In addition, the Samirah (Samaritans) do not believe in any Prophet after Yuwsha' (Joshua), the successor of Mtisa bin "Imran. The Majus (Zoroastrians) are said to believe only in a Prophet called Zoroaster, although they do not believe in the law he brought them casting it behind them, and Allah knows best. Therefore, whoever rejects only one of Allah's Prophets, he will have disbelieved in all of them, because it is required from mankind to believe in every prophet whom Allah sent to the people of the earth. And whoever rejects one Prophet, out of envy, bias and personal whim, he only demonstrates that his faith in other Prophets is not valid, but an act of following desire and whim. This is why Allah said, iVerily, those who disbelieve in Allah and His Messengers... Thus, Allah describes these people as disbelievers in Allah and His Messengers; iand wish to make distinction between Allah and His Messengers} in faith, > •/. cyty isaying, "We believe in some but reject others," and wish to adopt a way in between .} Allah then describes them; iThey are in truth disbelievers.} meaning, their disbelief in the Prophet they claim to believe in is clear. This is because their claimed faith in a certain Messenger is not true, for had they truly believed in him, they would have believed in other Messengers, especially if the other Messenger has a stronger proof for his truthfulness. Or 19Surah 4. An-Nisa' (150 - 151) (Part-6) at least, they would have strived hard to acquire knowledge of the truth of the other Messenger. Allah said, iAttd We have prepared for the disbelievers a humiliating torment.} This is just punishment for belittling the Prophets whom they disbelieved in, by ignoring what the Prophet brought to them from Allah, and because they are interested in the insignificant possessions of this world. Or, their behavior could be the result of their disbelief in the Prophet after they were aware of his truth, just as the Jewish rabbis did during the time of Muhammad, the Messenger of Allah jg. The Jews envied the Messenger because of the great prophethood that Allah gave him, and as a consequence, they denied the Messenger, defied him, became his enemies and fought against him. The Evil Accusation the Jews Uttered Against Maryam and Their Claim that They Killed 'Isa Allah said, iAnd because of their (Jews) disbelief and uttering against Maryam a grave false charge.} 'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas stated that the Jews accused Maryam of fornication.' ' This is also the saying of As- Suddi, Juwaybir, Muhammad bin Ishaq and several others. |2 ' This meaning is also apparent in the Ayah, as the Jews accused Maryam and her son of grave accusations: They accused her of fornication and claimed that 'Isa was an illegitimate son. Some of them even claimed that she was menstruating while fornicating. May Allah's continued curse be upon them until the Day of Resurrection. The Jews also said. 111 At-Tabari 9:367. ' At-Tabari 9 :367

4"We killed Al-Masih, 'isa, son of Maryam, the Messenger of Allah,"} meaning, we killed the person who claimed to be the Messenger of Allah. The Jews only uttered these words in jest and mockery, just as the polytheists said, iO you to whom the Dhikr (the Qur'an) has been sent down! Verily, you are a mad man!} When Allah sent Isa with proofs and guidance, the Jews, may Allah's curses, anger, torment and punishment be upon them, envied him because of his prophethood and obvious miracles; curing the blind and leprous and bringing the dead back to life, by Allah's leave. He also used to make the shape of a bird from clay and blow in it, and it became a bird by Allah's leave and flew. Isa performed other miracles that Allah honored him with, yet the Jews defied and belied him and tried their best to harm him. Allah's Prophet Isa could not live in any one city for long and he had to travel often with his mother, peace be upon them. Even so, the Jews were not satisfied, and they went to the king of Damascus at that time, a Greek polytheist who worshipped the stars. They told him that there was a man in Bayt Al-Maqdis misguiding and dividing the people in Jerusalem and stirring unrest among the king's subjects. The king became angry and wrote to his deputy in Jerusalem to arrest the rebel leader, stop him from causing unrest, crucify him and make him wear a crown of thorns. When the king's deputy in Jerusalem received these orders, he went with some Jews to the house that Isa was residing in, and he was then with twelve, thirteen or seventeen of his companions. That day was a Friday, in the evening. They surrounded Isa in the house, and when he felt that they would soon enter the house or that he would sooner or later have to leave it, he said to his companions, "Who volunteers to be made to look like me, for which he will be my companion in Paradise?" A young man volunteered, but Isa thought that he was too young. He asked the question a second and third time, each time the young man volunteering, prompting Isa to say, "Well then, you will be that man." Allah made the young man look exactly like Isa, while a hole opened in the roof of the house, and Isa was made to sleep and ascended to heaven while asleep. Allah said, it),\ J^ iAnd (remember) when Allah said: "O 'Isa! I will take you and raise you to Myself."} When Isa ascended, those who were in the house came out. When those surrounding the house saw the man who looked like Isa, they thought that he was Isa. So they took him at night, crucified him and placed a crown of thorns on his head. The Jews then boasted that they killed 'Isa and some Christians accepted their false claim, due to their ignorance and lack of reason. As for those who were in the house with Isa, they witnessed his ascension to heaven, while the rest thought that the Jews killed Isa by crucifixion. They even said that Maiyam sat under the corpse of the crucified man and cried, and they say that the dead man spoke to her. All this was a test from Allah for His servants out of His wisdom. Allah explained this matter in the Glorious Qur'an which He sent to His honorable Messenger, whom He supported with miracles and clear, unequivocal evidence. Allah is the Most Truthful, and He is the Lord of the worlds Who knows the secrets, what the hearts conceal, the hidden matters in heaven and earth, what has occurred, what will occur, and what would occur if it was decreed. Indeed, Allah’s is the clearest wisdom, unequivocal proof and the most glorious authority. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Just before Allah raised Isa to the heavens, Isa went to his companions, who were twelve inside the house. When he arrived, his hair was dripping water and he said, There are those among you who will disbelieve in me twelve times after he had believed in me.’ He then asked, Who volunteers that his image appear as mine, and be killed in my place. He will be with me (in Paradise)?’ One of the youngest ones among them volunteered and Isa asked him to sit down. Isa again asked for a volunteer, and the young man kept volunteering and Isa asking him to sit down. Then the young man volunteered again and Isa said, *You will be that man,’ and the resemblance of Isa was cast over that man while Isa ascended to heaven from a hole in the house. When the Jews came looking for Isa, they found that young man and crucified him. Some of Isa’s followers disbelieved in him twelve times after they had believed in him. They then divided into three groups. One group, Al-Ya‘qQbiyyah (Jacobites), said, ‘Allah remained with us as long as He willed and then ascended to heaven.’ Another group, An-Nasturiyyah (Nestorians), said, The son of Allah was with us as long as he willed and Allah took him to heaven.’ Another group, Muslims, said, The servant and Messenger of Allah remained with us as long as Allah willed, and Allah then took him to Him.’ The two disbelieving groups cooperated against the Muslim group and they killed them. Ever since that happened, Islam was then veiled until Allah sent Muhammad jg.” ’ This statement has an authentic chain of narration leading to Ibn ‘Abbas, and An-Nasal narrated it through Abu Kurayb who reported it from Abu Mu'awiyah.*2 Many among the Salaf stated that Isa asked if someone would volunteer for his appearance to be cast over him, and that he will be killed instead of ‘Isa, for which he would be his companion in Paradise. Abu Hurayrah then said, "Read if you will, $\frac{1}{3}$ of the People of the Scripture, but must believe in him, before his death. And on the Day of Resurrection, he will be a witness against them."™ Muslim recorded this Hadith. [3] So, Allah's statement, 'before his death' refers to the death of Isa, son of Maryam. Another Hadith by Abu Hurayrah Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, 'I will say Allahu Akbar from the mountain highway of Ar-Rawha' for Hajj, 'Umrah or both.'^ Muslim also recorded it. [e] Ahmad recorded that Abu A tax taken from non-Muslims, who are under the protection of the Muslim government. Fath Al-Bari 6:566. Muslim 1 :135 , and refer to Fath Al-Bari 5 :44 and 4:483 "Loud calling", as a Muhrim has to recite Talbiyah aloud when assuming the state of Ihram. [5 | Al-Jam'at 2:513. Ar-Rawha' is on route between Makkah and Al-Madinah, [e] Muslim 1 :135.

Hurayrah said that the Prophet said, 'Isa, son of Maryam, will descend and will kill the pig, break the cross, lead the prayer in congregation and give away wealth until it is no longer accepted by anyone. He will also abolish the Jizyah and go to Ar-Rawlid' from where he will go to perform Hajj, 'Umrah or both. Abu Hurayrah then recited, 'And there is none of the People of the Scripture, but must believe in him, before his death.' Hanzalah said, "Abu Hurayrah added, 'Will believe in Isa before Isa dies,' but I do not know if this was a part of the Prophet's Hadith or if it was something that Abu Hurayrah said on his own."! Ibn Abi Hatim also recorded this Hadith. Another Hadith Al-Bukhari recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, 'How will you be when Al-Masih, son of Maryam ('Isa) descends among you while your Imam is from among yourselves?' 21 Imam Ahmad 31 and Muslim also recorded this Hadith. Another Hadith Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Prophet ﷺ said, 'Ahmad 2 :290. ' Fath Al-Bari 6 :566 131 Ahmad 2:272 and Muslim 1 :136-137.

The Prophets are paternal brothers; their mothers are different, but their religion is one. I, more than any of mankind, have more right to 'Isa, son of Maryam, for there was no Prophet between him and I. He will descend, and if you see him, know him. He is a well-built man, (the color of his skin) between red and white. He will descend while wearing two long, light yellow garments. His head appears to be dripping water, even though no moisture touched it. He will break the cross, kill the pig, and banish the Jizyah and will call the people to Islam. During his time, Allah will destroy all religions except Islam and Allah will destroy Al-Masih Ad-Dajjal (the False Messiah). Safety will then fill the earth, so much so that the lions will mingle with camels, tigers with cattle and wolves with sheep. Children will play with snakes, and they will not harm them. 'Isa will remain for forty years and then will die, and Muslims will offer the funeral prayer for him.* Abu Dawud also recorded it. Another Hadith In his Sahih, Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah related to the Messenger of Allah ﷺ that he said, 'Cyrrus will be the first to believe in him.' 34 Muslim 4:433, Ahmad 2 :406, Abu Dawud: 4324, At-Jabari 9 :388.

Shortly afterwards, while this is happening with 'Isa, Allah will reveal to him, 7 raised a people of My creation that no one can fight. Therefore, gather My servants to At-Tur (the mountain of Musa in Sinai).' Then, Allah will raise Gog and Magog and they will swiftly swarm from every mound. Their front forces will reach Lake Tabariah (Sea of Galilee) and will drink all its water. The last of their forces will say as they pass by the lake, 'This lake once had water!' Meanwhile, 'Isa, Allah's Prophet, will be cornered along with his companions until the head of a bull will be more precious to them than a hundred Dinars to you today. 'Isa, Allah's Prophet, and his companions will invoke Allah for help and Allah will send An-Naghaf (a worm) into the necks of Gog and Magog! Meanwhile, Allah will send a pure wind that will overcome Muslims from under their arms and will take the soul of every believer and Muslim . Only the evildoers among people will remain. They will indulge in shameless public sex like that of donkeys. On them, the Hour will begin. 11 ^ Imam Ahmad and the collectors of the Sunan also recorded this Hadith. ,2' We will mention this Hadith again using the chain of narration collected by Ahmad explaining Allah's statement in Surat Al-Anbiy (chapter 21), iUntil, when Ya'juj and Ma'juj (Gog and Magog people) are let loose (from their barrier).} In our time, in the year seven hundred and forty-one, a white minaret was built in the Umayyad Masjid (in Damascus) made of stone, in place of the minaret that was destroyed by a fire which the Christians were suspected to have started. May Allah's continued curses descend on the Christians until the Day of Resurrection. There is a strong feeling that this minaret is the one that Isa will descend on, according to this Hadith. The Meaning of “His Word and a spirit from Him”

‘Abdur-Razzaq narrated that Ma'mar said that Qatadah said that the Ayah, 'And His Word, which He bestowed on Maryam and a spirit from [created by] Him;’ means, He said, and he was. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ahmad bin Sinan Al-Wasiti said that he heard Shadh bin Yahya saying about Allah’s statement, 'And His Word, which He bestowed on Maryam and a spirit from [created by] Him;’ “Isa was not the word. Rather, ‘Isa came to existence because of the word.”², Al-Bukhari recorded that Qatadah bin As-Samit said that the Prophet said, 'If anyone testifies that none has the right to be worshipped but Allah Alone Who has no partners, and that Muhammad is His servant and Messenger, and that ‘Isa is Allah's servant and Messenger and His Word which He bestowed on Maryam and a spirit created by Him, and that Paradise is true and Hell is true, then Allah will admit him into Paradise with the deeds which he performed .»[31 In another narration, the Prophet said, '...through any of the eight doors of Paradise he wishes .» Muslim¹ also recorded it. Therefore, ‘Ruh from Allah’, in the Ayah and the Hadith is similar to Allah’s statement. 'And has subjected to you all that is in the heavens and all that is on the earth and all that is between them and the creatures therein and He is the Most Gracious the Most Merciful.’¹¹¹ ‘Abdur-Razzaq 1:177. Allah said, 'This is the she-camel of Allah...’ and, 'and sanctify My House for those who circumambulate it.’ An authentic Hadith states, 'I will enter on my Lord in His Horned All these examples are meant to honor such items when they are attributed to Allah in this manner. And (remember) when Allah will say (on the Day of Resurrection): "O son of Maryam! Did you say unto men : 'Worship me'?" and in its beginning, 'I am the Messiah, son of Maryam.) The Christians, may Allah curse them, have no limit to their disbelief because of their ignorance, so their deviant statements and their misguidance grows. Some of them believe that Isa is Allah, some believe that he is one in a trinity and some believe that he is the son of Allah. Their beliefs and creeds are numerous and contradict each other, prompting some people to say that if ten Christians meet, they would end up with eleven sects! The Christian Sects Said bin

Batriq, the Patriarch of Alexandria and a famous Christian scholar, mentioned in the year four hundred after the Hijrah, that a Christian Council convened during the reign of Constantine, who built the city that bears his name. In this Council, the Christians came up with what they called the Great Trust, which in reality is the Great Treachery. There were more than two thousand patriarchs in this Council, and they were in such disarray that they divided into many sects, where some sects had twenty, fifty or a hundred members, etc.! When the king saw that there were more than three hundred Patriarchs who had the same idea, he agreed with them and adopted their creed. Constantine who was a deviant philosopher - gave his support to this sect for which, as an honor, churches were built and doctrines were taught to young children, who were baptized on this creed, and books were written about it. Meanwhile, the king oppressed all other sects. Another Council produced the sect known as the Jacobites, while the Nestorians were formed in a third Council. These three sects agreed that 'Isa was divine, but disputed regarding the manner in which Isa's divinity was related to his

<{Whatsoever is on it (the earth) will perish. And the Face of your Lord full of majesty and honor will remain forever.} Allah said here, ^leaving no child,} referring to the person who has neither children, nor parents. What testifies to this, is that Allah said afterwards, C+li JLi-1 iLeaving a sister, she shall have half the inheritance.} Had there been a surviving ascendant, the sister would not have inherited anything, and there is a consensus on this point. Therefore, this Ayah is referring to the man who dies leaving behind neither descendants nor ascendants, as is apparent for those who contemplate its meaning. This is because when there is a surviving parent, the sister does not inherit anything, let alone half of the inheritance. Ibn Jarir and others mentioned that Ibn ‘Abbas and Ibn Az- Zubayr used to judge that if a person dies and leaves behind a daughter and a sister, the sister does not inherit anything. They would recite, &JUa lilx% %£& Ifctf o\} ilf it is a man that dies, leaving a sister, but no child, she shall have half the inheritance.} They said that if one leaves behind a daughter, then he has left behind a child. Therefore the sister does not get anything. The majority of scholars disagreed with them, saying the daughter gets one half and the sister the other half, relying on other evidence. This Ayah (4:176 above) gives the sister half of the inheritance in the case that it specifies. As for giving the sister half in other cases, Al-Bukhari recorded that Sulayman said that Ibrahim reported to Al-Aswad that he said, “During the time of the Messenger of Allah Mu'adh bin Jabal gave a judgment that the daughter gets one half and the sister the other half.” ' Al-Bukhari recorded that Huzayl bin Shurahbll m Al-Bukhari : 6741

68 Tafcir Ibn Katfur said, “Abu Musa Al-Ash‘ari was asked about the case when there was a daughter, grand-daughter and sister to inherit. He said, The daughter gets one-half and the sister one-half.’ Go and ask Ibn Mas‘ud, although I think he is going to agree with me.’ So Ibn Mas‘ud was asked and was told about Abu Musa’s answer, and Ibn Mas‘ud commented, I would have deviated then and would not have become among those who are rightly guided. I will give a judgment similar to the judgment given by the Prophet jg. The daughter gets one-half, the grand-daughter gets one-sixth, and these two shares will add up to two-thirds. Whatever is left will be for the sister.’ We went back to Abu Musa and conveyed to him Ibn Mas‘ud’s answer and he said, *Do not ask me (for legal verdicts) as long as this scholar is still among you.”111 Allah then said, ds a j? fi 4uu 4 . . . and he will be her heir if she has no children.} This Ayah means, the brother inherits all of that his sister leaves behind if she has no surviving offspring or parents. If she has a surviving parent, her brother would not inherit anything. If there is someone who gets a fixed share in the inheritance, such as a husband or half brother from the mother’s side, they take their share and the rest goes to the brother. It is recorded in the Two Sahihs that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, ajSi jJ-j I iGive the Fardi'd to its people, and whatever is left is the share of the nearest male relative Allah said, i'i'j 6 j&t os£3 ar 4} iff there are two sisters, they shall have two-thirds of the inheritance;} meaning, if the person who dies in Kalalah has two sisters, they get two-thirds of the inheritance. The chain of narration for this story is authentic. Al-Hakim, Abu 'Abdullah An-Naysaburi recorded that 'Umar bin Al- Khattab said, *Had I asked the Messenger of Allah jg regarding three things, it would have been better for me than red camels. (They are:) who should be the Khallfah after him; about a people who said, *We agree to pay Zakdh, but not to you (meaning to the Khallfah),' if we are allowed to fight them; and about the Kalalah." Al-Hakim said, "Its chain is Sahth according to the Two Shaykhs, and they did not recorded it." Ibn Jarir also said that it was reported that 'Umar said, "I feel shy to change a ruling that Abu Bakr issued. Abu Bakr used to say that the Kalalah is the person who has no descendants or ascendants."*2 * Abu Bakr's saying is what the majority of scholars among the Companions, their followers and the earlier and later Imams agree with. This is also the ruling that the Qur'an indicates. For Allah stated that He has explained and made plain the ruling of the Kalalah, when He said, % fJLja J p&oj& i(Thus) does Allah makes clear to you (His Law) lest you go astray. And Allah is the All-Knower of everything And Allah knows best. 111 Al-HSkim 2:304. At-Tabari 9:437.

' There is a Hadith to the same effect collected in the Sunan of Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah and narrated by Abu Said who said, “We asked, ‘O Messenger of Allah! The Animals that are Unlawful to Eat Allah informs His servants that He forbids consuming the mentioned types of foods, such as the Maytah, which is the animal that dies before being properly slaughtered or hunted. Allah forbids this type of food due to the harm it causes, because of the blood that becomes clogged in the veins of the dead animal. Therefore, the Maytah is harmful, religiously and physically, and this is why Allah has prohibited it. The only exception to this ruling is fish, for fish is allowed, even when dead, by slaughtering or otherwise. Malik in his Muwatta, also Abu Dawud, At-Tirmidhi, An-Nasal and Ibn Majah in their Sunan, Ibn Khuzaymah and Ibn Hibban in their Sahih, all recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was asked about seawater. He said, "O Jahl Ja "Its water is pure and its dead are permissible." The same ruling applies to locusts, as proven in a Hadith that we will mention later. Allah's statement, "Blood..." This refers to flowing blood, according to Ibn 'Abbas and Said bin Jubayr, and it is similar to Allah's other statement, "Blood poured forth..." Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas was asked about the spleen and he said, "Eat it." They said, "It is blood." He said, "You are only prohibited blood that was poured forth." Abu 'Abdullah, Muhammad bin Idras Ash-Shafii recorded that Ibn Umar said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "We were allowed two dead animals and two (kinds of) blood. As for the two dead animals, they are fish and locust. As for the two bloods, they are liver and spleen. Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal, Ibn Majah, Ad-Daraqutni and Al-Bayhaqi also recorded this Hadith through 'Abdur-Rahman bin Zayd bin Aslam, who is a weak narrator. 111 Abu Dawud 1:64, Tuhfat Al-Ahwadhi 1:224, An-Nasal 1:50, Ibn Majah 1:136, Ibn Khuzaymah 1:59, Ibn Hibban 2:272. 121 Musnad Ash-Shafi'i 12:173, Ahmad 2:97, Ad-Daraqutni 4:272, Al-Bayhaqi 1:254, and others. It is considered authentic due to its many routes.

Allah's statement, "the flesh of swine..." includes domesticated and wild swine, and also refers to the whole animal, including its fat, for this is what the Arabs mean by Lahm or "flesh". Muslim recorded that Buraydah bin Al-Husayb Al-Aslami said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Who plays Nardshir (a game with dice that involves gambling) is just like the one who puts his hand in the flesh and blood of swine." 111 If this is the case with merely touching the flesh and blood of swine, so what about eating and feeding on it? This Hadith is a proof that Lahm means the entire body of the animal, including its fat. It is recorded in the Two Sahih, that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "Allah made the trade of alcohol, dead animals, pigs and idols illegal. The people asked, "O Allah's Messenger! What about the fat of dead animals, for it was used for greasing the boats and the hides; and people use it for lanterns?" He said, "No, it is illegal." 121 In the Sahih of Al-Bukhari, Abu Sufyan narrated that he said to Heraclius, Emperor of Rome, "He (Muhammad) prohibited us from eating dead animals and blood.” Allah said, And that which has been slaughtered as a sacrifice for other than Allah. } 1,1 Muslim 4:1770. Fath Al-Bari 4 :495 , Muslim 3 :1207

86 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Therefore, the animals on which a name other than Allah was mentioned upon slaughtering it, is impermissible, because Allah made it necessary to mention His Glorious Name upon slaughtering the animals, which He created. Whoever does not do so, mentioning other than Allah’s Name, such as the name of an idol, a false deity or a monument, when slaughtering, he makes this meat unlawful, according to the consensus. Allah’s statement, and that which has been killed by strangling...^ either intentionally or by mistake, such as when an animal moves while restrained and dies by strangulation because of its struggling, this animal is also unlawful to eat. or by a violent blow .. . $> This refers to the animal that is hit with a heavy object until it dies. Ibn ‘Abbas and several others said it is the animal that is hit with a staff until it dies. ‘ Qatadah said, “The people of Jahiliyyah used to strike the animal with sticks and when it died, they would eat it.”¹²¹ It is recorded in the Sahih. that ‘Ali bin Hatim said, “I asked, ‘O Allah’s Messenger! I use the Mi’rad³¹ for hunting and catch game with it.’ He replied, *•dst xij j*j •—jLil jL_j i -uSo L Ijl qIfthegame is hit by its sharp edge, eat it. But, if it is hit by its broad side, do not eat it, far it has been beaten to death. Therefore, the Prophet jg made a distinction between killing the animal with the sharp edge of an arrow or a hunting stick, and rendered it lawful, and what is killed by the broad side of an object, and rendered it unlawful because it was beaten to death. There is a consensus among the scholars of Fiqh on this subject.* 111 At-Tabari 9:496. 121 At-Tabari 9:496. * A sharp-edged piece of wood or a piece of wood provided with a piece of iron used for hunting. 141 Fath Al-B&ri9:518.

As for the animal that falls headlong from a high place and dies as a result, it is also prohibited. ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that an animal that dies by a headlong fall, “Is that which falls from a mountain.”¹¹¹ Qatadah said that it is the animal that falls in a well.*2 * As- Suddi said that it is the animal that falls from a mountain or in a well.¹³¹ As for the animal that dies by being gorged by another animal, it is also prohibited, even if the horn opens a flesh wound and it bleeds to death from its neck. Allah’s statement, and that which has been (partly) eaten by a wild animal, } refers to the animal that was attacked by a lion, leopard, tiger, wolf or dog, then the wild beast eats a part of it and it dies because of that. This type is also prohibited, even if the animal bled to death from its neck. There is also a consensus on this ruling. During the time of Jahiliyyah, the people used to eat the sheep, camel, or cow that were partly eaten by a wild animal. Allah prohibited this practice for the believers. Allah’s statement, unless you are able to slaughter it, } before it dies, due to the causes mentioned above. This part of the Ayah is connected to, and that which has been killed by strangling, or by a violent blow, or by a headlong fall, or by the goring of horns - and that which has been (partly) eaten by a wild animal. } ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on Allah’s statement. m At-Tabari 9:498. 121 At-Tabari 9:498. unless you are able to slaughter it, } “Unless you are able to slaughter the animal in the cases mentioned in the Ayah while it is still alive, then eat it, for it was properly slaughtered.”¹¹ ‘ Similar was reported from Said bin Jubayr, Al-Hasan Al-Basri and As-Suddi.² Ibn Jarir recorded that ‘Ali, may Allah be pleased with him, said, “If you are able to slaughter the animal that has been hit by a violent blow, or by a headlong fall, or by the gorging of horns while it still moves a foot or a leg, then eat from its meat.”³ Similar was reported from Tawus, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, ‘Ubayd bin ‘Umayr, Ad-Dahhak and several others, that if the animal that is being slaughtered still moves, thus demonstrating that it is still alive while slaughtering, then it is lawful.⁴ The Two Sahihs recorded that Rafi‘ bin Khadij said, “I asked, ‘O Allah’s Messenger! We fear that we may meet our enemy tomorrow and we have no knives, could we slaughter the animals with reeds?’ The Prophet said, <il jL-l ifjJt I lit *5 jilaJI 1*1^ i pJajO Ul “Vow can use what makes blood flow and you can eat what is slaughtered with the Name of Allah. 89 Surah 5. Al-Maidah (3) (Part-6) Ka’bah) that the Arabs used to slaughter in front of, during the time of Jahiliyyah. They used to sprinkle the animals that came to the Ka’bah with the blood of slaughtered animals, whose meat they cut to pieces and placed on the altars.” Allah forbade this practice for the believers. He also forbade them from eating the meat of animals that were slaughtered in the vicinity of the Nuşub, even if Allah’s Name was mentioned on these animals when they were slaughtered, because it is a type of Shirk that Allah and His Messenger si have forbidden. The Prohibition of Using Al-Azlam for Decision Making Allah said, i(Forbidden) also is to make decisions with Al-Azlam} The Ayah commands, “O believers! You are forbidden to use Al-Azlam (arrows) for decision making,” which was a practice of the Arabs during the time of Jahiliyyah. They would use three arrows, one with the word ‘Do’ written on it, another that says ‘Do not’, while the third does not say anything. Some of them would write on the first arrow, ‘My Lord commanded me,’ and, ‘My Lord forbade me,’ on the second arrow and they would not write anything on the third arrow. If the blank arrow was picked, the person would keep trying until the arrow that says do or do not was picked, and the person would implement the command that he picked. Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Azlam were arrows that they used to seek decisions through.*2 * Muhammad bin Ishaq and others said that the major idol of the tribe of Quraysh was Hubal, which was erected on the tip of a well inside the Ka’bah, where gifts were presented and where the treasure of the Ka’bah was kept. There, they also had seven arrows that they would use to seek a decision concerning matters of dispute. Whatever the chosen arrow would tell them, they would abide by it! ’ Al- Bukhari*4 ’ recorded that when the Prophet jg entered Al- m At-Tabari 9 :508 ’ At-Tabari 9:515. ’ At-Tabari 9:513. ’ Fath Al-Bari 6 :446

Shaytan and the Disbelievers Do Not Will Ever FollowThem ^Tafsir [blatter Hope that Muslim,, Allah said, 4(^4* irt b ooK ,^Jf iThis day, those who disbelieved have given up all hope ofyour religion ; ‘Ali bin Abi Tajhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Ayah means, “They gave up hope that Muslims would revert to their religion.” This is similar to the saying of ‘Ata’ bin Abi Rabah, As-Suddi and Muqatil bin Hayyan. 121 This meaning is supported by a Hadith recorded in the Sahih that states, « Verily, Slmytdn has given up hope that those who pray in the Arabian Peninsula, ivill worship him. But he will still stir trouble among them .»|3 It is also possible that the Ayah negates the possibility that the disbelievers and Shaytan will ever be like Muslims, since Muslims have various qualities that contradict Shirk and its people. This is why Allah commanded His believing servants to observe patience, to be steadfast in defying and contradicting the disbelievers, and to fear none but Allah. Allah said, iSofear them not, but fear Me meaning, ‘do not fear them when you contradict them. Rather, fear Me and I will give you victory over them, I will eradicate them, and make you prevail over them, I will please your hearts and raise you above them in this life and the Hereafter.’ Islam Has Been Perfected For Muslims Allah said, At-Tabari 9 :5 16 121 At-Tabari 9:516. ' Sufyan (one of the narrators) doubted if Friday was mentioned in this narration. Sufyan's confusion was either because he was unsure if his teacher included this statement in the Hadth or not. Otherwise, if it was because he doubted that the particular day during the Farewell Hajj was a Friday, it would be a mistake that could not and should not have come from someone like Sufyan Ath-Thawri. The fact that it was a Friday, is agreed on by the scholars of Sirah and Fiqh. There are numerous Hadiths that support this fact that are definitely authentic and of the Mutawati^ type. This Hadith was also reported from TJmar through various chains of narration. This refers to trained dogs and falcons, as is the opinion of the majority of the Companions, their followers, and the Imams. ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that, <c*P ik 4And those Jawarih (beasts and birds of prey) which you have trained as hounds... refers to trained hunting dogs, falcons and all types of birds and beasts that are trained to hunt, including dogs, wild cats, falcons, and so forthJ ' Ibn Abi Hatim collected this and said, “Similar was reported from Khaythamah, Tawus, Mujahid, Makhul and Yahya bin Abi Kathir.”*2 ' Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn TJmar said, “You are permitted the animal that the trained birds, such as falcons, hunt for you if you catch it (before it eats from it). Otherwise, do not eat from it.”13 ' I say, the majority of scholars say that hunting with trained birds is just like hunting with trained dogs, because bird's of prey catch the game with their claws, just like dogs. Therefore, there is no difference between the two. Ibn Jarir recorded that 'Adi bin Hatim said that he asked the Messenger of Allah ﷺ about the game that the falcon hunts and the Messenger ﷺ said, «جاءك شيء فاقطع له»⁴¹ These carnivores that are trained to catch game are called Jawarih in Arabic, a word that is derived from Jarh, meaning, what one earns. The Arabs would say, "So-and-so has Jaraha something good for his family," meaning, he has earned them something good. The Arabs would say, "So-and-so does not have a Jarih for him," meaning, a caretaker. Allah also said, «وإنه يعلم ما تعملون»⁴² And He knows what you have done during the day. And whosoever rejects faith, then fruitless is his work; and in the Hereafter he will be among the losers Permitting the Slaughtered Animals of the People of the Book After Allah mentioned the filthy things that He prohibited for His believing servants and the good things that He allowed for them, He said next, 'fi iMade lawful to you this day are At-Tayyibat .> Allah then mentioned the ruling concerning the slaughtered animals of the People of the Book, the Jews and Christians, Jr Z/& f $The food of the People of the Scripture is lawful to you..)? meaning, their slaughtered animals, as Ibn 'Abbas, Abu Umamah, Mujahid, Said bin Jubayr, 'Ikrimah, 'Ata', Al-Hasan, Makhul, Ibrahim An-Nakha'I, As-Suddi and Muqatil bin Hayyan stated.¹¹ ' This ruling, that the slaughtered animals of the People of the Book are permissible for Muslims, is agreed on by the scholars, because the People of the Book believe that slaughtering for other than Allah is prohibited. They mention Allah's Name upon slaughtering their animals, even though they have deviant beliefs about Allah that do not befit His majesty. It is recorded in the Sahth. that 'Abdullah bin Mughaffal said, "While we were attacking the fort of Khaybar, a person threw a leather bag containing fat, and I ran to take it and said, I will not give anyone anything from this container today.' But when I turned I saw the Prophet $gg (standing behind) while smiling."² ' The scholars rely on this Hadlth as evidence that we are allowed to eat what we need of foods from the booty 111 At-Tabari 9:573-577. 121 FathAl-Bari 9:552.

103 Surah 5. Al-Md'idah (5) (Part-6 before it is divided. The scholars of the Hanafi, the Shafil and the Hanbali Madhhabs rely on this Hadith to allow eating parts of the slaughtered animals of the Jews that they prohibit for themselves, such as the fat. They used this Hadith as evidence against the scholars of the Maliki Madhhab who disagreed with this ruling. A better proof is the Hadith recorded in the Sahth that the people of Khaybar gave the Prophet jg a gift of a roasted leg of sheep, which they poisoned. The Prophet jg used to like eating the leg of the sheep and he took a bite from it, but it told the Prophet jg that it was poisoned, so he discarded that bite. The bite that the Prophet jg took effected the palate of his mouth, while Bishr bin Al-Bara' bin Ma'rur died from eating from that sheep. The Prophet jg had the Jewish woman, Zaynab, who poisoned the sheep, killed. Therefore, the Prophet jg and his Companions wanted to eat from that sheep and did not ask the Jews if they removed what the Jews believed was prohibited for them, such as its fat. 111 Allah's statement, J*pas iand your food is lawful to them.} means, you are allowed to feed them from your slaughtered animals. Therefore, this part of the Ayah is not to inform the People of the Scriptures that they are allowed to eat our food - unless we consider it information for us about the ruling that they have - i.e, that they are allowed all types of foods over which Allah's Name was mentioned, whether slaughtered according to their religion or otherwise. The first explanation is more plausible. So it means: you are allowed to feed them from your slaughtered animals just as you are allowed to eat from theirs, as equal compensation and fair treatment. The Prophet ﷺ gave his robe to 'Abdullah bin Ubayy bin Salfil, who was wrapped with it when he died. They say that he did that because 'Abdullah had given his robe to Al-'Abbas when Al-'Abbas came to Al-Madinah. As for the Hadith, Vi iuu Jst; v; , vi "Do not befriend but a believer, nor should other than a Taqi 111 Path Al-Bari 7 :569

The Permission to Marry Chaste Women From the People of the Scriptures Allah said, 4(Lawful to you in marriage) are chaste women from the believers^ The Ayah states: you are allowed to marry free, chaste believing women. This Ayah is talking about women who do not commit fornication, as evident by the word 'chaste'. Allah said in another Ayah, O'itii Vj Jf. 4Desiring chastity not committing illegal sexual intercourse, nor taking them as boyfriends (lovers). [4:25] 'Abdullah Ibn 'Umar used to advise against marrying Christian women saying, "I do not know of a worse case of Shirk than her saying that Isa is her lord, while Allah said, 4And do not marry idolatresses till they believe.4" Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Abu Malik Al-Ghifari said that Ibn 'Abbas said that when this Ayah was revealed, 4U& ^ 4And do not marry idolatresses till they believe,> the people did not marry the pagan women. they married women from the People of the Book." Some of the Companions married Christian women and did not see any problem in this, relying on the honorable Ayah, 4(Lawful to you in marriage) are chaste women from those who were given the Scripture before your time} Therefore, they made this Ayah an exception to the Ayah in Surat Al-Baqarah, 4U:& 4And do not marry the idolatresses till they believe, considering the latter Ayah to include the People of the Book in its general meaning. Otherwise, there is no contradiction here, since the People of the Book were mentioned alone when mentioning the rest of the idolators. Allah said, iThose who disbelieve from among the People of the Scripture and the idolators, were not going to leave (their disbelief) until there came to them clear evidence. and, jJu Jci'S \yj\ yjj 4And say to those who were given the Scripture and to those who are illiterates: "Do you (also) submit yourselves?" If they do, they are rightly guided.} Allah said next, 4When you have given them their due}. This refers to the Mahr, so just as these women are chaste and honorable, then give them their Mahr with a good heart. We should mention here that Jabir bin 'Abdullah, 'Amir Ash-Shalji, Ibrahim An-Nakhal and Al-Hasan Al-Basri stated that when a man marries a woman and she commits illegal sexual intercourse before the marriage is consummated, the marriage is annulled. every prayer, but later on, this ruling was abrogated. Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal recorded that Sulayman bin Buraydah said that his father said, “The Prophet jg used to perform Wudu' before every prayer. On the Day of Victory, he performed Wudu' and wiped on his Khuffs and prayed the five prayers with one Wudu'. Umar said to him, ‘O Messenger of Allah! When he would answer the call of nature, he performed Wudu' and wiped the top of his Khuffs with his wet hand. I said, ‘O Abu ‘Abdullah! Do you do this according to your own opinion?’ He said, ‘Rather, I saw the Prophet §j§ do the same thing. So, I do what I saw the Messenger of Allah jg doing.’”¹¹¹ Ibn Majah also recorded this Hadith}2^ Ahmad recorded that Ubaydullah bin ‘Abdullah bin Umar was asked; “Did you see ‘Abdullah bin Umar perform Wudu' for every prayer, whether he was in a state of purity or not,?” So he replied, “Asma' bint Zayd bin Al-Khattab told him that ‘Abdullah bin Hanzalah bin Abi ‘Amir Al-Ghasll told her that the Messenger of Allah jgg was earlier commanded to perform Wudu' for every prayer, whether he needed it or not. When that became hard on him, he was commanded to use Siwak for every prayer, and to perform Wudu' when Hadath (impurity) occurs. ‘Abdullah (Ibn Umar) thought that he was able to do that (perform Wudu' for every prayer) and he kept doing that until he died.”¹³¹ Abu Dawud¹⁴¹ also collected this narration. This practice by Ibn Umar demonstrates that it is encouraged, not obligatory, to perform Wudu' for every prayer, and this is also the opinion of the majority of scholars. Abu Dawud recorded that 'Abdullah bin 'Abbas said that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ once left the area where he answered the call of nature, he was brought something to eat. They said, "Should we bring you your water for Wudu'?" He said, "Yes."¹⁰⁴ He was commanded to perform Wudu' when I stand up for prayer. »¹⁵¹ At-Tirmidhi and An-Nasab⁶¹ also recorded this Hadith and At-Tirmidhi said, "This Hadith is Hasan." ¹⁰⁹ Surah 5. Al-Ma'idah (6) (Part-6) that Ibn 'Abbas said, "We were with the Prophet ﷺ when he went to answer the call of nature and when he came back, he was brought some food. He was asked, 'O Messenger of Allah! Do you want to perform Wudu'?' He said, 'Yes, I am about to pray so that I have to make Wudu'y'" [11 The Intention and Mentioning Allah's Name for Wudu Allah said; then wash your faces...} The obligation for the intention before Wudu' is proven by this Ayah; i.e. when you stand (intend) to offer the Salah then wash your faces...} This is because it is just like the Arabs saying; "When you see the leader, then stand." Meaning stand for him. And the Two Sahih's recorded the Hadith, «Actions are judged by their intentions, and each person will earn what he intended»¹²¹ It is also recommended before washing the face that one mentions Allah's Name for the Wudu'. A Hadith that was narrated by several Companions states that the Prophet ﷺ said, «There is no Wudu' for he who does not mention Allah's Name over it.»¹³ Muslim 1 :283 ¹²¹ Fath Al-Bari 1:15, Muslim 3 :1515 ¹³¹ Abu Dawud 1 :75.

¹¹⁰ Tafsir Ibn Kathir It is also recommended that one washes his hands before he puts his hands in the vessel of water, especially after one wakes up from sleep, for the Two Sahih's recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ said, "When one of you wakes up from his sleep, let him not put his hand in the pot until he washes it thrice, for one of you does not know where his hand spent the night." [1 ' The face according to the scholars of Fiqh starts where the hair line on the head starts, regardless of one's lack or abundance of hair, until the end of the cheeks and chin, and from ear to ear. Passing the Finger through the Beard While Performing Wudu' Imam Ahmad recorded that Abu Wa'il said, "I saw the Messenger of Allah ﷺ when he was performing Wudu'... When he washed his face, he passed his fingers through his beard three times. He said, 'I saw the Messenger of Allah do what you saw me doing.'"² At-Tirmidhi and Ibn Majah also recorded this Hadith. At-Tirmidhi said "Hasan Sahih." while Al-Bukhari graded it Hasan. How to Perform Wudu' Imam Ahmad recorded that Ibn 'Abbas once performed Wudu' and took a handful of water and rinsed his mouth and nose with it. He took another handful of water and joined both hands and washed his face. He took another handful of water and washed his right hand, and another handful and washed his left hand with it. He next wiped his head. Next, he took a handful of water and sprinkled it on his right foot and washed it and took another handful of water and washed his left foot. When he finished, he said, "This is how I saw the Messenger of Allah (performing Wudu)."¹⁴ Al-Bukhari also recorded  Fath Al-Bari 1 :316, Muslim 1 :233. * Jami' Al-Masanid was-Sunan 17 :197. Al-Bukhari and ' Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, Wudu' ila jgg "On the Day of Resurrection, my Ummah will be called "those with the radiant appendages" because of the traces of Wudu'. Therefore, whoever can increase the area of his radiance should do so.» Muslim recorded that Abu Hurayrah said, "I heard my intimate friend (the Messenger) saying, "The radiance of the believer reaches the areas that the water of (his) Wudu' reaches.»^ Allah said next, 4Rub your heads.} It is recorded in the Two Sahths that Malik bin 'Amr bin Yahya Al-Mazini said that his father said that a man said to 'Abdullah bin Zayd bin 'Asim, the grandfather of 'Amr bin Yahya and one of the Companions of the Messenger jg, "Can you show me how the Messenger of Allah used to perform m FathAl-Bari 1 :290. ,21 FathAl-Bari 1 :283, Muslim 1 :216. Wudu'?" 'Abdullah bin Zayd said, "Yes." He then asked for a pot of water. He poured from it on his hands and washed them twice, then he rinsed his mouth and washed his nose [with water] thrice [by putting water in it and blowing it out]. He washed his face thrice and after that he washed his forearms up to the elbows twice. He then passed his wet hands over his head from its front to its back and vice versa, beginning from the front and taking them to the back of his head up to the nape of the neck and then brought them to the front again from where he had started. He next washed his feet. * A similar description of the Wudu' of the Messenger of Allah was performed by 'Ali in the Hadith by 'Abdu Khayr.*2 * Abu Dawud recorded that Mu'awiyah and Al-Miqdad bin Ma'dikarib narrated similar descriptions of the Wudu' of the Messenger of Allah jg. * These Hadiths indicate that it is necessary to wipe the entire head. 'Abdur-Razzaq recorded that Humran bin Aban said, "I saw Uthman bin 'Affan performing Wudu', and he poured water over his hands and washed them thrice, and then rinsed his mouth and washed his nose [by putting water in it, and then blowing it out]. Two Sahihs. In his Sunan, Abu Dawud also recorded it from TJthman, under the description of Wudu', and in it, that he wiped his head one time. The Necessity of Washing the Feet Allah said, Wudu' ila your feet up to ankles.} Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas stated that the Ayah refers to washing (the feet). 12 'Abdullah bin Mas*ud, TJrwah, 'Ata', 'Ikrimah, Al-Hasan, Mujahid, Ibrahim, Ad-Dahhak, As-Suddi, Muqatil bin Hayyan, Az-Zuhri and Ibrahim At-Taymi said similarly. 131 This clearly indicates the necessity of washing the feet, just as the Salaf have said, and not only wiping over the top of the bare foot. The Hadiths that Indicate the Necessity of Washing the Feet We mentioned the Hadiths by the two Leaders of the Faithful, 'Uthman and 'Ali, and also by Ibn 'Abbas, Mu'awiyah, 'Abdullah bin Zayd bin 'Asim and Al-Miqdad bin Ma'dikarib, that the Messenger of Allah jgg washed his feet for Wudu', either once, twice or thrice. It is recorded in the Two Sahihs that ‘Abdullah bin ‘Amr said, “The Messenger of Allah jg was once late during a trip we were taking, and he caught up with us when the time remaining for the ‘Asr prayer was short. The subject of the Messenger of Allah ﷺ wiping over his Khuffs, instead of washing the feet, if he had worn his Khuffs while having Wudu’, reaches the Mutawatir grade of narration, and they describe this practice by his words and actions. We also mentioned the reason behind revealing this Ayah. Yet, Al-Bukhari mentioned an honorable Hadith here specifically about the Tafsir of this noble Ayah. He recorded that ‘A’ishah said, “Upon returning to Al-Madinah, a necklace of mine was broken (and lost) in Al-Bayda’ area. Allah’s Messenger ﷺ stayed there and went to sleep with his head on my lap. Abu Bakr (‘A’ishah’s father) came and hit me on my flank with his hand saying. until the end of the Ayah. Usayd bin Al-Hudayr said, ‘O the family of Abu Bakr! Allah has blessed the people because of you. Allah made Tayammum in place of Wudu’, and Allah made it the same as ablution with water for the one who it is legitimate for, except for certain things, as we mentioned before. For example; Tayammum only involves one strike with the hand on the sand and wiping the face and hands. Allah said, وإن الله لا يريد أن يضعكم في ضيق but He wants to purify you, and to complete His favor on you that you may be thankful.} for His bounties on you, such as His easy, kind, merciful, comfortable and lenient legislation. Supplicating to Allah after Wudu The Sunnah encourages supplicating to Allah after Wudu’ and states that those who do so are among those who seek to purify themselves, as the Ayah above states. Imam Ahmad, Muslim and the collectors of Sunan narrated that Tjubah bin ‘Amir said, “We were on watch, guarding camels, and when my turn to guard came, I took the camels back at night. I found that the Messenger of Allah ﷺ was giving a speech to the people. Allah said.

Allah said next, 'if Si 'if !#(>) iand have Taqiva of Allah. Hence Allah’s statement afterwards, iAllah has promised those who believe and do deeds of righteousness, that for them there is forgiveness£> for their sins, iand a great reward which is Paradise, that is part of Allah’s mercy for His servants. They will not earn Paradise on account of their good actions, but rather on account of His mercy and favor, even though they will qualify to earn this mercy on account of their good actions. Allah has made these actions the cause and path that lead to His mercy, favor, pardon and acceptance. Therefore, all this is from Allah Alone and all thanks are due to Him. Allah said next, iAnd they who disbelieve and deny our Aydt are those who will be the dwellers of the Hell-fire. Among Allah's Favors is that He Prevented the Disbelievers from Fighting the Muslims Allah said, 'Remember the favor of Allah unto you when some people desired (made a plan) to stretch out their hands against you, but (Allah) withheld their hands from you' 'Abdur-Razzaq recorded that Jabir said, "The Prophet is once stayed at an area and the people spread out seeking shade under various trees. The Prophet hung his weapon on a tree, and a bedouin man came and took possession of the Prophet's weapon and held it aloft. He came towards the Prophet and said, 'Who can protect you from me?' He replied, 'Allah, the Exalted, Most Honored.' The bedouin man repeated his question twice or thrice, each time the Prophet answering him by saying, 'Allah.' The bedouin man then lowered the sword, and the Prophet called his Companions and told them what had happened while the bedouin was sitting next to him, for the Prophet did not punish him.' Ma'mar said that Qatadah used to mention that some Arabs wanted to have the Prophet killed, so they sent that bedouin. Qatadah would then mention this Ayah, (Remember the favor of Allah unto you when some people desired (made a plan) to stretch out their hands against you...) 111

Al-Harith, is mentioned in the Sahib. Muhammad bin Ishaq bin Yasar, Mujahid and 'Ikrimah said that this Ayah was revealed about Bani An-Nadir, who plotted to drop a stone on the head of the Messenger when he came to them for help to pay the blood money of two persons 'Abdur-Razzaq 1 :185. * Al-Bukhari nos: 4135, 4136, 4139.

whom Muslims killed. 11 The Jews left the execution of this plot to 'Amr bin Jhash bin Ka'b and ordered him to throw a stone on the Prophet from above, when he came to them and sat under the wall. Allah told His Prophet about their plot, and he went back to Al-Madinah and his Companions followed him later on. Allah sent down this Ayah concerning this matter. Allah's statement, 'And in Allah let the believers put their trust.' and those who do so, then Allah shall suffice for them and shall protect them from the evil plots of the people. Thereafter, Allah commanded His Messenger to expel Bani An-Nadlr, and he laid siege to their area and forced them to evacuate Al-Madinah. The Prophet had a treaty with the Jews to help him pay the Diah, when warranted.

Indeed, Allah took the covenant from the Children of Israel (Jeios), and We appointed twelve leaders among them. And Allah said : "I am with you if you perform the Saldh and give the Zakdh and believe in My Messengers; honor and assist them, and lend to Allah a good loan, verily, I will remit your sins and admit you to Gardens under which rivers flow (in Paradise). But if any of you after this, disbelieved, he has indeed gone astray from the straight way." 13. So, because of their breach of their covenant, We cursed them and made their hearts grow hard. Allah also commanded them to stand for the truth and give correct testimony. He also reminded them of the obvious and subtle favors of the truth and guidance that He granted them. Next, Allah informed them of the pledges and promises that He took from the People of the Book, who were before them, the Jews and Christians. When they broke these promises and covenants, Allah cursed them as a consequence

127 Surah 5. Al-Ma'idah (12 - 14) (Part-6) and expelled them from His grace and mercy. He also sealed their hearts from receiving guidance and the religion of truth, beneficial knowledge and righteous actions. Allah said, &j} 4 Indeed Allah took the covenant from the Children of Israel and We appointed twelve leaders among them.} These twelve people were leaders who gave the pledge to Allah to listen and obey Allah, His Messenger and His Book on behalf of their tribes. Muhammad bin Ishaq and Ibn 'Abbas said that this occurred when Musa went to fight the mighty enemy (in Palestine), and Allah commanded him to choose a leader from every tribe. The Leaders of Ansar on the Night of 'Aqabah Likewise, when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ took the pledge from the Ansar in the 'Aqabah area, there were twelve leaders from the Ansar. There were three men from the tribe of Aws: Usayd bin Al-Hudayr, Sa'd bin Khaythamah and Rifa'ah bin 'Abdul-Mundhir, or Abu Al-Haytham bin At-Tayhan. There were nine people from the tribe of Khazraj: Abu Umamah As'ad bin Zurarah, Sa'd bin Ar-Rabi', 'Abdullah bin Rawahah, Rafi' bin Malik bin Al-'Ajlani, Al-Bara' bin Ma'rur, Thabalah bin As-Samit, Sa'd bin 'Ubadah, 'Abdullah bin 'Amr bin Haram and Al-Mundhir bin Umar bin al-Khunays. Ka'b bin Malik mentioned these men in his poem, as recorded by Ibn Ishaq.^{12*} On that night, these men were the leaders or representatives of their tribes by the command of the Prophet. Some of the Salaf said, "You would never treat those who disobey Allah with you better than obeying Allah with them." This way, their hearts will gather around the truth and Allah might lead them to the right guidance. Some of the People of the Book who later became Muslims refuted this false statement saying, "This statement only indicates honor and respect, as is common in their speech at that time." The Christians claim that Isa said to them, "I will go back to my father and your father," meaning, my Lord and your Lord. 136 Tafsir Ibtî Kathîr Allah is addressing the People of the Book - the Jews and the Christians, saying that He has sent His Messenger Muhammad sg to them, the Final Prophet, after whom there will be no Prophet or Messenger. Rather, He is the Final Messenger who came after a long time passed between him and Isa, son of Maryam peace be upon them. There is a difference of opinion about the length of time between Isa and Muhammad jg. Abu 'Uthman An-Nahdi and Qatadah were reported to have said that this period was six hundred years. * Al-Bukhari also recorded this opinion from Salman Al-Farisi.*2 * Qatadah said that this period was five hundred and sixty years,*31 while Ma'mar said that it is five hundred and forty years.*4 * Some said that this period is six hundred and twenty years. There is no contradiction here if we consider the fact that those who said that this period was six hundred years were talking about solar years, while the second refers to lunar years, since there is a difference of about three years between every one hundred lunar and solar years. As in Allah's statement, ill; j i 4 Attd they stayed in their Cave three hundred years, adding nine meaning, nine more lunar years to substitute for the difference between lunar and solar years, thus agreeing with the three hundred years that the People of the Book knew about. We should assert again that the time period we mentioned here was between Isa, the last Prophet to the Children of Israel, and Muhammad jg, the Last Prophet and Messenger among the children of Adam. In the Sahlh collected by Al-Bukhari, Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, Jw hf «/, among all people, have the most right to the son of Maryam, for there was no Prophet between Him and /.«*5 m Al-Baghawi 2:23. * Fath Al-B&ri 7 :324 * Al-Baghawi 2:23. This Hadith refutes the opinion of Al-Qudal and others, that there was a Prophet after Isa called Khalid bin Sinan. Allah sent Muhammad jg after a period of time during which there was no Prophet, clear path, or unchanged religions. Idol worshipping, fire worshipping and cross worshipping flourished during this time. Therefore, the bounty of sending Muhammad jjfe was the perfect bounty at a time when he was needed the most. Evil had filled the earth by then, and tyranny and ignorance had touched all the servants, except a few of those who remained loyal to the true teachings of previous Prophets, such as some Jewish rabbis, Christian priests and Sabian monks. Allah said, 4And (remember) when Musa said to his people: "O my people! Therefore, they were the best among the people of their time. The Muslim Ummah is more respected and honored before Allah, and has a more perfect legislative code and system of life, it has the most honorable Prophet, the larger kingdom, more provisions, wealth and children, a larger domain and more lasting glory than the Children of Israel. Allah states next that Musa encouraged the Children of

Ya'qub and his children later moved with his children and household to Egypt during the time of Prophet Yusuf. His offspring remained in Egypt until their exodus with Musa. They found a mighty, strong people in Jerusalem who had previously taken it over. Mfisa, Allah's Messenger, ordered the Children of Israel to enter Jerusalem and fight their enemy, and he promised them victory and triumph over the mighty people .if they did so. They declined, rebelled and defied his order and were punished for forty years by being lost, wandering in the land uncertain of where they should go. This was their punishment for defying Allah's command. The Righteous Response ofthe CompanionsDuring the Battle ofBadr Compare this to the better response the Companions gave to the Messenger of Allah during the battle of Badr, when he asked for their advice about fighting the Quraysh army that came to protect the caravan led by Abu Sufyan. When the Muslim army missed the caravan and the Quraysh army, between nine hundred and one thousand strong, helmeted and drawing closer, Abu Bakr stood up and said something good. Several more Muhajirin also spoke, all the while the Messenger of Allah ﷺ saying, «اَجِلْ—جِيْ اِجْلًا Advise me, O Muslim to inquiring of what the Ansar, the majority then, had to say. Sa'd bin Mu'adh said, "It looks like you mean us, O Messenger of Allah! By He Who has sent you with the Truth! If you seek to cross this sea and went in it, we will follow you and none among us will remain behind. We would not hate for you to lead us to meet our enemy tomorrow. We are patient in war, vicious in battle. May Allah allow you to witness from our efforts what comforts your eyes. Therefore, march forward with the blessing of Allah." The Messenger of Allah ﷺ was pleased with the words of Sa'd and was encouraged to march on. Abu Bakr bin Marduyah recorded that Anas said that when the Messenger of Allah ﷺ went to Badr, he asked the Muslims for their opinion, and "Umar gave his. The Prophet ﷺ again asked the Muslims for their opinion and the Ansar said, "O Ansar! It is you whom the Prophet wants to hear." They said, "We will never say as the Children of Israel said to Moses, 'So go, you and your Lord, and fight you two, we are sitting right here.' By He Who has sent you with the Truth! If you took the camels to Bark Al-Ghimad (near Makkah) we shall follow you." 111 At-Tabari 13:399.

146 Tafsir Ibn Kathir Imam Ahmad, An-Nasab and Ibn Hibban * also recorded this Hadith. In the Book of Al-Maghdzi and At-Tafsir, Al-Bukhari recorded that 'Abdullah bin Mas'ud said, "On the day of Badr, Al-Miqdad said, 'O Messenger of Allah! Forbidding the Jews from Entering the Holy Land for Forty Years Allah said, &&&&4 iTherefore it is forbidden to them for forty years; in distraction they will wander through the landf When Musa supplicated against the Jews for refusing to fight in Jihad, Allah forbade them from entering the land for forty years. They wandered about lost in the land of At-Tih, unable to find their way out. During this time, tremendous miracles occurred, such as the clouds that shaded them and the manna and quails Allah sent down for them. Allah brought forth water springs from solid rock, and the other miracles that He aided Musa bin Imran with. During this time, the Tawrah was revealed and the Law was established for the Children of Israel and the Tabernacle of the Covenant was erected. Yet, they changed what they were commanded and entered it while dragging themselves on their behinds and saying, 'Habbah (a seed) in Sha'rah (a hair)." We mentioned all of this in the Tafsir of Surat Al-Baqarah. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas commented, . »t)f . ^ o' -Vt * ^ iTherefore it is forbidden to them for forty years; in distraction they will wander through the land "They wandered in the land for forty years, during which Musa and Harun died, as well as everyone above forty years of age. When the forty years ended, Yuwsha* son of Nun assumed their leadership and later conquered Jerusalem. When Yuwsha' was reminded that the day was Friday and the sun was about to set, while they were still attacking Jerusalem, he feared that the Sabbath might begin. Therefore, he said to the sun, 'I am commanded and you are commanded.' Allah made the sun stop setting and the Jews conquered Jerusalem and found wealth unseen before. They wanted to let the fire consume the booty, but the fire would not do that. Yuwsha' said, 'Some of you have committed theft from the booty.' So he summoned the twelve leaders of the twelve tribes and took the pledge from them. Then, the hand of one of them became stuck to the hand of Yuwsha' and Yuwsha' said, "You committed the theft, so bring it forth.' So, that man brought a cow's head made of gold with two eyes made of precious stones and a set of teeth made of pearls. When Yuwsha' added it to the booty, the fire consumed it, as they were prohibited to keep the booty." There is evidence supporting all of this in the Sahih. Allah said: Do not feel sorrow or sadness over My judgment against them, for they deserve such judgment. This story chastises the Jews, exposes their defiance of Allah and His Messenger, and their refusal to obey the order for Jihad. They were weak and could not bear the thought of fighting their enemy, being patient, and enduring this way. This occurred although they had the Messenger of Allah and the one whom He spoke to among them, the best of Allah's creation that time. Their Prophet promised them triumph and victory against their enemies. They also witnessed the torment and punishment of drowning with which Allah punished their enemy Fir'awn and his soldiers, so that their eyes were pleased and comforted. All this did not happen too long ago, yet they refused to perform Jihad against people who had less than a tenth of the power and strength than the people of Egypt had. Therefore, the evil works of the Jews were exposed to everyone, and the exposure was such an enormous one that the night, or the tail, can never cover its tracks. They were also blinded by their ignorance and transgression. Thus, they became hated by Allah, and they became His enemies. Yet, they claim that they are Allah's children and His loved ones! May Allah curse their faces that were transformed to the shape of swine and apes, and may Allah's curse accompany them to the raging Fire. May Allah make them abide in the Fire for eternity, and He did; all thanks are due to Him. <27 . The Story of Habil (Abel) and Qabil (Cain) Allah describes the evil end and consequence of transgression, envy and injustice in the story of the two sons of Adam, Habil and Qabil. One of them fought against the other and killed him out of envy and transgression, because of the bounty that Allah gave his brother and because the sacrifice that he sincerely offered to Allah was accepted. The murdered brother earned forgiveness for his sins and was admitted into Paradise, while the murderer failed and earned a losing deal in both the lives. They also said that in every pregnancy, Adam was given a twin, a male and a female, and he used to give the female of one twin, to the male of the other twin, in marriage. Habil's sister was not beautiful while Qabil's sister was beautiful, resulting in Qabil wanting her for himself, instead of his brother. Adam refused unless they both offer a sacrifice, and he whose sacrifice was accepted, would marry Qabil's sister. Habil's sacrifice was accepted, while Qabil's sacrifice was rejected, and thus what Allah told us about them occurred. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said - that during the time of Adam - "The woman was not allowed in marriage for her male twin, but Adam was commanded to marry her to any of her other brothers. In each pregnancy, Adam was given a twin, a male and a female. A beautiful daughter was once born for Adam and another one that was not beautiful. So the twin brother of the ugly daughter said, 'Marry your sister to me and I will marry my sister to you.' He said, 'No, for I have more right to my sister.' So they both offered a sacrifice. The sacrifice of the one who offered the sheep was accepted while the sacrifice of the other [the twin brother of the beautiful daughter], which consisted of some produce, was not accepted. So the latter killed his brother." This story has a better than good chain of narration.' 111 At-Tabari 10:223.

The Jews of Al-Madīnah, such as Banu Qurayzah, An-Nadlir and Qaynuqa', used to fight along with either Khazraj or Aws, when war would erupt between them during the time of Jdhiliyyah. When these wars would end, the Jews would ransom those who were captured and pay the blood money for those who were killed. Allah criticized them for this practice in Surat Al-Baqarah, 4 (Xukka Ojrf-J Cif* pi p g'ojppj AAj fE=A\c. \Sj& d\j Cj'jSWj | Obj+liJ 'if Uj y'iif d'. ojv. tijif 4 i) ^c, 4 rp,0 tii (remember) zuhen We took your covenant (saying) : Shed id At-Tabari 10:235.

Mischief in the land refers to various types of evil. Ibn Jarir recorded that Ikrimah and Al-Hasan Al-Basri said that the Ayat, 4/Au oui' Cl[] iThe recompense of those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger} until, sSf Sj> iAllah is Of-Forgiving, Most Merciful,} “Were revealed about ‘ ijC idolators. war against Allah and His Messenger and then joins rank with the disbelievers, before the Muslims are able to catch him. He will still be liable for punishment for the crimes he committed.”¹¹¹ Abu Dawud and An-Nasal recorded that ‘Ikrimah said that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Ayah, 4Thc recompense of those who ivage xoar against Allah ami His Messenger and do mischief in the land...$ “Was revealed concerning the idolators, those among them who repent before being apprehended, they will still be liable for punishment for the crimes they committed.” The correct opinion is that this Ayah is general in meaning and includes the idolators and all others who commit the types of crimes the Ayah mentioned. Al-Bukhari and Muslim recorded that Abu Qilabah ‘Abdullah bin Zayd Al-Jarmi, said that Anas bin Malik said, “Eight people of the ‘Ukl tribe came to the Messenger of Allah $£; and gave him their pledge to follow Islam. Al-Madinah’s climate did not suit them and they became sick and complained to Allah’s Messenger So he said, sGo with our shephard to be treated by the milk and urine of his camels . So they went as directed, and after they drank from the camels’ milk and urine, they became healthy, and they killed the shepherd and drove away all the camels. The news reached the Prophet ^5 and he sent (men) in their pursuit and they were captured. He then ordered that their hands and feet be cut off (and it was done), and their eyes were branded with heated pieces of iron. Next, they were put in the sun until they died.” This is the wording of Muslim. In another narration for this Hadith, it was mentioned that these people were from the tribes of 'Ukl or 'Uraynah. Another narration reported that these people were put in the Harrah area (of Al-Madlnah), and when they asked for water, no water was given to them. ,3) 111 At-Jabari 10:244. 121 Abu Dawud 4 :536, An-Nasal 7 : 10 1 |3) Fath Al-Bari 12:114, Muslim 3 : 1296.

'Ali bin Abi Talhah said that Ibn 'Abbas said about this Ayah, 'He who takes up arms in Muslim land and spreads fear in the fairways and is captured, the Muslim Leader has the choice to either have him killed, crucified or cut off his hands and feet.'¹¹¹ Similar was said by Sa'Id bin Al-Musayyib, Mujahid, 'Ata', Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Ibrahim An-Nakhal and Ad- Dahhak, as Abu Ja'far Ibn Jarir recorded.¹² * This view is supported by the fact that the word Aw (or), indicates a choice. As Allah said, its. y cr i The penalty is an offering, brought to the Ka'bah, of an eatable animal equivalent to the one he killed, as adjudged by two just men among you; or, for expiation, he should feed the poor, or its equivalent in fasting.}[5:95] Allah said, jl (j* ijii ^ it, jt {ff} i And whosoever of you is ill or has an ailment in his scalp (necessitating shaving), he must pay a ransom of either fasting or giving charity or offering a sacrifice.} and, A J i oA»k C -L-j* cn iy: i...for its expiation feed ten of the poor, on a scale of the average of that with which you feed your own families, or clothe them, or free a slave.} All of these Ayat offer a choice, just as the Ayah above. As for Allah's statement, ior be exiled from the land.) some said that it means, he is actively pursued until he is captured, and thus receives his prescribed punishment, or otherwise he escapes from the land of Islam, as Ibn Jarir recorded from Ibn 'Abbas, Anas bin Malik, Said bin Jubayr, Ad-Dahhak, Ar-Rabl* bin Anas, Az-Zuhri, Al- Layth bin Sa'd and Malik bin Anas. Some said that the Ayah means these people are expelled to another land, or to another state by the Muslims authorities . Said bin Jubayr, Abu Ash- Sha'tha', Al-Hasan, Az-Zuhri, Ad-Dahhak and Muqatil bin Hayyan said that he is expelled, but not outside of the land of Islam, while others said that he is to be imprisoned. Allah's statement, -0s$ \ j gfr j {That is their disgrace in this world, and a great torment is theirs in the Hereafter.) means, the punishment We prescribed, killing these aggressors, crucifying them, cutting off their hands and feet on opposite sides, or expelling them from the land is a disgrace for them among mankind in this life, along with the tremendous torment Allah has prepared for them in the Hereafter. This view supports the opinion that these Ayat were revealed about the idolators. As for Muslims, in his SahUi, Muslim recorded that 'Ubadah bin As-Samit said, "The Messenger of Allah took the same pledge from us that he also took from women: That we do not associate anything with Allah in worship, we do not steal, commit adultery, or kill our children, and that we do not spread falsehood about each other. He said that he who keeps this pledge, then his reward will be with Allah. He who falls into shortcomings and was punished, then this will be his expiation. And those whose errors were covered by Allah, then their matter is for Allah: If He wills, He will punish them and If He wills, He will pardon them."¹²¹ 'Ali narrated that the Messenger of Allah gg said, •*> At-Tabari 10:268-270. 121 Muslim 3:1333.

The Punishment of those who Wage War Against Allah and His Messenger is Annulled if They Repent Before their Apprehension Allah said, tExcept for those who (having fed away and then) came back (as Muslims) with repentance before they fall into your power; in that case, know that Allah is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful This Ayah is clear in its indication that it applies to the idolators. As for the Muslims who commit this crime and repent before they are apprehended, the punishment of killing, crucifixion and cutting the limbs will be waved. The practice of the Companions in this regard is that all of the punishments prescribed in this case will be waved, as is apparent from the wording of the Ayah. Ibn Abi Hatim recorded that Ash-Shahi said, “Harithah bin Badr At-Tamimi was living in Al-Basrah, and he committed the crime of mischief in the land. So he talked to some men from Quraysh, such as Al-Hasan bin ‘Ali, Ibn ‘Abbas and ‘Abdullah bin JaTar, and they talked to ‘Ali about him so that he would grant him safety, but ‘Ali refused. So Harithah went to Said bin Qays Al-Hamadani who kept him in his house and went to ‘Ali, saying, ‘O Leader of the Faithful! What about those who wage war against Allah and His Messenger and cause mischief in the land?’ So he recited the Ayah until he reached, A& at ye kt iExcept for those who (having fled away and them) came back cas Muslims) with repentance before they fall into your power> So ‘Ali wrote a document that granted safety, and Said bin Qays said, This is for Harithah bin Badr.” Ibn Jarir recorded this HadithJ Ibn Jarir recorded that ‘Amir Ash-Shahi said, “A man from Murad came to Abu Musa, while he was the governor of Al- Kufah during the reign of ‘Uthman, and said to him after he 111 At-Tabari 10:280.

267Surah 5. Al-Maidah (32 - 34) (Part-6) offered the obligatory prayer, ‘O Abu Musa! I seek your help. I am so-and-so from Murad and I waged war against Allah and His Messenger and caused mischief in the land. I repented before you had any authority over me.’ Abu Musa proclaimed, This is so-and-so, who had waged war against Allah and His Messenger and caused mischief in the land, and he repented before we had authority over him. Therefore, anyone who meets him, should deal with him in a better way. If he is saying the truth, then this is the path of those who say the truth. If he is saying a lie, his sins will destroy him. So the man remained idle for as long as Allah willed, but he later rose against the leaders, and Allah punished him for his sins and he was killed.” Ibn Jarir recorded that Musa bin Ishaq Al-Madani said that ‘Ali Al- Asadi waged war, blocked the roads, shed blood and plundered wealth. The leaders and the people alike, sought to capture him, but they could not do that until he came after he repented, after he heard a man reciting the Ayah, if*#£& >A <0 My servants who have transgressed against themselves! Despair not of the mercy of Allah, verily, Allah forgives all sins. Truly, He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful. So he said to that man, “O servant of Allah! Recite it again.” So he recited it again, and 'Ali put down his sword and went to Al-Madlnah in repentance, arriving during the night. He washed up and went to the Masjid of the Messenger of Allah and prayed the dawn prayer. He sat next to Abu Hurayrah amidst his companions. In the morning, the people recognized him and went after him. He said, "You have no way against me. I came in repentance before you had any authority over me." Abu Hurayrah said, "He has said the truth," and he held his hand and went to Marwan bin Al-Hakam, who was the governor of Al-Madlnah during the reign of Mu'awiyah. Abu Hurayrah said, "This is 'Ali and he came in repentance and you do not have a way against him, nor can you have him killed." So 'Ali was absolved of punishment and remained on his repentance and went to the sea to perform Jihad in Allah's cause. The Muslims met the Romans in battle, and the Commanding Taqwa, Wasilah and Jihad Allah commands His faithful servants to fear Him in Taqwa, which if mentioned along with acts of obedience, it means to refrain from the prohibitions and the prohibited matters. Allah said next, i%r*7a is seek the Wasilah to Him ^ Sufyan Ath-Thawri said that Talhah said that 'Ata' said that Ibn 'Abbas said that Wasilah means 'the means of approach'.^ * Mujahid, Abu Wa'il, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, 'Abdullah bin Kathir, As-Suddi, Ibn Zayd and others gave the same meaning for Wasilah. Qatadah said that the Ayah means, "Seek the means of approach to Him by obeying Him and performing the acts that please Him."*21 iThose whom they call upon seek a means of access to their Lord (Allah). [17:57] Wasilah is a means of approach to achieve something, and it is also used to refer to the highest grade in Paradise, and it is the grade of the Messenger of Allah jfe, his residence and the nearest grade in Paradise to Allah's Throne. After Allah commanded Muslims to avoid the prohibitions and to work towards obedience, He commanded them to fight against their enemies, the disbelievers and idolators who have deviated from the straight path and abandoned the correct religion. Allah encouraged the believers by reminding them of the unending success and great happiness that He prepared for them for the Day of Resurrection, which will never change or decrease for those who join Jihad in His cause. They will remain in the lofty rooms of Paradise that are safe and beautiful. And Allah is able to do all things.> The Necessity ofCutting ofthe Hand ofthe Thief Allah commands and decrees that the hand of the thief, male or female be cut off. During the time of Jahiliyyah, this was also the punishment for the thief, and Islam upheld this punishment. In Islam, there are several conditions that must * Muslim 4 :2 162 and An-Nasal 6:36.

173Surah 5. Al-Ma'idah (38 - 40) (Part-6) be met before this punishment is carried out, as we will come to know, Allah willing. There are other rulings that Islam upheld after modifying these rulings, such as that of blood money for example. When Does Cutting the Hand of the Thief Become Necessary? In is recorded in the Two Sahihs that Abu Hurayrah said that the Messenger of Allah jfe said, 3j—t) 1 s-*i OilJl 3j—i 3jLUL uil aMfly Allah curse the thief who steals an egg and as a result his hand is cut off, and who steals rope and as a result his hand is cut ofjff. [1] Al-Bukhari and Muslim recorded that 'A'ishah said that the Messenger of Allah sg said, <77ie hand of the thief shall be cut off if he steals a quarter ofa Dinar or more.»l2] Muslim recorded that 'A'ishah, may Allah be pleased with her, said that the Messenger of Allah jg said, «The hand of the thief shall only be cut off if he steals a quarter of a Dinar or more.» This Hadith is the basis of the matter since it specifies (that the least amount of theft that deserves cutting the hand) is a quarter of a Dinar. So this Hadith fixes the value. And saying that it is three Dirhams is not a contradiction. This is because the Dinar in question was equal to twelve Dirhams, so three Dirhams equalled a fourth of a Dinar. So in this way it is possible to harmonize these two views. This opinion was reported from Umar bin Al-Khattab, Thman bin 'Affan, 'Ali bin Abi Talib - 111 Fath Al-Bari 12 :83 , Muslim 3 :1314 121 Fath Al-Bari 12 :99, MusUm 3 :1312. 131 MusUm 3:1313.

174 Tafsir Ibn Kathir may Allah be pleased with them - and it is the view of 'Umar bin 'Abdul-'Aziz, Al-Layth bin Sa'd, Al-Awza'i, and Ash-Shafil and his companions. This is also the view of Imam Ahmad bin Hanbal and Ishaq bin Rahwayh in one of the narrations from him, as well as Abu Thawr, and Dawud bin 'Ali Az-Zahari, may Allah have mercy upon them. As for Imam Abu Hanifah and his students Abu Yusuf, Muhammad and Zufar, along with Sufyan Ath-Thawri, they said that the least amount of theft that deserves cutting off the hand is ten Dirhams, whereas a Dinar was twelve Dirhams at that time. The first ruling is the correct one, that the least amount of theft is one fourth of a Dinar or more. This meager amount was set as the limit for cutting the hand, so that the people would refrain from theft, and this is a wise decision to those who have sound comprehension. Hence Allah's statement, in a recompense for that which both committed, a punishment by way of example from Allah. And Allah is All-Powerful, All-Wise.} This is the prescribed punishment for the evil action they committed, by stealing the property of other people with their hands. Therefore, it is fitting that the tool they used to steal the people's wealth be cut off as punishment from Allah for their error. If he decides on capital punishment, do not accept his judgement." The correct opinion is that this Ayah was revealed about the two Jews who committed adultery. The Jews changed the law they had in their Book from Allah on the matter of punishment for adultery, from stoning to death, to a hundred flogs and making the offenders ride a donkey facing the back of the donkey. When this incident of adultery occurred after the Hijrah, they said to each other, "Let us go to Muhammad and seek his judgement. If he gives a ruling of flogging, then implement his decision and make it a proof for you with Allah. This way, one of Allah's Prophets will have upheld this ruling amongst you. But if he decides that the punishment should be

180 Tafsir Ibn Kathir stoning to death, then do not accept his decision." There are several Hadeeths mentioning this story. Malik reported that Nafi' said that 'Abdullah bin Umar said, "The Jews came to Allah's Messenger and mentioned that a man and a woman from them committed adultery. Allah's Messenger ﷺ said to them, 'What do you find of the ruling about stoning in the Torah?' They said, 'We only find that they should be exposed and flogged.' 'Abdullah bin Salam said, 'You lie. The Torah mentions stoning, so bring the Torah.' They brought the Torah and opened it but one of them hid the verse about stoning with his hand and recited what is before and after that verse. 'Abdullah bin Salam said to him, 'Remove your hand,' and he removed it, thus uncovering the verse about stoning. So they said, He ('Abdullah bin Salam) has said the truth, O Muhammad! It is the verse about stoning.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ decided that the adulterers be stoned to death and his command was carried out. I saw that man shading the woman from the stones with his body." Al-Bukhari and Muslim also collected this Hadith and this is the wording collected by Al-Bukhari. In another narration by Al-Bukhari, the Prophet ﷺ said to the Jews, 'What would you do in this case?' They said, "We would humiliate and expose them." The Prophet ﷺ recited, 'Bring here the Torah and recite it, if you are truthful.' So they brought a man who was blind in one eye and who was respected among them and said to him, "Read (from the Torah)." So he read until he reached a certain verse and then covered it with his hand. He was told, “Remove your hand,” and it was the verse about stoning. So that man said, “O Muhammad! This is the verse about stoning, and we had hid its knowledge among us.” So the Messenger jg ordered that the two adulterers be stoned, and they were stoned. m Al-Bukhari no . 4556

Muslim recorded that a Jewish man and a Jewish woman were brought before Allah’s Messenger jg because they committed adultery. The Messenger of Allah went to the Jews and asked them, y y. uWhat is the ruling that you find in the Tawrdh for adultery?» They said, “We expose them, carry them (on donkeys) backwards and parade them in public.” The Prophet jg recited; lijBS iffyh iBring here the Tawrdh and recite it, ifyou are truthful> So they brought the Tawrah and read from it until the reader reached the verse about stoning. Then he placed his hand on that verse and read what was before and after it. ‘Abdullah bin Salam, who was with the Messenger of Allah jg, said, “Order him to remove his hand,” and he removed his hand and under it was the verse about stoning. So the Messenger of Allah jg commanded that the adulterers be stoned, and they were stoned. ‘Abdullah bin ‘Umar said, “1 was among those who stoned them and I saw the man shading the woman from the stones with his body.” 1 1| Abu Dawud recorded that Ibn ‘Umar said, “Some Jews came to the Messenger of Allah jg and invited him to go to the Quff area. So he went to the house of Al- Midras and they said, ‘O Abu Al-Qasim! A man from us committed adultery with a woman, so decide on their matter.’ They arranged a pillow for the Messenger of Allah jg and he sat on it and said, “Bring the Tawrdh to me . He was brought the Tawrah and he removed the pillow from under him and placed the Tawrah on it, saying, <•/ trust you and He Wlw revealed it to you . He then said, m Muslim 3 :1326.

182 Tafstr Ibn Katlur tBring me your most knowledgeable persons So he was brought a young man... ” and then he mentioned the rest of the story that Malik narrated from Nafi’J These Hadiths state that the Messenger of Allah sg issued a decision that conforms with the ruling in the Tawrah, not to honor the Jews in what they believe in, for the Jews were commanded to follow the Law of Muhammad sg only. Rather, the Prophet did this because Allah commanded him to do so. He asked them about the ruling of stoning in the Tawrah to make them admit to what the Tawrah contains and what they collaborated to hide, deny and exclude from implementing for all that time. They had to admit to what they did, although they did it while having knowledge of the correct ruling. What made them go to the Prophet for judgement in this matter was their lusts and desires, hoping that the Prophet jg would agree with their opinion, not that they believed in the correctness of hisjudgment. This iswhy they said, ilfyou are given this,} referring to flogging, then take it, 4but if you are not given this, then beware!} and do not accept or implement it. During the time of Jahiliyyah, one of them had defeated the other. As a result, they made a treaty that they would pay blood money totaling fifty Wasaq [of gold] (each Wasaq approx. 3 kg) for every dead person from the defeated group killed by the victors, and a hundred Wasaq for every dead person the defeated group killed from the victors. This treaty remained in effect until the Prophet came to Al-Madlnah and both of these groups became subservient under the Prophet sfe. Yet, when the mighty group once suffered a casualty at the hands of the weaker group, the mighty group sent a delegation demanding the hundred Wasaq. The weaker group said, ‘How can two groups who have the same religion, one ancestral lineage and a common land, have a Diah that for some of them is half of that of the others? We only agreed to this because you oppressed us and because we feared you. Now that Muhammad has come, we will not give you what you asked.’ So war was almost rekindled between them, but they agreed to seek Muhammad’s judgement in their dispute. The mighty group among them said [among themselves], ‘By Allah! Muhammad will never give you double the Diah that you pay to them compared to what they pay to you. They have said the truth anyway, for they only gave us this amount because we oppressed and overpowered them. Therefore, send someone to Muhammad who will sense what his judgement will be. If he agrees to give you what you demand, accept his judgment, and if he does not give you what you seek, do not refer to him for judgement.’ So they sent some hypocrites to the Messenger of Allah jg to try and find out the Messenger’s judgement. When they came to the Messenger sg, Allah informed him of their matter and of their plot. Allah sent down, iO Messenger! Let not those who hurry to fall into disbelief grieve you,) until, iSuch are the rebellious.) By Allah! It is because of their problem that Allah sent down these verses and it is they whom Allah meant.” 1" Abu Dawud collected a similar narration for this HadlthP Abu Ja'far Ibn Jarir recorded that Ibn ‘Abbas said that the Ayah in Surat Al-Ma'idah, }' fr* r &&¥ ieither judge behoeen them, or turn awayfrom them...) until, iThose who act justly.) was revealed concerning the problem of blood money between Bani An-Nadir and Bani Qurayzah. The dead of Bani An-Nadlr were being honored more and they received the full amount of Diah, while Qurayzah received half the Diah for their dead. So they referred to the Messenger of Allah jfc for judgement and Allah sent down these verses about them. The Messenger of Allah ^ compelled them to adhere to the true judgement in this matter and made the Diah the same for both groups and Allah Al-‘Awfi and ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said that these Ayat were revealed about the two Jews who committed adultery, and we mentioned the Hadiths about this story before. It appears that both of these were the reasons behind revealing these Ayat, and Allah knows best. This is why Allah said afterwards, Ahmad 1 :246. I2 ' Abu Dawud 4 :7 At-Jabari 10:326. explained above. Allah knows best. Allah said, ^And whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed, such are the disbelievers .? Al-Bara’ bin ‘Azib, Hudhayfah bin Al-Yaman, Ibn ‘Abbas, Abu Mijlaz, Abu Raja’ Al-‘Utaridi, ‘Ikrimah, ‘Ubaydullah bin ‘Abdullah, Al-Hasan Al-Basri and others said that this Ayah was revealed about the People of the Book.' ' Al-Hasan Al- Basri added that this Ayah also applies to us . ¹²¹ ‘Abdur- Razzaq said that Ath-Thawri said that Mansur said that Ibrahim said that these Ayat, “Were revealed about the Children of Israel, and Allah accepted them for this Ummah.” Ibn Jarir recorded this statement.³ ' ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah also stated that Ibn ‘Abbas commented on Allah’s statement, iAnd whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed, such are the disbelievers,$ “Whoever rejects what Allah has revealed, will have committed Kufr, and whoever accepts what Allah has revealed, but did not rule by it, is a Zalim (unjust) and a Fasiq (rebellious) and a sinner.” Ibn Jarir recorded this statement.⁴ ' ‘Abdur-Razzaq said, “Ma’mar narrated to us that Tawus said that Ibn ‘Abbas was asked about Allah’s statement, $& 111 At-Tabari 10:347-357. ¹²¹ At-Tabari 10:357. ¹³¹ At-Tabari 10:356. And whosoever does not judge by that which Allah has revealed, such are the unjust.) This Ayah also chastises and criticizes the Jews because in the Tawrah, they have the law of a life for a life. Yet, they defied this ruling by transgression and rebellion. They used to apply this ruling when a person from Bani An-Nadlir was killed by a Qurayzah person, but this was not the case when the opposite occurred. Rather, they would revert to Dīyah in this case. They also defied the ruling in the Tawrah to stone the adulterer and instead came up with their own form of punishment, flogging, humiliation and parading them in public. This is why Allah said in the previous Ayah, ilfgs pi &&X iX) 4And whosoever does not judge by what Allah has revealed, ‘Abdur-Razzaq 1 :191 , At-Jabari 4 :595. At-Tabari 10:355.

189enroll 5. Al-Ma'idah (45) (Part-6) such are the disbelievers. because they rejected Allah's command with full intention and with transgression and rebellion. In this Ayah, Allah said, isuch are the unjust because they did not exact the oppressed his due rights from the oppressor in a matter which Allah ordered that all be treated equally and fairly. Instead, they defied that command, committed injustice and transgressed against each other. A Man is Killed for a Woman Whom He Kills Imam Abu Nasr bin As-Sabbagh stated in his book, Ash- Shamil, that the scholars agree that this Ayah [5:45] should be implemented, and the Imams agree that the man is killed for a woman whom he kills, according to the general indications of this Ayah. A Hadith that An-Nasab recorded states that the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) had this statement written in the book that he gave ‘Amr bin Hazm, nThe man is killed for the woman (whom he kills). In another Hadith, the Messenger (ﷺ) said, «Muslims are equal regarding the sanctity of their blood.”² This is also the opinion of the majority of the scholars. What further supports what Ibn As-Sabbagh said is the Hadith that Imam Ahmad recorded that Anas bin Malik said, “Ar-Rabī‘ (his aunt) broke the tooth of a girl, and the relatives of Ar-Rabī‘ requested the girl's relatives to forgive (the offender), but they refused. So, they went to the Prophet (ﷺ) who ordered them to bring about retaliation. Anas bin An-Nadr, her brother, asked, ‘O Allah's Messenger! Will the tooth of Ar- Rabī‘ be broken?’ The Messenger of Allah said, ‘O Anas! The Book of Allah prescribes retaliation.’ Anas said, *No, by Him Who has sent you with the Truth, her tooth will not be broken.’ I 1 ’ An-Nasab 8:58. 121 Ibn Majah 2:895.

190 Tafsir Ibn Katir Later the relatives of the girl agreed to forgive Ar-Rabī‘ and forfeit their right to retaliation. The Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) said, «s^S/ .dll ^s. j, it _jj j* aJJI jLp v. jl? “There are some of Allah's servants who, if they take an oath by Allah, Allah fulfills . »”[1 It was recorded in the Two Sahihsf^ Retaliation for Wounds Allah said, $and wounds equal for equal. ‘Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn ‘Abbas said, “Life for life, an eye for an eye, a nose, if cut off, for a nose, a tooth broken for a tooth and wounds equal for wound.”¹³ ' The free Muslims, men and women, are equal in this matter. And their slaves, male and female, are equal in this matter. And this ruling is the same regarding intentional murder and lesser offenses, as Ibn Jarir and Ibn Abi Hatim recorded. An Important Ruling The retaliation for wounds should not be implemented until the wounds of the victim heal. If retaliation occurs before the wound heals, and then the wound becomes aggravated, the victim will have no additional rights in this case. The proof for this ruling is what Imam Ahmad narrated from ‘Amr bin Shu'ayb, from his father, from his grandfather that a man once stabbed another man in his leg using a horn. The victim came to the Prophet (ﷺ) asking for retaliation, and the Prophet (ﷺ) said, “Not until you healj The man again came to the Prophet (ﷺ) and asked for equality in retaliation and the Prophet (ﷺ) allowed him that. Later on, Ahmad 3:167. 121 Path Al-Bari 8 :124 , Muslim 3 :1302 At-Tabari 10:360.

that man said, “O Messenger of Allah! I limp now.” Messenger (ﷺ) said, Jfaj <uit il-Ujli t The </ had asked you to zvait, but you disobeyed me. Therefore, Allah cast you away and your limp has no compensation .» Afterwards, the Messenger of Allah (ﷺ) forbade that the wound be retaliated for until the wound of the victim heals. If the victim is allowed to retaliate for his wound caused by the aggressor and the aggressor dies as a result, there is no compensation in this case, according to the majority of the Companions and their followers. And who is better in judgement than Allah for a people who have firm faith? Praising the Qur'an; the Command to Refer to the Qur'an for Judgment Allah mentioned the Tawrah that He sent down to His Prophet Musa, the one whom He spoke directly to, praising it, commanding that it should be implemented, before it was 196 Tafsir Ibn Kathir abrogated. Allah then mentioned the Injil, praised it and commanded its people to adhere to it and follow it, as we stated. He next mentioned the Glorious Qur'an that He sent down to His honorable servant and Messenger. Allah said, And We have sent down to you the Book in truth... meaning, with the truth that, no doubt, is coming from Allah, confirming the Scripture that came before it meaning, the Divinely Revealed Books that praised the Qur'an and mentioned that it would be sent down from Allah to His servant and Messenger Muhammad sg. The Qur'an was revealed as was foretold in the previous Scriptures. This fact increased faith in the previous Scriptures for the sincere who have knowledge of these Scriptures, those who adhered to Allah's commands and Laws and believed in His Messengers. Allah said, "Believe in it or do not believe (in it) . Verily, those who were given knowledge before it, when it is recited to them, fall down on their faces in humble prostration." And they say: "Glory be to our Lord! Truly, the promise of our Lord must be fulfilled meaning that they say, the promise of our Lord, concerning the coming of Muhammad by the words of His previous Messengers, will certainly be fulfilled. Allah's statement, and Muhammad over it means entrusted over it, according to Sufyan Ath-Thawri who narrated it from Abu Ishaq from At-Tamimi from Ibn 'Abbas . m Af-Tabari 10:378.

197 Surah 5. Al-Ma'idah (48 - 50) (Part-6) 'Ali bin Abi Talhah reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Muhammad is, 'the Trustworthy'. Allah says that the Qur'an is trustworthy over every Divine Book that preceded it." 111 This was reported from 'Ikrimah, Said bin Jubayr, Mujahid, Muhammad bin KaT), 'Atiyyah, Al-Hasan, Qatadah, 'Ata' Al-Khurasani, As-Suddi and Ibn Zayd . 121 Ibn Jarir said, "The Qur'an is trustworthy over the Books that preceded it. Therefore, whatever in these previous Books conforms to the Qur'an is true, and whatever disagrees with the Qur'an is false." Al-Walibi said that Ibn 'Abbas said that Muhammad means, 'Witness'. 13 ' Mujahid, Qatadah and As-Suddi said the same. Al-'Awfi said that Ibn 'Abbas said that Muhammad means, 'dominant over the previous Scriptures'. 41 These meanings are similar, as the word Muhammad includes them all. Consequently, the Qur'an is trustworthy, a witness, and dominant over every Scripture that preceded it. This Glorious Book, which Allah revealed as the Last and Final Book, is the most encompassing, glorious and perfect Book of all times. The Qur'an includes all the good aspects of previous Scriptures and even more, which no previous Scripture ever contained. This is why Allah made it trustworthy, a witness and dominant over all Scriptures. Allah promised that He will protect the Qur'an and swore by His Most Honorable Self, /i Allah said, z 40a js; £14^3 iii •);} 41/Allah willed, He would have made you one nation, but that (He) may test you in what He has given you This Ayah means, Allah has instituted different laws to test His servants' obedience to what He legislates for them, thus, He rewards or punishes them according to their actions and what they intend. 'Abdullah bin Kathlr said that the Ayah, 4In what He has given you.} means, of the Book. Next, Allah encouraged rushing to perform good deeds, <fso strive as in a race in good deeds.} which are obedience to Allah, following His Law that abrogated the laws that came before it, and believing in His Book, the Qur'an, which is the Final Book that He revealed. Allah said next, 4The return o/you (all) is to Allah;} Therefore, O people, your return and final destination is to Allah on the Day of Resurrection, 4then He will inform you about that in which you used to differ.} Allah will inform you about the truth in which you used to 201Surah 5. Al-Ma'idah (48 - 50) (Part-6) Therefore, the majority of humans are disobedient to their Lord, defiant of the truth and deviate away from it. Allah said in other Ayat, iAnd most people will not believe even if you desire it eagerly,} and, tjffi 0* oft iAnd if you obey most of those on the earth they will mislead you far away from Allah's path.} Muhammad bin Ishaq reported that Ibn 'Abbas said, "Ka*b bin Asad, Ibn Saluba, 'Abdullah bin Surya and Shas bin Qays said to each other, 'Let us go to Muhammad to try and misguide him from his religion.' So they went to the Prophet and said, 'O Muhammad! You know that we are the scholars, noblemen and chiefs of the Jews. If we follow you, the Jews will follow suit and will not contradict us. But, there is enmity between us and some of our people, so we will refer to you for judgement in this matter, and you should rule in our favor against them and we will believe in you.' The Messenger of Allah ﷺ refused the offer and Allah sent down these Ayat about them, {And so judge between them by what Allah has revealed and follow not their vain desires, but beware of them lest they turn you far away from some of that which Allah has sent down to you.} until, {for a people who have firm faith.}" Ibn Jarir¹¹¹ and Ibn Abi Hatim recorded this Hadith. Allah continues, {O Messenger of Allah, I have revealed to you what I have revealed to Moses, that you should be a witness for the people.} At-Tabari 10:393.

4Do they then seek the judgement of (the days of) ignorance? And who is better in judgement than Allah for a people who have firm faith?} Allah criticizes those who ignore Allah's commandments, which include every type of righteous good thing and prohibit every type of evil, but they refer instead to opinions, desires and customs that people themselves invented, all of which have no basis in Allah's religion. During the time of Jahiliyyah, the people used to abide by the misguidance and ignorance that they invented by sheer opinion and lusts. The Tatar (Mongols) abided by the law that they inherited from their king Genghis Khan who wrote Al-Yasiq, for them. This book contains some rulings that were derived from various religions, such as Judaism, Christianity and Islam. Many of these rulings were derived from his own opinion and desires. Later on, these rulings became the followed law among his children, preferring them to the Law of the Book of Allah and the Sunnah of His Messenger ﷺ. Therefore, whoever does this, he is a disbeliever who deserves to be fought against, until he reverts to Allah's and His Messenger's decisions, so that no law, minor or major, is referred to except by His Law. Allah said, 4Do they then seek the judgement of (the days of) ignorance?} meaning, they desire and want this and ignore Allah's judgement, {And who is better in judgement than Allah for a people who have firm faith?} Who is more just in decision than Allah for those who comprehend Allah's Law, believe in Him, who are certain that Allah is the best among those who give decisions and that He is more merciful with His creation than the mother with her own child? Allah has perfect knowledge of everything, is able to do all things, and He is just in all matters. Al-Hafiz Abu Al-Qasim At-Tabarani recorded that Ibn 'Abbas said that the Messenger of Allah said, {I
